

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, September 19, 1941

Number 1

Classes Opened For Another Banner Year Plans Have Already Begun For 1942 Yoncopin

Plans Under Way For '41 'Yoncopin'; Bill Graham Editor

Way back in 1922 appeared for the first time a small, maroon-bound volume, bearing on its cover the peculiar title of Yoncopin—the name of an ivory-white water lily found in the lagoons and bayous of Louisiana. Although this was no pretentious offering it did provide a record of the year's activities for the students.

A mere hundred pages in length with a small staff and a two-hundred member student body, yet from this first attempt at a Centenary yearbook have sprung the nineteen successors, each finer than the preceding one, climaxed by the excellent book of last year.

Plans are already under way for the preparation of this year's edition with Bill Graham again serving as editor. The general plan for the book has already been decided upon by the staff and a tentative layout made. A new arrangement for the book will be used this year.

Pictures will be taken of the individual students from September 29 through October 13. Between these dates the photographer will open up a temporary studio in the Yoncopin office for the convenience of the students. Upon registration every student must pay a publication fee, which enables him to receive at no further cost the weekly newspaper and the college annual. This fee includes the cost of this picture, so there will be no additional charge at the time the picture is taken; provided, of course, it is taken during the time allotted to Centenary by the photographer.

Graham and his staff have already done a great deal toward getting the book ready. Some sections have been planned and they are anxious to keep everything going on schedule. Naturally every student wants his copy of the annual as soon as possible and certainly before school is out in May. The only way to be sure and get the book on time is for everyone to cooperate with the staff, which is doing its part to maintain an early schedule, and see to it that their individual pictures are taken in plenty of time for the class sections to be laid out very soon. This is the usual cause for delay in publication and if everyone will cooperate this year by coming to the Yoncopin office any time between September 29 and October 13, all prepared to have a picture taken, the book will come off the press in plenty of time for an early delivery.

Notice to Students

To complete your registration you must comply with these requirements of the college:

1. Have your picture made for our records and the Year-book.
2. Turn in your personal history card.
3. Make initial payment on your tuition.

REGISTRAR

Yearbook official photographer will be on the campus from September 29 through October 13.

New Courses Offered In Math, Engineering, Hemisphere Relations

Led by the engineering department which now has all the courses in the first two years of basic engineering, the various departments of Centenary are now adding a number of new courses to supply the demand which has been prevalent for the past few years.

Dr. Lowance, who is in charge of the new engineering courses, announces that he has used the basic courses of several large, well-known engineering schools as a guide in planning the arrangement at Centenary. The new courses being offered in this field are Mechanical Drawing which will be taught by Professor Wallace; Descriptive Geometry, which is a continuation of mechanical drawing; Engineering Problems, which teaches the use of the slide rule and solution of problems involving engineering principles, and Engineering Mechanics, a continuation of Engineering Problems. These, along with the courses already offered (Physics, Chemistry, Math, Social Science, and Languages) complete the first two years of basic engineering.

Dr. Pierce Cline, president of the college, announced several days ago: "The present necessity for cooperating with Latin America and the trend of modern business toward our southern neighbors has led us to group several courses already being given and to inaugurate new ones under the heading 'Pan - American Relations and Trade.' The new courses offered

(Continued on Page Three)

Cheerleaders Elected Next Week for Year

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Student Senate last Saturday, it was decided that nominations for cheerleaders for the coming year will be held Wednesday, September 24, in chapel. All names must be presented at this time, with the voting to take place the following Friday, September 26, in the Student Union Building.

Since the constitution states that all elections will be under the supervision of the vice president and co-ed vice president of the student body, Claude Teal and Peg Hawkins will have charge of the voting on Friday. All regularly enrolled students of the college will be entitled to cast a ballot for two boys and two girls to lead cheers this year.

Due to the fact that there will be a home game for the Gentlemen, when they meet Millsaps on the 20th, before there will have been an opportunity to hold a cheerleader election, the two cheerleaders from last year that are returning to school, Camp Flournoy and Ollie Day, have consented to lead yells for the first game.

The cooperation of all the students is needed in this election, because Centenary needs a group of peppy leaders that can get the enthusiastic support of the student body behind the football team. The only way to be sure that the school is provided with the kind of yell leaders that it needs is for everyone to turn out Friday and cast a ballot for the persons best suited for the job.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Today the American people are the most fortunate of earth and the most fortunate portion of the people is the group of students attending college. Those who attend Centenary College have a distinctive privilege and we are glad to welcome you to the campus, many of you for the first time, and more who have a previous acquaintance here. These are stimulating times. Tremendous forces are battling each other. The ultimate triumph of right can not be doubted. It is the great opportunity of Centenary College students to equip themselves now that their force may be felt in the battles which lie ahead.

From the faculty and administration you have best wishes and assurance of service and support.

PIERCE CLINE

Rushing Rules Made For Sorority Activities

Pan-Hellenic Council has announced the following rules governing all sorority activities for Fall Rush Season on Centenary Campus:

1. Formal rushing will begin with Freshman registration on September 18th and will last through September 24th.
2. It will be wise for rushees to remain at home on September 17th from 3:00 on, for at this time sorority representatives will call for dates for all rushing activities.
3. There will be no personal rushing.
4. Rushees may not break dates. This can be done only by the sororities themselves.
5. Afternoon parties may be from 2:00 until 6:00. Night parties may begin at 6:00 and last until 12:00.
6. Silence will begin Wednesday, September 24th at midnight and last until 3:00 P.M. on Friday, September 26th. During this time no rushee may talk to any sorority girl.
7. Calling hours shall be from 2-5 P.M. on the afternoon of September 25th. During this time all rushees are to remain at home for 15-minute calls from each sorority representative.
8. Every non-sorority girl in the college is privileged to go to the Dean's office on the morning of pledge day and sign a preference card, giving first

(Continued on Page Four)

54 Dormitory Girls Begin Another Year

Colonial Hall, the massive white structure behind the chapel, next to the tennis courts, and across from the open air theater, with the telephone number 7-1751 ("if a man answers you've got the wrong number"), has begun another year, which shows promise of showing more promise when all the new inhabitants have arrived and taken up their new abode. As happened last year, all the available rooms have been reserved in the main building and the girls are again being placed in the cottages behind the white structure with the telephone number 7-1751, etc.

In all, fifty-four girls have taken rooms, with forty-six in Colonial Hall and eight in the cottages. There is also a waiting list of several girls, who are anxious to find accommodations if they can be made available to them.

New Drum Major For Marching Band

The direction of Centenary's marching band this year will be in the hands of a newcomer. The new leader is Bob Pugh, a recent graduate of St. John's High School, who from all appearances will do an excellent job of leading the maroon-clad band through their formations this year.

A PLEDGE

As officers of the Centenary Student Body for the 1941-42 college year, we again appeal to you for cooperation in the coming year. We repeat our pledge to make every effort to maintain a democratic form of student government, which will in all its decisions be guided by the needs and desired of the students themselves.

Our primary purpose will be to determine the will of the student body and to act accordingly. So, with your help and cooperation, we hope to have another successful and happy year at Centenary.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, President
CLAUDE TEAL, Vice-President
PEG HAWKINS, Co-ed Vice-President
JIMMY THIBODEAUX, Secretary
CAMP FLOURNOY, Treasurer

Centenary Student Senate Represents All Campus Groups

For the past four years student affairs at Centenary have been governed and regulated by a group of students organized into a Student Senate, representing all the different groups on the campus. Formerly, membership in the Senate has been for the duration of the member's college career, but with the amendment as passed by the student body last year, the Senate membership lasts but for the year in which the member is chosen, it being necessary for him to be selected again the next year if he is to retain his position. Such a system provides a more democratic form of government than had the old.

As to the representation; the more important organizations on the campus are authorized to select a member of their group to represent them in the Senate, provided they make their selection prior to October 1. Failure of any organization to have elected an official representative by this date will result in forfeiture of membership privileges for the remainder of the year.

The executive committee of the student body officers appoints nine committee heads and a parliamentarian to make up part of the Senate. The total membership is limited to thirty students. Any vacancies will be filled by the Senate itself in regular election, choosing from the student body at large.

In the hands of the Student Senate is placed the responsibility of supervising all campus elections that may take place from time to time throughout the year.

The Founders' Day Celebration every May is a Senate project. In fact nearly all student activities come under the jurisdiction of the student government.

This year the aim of this government will be to promote various activities for the entire student body that will create friendlier relations between themselves as students of Centenary College.

Band Ready For Tomorrow Night's Game With Millsaps

The sound of marching feet belongs not only to the army but to Centenary's band as well. Under the able leadership of the new band director, Mr. Billy Causy, formerly of Louisiana State Normal, the band has been practicing all week; so they will be in fine form for their first public appearance tomorrow, when the Gentlemen play their first game against the Millsaps eleven.

Heretofore the marching band has consisted largely of boys, but this year there is a shortage in personnel, so the girls will also be allowed to go through the paces. New members are daily joining the ranks and Centenary will have an organization on the field Saturday of which they can be proud.

Many new tunes will make their debut at the game, in addition to the Alma Mater and the Fight Song.

COLLEGE ENROLLS RECORD NUMBER FOR 1941

Again the doors of Centenary College have been thrown open to the knowledge-seeking students, and, with registration still under way, all signs point to one of the largest enrollments ever to enter the school. Most of the upper-classmen completed their registration last Wednesday, but there are some late-comers still arriving today.

At ten o'clock yesterday Dr. Cline and Dean Hardin welcomed the freshmen in the first assembly of the year. Immediately following this program came the freshmen registration in the Arts Building. Last night the Women's Club annual freshman party opened the freshman orientation program, which will be continued the next few weeks by the freshman committee of the Student Senate. Carl Vollmer, as chairman of the orientation committee, will have charge of freshmen activities during this time.

As usual all the available rooms in Colonial Hall have long since been reserved and there is a waiting list of several girls who are trying to obtain accommodations. Rotary dormitory for men has also been filled as has the freshman dormitory.

Classes for everyone are beginning today, from senior down to freshman. The general convocation for all students, a feature of the opening of the new school year, will be held in the chapel next Wednesday.

The college football season begins tomorrow night when the Centenary Gentlemen meet the Millsaps Majors. All the students, both old and new, are urged to turn out and be on hand at eight o'clock for the opening game.

Big Pep Rally Tonight To Prepare for Game

Plans have just about been completed for the gigantic pep meeting to be held tonight at 8:00 in the stadium, according to Camp Flournoy, former cheer leader, who has charge of the arrangements. The entire student body is expected to attend this first rally and start the 1941 football season off with a bang.

The reason for the meeting is the football game tomorrow night between the Centenary Gentlemen and the Millsaps Majors. Most of the Centenary players will be on hand to say a word or two to the gathering, and if possible the entire rally will be broadcast over the radio.

So come on out, all of you, and make this a big success. Show those Gentlemen that we are behind them one hundred per cent this year.

FIRST PARADE

Saturday morning at eleven o'clock the first parade of the 1941 school year will get under way. All freshmen must participate in this parade, wearing cardboard placards and marching in a long chain through the downtown section. All students who can obtain cars are urged to use them in the parade, decorated with maroon and white if possible. It will form on the parking lot.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor
Associate Editor—Ann Burnette
Sports Editor—Burl Sullivan
FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager
Reporters: Ellen Eastham
Leroy Scott
Arthur Shuey
Barbara Harris
Mabel Boddie

Another Year

Another year in the annals of the "oldest college west of the Mississippi" has rolled around and volume thirty-six of THE CENTENARY CONGLOMERATE has been begun. What this year will develop into none of us can tell; but we all can resolve together to strive as a unit to make of this year something we will be proud to have go down in the history of the school as having taken place while we were students here. By this is not meant necessarily that something of great national moment should be instigated by us, but rather that this year should be a successful one from our standpoint locally, with an increase in the friendliness characteristic among Centenary students, and such advances as are within our power to bring about.

THE CONGLOMERATE will try to encourage these advances by conscientiously supporting any movement or activity which it believes will be for the betterment of the school itself as well as the student body. Centenary has come a long way from its humble beginnings in Jackson in 1825, and it is up to us to see to it that this year it continues on its upward climb, without falling back an inch.

Freshmen

Centenary welcomes the class of 1945. To the seniors now entering upon their last year it is very encouraging to see such a large group of first-year students beginning the first phase of their collegiate life here in the school they are preparing to leave. For these seniors can be sure now that there will be someone here to carry on the ideals and projects that they have seen formed and developed during their four-year stay. Freshmen, don't let these seniors down. They have done their share to perpetuate Centenary traditions and friendly relationships, and with your entrance into the school these responsibilities have become part yours, as they have been partly the responsibilities of each of the thousands of students to pass through Centenary in the one hundred and sixteen years of its existence.

Make the most of the opportunities presenting themselves to you here. Enter into all the activities of the campus, which are many and varied, and above all, become a part of the friendly spirit which has been symbolical of the Centenary campus since the first students entered the school back in 1825.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Once again school life returns to the campus. This evil column starts the year with no fanfare, merely introductions. Next week we'll let you in on the first "doit"; until then, dear reader, remember that we are all ears and eyes. (Any choice morsels you care to pass on should be addressed to this column in care of The Conglomerate.)

Introducing our Student Body Officers, we remind you that Bert

Hetherwick, President, is red-headed and pursued by Emily Prothro! Claude Teel, better known as "Iron Man," is one swell fellow, but desperately in love with "Nellie." Next in line are the two blonde ladies, namely Co-ed Vice President Peg Hawkins, unattached and interested, and Secretary Jimmy Thibodeaux, de-tached and interesting! Last, and by no means least, is the ampus of the Campus, Treasurer Flournoy. Note,

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—?

(Dedicated to that earnest little group of individuals for whom the school bells toll at Centenary.)

The wheel has turned again. September is here and rather exciting times are in prospect. It is always exhilarating to get back on the campus before the more serious responsibilities begin. We wander around seeing groups of familiar faces and then—ah-h-h, Gentlemen, would you please just look at that little stranger? (She won't be a stranger long!)

We always say that everyone in Shreveport sooner or later comes to Centenary. This has certainly been true in the past and, according to all reports, 1941 will not be an exception. It has all the earmarks of a banner year. We have often wondered why students who have attended the glamour schools of the north and east invariably drift back.

Perhaps now we can shed some light on the subject. We had the opportunity of visiting in the east this summer and of seeing a great many of the more celebrated schools. We're happy to say that Centenary compares very favorably with the vast majority of them. We understand, now, what is meant by the saying "Distance lends enchantment."

The interest of the old regulars is always peaked regarding the newcomers, who they will be and how. Our hats are off in an eternal bow to the high schools about for their incomparable contributions. However, there are always other sources that merit recognition. They tell us, for instance, or representatives from that co-eds' paradise, L.S.U. Centenary may become a little Eden in its own right.

JACK ASKS . . .

How will the football fortunes go this fall? No doubt we'll feel the results of the draft, but maybe Coach Hanna and the boys will be able to win some thrillers for the Alma Mamma. The football fans of Shreveport are in a serious state of lethargy. They need a rude awakening, Gentlemen. We'll be cheering in the east stands.

What sort of tricks will Doc Morehead pull out of the Kapers bag this year? Last year, you know it was a little "Hellzapoppin." Surely there should be something in the way of pulchritude from Dallas to grace the boards, and Arkansas has been known to yield talent.

dear co-eds, he is a ladies' man.

There are many other Centenary personalities that we'd like to reveal, but you read the ads during this issue and next week we'll print the news. Might tell you that "Chief" Johnson is just as fine off the field as on, that Bob Pugh says his heart is just as light as his baton (though we've heard a certain young lady has it packed in her suitcase), that the new profs are strictly fine people, that Burl Sullivan has improved (but slightly), that it was merely a rumor about the Moron Jackets twirling batons instead of murdering the drums, and that we think we've said enough . . . until seven days hence.

GLENWOOD
LINE AVE. AT STERNI

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
"BANK DICK"
with W. C. FIELDS

Richard Arlen A. Devine
"MUTINY IN ARCTIC"

SUN., MON. and TUE.
VIVIAN LEIGH L. OLIVIER
"THAT HAMILTON WOMAN"

WED. and THUR.
—Double Feature—
"HIRED WIFE"

—and—
"BACHELOR DADDY"

THE WILL TO WIN

(From THE LOG, U. S. Naval Academy, Oct. 25, 1940)

The will to win is born; not made. Posters, speeches, pep rallies, a thousand cheers, stirring music, cannot create it. It is either there or it is not. It is an elusive thing; one moment it is like sunshine—everywhere; next moment, it has disappeared. Like opportunity, it only knocks once.

This year, Navy has that will to win . . . where it came from, who or what is responsible for it, does not matter; the fact that it is there, is enough. It cannot be shackled or willingly retained; it is the product of a will, individual and collective and once that will is gone, nothing can restore it.

It is a delicate thing, this will to win. One uncooperative spirit can destroy it; one moment of let down will see it disappear; but the thing that will dissolve it quickest is cockiness. The world is filled with people and teams whose stumbling block was conceit . . . a conceit that left them off their guard and made them uncertain. Two years ago, for example, Navy proceeded to Yale a heavy favorite to spill the Eli's. They were so sure of victory that Yale won 10-7. Upsets are scored in all life as well as on the sports field because someone forgot to keep his feet on the ground and his mind on the horse race.

Don't worry about this will to win, Navy. You've got it . . . the best way to keep it is to have confidence in your ability; give the other fellow credit for being capable of knocking down your play house; then beat him to the draw.

There it is, conceived in the mind of a Midshipman about his own team, and reprinted here for observance of every student. Our eleven have the same kindred will to win as does Navy, Notre Dame, Texas A. & M., and other varsities throughout our country. They have the will . . . they have the sportsmanship . . . and like you, they want victory. We are off to another football season . . . a season of boos and cheers, of victories and defeat. Who backs Centenary? . . . YOU. And whether your Gents bring home the bacon for every encounter, or don't bring it home at all . . . that doesn't matter. YOU and the fellow sitting next to you, like the eleven out there on the gridiron, are what matter. Victory is in the spirit of the thing. The heart knows . . . and so it is up to you, Gentlemen, to cheer and yell and let the whole town know . . . CENTENARY HAS THE WILL TO WIN.

Probable Starting LINE-UP

Millsaps	Centenary
Canterbury . . . LE	Teel
West . . . LT	Heath
Stewart . . . LG	Allums
Hart . . . C	G. Baldwin
Hudson . . . RG	Whitehurst
Hogan . . . RT	McCrocklin
Baker . . . RE	Daugherty
McLaurin . . . QB	Lawless
Stubblefield . . . LH	Johnson
Bell . . . RH	Raley
Matulich . . . FB	White

WELCOME STUDENTS to Shreveport and to Hearne's—

We cordially invite you to visit our store and will be pleased to serve you at any time.

The
HEARNE
DRY GOODS CO. LTD.

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

We feel somewhat at a loss as we start to write our first Gentleman of the Week column. Had we had a football game it would have enabled us to pick some outstanding gentleman and would have been much easier, but lacking the necessary information in this issue I am going to merely state the policy we plan to follow in the coming editions.

We do not intend to pick the player who makes the longest run, catches the touch-down pass, or recovers the opponents' fumble for a touch-down, nor do we expect you to agree with our selection every week, but we do intend to give credit where we think credit is due.

The gridster who plays sixty minutes of heads-up football, who distinguishes himself by consistent effort, and ever strives to forward clean sportsmanship will get our vote over a loafer who happens to be out of position and recovers a fumble.

Each week we shall publish in this column the exact number of students attending the last game. Statistics have shown that in the previous years a small minority of the student body has stood behind and supported the Gents. The athletic fee which every student must pay includes admission to every home game. It is a deplorable situation when students, for some unknown reason, fail to show enough school spirit and enthusiasm, to give Coach Hanna and his boys moral support for two hours a week. It is a well accepted fact in gridiron circles that the teams which consistently win games are those that have the full backing of their campus. A player knowing he has the support of his fellow students will naturally strive to give his best efforts for "Dear Ole Centenary."

Come on out Saturday night and yell for the Gents and if we make a record-breaking attendance we can count on our team breaking a few records themselves.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

NOTICE!

The Official Yoncopin (Yearbook)
Photographer will be on the Campus from

SEPT. 29 to OCT. 13

Commerce Bldg. Yoncopin Office

Keep These Dates Open

No Student's Registration is complete
until his picture has been made.

— No Money Required —

You paid for your picture when you paid your registration fee

New Courses—

(Continued from Page One)
will prepare young men and women for business careers in the unified hemisphere that will result from the present war," he said.
The new courses to be offered are "Economic Geography of South America," and "Latin American Trade." Both will be taught by Professor Robert S. See of the commerce department.

Grouped with these are courses in Latin-American history, taught by Professor W. D. Overdyke of the history department, and courses in commercial Spanish and conversational Spanish taught by Professor R. E. White of the modern language department. Professor White will also teach courses in Spanish-American literature to give students an insight into the cultural background of Latin-America.

In the mathematics department, Dean Hardin announces that a course in advanced Calculus will be offered. This will be a continuation of the present courses in Differential and Integral Calculus and this announcement is welcomed by the science students who recognize the desirability of further study in the applied side of their work.

Tough 10-Game Card Finds Gents on March, Loaded With Power

By SULLY SULLIVAN,
Sports Editor

The Gentlemen of Centenary, buffeted by the football fates in recent years, are on the march again, and will go into a tough ten-game schedule loaded with power.

The Maroon and White is due to bounce back from lack-lustre seasons of '39 and '40 with a vengeance, say the gridiron experts, and is a good bet to win a hefty slice of the ten contests.

Coach Jake Hanna's squad of 28, though handicapped by a training siege of less than three weeks, is rated by the Football Annual, yearly gridiron periodical, as one of the top teams in the section. "Ready to roll," says the magazine of the Gents. "A good bet to win most of their games, even against a stiffer schedule. A little more depth in defense and there'll be victories to cheer."

Following Millsaps on the schedule is Creighton, which beat St. Louis and South Dakota universities and tied Marquette last season and is hoped to be better than ever in 1941, with the success of this season largely contingent on a corps of sophomore backs. Coach Maurice Palrang's Bluejays, crude in the air, will have punch to spare on the ground. A very tough one indeed.

Louisiana Normal, in the backwash of several great seasons, will be slightly less formidable than in '39 and '40 but will still be a top-notch eleven, with plenty of offensive and defensive strength. The Demons, whose ranks were depleted by graduation and the draft, will field a powerful but green squad, and if punting and passing shapes up, should be ready to go.

Hardin-Simmons, undefeated in 1940, will be watching to avert another near-upset at the hands of the Gents, whose 15-13 stand against the Teras team was the closest call the Cowboys had all season. New Coach Warren Woodson has 22 squadmen and 14 lettermen returning, but suffered bad losses in the backfield. The line appears to be as good or better than ever.

The Red Raiders of Texas Tech are on the warpath again. Called the fastest team in the nation, the Raiders have six ten-second speedsters to lug the leather, and have in smashing Charlie Dvoracek the roughest line-lancer in the whole Southwest. Twenty squadmen and 11 varsity men return, and the Raiders seem slated for several scalpings.

Washington University, which bowed to the Gents, 19-14 last season, are a question-mark again. Not heavy, the Bears will field a swift, pass-crazy eleven that might click at any time.

Rice Institute, perennial power in the class Southwestern conference, lost only to Tulane and the Texas Aggies last year, and threaten for the conference title in '41. The Owls, with 13 lettermen and

Gents Begin Season With Millsaps Tilt; 3 Weeks' Workout

With less than three weeks of workouts behind them, the Gents will make their 1941 grid debut against the Majors of Millsaps Saturday in the Centenary stadium.

It will be the sixth contest in 20 games for Centenary and the Missippians. The oldest college west of the Mississippi has yet to lose a contest in the series, and hopes to make the Majors submit again. Though the Gents have lost such stellar players as Murphy, Weatherford, Pfau, ends; Jacks and Norwood, tackles; Kern, center; Coleman and Houston, backs, Coach Jake Hanna will field an effective starting lineup. Two classy backfields include Lawless, Johnson, Raley and Varner in one, Birtman, 30 squad members returning, figure to be the toughest team the Gents meet. However, Jess Neely's versatile team may be considerably weakened by a crushing schedule.

Texas Christian University, another Southwestern conference crew, is also due for a gridiron renaissance this season. Dutch Meyer's Horned Frogs are dark horses in the loop's title race, and sophomores might carry them to the top. Another rough one for the Gents.

After a week's rest—a well deserved one—Centenary meets Southwestern of Memphis. The Lynx, who bowed, 14-6, to the Gents in 1940, are fortified by sophomores who won four out of five games as freshmen, and figure to be considerably tougher.

Louisiana Tech, arch foe of Centenary from time immemorial, will be powerful and, as always, ready to shoot the works in this climax game, which drops the curtain on football in '41.

'41 Football Schedule

Sept. 20—Millsaps College—
Here
Sept. 26—Creighton U.—
Omaha, Neb.
Oct. 4—La. Normal—Here
Oct. 11—Hardin-Simmons—
Here
Oct. 18—Texas Tech—
Lubbock, Tex.
Oct. 25—Washington U.—Here
Nov. 1—Rice—Houston
Nov. 8—T. C. U.—Here
Nov. 15—Open
Nov. 22—Southwestern
(Memphis)—Here
Nov. 27—La. Tech—Ruston

Hinds, White and Faith or Feducia in the other. The backs can look forward to considerable shifting throughout the season.

Coach Hanna's No. 1 headache—the punting problem—seems to have been dispelled by the work of Mayo Faith, a late arrival who pulled the Gents out of the hole many times with 60- and 70-yard punts last year.

Truman "Chief" Johnson, 180-pound Indian speedster, is the boy who will lug the leather fast and often. He is a boy to watch.

Birtman, Faith and Raley comprise a passing corps which may develop into an offensive spearhead and should account for plenty of yards and points. Raley and Varner, also, have shown real ability as ball carriers.

Lawless, who quarterbacks the giant-killing squad, has distinguished himself as field general and blocking back, and is set for a great year. His tested sense of gridiron strategy should be a large contribution to the Gents' success.

Only four returning lettermen will be available for line duty, but a crop of promising sophomores will provide staunch reinforcements. Ends include Nash, Dougherty, Leel and Baldwin, a converted center. Heath, McCracklin and Goldstein appear to have the edge for the tackle slot, and Alums and Whitehurst are standout candidates for guards. Gene Baldwin will be offensive center and will back the line on defense.

Like the Gentlemen, Millsaps shapes up—on paper at least—as stranger in the backfield than is the forward wall. Ed Matulich, 168-pound senior who starred for the Majors last season, heads the brigade of backs from the tailback spot, which he will share with Tom Jones, up from the junior college ranks. Fullback Henry Steinriede, heavier and faster than last year, when he performed exceptionally well, and blocking back Bob Shell, 200-pounder converted from center, will also start for Millsaps.

Six guard candidates, say Coach Hook Stone, are the best he has ever had. One, sophomore Van Stewart, is capable of filling the tailback position with triple-threat effectiveness.

Lack of reserve strength, due to raids on the ranks by Uncle Sam which cost 17 squad members, is the only thing which keeps the Majors from sending their strongest team in years on the field.

The game will start at 8:15 p.m.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

WELCOME
Old and New Students!

We extend to you a Cordial Invitation to Visit

Cameron Bros.
Barber Shop
307 Milam St.

LEMAN'S
BOOK, CARD & GIFT SHOP

408 Milam Shreveport, La.

Phone 6326

After the game visit—

THE CUB

EAST KINGS HWY.
PHONE 7-7301

MRS. ALBERT FARNELL
W. P. MELTON

SHREVEPORT BOWLING CENTER

615 Marshall

YOUR FLORIST'S NEW HOME

We Welcome Each and Every Centenary

STUDENT AND PROFESSOR

WATCH FOR ANNOUNCEMENT of the date of our Open-House for our Centenary Friends

This will be your Special Day

Souvenirs for Everyone

BROADMOOR FLORAL SHOP

3903 Youree

Sara Tully—Mgr.

Phone 7-7631

REX PRICES 10¢/20¢

FRI.-SAT., SEPT. 19-20
Judy Canova Francis Lederer
"PUDDIN'HEAD"
CARTOON — SERIAL
Sunday — Monday — Tuesday
SEPT. 21-22-23
FRED MACMURRAY
MADELINE CARROLL
'ONE NIGHT IN LISBON'
CARTOON—NEWS
WEDNESDAY-THURSDAY,
SEPT. 24-25
Jeffrey Lynn — Phillip Dorn
"UNDERGROUND"
Comedy - News - Cartoon
Friday - Saturday, Sept. 26-27
THE BUMSTEAD FAMILY
"BLONDIE IN SOCIETY"
CARTOON—SERIAL

Freshmen Rules

1. Every freshman must wear a maroon and white freshman cap—boys remove them in class.
2. Freshmen will speak to upperclassmen at all times.
3. Freshmen must attend all athletic events and pep meetings.
4. All freshmen must sit together at football games and pep meetings.
5. All freshmen must be able to sing the Fight Song and the Alma Mater by September 20 and thereafter sing it upon upperclassmen's request.
6. All freshmen must have short military haircuts cut by a barber by September 20.
7. Freshmen boys must wear pajamas and girls must wear gingham dresses and black cotton stockings with hair in pigtails for the Normal game on October 4.
8. Names must be printed on bills of cap.
9. These rules will be in effect until the latter part of October at which time freshmen will be advised as to their cessation or continuance, depending upon their cooperation.
10. Any freshman deliberately violating these rules will be reported to the committee on freshman rules, which will refer the matter to the Student Senate to determine the penalty to be imposed.

RUSH WEEK CALENDAR

- Sept. 18—Freshman Registration
Freshman Party
Zeta Tau Alpha informal party, 2:00-6:00
- Sept. 19—Alpha Xi Delta informal party, 2:00-6:00
Pep Meeting
- Sept. 20—Chi Omega informal party, 2:00-6:00
- Sept. 22—Chi Omega formal party, 6:00
Lambda Chi Alpha informal party
- Sept. 23—Zeta Tau Alpha formal party, 6:00
Kappa Sigma informal party
- Sept. 24—Alpha Xi Delta formal party, 6:00
Kappa Alpha informal party
- Sept. 25—Kappa Sigma formal party
- Sept. 26—Pledging, for sororities
Kappa Alpha formal party
- Sept. 27—Lambda Chi Alpha formal party
- Sept. 29—Pledging for fraternities

Rushing Rules—

- (Continued from Page One)
- and second preferences, either of which will be binding.
9. A list of girls receiving bids shall be posted on the bulletin board at 1:00, September 26th. Those girls are to be admitted one at a time into the eDan's office to receive their bids which is signed and left there.
 10. The Presidents of the sororities collect their bids at 3:00 from the Dean's office.
 11. Pledging will be at 3:00 September 26th at which time all girls to be pledged must meet at the girls' dormitory.
 12. As each girl signs her bid, she must pay $1.00. This is to go to the Treasury of the Pan-Hellenic Council.
 13. Rushees may not be with members at the football game on September 20th.

The President of Pan-Hellenic Council is Ann Thibodeaux, Chi Omega; Helen Dwire, Alpha Xi Delta, and Ann Burnette, Zeta Tau Alpha, are Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer. Three Rush Captains are in charge of the individual activities of each group—Betty Smith of Alpha Xi Delta, Betsie Russ of Chi Omega, and Gerry Baird of Zeta Tau Alpha.

Rules and regulations for the 1941 fraternity rush season were agreed upon by representatives from each of the three fraternities on the campus in a meeting with Dr. F. E. Lowance, head of the faculty committee on fraternities and sororities. It was decided that no functions at all should be given between September 14 and 22. The official rush week will begin September 22 and continue through September 27, with each organization being privileged to give two functions, the first of which is to take the form of a closed open house, the last being left to the discretion of the organization. The dates for each fraternity were determined by lot, with the Lambda Chi Alphas drawing Monday and Saturday, the Kappa Sigmas Tuesday and Thursday, and the Kappa Alphas Wednesday and Friday.

Bids will be presented Sunday, September 28, from two to five in the afternoon. Silence day will commence Sunday night at midnight and continue until Monday noon. The fraternity lists of the boys receiving bids must be in the registrar's office by nine o'clock Monday morning. Rushees may sign preference cards in the registrar's office Monday, September 29, from nine o'clock until noon with official pledging that night by the different fraternities.

Compliments
of

PLAZA CAFE
Mexican Food

WELCOME

to Centenary Students—Old and New

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

L. H. Apffel

129 Kings Highway

Greetings, Gents!

With the opening of school this season, we know that we are greeting numbers of old friends, and we hope new students who will soon be numbered among our old friends. Take notice, we are the only store in this city specializing on fraternity and sorority jewelry, as well as anything else that you might need in jewelry. This season we have the greatest assortment of fine jewelry that has ever been our privilege to display. Come in to see us and our store as soon as you can spare the time from your school activities.

LEONARD'S

320 Ward Bldg. Phone 2-5088

Office Changes Made In Staff, Equipment

In a general rearrangement of personnel in the office, Mrs. S. E. Randolph has been named the new secretary to the President, Kathryn Blackwell is the new bookkeeper and Dorothy Durr has become the secretary to the Dean.

In addition to these changes a new partition has been added to the main office, dividing it into two parts. The entire office has been repainted with new "eye-ease" paint and fluorescent lights installed. It is now more conveniently equipped for the student body.

Mary Frances Smith Is College Librarian

Miss Mary Frances Smith, graduate of Centenary and formerly with the Shreveport Memorial, has become the new librarian for the college. She is looking forward to meeting all of the students, and kindly offers her best assistance to anyone with library problems.

The library is very pleased to have received this past week a set of Spanish books entitled "Nueva Biblioteca de Autores Espanoles" from Madrid, Spain. European books are very hard to obtain and the library is quite fortunate to get these, which will prove very valuable to the Spanish classes and complete the first part of the set obtained last year.

Alpha Sigma Pi, honorary Freshman-Sophomore fraternity, has given the library several fine books of which we are quite proud. New titles are: "Fantasia," written by Deems Taylor, which has illustrations of Walt Disney's famous production of the same name; "Rockwell Kentiana" contains reproductions of Rockwell Kent's finest

Centenary Senior Taken Prisoner by 'Red Army' Forces

It is alleged that Ollie Day of Centenary's senior class was taken prisoner last week by the "Red" Army of Uncle Sam's maneuvering forces and for a time was "under sentence as a fifth-columnist 'in the pay' of the opposing 'Blue' Army." He was taken by a "Red" to an unnamed spot, where he was fed by his captors, then was released. Ask him for details.

work. Others are "Mathematics and the Imagination" by Kasner and Newman, "Epic of America" by James Adams; "Van Loon's "Geography," and "Father Mississippi" by Lyle Saxon.

For all these books the library is indeed grateful to this fine organization.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

RETIRED with HONOR

Once lost or even badly damaged, a sentimental relic usually cannot be replaced. Why not put it away for safekeeping and buy a smart, new Hamilton? See our complete selection today.

DORIS—17 jewels, 14K gold-filled . . . $45.00

ROSS—19 jewels, 14K gold-filled . . . $55.00

HAMILTON
America's Fine Watch

Flournoy & Harris, Inc.
EXCLUSIVE JEWELERS

519 Marshall St.

Get your next haircut

at

PEE WEE'S
BARBER SHOP

A Complete Wardrobe in
One for the COLLEGIATE

PENNEY'S
FAMOUS

10-WAY
4-PIECE
SUITS

Can Be Worn
in Ten Different Combinations

$19⁷⁵

Free
Alterations

PENNEY'S
PENNEY COMPANY, INC.

★ Don't miss SONJA HENIE, starring in "SUN VALLEY SERENADE" a 20th Century-Fox film, with GLENN MILLER and his band.

... and don't miss enjoying the great combination of tobaccos in CHESTERFIELD that makes it the one cigarette that's COOLER Milder and BETTER-TASTING.

In Movieland

It's Chesterfield

the Right Combination of the World's Best Cigarette Tobaccos for a COOLER Milder Better TASTE

EVERYWHERE
YOU GO
they Satisfy

Buy a pack . . . when you light a Chesterfield you get an aroma and fragrance so delightful that it's enjoyed even by those who do not smoke.

We spare no expense in making Chesterfield the best smoke money can buy . . . from the tobacco inside, right out to the moisture-proof, easy-to-open cellophane jacket that keeps Chesterfield always Fresher and Cooler-Smoking.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

7-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, September 26, 1941

Number 2

Fall Convocation Exercises Held Wednesday

Centenary C.P.T. School Ranks Among Highest

COMPLETE COURSE PRESENTED BY COLLEGE FOR TRAINING FLYERS FOR DEFENSE

Two years ago, with the granting of the first contracts, Centenary started a Civil Pilot Training program. Since that first year, when only a primary class was taught, Centenary has made great steps in a forward direction. From a small Primary class, Centenary has acquired Secondary, Cross Country, and Final Review classes. The acquisition of these classes has made Centenary the third ranking C. P. T. school in the United States.

Under the present conditions it is possible for a Centenary student to start out in this course and for a small amount of cash secure a license as a flight instructor. The course is one of the most complete in America today.

From the classes that have been graduated from Centenary's C. P. T. course, many boys have gone into the world of aviation. Some have gone into the Army Air Corps, some into the Navy Air Corps, and some have become instructors. All of these former students have made good in their chosen field, thus setting a very high standard for the school from which they were graduated. Some of these boys will no doubt be in America's "front line of defense,"

(Continued on Page Three)

Four Cheerleaders To Be Nominated Today by Students

Today the students of Centenary will meet in a general student body meeting to nominate their candidates for the annual cheerleader elections. As has been the custom in the past, nominations will be taken for four leaders, two boys and two girls, who will serve as yell leaders for the remainder of the school year.

The students will vote for the four pep leaders next Monday in the Student Union building.

Neither of the two girl cheerleaders from last year returned to school this fall. They were Betty Mae Coeburn and Billy Katherine Pryor. Ollie Day, another of the former leaders, did not run because he was not sure he would be in school for the entire year, since at any time he may be called upon to become a flight instructor. Camp Flournoy, head cheerleader of last year, did not choose to run in this year's campaign, because he would not have as much time to devote to the job as it requires.

Since this is the first opportunity there has been for an election, Flournoy and Day have performed the duties of cheerleaders whenever there has been a need for them before now.

The victors in the election today will immediately take over their duties. The next home game will be Saturday, October 4, at which time the newly elected pep inspirers will make their first public appearance. Included among their duties in this game against the Normal Demons, will be the job of supervising the long-awaited freshman pajama and pigtail frolic between the halves.

The election is being conducted by the two vice-presidents of the student body, Peg Hawkins and Claude Teal, who will count the ballots after the polls are closed at 2:00 o'clock.

3 CENTENARY PROFS RECEIVE DOCTORATES

Three Centenary College faculty members received recognition for the research work they have been doing for the few years when they received the highest degrees in their respective departments from three different universities this past summer.

Professor A. M. Shaw of the English department was granted a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Louisiana State University. The same degree was given W. Darrell Overdyke of the history department by Duke University. A. J. Middlebrooks, acting head of the department of education, was made a Doctor of Education by Leland Stanford University.

In each case the degrees were received after several years of residence and correspondence work. Each has published a thesis on his particular subject.

SORORITIES HAVE GALA RUSH WEEK

Fall rushing commenced with the swish of new skirts when the Zeta Tau Alphas entertained with the formal opening of their "Blue-Grey Room" atop the city's largest hotel.

Tuesday night the Zeta Tau Alpha annual "Stardust" banquet was held at the Shrine Club. Small silver wagons bearing the name of each rushee were used as place cards. The wagons were used in keeping with the impressive theme of "Hitch Your Wagon to a Zeta Star."

Alpha Xi Deltas began their formal Rush Week activity with a Kindergarten party. Following the school trend each girl found her lunch in a bright doloed dinner pail. Their banquet Wednesday night was held on the good ship "Rose." The nautical theme was further carried out by the small crystal ships filled with pink Alpha Xi roses marking each rushee's place.

'Twas a Hi! Hi! Ho! and pirate's garb for the Chi O's party held on an improvised ship at Camp Margaret Hutchinson. A map showing "The Way to Chi Omega" provided the theme of the afternoon and a jolly old time was had by all. Monday evening the Chi Omegas escorted their dates to the candlelit glory of their "White Taper Banquet." The theme was further carried on when each rushee lighted her miniature candle from those of the Chi Omegas'.

MAROON JACKETS ASSIST RED ARMY

Participate in Distribution of Armbands to Civilians.

Members of the Maroon Jackets participated in the distribution of red bands to all Shreveport civilians Tuesday afternoon. Shreveport city officials and Colonel Cole, one of the officers in command at Red Army headquarters, asked that all residents be requested to wear the color of the forces in some form in order that the city show visible support of its defenders, thereby increasing Red Army morale.

Helen Dwire, Peg Williams, Dorothy Durr, Lou Dell Liston, Mabel Boddie, Anne Robinson, and Ann Burnette were posted at downtown intersections where civilians were contacted and given red bands with the request that they be worn for the duration of the battle. The battle was started at midnight Tuesday, involving the largest peace-time maneuvers in the world.

Centenary-Youth Symphonies Merge

Centenary College's symphony orchestra will be merged with the recently organized Shreveport Youth Symphony Orchestra, it was decided at a meeting Tuesday afternoon of the directors of the Shreveport Cultural Foundation.

Majors in the Centenary Music School will receive school credit for their work in the orchestra.

Eugene Kilinski of the Centenary School of Music will direct the group. Mr. Kilinski received his training at the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y., where he received the B.A. and M.A. degrees, and played in the Chicago civic orchestra and the Rochester civic orchestra. He was alternate conductor with Bohumir Kryl's symphony orchestra.

You are not officially registered in school until you have your picture made for the college records and the Yoncopin. The official photographer will be waiting for you at the Yoncopin office from September 29 to October 13.

TWO FOURTH GENERATION STUDENTS ENROLL IN CENTENARY LAST WEEK

This year is unique in the annals of the school in that two of the students enrolling can point to several generations of their families who preceded them as students at Centenary. One of the students is a first-year co-ed, Eleanor Brown, whose father is president of the Centenary board of trustees, himself an alumnus of the college in 1917, as was his father, Rev. P. M. Brown in 1890, and his grandfather, T. W. Brown, in 1850. Another great grandfather of Miss Brown was Dr. Sanford Perry, who graduated from old Centenary in 1853. Miss Brown's great great grandfather was Robert Perry of Jackson, Louisiana, who was a member of the board of trustees named in the charter of the college, issued in 1825.

Eleanor Brown's cousin is Jimmie Brown, who is also a great great granddaughter of Robert Perry.

The other entrant is an upperclassman, Marlin Drake, who reg-

DR. LOWANCE AIDS IN NATL. DEFENSE WORK

The past summer was quite a busy one for Dr. Lowance of the college faculty, who spent his time in Pennsylvania as an instructor in the Pennsylvania State College extension project. This was a defense undertaking in that the purpose of the courses was the training of young men for defense industries.

The necessity for such training gave rise to what is believed to have been the largest faculty of its kind in the world with four hundred instructors, teaching engineering subjects to more than thirty-two hundred high school graduates. The largest unit of the staff was the physics department, of which Dr. Lowance was a member. Here 112 teachers were available to instruct 152 sections and it was, according to Dr. Marsh W. White, physics supervisor for the Engin-

(Continued on Page Four)

MUSIC SCHOOL ENLARGES STAFF

The aim of the Centenary College School of Music has always been to provide a musical center worthy of Shreveport and the large Ark-La-Tex area, and this year with its expanded program it gives every indication of living up to the title of "musical capital" for this section. Centenary possesses the only nationally rated music school within a 200-mile radius of Shreveport. Many new courses will be available this year to students and several new instructors have joined the faculty.

Ralph Squires, recently named the new director for the school, has a group of very capable assistants for the coming year. Eight instructors have already been appointed and the activities of the band, choir, and orchestra will be greatly increased through special programs.

Among the new teachers are Alvin Voran, who will direct the a capella chorus and the concert choir; William Causey, the new band director, who will also serve as instructor in wind instruments; Geraldine Mosely, who will teach piano; Mrs. Helen Ruffing Marshall, the new head of the voice department; and Eugene Kilinski, who will act as instructor of violin.

FRIDAY'S PEP MEETING WAS BIG AND LOUD

Favorite Yells Given; New Ones Introduced, Sounding Swell

The football season was opened Friday night by one of the biggest and loudest "pep meetings" ever held by the students of the college.

Under the leadership of Camp Flournoy and Ollie Day some of the favorite "yells" were given and several new ones introduced. They had the cooperation of the entire group and the "yells" really sounded swell.

The band was on hand peppering things up with marches, the Fight Song, and last, but not least, "The Wise Old Owl."

At nine o'clock over KWKH a radio program was given. After the Fight Song and several yells Jerry Bozeman introduced Coaches Hanna and Cobb. Claude Teal, Bob Raley and "Chief" Johnson of the varsity were presented and Dr. Cline and Dr. Shaw gave short messages to the radio audience.

The program closed with the playing of the Alma Mater.

Immediately following the program the varsity was called to the playing field and introduced to the crowd individually.

The meeting was really a great success and that is just the kind of spirit we need to back those Gents who are giving their all for Centenary!

'C' Club Reorganizes; Changes Social Set-up

This year Centenary's athletic organization, the "C" Club, has made an about-face and completely reorganized. The main changes in the operations of the club occur in the social activities of its members. The boys have gotten together and completely redecorated the club room and at the same time have added a large picture of a Gentleman above the door leading into the meeting place.

In the past, the club has taken no part in the campus life so far as giving any social functions. The club was originally formed to bring all the Centenary lettermen together in one organization. However, under the present organization the members plan to take active part in the social whirl by giving dances, parties, and carrying on very much in the same manner as one of the social fraternities on the campus.

The club will meet every Monday in the "C" room at 7 o'clock under the new president, Claude Teal. Chief Johnson is the Vice-President and W. G. Lawless is Secretary-Treasurer.

The only qualifications for membership are that the applicant be a letterman of any one of Centenary's sports.

The present members are Claude Teal, Truman "Chief" Johnson, Guy Feducia, W. G. Lawless, John Allums, Bob Raley, Gene Baldwin, Claude McCrocklin, Alex Penny, Melbourne Crawford, Ed Hynoski, and L. Berrie.

CHOIR WORK BEGINS; A CAPELLA, CONCERT

Mr. Alvin Voran has announced that work on the a capella chorus and concert choir will begin very soon. Mr. Voran is quite experienced in the direction of such organizations and has begun plans for a successful year. All students who are interested in this type of work are urged to contact Mr. Voran in his office in the Student Union Building.

DR. JAS. M. OWENS IS GUEST SPEAKER FOR CEREMONIES

In accordance with a long standing custom the annual fall convocation exercises were held in the chapel last Wednesday. The program was opened with a prayer by Dr. Pierce Cline. After the opening prayer, Billy Bradford, of the Centenary School of Music, sang The Lord's Prayer. Bradford was accompanied on the piano by Miss Charlotte Newsom.

At the conclusion of Bradford's song Dr. Cline introduced the guest speaker, Dr. James M. Owens. Dr. Owens delivered a short talk on the value of education. One view presented by Dr. Owens that should be given particular thought by all new students, and a few old ones, was that any one that does not intend to get as much as possible out of college may as well give up and go home at the very first of school.

Student Body President Gilbert Hetherwick announced that cheerleaders would be nominated at a special student body meeting to be held on Friday. Originally plans had been made to select cheerleaders in chapel on Wednesday but due to a full schedule this had to be postponed.

Yearbook Pictures Monday Says Editor

According to Bill Graham, editor of the Yoncopin, the official yearbook photographer will be on the campus in the Commerce building next Monday to begin taking pictures for this year's edition of the annual. He will be available for two weeks. Freshmen are supposed to have their pictures made the first week with the upperclassmen having the following week devoted to them. However, Graham asks that as many upperclassmen as possible try to have their pictures completed the first week also.

Students are urged to bear in mind the fact that they have already paid for these pictures in their registration fee. It has been made a rule of the college also that registration is not complete unless the student's identification picture has been made. The Yoncopin picture will serve the school as identification picture.

Therefore, students, cooperate and come to the Commerce building some time next week all dressed up and ready to have a fine picture made.

Notice to Students

To complete your registration you must comply with these requirements of the college:

1. Have your picture made for our records and the Yearbook.
2. Turn in your personal history card.
3. Make initial payment on your tuition.

REGISTRAR

Yearbook official photographer will be on the campus from September 29 through October 13.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representation
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

1936 Member 1937
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributors of
Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor
Associate Editor—Ann Burnette
Sports Editor—Burl Sullivan
FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager
Reporters: Ellen Eastham
Leroy Scott
Arthur Shuey
Barbara Harris
Mabel Boddie
Jack Keenan
Hutch Phillips
Jake Cullick
Dudley Beene
J. L. Solomon
Jean Clark
Mary Foster Peyton

Student Senate Elections

The organizations on the Centenary campus are permitted to send a representative to the Student Senate and made wise selections last year in their choices of students to represent them. The Senate worked harmoniously throughout the school year with its various projects. This year the time has come to elect new representatives for the 1941-42 term. The necessity for the election of students who are sincerely interested in the school and who will conscientiously do their share toward building a better school for those to follow us cannot be overemphasized. The Senate has an excellent opportunity to advance the projects desired by the students; but to accomplish this it is first necessary to secure as members of the Senate students who will do their share whenever called upon.

A member of the Student Senate has quite a responsibility, because, as such, he is looked upon by outsiders as representing the student body. For this reason, then, it is very important that the organizations be careful with their selections. They should appoint one of their group who, they are sure, will devote his time and energies to the welfare and betterment of the school as a whole, rather than merely attend the meetings every week with no regard as to what is happening and no special care as to the outcome of anything that may be undertaken.

So, organizations, think about your choice. Select carefully the student who will enter into the spirit of the thing and sincerely work for Centenary, and this coming year will be a successful one from every standpoint.

More Music

To Mr. Billy Causey the students wholeheartedly voice their approval and gratitude for the band's rendition of "The Wise Old Owl" at the game last Saturday night. At long last the band has seen fit to humor the student body by devoting just a little time to the "popular" type of music. By no means have the students advocated the abolition of the marches. Surely no college band is complete without its share of the stirring Sousa and Goldman masterpieces to liven the college gatherings, but the vast majority are decidedly in favor of the addition of a few tunes of the lighter sort. "The Wise Old Owl" is definitely a step in the right direction, and Mr. Causey, we ask you to allow the band to take at least one more step in that direction. Who knows? Perhaps some day not so far off, we can once more hear the strains of the "Milamburg Joys" come from the bandstand as they so often did in the days when Centenary's swing band was comparatively quite well known as one of the best bands of its type in the entire country. Even today the T.C.U. band has built up a reputation similar to the one our band at one time possessed. Those who have gone on the special trains to Rice will recall that at least once each game the Rice band "gives out" with a little "jive."

So, Mr. Causey, we want you to know that we appreciate your permitting the band to play a "popular" tune, and that the students hope that it will be possible for the band to continue at least a few selections of this kind.

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

For Scientific Face and Scalp Treatment

129 Kings Highway
L. H. Apffel

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

I'm glad that school has started
With all the lads and lasses;
I like everything that goes with school
Except the daily classes.
* * *

Well, everybody seems to have gotten back into the swing of things, meaning nearly everybody was roped into a couple of classes that they didn't want (pardon the pun!), and another year has been well launched on its way. From all outward appearances the guys and gals had a gala vacation season.

It seems another of the Coeburn line is with us this year. That's one family in which the old line about "Are there any more at home like you?" gets results. We just hope that there are still a few more at home like either one of the two we've seen.

Speaking of newcomers, this little Mary Smith New is cute as the proverbial bug in a rug. In fact, Flournoy (he of the patriotic eyes . . . blue with red whites) had to ask her name three times the other night before he remembered it.

Is it true that Suzie Mulkey has her own way so much that she writes her diary a week in advance?

Overheard the other night was little Shuey's remark, "I'm out scratching for a living," to which his date replied, "Well, I'm sorry, Arthur, but I don't itch."

Bill Patton has spent some little time hunting a grizzly bear in the mountains. His relatives have spent some little time hunting for Patton. It is feared that Patton found the bear.

How about the girl that tried to buy a green lipstick because she had a date with a railroad man that night?

You guys are really missing something if you overlook that little Harris gal, better known as Jessica. From all reports she really went over with a bang a week or so ago at the U. of Ark.

Overheard the other night was Judson Kelly complaining, "My girl just doesn't understand me. Does yours?" Wilcox: "Dunno. Never heard her mention your name."

Knox Smith was explaining the chemistry lab to one of the freshmen. Said Knox: "The last student who occupied this room was an inventor. He invented an explosive." "I suppose those spots on the wall are the explosive," said the frosh. "No," said Knox, "those are the inventor's."

Statistics show, however, that this year there are as many if not more cute girls in the dormitory than ever before. This is based on calculations by eminent campusological authorities. No other college can make that statement. In the opinion of prominent exponents of campusology, it's dormitory, two to one.

LETTERS To the Editor

Editor, The Conglomerate.

Dear Sir:

A considerable amount of misunderstanding sometimes arises between the school and different individuals, or groups; therefore, I ask you to start a column, if possible, where all students may express their opinions or views on different situations that may sometimes arise.

Thanks,
Dudley C. Beene III
Editor's note: Excellent idea. All types of letters should be sent to us about all types of misunder-

A Freshman's View Of College Routine

A week has passed since they entered the Arts Building and met Dean Hardin for the first time, and the freshmen have become by now old hands at getting to class ten seconds before the last bell and taking a seat just as it rings. One freshman, Foster Hamner, volunteered the following information about how the first-year students liked their new school. Said Foster, "It's not as hard or strange as we thought it would be, because everybody has been so nice and shown us where to go and what to do."

The freshmen are urged to cooperate with the freshmen rules committee and follow the rules listed. These rules are not very difficult and they could be made a lot harder. So freshmen, try to sit together at the pep rallies and football games. It is also a requirement that freshmen take seats in the front when attending chapel and above all, freshmen, be sure and wear your freshmen caps at all times. We have noticed within the past few days quite a number of freshmen without their caps on. We hope that we do not have to remind you of this again.

Freshmen, do not forget that the speed with which the rules will be removed depends entirely upon your cooperation in adhering to these requirements.

I wish I wuz beside the sea,
Or sailing in a boat,
With all the things I've got to write,
Wrote!

"All I am today I owe to my mother."
"Send her 30 cents and square the account."

standings. Just bring your letters to the Conglomerate office in the Commerce building and leave them either with someone or on the desk.

INSIDE AND OUT

Mansfield has really made a name for itself! First, Betty Gordon, and now, Jane Bartlett. Ask her how she made a name for herself as a milk salesman. So help us, we don't know a thing about it, and all witnesses then present are away at school.

Glad to have Norman Robertson and Glenny Harmon (remember the Church Point Club) back for another swell year. By the way, the Church Point club will, quote, have to be reorganized. We don't know—we only heard.

Who said what about the twins at Colonial Hall? Tell us—we want to know, too, Eastham!

We hope Virginia Friddle can sing, dance, or emcee, because KK could stand an addition—especially when it is Virginia Friddle. And a transfer, Margaret Owens, sings. Seems that she does classics. We know Doc doesn't read the paper so be sure to tell him what the deal is!

Lil Turner is back, but definitely, with a new car. Now that is one senior—imagine!—who is doing all the good. Don't misunderstand, because we don't mean with the car!

We don't want to get in a rut, so here is a bit of dope on some non-residents (we mean of the dorm). Bat-brain Bettis is teaching school! Saw her at the Zephyr Room Friday night. Her fellow teacher at Line Avenue is Goodson. Guess you old ones remember all these people.

After rush is over, some of the girls will have some news for Keenan, Flournoy, and last and not least, Scott. What say, fellas?

We wonder where Frank Dienst got the name of Little Hitler? Could it be that he is always spouting German?

Guess we are in a good mood for this issue. With all the dirt coming in, though, watch for us next week! NO JOKE!

They say that familiarity breeds contempt.

Open House will be announced in OCTOBER ISSUE

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Broadmoor Floral Shop
3903 Youree Sara Tully

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

For playing a great defensive game Saturday night, Truman "Chief" Johnson, is our choice for the Gentleman of the Week. Chief proved himself to be a consistent ground-gainer against the Mississippians by averaging 6 yards per time in 13 times of ball-lugging.

We singled out the Chief, not because of his spectacular offensive, but because of the stalwart defense tactics he displayed.

He is the fastest man on the squad and is slated to be the team's best ball-carrier this season. He is a senior and letterman and hails from Idabel, Oklahoma. He stands 5 feet 11 inches, weighs 200 pounds and is 22 years old. A brilliant blocker and a great competitor, he is used as a line backer and Saturday night proved he is good at diagnosing the opposition's plays.

Although the Majors had little trouble penetrating the first line of defense, they were continuously stopped by Chief Johnson and the secondary. We do not, however, want to give the credit to one man when ten others were playing hard to win. It seemed to us that all the fellows were doing their best for Centenary.

302 students attended the game and did their part in supporting the Gents and the school. This is not half the student body, so we say to the majority who didn't attend that you are sadly lacking in school spirit and cannot hope to get out of college what the rest are receiving.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES
LAUNDRY

and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS
LOUISIANA
GAS
COMPANY

ADVICE TO THE LOVE LORN

YOUNG LOCHINVAR II

Dear L. L.:

I am a brunette, very lovely, too, who has troubles. They are with my home town man (J. H.). Our trouble—The Army. What should I do?

"Frightful"
C. Boyett

Dear C. B.:

You are doing O.K. with him. Why ask us?

Y. L. IInd

Dear L. L.:

I'm a very goodlooking sophomore; just about the best looking, I think. But every time I try to woo a girl she stops me.

"Worried"
J. Kelly

Dear J. K.:

Some got it, some ain't got it—or something like that.

Y. L. IInd

Dear L. L.:

How can I get my man to quit work and come back to school?

"Wondering"
L. Sanford

P. S.: I love him so.

Dear L. S.:

We only handle love problems and not how to boost the enrollment of C. College.

Y. L. IInd

Dear L. L.:

I am a tall blond, and very good looking, I've heard. How can I subdue a certain freshman football player (B. H.). I need help badly.

"Hoping"
G. Brown

Dear G. B.:

Your case is hopeless; you had better grab T. Thompson quick.

Y. L. IInd

Dear L. L.:

Our kingdom for 2 men. Please help us. We are really hard up.
Two Freshmen
Myrt and Clay

Dear M. & C.:

Your time will come some day, don't worry.

Y. L. IInd

Dear L. L.:

I am so in love I can't eat, I can't sleep, I can't do anything but think of my little Patsey Coffey. How can I keep her away from the rest of the VULTURES?

"Lover"
G. Head

Dear G. H.:

I never thought I would receive a letter asking advice from such a great lover as you. You must be slipping—change from Coffey to tea.

Y. L. IInd

All letters sent to the Love Lorn column become the property of your columnist, THE GREAT HIGH GRANDMASTER OF CENTENARY STYLE WOO.

Bluejays of Creighton Next Foe For Gents

VARSITY LEFT FOR OMAHA WEDNESDAY

The Gents left union station at 5:30 Wednesday and headed for Omaha, Neb., to meet their second foe, the Bluejays of Creighton. After suffering defeat at the hands of Millsaps the Gents hope to surprise the favorites and beat them.

Creighton University's Bluejay football team opened the 1941 season last Sunday against the Ravens of St. Benedict's College, from Atchinson, Kansas, and defeated them 13 to 7.

Head Coach Maurice "Skip" Palrang and his assistant, Tom Gorman, completed a gruelling, two weeks workout with a well-earned victory.

The Bluejays have a squad of 40 with veterans in nine posts. Two rookies completing the first team are 229-pound left tackle Walt Cyhel and Barney Burdick, rangy right end.

The rest of the line is seasoned and has been built around Captain John Powers, the Bluejay right tackle powerhouse, who missed competition last season. Joe Boyle probably will start at the other end, Frank Velisek and Harold Peterson at guards, and Gene Skarda at center.

The Bluejay backfield is solid with veterans. Triple-threat Maurice "Moon" Mullin may get the nod at the left half-back spot, with Bob Fitzgerald as running mate. Tom Kelley will probably get the quarterback call with Ray Leonard, fullback.

Mullins does the punting and passing for the Bluejays, but Coach Palrang is not worried as he has four backfield men who are quite adept at hurling the pigskin. He is also the fastest man on the team and hard to stop once he is started. Fitzgerald, Mullin's running mate, may be counted on to attempt to elude the Gents.

Captain John Powers and 215-lb. heavyweight right guard Velisek help present Coach Palrang's Bluejays with the best defense ever employed by Creighton.

Creighton uses a "T" formation with Quarterback Tom Kelley handling the ball on every play. This has proved to be one of the most successful formations used by various schools. A 6-2-2-1 defense is used except on a passing down then they shift into a loose 5-3-2-1.

The line averages 199 pounds per man and the backfield averages 170.

PROBABLE LINE-UP

Boyle	LE	Teel
Cyhel	LT	Heath
Miller	LG	Allums
Sharda	C	G. Baldwin
Velisek	RG	Whitehurst
Powers	RT	McCrocklin
Burdick	RE	Daugherty
Kelly	QB	Lawless
Mullins	LH	Johnson
Fitzgerald	RH	Raley
Leonard	FB	White

Here's the difference between a politician and a lady: When a politician says "Yes" he means "Maybe." When he says "Maybe" he means "No." If he says "No" he's no politician.

When a woman says "No" she means "Maybe." When she says "Maybe" she means "Yes"—and if she says "Yes"—she's no lady.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

MISS. 11 SCORES ITS FIRST WIN OF LONG SERIES

Approximately 5,550 fans were present at Centenary's opener and saw them go down in defeat, 20 to 0.

The Mississippians got their "break" in the closing minutes of the first quarter when Chief Johnson fumbled and Canterbury of Millsaps recovered. The Majors then marched 65 yards on a sustained touchdown drive which ended with Mat Olick tossing a 6-yard pass to Canterbury for the counter and then place-kicking a perfect extra point.

Centenary's only threat came early in the game when Raley hit Johnson with a pass in the end zone which Chief let slip by him. The rest of the game the Gentlemen failed to penetrate the 20-yard line.

Millsaps scored another touchdown when Ed Jones intercepted one of Charles Birtman's passes and ran through a half-dozen would-be tacklers and out-distanced the field for 55 yards and six more points.

The other tally came on a spinner play off right tackle by Matulich in which he sneaked over untouched.

We hope the Gents will not take their defeat too hard and will recover from their bafflement to begin pointing for the Normal Demons and the 7-to-0 setback received last year.

CENTENARY C.P.T.

(Continued from Page One) the U. S. Navy Air Corps, in case this country is ever endangered.

Originally, Centenary's co-eds were permitted to benefit from the Primary training. However, the government recently denied these privileges to all girls in order to train more men for national defense. Now only boys over nineteen years of age can take this course.

Centenary's Flying School is one of the highest ranking schools in the U.S.A. It is the highest ranking school in this district in both flying and ground school grades. In the field of flying, Centenary ranks above such large colleges as Louisiana State University, Texas University, Dartmouth, Duke, and many others.

Each of the courses is taught in a different type ship. The Primary course is taught in a Piper Cub, Secondary in Ryan S. T.'s and a Stinson Voyager, Cross Country in a Stinson Reliant, and Final Review in both Cubs and Ryans. The Ryan used in Secondary and Final Review is very similar to some of the Navy's training ships.

Centenary's record in the field of flying is something that every student in the college should be proud of. Every student that takes this course should remember the records of those boys who have gone before them, and do their best to preserve the records set by them. If everyone will do his part in encouraging the boys taking this course, Centenary can do her part in upholding that great national motto—KEEP 'EM FLYING!

"I got furious with my boyfriend when his car stalled on a dark road."

"Then he tried to start something?"

"Yes, the poor sap tried to start the car again."

Post card from Bill Patton to his girl last summer: "Having wonderful time. Wish you were her."

Ellen Eastham: "That man I met at your house took me out to dinner last night and he was very nice. He twice spoke about my birdlike appetite. What business is he in?"

Caroline Williams: "He runs an ostrich farm."

FROSH TEAM LOOKS GOOD TO SULLIVAN

The Centenary Freshmen started the season yesterday against the Louisiana Normal Demons, and if they won or lost we do not know, as the Conglomerate goes to press Wednesday.

The Frosh have 27 squadmen, four of whom are Shreveport boys. Five from Arkansas, five from Texas, two from Michigan, 14 from Louisiana, and one from Alabama complete the 1941 Centenary Freshman football roster.

In the practice game between the Frosh and the Gents, the Freshmen showed lots of promise and scored on the first team with a pass play, which either proves that the Gents have no pass defense, or the Frosh are capable and deceptive.

The Freshman schedule, which includes three home games, is as follows:

Sept. 25—La. Normal.....Here
Oct. 2—La. Tech.....Here
Oct. 16—Magnolia A&M.....Here
Oct. 24—N. E. Center (L.S.U.).....Monroe

The 1941 Frosh team has 27 members. They are:

Herman McAllister, Juell McDaniel, Marvin Lindsey, John Ed Nethery, Nick Elina, Hyland Nelson, Pete Papa, Rece B. Carraway.

Floyd E. Mancill, Gerald Ferschhoff, Ivy Curington, Reagan Albright, George Smith, Jerald R. Cureton, John A. Brocato.

L. D. Jackson, Jim May, Tomnett Byrd, Herman Styles, Bevel Hodges, Orville Crutchfield, Tommy Morris, A. L. French, Steve Warren, oJnes, Glover, Charles Daniels.

LIBRARY LAUDATIONS

Open Letter to Freshmen

"GOING TO COLLEGE???"
Dear "Frosh,"

A familiar quotation with addition is—

"You can lead a horse to water but you cannot make him drink."

You can send a boy to college but you cannot make him think."

The last line of the above is a false statement. Everybody thinks! So, new college kids, why not begin on the right foot?

Think not only of the present but of the future. Don't wait till the deadline or the day before to begin on term papers, themes and assigned reading. Our library is well equipped and anxious for you to use it. Begin early, think ahead and get your work done. The sooner the better. I am certainly being quotey but a stitch in time saves nine, I'm told, so don't wait! Pay a visit to YOUR library today.

"I love you—ouch."

"I love you—ouch."

And there you have the story of two porcupines necking.

Use Bosc Shaving Cream—no brush, no lather, no rub-in, no soap, no box, no nothin'—just blood.

... for ice cold drinks and a delicious "Cub-Burger",
Visit . . .

THE CUB

EAST KINGS HWY.
PHONE 7-7301

MRS. ALBERT FARNELL
W. P. MELTON

She: Dear, we've been going together for more than ten years. Don't you think we ought to get married?

He: Yes, you're right—but who will have us?

* * *

Said a rather piump young lady to a little boy: "Can you tell me if I can get through this gate to the park?"

Said the small boy: "I guess so. A load of hay just got through."

At a dance a student lost a pocketbook containing $12. He mounted the platform and announced:

"I've lost my pocketbook with $12 in it. To the man who finds it I will give $5.00."

Voice from floor: "I'll give $8.00."

VERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

ANALYSIS OF 1941 FOOTBALL SQUAD

Position	Lettermen	Squadmen	First Year
Ends	Claude Teel 6		Raymond Daugherty Maurice Odom James Robbins Jack Nash
Tackles	Claude 5 McCrocklin	James Heath	Jack Baldwin Elston Golson Sam Parks
Guards	John Allums 5 Chester Angel	Claude Whitehurst Bob Johnson	Harold Sparks W. A. Riza
Centers	Gene Baldwin 4		Dick Schad James Perry Jack Baldwin
Backs	Mayo Faith 11 Truman Johnson W. G. Lawless Bob Raley	Guy Feducia	Bill Trumble Harry Varner Richard Hinds David White Charles Birtman

FOR BETTER SCHOOL
WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC

MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.

Call 2-4639

226 Milam St.

NOTICE!

The Official Yoncopin (Yearbook)
Photographer will be on the Campus from

SEPT. 29 to OCT. 13

Commerce Bldg. Yoncopin Office

Keep These Dates Open

No Student's Registration is complete
until his picture has been made.

— No Money Required —

You paid for your picture when you paid your registration fee

GET SPRUCED
UP
FOR THOSE PICTURES

When you made your initial payment to the College you paid for your picture, but your registration is not complete until you have had your picture made.

SPECIAL PRICES BY

Milburne

PICTURES, ENLARGEMENTS
AND FOLDERS

COMMERCE BLDG.
(OVER DINING HALL)

SEPTEMBER 29 to OCTOBER 13
9:00 to 12:30 — 1:30 to 4:30

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

School has apparently started in earnest. Of course, as one of the faculty said, certain upperclassmen won't be around until some time in the future. They always have difficulty finding where classes are meeting.

We were sitting with the band for a while at the game Saturday night and we experienced something in the way of a hankering for that old mellow swing music as Why can't we have some more of the same? Maybe the team would appreciate it, too. The famous old teams used to thrive on it.

SCATTER SHOTS

What is Lil Turner rushing this year? Is it Chi Omega or Alpha Alpha? Well, thirst knows no season.

Here's a verse written by Edna St. Vincent Millay. Cyril Wilde wants it dedicated to all unfortunate victims of the twisted arm:

My candle burns at both ends;
It will not last the night;

But ah, my foes and oh, my friends—
It gives a lovely light.

INHUMAN INTEREST STORY

We came up behind Herbert Smith's car the other night and saw what appeared to be a girl wearing a turban. This person was seated in the middle of the front seat. When we went around to investigate, we were shocked to see that this person was a skull with the turban and a pair of lensless glasses on. It was fastened to the back of the front seat with a coat hanger. According to Smith's introduction the skull was not a girl at all, but a gentleman by the name of Uriah Cadwalder.

We asked where the boys had met Mr. Cadwalder and this is where the human or the inhuman interest came in:

It seems that Uriah had been the boys' best friend in happier days. Then, one night because of mechanical difficulty (the boys said) there was an automobile accident. Uriah was fatally hurt, but just before he passed away he requested that he be allowed to continue accompanying the boys on their little escapades even after death. They have been carrying him around in this manner ever since.

Now, we've been knowing Herbert Smith for a long, long time and we have the utmost faith in his veracity, but that Mr. Cadwalder looks suspiciously like a laboratory skull to ds.

If anyone who answers to the name of E. A. Poe is wrathfully turning over in his grave, he can stop now. I apologize.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

CAMPUS CAMERA

Well, another September has rolled around and more news has rolled into our hands. Pull up your chairs and get set for a little of the latest gossip.

IDLE CHATTER:

Can it be that Carolyn Williams has returned her affections to her old love, Al Richardson? We saw her looking for someone in chapel Monday and he is the only one we know of that could be the lucky fella. Don't they make a lovely couple, Phillips? Campus cutie Glenly Harmon seems to have quite a few fellas on the string for Tyler Pirtle to be leading the parade. There really is a lovely addition to our campus in the person of Margarite Haggard.

WHAT'S NEWS?

Is Judson Kelly serious about all this talk he is putting out about being the girls' dream man? Where did this rumor about Rob Williamson being pinned originate? Can someone be doing a little wishful dreamin'? What happened to that pin that Jimmy Thibodeaux used to display so proudly? You can wear it, kid; everyone is in on the know. Speaking of pins—What happened to Alice O'Kelly and Irl Harper's pin?

INTIMATE NOTES:

To Dorothy Tucker: Baron Johns thinks you are mighty cute. Congrats to Jimmy Harris and Carolyn Boyett. We hear you two have made up again. We hear that J. Brown has acquired that knife that Knight used last year. Be careful, fellas. Well, gang, that is all I have for the present, but I'll be around next Friday—so watch your step.

Here lies a man who saved his all,
For days when rain and snow should fall;
He knew no pleasures, shared no game

And died before the blizzard came.

JOAKS and STUPH

Dr. Overdyke: "All the girls in my class chew gum while they work."

Dr. Lowance: "You're fortunate. All the girls in my class just chew gum."

A policeman was questioning a man pinned under his car in an accident.

"Are you married?"
"No," was the answer, "this is the worst fix I was ever in."

In a western town a beautiful chorus girl sued a rich banker for breach of promise and was awarded $50,000. Shortly after leaving the court she was hit by an automobile and had eight ribs broken. The same judge awarded her eight dollars.

Moral: Never play with a woman's heart—kick her in the ribs.

Bridget had been discharged
On her way out the door she took a ten-dollar bill and threw it to the dog lying on the back porch.

Then the shocked mistress heard her exclaim: "Shure'n I niver forgot a friend. That's fer helpin' me wash the dishes."

When you tighten your belt it's a recession.

When you have no belt to tighten, it's a depression.

When you have no pants to hold, it's a panic.

A Chi Omega member approached a rather bewildered freshman boy. "We are having a raffle for a poor widow," she said. "Will you buy a ticket?"
"Nope," replied the freshman. "I'm afraid my mother wouldn't let me keep her if I won."

Professor (to mother of freshman): Your son has a great thirst for knowledge. Where does he get it?

Mother: He gets the knowledge from me and the thirst from his father.

"I had to change my seat several times at the movies."

"Gracious, did a man get fresh?"

"Well, finally."

"You look sweet enough to eat,"
He whispered soft and low.
"I am," she said quite hungrily,
"Where do you want to go?"

She was trying to work her way through college selling subscriptions to the Saturday Evening Post, but all the fellows wanted to take liberties.

Dudley Beene: See that bevy of quail in that underbrush?

Companion: Yes.

D. B.: Well, watch me shoot a hole clear through the red barn behind 'em.

Patronize Our Advertisers, Please!

CENTENARY

Always 10c-20c Phone 7-5971

Thursday-Friday, Sept. 25-26
Tyrone Power - Linda Darnell
"BLOOD AND SAND"

SAT. ONLY—SEPT. 27
—Double Feature—
"SCOTLAND YARD"
"SWEETHEART OF CAMPUS"

Sunday-Monday, Sept. 28-29
Wallace Beery-Virginia Weidler
"BARNACLE BILL"
News - Cartoon

DR. LOWANCE

(Continued from Page One)
eering Defense Training Program, "the largest physics department in the world."

Seventy-six of the 112 instructors of physics held doctor of philosophy degrees. Masters degrees were held by 34 others. The program included the heads of 11 college physics departments.

Among the universities and colleges represented on the faculty were Ohio State, Michigan State, Cornell, Carnegie Tech, Centenary, Syracuse, Lehigh, Hendrix, Montana, and Hunter.

The summer courses were offered under the sponsorship of the United States Office of Education.

Others of the college faculty also devoted the summer to research work. Mr. R. E. White was at the University of Texas doing research work in Spanish as was Mrs. Morwood. This fall they will offer courses in the new group of studies dealing with Pan-American relations and trade.

Miss Mary Wartens spent the

Patronize Our Advertisers, Please!

10c-20c Always Phone 7-7631

FRIDAY-SATURDAY, Sept. 26-27
THE BUMSTEAD FAMILY
"BLONDIE IN SOCIETY"
EDGAR KENNEDY COMEDY - Serial

SUN.-MON.-TUE., SEPT. 28-29-30
DON AMECHE - BETTY GRABLE
"COLOR OVER NEWS"
MOON CARTOON—MIAMI

WEDNESDAY-THURSDAY, OCT. 1-2
DENNIS MORGAN-WAYNE MORRIS
"BAD MEN OF MISSOURI"
COMEDY - CARTOON - SPORT

summer at the University of Texas and will continue her research work this fall leading to a doctor's degree.

Another at Texas studying last summer was Miss Mary Lou Ware of the home economics department.

You paid for your Yearbook and identification pictures when you paid your fees. Official photographs will be at the Yoncopin office from September 29 to October 13. Don't bring any money—your picture is already paid for.

VERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

COMING DANCE
IF YOU CAN'T DANCE
YOU'LL VIBRATE

Tuesday Nite, Oct. 7
Municipal Auditorium

MUSIC BY
"THE TRUMPET KING OF SWING"

Louis
Armstrong

And His Famous Swing
Orchestra

With His Entertainers of Stage, Screen and Radio Fame

ADVANCE TICKETS .85
AT THE DOOR $1.10
(Tax Included)

CRAIG WOOD winner of the National Open, the Masters' and the Metropolitan Open, three of the most coveted tournaments in golf. From beginner to master
it's Chesterfield.

Smokers everywhere like their
COOLER Milder BETTER TASTE

Chesterfield's mounting popularity is due to the Right Combination of the world's leading tobaccos... the best known cigarette tobaccos from Tobaccoland, U. S. A., blended with the best that come from abroad.

EVERYWHERE YOU GO They Satisfy

Copyright 1941, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

TODAY and SATURDAY

—Double Feature—

HUGH HERBERT in
"Hello, Sucker"

—AND—
ADOLPH MENJOU in
"Road Show"

SUNDAY

First Shreveport Showing
JANE FRAZEE—R. PAIGE in "San Antonio Rose"
WITH THE MERRYMACS

THESE WESTERN-TYPE
WINTHROPS LOOK SO REAL
THAT HE WANTS A JOB AS A COWBOY

The Cheyenne...authentically styled in true Western fashion with square toe, fancy stitching, side gor-
ing and leather pull strap.
Leather sole and tapered
Western heels. (A Winthrop Colonial.)

The original Westerner
...a moccasin-type blucher in mocha tan with hand-rubbed antique finish.
Simulated hand-tooled embossing. Heavy red rubber one piece sole and heel with "wasboard" grip.
(A Winthrop Colonial.)

ADVERTISED IN LIFE $6.50

WINTHROP COLONIALS
$5.50 to $6.50
others $7.50 and up

THE MASTER SHOE STORE

Phelps
Shoe Co. Ltd.
ESTABLISHED 1869
Shreveport, Louisiana

Get your Yoncopin pictures made this week. You've already paid for them so be sure and get them.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Get your Yoncopin pictures made this week. You've already paid for them so be sure and get them.

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, October 3, 1941.

Number 3

Four Varsity Cheerleaders Elected For Year Frosh Eagerly Await Their Public Appearance

Annual Freshmen Frolic Tomorrow Night at Football Game With Normal

Tomorrow night at the Normal game one of the highlights in the college careers of the Centenary frosh will take place. This is the time when they will make their first public appearance as the principal actors in the annual freshmen frolic between the halves. This is always an event looked forward to by the student body, as well as the people of the city themselves . . . to say nothing of the freshmen.

This annual scramble on the part of the freshmen has become quite a tradition at the college. Plans are laid to see to it that all the first-year students have an opportunity to take part in the activities. The upper classmen would hate very much for any freshman to have to miss this event, so if any freshman does not have his or her name checked off the list which will be kept just inside the entrance to the east stands, the committee on freshmen will investigate to see why the unfortunate individual was unable to attend. They realize that all the freshmen are anxious to take part, and so will see to it that every one of them is in his proper seat in the grandstand tomorrow night.

Due to the importance of the occasion it has become customary for the frosh to garb themselves in appropriate ceremonial regalia. The type of costume for the boys has been handed down from class to class for many years and gradually has developed into the elaborate robes of last year. This year shows promise of providing even more spectacular apparel than last year. The boys are expected to provide themselves with the loudest

(Continued on Page Four)

10 NYA Scholarships At College Are Open

Enrolling of students, which began September 17, has continued each day, according to Dr. Cline, and will continue until October 6, final date of registration or for changing courses.

Dr. Cline also announced that several NYA places are still available for students who desire to earn a considerable part of their tuition charges. More than 100 Centenary students receive employment at the college and about 10 places are still available.

Student employment at Centenary is of such a nature as to permit each student to work and carry his college course in a satisfactory manner.

Huge Creighton Rally Precedes Gent Game

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 3.—Creighton's impressive second-half magic which defeated Centenary 32-20 is attributed to the all-Omaha rally staged two nights before the game. Presiding was William M. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific Railroad company, whose inspiring pep speech was cheered by 4,000 alumni, students, and friends of Creighton.

Centenary College and Creighton University are slated to play in Shreveport, La., next year, and plans are in the making to hold the game as an attraction at the Louisiana State Fair.

Centenary's Gents Visit Boys' Town On Nebraska Trip

All of us have seen the picture "Boys' Town" or have at least heard of it. This remarkable community, for it is just that, was visited by the Centenary Gentlemen on their trip to Omaha, Nebraska, last week. From all accounts this visit was the highlight of their absence from the campus.

Boys' Town is located about 10 miles from Omaha. When the Gentlemen arrived there at about 12 o'clock Friday, they were met by a policeman who served as an escort and showed them the outstanding points of interest. Among the buildings, those most interesting to the boys were the workshops, school buildings, and the stadium. As the guide showed the boys around, he explained the founding and motive of Boys' Town.

It was learned that a governing body of boys headed by one of their own number, known as the mayor, ruled the community, and that the upkeep is maintained purely by donations. At the present time the mayor is a boy from Honolulu.

The crowning event of the day was the actual meeting of Father Flanagan, founder of the home, by the boys from Shreveport. After a short talk with Father Flanagan, the never-to-be-forgotten trip was over.

124 STUDENTS BECOME GREEK NEOPHYTES IN SIX CHAPTERS

Formal Pledging Ceremonies Held Friday, Monday Nights

The three national sororities announced their list of pledges following Friday night pledging at the chapter lodges. Twenty-three girls were pledged by Chi Omega, 17 by Zeta Tau Alpha, and 15 by Alpha Xi Delta.

Names of the pledges follow:
CHI OMEGA: Betty Blaxton, Nan Elizabeth Banks, Betty Jane Tremaine, Claire Tinnin, Carolyn Clay, Mary Earle Texada, Jane Bartlett, Carolyn Coburn, Margaret Eubanks, Virginia Friddle, Margaret Owens, Carolyn Rigby, Margaret Moffit, Ella Mae McKee, Claude Blackburn, Betty Woffard, Mildred Davenport, Elizabeth Matthews, Gladys Williams, Eleanor Brown, Mary Conner Reidenback, Phyllis Terry, and Altha Mix.

ZETA TAU ALPHA: Mary Murrell, Myrtle Canon, Dorothy Graham, Shirley Peyton, Martha Lewis, Lucille Webb, Martha Stevens, Dorothy Viosca, Eleanor Jenkins, Virginia Kilpatrick, Mickey McCutchen, Justine Holmes, Mary Smith New, Jackie Rogers, Rose Orme, Frances Spangler, and Gloria Gene Boyce.

ALPHA XI DELTA: Lorraine Snell, Edith Sandifer, Rose Marie Hicks, Phyllis Haigler, Helen Woods, Betty Temple, Dorothy Farquhar, Helen Jennings, Marjorie Stephenson, Anna Belle Smith, Helen Allen, Jean Belden, Patricia Harper, Billie Lovelady, and Ladell Frazier.

Of the 90,000 officers in the United States army, fewer than 7,000 are Wstt Pointers.

CHEERLEADERS, 1941-42

Pictured above are Susie Mulkey, Buddy Kinnebrew, Joana Glassell, and Dudley Beene, who have been elected by the students to lead yells for the coming year.

Photo courtesy SHREVEPORT JOURNAL

CLASS OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED ON OCTOBER 13

The annual class officers elections for the senior, junior, and sophomore classes will be held Monday, October 13, at chapel hour in the Arts building. Each class will be assigned to a room in the building in which they will have a meeting to determine their officers for the forthcoming school year. The president of last year's class will be the presiding officer at the meeting.

College Asks Social Activities Calendar From Organizations

The Faculty Committee on Fraternity and Sorority Ruling has requested the various organizations on the campus to submit their tentative dates for the year's social events. This request was made by the committee in order that the social events might not conflict with other Centenary college activities, and that arrangements might be made with Dr. Lowance and the social committees of each organization as to the time, place, chaperones, etc., of each affair.

Announcement will be made by the Faculty Committee through the paper as to the dates arranged, and the presidents will receive notice as to acceptance of the submitted dates of his or her organization.

MAROON JACKETS "CREAM OF CROP" AT THIS COLLEGE

To be selected a "Maroon Jacket" at Centenary College is to be definitely put on the list of "Who's Who" and "What's What," for the Maroon Jackets are the official hostesses of the college and the membership of the organization includes the names of Centenary's most beautiful, most popular

(Continued on Page Four)

Freshmen, Notice!

Tomorrow night at the Normal football game the following things are expected of you:

1. Be at the game by eight o'clock.
2. Have your name checked off the list which will be just inside the east side gate.
3. Boys must wear the loud-est pajamas available.
4. Girls must wear gingham dresses with their hair in pig-tails.
5. All must have a large all-day sucker.
6. All must sit in the special freshmen section next to the band.
7. Wear old shoes.
8. Obey instructions of the cheerleaders.

TO TAKE CHARGE TODAY AT HUGE GENT 'PEP' RALLY

Dudley Beene Head Cheerleader; With Kinnebrew, Mulkey, and Glassell

After a much publicised campaign, the shouting being over and the dust settled, the four candidates for cheerleaders who emerged victorious are Dudley Beene, Buddy Kinnebrew, Susie Mulkey, and Joana Glassell.

Dudley Beene will serve as head cheerleader for the year by virtue of his having received more votes than any of the others; his count was 200 votes. Buddy was second highest with 172 votes. Susie Mulkey, a veteran cheerleader from her high school days, led the girls section with 182 votes; Joana Glassell received 152. These four will lead the huzzahs and the bedlam for the entire sports season.

These are a fresh crop of cheerleaders since none of the old-timers placed their names on the ballots in this election. Susie has had a little experience in the art of raising roars from the crowd and will be ready to go tomorrow night. The work of the four will be under the direction of Dudley Beene since he has been named the head cheerleader.

One of the first duties of the new leaders will be to supervise the annual freshman affair at the half of the Centenary-Normal football game tomorrow night. They have already called a pep meeting to be held today at the SUB at 10:00. All students are urged to come out for the pep meeting and show the Gentlemen that we are

(Continued on Page Four)

Dormitory Elects Officers for Year

The first meeting of the Dormitory Council for the new year met Tuesday, September 31, at which time Mrs. A. R. Campbell read the dormitory rules to the assembly. The election of officers immediately followed.

Sarah Menefee was named president, Ann Robinson vice-president, Pauline Lamb secretary and George Ella Till treasurer. The class representatives for the Council are Zilla Lou Cory, Senior; Jimmie Brown, Junior, and Ann Gano, Sophomore. The Freshman representative is to be elected later.

This Collegiate World (By Associated Collegiate Press)

Maybe there is something to thank Adolf H. and his playmates for, after all. This fall, for the first time since John W. (Bet a Million) Gates founded the school in 1909, Port Arthur (Texas) College is permitting co-eds to attend classes bare-legged.

Because of government-confiscated silk supplies, college authorities decided to rescind the traditional ruling that campus legs must be covered.

Incidentally, co-eds in the "Shed Silk for Uncle Sam" club at the University of Minnesota, believe theirs was the first of its kind to be organized. Purpose of the club is to convince campus women that the army needs parachutes worse than girls need silk stockings.

The SSUC's nine "charter martyrs" have pledged themselves to "get along with bare legs and, if necessary, go barefooted in the interests of defense."

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

1936 Member 1937
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributors of
Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor
Associate Editor—Ann Burnette
Sports Editor—Burl Sullivan
FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager
Reporters: Ellen Eastham
Leroy Scott
Arthur Shuey
Barbara Harris
Mabel Boddie
Jack Keenan
Hutch Phillips
Jake Cullick
Dudley Beene
J. L. Solomon
Jean Clark
Mary Foster Peyton

The Case for Student Deferment (Associated Collegiate Press)

The cause of the draft-eligible college student is the subject of a public announcement by the presidents of Macalester and St. Thomas Colleges, and Hamline University, all in St. Paul.

Addressing the general public and local draft boards, Dr. Charles J. Turck of Macalester, the Rev. James Moynihan of St. Thomas, and Dr. Charles Nelson Pace of Hamline ask that college students be given every deferment consideration by selective service boards.

Their joint statement follows in part:

"The national committee of education and defense secured from the national headquarters of the selective service system an amendment, with the full effect of law, providing for the postment of induction for any person for whom in the judgment of the local board immediate induction would create an unusual individual hardship.

"While this amendment is stated in general terms, it provides the basis for preventing the interruption of a student's education during a semester or college year.

"It has been officially interpreted to include as a cause of such hardship . . . 'to complete a course of training or instruction.'

"President Roosevelt recently said: 'America will always need men and women with college training. Government and industry alike need skilled technicians today . . .'

"We hope selective service boards will be willing to grant students the opportunity of completing the semester's work or the year's work on which they have embarked.

"These students are not claiming exemption from selective service but merely a postponement of a few months.

"In calling this matter to the attention of the public and local boards, we believe we are acting for the best interests of the country and in pursuance of a request addressed to us by Dr. Francis J. Brown of the sub-committee on military affairs of the national committee on education and defense."

* * *

The joint statement elicited a prompt "no" answer from Brig. Gen. J. E. Nelson, Minnesota selective service director, who said that blanket deferment of college students is not possible under the selective service law.

"Deferments can be granted only for students in those fields in which there is a recognized shortage, such as medicine.

"However, individual draft boards will give every consideration for a stay of induction to permit individual students to complete a quarter or a semester of school work."

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Well, we realize that the "ladies and gentlemen" of the college really prefer the gossip columns, so it looks as tho' Graham is going to have to run all bulletins on the yearbook in this column. Honestly, the response to the picture taking was terrific. Ask Milburne.

The Army is leaving town, and many a heart is broken. But that isn't all. We understand that quite a few Centenarians will desert this fine campus, and certain other sections beginning with a C, for the plains of Texas this week-end. Yep, Thibodeaux is going to see Hearne, tho', quote, "I don't know why, but I am." And, Carolyn Williams is taking off to see "Beardsy." Humm, Texas is where White came from, but, believe it or not, them days is gone forever. And Mink Gibbs is transporting his little coupe, which he bought because Susie likes little cars, and his little gal-friend, the lady just mentioned, to see L.S.U. whipped by Texas. My, my! That's going to be some week-end.

Who is this we've seen riding about in Pearl Tippet's car? Hmm, tell all, Pearl, or we'll make something out of it. Frankly, this column is as desperate as the paper, we're out for news. So, if you see the building burning down, remember the Editor and his Associate were trying to make a front page story. (P. S.: The building needs to be destroyed, anyway.)

That cute little blonde sitting on

CENTENARY HAS INTERESTING 116-YEAR HISTORY

The College of Louisiana was founded at the little town of Jackson, La., on Monday, May 2, 1825. In 1839, the Methodists of America, in connection with the Centenary celebration of the founding of Methodism, raised a sum of money to further religious education; and the Methodist Church founded at Brandon, Miss., a college called "Centenary College." In 1845 the property of the College of Louisiana was sold to Judge Edward McGehee and others, and by them donated to the joint Methodist Conference of Louisiana and Mississippi. The conference then moved Centenary College to Jackson, La., thus combining the two schools into one under the name of "Centenary College of Louisiana." A charter was granted and they were empowered to award the regular degrees then being conferred by the leading colleges of the United States.

In its new home at Jackson, La., Centenary entered upon a brilliant career of expansion and service. In 1854, at a cost of $60,000 a large auditorium of Greek style of architecture was erected. This building had a seating capacity of three thousand, besides ample space for library, society halls, offices, and classrooms.

The college became well known throughout the South; nearly every family of prominence in Louisiana, as well as the neighboring states, was represented in its halls. Jefferson Davis and Judah P. Benjamin, both later outstanding figures in the Confederacy, were once students there.

With the outbreak of the civil war the entire enrollment joined the army and during this time the school was closed. With the cessation of hostilities the school reopened and through the untiring work of Bishop Keener remained in operation through the days of reconstruction. For 40 years while he was a trustee, he carried on the work of Centenary College.

In 1906 the first plans for the removal of the college to its present site were drawn up. In 1908 the removal was effected and the Gladstone Realty Company presented to the Conference the forty acres that are now occupied by the college. In its new location the college has overcome many difficulties. All the men leading the institution have done an excellent work.

Under the leadership of Dr. Sexton (1921-1932) the college entered a period of expansion. He began at once a campaign for endowment, buildings, and general the sidelines is none other than Dorothy Viosca, and the peppy little gal is "Clay-Baby." Oh, stealing Kay-Baby Canon's stuff! Quite a lot of the freshmen, but the sweats are ever the same. How many times, and how many different young ladies, have we seen that red-headed Bruce Williams corner? He's almost as bad as the third Shuey. (We regret that we dare not mention the other two.) Ace-high in lots of people's opinions is one, Cecil Bland.

Getting around is Hodges, Frosh football player. Just hope he is as fast on the field.

Reagan is back. My, my. Sanford is still running loose, but Boyett is very much the favorite, and favored, by Jimmy Harris.

Lots of names left. Oh, yes, in case you're wondering why these columns mention the same people, it so happens that the rest of you guys and gals are interested in other than having your names mentioned and besides they're the ones that always do the same old thing. Don't I sound like H. W.? Ha, he's in the Army now!

Good-bye, for now. Next week, the column will be written by someone else, that is if you think you can dig up any news. Or should I say, make the dirt presentable?

"That girl is really spoiled, isn't she?"

"No, that's just the perfume she uses."

LIBRARY LAUDATIONS

DEMOCRACY IN THE LIBRARY

First in America's mind today is Democracy. Democracy in school, church, town, country and world. Our library is no exception. There you will find freedom of opinion and thought.

In a sense citizenship is one of the foremost pillars in democracy. To make it one of the foremost in our library is a goal to be striven toward by the Centenary student body. The library, students, belongs to you. Treat it as your own personal property. The fella next to you wants to study—give him a chance free from your noise, or move over so he'll have room for his books. Don't leave debris as sign of your late occupation—it is just as easy to put waste into the conveniently located baskets.

It is our privilege as members of Centenary College to voice our opinions freely. The librarian and staff welcomes criticisms as well as praise. We are open to all suggestions for improvement.

The above, fellow students, is Democracy. Let's make it first in OUR library!

NITE SCHOOL NOTES

By T. L. HUGHES

"We are going to have one of the best years in our history," said C. R. McKnight, director of the Centenary College Night School, yesterday, as he announced a near-record enrollment of 250 students, among them 50 soldiers from Barksdale Field.

A new policy of granting certificates to students completing 60 semester hours in Secretarial Training, General Business, or Accounting is being inaugurated this year. Centenary is one of the few major colleges in the country to adapt this policy.

"We really expect great results with the awarding of these certificates," said Mr. McKnight. He continued:

"It will give the students something to shoot at. Formerly we found a good many of them simply took courses haphazardly, but now their courses will have to be carefully chosen to meet the requirements of the certificates. Another thing, it will enable men and women who hold jobs during the day to have something tangible to show their employers."

Of the soldiers enrolled from Barksdale most of them are taking courses in mathematics and aeronautics. A few are securing the necessary few credits to get their degrees, and a few who already have degrees are simply brushing up a bit.

The school is open five nights a week, from 6:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

expansion. The development of Centenary College during the 11 years of his administration was so phenomenal as to secure recognition by, and membership in, the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Among the outstanding accomplishments of Dr. Sexton's administration were the building of a substantial endowment by securing large gifts and by conducting two successful financial campaigns, the erection of two excellent brick buildings, the selection of a highly trained and experienced faculty, and the establishment of a firm foundation for future progress.

In June, 1932, Dr. Sexton submitted his resignation, which was accepted in August of the same year. Since that time, an open-air theater has been built, the entire indebtedness of the college has been liquidated, a magnificent and thoroughly equipped gymnasium, the gift of W. A. Haynes, has been constructed, a student union building has been built, and a new science building has replaced Jackson Hall.

FORECAST

The athletic teams representing Centenary are known as the Gentlemen. In all the years of competition, very few times has the college had reason to regret this choice of a name. Moreover, the students themselves have always been worthy of such a title. But recently, in fact this very week, certain incidents have taken place which would lead one to think that there is at least one member of our student body not worthy of such an appellation.

Such a conclusion is the only logical one, in view of the incident following the defeat of the Gentlemen by Creighton last Saturday. It seems that someone, possibly a member of the student body, saw fit to set himself up as a judge and in so doing found it necessary to write several sarcastic letters to members of the football team.

Now, we realize that this person in question could have done far better than any of the players in whose playing he sees so many faults. There is no doubt in any of our minds but that the coach positively refuses his repeated requests to play a position, since to permit him to play might cause embarrassment to several of the players who are so far inferior to the capabilities of this potential All-American.

All of us must realize that all through the college career of this person he has always been ready to do his share in everything which might better his school and bring honor to it. Since he has done so much for the good and glory of the school, naturally he is thoroughly qualified to send anonymous notes criticizing so caustically the sincere endeavors of the boys on our team. So we won't even stop to question the fact as to whether he had any right to believe that his miserable opinion was desirable or would in any way help anybody to iron out difficulties, assuming of course that such a high type character as this one which would send cutting-sarcastic anonymous notes to boys playing their best would intend that his criticism be constructive.

Of course the boys of the football team realize that such expressions of sentiment do not represent the feelings of the students as

Ministerial Club

The Ministerial Club held their first meeting of the current school year, Friday, September 19, in Dean Smith's room.

The meeting was called to order with a prayer by Stanley Kirkland, President of the club. Plans were talked of for the work of the club for the ensuing year.

Each Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the Ministerial Club will hold a Youth Fellowship service. The program will be very short and worshipful. You are cordially invited to attend.

Watch this space for future religious activities. The Conglomerate has graciously given us this space for each week and we hope to be of some benefit to the readers through this channel.

a whole, but rather those of a fortunately very small minority of one person. Never in the long history of the college has it been the custom for students of Centenary deliberately to make hurting and cruel remarks about a fellow student regarding football, social life or any other activity connected with the school in any way. Nor have they ever failed to be behind their football team, win or lose.

Everyone is fully aware of the fact that Centenary has experienced a couple of poor seasons on the gridiron; the students know it and the football players know it. But anybody can back a winner. It is the losing that brings out the truth as to whether a school is really worth the trouble of trying to win games for. The players have evidently decided that they want Centenary back in the win column because they are still out there fighting to bring in victories. They are the ones who feel it most when a game goes the wrong way. Up in a grandstand it is easy to decide that we want to win this one; but down there on the field it's pretty rough when the game ends and the score is the wrong way. If the team can still go out there and play its best, as they are going to do Saturday night, it is up to us to be out there cheering on that team of Centenary Gentlemen like Centenary Gentlemen.

Notice

THIS COMING WEEK

IS POSITIVELY THE LAST FOR YONCOPIN PICTURES!

YOUR REGISTRATION IS NOT COMPLETE UNTIL YOUR PICTURE IS MADE!

COMMERCE BLDG.

9 to 12:30 — 1:30 to 4:30

Seniors 50c extra for picture other than in a cap and gown

BLUEJAYS DOWN GENTS BY 32 - 20 AT OMAHA, NEB.

The defeated Gentlemen returned home early Sunday after a 1700-mile trip to meet the Blue Jays of Creighton. In Omaha the squad was greeted by ten thousand spectators and welcomed by a great display of fireworks prior to the game.

The Gentlemen, who were leading 7-to-0 at the half, tired due to a lack of reserves, faltered and fell before a second-half attack of the Blue Jays, 32 to 20.

A ground attack, which failed completely against Millsaps, seemed to have been clicking and proved successful. This was probably due to an improvement of blocking and sterling defense work before the tiring of the Gent gridsters.

Eighteen men performed during the game and three of the Gents, Golson, Allums and White, played sixty-minute ball. It was the second game in which Elston Golson has been in the line-up the entire game.

It was a real show for the spectators, who were on their feet during practically the entire game. After the game they rushed onto the field and complimented the boys on their fight and wide open brand of football.

Although the Gents lost the game their second appearance was so greatly superior to their first that we are hoping to defeat the Normal Demons Saturday night. A satisfactory improvement in blocking has the boys on edge for the coming tilt and should go a great distance in keeping the morale up.

Truman "Chief" Johnson scored two of the touchdowns and Charles Birtman ran four yards around end for another. Chief climaxed a 22-yard drive by crashing over from the one-yard line, scoring the first touchdown of the game. At the beginning of the second half came the play of the game. Johnson took the kick-off on his six, wedged behind a shield of blockers and ran 94 yards for a thrilling touchdown scamper.

Creighton, outplayed until the half, came back like a new team and scored in five plays on a 65-yard drive featuring the prowess of Dennee and Purto. Purto proved to be a hard man to stop and scored four touchdowns, two of which were called back because of penalties. In the last few minutes of play he started from his 39 on a quick opening thrust, cut back and went 61 yards to the final stripe.

HEAD COACH JAKE HANNA

Authorities of nine New England colleges, including Harvard, have asked students not to bring automobiles to college this fall as a gasoline conservation measure.

Brought back to his alma mater to snap Centenary College football out of the doldrums, Head Coach Jake Hanna established his system with the gridsters and impressed the fans with his ability in his first season as athletic director and head coach.

Replacing Curtis Parker in 1940, Hanna found practically no material to work with, yet the Gents came through a tough 10-game schedule with three victories. Three other games were lost on bad breaks and Centenary football fans were well pleased with Hanna's wide-open style of play and fighting spirit.

Hanna gained nation-wide attention in his playing days at Centenary. In his first season as a triple-threat back on Homer Norton's 1927 eleven, the Gents went through a 10-game schedule undefeated and untied. The Gents defeated such southwest greats as S. M. U., Rice, Baylor, and Texas Christian University that year and Hanna was a spark plug in their attack.

After graduation from Centenary, Hanna coached the Franklin high school team for a year and then moved over to Corsicana, Texas, as backfield coach. Corsicana went to the quarter-finals of the Texas High School football championship race in 1931 and won the state title in 1932. After a spell at Leesville, Louisiana, high school in 1933, Hanna married Miss Mary Atkins of Leesville and moved to Gladewater, Texas, high school as assistant coach. As Gladewater's head coach in 1935, Hanna put out an undefeated, untied eleven. In 1936, Hanna's Gladewater eleven lost only one out of ten games.

When Hanna took over the Centenary reins in the spring of 1940, he displayed confidence in himself and a trait to take chances by immediately changing the Gents' style of play from a short punt to a single and double wing, run from an unbalanced line. He emphasized deception and concentrated on his sophomores learning to handle the ball.

GENTS FACE STRONG NORMAL TEAM HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

The Centenary Gentlemen will meet the Normal Demons in the local stadium Saturday night at 8:15. This will be the thirteenth tussle between the two teams. Centenary holds the edge in past records with eight wins, three losses and one tie. The Demons have not been beaten by the locals since 1938. They defeated the Gents 15 to 0 in 1939, and 7 to 0 by virtue of a trick play in the waning minutes of last year's contest.

Bridge Player in the Sub: "My little sister is the living image of me."

Second Bridge Player: "What do you care, so long as she's healthy?"

* * *

Shuey: "I've got the worst dog you ever say. Yesterday he tore up my best pair of shoes."

Friend: "He ought to be punished."

Shuey: "I did punish him. I went straight to the kennel and drank his milk."

* * *

Suitor: Sir, I wish to marry your daughter.

Father: Well, first I want to know something about your financial position.

Suitor: I have enough to buy and furnish a house, sir.

Father: Good! Sit down; I think I can show you a better investment for your money.

* * *

"I don't like your heart action," said the doctor. "You've had some trouble with Angina Pectoris."

Scott: "You're right, Doc, only that ain't her name."

* * *

Voice from crowded grandstand: "Take your hand off my knee. No, not you . . . YOU!"

* * *

"I'm so proud of my boys," said a happy mother. "Not one of them has ever been arrested except for speeding and on liquor charges."

The Demons began the season with a bang and defeated the Delta State Teachers, 44 to 0. They were idle last week-end and were apparently resting up for what they term the most important game of the season, against Centenary.

Coach Hanna, attempting to solve the fumbling situation, and to build up reserve strength, has jockeyed the line-up and restored Jack Baldwin to his old position at the center post.

James Perry, sophomore center, has been converted to guard and will probably see action Saturday night. Harry Varner, highly touted fullback, who has been absent from the line-up due to an injury has been working out in practice and will alternate with Chief Johnson on the wingback.

Him: We certainly had a fine time last night for ten cents.

Her: I'll say. I wonder how little brother spent it.

Proud Father: Let me tell you something, boy. The man that gets my daughter will get a prize.

Candidate: May I see it, sir?

When asked to use the words "effervescent" and "fiddlestick" in a sentence, Henry said, "Effervescent enough cover on the bed your fiddlestick out."

REX PRICES 10¢-20¢

10c-20c Always Phone 7-7631

FRIDAY-SATURDAY, OCT. 3-4
CESER ROMERO - CAROLE LANDIS
"DANCE HALL"
EYES OF THE NAVY - SERIAL

SUN.-MON.-TUE. OCT. 5-6-7
Barbara STANWYCK - Gary COOPER
"MEET JOHN DOE"
CARTOON - NEWS

WEDNESDAY-THURSDAY, OCT. 8-9
RONALD COLMAN - ANNA LEE
"LIFE WITH CAROLINE"
NEWS - COMEDY

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

Due to the fact that the Centenary Gentlemen played in Omaha last Friday we were unable to choose a Gentleman of the Week. We don't think it would have been fair to select some one player and bestow honors on him when we were not present to view the "Fait Accompli."

The Frosh, who were defeated 20-0 by the Normal Imps, have been chosen for commemoration in this issue. Although the Junior Gents lost, we think in judging them that, if all is considered, they did remarkably well.

Considering the fact that they lost their coach at the beginning of training season, and since then have had none that could devote all of his time coaching them, Coach Elmer Smith, acting freshman coach, did a nice job of whipping them into condition. Coach Smith aside from his duties with the Frosh divides his time coaching the Varsity and scouting the teams to be played.

The Freshmen have had no chance to practice an offensive of their own. Up till now they have spent all their time scrimmaging with the Varsity, using the offensive plays of the next opponent.

This week we would like to mention an incident which is certainly not helping the moral of the team. Some impostor, posing as a Centenary Gentleman, had enough ego to mail a letter to one of the players inviting him to go home so Centenary could win some ball games. Obviously such a person has nothing to do or spends all his time doing nothing.

You cannot expect the Gents to win by backing them in such a manner. So as a parting gesture we say to him who vainly tried, if you are not going to run with us, don't try to tell us how to run.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

For more than just a Haircut
we recommend

CENTENARY
BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.

L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

ARKANSAS
LOUISIANA
GAS
COMPANY

FOR BETTER SCHOOL
WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC

MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

Concert and Dance by
"THE TRUMPET KING OF SWING"

LOUIS
ARMSTRONG

And His Famous Swing Orchestra

With entertainers of Stage, Screen and Radio fame.
Four solid hours of dance, music and fun.

Tuesday Nite, October 7
Municipal Auditorium, 9 P.M. 'til

Advance Ticket .85—At Door $1.10, Tax Included
Tickets on sale now at: Stopmoor, Walgreen,
M. Levy, Nathan's, Glenwood Theatre,
Auditorium

—If you can't dance you'll vibrate—

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

Here it is round three and, according to our knowledge, no one has thrown in the towel yet. Such is to be expected, but some of the boys and girls may be a little groggy even at this early hour. In fact, we saw certain gentlemen in a rather unhappy state of wooze Tuesday morning. Let's see, that must have been the morning after fraternity pledging. Was it school work or the strenuous pledging activities that left them so?

SCATTER SHOTS

We hear that Campus "Don Quixote" Flournoy indulged in a bit of windmill baiting the other night. It was a tough fight, but Flournoy got it, or rather won it in the end—this amidst the cheers of his fellow knights. The age of chivalry is not dead.

Those clubby dinners at the old "Chi Upsilon Beta" house are fast becoming a tradition. We know some co-eds and eds who might gain weight on that wholesome diet. The apple pie has definite glamour.

Cleon "Blondie" Worley, a former Centenary student, who succeeded Ollie Day as proprietor of the Day Social Service Station, has turned at least some of his attention to real estate. He recently acquired a lot on Wallace Lake and now invites everyone out to inspect the fauna, but says, "Don't get on the flora."

Word comes of a rather humorous incident. A carload of intoxicated individuals turned over in front of a little "tonk" on the Mooringsport road the other night. The car came to rest on its top. The door had come open and the driver lay outside. As a waitress ran breathlessly out to investigate, the driver asked in the clearest, calmest of voices, "Would you bring me a Roi Tan, please?"

Some master of wet wit says that "Nip" Shuey sells gas all night and blows it all day. Now, who would say a thing like that?

CYNICAL

Dorothy Parker says—
By the time you say you're his,
shivering and sighing,
And he vows his passion is infinite, undying;
Lady, make a note of this:
One of you is lying.

PHILOSOPHICAL

God gave us two ends; one to sit on and the other to think with. A man's success depends on which end he uses most. It is a case of "heads you win, tails you lose."

Added emphasis on home economics training is expected to boost enrollment of women students at the University of California College of Agriculture.

CHEERLEADERS

(Continued from Page One)
backing them to send those Normal Demons back home at the short end of the score.

Others running also in the cheerleader race were Edgar Burkes, who received 99 votes; Burl Sullivan with 93, and Dick Norton with 88. The other girls in the race included Bette Smith with 134 votes, Martha Hart with 128, and Virginia Breithaupt with 53.

MAROON JACKETS

(Continued from Page One)
lar and most intelligent young ladies.

Organized seven years ago, the Jackets have become a most colorful and picturesque part of Centenary college life. The membership is limited to three girls from each sorority, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega and Zeta Tau Alpha, and three non-sorority girls, and a girl must be selected unanimously by the members before she is admitted. There is also an alternate for each group.

The duties of the Maroon Jackets are wide and diversified. They serve as guides and hostesses to the many distinguished persons who visit the campus throughout the year. They play a very prominent part on the campus during football season. For all football parades the girls appear in their full regalia of maroon coats, white skirts and caps and take the place of honor atop the city's red fire truck, making a gay and lively picture as the band and the students parade the streets of the city. They take part in all football demonstrations on the field during the halves of the games.

They accompany the football team on special out-of-town trips and are always feted and given great attention and notice in every city which they visit because of their attractive costumes and their graciousness.

To become a Maroon Jacket is next to the highest popular position that a Centenary girl can attain, being second only to election as co-ed vice-president of the student body.

Members of the Maroon Jackets for the coming year are Ann Burnette, Peg Hawkins, Elise Montgomery, Mary Alice Shores, Anne Robinson, Rob Williamson, LaRue Powell, Peg Williams, Helen Dwire, Biddie Boddie, Lou Dell Liston, and Dorothy Durr.

The alternates are Azalie Webb, Jimmy Thibodeaux, Kathryn Moreneaux, and Kathryn Hooper.

"You must feel awful about your best friend running off with your girl."
"Yes, I'll sure miss him."

CENTENARY

Always 10c-20c Phone 7-5971

THURSDAY-FRIDAY, OCT. 2-3
BOB HOPE - DOROTHY LAMOUR
"CAUGHT IN THE DRAFT"
NEWS - CARTOON

SATURDAY ONLY, OCT. 4
—DOUBLE FEATURES—
"A VERY YOUNG LADY"
"BIG BOSS"

SUNDAY-MONDAY, OCT. 5-6
JEFFREY LYNN - KAREN VERNE
"UNDERGROUND"
COMEDY - NEWS

Notice to Students

To complete your registration you must comply with these requirements of the college:

1. Have your picture made for our records and the Yearbook.
2. Turn in your personal history card.
3. Make initial payment on your tuition.

REGISTRAR

Yearbook official photographer will be on the campus from September 29 through October 13.

FROSH AWAITS

(Continued from Page One)
and most conspicuous pajamas they can possibly find.

The raiment of the fair frosh, according to local tradition, consists of gingham dresses and cotton stockings. In addition to this, however, they are privileged, or to use the vernacular, required, to arrange their hair in beautiful pig tails, which will further enhance the captivating appearance given them by the lovely gingham dresses in which they must clothe themselves.

In addition to these handsome vestments, the freshmen must equip themselves with the largest all-day sucker they can find. All of them will be expected to be partaking of such an object upon entering the east gate to be checked off the list.

As is customary the frosh must sit together tomorrow night. A special section will be available for them right next to the band and all will take their places here, in spite of any previous commitments in the form of dates or anything remotely resembling such.

The festivities at half time will be under the complete control and supervision of the four cheerleaders. Freshmen will receive their instructions from them and are expected to follow them implicitly.

As a word of precaution to the freshmen, it might be advisable to wear old shoes to the football game. All freshmen should be in their places and have their names checked off the list by 8 o'clock.

"If you refuse me, I'll die," he swore. She refused him. Sixty years later he died. Love is so sad.

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....7-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Cenhomec Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawlers, President.....7-1929
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Fennell, President.....7-6043
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 7-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cenecoc (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891
(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

E. W. Harris, the poet, sent his masterpiece to a publisher. "Let me know at once whether you can use it," he wrote, "as I have other irons in the fire."

In a few days the answer came, back from the publisher: "Remove irons, insert poem."

I'm done with all dames
They cheat and they lie;
They pray on us males
To the day that we die;
They tease and torment us
And drive us to sin—
Say! Look at that blond
That just came in!

KEEP YOUR EYE ON THIS SPACE FOR THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF OUR GALA OPEN HOUSE

Broadmoor Floral Shop

"Flowers for All Occasions" Sara Tully
3903 Youree

BE PATRIOTIC!

Do not let the new 10% Defense Tax cut down your buying power! Your "Uncle Sam" needs your money, and you can do your part by buying. Since our merchandise has been priced far below our competitors, you can still buy here, pay the Defense Tax and effect a saving on other competitor's prices.

LEONARD'S
320-322 Ward Bldg.
Phone 2-5088

YOU'LL BE EASY GOING AND MAKE A GOOD SHOWING IN WINTHROPS

You've a real treat in store for you if you've never worn Winthrop LEISURE shoes. You'll find a happy combination of easy going comfort and rugged good looks. It's a combination that gets the call on campuses from coast to coast.

$6.50

Other
Winthrop
Styles

$5 to $8.95

THE MASTER SHOE STORE

Phelps
Shoe Co. Ltd.
ESTABLISHED 1869

Shreveport, Louisiana

Lend me a Minute and I'll give you back 15 seconds

Says PAUL DOUGLAS, well-known radio announcer

Somebody whistles a few bars of a catchy tune.
Others pick it up.
Soon the whole country's whistling it. It's a hit.

Somebody lights up a cigarette.
Likes it. Passes the word along.
Soon the whole country's smoking it.
It's a hit. IT'S CHESTERFIELD.

The big thing that's pushing Chesterfield ahead
Is the approval of smokers like yourself.
Chesterfields are definitely Milder, Cooler-Smoking and Better-Tasting.
*They're made of the world's best cigarette tobaccos
Blended just right to give you more smoking pleasure.*

But even these facts wouldn't count
If smokers didn't just naturally like them.
Once a smoker finds out from Chesterfield
What real smoking pleasure is, nothing else will do.
*Yes, fellow smokers, IT'S YOUR APPROVAL
THAT'S PUSHING CHESTERFIELD AHEAD.*

Everywhere you go They Satisfy

Copyright 1941, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Get your Yoncopin pictures made this week. You've already paid for them so be sure and get them.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

7-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Get your Yoncopin pictures made this week. You've already paid for them so be sure and get them.

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, October 10, 1941.

Number 4

Women's Club and Senate Sponsor First Campus Dance

FORECAST

After a year, during which they have been closed, the two end rooms in the Student Union Building will again be opened to the students.

The reason these rooms have been closed for the past year is because of the carelessness and negligence of the students themselves. Last year only luck prevented complete destruction of the entire building, because of this carelessness on the part of a student. This student in question left behind him, when he departed from the building, a lighted cigarette in the seat of his chair in one of the rooms.

This cigarette smoldered there until that night when it ignited the chair; and only the chance fact that one of the faculty members happened to notice the flame in the room prevented the SUB from going up in flames.

The pleasure students received from use of the rooms was not considered worth the risk involved after this episode, so consequently they were closed every day.

Now, students have repeatedly requested that the rooms again be made available to them. They have assured the administration that they will take proper care of the furnishings of the rooms in the event they are again reopened.

So, after these repeated assurances the rooms will be unlocked. Students will again be permitted to use them, since they provide excellent places for rest and study between classes.

However, the only way we can hope to be able to continue to use the rooms is to cooperate to the fullest in seeing that the best care is taken not to damage or in any way endanger any of the furniture available for our use there.

We lost them once by our carelessness, so let's be sure and prevent anybody from causing us to have to do without them again.

'VOGUE' BEGINS SENIOR CAREER PRIZE CONTESTS

The editors of Vogue magazine have just announced a Second Photographic Contest for seniors in accredited American colleges and universities. Two career prizes are offered, one for men, one for women, consisting of a six months' apprenticeship with salary, in the Condé Nast Studios in New York.

For the seventh consecutive year senior college women are invited to compete in the Prix de Paris. Purpose of this contest is to discover college girls with a flair for fashion reporting and the ability to write.

Seniors on the look-out for a career such as offered by Vogue should write to Carolyn Abbott, Vogue, 420 Lexington Ave., New York City, for further details.

LARGE ENROLLMENT FIGURES ARE RELEASED

Official enrollment figures have just been released by the school. This year's registration compares quite favorably with those of former years. In day school alone there are 619 students enrolled of which 344 are boys.

These figures, of course, do not include the night school students, which will further increase the enrollment number.

Student Members Appointed to the Social Committee

Two Boys and Two Girls Will Serve With Four Faculty Representatives.

According to Dr. Lowance, head of the faculty committee on social activities, four students will act on this committee as members. They will take part in the committee meetings and help decide any questions that may arise.

The faculty members, in addition to Dr. Lowance, who by virtue of his chairmanship will not be entitled to a vote, are Mr. Davidson, Mr. Schule, Mrs. Campbell, and Mrs. French.

In addition to these are the four students. One student is to be selected from the Interfraternity Council and one from the Pan-Hellenic Council. The other two are from the non-fraternity groups.

These four students have already been named to their positions. The fraternity representative is the president of the Interfraternity Council, Carl Vollmer; the sorority representative has not yet been selected; the non-fraternity man is Claude Teel, and the non-sorority girl is Loudell Liston.

The appointment of these four to this particular committee is expected to aid the understanding of students with regard to the dance regulations. It will undoubtedly do much toward eliminating rumors of the type which circulated so freely this past week. All in all, the new arrangement will greatly increase the efficiency of this committee since the viewpoints of both students and faculty will be readily available at each meeting.

Claude Teel Heads "C" Club for Year

At a recent meeting of the newly reorganized "C" Club the membership of the club elected officers, who will serve for the following year. Claude Teel was named president with Truman "Chief" Johnson the vice-president. W. G. Lawless was elected secretary-treasurer.

GIRLS, HERE'S WHAT THOSE MEN THINK!

The boys on the campus were asked the all-important question of, "What kind of clothes do you like to see the girls on the campus wearing?" and here are the answers:

Gene Hilliard—"I don't like bows or high heels at school. Sport clothes are O.K."

Barron Johns—"Tight sweaters and skirts, that's enough."

Camp Flournoy—"Nothing, but on second thought, sport clothes, socks, and bows are O.K."

Carl Vollmer—"Lots of sport clothes, especially sweaters and skirts and comfortable collegiate shoes."

Bob Raley—"I like high heels and hose with sweaters and skirts."

Bill Graham—"Me? I never notice those things."

Gilbert Hetherwick—"I like dresses that fit and lots of sport clothes."

Dudley Beene—"Sweaters and grass skirts and cute little shoes."

Don't worry, girls! Your chance is coming next week.

All Students Invited To Club Open House

The "C" Club has announced that they will give an open house after the ball game Saturday night, honoring former members of the organization. All present students of the college are invited to attend as well as any former students. The affair will take place in the school gymnasium after the Hardin-Simmons game.

CENHOMEC WILL REASSEMBLE ON OCTOBER TENTH

New Officers To Be Presented; Year's Theme is Defense

Cenhomec, home economics club, will reassemble on October 10 at the home of Adelaide Dickson, 340 Wyandotte. Mrs. Meredith Lawless, president, will present the following new officers: Lillian Gibson, vice-president; Dorothy Durr, secretary; Rethie Ward, treasurer; Marilyn Dickson, parliamentarian; Aline Breithaupt, historian, and Martha Hart, reporter.

The theme selected for this year's study is "All-out Defense." At this meeting Rev. George Pearce will speak on "Spiritual and Moral Defense," the first in a series of discussions as they relate to the course of study.

The guest speakers have been chosen for their knowledge and appreciation of the specific topics. The social activities for the year include al fresco parties, formal dinners, and hikes.

Professor See Made Director of Ad Club

At a recent meeting of the Advertising Club of Shreveport Robert S. See of the Centenary College commerce department was named a director of the Club. Mr. See, with his fellow officers, will assume their offices on October 14.

Last Tuesday Mr. See was a guest speaker at the Mansfield Rotary Club. The subject of his talk was "Taxation in Our Economic System."

First Meeting of Joint Faculty-Student Committee on College Assembly Programs

Major Problem of Body Is Student Audience Behavior.

The first meeting of the Joint Faculty-Student Committee on College Assembly Programs and Religious Activities was held Sunday, October 5, with faculty chairman Dr. Entriiken presiding.

Realizing that the assembly period, brief as it is, is a very important time in our school week, the committee discussed the subject thoroughly and with a long-range plan in view. The committee plans to have a variety of programs, yet with a continuous theme underlying them. The committee feels that there is a desire among the students for more good music, for a definite religious guidance program, for interpretation of significant days, and with student participation throughout.

A major problem to be met with and to be settled by the Student Body itself is, to put it politely, the problem of audience behavior. The committee feels that it is functioning for the benefit of the individual student and earnestly desires

Sophomore, Junior, Senior Classes Will Elect Officers Mon.

Meet in Arts Building Monday Morning at 10 O'Clock.

The annual elections of officers for the three upper classes will be held Monday morning in the Arts Building of the college at ten o'clock during the chapel period.

The seniors will meet in room 25 for their elections; the juniors in room 26; and the sophomores in room 21. All nominations will be taken during this one period and voting will immediately follow at the same meeting on all the officers nominated.

The presiding officer at the meeting will be the president of the class last year if he is present. In the event he is not there the vice-president will take charge and so on.

Kollege Kapers Again To Conduct Try-outs This Afternoon at 2:30

Students With Theatrical or Musical Talents Invited.

Kollege Kapers will conduct some more try-outs this afternoon at 2:30 in the chapel. All students who are interested at all are urged to make it a point to be present at this time.

Last week a large number of students tried out for positions in the cast. The majority of candidates were girls who attempted everything from singing to novelty acts. There were several outstanding acts presented, but final selections have by no means been made for the year, according to Dr. Morehead.

Several male vocalists are needed to attend the try-outs since this type of performer is in demand this year. Also the band needs new material since so many of the musicians graduated last year.

So, everyone who is capable of performing in any way is asked to be on hand this afternoon and try to gain a position in the Kapers' cast.

DANCE TONIGHT

Place—Gym
Time—8:00 o'clock
Charge—None
Dress—Informal
For—All students

MORE TO COLLEGE THAN GRID FAME, SAYS FRED ALLEN

Radio Comedian Presents 'Most Talented Campus Individual' Each Week on His Show

There is more to college fame than football, says Fred Allen. And he is out to prove it.

Each week throughout the coming season Fred is presenting on his CBS "Texaco Star Theater" program a student from one of the country's colleges or universities selected by his fellow students as "the most talented individual on the campus." The talent may follow any course feasible to radio—monologist, instrumentalist, vocalist, mimic, comedian, composer.

The lucky student is sent to New York City with all expenses paid. In addition, he is given $200 cash which must be put toward tuition or college expenses.

Fred points out that such established stars as Kay Kayser, Jimmy Stewart, Cole Porter, Lawrence Tibbett, Rudy Valle and many others are products of the colleges of America. If they made the grade, perhaps other college students can, too. Fred is anxious to give them the opportunity to try.

PROF. GATES JOINS STAFF OF C. OF C.

Professor R. F. Gates of the college faculty has joined the staff of the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce as manager of the industrial and research department.

Mr. Gates' responsibilities will include much more than research, however. The chamber has expanded its services and he will have charge of analyzing and interpreting the various federal rulings with respect to priorities and other regulations as may develop in the course of the defense program.

Mr. Gates is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute and received his master of business administration degree from the University of Texas.

For several years he has been teaching business law and special courses in the night school of Centenary. His new connection will not interfere with his activities with the school.

CENTENARY BAND ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Centenary Band had its first organized meeting last Monday afternoon in the Music Building. The purpose of the meeting was the election of band officers for the coming year. After an explanation by Mr. Causey as to the procedure to be followed in the election, nominations were taken for the following offices: President, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and publicity manager. After the formality of the election the following officers emerged victorious: Sam Papa, president; Harriet Crawford, vice-president; Lanford DeGeneres, secretary-treasurer, and J. L. Solomon, publicity manager.

The band is expecting a very successful year under the leadership of these competent officers.

AFTER 117 YEARS STUDENT DANCE IS GIVEN ON CAMPUS

Open to All Students Tonight At Eight in the Gym

For the first time in its 117-year history students will dance on the Centenary College campus. The scene of this memorable event will be the college gymnasium tonight at 8:00 o'clock. Everybody that attends the college is expected to be on hand for the festivities.

All the students are urged to come with or without dates. The entire affair will be on the order of a reception, and so all girls, whether they have escorts or not, should feel perfectly free to attend, since a date to such a function is not at all a necessity.

As a matter of fact, the dancing will take the form of a merry mix-up, in which both the boys and girls will tag. In this type of dance it would be better if there were no dates. So, if possible, students are asked to come without making dates at all and everyone will meet at the gym.

The Centenary Women's Club had requested the privilege of sponsoring this first student-wide dance, so they will have charge of arrangements. They have already made plans for providing refreshments for some four hundred students, which is the approximate number expected.

There will be no charge whatsoever on the students when they attend the dance tonight. Another thing that does much toward making this more of a student activity is the fact that the student government, represented by the Student Senate, is also backing it as a party for all the students. The Senate is sharing part of the expense of the reception, and therefore urges all students to take advantage of this dance which is being co-sponsored by their student government for the entire student body.

The affair will be informal. Girls are not supposed to wear evening dresses.

The gym is undoubtedly one of the best places in the city in which to give a large function of this nature. There is plenty of room for persons to stand around and talk or have refreshments, without interfering in any way with the dancing of the other students.

An excellent orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and will be ready to supply music of all types—from waltz to jitterbug.

So everyone be sure and be on hand tonight at eight o'clock in the gym for a gala evening full of fun for the whole student body at the first dance we've ever given on our campus.

W. A. A. ENTERTAINS FROSH MEMBERS THURSDAY NIGHT

The first outing of the W.A.A. for the school year was a swimming party last Thursday night at which the freshman members of the organization were entertained. Immediately following the swim, supper was served to the large group present.

CHI OMEGA PLEDGE OFFICERS

Last Tuesday the pledges of Chi Omega elected their pledge officers for the coming year. They are Betty Blaxton, president; Betty Jane Tremaine, vice-president; Carolyn Coburn, secretary, and Jane Bartlett, treasurer.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO • BOSTON • SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES • PORTLAND • SEATTLE

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor
Associate Editor—Ann Burnette
Sports Editor—Burl Sullivan
Circulation Manager—Azalie Webb
FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager
Reporters: Ellen Eastham
Leroy Scott
Arthur Shuey
Barbara Harris
Mabel Boddie
Jack Keenan
Hutch Phillips
Jake Cullick
Dudley Beene
J. L. Solomon
Jean Clark
Mary Foster Peyton

We're Dancing Tonight on the Old Campus Ground

Tonight marks the first time a student body dance has ever been given on the campus. This is a great step for the school, since for the past few years the student body has been trying to gain the privilege of giving such dances.

Dancing on the campus will not be so very much different from dancing off, as has been the custom in the past. It will, moreover, create a closer feeling among the students. Especially will it be a great improvement from the standpoint of the students who live in the dormitories.

To be allowed to give dances on the campus will make these affairs seem more like college dances, and less like club dances. We have all either seen or heard of the dancing on other campuses, and now we will be in a position to give similar dances ourselves, which we will be glad to remember in the years to come as having taken place on our school's campus.

The students are gradually being given more part in making the regulations governing these functions. Four students have just been added to the faculty committee on social activities, and this fact will do much to create better understanding between the faculty and the students.

Courtesy and Consideration

It was stated at the beginning of school that we should attempt to make this a "friendly" year at Centenary. One of the best ways to be a good friend is to have consideration for the rights of others. Consideration and courtesy are needed most on the campus during our assembly period.

So far our audience behavior has been very good and we only hope it will keep up.

The Faculty-Student Committee on Assembly Programs stated this week that the audience behavior will largely determine the type of programs we will have. It is most embarrassing to have a guest speaker embarrassed by "competition" from the audience.

Assemblies are not so long that it is any particular trial to sit quietly for a few minutes. Your neighbor may be interested, if you are not.

Just keep in mind the other person's rights and privileges and have consideration for them.

"Spirit of Democracy"

As we go through our college days it is imperative for us to become fully aware of the necessity of Democratic Living. In the classroom and on the campus we must at all times be conscious of the respect of other students and guide our dealings through Democratic channels. Comprehending the nature of every student is important and we must be vigilant so as not to discriminate against anyone. Everyone wants to enjoy college life, therefore every individual must cast aside his greedy habits and mannerisms and become more gentle and kind. With these better qualities our days of college life will become more pleasant as time passes on. Campus life must be symbolic of Democracy and Square Play. We must at all times have the principles of decency in our minds and use them with the proper discretion.

Experiments by Drs. Basile J. Luyet and M. C. Hartung of St. Louis University indicate the vinegar eel can be kept in a frozen state of suspended animation indefinitely.

More Emory University students come from Florida than any other state outside Georgia.

A 150-pound man would weigh almost 50,000,000 pounds on one of the newly found white dwarf stars, it is estimated by Willem J. Luyten, professor of astronomy at the University of Minnesota.

Wayne University is sponsoring nearly 60 short-term courses in homemaking problems for adults.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

A pleasant good morning to all you lads and lasses—we hope we didn't step on your toes too bad. And now for the Gossip:

Flash—
'Twas a true calamity at Colonial Hall when Connel nearly broke her neck last week. She couldn't even talk! They all went around missing her smooth Belcher Drawl.

Elise Montgomery and a certain Alpha Xi Delta seem to be having a race to see who can get Bevel Hodge. What does that Freshman football player have to be able to make a Senior, and a Junior, run after him?—and they are really in pursuit! Eut G. B. is one up on Elise because she has a little gold football that he gave to her. Go o it, girls!

C. H. Vandegaer, the boy who plays a mean beat on the guitar, is sweating a cute freshman (J. H.).

Nice going, C. H.; we think she is cute, too.

We hear that Billy Bradford has again gone back to Ann Rutledge. Say, boy: we wish that you would make up your mind as to what girl you are going with and when. We also heard that Ann has him a new pretty blue car.

Our little drum major, Bob, calls Bobo every night at eight o'clock. Bob, you had better watch out, 'cause Bobo wears a Deke pin—and it belongs to Walter.

Had you noticed that coz Norman R. and Patsy C. talk alike?—and Glenny's doing it, too! Just watch and see!!

Is that vivacious little Bette Smith really in love this time? No more two-week stuff, Bette? Ted's really a swell kid. This is where you get off, Bubba.

Personally, methinks we can't keep up with all those freshman girls. Never have I seen so much glamour since last year's beauty (?) contest—Frinstance, take those 2 inseparables, Friddle and Owens.

Ouida Harris has a certain little Barksdale boy around her little finger. Ouida, what happened to Johnny?

Cheerleaders—you are strictly O.K. and, fellas on the team, we love ya all. This is no editorial, but the only thing that was wrong with the team was us Centenary studes—and we're counting on Beene, Mulkey, Kinnebrew, Glasell & Co., to do the trick. It is up to you.

And so ends our column until next week at this same time. Until then, and with oceans of love, I remain

Changed the Prescription

Doctor: How do you mean you are worried, Mrs. Brown? Did you give your husband the sleeping powder as I told you?

Mrs. Brown: Indeed, I did, doctor. You said to give as much as I could get on a nickel. But, I had no nickel, so I used five pennies instead and he hasn't woke up in three days.

Teacher: Now, Johnny, in the Mitchell family there are Mother, Daddy, and Ronnie, the baby. How many does that make?

Johnny: Two and one to carry.

FINE

Judge: What's the idea of parking in front of a fire plug?

Virginia Lil Turner: Because he sign said "Fine for Parking."

And then there's the case of Ohio Wesleyan University, which selected the wrong "typical" students when preparing a picture booklet on its activities. The photos were taken last spring. The front cover of the booklet shows a co-ed who since has "flunked out" of school and a boy who has transferred to Case College.

HEP KAT SEZ

Shep Fields, organizer of "Rippling Rhythm" in 1936, has abandoned his bubbling music and introduced the first all-saxophone dance orchestra. Nine sax players and the usual rhythm section: piano, bass, guitar, and drums, are part of the thirty instruments used. (The boys do double duty on the brasses.) Shep says of his new orchestra, "You can sit right on top of our band and hear yourself talk when we play."

* * *

The Wall Street Journal, Bible of the financial world, says "more people are spending money on amusements and recreation than ever before." That's all right with the manufacturers of the little black discs. Decca, Victor, and Columbia are having their biggest year of record sales since 1929. Fine, too, with the baton welders, who emphasize their abilities on juke boxes throughout the country. The current King of the Juke Box is Jimmy Dorsey, headed for a five weeks' $75,000 contract at Paramount in Hollywood.

* * *

RECOMMENDED RECORDS

XAVIER CUGAT—Salud, Dinero y Amor—Benabe (Victor)

Cugat truly rates the distinction as "King of the Rhumba." Of all the bands featuring Latin-American tunes, none of them can even approach the richness of melody and true flavor that Cugat exacts from his musicians. Taking an Argentine waltz, SALUD, Cugat has dressed it in a fiery arrangement, still retaining the waltz tempo yet making the record extremely suitable for rhumba, samba and conga enthusiasts. Carmen Castillo, a newcomer as far as this department is concerned, handles the vocal chorus in a most pleasant manner. Miguelito Valdes is featured on the reverse side and does a typical Valdes job, which is as hot as a Mexican tamale.

CHARLIE BARNET—Swingin'

Woman's Badminton Tournament by WAA To Begin on Oct. 17

WAA Meets on Fridays in Gym

The badminton tournament, sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association, will begin on October 17. Any woman student wishing to participate in the competition is requested to register with Mrs. Bryant Davidson or one of the officers of the club.

A cup will be offered to the winner of the tournament and to the organization having the most points when the competitive games have ended.

Officers of the W. A. A. for the school year '41 and '42 are Azalie Webb, President; Norman Robertson, Secretary, and Virginia Breithaupt, Treasurer. Meetings are held on Friday in the gymnasium.

on Nothin'-Harlem Speaks (Bluebird)

Barnet has taken two "hot" tunes, dressed them up in Sy Oliver and William Moore's sparkling arrangements and really goes to town. On the former side, Ford Leary handles the vocal chores. Barnet chimes in with his alto sax and the platter melts from the heat. An Ellington composition, HARLEM SPEAKS is the discmate and it tears along like a hook-and-ladder on a three-alarm call. HARLEM SPEAKS is like a breath of Lenox Avenue and 135th Street—it's hot, it's torrid, it makes you want to swing on down. What more can anyone ask of a record?

REX

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

FRI. & SAT., OCT. 10-11
"Trail of the Lonesome Pine"
with Fred MacMurray and Sylvia Sydney—Comedy, Serial
Sun., Mon. & Tue., Oct. 12-13-14
Clark Gable - Rosalind Russell
"THEY MET IN BOMBAY"
Cartoon and News

Wed. & Thur., Oct. 15-16
Ginger Rogers - Geo. Murphy
"TOM, DICK AND HARRY"
Cartoon and News

Streamlined Musical Revue and Minstrel

HOORAY, AMERICA!

MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM

Shreveport, Louisiana

Thursday, Oct. 16, 8:15 P.M.

Sponsored by SHREVEPORT KIWANIS CLUB

GIRLS! — GAGS! — MUSIC!

Compliments

McMahan Typewriter Co.

Call 2-4639

717 McNeil St.

Pause ...
Go refreshed

Coca-Cola

TRADE-MARK REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

GENTS TACKLE H. & S. COWBOYS SAT. NIGHT

Home Game Under Lights at Centenary Stadium.

After losing to Millsaps and Creighton and tying the Demons of Normal, the Gents began preparations Monday for their tilt Saturday night with the Cowboys of Hardin-Simmons. The game is slated for 8:15 and will be played beneath the lights here at the Gents' Stadium.

The Cowboys have had more than their share of success in past years under the able leadership of Coach Frank Kimborough, now stationed at Baylor. They have not been as successful under their new guidance of Warren Woodson. They opened the season by defeating Texas Wesleyan 34-0 and then dropped two decisions, one 21-0 to Baylor and the other 7-3 to North Texas State.

Anyone planning to attend the game may look forward to a type of football game never before displayed in Shreveport. The Cowboys are strictly razzle-dazzle and run from the Notre Dame "T" formation with many formations. Not only are they interested in passes, but they insist on wide laterals following them up.

They are equipped with a big line and fast backs. Captain Murry Evans, center, handles the ball well and does a superb job of backing the line. H. C. Burrus, who catches them where they ain't, and Hal Prescott will be at the terminals. Thompson and Patton are tackles of merit and Nunn and Bennett are sturdy running guards. The line may be a little short of substitutes but the backfield is in the best hands of Campbell and Chadwick. Chadwick will do the passing and is also effective at carrying the pigskin.

Centenary has played Hardin-Simmons three games and has lost the last two. They were on the small end, 7 to 6, in 1939 and 15-13 in 1940. Although the Gents lost to the undefeated Cowboys in 1940, they gave them their closest game of the season.

A herbarium that eventually will contain every available species of plant native to Georgia is being developed in the biology department of Emory University.

Offering a master's degree in aeronautical engineering for the first time, University of Texas has added courses in aerodynamics, airplane structural analysis and experimental aerodynamics.

RALEY TO DO PUNTING FOR GENTS

Bob Raley, No. 63 in the backfield for the Gents, has been assigned the new duty of punting for the Gents. He is from Frederick, Okla., and is a junior, having lettered during his sophomore year. Twenty-three years old, five feet four inches tall, and weighing 173, Bob is capable of hard driving, good passing, and seems to be the best kicker on the squad. He entered Centenary as a guard but was converted to the tail-back position because of his ability.

CAMPUS CAMERA

We hear that Jack Keenan is seriously thinking about poaching on "Slick" Comegys' preserve, namely Mary Earl Texada. (That's a good-looking bird-dog.)

After being stood up two times in a week Camp Flournoy "whose smell has no connection with living next door to the Oyster Nook (pd.

adv.)," received a note asking him to contact a nurse (at Colonial Hall). My, my! Will wonders never cease?

Who distributed this bull about the Cencoes being better this year? Kapers had another tryout. The only thing interesting was that it wasted one afternoon.

We notice that Lil Turner went down to New Orleans to see her "man?" (Diaper Dan.) We wonder whether it is old enough to join the Boy Scouts yet?

I wasn't told, I only heard . . . that Dot Graham hasn't forgotten Jack Deen yet . . . that Leroy Scott has Yit to wear a decent shirt . . . that the food in the girls' dormitory isn't . . .

that Dorothy Viasco is that way about Frank ("I still don't want a haircut") Hall . . .

that Bobby Lindsay is a Freshman (notice to the Frosh Dorm) . . . that Bevel Hodges is a ladies' man; just ask the ladies or Bevel Hodges . . .

that there is some controversy over dancing on the campus . . . that Caroline Clay is a second Betty Lou . . .

that the Army took over David White's girl in Ruston . . . that there is a motive in "Snake" Feducia's sitting in the SUB . . . "Frank Buck" Feducia . . .

RALEY! . . . that if Red Sanford didn't know she would find out for you . . . that anybody can have black hair; just ask Virginia Friddle . . . that Red McCrocklin has a girl . . . that James Heath and Bobbie Wilson are back at it again . . .

Dr. J. A. Pierce of Harvard reports that when a meteor shooting star passes through the atmosphere many miles above the ground it leaves behind it a trail of broken atoms which may last for many minutes.

CAA student pilot registration at University of Minnesota this fall is 40, ten more than last year.

DEMONS TIE GENTS, 6-6

WHITE PLUNGES OVER FROM ONE-YARD LINE FOR COUNTER

Last Saturday night the Gentlemen of Centenary broke their losing streak with a 6-to-6 tie with the Demons of Normal. The squad looked impressive as their defense handicapped the Demons, who failed to advance closer than the 40-yard line except when "Dimples" Scott, 150-pound back, received the second half kickoff on his own six-yard line and took off on a 94-yard jaunt down the field for a touchdown. The boys all seemed to think that the others would make the tackle, and no effective trap was formed to hinder his progress. Behind some nice blocking he broke through the first line of defense, cut back to his left and outran the pursuing Golson.

Coach Hanna's boys were handicapped by 60 yards of penalties, which should prove that the fellows are certainly in the game trying and eager to win.

The Gents proved they were not out of the game after the Normal touchdown when Nash blocked Scott's kick and Lawless picked it up and ran to Normal's 29 before being tackled. The threat failed when after two attempted passes from Birtman to the ends, Nash and Teel, Faith was forced to kick. Mayor Faith, who all through the game kept Normal with its back to the wall, punted out on Normal's two-yard line.

Beginning the fourth quarter when the Gents were looking at another defeat they rallied and with the aid of penalties passed their way to a touchdown.

Birtman rifled a 25-yard pass to Nash who was bounced out of bounds on Normal's six-yard line. Johnson and Birtman picked up one and three yards respectively and a pass to Teel in the end zone was incomplete. Luck was all on Centenary's side when an aerial to Johnson in the end zone was ruled complete because of interference. The ball was then placed on the one-yard line and White went over for the counter.

Sam Parks, sophomore from Bastrop, La., was then called on to try for the extra point, but his kick was low and the game was stalled in a stalemate.

The Gents threw 20 passes, completing seven of them, with Birtman tossing 17 of them. The ground gained was less noticeable because the longest gain was a seven-yard plunge by Faith.

Sophomore Dick Shad, starting at center for the first time, played an outstanding defensive game for the Gents. He had some good assistance from Nash, Johnson, and "Jelly" Whitehurst.

Our chief regret of the game is that it ended at the football career of Mayo Faith. Mayo, a regular fellow, and a fine sport, was one of the ablest punters ever enrolled at Centenary. Not long hence he received a private invitation from Franklin and is now enlisted in the defense of our country.

Fall, Football and Mr. Ted Husing

It's a sure sign that fall has arrived when King Football takes over the sports pages and Ted Husing takes his microphones to the nation's gridirons to describe outstanding contests for CBS listeners.

Each Saturday CBS picks what it considers the day's outstanding game and sends Husing and his assistant, Jimmy Dolan, to cover it. Columbia is not scheduling games in advance. Results of the previous Saturday's battles determine which game Husing describes.

Of course, such classics as the Army-Notre Dame and Army-Navy games are automatically included in the schedule. This year the Cadets and the Irish clash in New York November 1. The Army-Navy game takes place in Philadelphia November 29.

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

* This spring there came to Centenary from Tech a "Prize package." He sought to gain a degree in Business Administration by working in a downtown restaurant, but, most important of all, he kept in condition by playing intermural football.

This Thanksgiving Coach Hanna plans to use his "prize package" against the Tech Varsity, hoping for a defeat against the school first attended by Centenary's new Gentleman, unrecognized by the Bulldogs for his outstanding playing ability.

He is 18 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches tall, and weighs 170. He hails from Bastrop, La., and is one of Dutch Binion's proteges. Dutch, former Centenary star, enlightened the coaches of his value and persuaded him to devote his services to the Gents.

A sophomore fullback, he has played ten quarters so far this season. In his career of college football he has yet to lose ground lugging the ball. His average is five yards per try and apparently he can be counted on when a few yards are needed.

This might indicate what a player can do when given a chance. Had not the first-string fullback been injured, the talent he displays would still be undiscovered.

Aside from being a deadly tackler, he is fast on his feet with a sense of timing that saved Centenary three touchdowns against Creighton.

If the 399 students present at the game haven't solved the puzzle the Gentleman of the Week is David Madison White, Jr.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt, Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS LOUISIANA GAS COMPANY

HE WANTS TO BE CALLED "GENERAL" SINCE HE GOT THOSE WINTHROP

MILITARY OXFORDS

Winthrop Shoes

Above... Comfort as you'll find it only in Winthrop Shoes with "Action-Free" construction. In Lariat Brown with Bootmaker's Finish. Half rubber heel.

Below... A trim dress oxford in regimental brown... or black. Regulation boot in-step. Full leather lined, with water-resisting sole and half rubber heel.

$895

Winthrop Shoes $7.50 up

Winthrop Colonials $5.50 to $6.50

LIFE

THE MASTER SHOE STORE

Phelps Shoe Co. Ltd.

ESTABLISHED 1869

Shreveport, Louisiana

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

Place—the "Sub."
Time—about ten minutes before this column is due.

Here we are sitting in the midst of a veritable uproar—noise all around us and no thoughts forthcoming. Won't someone please give us an idea? It seems that we may have to resort to gossip in the future.

SCATTER SHOTS

Are there actually some twin babies in the girls' dormitory? We were making a little superfluous noise over there not long ago when Lil Turner and B. G. Smith came in and hushed us frantically, saying, "Please be quiet, you'll wake the babies."

When we asked how big the babies were B. G. said, "Big enough."

What kind of an answer was that?

Oh, who has heard the campus trio composed of K- Baby Cannon, Jerry Baird, and Jean Evans? We heard them at Kapers rehearsal and they sounded.

Does that "C" initial in Kinnebrew's name stand for Collier or Cossack? It must be true that a young man's fancy pants in the Fall as well as in the Spring.

Is Campus Shot Raley monopolizing all of Pat Coffee's time, or do some of the lesser lights have a chance?

Next week: A poem to end all poems, brought by Phil Clifton from L.S.U. We think it is worthy of note.

COLLEGES GEAR FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Centenary No Exception; Soldiers Pitch Tents On Campus, Use College Equipment.

A million college and university students are ready this month to take part in a national defense program unprecedented in the annals of American education. Curricula list dozens of new subjects related specifically to the national emergency and draft-age men will be able to cover the courses in three years instead of the traditional four.

To returning upperclassmen and enrolling freshmen, the campus will present a changed face. Significant experiments related to war will be under way in laboratories and research bureaus. Prominent professors and department heads will be involved elsewhere in emergency jobs. Everywhere students will find themselves working in an atmosphere charged with the electric movement of world events.

Our campus is no exception to the other institutions of learning in America. Last week on our grounds a group of soldiers were encamped, using at their will our buildings and equipment. Latin American Commercial Relations and Engineering are two of the new courses added to our curricula list this fall and the library is well supplied with books to fulfill every demand.

Not new but its value just realized is the Red Cross first aid course offered to both men and women. Also a home nursing course will be offered to the girls on this campus soon. Representing our faculty in defense projects is Dr. Lowance who worked on a government job in Pennsylvania this past summer.

So, Centenarians, we are helping in defense measures along with the rest!

Voice (over telephone): Are you the game warden?

Game Warden: Yes.

Voice: Well, I'm so thankful that I have the right person at last. Would you please give me some suggestions suitable for a children's party.

PRETTY

Lovely Ginny Simms, vocalist with Kay Kyser's orchestra, now has her own program on the Columbia network Fridays at 9:55 PM, EST. A favorite of the nation's collegians, Ginny herself attended Fresno State Teacher's College. After graduation, she found that she did not want to teach so she secured a job singing on her local radio station. Kay Kyser heard her and she has been singing with his band ever since.

FASHION

Last year, the young ladies of the east adopted colors that have long been used by Southern women throughout the year. Beige, maize, pink, blue, and other pastels became top-notch shades for light wools, crepes, and dresses for morning, noon and night.

Seems as though the fashion editor thought them, quote, "smart beneath a fur coat. In recent issues of the same fashion mags, note "White for Sunday Night."

Yes, sir, it looks as though the younger generation will appear in white flannel, rayon, and wool for our Sunday-night suppers. Responsible for this new non-color fashion, which has long been worn by lab technicians and nurses and career girls in that field, is Mary Lewis, patron goddess of the college fashion world.

Well, now for the reaction of the gentlemen. That's where the Southern Belles have it over women north of the Mason-Dixon line; they style to please. (Aim gently, ladies—no doubt he's vulnerable!)

We read of women being patriotic and discarding their silk hose, but not yet have we seen the underpins of our campus cuties in cotton. Hmmm, just think! Our mothers once wore striped hose and were not only patriotic, conservative, and smart, but definitely colorful.

One of the best fashions we know is the Red Cross. Remember the lady who is in line with the members of her gender throughout the United States is she who does her duty for "God, Love, and Country." And if you feel that

PATRICIA COMPTON
of Dallas, Texas
one of America's prettiest college girls

This Year
on the campus—
It's Chesterfield

They're cheering Chesterfields because they're Milder COOLER and BETTER-TASTING

You'd enjoy reading "Tobaccoland, U. S. A.," or hearing a lecture on Chesterfield's can't-be-copied blend of the world's best cigarette tobaccos... but the best way to learn about Chesterfields is to try 'em. You'll find more cigarette pleasure than you ever had before.

You'll join the millions who say WITH ME IT'S CHESTERFIELD... They Satisfy

Copyright 1941,
LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE
President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS
Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnett, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS
Cenhomec Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Fennell, President.....7-6043
Women's Athletic Association
Azalea Webb, President.....7-2936
Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 7-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS
Fraternities:
Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer.....7-2554
Lamba Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:
Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:
Aufait
Loudell Liston, President.....7-9891
(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

University of North Carolina, which opened its doors in January, 1795, is the oldest state university n point of operation.

Amherst, Williams and Wheaton Colleges have forbidden students to bring their cars to school this year.

'SWAT HE SAID
Professor: Who was Homer?
Paul Cope: He was the fellow Babe Ruth made famous.

CENTENARY

Always 10c-20c Phone 7-5971

Sat.—Double Features—Oct. 11
"SCATTERGOOD BAIN"
and "SILVER STALLION"

SUN. & MON., OCT. 12-13
Dennis Morgan - Wayne Morris
"BAD MEN OF MISSOURI"

TUE. & WED., OCT. 14-15
Judy Canova
"PUDDIN' HEAD"

For more than
just a Haircut
we recommend

CENTENARY
BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.

L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

Announcing Our Campus Representative

TYLER PIRTLE

OPEN HOUSE

ACCEPT THIS AS A CORDIAL INVITATION TO VISIT US ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

OCTOBER 12TH

3:00 - 7:00 P.M.

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803
YOUREE

SARA
TULLY, MGR.

For Classroom or Campus
Sports Skirts, Jackets,
Blouses and Sweaters from
Hearne's are very chic.

HEARNE
DRY GOODS CO. LTD.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, October 17, 1941.

Number 5

FORECAST

For the first time in the history of the college, students are being appointed to faculty committees. This is done in an effort to give the students representation on all the more important committees that may most directly influence the activities of the students themselves.

This action on the part of the administration is definitely a long step in the direction of more "government by the students." For years past, students have been clamoring for more part in making the regulations which affect them closest. Heretofore the contention has been that the students must first prove themselves capable of taking a more active part in the administration of their affairs before they would be given any additional power. However, the school authorities have apparently decided that we have shown ourselves ready and able to have a more active part in the regulation of student activities, because this year has been marked by more advances along this line than in any previous year.

The first step was the action of the administration in giving the Student Senate access to the student body fund consisting of fees collected every year from each student upon registration. This fund is available for all student activities throughout the year, such as the student body dance last Friday night. A budget will be prepared by the treasurer of the student body to cover all student expenses which might accrue during the school year, such as the May fete, and any additional money in the fund can be used for any purpose the Senate may see fit; probably for another student-wide activity of some sort.

Another notable advance was the (Continued on Page Four)

Three Clubs Meet Today To Inaugurate Work Year

The French Club will have its first meeting of the year today in Mr. Ford's room in South Hall. All students interested in the study of French are urged to be there for this initial session.

Psi Delta Chi, psychology club, sponsored by Dr. Topper of the college psychology department, will conduct its first meeting in room 10 in South Hall.

The Dramatics Club, under the direction of Mr. Young, is the third organization which will have its meeting today at 10 o'clock.

HOMECOMING NOV. 8TH

Queen To Be Elected and Crowned At Half of the T.C.U. Game.

Plans have already begun for the annual Homecoming Day celebration, climaxed by the customary football game, according to Dr. A. M. Shaw, who, with Mr. Banks, has charge of arrangements.

Student as well as alumni committees are being formed to perfect the plans. As is the custom a large parade through the downtown streets is one of the events expected to take place. All the campus organizations will as in years past prepare floats to take part in the street parade. Last year saw many unique floats passing through the streets and it is to be hoped that this year will find as many original ideas as before.

Another event of the day will be the open houses given by various campus organizations honoring many alumni who will return to their alma mater for their annual visit. All fraternity and sorority

FIRST STUDENT SENATE SESSION OF YEAR IS HELD

Elects Two Students to Serve With Senate President on Faculty Discipline Committee

At the first regularly scheduled meeting of the Student Senate of Centenary College, the Senate voted to include Peg Hawkins and Truman Johnson on the faculty discipline committee as student representatives. Dr. Cline has already stated that the president of the student body would automatically become a member of this important committee of the school. This makes the third faculty committee which has added students to its membership for the first time.

The Senate voted to delay further action on the dancing question until its next meeting Wednesday.

Students Are Given LAST Chance For Yoncopin Portraits

Official Photographer To Be Back Thursday and Friday for a Final Two Days

The official yearbook photographer will be back on the campus Thursday and Friday of next week in the Commerce Building for positively the last time. It had not been planned that he come back after last Saturday, and it is quite inconvenient for him to do so, but due to the fact that some students, who actually want pictures, were unable to secure them in time, arrangements have been made with him to return for two more days.

The majority of students have already had pictures taken, but there are a few who have not. This will absolutely be the last chance for anyone to get his picture in the yearbook, so all who have failed to do so already, are urged to come to the temporary studio Thursday or Friday ready for the photographer. There will not be another chance.

Virginia Carlton Math. Prof.

Virginia Carlton, '39, has recently been appointed Professor of Mathematics at Georgia Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia.

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal

Pictured above are the newly elected officers of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. In the top picture are Bill Graham, president; Peg Hawkins, vice-president; Camp Flournoy, treasurer, and Buddy Kinnebrew, secretary. In the center picture are shown Gene Hilliard, president; Jimmy Thibodeaux, vice-president; Gerry Baird, secretary, and Joe Stephens, treasurer. The lower group consists of Tom Griffith, president; Glenny Harmon, secretary; Susie Mulkey, vice-president, and Bill Reagan, treasurer.

First Spanish Club Meeting Wednesday in S. U. Building

The first meeting of the year for the Spanish Club will be held next Wednesday in the Student Union Building, according to Mr. White, faculty sponsor of the organization. Election of officers for the coming year will be a feature of the meeting.

Last Year's Grads Teach In Shreveport Schools

Frances Goodson and Lucy Bettis, popular members of the '41 graduating class, have joined the ranks of the teaching profession. Miss Bettis is instructing the youngsters at Line Avenue School, while Miss Goodson is doing her share for the youth of the nation at Creswell.

Kapers' Kash Kontest

Kollege Kapers has announced a contest open to all students of the college.

$2.00 will be paid for a brief jingle to start the show off with a bang (like the Dentine contest on the radio).

$1.00 will be paid for jokes that can be used in the show.

$15.00 will be given for an original three-act play.

Kapers Try-out This Afternoon
2:00—Orchestra only
2:45—New try-outs
3:00—Everybody — old and new.

FIRST STUDENT CAMPUS DANCE IS SUCCESSFUL

Held in School Gym Last Friday With Many Students Taking Part in Dancing

The first "on-the-campus" dance ever to be held by Centenary students was a big success last Friday night in the school gymnasium. This first attempt was sponsored by the Women's Club of the college, who prepared excellent refreshments for the host of students that filled the large room.

Music by Dr. Hal Mulley and his orchestra began promptly at eight o'clock, and from this time on the students began to arrive singly and in groups to take part in their first student-wide dance of the year.

The dance was open to any student who cared to attend and from all appearances a large portion of the student body was on hand to take part in the festivities of the evening.

Many faculty members were present at the affair with their wives and several joined the dancing students.

The entire evening had an atmosphere of good fellowship, not only among the students themselves, but also between the students and faculty members.

The Student Senate shared a portion of the expense of the dance. The use of the gymnasium was given without cost to the students, and the orchestra donated part of their playing time without charge, so there really was not much expense involved. Therefore no charge was made upon the individual student as he entered the door.

The Maroon Jackets served as hostesses for the evening, keeping the record book at the door and helping in general with the dance. Several ladies of Centenary Women's Club were present helping with sandwiches and punch served in the lobby of the gym.

TWO 'SWEETHEARTS' ARE CHOSEN BY CENTENARY ORGANIZATIONS

Azalie Webb Named Sweetheart of The Band Last Monday in Band Election

In an election held last Monday afternoon the Centenary College Band voted to have Azalie Webb, popular junior student, for their official "Sweetheart of the Band" this year.

The newly elected sweetheart will take over her duties immediately, which consist of marching before the band in their demonstrations, such as those given at the halves of football games, and sponsoring the band in all activities.

The Centenary varsity in a recent election named Glenny Harmon, pretty sophomore, the Sweetheart of the Gentlemen for the coming year.

The first official duty of the sweetheart consisted of helping the boys at the recent "C" Club open house. Glenny will help on similar occasions throughout the year.

Graham, Hilliard, Griffith Are Three 'Prexies' Elected

Elections Held in General Class Meetings Monday During Assembly

The annual class elections for the three upper classes were held last Monday during chapel period in the Arts Building. Each class met in a general meeting to decide officers for the coming year.

In the senior class Bill Graham was elected president. To work with Graham will be Peg Hawkins, vice-president; Buddy Kinnebrew, secretary, and Camp Flournoy, treasurer.

The juniors elected Gene Hilliard for their prexy. Vice-president is Jimmy Thibodeaux; secretary, Jerry Baird, and treasurer, Joe Stephens.

Tom Griffith was again chosen as president of his class when students elected him head of the sophomore class. Susie Mulkey was named vice-president, Glenny Harmon, secretary, and Bill Reagan, treasurer.

This, of course, will increase the number in the Student Senate by three, since the constitution provides that each class have a representative in the Senate. As a general rule the president of the class is automatically made a member of the Senate. However, if he is already a member, then it becomes necessary for the vice-president to serve as representative for the class. Of the group above only Gene Hilliard is already a member, so the other two president will take their seats in the Senate at its next meeting. The junior class representative will be the new secretary, however, since both the president and vice-president are already members.

'C' Club Holds Its First Open House

Members of the C Club, composed of the lettermen of Centenary's three sports, were hosts to Centenary students, faculty, and friends, following the game Saturday night.

Open house was held in the Club room at the Gym. Receiving the guests were Glenny Harmon, new-elected "Sweetheart of the Gentlemen," and Claude Teal, president of the club.

Colorful flowers were placed throughout the club room and a white top hat filled with bright flowers was used as a centerpiece. LaRue Powell, Mabel Boddie, Ann Burnette, and Lou Dell Liston presided at the punch table.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Member
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor
Associate Editor—Ann Burnett
Sports Editor—Burl Sullivan
Circulation Manager—Azalie Webb
FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager
Reporters: Ellen Eastham
Leroy Scott
Arthur Shuey
Barbara Harris
Mabel Boddie
Jack Keenan
Hutch Phillips
Jake Cullick
Dudley Beene
J. L. Solomon
Jean Clark
Mary Foster Peyton

Freshmen Rules

The freshmen rules as written by the orientation committee are not exceptionally difficult to follow this year. However, we cannot help but notice that a few freshmen are not living up to all the requirements. We always notice one or two that do not have a cap.

It isn't a great thing to ask of a new student. A little cap wouldn't detract much from the personal appearance of those who seem to consider themselves the exceptions to a rule that was supposedly meant for all the first-year students. In many schools the orientation program is quite noticeably much more strenuous than that at Centenary. We don't require much and the least the students can do for the school in which they have chosen to begin their college careers is to recognize the authority of the government, which is, after all, elected by the students and certainly is for the students.

Failure to cooperate in the activities of the school causes a student to miss something that rightfully is his. All the upper classmen will agree that their freshman year was the happiest year of their college life. To fail to take advantage of that first year is simply to deprive oneself of experiences that will be fondly recalled as the "good ole college days" in the years to come.

This protest is not directed toward that very large majority of freshmen who have cooperated so splendidly the last two weeks. They are experiencing no great inconveniences by virtue of their obeying the rules. Nor is it meant for the few frosh who have jobs which will not permit them to observe some of the regulations. But it is meant for those few who either have not cooperated at all, or who have lately been rather negligent about wearing their caps. To you few we say, come on and get into the swing of things.

Start wearing those caps. The time is drawing near when you will have an opportunity to prove that you do not want to wear them any longer. But until you do, do not make everyone consider you a poor sport by thinking yourself an exception to the rules made for all freshmen.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Positively your last chance to get your picture in the Yoncopin will be next Thursday and Friday when Milburne will be on the campus for absolutely the last time.

Another Friday is here and we bring you the latest news of the week:

If you want boogie-woogie, jive, swing, etc., ask Freeman. We really do like the kind of music he plays. Seems like this year's Frosh bunch has everything.

They call June Cook "Balfour." Now, why? Because of those crested lockets, bracelets, and rings? June, you do right well for yourself—also with a certain A. & M. Captain, Charlie, Sonny, and about six more.

Looks like there is an Austin Club in the offing—ask Head, Walker, or Williams about it. Oh, well, we really don't blame them at all since it's Patsy Coffey. We might even include Scott but, then, he's usually included on all the clubs—no slam intended, Patsy.

Lorraine Snell and her Lts.—goodness, girl, you really get along—or do you? It's really bad when he asks one of your sorority sisters for a date—and right in front of you at that.

That song "Walking by the River" has no effect on Mary Catherine Apple any more. We just can't understand why not. Could it be that an old flame does die?

We thought that Judson Kelly, that handsome man, was definitely just the one for Coburn, but it looks like Lyons and Beene have stepped in to replace him, or is it that Friddle had a little something to do with it?

Paging Little Connell to teach us that Belcher drawl. How about it, kid?

Dottie Freeze is also getting around lately—and not only with her four-year steady, but with everyone else.

We think Daugherty should wake up. With bloneness like Norman Robertson around, he really should.

Arthur Herold is dating Va. Graham and Arthur thinks he's a pretty good man on that deal. How about it, Va.—and your correspondence?

This is repetition probably, but maybe you would all like to know that Melvin Sproull and Helen Jennings are still trying to make a go of their five-year romance.

Hate to be bringing Virginia Friddle in again, but we have heard that she is news, especially since the other night when she and

MANY STUDENTS TRY OUT FOR '41 KOLLEGE KAPERS

Auditions Every Friday Afternoon in the College Chapel

Tryouts for the 1942 edition of Centenary's student show, Kollege Kapers, are held on Friday of each week.

The following students have tried out for parts in the cast (the list does not include those trying out for parts in the play and skits): Piano: Jean Evans, Shreveport; Dave Freeman, Shreveport.

M. C.: James McGregor, Shreveport; Dudley Beene, Shreveport; Jack Keenan, Shreveport; John Woods, Shreveport.

Trumpets: Sam Swor, Shreveport; Bill Booth, Shreveport.

Saxophone: Ellen Eastham, Mooringsport.

Clarinets: Harriett Crawford, Shreveport; Aubrey McClelland, Shreveport; Charles Huddleston, Shreveport.

Vibraphones: Phyllis Haigler, Shreveport.

Drums: Bob Pugh, Shreveport; Foster Hamner, Shreveport; Lee Snow, Shreveport.

Vocalists: Earline Gillian, Shreveport; Felice Hicks, Shreveport; Claire Tinnin, Shreveport; Martha Stevens, Mooringsport; Cleo Christianson, Shreveport; Justine Holmes, Shreveport; Jean Evans, Shreveport; Margaret Moffet, Shreveport; Gladys Tippet, Shreveport; Dorothy Viasco, Shreveport; Margaret Owens, Wichita Falls, Texas; Phyllis Haigler, Shreveport; Elizabeth Matthews, Shreveport; Martha Lewis, Hot Springs, Ark.; Gladys Williams, Greenwood.

Vocal Trio: Jean Evans, Shreveport; Carolyn Canon, Shreveport; Gerry Baird, Shreveport.

Pack Rats: Dudley Beene, Shreveport; C. H. Vandegaer, Corpus Christi, Texas; Foster Philyaw, Waskom, Texas; Bill Patton, Shreveport; Jack Gold, Shreveport; Jack Comegys, Shreveport.

Whistling: Rose Arme, Shreveport.

Reading: Edna Mae Bradley, Shreveport.

Tap Dancing: Margaret Haggard, Greenwood; Virginia Friddle, Gladewater, Texas.

Students in school who were with the show last year include:

Piano: G. L. Blaxton, Shreveport; C. W. Williams, Shreveport; Charlotte Newsom, Shreveport.

Comedians: Camp Flournoy, Shreveport; Roland Achee, Shreveport.

Trumpet: J. L. Solomon, Shreveport.

Accordion: Jimmie Brown, Beaumont, Texas.

Guitar: C. H. Vandegaer, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Vocalists: Biddie Boddie, Shreveport; Billy Bradford, Shreveport; Carley Fox, Shreveport.

Pack Rats: Arthur Shuey, Shreveport; Burl Sullivan, Shreveport.

Tap Dancer: Rosemary Neal, Bossier City.

Puppets: Frank McAneny, Shreveport.

Margaret Owens had callers (and they weren't there).

Martha Hart is really doing OK these days. What is wrong, Burks?

News—or is it?

Head and that Mooringsport girl.

Marguerite Haggard and her string, or is it a line?

What do certain people accomplish when in the presence of Carley Fox?

Martha Stevens is a second Brewer—listen to her rendition of "Deed I Do."

Burton and her beartrap.

The time to take care of your hair is while you have it.

For intelligent and beneficial service on hair-grooming—

CAMERON BROS.
BARBER SHOP
307 Milam St.

COLONIAL HALL HAS INTERESTING NINETEEN-YEAR CAMPUS HISTORY

Dormitory's Capacity Taxed During Last Several Years

The history of Colonial Hall, "the home of the beautiful women," has always been something of a mystery to the students of Centenary College. With the aid of Dr. Shaw most of the facts have been made available and the story of this familiar structure is here given.

Colonial was one of the group of buildings erected on the campus in 1922. For a short while it was used to provide classrooms for the students, but later it was made into the "girls' dormitory." It has remained a dormitory since that time.

The architecture of the building is similar to that of Mount Vernon, George Washington's home. Its approximate cost was $50,000.

The Centenary Women's Club has sponsored and paid for many of the improvements which add to the beauty of the hall and the comfort of the girls. Among these improvements are the hardwood floors, living-room rugs, porch furniture, and the papering of some of the rooms.

Mrs. Clara Cox, the dormitory hostess, came to Centenary from Whitworth College in Mississippi. She has lived in the hall now for three years. All the girls agree that Mrs. Cox has been a very efficient hostess and a mother to all of them.

One of the superstitions of the dormitory is the famous "marrying room." It seems that all the girls who live in this room either get married, engaged, or wear fraternity pins. Zillah Lou Cory now haunts this room, but we know many other girls who would come back to school another year just to get that room.

The only defect that anyone can seem to find with the dormitory is the fact that so many girls are obliged to use but one telephone. There is a time limit theoretically to the use of the phone, but to hear some of the male students of the campus talk, the conclusion is reached that it is next to impossible to phone into the dorm around seven o'clock, especially on Saturday or Sunday night.

In recent years the number of girls applying for rooms in Colonial has reached such proportions that many of them have found it necessary to accept rooms in the cottages immediately behind the larger building.

Girls from all over the Ark-La-Tex area are to be found living in Colonial Hall. There are also several from other sections of the country. A few are from Dallas and other parts of Texas as well as the southern part of Louisiana.

The credit for naming the girls' dormitory is generally given to Dr. A. M. Shaw, professor in the college English department.

—Patronize Our Advertisers—

PROFESSOR SEE NAMED SPEAKERS' CHAIRMAN OF U.C.O.'S 1941 BUREAU

Robert S. See, head of the college business administration department, has accepted appointment as speakers bureau chairman for the 1941 United Community Organization campaign.

"Our job in this campaign is to explain the work of the United Community Organization agencies and answer questions pertaining to the services which they give to the community," said Mr. See.

Speakers will appear in places of business, before employee groups, clubs and other organizations.

Positively your last chance to get your picture in the Yoncopin will be next Thursday and Friday when Milburne will be on the campus for absolutely the last time.

DON BROWN OFFICER OF DIXIE ARTIST UNIT

Don Brown, head of the Centenary College Art Department, was elected vice-president of the new southern group, organization of Louisiana, Mississippi, and Texas artists, at a meeting at Baton Rouge.

Members of the organization met at the home of Conrad Albrizio, Louisiana State University art faculty member, and were honored by the Baton Rouge members at a barbecue luncheon.

Several hundred persons were on hand for the opening of the group's showing there at the university, its first traveling exhibition of the year.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

CENTENARY

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE
Always 9c & 22c Phone 7-5971

SAT., OCT. 18—DOUBLE FEATURE
"BOWERY BLITZKRIEG" and
"DANCE HALL"

SUN. & MON., OCT. 19-20
Ronald Colman and Anna Lee
"MY LIFE WITH CAROLINE"

TUES. & WED., OCT. 21-22
"TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE"
THURS. & FRI., OCT. 23-24
"MEET JOHN DOE"

Don't You Want Your GRANDCHILDREN To See YOUR PICTURE in the YEARBOOK?

At the request of about 50 people who haven't had their Yearbook Picture made, we have persuaded the Photographer to return for 2 days.

COMMERCE BLDG.

THURS., FRI., Oct. 30 and 31

(Thurs. 11 to 5) — (Fri. 9 to 12-1:30 to 4)

You trust its quality

Pause... Go refreshed

Coca-Cola TRADE-MARK

Each time you taste ice-cold Coca-Cola, you are reminded that here is the quality of genuine goodness. Experience... many a refreshing experience... has taught people everywhere to trust the quality of Coca-Cola.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

5¢

GENTS EAGER TO REVENGE LAST YEAR'S DEFEAT BY RED RAIDERS

Play Speedy Texas Tech Team in Lubbock Tomorrow Night

By Wirt Williams

Three weapons will be deployed by Texas Tech against the Gents at Lubbock Saturday—speed, speed, and more speed.

From flank to flank, from quarter to tailback, the Red Raiders of the Plains probably will be the fastest football aggregation ever attacked. For their speed is a double weapon—a club to batter the foe to its heels and a rapier for the swift-as-light thrust that accounts for points.

But the Gentlemen will be ready to shoot the works—will be eager to wipe out the memory of a 26-6 trouncing they received last year. And there is another incentive: in the first five-game series begun in 1936 Centenary has yet to take a decision from the Raiders, though in 1939 they came off with a scoreless tie.

Weakest link in Jake Hanna's football machine to date has been the old bugaboo of small college elevens—inadequate reserve power. But the mentor has been working hard all week to bolster the shock troops. Boiled down, the Gents' loss to Hardin-Simmons last week can be attributed to the fact after waging a beautiful battle for nearly three quarters. Better-balanced strength will add to the Maroon and White's power.

The Gentlemen will find themselves uncomfortably familiar with Coach Dell Morgan's vaunted "T" formation, since this year they have been impaled on its sharp end. Another tough nut to crack will be the Raiders' plentitude of ammunition—their veteran 58-man squad is universally seasoned, swift and rugged.

Rogers Smith, junior left half, is the Texans' No. 1 leather lugger, having accounted for 19 of the Raiders' 64 points scored all year. Veterans Don Austin and Thayne Amonett and J. R. Callahan, sophomore sensation, round out the back field.

The line is almost as fast, and is five deep at many positions, which may explain why Tech has three straight victories behind her this year and seeks its fourth.

Probable Starting Lineup

Duncan	LE	Teel
Shanks	LT	Baldwin
Caraway	LG	Allums
Pipes	C	Schad
Baollia	RG	Whitehurst
Cudd	RT	Heath
Tillery	RE	Daugherty
Eain	QB	Lawless
Smith	LH	Raley
Austin	RH	Johnson
Dvorckek	FB	White

W.A.A. Badminton Tourney Registers Participants at Gym

Azalie Webb and Mary Foster Peyton have been placed in charge of arrangements for the woman's Badminton Tournament. All women students desiring to compete will be registered in the gymnasium this afternoon. At this time dates for the first games will be assigned.

The first in a series of tournaments involving Centenary's sportswomen, and inter-mural activity, the badminton tournament will begin Monday. Throughout the year there will be competition in several fields, such as tennis, golf, and swimming. The Women's Athletic Association is sponsoring these activities, and seven cups will be awarded to the victors in each sport.

Patronize Our Advertisers, Please!

"Chief" Johnson

This is the second in a series of articles introducing the Gents to the students. Truman "Chief" Johnson plays the wingback position and is the only senior letterman. He weighs 190 pounds and stands five feet, 10 inches in height. Johnson is 22 years old and is one of the team's outstanding ground-gainers. He attended Idabel High School, playing four years of football and every position on the team but center. Upon graduation he enrolled at Southeastern Junior College and played first-string ball. He came to Centenary in the spring of 1940 and began playing in the fall of that year. Last year he ran 85 yards against St. Louis and his outstanding feat for this year was a 94-yard run for a touchdown in the Creighton game. Chief is a major in history and is taking CAA training. His ambition is to be a football coach.

Your Answer—Gentlemen

This week the girls of the campus had their chance at that important question, "What do you like to see the boys on the campus wearing?" and here are the answers:

Gerry Baird—"I like slack suits, light blue tweed coats, and ties with shirts that require hem."

Betty Gordon Smith: "Sport clothes and saddle shoes. Shirt tails 'in' very definitely."

LaRue Powell — "Sleeveless sweaters, no ties, mostly sport clothes."

Azalie Webb—"Sport clothes, sleeveless sweaters, and conservative colors."

Helen "Bobo" Dwire—"No bow ties or gaudy socks. Light-colored wool shirts, pants and sweaters. No gaudy clothes; I hate them."

Peg Hawkins—"Slacks and sport shirts in at the waist. I like sweaters too, but no plaid shirts."

Kathryn Moreneau—"White shirts, ties, and shined shoes."

Carolyn Williams — "Tweed slacks, sport clothes, and sweaters."

SECOND PARADE HELD LAST SATURDAY NOON

The second parade of the year was conducted last Saturday at noon by the students in conjunction with the fire prevention parade. The Centenary band and Maroon Jackets led the cars of the students through the downtown streets heralding the approach of the football game that night. Several cars took part in the procession all decked out with maroon and white streamers.

H.-S. BEATS GENTS, 27-6

NASH MAKES GENTS' ONLY TOUCHDOWN

Saturday night the students had their first chance to see the Gents display a fine offensive and a good defense. They held the Cowboys for three quarters of the game and then were bulldogged, 27 to 6. It was a repetition of the other games—Centenary apparently had Hardin-Simmons on the run during the second and early part of the third period, only to have numerous injuries and lack of reserves cut down their efficiency.

The Gents were clicking like a well-oiled machine when Raley, Allums, Feducia, Heath and White were forced to the sidelines due to injuries. They will have recovered sufficiently to perform in the Texas Tech game so the squad will be at full strength, except for Angel and Golson whose hurts have not yet mended.

Coach Hanna started five sophomores against the Cowboys. Jack Baldwin, a center who was converted to end, was shiften to tackle and did remarkably well for his first chance in his new slot. Dick Schad, Charles Birtman, Raymond Daugherty, Jack Nash and David White completed the sophomores in the starting lineup.

The Gents' touchdown was a result of a second period pass from "Chunking Charlie" Birtman to Jack Nash, who caught the ball on the twenty, foiled two tacklers and scooted unmolested down the sideline for six points.

In the last period the befuddled and baffled Gents watched the Abilene team run over and around them to boost their score from 6 to 27. Although the boys tried hard, the opposition was not to be stopped, and made yardage at will.

REX Phone 7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

FRI. & SAT., OCT. 17-18
Ann Southern and George Murphy in
"RINGSIDE MAISIE"
Disney Cartoon—News

SUN. MON. & TUES. OCT. 19-20-21
Walter Pidgeon and Greer Garson
"BLOSSOMS IN THE DUST"
Cartoon—News

WED. & THURS. OCT. 22-23
Betty Field and John Wayne
"SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS"
Cartoon—News—Spotlight

Band Maneuvers Expertly At Hardin-Simmons Game

The Centenary College Band really "did themselves proud" last Saturday night with their marching demonstration between the halves of the Centenary and Hardin-Simmons football game. The students taking part in the marching showed the result of much preparation and drilling on their part.

Patronize Our Advertisers, Please!

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

340 Ockley

Mrs. Sara Tully

JUST TO CALL YOUR ATTENTION!

We have never advertised this in the Conglomerate—but we have the most up-to-date and modern repair department of any store in town. If your watch is "sick" or your new ring too small, avail yourself of the vast experience of our firm in this service. If it can be repaired, we can do it, and at moderate and just prices.

Don't Forget Also—We Have Everything in Jewelry, Watches, Leather and Crested Goods!

LEONARD'S

Phone 2-5088

320-322 Ward Bldg.

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

ARKANSAS
LOUISIANA
GAS
COMPANY

Another student has risen to the ranks of the Varsity by his own ability and versatility. Since the beginning of his football career at Dear Ole Centenary, he has played three positions in major competition.

He began his freshman year as a center. After the entire team had reported and Coach Hanna discovered he was short on ends, he switched him to the end position, and then because of a lack of tackles had him transferred to that slot in which he distinguished himself in the Hardin-Simmons game.

Jack Baldwin is 20 years old, weighs 206 pounds and is the tallest man on the team at 6 feet 4 inches. He played under Coach Hanna for Gladewater High in 1937-'38 and '39 and was mentioned for all-district champion on all-Texas prep school grid berth.

Baldwin is a versatile athlete and in addition to football, goes in for basketball and track.

Should Coach Hanna get in a serious spot and need a good punter, he could pull Jack out of the line and watch him boot the ball for about fifty yards.

His father is a truck driver and Jack spends his summers working in the oil fields on a pipeline crew. Not only is Baldwin an ace ball player but in the opinion of the students he is a regular fellow.

Positively your last chance to get your picture in the Yoncopin will be next Thursday and Friday when Milburne will be on the campus for absolutely the last time.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

YOU'LL BE EASY GOING AND MAKE GOOD SHOWING IN WINTHROPS

You've a real treat in store for you if you've never worn Winthrop LEISURE shoes. You'll find a happy combination of easy-going comfort and rugged good looks. It's a combination that gets the call on campuses from coast to coast.

Winthrop Colonials
$5.50 to $6.50
Winthrop Shoes
$7.50 up

$6.50

THE MASTER SHOE STORE

Phelps
Shoe Co. Ltd.

ESTABLISHED 1869

Shreveport, Louisiana

INSIDE AND OUT

There is a rumor that Freshmen had better wear their caps or start sitting on the first row in chapel! Beware!

We also noticed that Leroy (he of the loose hair and mouth) Scott has taken somebody's place with Clare Tinnin.

I wasn't told, I only hear . . . — that Peg Hawkins is going to get married . . . in 1947 that the parking lot is full of holes that J. Brown is sweating Graham (what, again!!!)

that Phil Clifton is practically going steady that Cleo Christianson can sing, too that Lewellen is sweating that LSU flash Ledi Lee Phillips (or maybe it's the other way around) that "Handsome" Tom Griffith and Cotton Robins said, quote, that after football season they would really give the girls a break, unquote that Joanna Glassell knows the old idiom "while the cat's away the mice will play" that Jessica Harris is called "childish" with due reason that B. G. Smith is afraid of dogs, bird or otherwise.

that Hutch Phillips was quite a boxer at LSU—ask him that the girls in Colonial think? they need two telephones that Norman Walker has the "hots" for Pat Coffey that Slink Mink Gibbs has another one of those little cars that Felice likes so much that everybody makes mistakes (among other things)

Fraternity Pledges Name Officers For Coming School Year

Last Monday night was election night for the pledges of the three fraternities on the campus.

The Kappa Alpha pledges named Jimmy Moore as their president. Horace Alvord was elected vice-president; Tom Bush, secretary, and E. W. Harris, treasurer.

The Lambda Chi Alpha pledge officers are: President, Russell Coleman; vice-president, Russell Maddox; secretary, Will Duretta; and treasurer, F. W. Kneipp.

Kappa Sigma pledges chose Toby Adair for their president, with Bobby Lindsay serving as vice-president; Ernest Talbert as secretary; Foster Hamner as treasurer, and David Freeman, sergeant-at-arms.

Dr. Shaw Guest Speaker At Two Occasions Last Week

Dr. A. M. Shaw of the college English Department served as guest speaker upon two occasions this past week.

His first talk was made Saturday night to the Hypatia Club. The theme of the program was Southern Literature and Dr. Shaw's subject was a discussion of Stephen Vincent Benet's "John Brown's Body."

Dr. Shaw's second address was at the Broadmoor Methodist Church's Fellowship Banquet Wednesday night at the Caddo Hotel.

3 CENTENARY STUDENTS NOW D'MOLAY OFFICERS

Three students of Centenary have been honored by the Shreveport chapter of DeMolay. For the next four months J. L. Solomon will be Master Councilor; James Beck, Senior Councilor, and Frank Dienst, Junior Councilor.

STUDENT FORCED DOWN

Barron Johns, student taking the CAA course offered by Centenary, was forced to land the plane he was flying in a pasture in Broadmoor yesterday morning, due to fog. His fuel supply was low. Johns is an upperclassman.

—Patronize Our Advertisers—

SOCIETY

The Centenary Gentlemen were honor-guests of the Zetas at their lodge on Friday at 10, chapel hour. Peg Hawkins, president of the chapter, presided at the punch bowl, and the pledges assisted.

The Chi Omega sorority entertained their new pledges with the first formal dance Wednesday night, at the Student Union Building from eight until twelve. The sorority colors, cardinal and straw, were used in decoration. An enlarged pledge pin was placed over the orchestra, and the sorority letters were used at the other end of the hall. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Bob See, Mr. Schuele, and Dr. Morehead.

Tonight the Alpha Xi Delta sorority will introduce their pledges to the campus with a formal at the S. U. B. from nine to twelve. Preceding the dance the pledges will be hostesses at an open house in the lodge for members and their escorts. The Student Union Building will be decorated with Alpha Xi colors.

The Zeta pledges were hostesses to pledges of Alpha Xi Delta and Chi Omega on Saturday afternoon from two until four, and open house was held on Sunday afternoon from three until five for pledges of the fraternities and the members of the freshman football team. Colorful bowls of fall flowers were used in decoration. Receiving the guests were the pledge officers, Dorothy Graham, president; Myrtle Canon, vice-president; Martha Stevens, secretary, and Lucille Webb, treasurer. Peg Hawkins and Elise Montgomery assisted in serving.

Aufait Entertains New Members With Party

Aufait, in recognition of its new members, entertained with a lawn party on Monday night. The girls motored to Virginia Rogers's home on the Mansfield Road where badminton, croquet, cards, and other games were enjoyed. Wieners and marshmallows were roasted and the girls spent the remainder of the enjoyable evening sitting around the bonfire singing songs.

Their next meeting will be held next Monday night at 7 o'clock in the Student Union Building at which time the new members will be formally recognized.

Mrs. Bryant Davidson chaperoned this first function of Aufait.

ZETAS CELEBRATE THEIR FOUNDERS DAY

Wednesday, October 15, 1941, was the forty-third birthday of Zeta Tau Alpha. The members and pledges of Beta Iota celebrated their annual Founders Day with an impressive service under the leadership of the chapter president, Peg Hawkins. Following the services, supper was served at six o'clock to a large group of members and pledges.

JOURNALISM PROF INVITES STAFF TO VISIT STATE FAIR

Mr. Dolph Frantz, instructor of Journalism at Centenary, has invited two members of the Conglomerate staff to register at the Washington-Youree Hotel Saturday morning as representatives to the annual Press Day at the Louisiana State Fair.

Positively your last chance to get your picture in the Yoncopin will be next Thursday and Friday when Milburne will be on the campus for absolutely the last time.

The Navy's Choice It's Chesterfield

Copyright 1941, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

for a Definitely Milder
COOLER BETTER TASTE

Smokers everywhere know you can travel a long way and never find another cigarette that can match Chesterfield for a Milder Cooler Better Taste.

It's Chesterfield's Right Combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos that wins the approval of smokers all over the country. Let the Navy's choice be your choice . . . make your next pack Chesterfield.

EVERYWHERE YOU GO They Satisfy

FORECAST

(Continued from Page One)

Inclusion of three student representatives on the Discipline Committee of the college, which is one of the most important of the faculty committees.

Next came the merging of the Chapel and Religious Committees of the Senate with the corresponding committees of the faculty to provide for greater cooperation between the two groups during the coming year.

Then there was the appointment of four students to form half of the committee on social activities to prepare whatever regulations may prove necessary for school social functions.

All in all, the administration of the college has done much this year to place more and more responsibility in the hands of the students. By doing this they are showing that in their opinion the student body has as last progressed to the point where they are capable of managing their own affairs to some extent anyway. Let us be sure and prove to them the correctness of this belief by doing what duties we are allowed to take part in wisely, and in a manner which will further convince them that we are capable of assuming even more responsibilities with regard to student activities, whether they be as members of social activities committees or otherwise. We must have a beginning somewhere for more government by the students, and if we do show now that we are worthy of these additional powers, then have no doubt but what more power will be forthcoming.

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE		SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS
President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....	7-2406	Fraternities:
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....	7-6571	Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....	7-4610	2910 Centenary Boulevard.....
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....	7-1207	Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....	8-7210	Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS		336 Columbia Avenue.....
Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)		Carl Vollmer.....
Ann Burnette, President.....		Lamba Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)		Centenary Campus.....
Claude Teel, President.....		Richard Norton, President.....
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic).....		Sororities:
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....		Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry).....		Centenary Campus.....
James Knox Smith, President.....		La Rue Powell, President.....
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical).....		Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Ray Goens, President.....		Centenary Campus.....
Chi Sigma Nu (Education).....		Peg Hawkins, President.....
Margaret Gillespie, President.....		Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS		Centenary Campus.....
Cenhomee Club (Home Economics)		Mary Alice Shores, President.....
Meredith Lawless, President.....		Ceneoes (Intersorority)
Commerce Club (Commerce)		Gladys Tippet, President.....
Lewis Fennell, President.....		Non-Greek, Women:
Women's Athletic Association		LouDell Liston, President.....
Azalie Webb, President.....		Note: Any corrections or additions to Geology Club (Geology).....		this activity list should be reported to
Irl Harper, President.....		the CONGLOMERATE at once. When
Cheerleaders		student officers are elected, we should
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 7-3888		like to have their names for this depart-

Finer Quality at Lower Prices

In Men's FALL & WINTER
OVER
COATS

In Fine Fabrics and Colors That You'll Enjoy Wearing

$14.75

PENNEY'S
J. C. PENNEY COMPANY, INC.

For Refreshing Cold Drinks and Delicious
Visit . . .

THE CUB

East Kings Hwy.
Phone 7-7301

"CUB-BURGERS,"

Mrs. Albert Farnell
W. P. Melton

FOR BETTER SCHOOL
WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC

MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

7-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, October 24, 1941.

Number 6

Tomorrow Named 'Centenary Day' at Louisiana State Fair

Climaxed by Football Game Between Gentlemen and Washington U. of St. Louis.

The 1941 edition of the Louisiana State Fair now in progress will continue through next Monday with its collection of marvels both educational and amusing.

Whether one craves pig pens or art museums, it is possible to travel in a few minutes from the wonders of the livestock exhibits to the perhaps even greater wonders of the side shows. On the way between these two destinations, of course, it always best to stop and partake of a mass of floss candy, frozen custard, hamburger, pop corn, and a few other delicacies. Then after that it becomes necessary to ride a couple of times on the "octopus" or something to shake up everything in general and aid the digestive functions.

Finally, when the side show sector is reached comes the question of deciding which show is most worthy of having your filthy lucre descend upon its counter. Then there is always the problem, usually affecting this decision, as to how many people one knows are in the vicinity and might see one enter said side show should one decide to part with said shekels in the first place. Most people give up and go in to see the monkeys. You can't go wrong there.

Two of the Conglomerate Staff were given press passes by the (Continued on Page Four)

Baptist Union Sends Six Delegates to La. Annual Convention

October 23, 24, 25 Dates Set for Meeting at Louisiana State University

The Baptist Student Union of Centenary College will send a delegation of six students to attend the annual Baptist Student Convention at Louisiana State University October 23, 24, 25.

The principal speakers for this occasion will be G. Kearnie Keegan, who will make an address at the banquet Friday night; Dr. Ellis Fuller of Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. E. A. McDowell of Louisville, Ky.

Two hundred fifty students are expected to attend the meetings.

There is a Baptist Student Union on all the campuses in Louisiana and all will be represented at this annual meeting.

Y. M. C. A. LAUNCHES YEAR'S RECREATIONAL PROGRAM

Hallowe'en Party Nov. 1 First Function of Season; All Students Invited

At a meeting of the executive group of the Social and Recreational Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, Thursday, October 16, plans were begun for its 1941-42 recreational program.

Functions are being planned to take place at each of the special days throughout the year, such as Hallowe'en, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and such occasions. A fine recreational program will be planned for each event.

The first of these parties will be a Hallowe'en party to be held Nov. 1 at the Y.M.C.A.

These activities are open to all young men and women of the city who are over high school age. All the students of Centenary are invited to attend any or all of these functions which will be held in the Y.M.C.A. building downtown.

GLENNY HARMON

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal
Glenn Harmon was recently elected "Sweetheart of the Gentlemen" by the Centenary varsity. She was hostess at the "C" Club open house and will preside at similar functions for the Gentlemen throughout the year.

Maroon Jackets Select Two New Alternates at Meet

The members of the Maroon Jackets met with Mrs. Campbell at her home on Thursday, October 16, to discuss the activities of the year and to elect two new alternates. Gerry Baird will take the alternate position of Azalie Webb, recently chosen Sweetheart of the Band, and Jeanette Craber will become alternate in place of Katherine Hooper, as her work in the office prohibits her marching with the Jackets.

During the meeting the members discussed the rules and traditions of the organization, and adjourned when Mrs. Campbell served ice cream and cookies.

This was the first meeting of the year of this kind with Mrs. Campbell, and the Jackets planned to continue other such meetings from time to time.

IF YOU WANT A 'SPECIAL' RUN TO THE RICE GAME NEXT WEEK, SEE DUDLEY BEENE!!!

AUFAIT

All girls not affiliated with any Greek organization on the campus and who wish to become recognized as a member of AUFait are urged to attend its meeting Monday night at 7 o'clock in the Student Union building.

LAVELLE MURPHY

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal
Lavelle Murphy, former Centenary grid star, displays the height that helped him snag those passes last year with the Gentlemen.

Second National Methodist Student Conference Held

Eight from Centenary Plan to Attend Meetings December 29-January 2 at Urbana

The Wesley Foundation of Methodism will have a celebration of a homecoming during the Christmas holidays of this season as some 1,500 Methodist student leaders gather together from throughout the nation on the campus of the University of Illinois for the presentation of the second national Methodist Student Youth Conference December 29-January 2 at Urbana, Illinois.

Among the 1,500 youth and adults will be six Centenary College students and two of the oldest college west of the Mississippi's adult leaders. Plans are being made for the attendance of a Louisiana delegation of 38 adults and students. The first national conference was held in the year 1937 at the Centenary Methodist Church located in St. Louis, Mo. Serving as theme for the second national meeting will be "World Reconstruction." Leading arrangements for the Louisiana delegation's attendance at the meeting are Bill Schule and A. C. Voran.

Emory Has First Campus Dance In 103 Years.

Decatur, Ga., Oct. 22.—Emory University students will dance on the campus Saturday night for the first time in the Methodist institution's 103-year history. The interfraternity council will sponsor the affair which was approved by the board of trustees.—Arkansas Gazette, Oct. 22.

FOOTBALL TICKETS

Football tickets for the Centenary - Washington University football game at the Fair will be on sale until 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Athletic building. The price of these tickets will be forty cents and they will not be available at the Fair grounds tomorrow.

So be sure and get your tickets before 10:30 in the morning because you will not be able to get them after that time.

AZALIE WEBB

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal
The new "Sweetheart of the Centenary Band" is Azalie Webb, above. She will be presented formally at the football game tomorrow afternoon at the Fair and will march with the band for the remainder of the year.

First Tea Dance Is Planned for Thursday

Merrie Mix-up Sponsored by Student Council of Dorm.

The Student Council of Residence Hall will sponsor a Merrie Mix-up on Thursday, October 30, from 4 'til 6 which will prove to be a very enjoyable afternoon for everyone who attends. No admission will be required but donations will be extended by those who wish to aid the council in paying for their page in the year-book.

This marks the first tea dance to be given in the history of the college and it is quite evident that many more such dances will be given.

Centenary Band Plans Fine Year

Our Band opened their marching season this year with their marching exhibition at the first game on September 20. Since then they have marched at all the games and the parade preceding the Hardin-Simmons game. We expect them to give a stellar performance at the game Saturday with Washington State University at the Louisiana State Fair. We are all hoping to see them go to Houston and show up the Rice band which is reputed to be one of the best in the country.

On the field the band is led by its co-drum majors, Bob Pugh and Charles Strickland. After the formal presentation Saturday of their new sweetheart, they will have another person fronting the band.

Also with this organization is another group, the Maroon Jackets, who have shared equal honors on and off the field, by their splendid cooperation and help at all times.

HOMEcoming QUEEN ELECTION

Nominations for the Homecoming Queen to reign over the festivities accompanying the homecoming celebration, will be taken in the student assembly next Wednesday morning. The election will be held the following Friday in the Student Union building. As is the custom the polls will be open from 9:00 until 2:00. Unless two-thirds of the student body casts votes, the election will not be legal, so all students are asked to be sure and vote.

The Homecoming Queen will be presented between halves of the T.C.U. game.

CENTENARY WILL TEACH NATIONAL DEFENSE COURSES

To Share in ESMDT Program by Teaching Special Courses in Sciences

All over the country colleges are volunteering their aid in the national defense programs getting under way throughout the land. In this matter Centenary is no exception. Our college has offered to provide courses for men in defense training, under the direction of the United States Department of Education.

Dr. W. R. Woolrich, dean of the School of Engineering at the University of Texas, who is regional director of the U. S. Department of Education for Louisiana and Texas, was on the Centenary campus recently to discuss plans for the inauguration of a system of defense training at Centenary. Plans were discussed at a meeting of Dr. Woolrich with Dr. Cline, Dean Hardin, Mr. McKnight, Centenary Director of extension work, Dr. Lowance, and several others of the school faculty.

Similar programs are already working in schools all over the country. Dr. Lowance spent the past summer in Pennsylvania on a project of this type. The whole work is a part of the E.S.M.D.T. (Engineering, Science, and Management Defense Training).

Centenary's share in the program is now under discussion in the U. S. Department of Education which will decide whether such a program should be installed here or not. If the plan does go through courses taught will be in engineering, physics, chemistry, and office management.

W.A.A. Conducts Initiation at Pit

Thursday, October 16, at 6:30 the Women's Athletic Association of Centenary College had its formal initiation by the barbecue pit.

During the impressive candle-lighting ceremony the officers explained the meaning and purposes of the W.A.A. After the officers' talks were finished, Mrs. Bryant Davidson, sponsor of the association, made a short talk.

The W.A.A. is beginning a promising year Tuesday when the first shuttlecock of the badminton tournament flies over the net. Tournaments in all the sports will follow the badminton and all women are invited to participate.

The following members attended the initiation:

Azalie Webb, Martha Stevens, Mary Foster Peyton, Ellen Eastham, Emily Prothro, Lucille Webb, Norman Robertson, Virginia Breithaupt, Lucy Bettis, Jackie Rogers, Altha Mix, Camille Hendricks, Mary Smith New, Joanna Glassell, Dorothy Graham, Frances Spengler, Martha Lewis, Margaret Moffett, Patsy Coffey, Carolyn Coburn, Jane Bartlett, Lu Cory, Eleanor Jenkins, Margaret Friend.

CENTENARY WOMEN'S CLUB MET OCT. 21

The Centenary Women's Club met October 21 at Colonial Hall. A large number of new members attended this initial meeting of the year.

Mrs. A. R. Campbell, dean of women, served tea at the session.

Mrs. Hardin was made a life member of the club.

Next month will be library month according to the program chairman.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Member
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Betty Gordon Smith, Ellen Eastham, Hutch Phillips, Jack Keenan, Eleanor Brown, Dudley Beene, Gloria Brown, Jake Cullick, Mary Foster Peyton, Rose Orme, J. L. Solomon, and Arthur Shuey.

WHAT ABOUT THE PEACE?

Education seems to be developing an increasing interest in concrete plans for the world after the war, even though peace is not in sight. At the New School for Social Research scholars of the University in Exile have for months worked on a "blueprint for peace," and now the state has granted to the New School a charter for a graduate school which in the words of Dr. Alvin Johnson "has been placed in a position to set up what is virtually an international school of political and social science closely knit to the practical economic, social and political problems of the times."

Other distinguished scholars continue to urge the colleges to take a long look ahead to the time of reconstruction. President Bowman of Johns Hopkins is one of these. The colleges themselves are presenting authorities in various political and economic fields to their students. And now President Wriston of Brown University, who is always to be heard with respect, has urged the establishment of a new government division to study the problems of peace on the same plane that the problems of war are studied in the army and navy war colleges.

Dr. Wriston would set up the proposed new division as an arm of the department of state to act as an agency for the professional training of diplomats and other foreign service men on a level not possible in any of the existing schools of diplomacy and foreign relations.

"The only chance that the fruits of victory may be less bitter than gall," he continues in his book, "Prepare for Peace," published by Harper & Brothers, "is through foresight, through careful attention to the shape of things to come. To insist that thought must wait until the war's end is to deny any meaning to the war at all. The entire technical section of the American delegation to the coming peace conference should be organized in skeleton outline at once." Dr. Wriston points out that if the task of the special division is well done there would be full assurance that the plenipotentiaries to the future conference would be well advised. "There would be available to the commissions and committees not only experts but men experienced in diplomatic protocol and the exigencies of negotiation. It would not be necessary to transform scholars overnight into negotiators and drafting officers, as at Paris after the last war."

This is all part of the growing appreciation of the importance of the tasks lying ahead of education.

Dr. Johnson has a word to say from a somewhat different point of view in the Journal of Adult Education. Dealing with youth and democracy, he asserts that "we do not have an educational setup that gives us the inherent strength to meet the forces of evil—the forces of evil revolution, rolling back toward barbarism, now abroad in the world. We are not equipping our youth to take their part in the defense of civilization. They foolishly think that there are short cuts to happiness." Thus on various fronts education is looking forward both through practical preparation for concrete tasks and through redefinition of ideals without which nothing is practical in the long run.—W. A. MacDonald in the New York Times.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

It's rumored that Rob Williams will soon receive a pin (frat pin) from down Tulane way. Say, Rob: when is it coming?—tell us about it.

We heard that Cook was a pledge in the Austin Club, but do pledges treat the founders to dinner? Maybe you could ask George Head.

This campus seemed quiet without Betty Lou Sumrell around, but since someone told Carolyn Clay that she was a second Betty Lou—well, we've had no more peace.

June Cook (Balfour) has been invited to A&M for Ring Week, and at Annapolis they are having a special week all for her benefit—June Week! Nice, huh?

We are calling Norman "Sister Orchid" now—by the way, why doesn't Beene hush about LSU? At least that is what Pope wants to know?

We wish we could tell Philyaw

Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron

Dr. Everett R. Clinchy

Father Vincent C. Donovan, O.P.

Headliners at the Loyola University Institute of Human Relations Oct. 28 and 29 will be Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews; Father Vincent C. Donovan, head of the Catholic Thought Association; and Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron, a trustee of the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee. The three recently returned from a tour of Great Britain observing the effect of the war on people in organized religious groups. They will visit Shreveport October 30.

who put salt in his bed, but we don't dare! Do we, Foster?

Don Thompson is forming a Dallas Club—more power to you, Fella!

Last Friday night at the school's Shindig we noticed several boys "eyeing" Martha Braswell, especially C. H. Vandegaer. Well, she's a cute kid and a good dancer, as we have noticed.

We just can't help mentioning that every time we see Mary Earle Texado she's holding hands with a different boy—ah! how sweet!

Say, Carolyn Coburn, is that a shadow always following you around or is it Jane Bartlett? Jane, we can see why you would want to follow her but can't you be as friendly as Carolyn? Try it—it might help!

Azalie Webb was mighty happy the other day when she found out she was Band Sweetheart. That sorta wrecks her plans to go south to N. O. to see "Flat"—but don't cry about that. Maybe he will come up here; same distance.

Well, stop now, to mention one of the many romances around the campus. A 100 per cent affair is that of Myrian Holloway and Chuck Birtman. We are all for you both.

There is a new romance in the making—Jean Clarke and Lyon Pomeroy. Both have been hitting it off quite regularly. It must be love when Lynn calls her "Honey," even in class.

Little Shuey took a beating Tuesday night when a certain girl (Cleo Christianson) broke a date with him to go to orchestra practice. What's the matter, Shuey, are you slipping?

Someone who knows all about it ask Dorothy Rose what she means by a "biscuit." We haven't the nerve.

Speaking of pins, looks like Lucille Sanford is joining the Kappa Sigma fraternity soon.

Felice "Suzy" Hicks is strictly cute, and Mink isn't the only one who seems to think so.

We are ever so glad to see good old Angel up and around again. We missed him lots.

Bobby Lindsay "Brother Orchid" is definitely bashful, and some one should cure him of it.

Eill Graham's Past is at last catching up with him . . . or else he's awfully worried about nothing after that midnight dormitory session Saturday night.

Awfully glad to see Bettijo Lyne around again . . . now all we need is Steger to complete the picture.

Ask Dudley "Honest Judge" Beene why he always has lipstick on his cute li'l jacket. Ask Norman Robertson too. Or maybe you hadn't better!

At Kapers tryouts last week cute Martha Stevens was doing all right. We hope to see and hear more of her.

Will someone please take note that in this column this week—we have left out Baron Johns' name—we're giving him and us both a rest.

Positively your last chance to get your picture in the Yoncopin will be next Thursday and Friday when Milburne will be on the campus for absolutely the last time.

FORECAST

The parking lot is full of holes. We do not know whether you have noticed it or not, but the fact remains—the parking lot is full of holes.

We have no idea as to how, when, or why these holes came into existence; nor are we definitely sure as to whose responsibility it is to see that the nothingnesses in so many different places on the parking lot are replaced by something, preferably dirt, or a reasonable facsimile. As a matter of fact, our only interest in the situation at all lies in the belief that due to the shortage of automobiles developing rapidly in the country, something should be done to aid us to preserve what cars we do possess now, as long as we can.

It is our contention that an excellent way to bring about such a preservation of vehicles would be to try in some way to remedy the abundance of ditches in the parking lot. Every time a car is driven through the lot its span of life is reduced some few minutes—to say nothing of that of the driver.

Seriously, however, the lot is in a rather run-down condition at present, and we would like to urge that whoever is responsible for such campus improvements see that something be done about leveling it off a bit.

Patronize Our Advertisers, Please!

Here's What the Freshmen Think

For almost a month now the college has been in full swing. This week the freshmen got their chance to tell the upperclassmen just what they thought and didn't think about the old college. Here are your answers:

Martha Stevens—"I think being a freshman is fun. The students are very friendly and Centenary is very much as I expected it to be."

Mary Smith New—"I think it's wonderful and everybody is so nice and friendly."

Jimmy Moore—"Although small, it has the best construction you can find. Good professors and the spirit among the students is good."

Betty Blaxton—"I have enjoyed my first weeks at Centenary a great deal. The friendly attitude of everyone has been one of the most outstanding features of Centenary. My classes and social life have been the very best of my life."

Eob Pugh—"Wonderful place to meet friends. Have more good looking women."

Dottie Graham—"I like Centenary mainly because it is small and the people are so friendly. There's something about Centenary that grows on you and I like it better every day."

James McGregor—"I think it's a fine school. The best crop of freshmen in a long time."

Jack Comegys—"College is what you make it. Lots of fun!"

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

Ministerial Club

"Living for Jesus" served as the theme for a series of broadcasts of daily devotionals which during the past week have been presented by members of the Centenary College Ministerial Club over radio station KRMD at the daily devotional hour of 1:45 p.m.

The final of this series of programs will be presented this afternoon, Friday, Oct. 23.

FREIDENBURG TEACHES AT OKLAHOMA A. & M.

Edgar Z. Freidenburg, who graduated from Centenary College in 1938, is this year a member of the faculty of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College, Stillwater, Oklahoma. Freidenburg has done graduate work at Leland Stanford University since graduating from Centenary.

A. C. VORAN OFFICER OF S'PORT LIONS CLUB

Alvin C. Voran was recently named secretary-treasurer of the Shreveport chapter of the Lions Club.

CENTENARY

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE
Always 9c & 22c Phone 7-5971

FRIDAY, OCT. 24
Gary COOPER - Barbara STANWYCK
"MEET JOHN DOE"
Cartoon—News

SATURDAY, OCT. 25
—Double Feature—
"TILLIE THE TOILER"
"HER FIRST BEAU"
Serial

SUN.-MON. OCT. 26-27
Ginger Rogers
"TOM, DICK AND HARRY"
Cartoon—News

TUES.-WED. OCT. 28-29
Clark GABLE - Rosalind RUSSELL
"THEY MET IN BOMBAY"
Quiz Program

THURS. OCT. 30
Ann SOUTHERN - George MURPHY
"RINGSIDE MAISE"
Comedy—News

Announcing Our Campus Representative TYLER PIRTLE

Don't You Want Your GRANDCHILDREN To See YOUR PICTURE in the YEARBOOK?

At the request of about 50 people who haven't had their Yearbook Picture made, we have persuaded the Photographer to return for 2 days.

COMMERCE BLDG.

THURS., FRI., Oct. 30 and 31

(Thurs. 11 to 5) — (Fri. 9 to 12-1:30 to 4)

ATHLETICS

GENTS PLAY BEARS AT LA. STATE FAIR

On Saturday, October 25, at the Fair Grounds the Gents will meet one of the few teams they defeated last year.

Although the Bears of Washington University have been losing as consistently as the Gents, the odds are on their side; due mainly to the strength they displayed in the Creighton game. The Bluejays of Creighton won 14 to 13 over Washington University and the game was close as the score indicates, while Centenary recently lost to Creighton by a much wider margin, 32 to 20.

Coach Hanna's team has been the underdog in all previous games, except Millsaps, and should bounce back and trap the Bears with a few surprises—so we are out on the limb predicting a long-sought victory for the home town. Washington depends upon their triple-threat tailback, Bud Schweg, as their offensive attack. He is probably the finest passer Centenary will oppose all season. He is a fast runner and also does a good job of booting for them. If Schweg is stopped, Washington University will be stopped.

Therefore, Coach Hanna has set about perfecting a pass defense that will be clicking and keeping the Bears in check. Should the coaches succeed in a pass defense and hold the Bears scoreless the Gents can be counted on to roll across the goal a couple of times.

With Teel out of the game, two sophomores, Daugherty and Nash, have the assignment at the terminal positions. They will play opposite the veteran ends, Devine and Elzemeyer, who have the natural knack of an outfielder for catching the pigskin.

The Bears, coached by Frank Loeb, run their plays from the Notre Dame formation and have a dangerous spread formation which will be new both to the players and spectators.

—Patronize Our Advertisers—

HANNA WILL USE FROSH ON VARSITY TEAM

Four Freshmen to Accompany Gentlemen on Their Trips

Coach Jake Hanna announces he will take advantage of the new ruling permitting him to use Freshmen on the Varsity.

The squad, seriously handicapped by injuries and a lack of reserves, will have the aid of four freshmen—Nick Elina and Pete Papa, guards; L. T. Jackson, tackle, and Jewell McDaniels, end.

The coach said he planned to use freshmen in all the remaining games of the season.

Permission has to be obtained from the president of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, of which Centenary is a member, and because the Gents' opponents are of the same conference, Coach Hanna anticipated no complications.

It will be the first time in the history of major football at Centenary that the school has had to resort to first-year men to fill out the depleted ranks of the varsity.

Hanover, seat of Dartmouth College, once rose temporarily to the position of capital of New Hampshire. In 1795 the legislature met there and Gov. John T. Gilman was inaugurated in the Dartmouth chapel.

Since its founding in 1802, the United States Military Academy has admitted 23,032 cadets, including foreigners, and has graduated 12,661.

Positively your last chance to get your picture in the Yoncopin will be next Thursday and Friday when Milburne will be on the campus for absolutely the last time.

Marvin W. Gibson

Associated with the Centenary College athletic department for 13 years, and trainer in complete charge of the athletes' physical condition on and off the field during the past seven years, Marvin Gibson has a tremendous job. Not only is he charged with keeping the gridsters fit and ready to go, but he is responsible for the team's equipment. "Hoot" got his degree from Centenary in 1929 and has never left the campus. He constantly runs around with the players on and off the campus and at the same time holds their respect.

RAIDERS DEFEAT GENTS FOR FIFTH TIME IN 5 TILTS

Last Saturday the Lubbock Red Raiders beat the Gents for the fifth time in as many tries. The Gentlemen fought valiantly and despite the efforts of Raley, Johnson and Birtman, they were outclassed and beaten 25-0 by the undefeated Red Raiders. The Gentlemen lost on the first play of the game, when Callahan threw a pass into the arms of the end, Tillery, who gathered in the ball and ran 25 additional yards for the touchdown. The pass was good for 65 yards.

The game was then a stalemate until late in the second quarter when a successfully executed double lateral left the ball on the 14-yard line climaxing a gain of 27 yards. Again Mr. Callahan took over and sprinted the remaining yardage for a touchdown.

Centenary offensive was very unsuccessful as they had the ball in the Raiders' territory only three times. Charles Birtman faked a pass and ran 15 yards which was the longest run accomplished by the local squad.

Of the three freshmen squadmen making the trip, only one, Jackson, had the honor of playing with the first string. Washington University has refused to permit freshmen to play against them so the Gents will have a shortage of tackles.

Badminton Tourney Begins

Next Tuesday marks the beginning of the W.A.A. badminton tournament, when the first matches of competition begin. This contest is open to all girls.

Following this first tourney will be contests in all the sports. All women students of the college are urged to sign up and participate in any of these events.

JOAKS and STUPH

Success story: Practically a pauper twenty years ago, a man recently retired with a considerable fortune of $50,000. This was acquired through industry, perseverance, economy, effort, and the death of an uncle who left him $49,990.

Old Lady: Little boy, throw that nasty old cigarette away.
Little Boy: Lady, are you in the habit of speaking to strange men on the street?

Tom Cobb, Line Coach

On every major college football coaching staff there usually is one coach who can be depended upon to be cool, calm and collected at all times and who can be depended upon to soothe the nerves of rattled gridsters. Tom Cobb, Centenary's line coach and former pro football player, is this type of man.

Cobb displayed his coaching ability in 1940 when Coach Hanna found himself with a bunch of sophomores and squadmen in the spring, but no forward wall.

Very popular with the players, Cobb is the type of line coach who will get down on the ground and mix it with his charges in showing them how the job should be done.

Cobb's main experience was garnered from several years play in professional football circles with such teams as Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, and Kansas City. He came to Centenary in 1936 under Curtis Parker.

To Legal Staff

Robert E. Kepke, '27, formerly assistant attorney general for the state of Texas, has joined the legal staff of the British-American Oil Producing Company, Houston district, Houston, Texas.

Ellen: I'd love to go to a fraternity dance.

Bill: That's the way to get there.

We always called a spade a spade until the other day when we hit our foot with one.

SEVEN STAGES OF WOMAN

1. Baby
2. Little Girl
3. Maid
4. Young Woman
5. Young Woman
6. Young Woman
7. Young Woman

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

JUST TO CALL YOUR ATTENTION!

We have never advertised this in the Conglomerate—but we have the most up-to-date and modern repair department of any store in town. If your watch is "sick" or your new ring too small, avail yourself of the vast experience of our firm in this service. If it can be repaired, we can do it, and at moderate and just prices.

Don't Forget Also—We Have Everything in Jewelry, Watches, Leather and Crested Goods!

LEONARD'S

320-322 Ward Bldg.

Phone 2-5088

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

By Sullivan

Three years ago in the fall of '39, Frederick, Oklahoma, sent Centenary a tailback with quite an astonishing and versatile high school record. An all-state guard, he played and lettered four years. Other than earning a letter in football, he lettered in baseball, basketball and wrestling.

Bob "Ace" Raley is 23 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, and weighs 175 pounds. He played freshman basketball and football and is classed as a triple-threat star due to his kicking, passing and running. A junior, Raley is looking forward to a big senior year if he is not called to perform the duties of Uncle Sam. In extracurricular activities he is a pledge to the Kappa Alpha fraternity and a member of the "C" Club.

He plans to graduate a history major, and is training himself to be a coach or join the Air Corps as he is now enrolled in CAA training. His father, T. A. Raley, is sheriff of Tillman County, Okla.

"Let me show you something new in a snappy sean," suggested the salesman.

"I don't think you could," she sweetly replied.

Scientists have definitely proved that the bumblebee does not have enough wing spread with which to fly. However, the bumblebee does not know this and flies anyway.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

WHY WORK?

Atlanta, Ga. (ACP)—The board of regents, which controls the state's university system, has named a committee to look into what one member terms a "widespread belief among citizens of Georgia" that state and federal governments should support them.

Regent John J. Cummings told the board the university's professors and teachers should instill into their students the idea that people must work for a livelihood and not expect something for nothing.

Frat House Blues

Ring around the bathtub
Fourteen inches high;
Four and twenty boarders
All as sore as I.

When the door is opened
The bird that leaves a ring
Is going to be as sad a sight
As the guy who used to sing.

We're the Ones to See
About the Flowers for Your Dances

Broadmoor Floral
Shop

3902 Youree

Phone 7-2737 - Mrs. Sara Tully

"Flowers for All Occasions"

MIND YOUR Military Manners

Winthrop Shoes

$8.95

WINTHROP COLONIALS
$5.50 to $6.50 Others $7.50 and up

Whether you're in active service with the army or air force or a workaday civilian, you'll find the Winthrop Military Oxford an inspired footwear choice. Buckle strap and plain toe.

THE MASTER SHOE STORE

Phelps Shoe Co. Ltd.
ESTABLISHED 1849
Shreveport, Louisiana

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS LOUISIANA GAS COMPANY

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

By Jack Keenan, Jr.

Dear Readers (?),

We are forced to dispense with all miscellaneous material this week in order to make room for the poetic triumph below. Next week we'll write a regular column. In the meantime—your indulgence, please.

Sincerely,
Paul Ash's brother,
Jack.

Phil Clifton brought this up from L.S.U. It appeared in the Pell Mell:

THE DANGEROUS SIGMA NU (From L. S. U. Pell Mell)

A bunch of the boys were hitting it up
At a Kappa Sunday tea
And the kid that cranked the music box
Wore the pin of an S.A.E.
And in the den on the davenport
Sat the Dangerous Sigma Nu,
And luring him on with the red hair
Was the Kappa that's known as Lou.

When out of the night that was hotter
Than fire
And into the frigid air,
There stumbled a frosh from the K.A.

house
With Njol eaked in his hair.
He looked like a man who had danced his last,

With scarcely the strength of a flea;
But he straightened his tie with a steady eye

And called for a cup of tea.

No one could place the K.A.'s face,
Though we searched ourselves for a clue;

But we drank to his health—and the last to drink

Was the Dangerous Sigma Nu.
His eyes went rubbering around the room
And he seemed in a sort of daze,
Till at last the old victrola box
Fell in his wandering gaze.

The S.A.E. was filing his nails,
There was no one else at the "vic."

So the dumb frosh staggered across the room
And anchored there like a hick.
In a hand-carved shirt of a hue that hurt,
He stooped and I saw him choose
From the cabinet there his one best fare;
Those "Doggone Dangerous Blues."

And then with a whisk he flipped the disc
And put on the piece, "My Man";
And you felt like a ding that had bought a ring.

And the girl had slipped you the can.
Then the wailing cry of the Sigma Chi,
And it thrilled you through and through;

"I guess I'll slug just one more mug,"
Said the Dangerous Sigma Nu.

The K.A. turned and his blue eyes yearned

For the girl with the henna hair;
With his pin of gold and his face grown old,

He stood and I heard him swear:
Boys, I assert, and the words I say
I'll bet you money are true.
Some big squirt has done me dirt,
And he's a lousy Sigma Nu!

I grabbed my watch as the lights went out,
Two pins, flashed in the dark.
A woman screamed. The lights went up,
Sweet shades of Piedmont Park!

The K.A.'s crest was pinned to the breast
Of the Kappa that's known as Lou.
While the negro cook wore a startled look
And the pin of the Sigma Nu.

Now this is the lowdown on the case—
I was there, I ought to know.
They say that both were crazed with tea,
And I'm not denying it's so.

I'm not so wise as professor guys,
But this I know is true:
The dame that kissed him and pinched his pin
Was the Kappa that's known as Lou.

Positively your last chance to get your picture in the Yoncopin will be next Thursday and Friday when Milburne will be on the campus for absolutely the last time.

YOU NAME IT

Well, a truer word was never spoken than when they said last week that they would have a new writer. Here I am, and I do mean I'm new. In fact, this is my first column. P. S.: Don't say, "You're telling I," after you've read it!

First square in the cross-word puzzle. Justine Holmes' shining hair seems to be drawing quite a few bugs to the light. Watch out, don't any of you boys get burned! But I know she's really as sweet as she looks.

My, my, have any of you noticed how Little Coburn is doing? She certainly is following in her big sister's footsteps. Gents, you had better watch your step.

Maybe you all didn't know it but we have a cute "mademoiselle" on our campus. She's a senior and her name is Claude Blackburn. You males had better look her up for she is tres interesting. Oui, oui, ooh la la and so forth. She is tres beau and I think she will have tres beaux.

Oh, I just heard a cute quote. It may not hurt some of us girls to take heed:

They say the patriotic daughter
Should wear dresses three inches shorter;

But aside from her knees
(Which would probably freeze)
She might reveal more than she oughter!

I realize, boys, that this column is only, about and of interest to the girls and I apologize to you. Next week I hope to do better if there is a next week. You know there's a next week. You know today and Guatemala." I may not be in here next week.

New Carpets for Dorm

At a recent meeting of the Centenary Women's Club, plans were discussed for providing the girls' dormitory with new carpets.

The time to take care of your hair is while you
have it.

For intelligent and beneficial
service on hair-grooming—

CAMERON BROS.
BARBER SHOP
307 Milam St.

REX Phone
7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

FRI. and SAT., OCT. 24-25
Lew Ayres, L. Barrymore, L. Day in "KILDARE'S WEDDING DAY"
Cartoon—Serial

SUN.-MON.-TUES., OCT. 26-27-28
JAMES CAGNEY, BETTE DAVIS in
"THE BRIDE CAME C. O. D."
News—Cartoon

WED.-THURS., OCT. 29-30
WAYNE MORRIS - TOM BROWN in
"THREE SONS 'GUNS"
Cartoon—News

For more than
just a Haircut
we recommend

CENTENARY
BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.
L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

Curvacious Ann Eden, former co-ed at the University of Missouri, says that interest in extra curricular activities in school pays dividends after graduation. Ann was active in the dramatic society at the U. of Missouri and after graduation continued acting on the Broadway stage. She was seen in Noel Coward's "Set to Music," "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," and "George Washington Slept Here." While appearing in Chicago in "George Washington Slept Here," she made her radio debut. Since then she has worked on such CBS programs as "Columbia Workshop," "Joyce Jordan—Girl Intern," "Kate Smith Hour" and others.

'Centenary Day'

(Continued from Page One)
Press Day Committee, of which Mr. Dolph Frantz is head. Needless to say these passes were thoroughly enjoyed by the two recipients, although some of the shows were not at their best during the afternoon hours when the passes were good. The rides, football game, and evening performance were well up to the standards set by former fairs. Tomorrow will be Centenary Day at the Fair, since that is the day when the Centenary Gentlemen will meet the strong Washington University team from St. Louis.

Tickets to this game must be purchased before 10:30 tomorrow morning because they will not be available at the Fair at reduced prices. These tickets will give the bearer admission to the grounds tomorrow, also.

After the game most of the students will probably be found wandering along the gladway gaily parting from their pennies... but after all, it's only here once a year.

Dramatic Club Held First Meeting on Last Friday

On October 17 the Dramatic Club held its first meeting in the chapel. At this time the purposes of the club were explained by Mr. Young, faculty sponsor of the organization.

The meetings of the Dramatic Club will be very enjoyable this year because excellent programs, consisting of the enactment of short plays, presentation of speeches, and such activities, are being planned for each meeting.

The next meeting is scheduled for Friday, October 31, at 10:15 in the chapel. A program of interest to all students is being planned for his occasion.

This organization is not meant

If...like the
All-American Girl... you want a cigarette
that's MILDER

It's Chesterfield

Try a couple of packs. We feel sure you'll be coming back for more... because Chesterfield's right combination of the world's leading cigarette tobaccos makes them so much Milder, Cooler and Better-Tasting that more smokers are turning to them every day.

Yes, the approval of smokers is the big thing that's pushing Chesterfield ahead all over the country.

EVERYWHERE
YOU GO

Copyright 1941. LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE		SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS
President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406		Fraternities:
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571		Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610		2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207		Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....7-1210		Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
		336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
		Carl Vollmer.....7-2554
		Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
		Centenary Campus.....7-4610
		Richard Norton, President.....7-6571
		Sororities:
		Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
		Centenary Campus.....7-9887
		La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
		Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
		Centenary Campus.....7-2584
		Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
		Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
		Centenary Campus.....7-9465
		Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-8407
		Cencoes (Intersorority)
		Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395
		Non-Greek, Women:
		Aufait
		LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891
		(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

GLENWOOD
LINE AVE. AT STERNS
SUNDAY THRU THURSDAY

Take an Eve and an evening and you'll get into heart-trouble!

Deanna
DURBIN and LAUGHTON
with ROBERT CUMMINGS

in
It Started with Eve

A Henry Koster Production with MARGARET TALlichet GUY KIBBEE
WALTER CATLEY CATHARINE DOUCET
CHARLES COLEMAN

DIRECTED BY HENRY KOSTER
PRODUCED BY JOE PASTERNAK

A UNIVERSAL PICTURE

For Classroom or Campus
Sports Skirts, Jackets,
Blouses and Sweaters from
Hearne's are very chic.

The HEARNE
DRY GOODS CO. LTD.

FOR BETTER SCHOOL
WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC
MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, October 31, 1941.

Number 7

14 Centenarians Listed in Current 'Who's Who'

FORECAST

The rooms adjoining the main room in the Student Union Building have been locked again. Representatives of the student body promised the administration that if these rooms would be opened the students would be responsible for the furniture and rugs and in general see that nothing happened to damage them. Well, what happened?

Somebody accidentally knocks an ash tray. There is nothing wrong with that; accidents will happen. But was any attempt made by the person in question to prevent permanent damage to the furnishings? So far as we can find out the only thing done was to kick the tray again and further scatter the ashes all over the room.

That is a fine spirit of cooperation to be exhibited by a student of Centenary College . . . because whether she realizes it or not she is a student of the college. Supposedly high school is left behind after graduation.

This is a college and whether some few care anything about it or not, to the great majority of us it represents something that is ours to take care of as long as we are here, and to pass on for other students in the future to enjoy as much as we have enjoyed our days here.

In high school perhaps one gets the idea that the school is just something put up by the state out of taxes and which just exists to give pupils something to fuss about and kick around. But Centenary College is more than a school to most of us. In the first place each student in the college owns part of it by virtue of their tuition fees.

The Student Union Building does not belong to the state—it belongs to every one of the students in the school. We personally raised part of the money that went into its construction and furnishings by donations—and we hate to see anyone do anything which will deprive us of its use for any length of time; and we cannot really expect to be allowed to make use of it, if we do anything to damage it, or permit anybody else to do anything to damage it.

So, let us see to it that the recent occurrence, or anything of a similar nature, is not repeated. That room is the favorite gathering place for a large number of students, especially those who live on the campus, and whether we "don't ever go in there anyway" or not, it is the duty of each of us to see that everything necessary is done to keep it open to any of the students for their use.

William Lyon Phelps, Yale university author and lecturer, recently gave 47 new editions to the Friends of the Middle Border treasury room at Dakota Wesleyan University, Mitchell, S. D.

VOTE TODAY

To make the election being held today official a certain percentage of the student body must vote. Therefore, be sure that you go to the polls and cast a ballot for one of the following girls for Homecoming Queen:

LaRue Powell
Peg Hawkins
Felice Hicks
Biddie Boddie
Lou Dell Liston

Above are pictured the two recently elected "sweethearts of the Gentlemen and the Band just after their formal presentation between the halves of the Washington University-Gentlemen football game last Saturday. They have each just been presented with a bouquet of flowers from their respective organizations. Reading from left to right in the photo are Raymond Daugherty, wingman for the Gents; Glenn Harmon, sweetheart of the Gentlemen; Azalie Webb, sweetheart of the Band, and Chief Johnson, wingback of the Gents.

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Times

STUDENTS NAMED BY FACULTY

Names to Appear in Nationwide Directory of Leading Collegians

Thirteen Centenary students were nominated this week by a faculty committee to be listed in this year's edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." They were selected on a basis of character, leadership, scholarship, and potentialities. They will be included in the annual volume along with students from over 500 other colleges and universities throughout the country.

The 13 nominated were Camp Flournoy, Claude Teel, Peg Hawkins, Jimmy Thibodeaux, Ann Burnette, Carl Vollmer, Joe Stephens, Bill Graham, Lou Dell Liston, LaRue Powell, Walter Jacobs, Jimmie Brown, and Lanford DeGeneres. Gilbert Hetherwick, the fourteenth student to be listed from Centenary, was nominated last year and so was ineligible for selection this year, since his name will automatically appear in the volume in the section devoted to those students named in their junior year.

Camp Flournoy is treasurer of the Student Senate, secretary of Kappa Alpha, former cheerleader, a star of Kollege Kapers, and treasurer of the senior class as well as junior class last year.

Claude Teel is vice-president of (Continued on Page Four)

ALPHA SIGMA PI NAMES OFFICERS FOR THIS YEAR

Roland Achee Heads Organization; John Lowe, Patricia Harper, Also Elected

In a meeting last week at the home of Mrs. A. R. Campbell, faculty sponsor of the organization, Alpha Sigma Pi, freshman-sophomore honorary scholastic fraternity, elected officers for the coming school year.

Roland Achee was named president; Charlotte Newsome, first vice-president; John Lowe, second vice-president, and Patricia Harper, secretary-treasurer. Marie Isabelle Wolf was appointed publicity chairman.

Joe Stephens presided at this initial meeting of the year until Achee was elected to take his place. Three pledges were initiated. The new members are: Jerry Renov, Majorie Sutton, and June Franks. After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Campbell to the entire group.

Membership in Alpha Sigma Pi is open to any freshman making a total of 39 honor points, which is the equivalent of a high "B" average. New members for this year will be chosen immediately after the first nine weeks grades are released by the school. Since election for membership in this organization is the highest honor a freshman or a sophomore can receive, it provides an incentive for scholarship for all underclassmen.

Homecoming Queen to Be Elected Today

'SWEETHEARTS' PRESENTED AT HALF OF GAME

Band Gives Fine Marching Exhibition Preceding Presentation of Flowers to Girls

In an impressive half-time ceremony last Saturday at the Washington University-Centenary football game, the annual presentations of the sweethearts of the football team and the Centenary band were made.

The first portion of the program between the halves consisted of a marching performance that rivaled any ever given by a Centenary band. The organization accomplished a series of very intricate formations, which necessitated their marching all over the field apparently at random. They obviously knew what they were doing, however, because they surprised everybody by ending up in the formation in which they began their marching exhibition. It was really a fine job of parading.

After they had completed their formations and lined up in front of the student section, the two sweethearts were escorted to their positions before the band. Glenn Harmon was brought from the south end of the playing field by Raymond Daugherty, wingman for the Gentlemen, while Bob Pugh, drum major for the band, was bringing Azalie Webb from the opposite end. The entire group met in front of the band where Chief Johnson presented the girls with flowers from their respective organizations.

After the Alma Mater was played the band and the "sweethearts" left the field.

Centenary Girl Given Honor by State B.S.U.

Ruth Waldron, Centenary College student, was elected secretary of the Louisiana Baptist Student Union at its recent meet in Baton Rouge. Four hundred delegates attended these annual sessions of the B.S.U. W. A. Ferguson, of Baton Rouge was named president of the union.

NOMINATED FOR HOMECOMING QUEEN

These are four of the five girls who were nominated by the college student body Wednesday as candidates for Homecoming Queen who will be crowned between the halves of the Centenary-T. C. U. game Nov. 8. From left to right they are: Felice Hicks, Lou Dell Liston, Biddie Boddie and Peg Hawkins. LaRue Powell is not shown in the picture. The student body will vote on the candidates today.

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Times

HUGE HALLOWE'EN PARTY OPEN TO ALL CENTENARY STUDENTS

First of Y. M. C. A.'s Recreational Projects To Be Held Tomorrow Night; All Collegians Invited

All Centenary students are urged to put on anything from a sport shirt to a Captain Kidd outfit and come down to the Y.M.C.A. tomorrow night at 7:30 for the initial recreational function of the "Y's" winter program. Plans have been just about completed to make this Hallowe'en party the eeriest celebration ever held in the city.

A chamber of horrors comparable to the best efforts of any of MacBeth's three lady friends, has been laid out all over a portion of the "Y's" ground floor and is just waiting for all of you co-eds, as well as you of the stronger sex, to march through, if you dare. Naturally the exact nature of the shocks you will get upon going through this maze of mysticism cannot be listed here, but rest assured that nothing will be left undone, to give every ghost and spirit within a radius of seventeen and one-half miles of here a shot at you. Of course, there will be plenty

(Continued on Page Four)

ARRANGEMENTS NEAR COMPLETE FOR OLD GRADS

All Campus Organizations to Take Part in Program for Saturday, November 8.

Students will go to the polls today and cast their ballots for the 1941 Homecoming Queen for Centenary. The five girls who have been nominated for this honor are: Felice Hicks, LaRue Powell, Peg Hawkins, Lou Dell Liston, and Biddie Boddie. The queen will ride in the parade through the downtown streets on a float.

Plans for the Homecoming Day program have been just about completed. Invitations will be mailed to school alums by Mr. Banks, who with Dr. Shaw, has charge of arrangements. A record number of former students is expected to be on hand for the day and register at the Student Union Building between nine and ten Saturday morning.

Classes will be cut short to enable the students to form on the parking lot for the annual parade. Each organization on the campus will have a float of some description flying the maroon and white colors.

Saturday afternoon, of course, the main event is the football game between the Gentlemen and the Texas Christian Horned Frogs. The kick-off of the game is scheduled for 2:30. During the half Dr. Cline will crown the queen.

Former Centenary lettermen will be introduced at this time also. Open houses of all the social organizations will be held after the game.

The Homecoming celebration at Centenary is one of the biggest events of the school year. It is something always looked forward to by students, as well as alumni. To make it a success, the entire student body must cooperate to help the visitors feel welcome, so let us all do our part.

Nearly 50 per cent of families with children in college have incomes of less than $3,000 a year.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Member
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Betty Gordon Smith, Ellen Eastham, Hutch Phillips, Jack Keenan, Eleanor Brown, Dudley Beene, Gloria Brown, Jake Cullick, Mary Foster Peyton, Rose Orme, J. L. Solomon, and Arthur Shuey.

Homecoming

Next Saturday, November 8, is Homecoming Day at Centenary.

To the first-year students perhaps this does not mean so much; but to those of the student body who have seen several homecomings it means a day devoted to those men and women who in former years studied here, made friends here, and in reality did everything then that we are doing now. They have watched Centenary grow, down through the years, to the school that it is today.

To these alumni who will come back to their Alma Mater for their annual visit next week, Centenary is a memory—a memory of college days in which were spent some of the happiest hours of their lives. When they walk through the campus thinking of the old campus as they knew it, it is our duty to make them feel at home, and show them that Centenary is still a part of their lives as it is a part of ours.

Remember that the students of today are the alumni of tomorrow, and in the not-too-distant future it will be we as well as they who come back to receive a welcome from other students. Probably the seniors can appreciate the feelings of these visitors better than the underclassmen, since they have had four years in which to realize the hold that the school in which they have had so many good times can get upon them.

So let us all plan a big welcome for the returning sons and daughters of Centenary with a long parade full of floats, open houses, and anything else that might help to make this Homecoming next week the finest of any year.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

There must be something wrong with the students this year for some reason or other because we have been unable to discover any triangles of the type that were so prevalent last year.

Of course there are plenty of sweats hanging around Friddle, Coeburn, Clay, etc., but these cannot be classed as real triangles of the old "give me two seconds and I'll stick a knife in your back" variety.

Therefore, guess we must stick to the old twosome type. In searching for a classic example of this type, known as case number 8594 in our files, we find the Genes—Hilliard and Arthur—still together. For a while we had hopes of getting Sully into this category, but he still is appearing with a different one every night.

Just as a brain teaser, we tried to tie up Solly with someone, but after a while we just gave up . . . anyway, they say he's the type that would marry Ann Sheridan for her money.

Faster Philyaw seems to be a bit worried about keeping up that "A" grade in all those subjects this year . . . he seems to be doing all right with grade "A" so far, so why worry?

Donn Thompson, incidentally, is doing very well these days, from all reports, anyway.

Just because Jimmy Thibodeaux thought she was going to be listed this week, we're not even going to mention her name.

By the way, Claude Blackburn, Joe Stephens, and Clint Teacle seemed to be having quite a time the other night wearing out Camp Margaret's good pillow.

Another fellow you guys had better keep an eye on is this Buddy Stroud . . . he has quite a way with the ladies from all appearances.

Camp Flournoy was . . . (boy, was this good, but we had to censor it!).

AS WE 'SAW' IT

Out at the Fair one night last week we happened to visit one of the shows that had for one of its principal attractions a fine magician. During the course of his performance he walked down to the footlights and asked a young lady of our acquaintance to step up on the stage.

"Now as a climax to my act, ladies and gentlemen," he said, "I am going to saw this young lady in two, right before your eyes."

The crowd cheered and stamped its feet.

"As is customary before doing this trick," he continued, "I'd like first to make sure that all of you want to see . . ."

(A thundering "Sure!")

"And there are no objections to my . . ."

(A "No!" that rocked the house.)

"The girl's sorority sisters—do they object?"

"Not at all to be sure."

"How about you?" he asked, turning to the girl. "Do you mind being sawed in two?"

The girl shook her head.

"Well, then . . ." the magician said.

And he sawed the girl in two.

We all thought the whole deal was mighty funny, but the police made quite a fuss about it.

Patronize Our Advertisers, Please!

CONGLOMERATE STAFF MEETING ON MONDAY

All students who have been working on the paper so far this year, and who wish to continue working, are asked to attend a meeting in the Conglomerate office, Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock. Anyone interested in working, who is not already listed on the staff, is invited to be present at this time.

SOCIETY

Kappa Alpha

The Kappa Alpha Order entertained last Friday with their first dance of the year. It was held in the Student Union Building with music by Dr. Hal Muiley and his orchestra. The ballroom was decorated in the K. A. colors with streamers stretching from the rafters. Chaperones included Dr. and Mrs. Topper, Dr. Morehead, Mr. Schuhle, and others of the faculty.

Chi Omega

Camp Margaret was the scene of the Chi Omega outing last Wednesday night. The affair was given by the pledges honoring the members and a fine time was had by all. Dr. Morehead and Mr. Schuhle were among the faculty members present.

K. A. OPEN HOUSE TODAY

The Kappa Alpha Fraternity invites all students and faculty to an open house this morning from 10:00 until 10:45 at their fraternity house.

I LIKE WOMEN BECAUSE:

1. Men ain't got no S.A.
2. Their allowance always lasts longer than mine.
3. They're so well constructed.
4. They smooch.
5. They live in houses where here are lots of other beautiful women.
6. Because they always bring the food when we go on picnics.
7. It raises your prestige to be seen with them.
8. They can drink through straws without slurping if they have to.
9. No matter how messy they look at 4 p.m. by the time you get them for a date they're plenty smooth.
10. They take my mind off school work in the spring.

—By Joe

I LIKE MEN BECAUSE:

1. I don't like women and men is all there is else.
2. They introduce me to other men.
3. They carry their own cigarettes.
4. It raises your prestige to be seen with them.
5. Judson Kelly is one?
6. They tell me dirty jokes if I beg them.
7. They'll take your head off for being ten minutes late, but if you lose their pin they're swell about it.
8. They can tell you more scandal than any two women without sounding catty.
9. They don't try to act too pure.
10. Well, I've got to marry somebody, haven't I?

—By Josie.

(From the Battalion)

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803 Yource

Mrs. Sara Tully

SCENES AT FAIR REVEAL STUDES IN GAY MOMENTS

Well, the Fair has come and gone. Gone also are most of our funds. Centenary Day was the last Saturday but you can be sure that most all of the students made more than one visit to the Midway.

Seen walking up the Midway were Mary Smith New and Jack Comegys, Carolyn Clay and Patton, Jimmy Thibodeaux and Ollie Day. They didn't do so well when they came to "Zorima" because there was a slight pause.

Anne Gano, Cile Miller, Dottie and Virginia Graham, Dorothy Ann Morehead and Teency Burton seemed to be really having fun; don't think they missed a single thing.

"Buck" Whited, G. L. Blaxton and Helen Shaw (home for the week-end from L.S.U.) had their hands full of colored ice the last I saw of them.

Ann Burnette and Camp Flournoy pronounced the Looper plane as "Nothing to it," so in hops Gerry Baird, Scoots Gustine and Buddy Kinnebrew. The result, Baird had a headache!

Bill Keenan prides himself on fooling all the weight guessers and Clint Teacle was seen trying to fool "Oscar" the rat.

Joe Stephens was seen coming out of one of the more "risque" shows—look out, Joe!

The grandstand show was super. Camille Hendrick and Joanna Glassell found it most interesting as well as the "floss" candy and candied apples. Mere goo, but they suere were good.

Glenny Harmon and Tyler Pirtle were seen strolling along with Pat Coffee and Norman Walker. Close behind was Martha Stevens with several people.

Our own Dr. Morehead and "Cheesy" Voran found the freaks most interesting but it seems that he "sheep headed" men proved too much for them because they were seen leaving.

Norma Stewart got Gene Hearne on the "Looper plane" but Gene didn't think so very much of it—we're of the same opinion.

Carolyn Canon and Cyril Wilde took in the "Gladway" in a big way, doing a little bit of everything.

All in all, I think everyone enjoyed the Fair. If you didn't, give it a try you really missed something that was lots of fun. Don't let it happen again!

Up and Atom!

Berkeley, Calif. (ACP)—Difficulties in obtaining steel have caused three months' delay in construction of the University of California's gigantic atom-smashing cyclotron, but engineers say it will probably be ready for operation in the fall of 1943.

It Pays to Advertise!

Bartan Lowell, 21-year-old blond, and Gay Churchill, 21, a brunet, told a CBS "We, the People" audience recently that it pays to advertise. And they have proof.

Misses Lowell and Churchill, both with B.A. degrees, have been in New York for months trying to get jobs acting on Broadway. But they found that it was impossible to get farther than a producer's reception room. When they were down to their last $13 they decided it was time to do something drastic. They did.

They took space in the want ad section of a New York newspaper. But it was not an ordinary ad. In 89 words, the girls explained that they could act but if such a job was not available, they could perform such other duties as fencing, dancing, parachute jumping, singing, knitting, swimming, and many others.

Shortly after the ad appeared, their phone began ringing. People offered them jobs as models, lecturers, dancers, waitresses, hat check girls, fencing instructors, nurses, translators, and best of all, actresses. Eddie Dowling, Broadway producer who acts as master of ceremonies on "We, the People," told the girls that he would hear them read.

W. A. A.

W. A. A. meeting will be held Friday, Nov. 7, in the gym. All girls are invited to come. It is not necessary that you be initiated in order to become a member.

It is estimated that at least half the nearly 1,500,000 youths in American colleges are working to help pay their expenses, while 20 per cent are paying all their costs.

LOOKING BACK

What happened at this time in other years?

1939—Colonial Hall held its annual open house for students, friends, and faculty. Epsilon chapter of Kappa Sigma was reinstalled on the campus. Three important chapel programs held in one week.

1938—The Conglomerate printed a special Fair edition which was distributed to all comers at the Centenary exhibit. The Maroon Shirts were reorganizing, the W. A. A. added 46 new members, Mary Agnes Railsback was elected homecoming queen, and intramural football was started.

1936—The Gents were preparing to play Ole Miss at the Fair. Students asked each other, "Will Wally and Edward marry?"

1935—Mr. Davidson was heard over KWKH discussing the constitution. Centenary students rode two special trains to New Orleans for a game with Loyola. Ann Cargill (now Mrs. Robert See) was chosen princess for the College of Marshall Harvest Festival, and the administration received an inquiry from a prospective student in Lagos, Nigeria (Africa).

1931—Dr. Sexton announced that a prize of $25 would be presented to the student who would select a song for Centenary that everyone would remember between football games. Our "Alma Mater" was the result.

1926—A shipment of new classroom chairs made of oak was received by the college.

1923—Twenty-seven Centenary supporters saw their team defeat T.C.U. in Fort Worth, 23-0.

1921—Centenary received a painting of George Washington from Dr. Luther Sexton of New Orleans. It was hung in the library.

TODAY
Is the Last Day to Have Your Yearbook
Picture Made

The taste that charms and never cloy

You trust its quality

You'll welcome ice-cold Coca-Cola just as often and as surely as thirst comes. You taste its quality, the quality of genuine goodness. Ice-cold Coca-Cola gives you the taste that charms and never cloy. You get the feel of complete refreshment, buoyant refreshment. Thirst asks nothing more.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

SCHWENK AND GRIFFITH GET AWAY FOR GAINS IN GAME AT FAIR

ACTION SHOTS OF GENTS, WASHINGTON GAME

Above are shown in pictures two of the exciting moments in the game last Saturday at the Louisiana State Fair between Washington University of St. Louis and the Gentlemen. In the left photo is shown Bud Schwenk, of the Washington team, just as he began his 82-yard touchdown jaunt after intercepting a pass on his own 18-yard line. On the right is cotton-headed Tom Griffith gathering in a long pass for a good gain.

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Times

GRIFFITH STARS AS GENTS DROP HEARTBREAKER

Locals Outplay Bears But Lack Goal-line Punch.

It took Washington University two minutes to defeat the Gents 13 to 7. The Gents in the remaining 58 minutes of the game penetrated the 10-yardline four times and only had enough punch to push over one 6-point tally.

Entering the game as underdogs, the Gents immediately turned the tables and carried the ball down to the one-yard line, when, on the last down, quarterback Lawless elected to pass, and Raley missed Nash in the end zone. Had the pass clicked Lawless would have been marked up as a smart director because he tricked the defense, but because of a bad pass the students have classified the play as poor quarterbacking.

Centenary completely outplayed the Bears, making 12 first downs to opponents' 3, gained 208 yards rushing to 55 for Washington, and completing 7 passes, for 135 yards to 57 yards on 3 passes completed by the Bears.

Naturally, the Gents also led in fumbles, 5 to 1, but recovered them all for very little loss. The Gents were not at all baffled by the tricky spread formation used by the Bears, and after it consistently failed they returned to the "T" formation.

The Gents scored when Tom Griffith ran 25 yards around left end for a touchdown. Tom had been warming the bench until Saturday, when he was given his first real chance to succeed and brought home the bacon for Centenary. Griffith, a substitute wingback for Johnson, took the ball on a reverse, and behind some beautiful blocking by Feducia, skirted left end on a sensational 25-yard sweep for a touchdown.

Parks converted for the extra point. Later in the game Griffith set up another marker by eluding the Bears' defense and making an impossible catch of a 25-yard heave from Raley on Washington's 11. However, either the opponents strengthened or the Gents weakened, for they lost the ball on downs, lacking about two inches for a first down.

Everyone acknowledged before the game that as Schwenk goes so goes Washington, and that if he were stopped the Bears would bog down. True to prediction in the third quarter Schwenk came through for Washington by intercepting one of Raley's passes on his own 18 and in no particular hurry, weaved, side-stepped, and dodged past the helpless Gents for 82 yards. It was the best bit of open field running seen this year by local fans. He also booted the extra point.

Washington's other 6 points came on a pass from Schwenk to Lindow that was caught in Lawless' zone, who overran Lindow and left him open to complete the pass.

The synopsis is that Centenary outplayed the Bears, but lost their fifth game this year.

L.I.C. CROWN IS AT STAKE WHEN LA. TECH MEETS S. L. I.

Gentlemen Have Chance to Finish At Head of Conference

The Louisiana Tech Bulldogs were hard at work all week preparing for their all-important conference tilt with the Canines of Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

Last week a spirited Southeastern squad defeated the Ruston team, 7 to 6, and not only upset the dope bucket but threw the Louisiana Intercollegiate Conference into a mixup. Both Louisiana Tech and Southwestern have beaten two conference foes, as Tech defeated Normal and Southeastern, and Southwestern defeated Louisiana College and Southeastern.

The Gentlemen tied Normal, and as it is the only conference foe they oppose except Louisiana Tech should they whip the Bulldogs they would be in a tie for the conference lead.

Should Tech defeat S.L.I., and according to statistics they should not, then a win by the Gents over Tech would give the undisputed head of the conference to them.

A special scholarship is maintained at Dartmouth College for a "religious man from Missouri."

This year's freshman class at University of Minnesota is topping all predecessors in patronage of symphony concerts.

GENTS TO PLAY RICE SATURDAY

Still seeking the first victory of the season, the Maroon and White travel to Houston to meet the Rice Owls on Saturday, November 1.

Although the Rice team was defeated 40 to 0 by Texas last week, the encounter should prove an easy victory for them, and the Gents will have to put up a tough battle to hold the Owls to par. The Gents have failed to score on Rice the last two seasons.

Rice has a power-house, led by their star, Bob Brumley, and will be caught on the rebound after their defeat by the Longhorns. Brumley, who has been on the injured list for two weeks, will be prepared to polish up his record against the Centenary Gentlemen. It was Rice with Brumley scoring all the points, who upset the highly touted Tulane Green Wave 10 to 9. The victory set them up as one of the strongest clubs in the Southwest Conference. Rice's squad is more than double that of the Gents, which has been narrowed down by injuries and quitters to 23 men.

Dick Develle, No. 49, does the passing and is commonly known as a "gentleman of football," because he plays for the enjoyment of the game, rather than a scholarship.

Dickson is the No. 1 kicker and will also carry the brunt of the running attack.

PROBABLE STARTING LINEUP

Rice	Centenary
Tresh	LE..... Daugherty
Goforth	LT..... Baldwin
Sloon	LG..... Allums
Humble	C..... Schad

Heard	RG..... Whitehurst
Brannon	RT..... Heath
Wells	RE..... Nash
Dickson	LH..... Johnson
Price	RH..... Raley
Brown	QB..... Feducia
Brumley	FB..... Varner

Average yearly student expenses at Harvard University are $1,295.

Every student at Berea college, Kentucky, must work part time, and all students live in dormitories.

Approximately 70,000 college students this year hold scholarships valued at more than $10,000,000.

JUST TO CALL YOUR ATTENTION!

We have never advertised this in the Conglomerate—but we have the most up-to-date and modern repair department of any store in town. If your watch is "sick" or your new ring too small, avail yourself of the vast experience of our firm in this service. If it can be repaired, we can do it, and at moderate and just prices.

Don't Forget Also—We Have Everything in Jewelry, Watches, Leather and Crested Goods!

LEONARD'S

320-322 Ward Bldg.

Phone 2-5088

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

The days when little men rule are not over. Mite and might are the same when you are referring to Guy Joseph Feducia. The smallest man on the squad, "Snake" Feducia, a Shreveport boy, weighs 145 pounds and is dependable in his slot as blocking back. Last Saturday he made possible Centenary's only touchdown by blocking out the last man for Griffith.

The 24-year-old, 5-feet-7-inch quarterback lettered four years in high school and in 1937 was placed on the Louisiana all-state first team.

Guy was a holdover his sophomore year and although he is a senior, should he choose to return next year he would be eligible for football. Centenary could use a good signal caller next year, so we hope that he comes back.

Although he has played two years of football, he has yet to receive a letter. So far this season he has played 125 minutes and will certainly have little trouble in securing one this year.

He is a major in history and upon graduation plans to join the army. He was accepted into the "C" club because of his prowess in baseball, his position being right field.

When I asked "Snake" if he would like to say anything he said, "I'm looking forward and laying for the Bulldogs on the 27th of November."

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt, Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

Winthrop Shoes

A WINTHROP BROGUE FOR THE CAMPUS ROGUE

Here's a rugged rascal—a wing tip brogue with heavy perforations—a "must" for every well-balanced wardrobe. Let this Winthrop winner help to put you on the "best-dressed" list.

$7.95

and up

THE MASTER SHOE STORE

Phelps Shoe Co. Ltd.

ESTABLISHED 1869
Shreveport, Louisiana

CAMPUS CAMERA

I Wasn't Told, I Only Heard . . . that Pat Coffey is another of the Betty Lou type that J. L. Solomon is a nip that "Slick" Comegys is sweating something New that B. G. Smith knows the same idiom that Jo Glassell does (or is it that one about "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush"?)
that "Buzz" Lewellen (along with a few others) is still sweating Lettie Lee Phillips that girls aren't supposed to smoke in the SUB, or can they, legally? that Bobby Lindsay is hanging around Norman Robertson (just hanging around, Raley, just hanging around) that "Brud" Richardson says "me and the Band" that Rob says that she hasn't got "it" (she means the pin) that Bruce Williams is doing nothing but sweating these days—something cooking?
that Susy Mulkey is called "Meal Ticket" for some reason that we don't know that there won't be a special to Houston that Norman Walker is free of the "caffin" habit that Sullivan can be had, if you know what we mean that Jane Bartlett is really on the level, not on her high horse at all that "Kay-Baby" Canon and Baird got those letters from Kollege Kapers saying "come back in two years" that E. B. Robinson is a future "Yardbird," and not so far off that some got it and some ain't got it!

HALLOWE'EN

(Continued from Page One)
being prepared for the large crowd always expected for the "Y" functions of this type. The entire group will be led in singing a few songs as part of the entertainment.

This huge party is open to any young people of the city, the only requirements being that those who come be above high school age. The students of Centenary have been urged to turn out for this first party and help start the year's program off with a bang.

There will have to be a small admission charge of 10c to help cover the expenses involved in preparing all the equipment for the occasion.

The entire party is being sponsored by the social and recreational activities committee of the Y. M. C. A.

So, remember the "Y" tomorrow night, November 1, at 7:30. Come in groups, alone, or with a date—but above all, come on out to have one of the best times of your life.

This Collegiate World

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Popeye has attained academic respectability. Students at Rockford, Illinois, College are learning to sing about the exploits of the sailor man in Spanish. The tune found its way into the curriculum through the help of Professor Nicolas Percas, who first heard the song in his native Spanish home, and then found it equally popular in Venezuela, where he lived for two years before coming to this country.

REX

Phone 7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

FRI. & SAT., OCT. 31-NOV. 1
"MAN POWER"
Edward G. Robinson—Marlene Dietrich
Cartoon and Serial

SUN.-MON.-TUE., NOV. 2-3-4
"LIFE BEGINS FOR ANDY HARDY"
Mickey Rooney—Judy Garland
Cartoon—First-Run News

WED. & THURS., NOV. 5-6
"THE PRISONER OF ZENDA"
Ronald Colman—Madeleine Carroll
First-Run News—Cartoon

For more than just a Haircut we recommend

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.
L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

WHO'S WHO

(Continued from Page One)

the Student Senate, president of the "C" Club, member of faculty social activities committee, and an outstanding athlete.

Peg Hawkins is co-ed vice-president of the Student Senate, president of Zeta Tau Alpha, member of the faculty discipline committee of the college, and vice-president of the senior class.

Jimmy Thibodeaux, Chi Omega, is secretary of the Student Senate, president of Pan-Hellenic, vice-president of junior class, former secretary of sophomore class, and was elected most popular girl last year.

Ann Burnette, Zeta Tau Alpha, is president of the Maroon Jackets, member of Student Senate, associate editor of the Conglomerate, and was vice-president of the sophomore and junior classes.

Carl Vollmer is president of Kappa Sigma, president of Interfraternity Council, member of the Student Senate, member of the faculty social activities committee of the school, was elected most popular boy last year, and was president of sophomore class last year.

Joe Stephens is treasurer of the junior class, former president of Alpha Sigma Pi, underclassmen scholarship fraternity, an outstanding debater and orator, and an officer in Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Bill Graham, Kappa Sigma, is president of the senior class, member of the Student Senate, and editor of the Yoncopin.

Lou Dell Liston is president of Aufait, member of the faculty social activities committee, and a member of the Student Senate.

LaRue Powell is president of Alpha Xi Delta and a member of the Student Senate.

Walter Jacobs was business manager of the Yoncopin last year.

Jimmy Brown, Chi Omega, was named Miss Centenary in a beauty contest last year and is an outstanding performer in Kollege Kapers.

Lanford DeGeneres is a former vice-president of Alpha Sigma Pi and an outstanding scholar.

Gilbert Hetherwick, fourteenth representative, is president of the Student Senate, of Kappa Alpha, and of Alpha Chi, upperclassmen scholastic fraternity, editor of the Conglomerate, member of faculty discipline committee, and former president of Alpha Sigma Pi, of junior class, of freshman class, and former treasurer of sophomore class.

The idea for such a volume as this was conceived over nine years ago as a means for creating one national basis of recognition for students devoid of politics, initiation fees, and dues.

The motivating force behind the organization of this project was two-fold. First, was a desire to provide an outstanding honor for students displaying merit and second, to establish a reference volume of authoritative information on the great body of American college students.

Only juniors and seniors, or students in advanced work, are selected. The purpose of "Who's Who" is set forth as being to serve as an incentive for students to get the most out of their college careers, as a means of compensation to students for what they have already done, as a standard of measurement for students comparable to such agencies as Phi Beta Kappa, and as a recommendation to the business world.

More than 550 colleges and universities were represented in last year's edition of the book and some 5000 biographies included.

Stranger: Pardon me, is this the City Gas Works?

Mr. Young: No, this is the Centenary Public Speaking Department.

Stranger: Well, I didn't miss it much, did I?

I'm just a modest little girl—I don't smoke or drink, Or dare to sit at night Upon the river's brink—So my parents think.

JOAKS and STUPH

Overheard:

At the Zephyr Room: Consomme, bouillon, hors d'oeuvres, fricasse poulet, pommes de terre au gratin, demitasse, des glaces, and tell that mug in the corner to keep his lamps offa me moll, see?

At the Airport: Listen to me, now, or you'll never learn how to handle a plane. Just do as I tell you and you'll be all right. Keep 'er straight now. Don't let 'er go sideways. Push 'er a little harder and keep your front end up a little—now level 'er off. That's the way. Say, I'll make a carpenter of you yet.

My typist's away on vacation
My typist's away to the sea;
She left me to do alz the typigg%
o bring bacj my typust to me/
My typixt's aw-py on vasetion4
A fact yo ucan eaxily zee—
It's odd how thees letirs get mixde up

o brine bach my typr tu mr.,?

A Void

Norris K.—See my new purse? It just matches my shoes.

Jerry R.—What's in it?

Norris K.—Nothing.

Jerry R.—Then you're wrong. It matches your hat.

Dead Language

"Now, I want Albert to have a thorough modern up-to-date education," said his mother, "including Latin."

"Yes, of course," said the Dean, "though Latin is a dead language."

Well, all the better. Albert's going to be an undertaker."

4 U

Soph: How much is 5q and 5q?

Fresh: Ten q.

Soph: You're welcome.

Fun in College

Found: Roll of five-dollar bills. Will the owner form a line at the north entrance of South Hall?

Doing His Bust

"No use," growled Mr. Smith to his wife. "I can't do it."

"What is it, dear?" asked the wife in alarm.

"Why, the doctor told me this morning to drink hot water an hour before dinner for my indigestion. Here, I have five quarts down and am nearly bursting, and I have only been drinking fifteen minutes."

Prof: What is geometry?

Nan Dobson: The little acorn grew and grew and one day woke up and said—Gee-om-etry.

ADRIENNE AMES
(star of stage, screen and radio) visits many training camps in her job as Chairman of the Entertainment Committee of the Home Legion. A carton of Chesterfields is a mighty welcome gift for the men in camp.

Mighty important in this man's Army

It's Chesterfield

Follow the lead of Adrienne Ames and send the men in the camps the cigarette that's Definitely MILDER and BETTER-TASTING

Everything about Chesterfield is made for your pleasure and convenience . . . from their fine, rightly blended tobaccos to their easy-to-open cellophane jacket that keeps Chesterfield always Fresher and Cooler-Smoking.

Buy a pack and try them. You're sure to like them because the big thing that's pushing Chesterfield ahead all over the country is the approval of smokers like yourself.

EVERYWHERE YOU GO

They Satisfy

New Type of Glide

Minneapolis, Minn. (ACP)—

Something new in gliders has been developed at the University of Minnesota's aeronautical engineering laboratory. It is the product of Northwest Airlines engineers' designing and the tireless effort of a crew of university students.

NX34222 is the only name the new glider has. It weighs a scant 500 pounds, takes off and lands at 30 miles an hour, has reached 75 miles an hour in a dive.

NX34222 differs from ordinary commercial gliders in three respects:

1. It has two seats instead of one, each with a complete set of controls.
2. It is rugged enough to stand student training abuse.
3. It has given high performance in maneuvers and has sufficient strength to permit towing behind an airplane.

—Patronize Our Advertisers—

CENTENARY

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE
Always 9c & 22c Phone 7-5971

FRIDAY, OCT. 31
"RINGSIDE MAISIE"
Ann Southern—George Murphy
Cartoon

SATURDAY, NOV. 1
"CITADEL OF CRIME"
and "BLONDIE IN SOCIETY"
Serial

SUN. & MON., NOV. 2-3
"BLOSSOMS IN THE DUST"
Greer Garson—Walter Pidgeon
Cartoon—News

TUES.-WED.-THURS., NOV. 4-5-6
"DR. KILDARE'S WEDDING DAY"
Lew Ayres—Lionel Barrymore
Specialty—Cartoon—News

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE		SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS
President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406		Fraternalities:
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571		Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610		2810 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207		Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....7-7210		Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS		336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)		Carl Vollmer
Ann Burnette, President.....7-4953		Lamba Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)		Centenary Campus
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571		Richard Norton, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)		Sororities:
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406		Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)		Centenary Campus.....7-9387
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571		La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)		Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571		Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)		Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358		Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS		Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Cenhomee Club (Home Economics)		Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929		Cencoes (Intersorority)
Commerce Club (Commerce)		Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395
Lewis Fennell, President.....7-6043		Non-Greek, Women:
Women's Athletic Association		Aufait
Azalea Webb, President.....7-2936		Lou Dell Liston, President.....7-9891
Geology Club (Geology)		(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 7-3888

FOR BETTER SCHOOL WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC

MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy, never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

Record Number Expected For Homecoming

FORECAST

Homecoming is at hand again. This year, as always, the success or failure of the day's program depends primarily upon the cooperation of the student body. Although this day is chiefly for the former students, who are returning for their annual visit, it is the responsibility of the present students to see that the old grads are made to feel completely at home. The school means as much to them as it does to any of us, so let us see that when they leave us, they go with the feeling that their Alma Mater is in good hands.

All of the visitors tomorrow had some part in the development of the school at some time or other. Each will notice campus improvements made since last year. But most important of all, every one of the alums will compare the present student body with those of former homecoming days; and we must not be found wanting.

It does not require much time to stop and say a few words to a stranger on the campus; and a student of yesterday will go away with a feeling of comradeship for the students of today.

So, students of Centenary, all together, let us do everything necessary to make this one of the finest Homecomings in Centenary's history.

MANY STATES REPRESENTED AT CENTENARY

Students from Nineteen States Attending School This Semester

Centenary is well represented by many states. As one would expect, most hail from Louisiana. To be exact, our own parish of Caddo claims 431 students. Altogether there are 28 other parishes who have sent some 92 people.

The Lone Star State supplies the next largest number of our student body. Texas has sent 42. Next follows Arkansas with 17, Oklahoma with 9, Illinois with 6, New York with 3, Pennsylvania with 3, Alabama with 2, Florida with 2, Ohio with 2, Arizona with 1, Indiana with 1, Kansas with 1, Kentucky with 1, Michigan with 1, Mississippi with 1, New Jersey with 1, South Carolina with 1, and Tennessee with 1.

This makes a total of 95 people who represent 18 states of the union.

CONGLOMERATE TAKES SECOND CLASS RATING

In a nation-wide contest sponsored by the Associated Collegiate Press, the Conglomerate of last year was awarded Second Class Honor rating. The paper was entered last fall in the competition by Russell Stewart, editor, and the certificate of honor has just been received.

The critical service offered by the Associated Collegiate Press is a special service given to papers that subscribe to the A.C.P. features throughout the year.

College newspapers were judged on a basis of excellence of composition, make-up, headline writing, and editorials.

ALPHA CHI MEETING

Friday morning at 10 o'clock in Room 25 of the Arts Building.

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal

WHO'S WHO AT CENTENARY

Above are the 14 students chosen to represent Centenary in this year's edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Top row, left to right—Joe Stephens, Ann Thibodeaux, Walter Jacobs, LaRue Powell; second row—Lou Dell Liston, Gilbert Hetherwick, Jimmie Brown, Carl Vollmer; third row—Camp Flournoy, Peg Hawkins, Lanford DeGeneres, Ann Burnette; fourth row—Bill Graham, Claud Teel.

DANCE CLIMAXES CELEBRATION OF HOMECOMING DAY

First Alumni Dance on Campus: Senate, Sororities, Fraternities Also Hosts

Saturday night the alumni will establish a precedent when they give the first campus dance for both students and alumni in the long 117-year history of the school. Several student dances have already been held on the campus this year, but the Homecoming reception and dance will mark the first attempt at an alumni function of this type on the campus.

Last year Pan-Hellenic joined the Alumni Association in giving a dance for students and alums, but the affair was held off the campus.

The alumni portion of the dance will be under the supervision of the alumni association's Homecoming committee, which includes Kenneth Kellam, Horace Holder, Katherine French, Margaret Hope, and Algy Brown.

Sharing expenses of the evening will be the Student Senate, Pan-Hellenic Council, and the Intra-Fraternity Council.

The dance is expected to be quite well attended, since both alumni and students will be among those dancing. It will be held in the school gymnasium and dancing will begin promptly at 8:30.

WELCOME BACK HOME, GRADS!

Home is one of the strongest words in the English language and homecoming is one of the happiest thoughts ever to enter a mind. A love of home is one of the redeeming human virtues and the love of the graduates of a college for the home of their intellectual development is the soundest basis for true loyalty. A genuine homecoming makes two groups happy; those who return and those who have remained to receive them on their return. As Centenary celebrates the homecoming of 1941 in a disturbed and anxious world, we appreciate the appreciation of those who have fixed their lives on principles that abide and all who come back to the campus will find a hearty welcome.

PIERCE CLINE.

On behalf of the student body I wish to welcome you back to the Centenary campus, which is yours as well as ours. We sincerely hope that you enjoy your visit with us and will not hesitate to call upon any of the students for any service that we may be able to render.

It is our desire that this fifteenth Homecoming be the happiest you have ever experienced and may it serve to cement closer the bonds between you and your Alma Mater.

GILBERT HETHERWICK,
President, Student Body

HOMECOMING DAY PROGRAM

- 9:00-12:00—Registration of alumni in Student Union Building.
- 11:00—Parade to form on parking lot.
- 2:30—Kick-off of Centenary-T.C.U. football game.
- 5:00—Open houses of all social organizations.
- 8:30—Alumni-student dance in gym.

PEG HAWKINS HOMECOMING QUEEN FOR '41

Elected by Students Monday; To Ride in Parade Saturday and Be Crowned at TCU Game

In a campus election conducted last Monday, Peggy Hawkins, popular senior, was named Queen of the 1941 Homecoming celebration at Centenary, and will preside over all functions of the day.

In winning this election, which was one of the closest on record, Miss Hawkins defeated the Misses Felice Hicks, Lou Dell Liston, LaRue Powell, and Mabel Boddie.

To begin her duties for the day she will ride in the Homecoming parade which begins at 11:30 Saturday morning. During the football game in the afternoon she will be crowned at the half.

In the crowning ceremonies at half-time she will be attended by the homecoming queens of former years. Among those who are expected to attend the coronation are Mrs. Bill Horton, '33; Miss Edith Bailey, '34; Mrs. Bill Hoover, '35; Mrs. Howard Hooper, '36; Mrs. Fred Metcalf, '37; Miss Mary Agnes Rainsback, '38; Miss Martha Shepherd, '39, and Miss Dorothy Robinson, '40.

Miss Hawkins is co-ed vice-president of the student body, vice-president of the senior class, and president of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority.

KOLLEGE KAPERS CAST SELECTIONS ABOUT COMPLETE

This year selection of the cast for Kollege Kapers was quite difficult because some eighty students offered their talents for the 1942 edition. At present 23 members of the cast have been chosen and eight or ten more will be selected within the next three weeks.

The following are those who have been invited to join the 1942 cast of Kollege Kapers:

Jimmy Brown
Harriett Crawford
J. L. Solomon
Sam Swr
C. H. Vandegaer
C. W. Williams
Mabel Boddie
Billy Bradford
Cleo Christianson
Jean Evans
Carley Fox
Justine Holmes
Martha Stephens
Gladys Tippet
Roland Achee
Camp Flournoy
Arthur Shuey
Richard Burl Sullivan, Jr.
Frank McAneny
G. L. Blaxton
Charlotte Newsom
Rosemary Neal
Virginia Friddle
A. C. "Cheesy" Voran (consented by unanimous assent)
Out of the following eight or ten will be invited to join within the next three weeks:
Bill Booth, Foster Hamner, E. W. Harris, David Freeman, Hyman Gardsbane, Aubrey McClelland, Charles Huddleston, Myrtle Canon, Felice Hicks, Susie Mulkey, Gladys Williams, Dudley Beene, Jack Keenan, James McGregor, John (Continued on Page Eight)

THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY

The school has announced that Thanksgiving Day will be observed on November 20 this year.

LARGE DAY PREPARED FOR ALUMS

Registration Saturday A. M. In Student Union Bldg.; Football Game

Final arrangements for Centenary's Homecoming have been made, and the entire college awaits the Gentlemen's game with Texas Christian University tomorrow.

Invitations were mailed to school alumni by Professor Banks and the Alumni Association, urging their participation in activities of the day. It is believed that the college will be host to a larger number of its graduates than in the past few years. The program has

Memorial Service

The annual memorial service in memory of Centenary's beloved Dr. George Sexton will be conducted Saturday morning. All friends of the college and of Dr. Sexton will meet at 8:00 at the college chapel. Everyone will then proceed to Forest Park Cemetery, where a brief ceremony will be held, after which the traditional floral offering will be made by the Homecoming Queen. Dr. S. A. Steger is in charge of the memorial service.

been announced and all arrangements for a full day have been made by the Homecoming Committee. (Continued on Page Eight)

ALL STUDENTS ELIGIBLE FOR CHORAL WORK

Centenary Organization in Need of More Singers from Student Body

The Centenary College choir has begun rehearsals for this year's work, according to Mr. Alvin C. Voran, director of the group. "Cheesy" announces that care will be taken in choosing numbers which will appeal to "town and gown" music lovers. The choir is eager to learn music that may be presented at all types of occasions and to do this they are planning a broad repertoire.

This organization of the music department does not require that a student have professional music training. The only requirement is that he be able to sing a little and have a desire to help produce a good choir. There is a need for basses and baritones in the present group. This gives plenty of opportunity. (Continued on Page Eight)

Ann Thibodeaux To Be Harvest Princess at Festival

Ann Thibodeaux, Chi Omega and treasurer of the student body, has been named Centenary's representative to the annual Harvest Festival at the College of Marshall. The festival is being held this year on November 13.

The Harvest Festival is an annual celebration at the College of Marshall. All schools in the neighboring region are invited to send representatives to serve as princesses in the Harvest Queen's court.

As a reciprocal courtesy Centenary College invites the College of Marshall to send a delegate to serve in the court of the May Queen.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Member
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO BOSTON SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES PORTLAND SEATTLE

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Betty Gordon Smith, Ellen Eastham, Hutch Phillips, Jack Keenan, Eleanor Brown, Dudley Beene, Gloria Brown, Jake Cullick, Mary Foster Peyton, Rose Orme, J. L. Solomon, and Arthur Shuey.

"For Our Hearts Will Love Thee Ever . . ."

Tomorrow is Homecoming at Centenary. This is the time of year when former students of the college come back to their Alma Mater to pay their respects to the institution in which they spent their college days in years gone by. It is a time for renewing old friendships and reviving once more memories of other days spent walking down the paths to South Hall, or coming back for a late lab in Jackson Hall.

On Homecoming Day we of the present student body share our school with those men and women who in former years lived, studied, and played here in much the same manner as we do today. It always is invigorating to come in contact with those who have finished here and are succeeding with their work.

It causes the school to mean so much more to us, when we realize that it has found so permanent a place in their hearts as to cause them to return after many years just to greet old friends and walk through their old campus.

So, we are truly glad to welcome all the returning alumni back to their college. Each has had his share in building Centenary to the school it is today, and establishing her traditions. May they thoroughly enjoy their visit with their Alma Mater.

Alma Mater

Where the sleepy, silv'ry bayou
Gleams among the pines,
Watching o'er the throbbing city,
Alma Mater shines.

Forward, forward, Centenary,
Time and tide may fail,
But our hearts will love thee ever,
Centenary, hail!

HERE AND THERE

Some silly definitions taken from the Silly Syclopedia by Noah Lott:

Football. A system of manslaughter very fashionable with boys. From the Latin words "foot-ibus," meaning "put the boots to him," and "balloona," meaning "up in the air," or "who hit me with a public building?" A body of college students surrounded by ambulances. For instance:

Sing a song of football
Pockets full of salve;
Four and twenty legs all
Punctured at the clave.
Captain in the hospital
Fullback in the soup,
Twenty-seven faces
Broken in the group.
Sophomores and Freshmen
Punched around the ring;
When the war was over
The boys began to sing!
Raw! Raw! Raw!
Raw! Raw! Raw!
Stew them!
Fry them!
Raw! Raw! Raw!
Oysters!

Bad Actor. Man who is egged on by ambition and egged off by the audience.

Calamity. Loud-mouthed individual who insists upon telling stale jokes.

Gag. Joke rendered insensible by third-rail comedian.

Good Time. About $9 worth of headache next morning and eighteen cents in small change left in the pocket.

Love. A certain party who is supposed to be blind, but he does not seem to have much trouble in finding someone to lead him around.

Neck. A place to get it in.

War. An excuse for talking about the dove of peace.

Zebra. An animal used principally to illustrate the letter Z.

POETRY

Taken from Enough Rope by Dorothy Parker:

Razors pain you;
Rivers are damp;
Acids stain you;
And drugs cause cramp.
Guns aren't lawful;
Nooses give;
Gas smells awful;
You might as well live.

If I don't drive around the park,
I'm pretty sure to make my mark.
If I'm in bed each night by ten,
I may get back my looks again,
If I abstain from fun and such,
I'll probably amount to much,
But I shall stay the way I am,
Because I do not give a . . .

Lady, lady, should you meet
One whose ways are all discreet,
One who keeps assuring you
That he never was untrue,
Never loved another one . . .
Lady, lady, better run!

Prospective students are eligible for a scholarship at Princeton, and several of them at the University of Pennsylvania, if their father worked on the Pennsylvania railway.

LOOKING BACK

1922—

Under the masthead, "The Maroon and White," the Centenary paper was under way, having been newly organized. The final issue that year had the pictures of every senior on the front page, all six of them, namely Armstrong, Clark, Honeycutt, Mitchell, Nelson, Taylor, Worley. Remember?

1922-'23—

On Thanksgiving Day, Professor Gleason of the Psychology Department offered a $5 gold piece to the one who guessed the right score in the Tech game. Listed among the latest popular jazz numbers were: "I Wish I Could Shimmy Like My Sister Kate," and "Three O'Clock in the Morning." Remember?

1923-'24—

Gents beat T. C. U. 23 to 0 and a gentleman from New York who chanced to see the game wrote a letter to the paper stating that the Gents were playing out of their class and should try something bigger. Big picture on front page showing Coach "Bo" McMillin receiving the key to the city from Boston's Mayor Curley. Majestic Theatre showing Constance Talmadge in "The Dangerous Maid" with an extra added attraction . . . Centenary's own Mary Gillespie . . . Dance, Specialty DeLuxe. Big headline on the front page of Feb. 27th issue, "Centenary Students Conspicuous at Billy Sunday Meeting." Remember?

1924-'25—

First issue proclaims that the college is to have a girls' dormitory. Big headlines on the Nov. 22nd's issue, "Gentlemen Down Boston by 10 to 9 Score." Maurice Ellington, editor of the Conglomerate, was almost electrocuted in a barber's chair. "Mex" Farrell proclaimed hero of Boston game. Dec. 19th issue laments over "Bo" McMillin's resignation. A merry time was spent in deciphering crossword puzzles at a Chi Omega party.

In the Jan. 15th issue: Captain "Cal" Hubbard returned to Centenary from Wyoming University (much to the fans' glee) because it was too cold up there. Remember?

1926-'27—

That's the year that a couple of young fellows by the names of Gerard Banks and Abie Goldberg were editor and business manager of the Conglomerate. On the Gents' roster that year we find such names as Binion, Allday, Hamel. Remember?

1928-'29-'30—

A young fellow by the name of Jake Hanna was running wild around the place. Remember?

The Gents really went to town this year . . . 8 wins, 1 tie. New stadium with big doings and a 6-to-0 victory over L. S. U. Remember?

1933-'34—

That glorious football season of 1933. The last year for Coach Norton but man . . . what a year! 12 wins and 0 defeats. All-American Geisler with "Shorty" Oslin and Manning Smith making the honorable mention list. Remember?

1934-'35—

That's the year that the ol' maestro, Ben Bernie, picked Margaret Hope as Beauty Queen. Remember?

1936-'37—

The college was blessed with the addition of a brand new gymnasium. Remember?

July 4, 1937—

Doctor George passed away and everybody was very much taken aback. Remember?

1939-'40—

The students moved "en masse" into the new Student Union Building. Everyone lost five years' growth when a tornado swept through the campus. Remember?

Mobile School

State College, Pa. (ACP) — A mobile chemistry laboratory, housed in a two-ton truck, has been placed in use by Pennsylvania State College to meet the emergency demands of defense education throughout the state. The laboratory equipment will travel approximately 10,000 miles by 98 class centers where high school graduates are being trained by the college for technical jobs in defense industries.

CONGLOMERATION

At the head of the column we place Professor Bryant Davidson, undoubtedly the most popular man at the recent Dormitory Council tea dance. What was the remark he made about girls' tags? Funny thing is that he didn't enjoy it one-half as much as did the co-eds. Now we know why there are so many women history students!

Ed Hynoski doesn't quite explain how things stand between him and Letti-lee Phillips, but after questioning a few of his buddies, it seems that they enjoy one another's company. Then, why, pray tell, is she being escorted to the Zeta dance by a certain other blonde?

New pair on the campus are Martha Stevens and Foster Hamner. Both are O.K. people, and someone told us that Martha thinks Foster equally as well as Foster thinks Martha. Maybe someone should tell them.

Lookout, who is Roy Lyons placing first on his "I Prefer" list? Gollee, how does he do it? Coburn, Tinnin, and other pretties! And he's from the country too! Incidentally, Roy says, "I don't never want to go back to Bunkie! NEVER!"

Someone set us straight about the Walker-Coffey-Cook triangle. Did or did not Patsy wear the pin given to her by Cook? And did Norman know about it when he was her attentive date and Cook's good buddy? Maybe they had one of these "Design for Living" arrangements. 'Tis said that all is straightened out now. How about that? Ah, Texas is a great state, and Texans usually stick up for one another.

Maybe it is time that someone outside of the band members noticed the attention the drum majors give to the Moron Jackets. Strickland's is all for LaRue Powell, but Pugh can't center his on one person. Could it be that he fickle or just young? Bob, we notice, and Bob Eatman are becoming very attentive to Martha Lewis, Arkansas' gift to the hillbillies.

Someone told us to put something about our Editor preferring conspicuous places, and to look in Bette Gordon Smith's direction when she read the column. Well, we heard that the reddest girl in this town was B. G. S. Just look at her now.

Mentioning Flournoy's name for the hundred and nth time this year, we tell other eligible for draft age men that Camp has found a way to fail to pass the requirements. Funny thing is that he has been working toward that failure long before they passed the Draft Bill. Ha . . . he's fast headed for the rub. (Rub, Flournoy! R...ub!)

Why is Al Hughes so indifferent to women. My, my, you'd think he thought all fire burned. Say, son, some of it is just warm and glowing. Ask Pope Oden. Gad, what a lad!

YOU NAME IT

Seen on the campus:

Mary Smith New in a daze over Jack Comegys.

Dorothy Graham looking hazily around for somebody. I wonder who?

Marguerite (Grade A) Haggard going altogether with Foster Phil-yaw.

Unhappy looks on the face of Shuey. Poor Shuey!

Cleo Christianson, with an awful cold, definitely not caught from Shuey.

The vacant space where Mary Reidenbach used to be.

Buckethead, Nick Elena and Pete Papa—three swell freshman football players.

K. J. Blamied flying around over the campus in her car.

Martha Hart standing all by herself in the SUB. What's the matter, Martha?

Merrie Fowler working in her own quiet way but getting there, but definitely.

Sallie Mullin with J. G. Gaienne as usual. We think he's cute, too, Sallie.

Once or twice, Betty Jean Singley . . . wish we could see her more—at least Flournoy says he would like to. Incidentally, she was No. 1 Beauty in high school.

Someone spattering chemicals on lab ceiling. Now, now, don't you know you should have watched that stuff cooking?

Bevel Hodges doing a solo. Don't you know you should never dance alone? Also seen, Rosie Neal and C. H. Vandegaer dancing. Aw, Cheezy, it was only in fun!

Horace Alvord, when are you going to give up that filling station?

Betty Woffard, following Claire Tinnin. Betty, now we think you're cute enough to come out in front.

Lucille Webb on crutches. We're awfully sorry, 'Cille, and hope it will be well soon. Take better care of those pretty ankles.

And you ladies and gentlemen—take care of yourselves.

Get your next
haircut

at

PEE WEE'S
BARBER SHOP

SOCIETY

Dormitory Council

Thursday afternoon the Dormitory Council of Colonial Hall entertained with a tea dance from 4:00 to 6:00 in the Student Union Building. Despite inclement weather many students were on hand to join in the doncing.

Cen-Coes

The Student Union Building was the scene of the Cen-Coe Hallowe'en Dance last Friday night. The room was attractively decorated in the traditional Hallowe'en colors, black and orange, with jack o' lanterns and witches hanging from the ceiling all around the sides. Dr. and Mrs. Topper, Mr. Schuhle, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, and several others of the faculty were present.

Woman's college of the University of North Carolina installed the first milk bar on a southern college campus.

All work and no play makes Jack and lots of it.

Without reservation, we say that Varsity Towns know no competition. Ugh! . . . what originality! . . . Ugh! . . . what smartness! For Fall, heap big style news in longer jackets and low-pitched pockets . . . brave new fabric discoveries . . . daring color pioneering. Stalk over to our fashion tepee and we'll show you the new arrivals!

$30 and more

M. LEVY CO.

Shreveport Since 1857

You taste
its quality

Experience proves that nothing takes the place of quality. You taste the quality of ice-cold Coca-Cola. Again and again you enjoy the charm of its delicious taste . . . and its cool, clean after-sense of complete refreshment. Thirst asks nothing more.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

Pause . . .
Go refreshed

Coca-Cola
TRADE-MARK

5¢

You trust its quality

CENTENARY FACULTY REPRESENTED IN CIVIC, COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

"Extra-curricular" Activities Numerous
For Majority of Instructors
Of the Institution

The Centenary College faculty is without a doubt the most active group of men and women from a civic standpoint to be found anywhere in this region. There is hardly a club in the city which does not have at least one of them on its rolls and always in a very active position. In the national emergency many of them are taking positions of responsibility in the defense setup for this district.

Wherever they may be found, in defense position or literary circle, you may be sure that they are acting as leaders of the organization with which they are associated.

For example, the first lady of Centenary, as we might call Mrs. A. R. Campbell, since she is Dean of Women, belongs to two of the oldest organizations in the city. They are the Era Club and the Hypatia Club. She also is a member of the University Women's Club and holds the high rank of major in the Military Maids.

Dr. Cline, president of our institution, heads his list of activities with lectures at various places such as churches, civic clubs and a weekly talk at the Women's Department Club. Besides being vice-president of the Rotary Club he serves on the executive council of the Boy Scouts of America, executive board of the Chamber of Commerce and is on the survey committee of the State Citizens Public Education committee.

Dean Hardin, busy man that he is, finds time to teach a Sunday School class in the First Methodist Church. The Mathematical Association and the Southern Association also hold some of his attention.

Miss Ware is serving this year as publicity chairman of the AAUW.

Dr. Lowance spent his summer working on a national defense project. This occupation was certainly a civic one.

Holding the important office of state president of the AAUW is Dr. French. She is also active in the Department club and church work.

As a board member of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Phelps finds it hard to divide his time equally between his duty to that organization and the Masonic Lodge. He also teaches a Sunday School class in the Broadmoor Methodist Church.

President of the Hypatia Club for this year is Mrs. Steger. She also is serving as vice-president of the board of directors of the Little Theatre.

Speaking of Sunday School class teachers, we must mention Dean Smith who for 14 years, has taught the Four Square Bible Class.

Mr. Banks is regularly seen on Sunday teaching a class at the Presbyterian church while at the same time in the First Baptist church Dr. Ford can be seen doing the same thing. He is also on the board of directors of the Little Theatre.

Commanding the fourth district of the American Legion is Dr. Shaw. Sharing his attention is the chairmanship of the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce National Defense Committee and the vice-chairmanship of the Shreveport and Caddo Parish Council for Defense.

Mr. See is chairman of the peakers committee of United Community Charities campaign and is director of the Ad. Club.

As history and time march on Mr. Davidson regularly lectures to different assemblies and, if not lecturing, he is probably attending a meeting of the Kiwanis or Wranglers since he is a member of both.

This will perhaps give you some idea of how busy our faculty is throughout the year. As you can see, they have plenty to do off the campus during their "spare" time. From this brief summary, which necessarily included only a portion of the faculty, it is easy to realize the important positions that representatives of Centenary occupy in all types of club work and activities in Shreveport.

Ned Looney, star end on the Centenary Gentlemen football squad of a few seasons ago, is reported to be engaged in an airplane ferry service to Africa at present.

Bill Steger, president of student body last year, is at present in the United States Military Academy at West Point.

The best luck that any man could have is never to have been born; but that seldom happens to anyone.

SONG AND DANCE
BY DON BROWN

A picture of negro life, painted by Mr. Brown four years ago in this part of the country. Done in oil, the background was painted on the Hart's Island Road and the two negroes were painted near Caddo Lake. The picture was one representing eight Louisiana artists used in the printing of a new book of contemporary American art. The name of the book is "American Art Today," and a copy may be found in the Library.

The picture was chosen by a jury of national artists and was first exhibited in a special building, which held only contemporary American paintings, at the New York World's Fair. The painting is now at the Art Studio in South Hall and Mr. Brown is offering it for sale.

An etching, "Dark Rhapsody," a picture of negro life, is soon to be found in a new book of American etchings and will be ready to sell very soon. This is one of Mr. Brown's more recent works.

ALUMNI . . .

Centenary Graduate Appointed Math Prof

Miss Virginia Carlton, graduate of Centenary College in May, 1939, has recently received her appointment as professor of mathematics at Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga., oldest college for women in the United States.

Miss Carlton graduated from Centenary Summa Cum Laude, receiving a Bachelor of Science degree. Her major subject was mathematics. She was awarded the James Glenn Leadership award her senior year and was editor of the Conglomerate.

Her graduate work was done at Tulane University where she received the Master of Arts degree in 1940. In this same year she began her teaching career by serving as instructor of mathematics in Ouachita High School, Monroe. During the summer of 1941, she taught some mathematics classes in Centenary.

Miss Carlton is one of the youngest department heads in any of the leading colleges and holds a chair usually occupied by educators of long experience and higher degrees.

The Carlton family has contributed a great deal to Centenary in the past few years. Miss Beatrice Carlton, younger sister of Miss Virginia Carlton, graduated Summa Cum Laude in the class of 1940 and won many high honors during her stay in the school. An older sister, Elizabeth, graduated in 1936, and a younger brother, Jack, is now carrying on the family tradition in Centenary.

Frank Word, student last year, has been stationed at Norfolk, Va., for the past few months at the Naval Air Base there. He was in town on a furlough the first part of the week before leaving for a month of maneuvers.

Bachman Nabors, '41, is to be found in Jacksonville, Florida, at the Naval Air Base there.

RUSSELL STEWART KEEPS RECORD OF THE CLASS OF 1941

Elected "permanent secretary" of the Class of '41, Russell Stewart, last year's editor of the Conglomerate, has developed a system for keeping a record of the interests and activities of all of the members of the class.

Some time ago he sent a questionnaire to each member of the class, asking his present occupation and other pertinent questions. These he placed in a file to keep for future reference, after supplying the alumni association with copies for their files.

Russell intends to keep this record as up-to-date as he possibly can, and has requested that any change of address by any of the class members be reported to him as soon as possible.

According to his data, 27 of the 99 members of the class are teaching at the present time, five months after graduation.

Fifteen are in graduate school and one-third of these are studying medicine.

Another fifteen have entered the business world with the greatest number in the oil and gas business.

They have joined the army either voluntarily or not with eight in the air corps, one in regular army and one in West Point.

Three are in the naval air force. One is a laboratory technician and one a music teacher.

Ten are housewives and the remaining 17 either unemployed or have not stated their occupations.

Patronize Our Advertisers, Please!

Be Casual! Be Smart!

MEN'S SPORT OR DRESS

SWEATERS

In all the Popular Fall
Colors

$2.98

PENNEY'S
J. C. PENNEY COMPANY, Inc.

WELCOME

ALUMNI!

WIN THAT GAME!

BROADMOOR FLORAL SHOP

3803 Youree

"FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS"

Phone
7-2737

Mrs.
Sara
Tully

$8.95

WINTHROP
COLONIALS
$5.50 to $6.50
Others
$7.50 and up

It's hard to find anything to compare with the flexibility of Winthrop's Action-Free Shoes. You see Action-Free is an exclusive Winthrop construction that allows you to flex your foot naturally every minute of the time you have on a pair of these great shoes. Try on a pair of Winthrop "Action-Free" Shoes and no others will satisfy you.

THE MASTER SHOE STORE

Phelps
Shoe Co. Ltd.
ESTABLISHED 1869
Shreveport, Louisiana

A medium toe bal of Bay brown boarded calf with black boot-maker's finish.

A plain toe brogue-
type blucher in brown
Lariat veal with black bootmaker's finish.

Broad toe heavy broguetype shoe of natural boarded calf with antique and black bootmaker's finish.

Welcome Home, Ex-Students

TIME Change!

- ★ SHORTEST ROUTE
- ★ QUICKEST TIME
- ★ ALL THE EXTRAS AT NO EXTRA FARE

SOUTHERN BELLE NEW ORLEANS - KANSAS CITY

(No Change in Time on These Trains)

10:00 am Lv. Kansas City Ar 7:55 pm
12:18 pm Pittsburg 5:28 pm
12:53 pm Joplin 4:51 pm
1:21 pm Neosho 4:20 pm
5:00 pm Fort Smith* 1:55 pm
*Bus Service via Spiro.
8:45 pm Texarkana 9:05 am
9:29 pm Rodessa 8:24 am
10:30 pm Ar Shreveport Lv 7:30 am
11:00 pm Lv Shreveport Ar 7:00 am
12:43 am Clarence 5:05 am
2:05 am Alexandria 3:45 am
5:05 am Baton Rouge 12:50 am
7:00 am Ar New Orleans Lv 11:00 pm

CONNECTING BUS SERVICE

AT CLARENCE
8:00 pm Lv Minden Ar 8:50 am
11:45 pm Lv Winnfield Ar 5:55 am
12:30 am Ar Clarence Lv 5:10 am

PHONE
YOUR TRAVEL AGENT

Schedules Now In Effect on the FLYING CROW between

NEW ORLEANS and KANSAS CITY and PORT ARTHUR and KANSAS CITY

9:45 pm Lv Kansas City Ar 8:25 am
1:12 am Joplin 5:06 am
1:55 am Neosho 4:28 am
4:30 am Fort Smith 1:45 am
10:55 am Texarkana 7:30 pm
11:49 am Rodessa 6:41 pm
1:05 pm Ar Shreveport Lv 5:40 pm
1:15 pm Lv Shreveport Ar 5:15 pm
4:20 pm Alexandria 2:10 pm
6:45 pm Baton Rouge 11:30 am
8:40 pm Ar New Orleans Lv 9:40 am
1:30 pm Lv Shreveport Ar 4:50 pm
4:50 pm Leesville 1:30 pm
6:15 pm DeQuincy 12:10 pm
7:20 pm Ar Lake Charles* Lv 11:00 am
*Air Conditioned Bus Service via DeQuincy.
7:40 pm Beaumont 10:50 am
8:20 pm Ar Port Arthur Lv 10:10 am

PEG HAWKINS, HOMECOMING QUEEN, CENTENARY, 1941
—Photo courtesy Shreveport Times

BIRTMAN—Back
Compliments of
HIGHLAND OIL COMPANY

Louisiana's
Oldest
Bank

LAWLESS—Back

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Correct Time Day or Night
Dial 3-8531

T. JOHNSON—Back
Mrs. Birdie Grace
Jack Armistead
SHREVEPORT
FLOWER SHOP
523 Crockett
Phone 2-5453

THE DRAKE CO.

Printers
Stationers
Office Outfitters
218 Texas St.

COMPLIMENTS
OF THE
KAPPA ALPHA FRATERNITY

DAUGHERTY—End
Compliments of
ZETA TAU ALPHA

Welcome,
Old Grads

BRITE SPOT

2404 Line Ave.
Phone 3-3619
Jack Hanford, Prop.

On to Victory,
GENTS!

Victory Barber Shop
Gene Byles H. B. Torrey
Line at Dalzell

Compliments

Clarke Jewelry Co.

607 Texas St. Phone 2-6652

Compliments
of

SANITARY BARBER
SHOP

DR.
PEPPER
BOTTLING WORKS

Compliments
of

The Caddo Hotel

Jordan & Booth

The Style Store for Men

Lamba Chi Alpha

WELCOME HOME, ALUMNI

"Where Good Taste Need Not Be Expensive"

Booth's

801 Texas Ave. Shreveport, La.

Compliments of

SINCLAIR SERVICE
STATION

H. L. DEMOSS
Centenary at Kings Hwy.
Phone 7-5252

Compliments
of

REILY and ODEN

Foster's Texaco Service

You name it—we got it

WHITE SIDEWALL TIRES—CAR HEATERS
ANTI-FREEZE — STEAM CLEANING

Lake at Spring St.

Phone 9521

See Gents vs. Frogs November 8th

BEST WISHES

and

GREETINGS

to

Centenary Alumni

Continental-American Bank & Trust Co.

"The Friendly Bank of Shreveport"

JAKE L. HANNA

Launched into a career as a football coach in a city where he twinkled brilliantly as a high school and college player, Jake L. Hanna is in command of the Centenary gridiron program as the first home boy and Centenary alumnus to be honored with an appointment as head coach. The appointment recognized his qualities as a leader and his talents at a teacher.

Hanna's football career dates back to 1924 when he stepped into the limelight as a high school quarterback here. Four years of prep football were followed by three years of exceptional brilliance as a member of the Centenary varsity and national mention for his excellence as a runner, passer and punter. Leaving Centenary, Hanna first coached the high school team at Franklin, La. Coaching assignments at Corsicana, Texas; Leesville, La., and Gladewater, Texas, followed and in each of the ten years Hanna coached high school elevens, his teams were high in the conference races. In 1935, his first season as head coach at Gladewater, his team won every game, and in that year and the next it won 19 in a row.

FIGHT WINTER

---FIGHT WEAR

NASH—End

The Cities Service Way

For complete cold weather protection, let us "Winter-Condition" your car the Cities Service way. This thorough, five-point service protects every point from the harmful work of Winter.

Come in today and get this complete service. The low cost will surprise you.

YOUR CITIES SERVICE DEALER

WHITE—Back

Compliments
of
A FRIEND

WELCOME
GRADS

CHI OMEGA SORORITY

WELCOME ALUMNI!

by

The
KAPPA SIGMA FRATERNITY

SCHAD—Center

Compliments
of

ALPHA XI DELTA

Welcome Home
Grads!

HOLT'S MEMORY TIME
FLOWERS

2410 Telephone
Line Ave. 3-8225
Shreveport, La.

SIB
HARRIS

SALES AGENT
L. C. SMITH CORONA

218 Milam St.

- ★ THE ZEPHYR ROOM
- ★ THE LITTLE GRILL
- ★ THE COFFEE SHOP

THE
WASHINGTON-YOUREE HOTEL

Compliments
of the

COLUMBIA RESTAURANT

"A Good Place to Eat"

WELCOME HOME

KERBEL
JEWELRY CO.
627 Texas St.

Welceme to the Old Grads—
Greetings to the Gents
from

SUE'S SHOP

2624 Centenary Blvd.

Phone 9865

A.E.F. Burton, Masseur

BURTON'S

ELECTRIC TURKISH MINERAL BATHS

UNEXCELLED ANYWHERE

These Baths Eliminate Poisons Causing Rheumatism,
Neuritis, Sciatica, Arthritis, etc.
Also Reducing Baths

Burton's Turkish Bath House

1420 Anna St.

Shreveport, La.

Compliments of

A FRIEND

Compliments of

IMPERIAL BARBER SHOP
521 Marshall St.

Compliments of

MILBURNE'S STUDIO

CONVENIENCE

ECONOMY SAFETY

UNION BUS STATION

Marshall at Fannin
Phone 4208

Next time
TRAVEL BY BUS

TRI-STATE Trailways

"The Friendly Ark-La-Tex Store of Yesterday, Today & Tomorrow"

Selber Bros.
Apparel for MEN • WOMEN • CHILDREN • and Shoes

GENTLEMEN CLASH WITH HORNFED FROGS

Highlight of Coming Celebration Saturday Afternoon
At 2:30; Queen Crowned at Half Time.

It is Homecoming at Centenary tomorrow and hundreds of former students from all over this region will gather at their old Alma Mater for the annual Centenary-Texas Christian grid battle, which is the highlight of the day.

The game should from all appearances develop into an aerial circus since both teams will be expected to launch a pass offensive. The Gents' ground offensive probably will bog down before the Frogs' 194-lb. line and Raley and Birtman will alternate passing to Nash and Daugherty.

The Frogs will have to pass because they figure they can't do much else. Minus the services of their ace ball carrier, Kyle Gillespie, they are not due to tear off any great yardage on the ground. Three of their four starting backs will be sophomores. One of the trio, Emory Nix, is rated an excellent passer and his buddies, Van Hall and Frank Medanich, go with the ends, Phil Roach and Bruce Alford, to make an efficient receiving quartet.

In the Fordham game it was Van Hall who put the Frogs back in the game by intercepting a Ram pass and dashing 25 yards through an open field for a touchdown.

Nix, subbing for Gillespie, spiraled passes all over the field in the same game, resulting in a touchdown, and nine completed passes out of eighteen.

In a daring and resourceful effort to make the best possible use of his numerous backs (17) and at the same time shield his thin line as much as possible, Coach Dutch Meyer has fashioned a new offensive style.

Gone is his old favorite, the double wingback system and the single wing, and in its place he has set up what he calls the inverted "T" formation. T. C. U. will have 43 squadmen to 23 for Centenary.

As is customary the Homecoming Queen will be crowned between halves of the game by Dr. Cline. This procedure climaxes the day's events. The Queen's attendants will be all the queens of former years who annually return for the event.

Another feature of the half time ceremony is always the introduction of grid stars of other years.

After the game everyone is urged to make the rounds of the open houses, which will be given in all fraternity and sorority houses, as well as the Student Union Building.

Gym Equipment Available
For Use of Students Every Afternoon From 2 to 3

Mrs. Davidson has announced that any of the gym equipment will be available for students to use any afternoon between the hours of two and three. Jerry Renov will have charge of equipment in the afternoons.

This gives students opportunity to use any of the shuffleboard, volleyball, badminton, ping pong, or other types of equipment which are to be found in the gymnasium.

Kentucky's Danville College, with 341 students, offers 80 scholarships.

Above are pictured the coaches of Centenary's 1941 football squad. From left to right they are—Line Coach Tom Cobb, Head Coach Jake Hanna, and Coach Elmer Smith.

PROBABLE STARTING LINEUPS

T. C. U.		Centenary
Alford	LE	Daugherty
Palmer	LT	Heath
Rogers	LG	Allums
Woodfin	C	Baldwin
Pugh	RG	Whitehurst
Adams	RT	J. Baldwin
Roach	RE	Nash
Nix	QB	Feducia
Hall	LH	Raley
Medanich	RH	Johnson
Kring	FB	White

SEEN AND HEARD IN DALLAS

You have to see Texas before you can believe it. We saw.

As a Dallas sports scribe said, S.M.U.'s biggest mistake was not made in the sixty minutes of play. It was made before the game—when the athletic director let the Longhorns in the ball park.

It can now be reported with authority that Texas does not have four first teams. There may be three but there are not four.

"Once or twice the Texas team was penalized for taking excessive time out in play, and the sharp-eyed observers in the grandstand contended the boys were arguing over which bowl bid to accept."

Anyway, the first trumpet player in the S.M.U. band was better than the number one man in the Longhorn crew.

One Texas lineman was so big that his substitute didn't even call his name, just said "Joe Bloke for Texas." Then the big fellow trotted off.

The Saturday tete-a-tete left about as much room for argument by S.M.U. fans as there is between the lamb and the butcher. And S.M.U. has been considered among the nation's top ten teams.

Undeclared A. & M. will stand as much show before the Longhorns as a reed in a tropical storm. We think the third string could take the Aggies by two touchdowns.

Former Student Is 'Best Garbed' Man At Camp Hulen

Tommy Crittendon, student at Centenary last year until mid-term when he volunteered for the National Guard and was sent to Camp Hulen, recently made a step toward more recognition in the military field. Crittendon has just been made chief garbage collector for the entire 204th Regiment A. A. In his new position he has two assistants to aid him with his daily duties.

When asked to make a statement as to the merits of Uncle Sam's rapidly developing fighting forces, Crittendon said, in effect, "I think we're doing a pretty good job of teaching the boys the fundamentals and are developing a well-knit fighting organization."

A MATEUR ANALYSIS

Your amateur prognosticator comes up with the following predictions for the week:

Ole Miss vs. LSU—The Rebels have started rolling, but those three losses rankle in the breast of the Tiger. With misgivings, Ole Miss.

Navy vs. Notre Dame—Another toughie. Timidly, the scribe strings along with the Middies.

Texas A. & M. vs. S. M. U.—The Aggies to remain undefeated. But a Mustang bouncing back from the Texas loss could be hard to tame.

Georgia vs. Florida—We like Sinkwich and Co. to sink the hard-luck Gators.

Rice vs. Arkansas—Rice looks good from here.

Purdue vs. Mich. State—Of two teams which have not set the world on fire, we nod to Purdue.

Penn. vs. Columbia—Columbia has had terrifically bad luck; despite the loss to Navy, Penn is still among the eastern powerhouses. On a flip of the coin, Penn.

Tulane vs. Alabama—It all depends on how the hot-and-cold Wave is feeling. It's never wise to get out on a limb for the Greenies either way, but the team that took Vandy must get the call.

Minnesota vs. Neb. — Enough said. Minnesota.

Texas vs. Baylor—Guess who? Right—by not more than eight touchdowns.

Army vs. Harvard—Two Ivy Leaguers who play, for a change, real football. We like Army.

Stanford vs. Southern Cal.—Stanford and the T to march on towards Pasadena and the Tournament of Roses.

CLUB NEWS

Le Cercle Francais

Le Cercle Francais had its first meeting on Tuesday, October 28, at the home of Dr. Ford on Alexander. The new officers presented to the club were: President, Claude Blackburn; vice-president, Clint Teacle; secretary-treasurer, Lanford DeGeneres. The program consisted of the initiation of new members, Claude Blackburn and Carolyn Rigby, and a war-time appeal by Eve Curie, read by Clint Teacle. After the program, refreshments were served by Dr. and Mrs. Ford.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

OWLS DEFEAT GENTLEMEN AT HOUSTON, SAT.

Scoring in every quarter, the Rice Owls topped Centenary's Gentlemen 54-0 in an inter-conference clash at Houston Saturday.

The Gents, feeling the brunt of Rice's great numerical superiority, nevertheless made a fighting stand against the conquerors of Tulane. Coach Jess Neely substituted frequently to wear the Louisiana squad down.

Houston scribes and spectators were impressed with the Centenary eleven's spirit; they kept fighting against great odds from first to last minute of play.

Fob Raley performed well for the Gentlemen, hurling the longest pass for 23 yards to Lawless, and making the longest kick-off return, 30 yards, of the game.

Centenary May Win L.I.C. This Season

Centenary has an excellent chance to bag the Louisiana Inter-collegiate Conference championship this season, record books show.

The Gents are the only team in the league without a loss chalked against them, their one loop game being a deadlock with Louisiana Normal. A win over Tech in the season's finale would place them on top of the state small college heap, with one victory, one tie, and no losses.

—Patronize Our Advertisers—

IT'S HOMECOMING WITH US, TOO!

Welcome back to Centenary and Shreveport. Make your visit complete by enjoying "Homecoming" at Leonard's, too! Still in the same place as when you were in school, but, how we have improved our stock! Where you used to think of us as your fraternal jewelry store, now you can buy anything at all in the jewelry line at Leonard's. Visit us this trip and give your eyes a treat.

LEONARD'S

320-322 Ward Bldg

Phone 2-5088

FOR BETTER SCHOOL
WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC
MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

Before the Party—

Don't wait for the last minute! Bring us your party clothes now, and have them sparklingly clean before the party.

Lyles Laundry and
Dry Cleaning

1921 Market Phone 2-0788

"You can get it"

At

LEMAN'S

408 Milam St.

Phone 6326

Centenary Graduates and Students-- it is a pleasure to extend a hearty welcome to you and to invite you to visit us while you are in Shreveport.

The HEARNE
DRY GOODS CO. LTD.

CENTENARY'S GENTLEMEN OF 1941

HISTORY AND GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS ARE EXPANDED

The department of history and government by enrolling more students than any other department except English in the past several years, has been able to expand its offerings this current year.

Not only smaller sections enabling the instructors to give more personal instruction, have been inaugurated, but additional courses have been scheduled. The enlarged scope of work has been made possible because of recent additions to the department.

Dr. Bernard Strauss, who formerly taught in several prominent universities in Berlin, and Professor William Schuhle, who has been working on his doctorate in government at Johns Hopkins University, supplement the staff of which Prof. Bryant Davidson is the head and Dr. W. Darrell Overdyke, and Prof. William G. Phelps are the instructors.

Among the new courses in government taught by Professor Schuhle is one which deals with political parties and public opinion. In this course the inner workings of political parties are analyzed in order that the student may evaluate the workings of public opinion.

Professor Davidson's new course surveys the events and forces in modern history which have led to present world crises, giving special attention to such topics as nationalism, imperialism, militarism, democracy, and world peace.

Dr. Overdyke is offering two new advanced courses. One of these, American biography, is offered in only two or three universities in the United States. This course approaches American history through the study and interpretation of biographies and autobiographies of famous American men and women who have been active in political, social, cultural, economic, scientific, and religious fields. To keep in step with the growing appreciation of the common interests of the United States and Latin America, the three-hour or one semester course in this field has been expanded to a full year's course carrying six hours credit. This course purposes giving American students an understanding of the cultural and social history of his Latin American neighbors, and subordinates as far as possible political history.

The combined department is offering this year for the first time a course for senior majors in history which reviews the major historians from Herodotus to the present. Training is also given in the science of gathering and organizing material, and writing historical articles.

MEN!

Men are what women marry. They are divided into three classes: husbands, bachelors, and widowers. A bachelor is a man whose mind is filled with obstinacy and whose soul is filled with suspicion. Husbands are of three varieties—prizes, surprises, and consolation prizes.

If you flatter a man, you frighten him to death; if you don't you bore him to death; if you permit him to make love to you, he gets tired of you in the end, and if you don't, he gets tired of you in the beginning. If you believe all he tells you, he thinks you're foolish; and if you don't he thinks you're a cynic. If you wear gay colors, rouge and a startling hat, he hesitates to take you out; if you wear a little brown hat and a tailor-made suit he takes you out and stares all evening at a woman in gay colors, rouge and a startling hat.

If you join in the gaieties and approve of his smoking and drinking, he says you are driving him to destruction; if you don't approve, he vows you are snobbish. If you are a clinging vine type, he doubts whether you have any brains at all; if you are a modern, advanced, intelligent woman, he doubts whether you have a heart. If you are silly, he longs for a bright mate, and if you are too intelligent and brilliant, he longs for a playmate. Most men are like worms in the grass; they wriggle around a while—then some chicken grabs them.

Said a young thing to her mother, "It isn't fair. At night you tell me I'm too little to stay up, and in the morning you say I'm too big to stay in bed."

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....7-3210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomes Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Fennell, President.....7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalia Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 2-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternalities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer, President.....7-2554
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

CEN-COE CLUB HAS UNIQUE PLACE IN SOCIAL HISTORY OF CENTENARY

Ten Shreveport Girls from Each Sorority on Campus Make Up Membership of Organization

The Cen-Coe Club on the Centenary campus was organized away back in 1936, February 18 to be exact. The name, Cen-Coe, was obtained by taking the first three letters from the word Centenary and combining them with the first three in the word Co-ed.

Ten outstanding Shreveport girls from each sorority made up the personnel of this first group, the only requirement being that they be upperclassmen. The same rule as to number is still in effect and the number of active members will always remain at thirty.

The first and probably most important purpose of the organization is to break down the wall and create a more friendly spirit among the sororities on the Centenary campus. The second purpose is to give parties especially during summer months, giving the girls an opportunity to keep in contact with each other during these months.

Meetings are held every other Sunday afternoon, rotating from one sorority house to another.

Bids are usually given the week following fall pledging. If a girl should quit school another from her sorority would immediately fill the vacancy. However, any girl who is once a Cen-Coe always remains a Cen-Coe and may attend meetings and parties. The one exception to the rule is this: any active who misses three meetings or parties successively, during the school year, with or without an excuse, is automatically dropped from the roll of the club and a new member fills her place.

The present membership of the group includes:

Gladys Tippet, Myrian Holloway, Ouida Harris, Gerry Baird, Carolyn Canon, Emily Prothro, Elise Montgomery, Anne Burnette, Camille Hendricks, Virginia Graham, Peg Hawkins, Dotte Porliamson, June Cook, Dorothy Rose Tucker, Jimmie Thibodeaux, Carolyn Boyett, Kathryn Blackwell, Virginia Lewis, Kathryn Morenau, Barbara Harris, LaRue Powell, Bette Smith, Gloria Brown, Mary Catherine Apple and Dorothy Freeze.

The officers of the organization for this year are: President, Gladys Tippet; vice-president, Myrian Holloway; secretary, Ouida Harris, and treasurer, Gerry Baird.

University of Minnesota flying club has trained more than 400 students as fliers without accident of any kind.

"Is that a Holstein cow over there?"

M. H.: "I dunno. Guernsey for yourself."

—Patronize Our Advertisers—

The time to take care of your hair is while you have it.

For intelligent and beneficial service on hair-grooming—

CAMERON BROS.
BARBER SHOP
307 Milam St.

$1500 Essay Contest

"George Washington's Foreign Policy Today" is the subject of the $1500 prize essay contest being conducted by Scribner's Commentator magazine, Lake Geneva, Wis. The first prize is $1000. There are also prizes of $200 and $100, each, and eight $25 prizes. The contest closes December 1, 1941.

Scribner's Commentator is obtainable by subscription only and is not available on newsstands.

For Refreshing Cold Drinks and Delicious
Visit...

"CUB-BURGERS,"

THE CUB

East Kings Hwy.
Phone 7-7301

Mrs. Albert Farnell
W. P. Melton

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

This week we pass by individual stars to honor the entire squad. We name the whole Centenary team as Gentlemen of the Week.

The squad made an indescribably gallant stand against insuperable odds Saturday. True, they still pay off on touchdowns, but the score does not tell the whole story.

The whole story is that the Gents were on the short end of great numerical superiority, that they were a small college club competing against a power in one of the nation's toughest conferences, that despite the tremendous advantage of their foes, they fought gamely and cleanly from the first to the last whistle.

The whole story is that the Gents, dogged by bad luck and bad breaks all season, may have been outclassed but not outgamed. The whole story is that in defeat they reflected credit on the ideals and sportsmanship of their college.

Centenary has no cause to be other than proud of a courageous group of athletes. We take off our hats to them.

Enrolled at Tulane University is a descendant of Paul Tulane, after whom the institution was named. He is Louis Tulane Bass, Ogden, Utah.

Paying his tuition at University of Cincinnati college of law with 102 silver dollars, a student explained the money came from his sideline as a justice of the peace.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

Once lost or even badly damaged, a sentimental relic usually cannot be replaced. Why not put it away for safekeeping and buy a smart, new Hamilton? See our complete selection today.

DORIS—17 jewels, 14K gold-filled . . . $45.00

ROSS—19 jewels, 14K gold-filled . . . $35.00

HAMILTON

America's Fine Watch

Flournoy & Harris, Inc.

EXCLUSIVE JEWELERS

519 Marshall St.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

By Jack Keenan, Jr.

It seems that winter has come upon us before any intervening fall weather could soften the blow. The result is a veritable harvest of red noses, watery eyes, and sneezes. Let's hope they heat that Bible class before next time.

SCATTER SHOTS

Whenever we're lacking in material for the column we just drop around Kapers rehearsal. Usually something happens that makes good copy. There is, for example, Cleo Christiansen who is definitely a "Vocal Liza." She should be able to replenish the sparkle supply that was so sadly depleted when Brewer left. As we look further we see Jean Evans whose husky voice will go over big, and for contrast the blond, Justine Holmes, with her very feminine soprano.

Then there's beautiful Rose Orme who says, "I can't sing, but I'll whistle for you." And—oh, oh—what is that? Well, let's be philosophical—"into every life a little Shuey must fall." We understand also that Kapers audiences of 1942 will thrill to the inimitable vocal interpretations of Burl, Sully, Bird Dog, Diamond Sullivan. He sings the Doc Mulley version of the St. Louis Blues.

CHORAL WORK

(Continued from Page One)

tunity to any boy interested in singing to show his ability.

This year Mr. Voran plans to direct the singing of many songs without the aid of instrumental accompaniment. This type singing was presented in the student assembly programs by several groups last year and was received favorably. A capella singing greatly increases the beauty of choral work.

Before much advance can be made along these lines, however, it is first necessary that a group of singers interested in the work be gathered together. There is a large number of girls attending rehearsals already, and several boys, but there is still room for anyone who is really interested to find a place in the organization. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at four o'clock.

KOLLEGE KAPERS

(Continued from Page One)

Woods, Rose Orme, Zella Lu Cory, Joanna Glassell, Jack Comegys, Bill Patton, Margaret Owens, L. H. Snow.

Last year some twenty-five performances of Kollege Kapers were presented in North Louisiana and East Texas. The cast went on two tours, the regular one to Monroe and vicinity and to East Texas for three shows. In Monroe, Kollege Kapers played in Neville High School auditorium to a crowd of twenty-seven hundred, which was a record audience for both the school and Kapers.

Kapers was started in 1933 by Dr. S. D. Morehead, who has missed only one of more than two hundred shows given since that time. It is a student show, with the exception of "Doc" Morehead, and everyone in it always has a good time besides putting on a good show. The first show this season will be in early December.

Already the '42 Kapers is booked for the entire season. This year's orchestra is expected to be the largest in several years, and with much rehearsing should develop into a fine group.

Carolyn Coburn: "I think it's positively disgusting the way those fellows in the fraternity house across the street give a show every night before they go to bed."

Her roommate: "But looking from the window I don't see anything."

C. C.: "I know, not from there. But put this chair on the desk, get on it and lean way out to the left and tell me what you see."

Why do Slick Comegys and Bill Patton blush furiously at the mention of Audubon Park in New Orleans?

Is it true that Centenary is going to offer a course in folk dancing with Mr. Schuhle as instructor?

We just can't refrain from copying this "quotable quote" from the November issue of Reader's Digest: "What can one expect of a day that begins with getting up in the morning?"

According to Wendy Marsh, women really do notice the little things. She says—

Dick is really handsome,

David dances well.

Jim has lots of money,

How's a girl to tell?

William is quite perfect,

Yet she can't forget—

Watching Peter's fingers

Hold a cigarette.

Apparently public opinion has at last caught up with President Roosevelt—or vice versa. He actually intimated in his Navy Day speech that he was not thoroughly in accord with the numerous strikes that are traitorously paralyzing our country's defense effort.

Heard at the "Old Chi Upsilon Beta" house—"That girl leaves a distaste in my mouth."

Kappa Alphas Honor Second Anniversary Of Their House Mother

At a special meeting last Saturday, November 1, members and pledges of the Kappa Alpha fraternity presented Mrs. Mollie McIlwain with a jeweled Kappa Alpha sweetheart pin as a token of their appreciation of her many kindnesses during her two years spent as their housemother. The presentation was made on the second anniversary of her installation as housemother.

RECORD NUMBER

(Continued from Page One)

tee, headed by Professor Banks and Doctor Shaw.

The Student Union Building will be the scene of alumni registration, the hours from nine to twelve having been left open for this purpose. At eleven o'clock students will assemble for the annual Homecoming Day parade through downtown Shreveport. All organizations have been asked to participate in the parade, and a large number of colorful floats will be used.

Kick-off for the game is scheduled at 2:30. The Centenary Gentlemen will meet the T.C.U. Frogs on home territory.

During the half, Dr. Pierce Cline will crown Miss Peg Hawkins, Queen of Homecoming. Her court will be made up of Homecoming Queens of previous years. Former Centenary lettermen will be introduced at this time.

Open houses will be held by all fraternities and sororities following the game. Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Xi Delta, and Chi Omega sororities have extended invitations to all former alumni of the college to visit their lodges on sorority row, facing Kings Highway, while the men's Greek-letter organizations, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, and Lambda Chi Alpha, will hold open house at their fraternity houses on Centenary Boulevard and Campus Drive. The Aufaits will hold open house in the Student Union Building.

To provide a fitting climax for the day's festivities, all alumni and students will be guests at a reception and dance from 8:30 until 12:00 in the gymnasium. The dance will be given by the Alumni Association with Pan-Hellenic acting as co-hostesses.

Centenary Frosh to barber: Don't cut off very much—just about a month or two.

Methodist Conference Members To Be Guests Of College at Banquet

85 Former Students or Teachers Who Are Members of Conference Invited to Dinner in S. U. B.

Next Thursday night at 6:00 p. m. the College and Alumni Association will be hosts at a banquet in the Student Union Building to some 85 members of the Louisiana Methodist Conference which meets in Shreveport for five days at the Noel Memorial Methodist Church. These eighty-five members members are all either former students or teachers of the college.

In 1937 35 former students or teachers, who were members of the conference, attended the banquet given by the college in that year in which the conference met in the First Methodist Church.

The Maroon Jackets, honorary campus service organization, will be on hand to aid with courtesies.

DECORATE CARS!

In order to make this homecoming parade one of the most colorful in the long history of Centenary homecomings, it will be necessary for all students to decorate their cars with all the maroon and white streamers they can possibly get on them. A parade without decorated cars cannot be distinguished from ordinary traffic and doesn't look like much parade. This will be the largest and longest of the year, since all the campus organizations will have very original floats entered, so come on and help make the alumni proud of their Alma Mater by decorating those cars with streamers.

FASHION

What with the rainy weather of last Friday the fashion note of Centenary campus was very casual. (That, dear reader, is putting it lightly.) Outstanding rain garb was that worn by Bill Patton. His adorable brown off-face corduroy bonnet was unequalled by any other campus personality. (But definitely!) Anne Gano and Letti-lee Phillips decided to wear red and white, boots for their puddle jumping, which was all very well . . . and bright. Nothing, however, could rival the colorful beauty of Dudley Beene, or should we say "Western" Beene? His was a hangover, in the way of clothes, from last year's barn dance. Ahh, fashion. Ahhhhh, rain. Ahhhh, nuts!

* * *

We could reminisce, and tell of past campus personalities and costumes, but everyone knows that the typical Centenary co-ed is rather shapely, very charming, has personality de-luxe, and as a general rule is pretty.

Besides, if you've been here longer than one term, you'll know that every year someone attempts a column such as this; that each fall the Conglomerate (bless the free press?) runs a column titled: "What the Gentlemen Like in the Way of Clothes," and that the co-eds go right on wearing high-heels and hose, hair-ribbons, and other such foolishness that the Gents supposedly do not prefer.

* * *

Anyhow, Centenary's co-educated have always been in fashion. Witness such a fact in Helen Finke, Margaret Jane Taylor, Edna Earle Richardson, Ann Cargill, Mary Ellen Bartschmidt, and other graduates of the school. So, to all former students, we extend our greeting. Best and most interesting, here's to the fashionable Centenary ladies. You just can't beat the South, so welcome home!

Confucius Flornoy says: Man who finds self in hot water should act nonchalant—take a bath.

"How was swimming invented?" "Two Scotchmen came to a toll bridge."

School Improvements To Greet Alumni

New Jackson Hall Building Principal Change Since Last Homecoming Celebration

Every year the alumni returning to their Alma Mater for their annual visit find something improved about the campus. This year the first thing any of them will notice will be the new science building which is the current pride of the campus. The building was completed last January after several months of construction during which the old Jackson Hall was torn down to make room for the new edition.

Outstanding feature of Jackson Hall II is the science library it houses. Here are gathered all of Centenary's scientific books, which heretofore have had to be piled more or less haphazardly wherever there was room for them. Then, of course, there are the more modern laboratories for chemistry, physics, geology, zoology, and all the other sciences.

In addition to this building there are several other campus improvements. For example, there is now a network of sidewalks on the campus. All the old walks have been improved and many new ones added.

An addition has been made to the commerce building, also. The former porch on the ground floor has now become the permanent domicile of the Yoncopin staff. It has been made into a very nice office for the yearbook workers. We realize that all alumni will

Forward With Books

Deep down in an abandoned Welsh coal mine a librarian is working at the strangest task any librarian ever performed. On rough shelves lining the mine are stored books and manuscripts evacuated from the British museum, whose value is placed at several millions of dollars. The librarian photographs them, page by page, on microfilm, and sends each finished roll to America.

Thus far every book in the British museum printed before 1550 has found its way to sanctuary in America, meticulously reproduced in miniature, accurate to final dotted "i." With them have come thousands of other books, documents, and so forth from the Bodleian library at Oxford, from Cambridge, Lincoln's Inn Fields, and other famous British collections. So the tools of scholarship, the resources of culture and the record of human achievement are being preserved in America for future generations.

November 2 we in America began celebrating Book Week. We are almost the last country in the civilized world where people have the privilege of getting excited over so small a thing as a book. In fact, we are practically the last people who have the privilege of buying any book we want or going to our library and reading it free of charge.

be very glad to see so many improvements on their old campus, because when a campus improves the students who work and live on that campus are bound to improve with it.

But is a book such a small thing? Haven't books shaped the destiny of men? Gutenberg, Shakespeare, Tom Paine, and hundreds of others? Why shouldn't we celebrate our great publishers, writers, libraries?

The library is one of the most democratic institutions in American life. It has within its walls the accumulated knowledge of all the centuries and gives freely to all who ask.

As Archibald Macleish, librarian of Congress, says: "As things are in the world as it is, we can neither attempt to educate the people of this country, all the people of this country, to the value of the democratic tradition they have inherited, and so admit them to its enjoyment, or we can watch some of the people of this country destroy that tradition for the rest."

The printed page is one of the most vital factions in our life today. Would there have been a Nazi Germany without a "Mein Kampf"? Would there have been an England without a Magna Carta, or a U. S. without a Jefferson or Franklin and their beautifully penned lines?

If ever we must know what is happening to us, if we are to continue our way of life, we must go forward with books.

Jessica Harris: "Father . . ."
Mr. Harris: "Well, daughter?"
J. H.: "Father, is a pigmy's father a hogmy?"

How can you keep eating at the dormitory?

Oh, I just take a tablespoonful of Drano three times a day.

GLORIA AND BARBARA BREWSTER
Popular twins of stage and screen

To give you the one and only cigarette that Satisfies . . . it takes the right kinds of the world's best cigarette tobaccos . . . the best from our own Tobaccoland and rare aromatic tobaccos from Turkey . . . the best tobaccos that money can buy.

. . . and listen to this: it takes the Right Combination of these best cigarette tobaccos, the blend that can't be copied . . . to give Chesterfield the extra smoking pleasure that makes smokers say THEY SATISFY.

Two Swell Reasons why
It's Chesterfield

THE Milder BETTER-TASTING COOLER-SMOKING CIGARETTE

THE Centenary Conglomerate

7-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, November 14, 1941.

Number 9

Methodist State Conference Meeting in City

HOME EC DEPT. TO TEST MODEL FOOD RECIPES

Students Will Examine 200 Different Recipes Each Month and Select Six for Use

The latest news of importance from Centenary's Home Economics department is that classes in foods and nutrition will perform laboratory service for the Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company, one of the largest utility corporations in the Southwest.

The students under the direction of Miss Mary Lou Ware, head of the Home Economics department, will examine about 200 recipes each month and will select six from this number, which will be tested and rated according to the finished product. By this means, the best recipes will be selected and published in the Natural Gas Magazine, which is mailed monthly to 90,000 gas consumers of Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas, and the magazine will also carry articles on foods and phases of home-making written by Miss Ware. All foods prepared during the laboratory tests will be distributed to needy families.

Through the courtesy of the Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company, the department has received the newest type domestic Detroit Jewel range which has an all-steel body, is equipped with a measured heat control, and has an over-sized all-purpose flavor seal oven and duo-speed broiler.

This latest activity on the part of the Home Economics department. (Continued on Page Four)

Second National Methodist Student Conference Soon

Eight from Centenary Plan to Attend Meetings December 29-January 2 at Urbana

The Wesley Foundation of Methodism will have a celebration of a homecoming during the Christmas holidays of this season as some 1,500 Methodist student leaders gather from throughout the nation on the campus of University of Illinois for presentation of the second national Methodist Student Youth Conference December 29-January 2 at Urbana, Illinois.

Among the 1,500 youth and adults will be six Centenary College students and two of the oldest college west of the Mississippi's adult leaders. Plans are being made for the attendance of a Louisiana delegation of 38 adults and students. Leading arrangements for the Louisiana delegation's attendance at the meeting are Bill Schule and A. C. Voran.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE STUDENT BODY:

We think that the Homecoming Day celebration which has just passed into college history was one of the best we ever had. The members of the Homecoming committee are pleased with the co-operation which they received from everyone whose assistance they requested. The help which the student body supplies upon such occasions is always the most valuable; and we wish to commend publicly the fine spirit and competent service which characterized their contribution to the Homecoming celebration.

Sincerely yours,

W. GERARD BANKS,
A. M. SHAW, JR.
Co-Chairmen,
Homecoming Committee.

Dr. Cline Crowns Queen Peggy Hawkins

Above is pictured the crowning ceremony between the halves of the football game last Saturday. This was one of the highlights of the Homecoming celebration. Reading from left to right are Dr. Cline, J. L. Solomon, band member; Miss Dorothy Robinson, last year's queen; Miss Peggy Hawkins, queen, and Robert Pugh, drum major of the Centenary College band.

1941 HOMECOMING CELEBRATION LAST SATURDAY WAS HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL FROM EVERY STANDPOINT

Alumni From Far and Near Gathered for Annual
Visit

From every standpoint the 15th annual Homecoming celebration at Centenary College was a huge success, largely because of the wonderful spirit of cooperation which was evidenced by everyone connected in any way with the day's program. An air of friendliness and welcome hung over the entire campus throughout the day and visiting alumni were greeted with a traditionally hearty "Centenary welcome."

The day's activities began with registration at the Student Union Building Saturday morning from 9 to 12. Miss Peg Hawkins, Homecoming queen, and the Maroon Jackets were on hand to help the visitors register.

A mile-long parade was the next feature of the day. It was headed by the Centenary band which was followed by the St. Vincent's college drum and bugle corps. Then came the floats of many campus organizations and finally the gaily decorated cars filled with students and other rooters. Dr. A. M.

Shaw, executive secretary, was in charge of parade arrangements, and all organizations are to be commended for their wholehearted participation.

The customary preliminary program at the stadium preceded the ball game. This year, for the first time, former Maroon Jackets were presented. At the half, the queen, Miss Peggy Hawkins, was crowned by Dr. Cline, and former letter men introduced.

Following the game, all fraternities, sororities, and non-sorority groups received all guests at open houses at their respective lodges.

Climaxing the day's activities was a dance in the college gymnasium. The Alumni association acted as hosts to all alumni, their families, and undergraduates. Members of the college faculty and their wives served as chaperones for the affair which was quite well attended and very successful.

Freshmen To Elect Officers Monday During Assembly

Four First-Year Students to Be Elected in One Meeting

Monday morning the freshmen class will meet in the chapel for annual election of their four officers for the coming year.

Nominations will be taken for president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. After nominating, the students will be permitted to cast their ballots immediately for candidates of their choice.

It is customary for freshmen elections to be conducted a few months after school has been under way, rather than at the beginning of school when upperclassmen elections are held, because the new students have had no opportunity to meet each other and form opinions as to the best qualified persons for the positions, if they must vote so soon after entering college.

Council for Creative Living Organized by Students on Campus

Under the guidance of Prof. William Schuhle, a group of Centenary students have recently formed a new group on the campus, to be known as the Council for Creative Living. Buddy Kinnebrew was chosen as chairman of the group, which has as its aim better expression of student thoughts and actions.

The next meeting will be an evening vesper, Tuesday, November 18, at the Kilpatrick camp on the Mansfield Road. The following invitation was written by Arthur Crawford:

The Council for Creative Living Would like so much to meet you, And that is why they've planned to have A little rendezvous.

At Camp Kil on Dead Man's Curve On Tuesday, six o'clock p.m. They'll be expecting you So please don't disappoint them.

Those who wish to go are asked to meet on the college parking lot at 5:30 on the afternoon designated.

The organization of this group does much toward providing greater opportunities for self-expression on the part of students. Its presentation in chapel recently was greeted enthusiastically by students, and a large number is expected to take part in its activities.

University of Texas law school operates a free legal aid clinic.

NOTICE

All Club and Organization Officers:

Come to the Yoncopin office during next week to sign your contracts and make arrangements for payment. See either Bill Graham or Donn Thompson.

LARGE NUMBER OF DELEGATES ATTENDING 1941 LA. ANNUAL CONFERENCE MEET AT NOEL

Bishop A. Frank Smith who is presiding at the Louisiana State Methodist Conference meetings this week.

Methodist Conference Members Entertained By College at Banquet

Large Number of Members Formerly Associated With Centenary Honor Guests

Last night a large group of members of the Louisiana Methodist Conference, meeting this week at Noel Memorial Methodist Church, was entertained by the college at a banquet in the Student Union Building. All honor guests were either former students or teachers of Centenary, or had been associated with the school in some way.

The Reverend B. C. Taylor served as toastmaster for the occasion.

Dr. Pierce Cline, president of the college, was one of the Centenary hosts present. Mr. Paul M. Brown, chairman of the Board of Trustees, was present, as were Dean John A. Hardin, Dean R. A. Smith, Dr. A. I. Shaw, executive secretary of the college, and Dr. John Entriken, chairman of the faculty religious activities committee.

In 1937 thirty-five former students or teachers, who were members of the conference, attended the banquet given at that time by the school. The conference met at the First Methodist Church in Shreveport that year.

The Maroon Jackets, honorary campus service organization, were present to aid with the courtesies of the evening.

First Meeting Held Last Wednesday Night With Bishop A. Frank Smith Presiding

The 1941 Louisiana Conference began its meetings last Wednesday night at Noel Memorial Methodist Church with a large number of delegates in attendance. This conference marks the first to be held since the two divisions of the Methodist church were merged some while ago.

Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston is presiding officer at the conference meetings.

The address of welcome was given the visitors at the opening meeting last Wednesday by Judge R. J. O'Neal.

All meetings of the conference are open to the public. They are held both morning and night with various committee meetings being called for afternoon hours. The night sessions are as a general rule of a more formal nature than those of the mornings.

There are well over 400 official delegates attending the programs at Noel Memorial Church. Of these, some 240 are clerical members and the remaining number lay representatives.

Dr. F. M. Freeman is pastor of the host church.

John McCormack Chosen as Alumnus Of Year on Record

John McCormack, member of the class of 1930, received a scroll designating him as Centenary "alumnus of the year" at the Homecoming ceremonies between halves of the football game last Saturday.

Kenneth Kellam, president of Centenary Alumni Association, presented the scroll to Mr. McCormack, manager of the KTBS-KWKH radio stations.

Other members of the committee of alumni and alumnae who selected Mr. McCormack for the honor are: Horace M. Holder, chairman of the Homecoming committee; Miss Katherine French, president of the alumni council; Algie D. Brown, and Miss Margaret Hope.

The award was made for "excellence in achievement, manifestation of manhood and leadership in affairs."

University of Michigan first undertook inspection of high schools in the state in 1870.

WELCOME!

We of The Conglomerate add our voice to the welcomes that have already been offered the Louisiana Annual Conference of the Methodist Church. And our welcome is a peculiar one: as students of the College that is the Conference's greatest educational expression we greet the body that is responsible for our being, we greet our patrons, friends and guides.

Moreover, as undergraduates, children of Alma Mater, we greet the eighty-five clerical members and numerous lay members of the Conference who are our brothers, fellow members of the great family of Centenary students, faculty and alumni.

Welcome home, fellow Centenarians. The campus may have changed its physical aspect since you studied here, but the same Centenary spirit prevails. There may be new faces added to the familiar ones of the instructors of your time, but the faculty, veterans and new additions alike, will be glad to welcome and to greet you.

Welcome to your college, members of the Conference who are children of other foundations. We invite you to visit us, and learn with us the joys of being a part of Centenary. "Labor Omnia Vincit" is to us not the formal motto of the College, for use on official occasions only, but a living guide, which with your help, will lead us of Centenary on to the heights.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

Member

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Betty Gordon Smith, Ellen Eastham, Hutch Phillips, Jack Keenan, Eleanor Brown, Dudley Beene, Gloria Brown, Jake Cullick, Mary Foster Peyton, Rose Orme, J. L. Solomon, and Arthur Shuey.

Armistice

Armistice Day. What a depth of ironic humor is to be found in those words. There is no armistice.

Even today American ships are engaged in a "shooting war" with Axis vessels. Those sailors of the Reuben James may have had some vague illusions as to the "armistice" existing between their nation and that of the Nazis; but where are their ideals today?

From all sources we have been taught that the peace of Versailles was a deplorable one. All the events leading to the present world situation have been quite graphically traced to this treaty. But in view of the Nazi actions today we stop to wonder if perhaps the terms decided upon at Versailles were strenuous enough. Perhaps if they had been more closely adhered to and enforced, Hitler and his minions would never have been in a position to create their modern miracle of an army.

It would seem that Hitler has gained control of a nation that is destined to disrupt the peace of the world for some time to come. Down through the last century or so, central Europe has been a storm center of revolution and slaughter; and after every war with its millions of dead, there has only been a period of waiting for the next united massacre to take place.

Throughout the history of man the only method of advancement has been that of trial and error. We must learn to profit by our mistakes. For this reason, we should not necessarily regret the last treaty, as one of the errors in our history. But after the present "legalized" murder instigated by the Nazi and his instruments of destruction is over, some arrangement should be drafted, so much stronger than the last treaty, that never again in several generations at least will the gangster nation of central Europe have opportunity nor ability to upset the civilized peace of the countries of the world.

Quotable Quotes

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

"The greatest thing in science is the scientific method, controlled and rechecked observations and experiments, objectively recorded with absolute honesty and without fear or favor. Science in this sense has as yet scarcely touched the common man, or his leaders. We cannot afford to declare a moratorium on honesty, on integrity, on objectivity, on experimentation, for that would take us straight back to the jungle. The way of science is away from the jungle, away from its violence and fears. The scientific method demands that we suspend judgment until we know the facts. It demands honesty, integrity and industry in ascertaining the facts. The scientific method and dishonesty are incompatible. But scientists are but human beings and they frequently make mistakes both in facts and interpretations. Now, is our age conspicuous for honesty and integrity? Is there less lying and deceit locally, nationally, internationally, today than yesterday? The answer is all about us. As I see it, ours is not an age of science."—Prof. Anton J. Carlson of the University of Chicago disputes the widespread idea that this is an age of science.

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomoe Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Pinnell, President.....7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 2-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
236 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer.....7-2554
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cenchoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippett, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

CENTENARY HONORS CLAUDE HAMEL WITH PRESENTATION

Head of Pilot Training School
Presented Gift in College
Chapel Program

Claude L. Hamel, co-ordinator of the Civilian Pilot Training program of Centenary College, sponsored by the United States government, was presented with a fine aviator's watch at a student assembly program recently. The presentation was made by Dr. Cline in recognition of Hamel's services.

Dr. Cline, in presenting the watch, pointed out that Mr. Hamel had served not only as coordinator, but as instructor in groundwork in the college C.A.A. program as well. He has conducted classes in meteorology, navigation, aeroplanes, engines, parachutes, and civil air regulations.

Under his instruction the college has trained over 350 student pilots, each of whom has received a pilot's license.

Approximately 90 of these students are now in the Army Air Corps or the Naval Air Force. Eleven of them have completed the instructor's course and are now approved civilian pilot instructors, teaching army cadets to fly. Twenty-four more are completing the course leading to a flight instructor's rating.

Dr. Cline, in honoring Mr. Hamel, called attention to the fact that for all the work that Mr. Hamel has done for the college he has refused any compensation, saying that he wished this to be his contribution to Centenary College.

The watch was a small token of appreciation which the college has for him and his efforts.

The watch is a stainless steel 17-jewel Chronograph, especially designed for aviators' use, having in addition to regular hour, minute, and second hands, a sweep-second hand and a 30 minute accumulator dial.

Mr. Hamel is an alumnus of Centenary College and a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Religious Emphasis Week Annual Event In College Program

Outstanding Speakers from All Over Country Visit Campus for Talks With Students

One of the annual events in the Centenary College program for some eleven years has been the religious emphasis week series.

The series had its beginning back in the days when the school's beloved Dr. George Sexton occupied the president's chair. He inaugurated the programs and they have been continued every year since.

During the week designated, instead of the customary single chapel on Wednesday, the chapel is open to the students every day, with daily talks by the guest speaker. That the students thoroughly enjoy these talks is evidenced by the fact that although they are not compulsory as to attendance, there is always a full assembly of boys and girls present.

In addition to these regular morning addresses, for the last few years the visiting speakers have found opportunity to have at least one round-table discussion with each of the organizations on the campus. In the past these discussion groups have been very well attended in the fraternity and sorority houses and dormitories. At this time all questions that have been troubling any of the students are brought up and completely ironed out in a frank discussion in which everyone finds an opportunity to take part. These meetings are usually the highlights of the week.

Speakers are selected from all over the country and are chosen for their ability to speak to young audiences. From student responses to the talks in the past it is safe to say that a mistake has never been made in choosing someone to catch the interest of the students.

Last year the college was particularly fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Kenneth Pope of the First Methodist Church at Austin, Texas. Dr. Pope's subject for his series of lectures was "Excerpts from the World's All-Time Best Seller—Religion."

This marked the second visit of Dr. Pope to the Centenary campus as the principal speaker for our religious emphasis week. His

CENTENARY HAS CONTRIBUTED MANY OUTSTANDING MEMBERS TO LA. METHODIST CONFERENCE

Eighty-five of the 240 Clerical Members Are Former Students or Teachers

At least 85 of the visitors in town for the Louisiana State Methodist Conference meetings can call Centenary "home," because that is the number of clerical members of the conference that have been connected in some way with the college either as students or teachers. This number does not take into consideration the many lay delegates who are attending the conference, since they are selected from year to year. There is no doubt, however, but that there are a great many former students to be found in this group, also.

The president of the Board of Education of the conference, W. W. Holmes, possesses an honorary degree from the college.

Four of the six district superintendents of the state have been associated with the college in some manner, either as students or with honorary degrees. These include Dr. W. L. Doss, Dr. W. L. Duren, Dr. B. H. Andrews, and the Rev. Henry Bowden.

Clerical members of the conference who have been associated with the college are:

D. F. Anders, B. H. Andrews, C. D. Atkinson, D. B. Boddie, J. Henry Bowdon, E. J. Buck, A. Jerome Cain, H. T. Carlye, L. A. Carrington, E. B. Chaney, G. W. Dameron, Dana Dawson, E. W. Day, W. L. Doss, Jr., E. C. Dufresne, W. L. Duren, R. W. Faulk, J. F. Foster, F. M. Freeman, W. H. Giles, J. B. Grambling, R. H. Harper, J. T. Harris, Guy M. Hicks, T. J. Holladay, W. W. Holmes, T. T. Howes.

C. M. Hughes, H. L. Johns, Miss Lea Joyner, W. D. Kleinschmidt, J. A. Knight, A. C. Lawton, Carl F. Lueg, F. A. Matthews, S. J. McLean, J. H. Midyett, G. W. Pome-

Broadmoor Methodist Located on Campus

For the past few years Centenary College has been the home of Broadmoor Methodist Church. Services have been regularly conducted on the college campus by the Reverend George Pearce, an alumnus of Centenary.

Many students of the college attend the Sunday morning services every week. It is very convenient for resident students to have a church with them on the campus.

The department of tropical medicine at Tulane university school of medicine is becoming one of the most important in the world since most European schools are closed because of the war.

—Patronize Our Advertisers—

roy, D. B. Raulins, H. A. Rickey, S. L. Riggs, W. F. Roberts, S. A. Seegers, J. C. Sensintaffar.

A. M. Serex, A. M. Shaw, Bentley Sloane, Alvin P. Smith, R. E. Smith, O. W. Spinks, Thurmon Spinks, David Tarver, B. C. Taylor, Karl B. Tooke, R. W. Vaughan, R. S. Walton, C. B. White, Miss Elaine Willett, A. M. Brown, Murrell Gunn, Walter C. Mason, George F. Pearce, W. C. Barham, D. L. Dykes.

E. V. Duplantis, Herman Mayo, Beckom Kavanaugh, Woodrow Miles, Taylor Wall, J. E. Hearn, Jr., Edwin House, Robert Crichlow, W. R. Akin, Jack Cook, Dana Dawson, Jr., R. R. Fisher, O. B. Jones, Stanley Kirkland, Pierce Lively, Howard Martin, Roy Mouser, John Rhinehart, G. S. Sieudy, James Stovall, Harold Teer.

Listen... the LADIES!

East Lansing, Mich. (ACP)—Patriotic co-eds who want leg appeal without "cheapening themselves" by going bare-legged are being urged to wear brightly colored cotton stockings during the defense-made silk hosiery shortage.

Decalring that red, white and blue cotton stockings are the "rage" in the eastern collegiate set, Miss Elizabeth Conrad, dean of women at Michigan State College, says she thinks it would be "wonderful" if college women all over America adopted them.

The middle-aged dean, long a foe of bare legs, appeals to the girls' patriotism in advocating the cotton hose.

"America needs the silk that American women put on their legs," she says. "Let's have the college women lead the way in this emergency by voluntarily wearing those lovely, long cotton stockings."

Ellen Stegenga, pretty blond undergraduate, said: "I wouldn't be found dead in them. My patriotism doesn't go that far."

Margaret Jense, president of the Associated Women Students, said the dean's proposal would be discussed by the group. "I'd be for the idea," she said. "Besides, the gay colors might help some girls to have attention directed to their legs."

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803

Youree

Mrs. Sara

Tully

Each time you taste ice-cold Coca-Cola, you are reminded that here is the quality of genuine goodness. Experience... many a refreshing experience... has taught people everywhere to trust the quality of Coca-Cola.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

5¢

Above are some of the unique floats prepared by the organizations of the campus for the annual Homecoming parade through the downtown streets last Saturday noon.

L. I. C. STANDING

	GP	W	L	Tied	Pctge.
Louisiana Tech	4	4	0	0	1.000
Louisiana Normal	4	2	1	1	.666
S. L. I.	3	2	1	0	.666
Centenary	1	0	0	1	.000
Southeastern	3	0	3	0	.000
Louisiana College	3	0	3	0	.000

Dr. Charlotte Boatner, assistant professor of chemistry at Tulane University, has discovered an al- lergy preventive to relieve fever and asthma.

MIND YOUR Military Manners

$8.95

WINTHROP COLONIALS $5.50 to $6.50 Others $7.50 and up

Winthrop Shoes

Whether you're in active service with the army or air force or a workaday civilian, you'll find the Winthrop Military Oxford an inspired footwear choice. Buckle strap and plain toe.

THE MASTER SHOE STORE

Phelps
Shoe Co. Ltd.
ESTABLISHED 1869
Shreveport, Louisiana

T. C. U. DEFEATS GENTLEMEN IN HOMECOMING TILT NOV. 8

Johnson Dashes 87 Yards for Lone Centenary Tally

The Gents, outweighed and outmanned and lacking the experience of the highly touted T.C.U. Horned Frogs, lost their seventh tilt by a 35 to 7 count. It was the fifth consecutive win for the Frogs over the Gents.

Truman "Chief" Johnson pulled another of his long runs out of the bag for Centenary's only touchdown. Starting the last half trailing 14 to 0, Johnson received the kickoff on his 13 and behind some nice blocking he shot through the first defense in the middle of the field, cut back to his right, evading the secondary, and running over the safety man for an 87-yard run touchdown.

Led by Emery Mix, a substitute for Kyle Gillespie, the Frogs started the flame to burning the second time they had possession of the ball. It was in the first two minutes of play, after Raley's fumble was recovered by Palmer that Frank Kring slipped down the left side of the field and received a 29-yard pass from Mix for a touchdown.

It seemed as if the game would turn into a field meet, but the Gents were of a different opinion and strengthened their ground defense by holding the Frogs to two first downs rushing.

Raley and Johnson were the main performers of the Gents' offense but neither gained more than nine yards on a scrimmage play. White, Shad, Nash, and Daugherty starred on the defense along with the brilliant 60-minute playing of James Heath. Golson returned to the game for the first time in several weeks but was still handicapped by his leg injury.

Please patronize our advertisers.

9c-22c Phone 7-2427

Today & Sat.—Double Feature
Joan Bennett - Franchot Tone
"SHE KNEW ALL THE ANSWERS" and
"QUIET WEDDING"
with Margaret Lockwood

Sun.: "GREAT DICTATOR" with Charlie Chaplin—
Paulette Goddard

Tech Freshmen Vanquish Junior Gents Thursday

The Junior Gents went down before a classy Tech aggregation, 26 to 7, last Thursday before a small crowd of approximately 200 people. Although the difference in score is wide it fails to indicate the closeness of the tilt. A number of times the Centenary Frosh drove deep into Tech territory only to be held up by penalties and a heads-up defense.

The Freshmen still have no coach and spend practically their entire time working with the Varsity, yet they uncorked a fine passing attack and a strong defense against running plays. They succeeded in holding the Bullpuppies to six first downs while chalking up nine for themselves.

Centenary's standout was Steve Warren who played the majority of the game with a broken hand and consistently hit his pass receivers with some deadly tosses. He set up the Gents' only counter by passing 34 yards to Shilling, to give them a first down on Tech's six. In three plays Wessel skirted right end for the score.

Centenary's whole line should be commended for standing up against the assault of the Techites. Elina and Papa at the guards played fine defense ball as did Styles and McDaniels at the terminals.

YMCA Sunday P.M. 'Open Houses' for Young Folk Begin

First Program, Last Sunday, Sponsored by Noel Memorial Methodist Church

The first of a series of open houses at the Y.M.C.A. for all the young people of the city was held last Sunday, November 9. This initial program was sponsored by the Noel Memorial Methodist Church.

The purpose of these open houses is to provide wholesome recreation and entertainment for young men and young women who are above high school age. All students of Centenary are naturally included in this category and are very cordially invited to attend any or all of the Sunday afternoon meetings.

Special programs, which will be particularly enjoyable to young men and women of this age group, are prepared each week. Group singing is one of the features of the programs, as well as various types of games. All in all, an attempt is made to create an atmosphere of good fellowship which will enable all visitors to enjoy themselves thoroughly.

Different churches and organizations of the city take turns at sponsoring these affairs. This privilege is passed around impartially, and it is to be hoped that all, who care to, will have an opportunity to have charge of one of the programs.

This series of functions is under the supervision of W. B. "Red" Larsen, and is a sub-committee of the "Y" committee on Social and Recreational Activities of which E. C. Harris is chairman.

Advertising revenue is the chief revenue of this paper; kindly patronize those who help us.

Willis Jacobs, 27, is the youngest Ph.D. on the campus of the University of New Mexico.

REX Phone 7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

FRIDAY, SAT.—NOV. 14-15

"WHISTLING IN THE DARK"

Red Skelton

"Three Stooges" Comedy—Serial

SUN., MON., TUES., NOV. 16-17-18

"DIVE BOMBER"

Fred MacMurray—Errol Flynn

Disney Cartoon—First-run News

WED., THURS., NOV. 19-20

"HERE COMES MR. JORDAN"

Robt. Montgomery—Rita Johnson

Popeye Cartoon—Sports—News

For more than just a Haircut we recommend

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.

L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

FOR BETTER SCHOOL WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC

MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

This week we are going down to the Frosh team to pick our Gentleman of the week. It's not due to lack of some one to pick on the Varsity because there were a number who stood out against T.C.U., but we think the accurate passing and head-up ball playing of Steve Warren in the Frosh game with Tech is worthy of mention.

He played the entire game and although he broke his hand he continued shooting those deadly passes and taking a consistent beating after he had let go of the ball. It was his passing that led the Junior Gents to their only touchdown.

Stephen Graeme Warren came to Centenary from Marshall, Texas, with a fine high school record. Playing quarterback he called the signals for three years, his last year making the all-district team. He is 18 years old, weighs 146 pounds, and stands 5 feet 7 inches tall—yet is a hard runner despite his small stance. He plans to graduate from Centenary studying pre-law and then attend Texas U. for a degree in law.

La. Tech Clinches L.I.C. Championship

Louisiana Tech Bulldogs clinched the Louisiana Intercollegiate Conference football title for 1941 by crushing Louisiana College, 45-0, last Saturday. Even after the Gents rise up and smite the Kiyoodles, and if Normal should defeat S.L.I., the Ruston outfit, with an unspotted record in conference play, would still have the percentage.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt, Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS LOUISIANA GAS COMPANY

KOLLEGE KAPERS BEGINS ANNUAL PRESENTATIONS

Full Shows Scheduled for Early Part of December

Members of the cast of Kollege Kapers, student variety show, have begun taking part in shows all over the Ark-La-Tex region. Kapers will contribute two numbers to the Rodessa high school minstrel show on Tuesday night, November 18.

Kaperites also have the feature spot in the "Longview Jollies" on February 3 and 4.

At Rodessa the girls' vocal trio will sing. This trio is composed of Jean Evans, Cleo Christianson, and Justine Holmes. Sam Swor will be featured in a trumpet solo. Accompaniment will be by a small group selected from the Kollege Kapers orchestra.

The cast of the Kapers show is rapidly filling out and full shows are planned to be presented early in December.

ARTICULATE ACCURATELY

Austin, Texas (ACP).—How's your articulation? Do you have difficulties pronouncing "th" or "ng"?

University of Texas speech professors find articulation is the predominant speech deficiency, more than one-fourth of all cases treated in the university's speech clinic evidencing this defect.

Stuttering is the next most prevalent speech bugaboo. Dialect causes difficulty chiefly among Spanish-speaking students.

A voluntary, non-credit course in business personality development is offered in the business school of New York City college.

Please patronize our advertisers.

THE FOLLOWING PEOPLE HAVE NOT RETURNED THEIR PROOFS TO MILBURNE'S STUDIO

Arthur, Jean
Alston, Billy Payne
Agnes, Virginia
Alford, Dorset
Allen, Dick
Abrams, James
Alford, Horace
Broyles, Billy
Beck, James
Burnette, Ann
Burks, Edgar
Blaxton, G. L.
Babin, Montez
Blaxton, Betty
Blackwell, Kathryn
Bourquin, Spence
Burton, Elizabeth Ann
Burgess, Kenneth
Briggs, Katherine
Barton, Dan
Bland, Cecil
Bradley, Joe
Bush, Tom
Belden, Jeanne
Bradford, Bill
Brown, George
Bailey, Bill
Comegys, Jack
Canon, Myrtle
Conley, F. M.
Clay, Carolyn
Cureton, Gerald
Cullick, Jake
Clifton, Phillip
Carruth, J. G.
Clark, Jean
Connell, Emilie Anne
Cullato, Joe
Carter, Ernest
Christiansen, Cleo
Carlton, Jack
Cashio, Dominic
Dwire, Helen
Day, Philip
Ellis, Rosemary
Eatman, Robt.
Evans, Jean
Elgin, Jack
Earnest, Floyd
Estes, Ruth
Friedman, Ruth
Franks, June
Fulton, Walter
Ford, Glynn
Friddle, Virginia
Freeman, Sol
Flournoy, Camp
Fulco, Constance
Fox, Carley
Giles, Margie
Gardsbane, Heyman
Glassell, Joanna
Gibson, Lillian
Gibbs, Richard
Goes, Ray Winston
Greene, Henrietta
Gillespie, Margaret
Holloway, Myrian
Holloway, Virgil
Hendrick, Robert
Hughes, Al
Haigler, Phyllis
Heard, Walter
Hill, Hattie Cook (Mrs.)
Hattaway, Leonard
Harris, E. W.
Harris, Ouida
Harris, Barbara
Hendrick, Camille
Head, George
Hicks, Felice
Hetherwick, G.
Hughens, Eddie
Hamner, Wm.
Hawkins, Peg
Harper, Irl
Holmes, Justine
Jacobs, Walter
Johns, Barron
Johnson, Albert
Jenkins, Eleanor
Kessling, Marshall
Kinnebrew, Collier

Keenan, Charles
Kilpatrick, Virginia
Keenan, Jack
Kirkland, Stanley
Kramer, Eethel
Kramer, Virginia
Levy, Mathilde
Lawless, Meredith
Lewis, Martha
Lowe, Finis
Lyons, Roy
Moreneaux, Katherine
Mosley, Bess
Madden, Jack
Mitchell, Robert
Morehead, Dorothy Ann
Marshall, Jack
Moore, Lester
Myers, Margaret
Maynard, Jeanne
Montgomery, Elise
Menefee, Sara
Mullins, Sally Ann
McFarland, Forrest
McMahon, R. W.
McKnight, Vernon
McGregor, James
McKay, David
Nash, Mary Alice
Neatherly, Vance
Neal, Rosemary
Orme, Rose
Pardue, Marian
Prothro, Emily
Peyton, Shirley
Papa, Sam
PHELPS, Taylor
Peters, Wade
Phillips, Hutch
Powell, LaRue
Perot, Clyde
Reidenback, Mary
Richardson, Al
Robinson, E. B.
Rappeport, Myron
Rogers, Virginia
Reagan, Wm.
Rogers, Jackie
Shavin, Rosabel
Sutton, Marjorie
Snell, Lorraine
Smith, Knox
Stagg, Betty
Scott, Sylvia
Shores, Mary Alice
Sullivan, Burl
Spengler, Frances
Shuey, Arthur
Sanford, Lucille
Smith, Betty G.
Sayland, Andrea
Stamper, Charles
Sandford, Elizabeth
Spooner, Bob
Snow, Lee
Smith, Belle
Taylor, Irma
Terry, Phyllis
Turner, Pleas
Thompson, Clanton
Thompson, Donn
Tucker, Dorothy
Teacle, Clint
Thibodeaux, Ann
Tison, Warren
Till, Georgia Ella
Van Horn, Peggy
Vickers, Malcolm
Webb, Azalie
White, Margie
Williams, Gladys
Ward, Everett
Wilkinson, Gordon
Webb, Lucille
Whited, Edwin
Wellborn, Wm.
Williams, Bruce
Williamson, Roberta
Woodruff, Dan
Wilson, Robert
Williams, C. W.
Wilkes, Charlotte Anne
Yancey, Delena

Proofs Must Be returned by Friday,
Nov. 21, at 5 P.M. or Someone Else
Will Have to Make Selection of Picture

Centenary Faculty Supply Churches With S.S. Teachers

For many years the professors of Centenary College have been more than active in Sunday school and church work. Our own Dean Hardin organized and still teaches one of the largest boys' classes at the First Methodist Church.

In the same department there we find Mr. White working side by side with many of the Centenary students. Mr. Schuhle has been making regular talks to the young people of the same department. Also at the First Methodist we find Dr. French teaching a large group of ladies every Sunday.

Dean Smith may be heard every Sunday morning teaching the Four Square Bible class. He also holds classes at the Y.M.C.A. where he teaches the teachers.

Dr. Ford has been connected with teaching at the Baptist church for seven years. Mr. Banks has taught at the Presbyterian church for four years and Dr. Phelps is present every Sunday delivering a message to his class at Broadmoor Methodist.

This is a large number from our faculty and we should be duly proud of their outstanding abilities.

Centenary Library Large Collection Of Religious Books

In recent years, next to fiction, the largest number of books published in the United States were religious books. Centenary Library has a rather large collection in the field of religion and several fine reference sets in this field.

Centenary College offers a loan service to out-of-town ministers needing religious books in their work and study.

Below are a few books acquired during the last year:

Smith, Gerald Birney, 1868-1929, ed. Religious Thought in the Last Quarter Century.

Goodspeed, Edgar J. New Solutions of New Testament Problems.

Ninde, Edward. Nineteen Centuries of Christian Song.

Latourette, Kenneth Scott. Anno Domini.

Finkelstein, Louis. The Religions of Democracy.

Fosdick, Harry Emerson. Living Under Tension.

Moffatt, James. The Parallel New Testament.

The religious section of books in the library is the most outstanding group to be found there, and as a matter of fact is one of the most complete collections anywhere in this region. For this reason Centenary is quite proud of its library and urges any college visitors who have the opportunity to visit it.

This Collegiate World

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

The Dartmouth graduate of today has an easy time preparing himself sartorially for the great event of commencement compared to seniors in the early days of the college. Judah Dana, Dartmouth 1795, recorded that his commencement dress consisted of a "black coat, waist coat and small clothes, large silver shoe buckles, black silk gloves and a black cocked hat, with my hair cued down with a black ribbon and my head and hair powdered as white as the driven snow." Woo-woo!

CENTENARY

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE
Always 9c & 22c Phone 7-5971

LAST DAY—
"BRIDE CAME C.O.D."
James Cagney—Bette Davis
Cartoon—News
SAT.—DOUBLE FEATURE
"MR. DISTRICT ATTORNEY"
"BORDER LEGION"
Serial

SUN. & MON.
Mary Martin—Don Ameche
"KISS THE BOYS GOODBYE"
Cartoon—Sport—News

TUES. & WED.
"PRISONER OF ZENDA"
Cartoon—Sport

THURS.—FRI.
"LIFE BEGINS FOR ANDY HARDY"
Mickey Rooney
Popeye Cartoon—News

Former Queens Gather for Homecoming

Former Centenary College Homecoming queens and Maroon Jackets attended the Homecoming celebration last week. Above they are shown as they watch Dr. Cline crown Miss Peg Hawkins at the half of the T.C.U. game.

Faculty and Student Religious Activities Committees Merged

This year, for the first time, the faculty committee on religious activities was merged with the similar committee of the Student Senate.

The purpose of this union was to provide a more harmonious working arrangement between the two groups.

Dr. Enriken is head of the faculty committee and Athurf Crawford heads the student group.

Another innovation was the union of the Student Senate chapel program committee with Dr. Enriken's committee. This further simplified the problem of cooperation between the chapel and religious committees of the Student Senate and corresponding ones of the faculty.

HOME EC—

(Continued from Page One)

ment indicates the recognition which the department is receiving. A large part of the credit for the progress of the Centenary Home Economics Department during the last three years must be given to Miss Mary Lou Ware, whose intelligent and earnest service has brought her commendation from many sources. A few months ago the "Orchids to You" program, a regular feature of radio station KTBS, was dedicated to Miss Ware. The following paragraph is taken from the tribute paid her at that time:

"Working zealously with her department at Centenary College, Miss Mary Lou Ware is presenting a curriculum that is designed to produce a complete, well adjusted person. Her courses include everything from marketing and dietetics to home designing and care of the baby. The woman who emerges from her guidance finds herself in an age of realism equipped with a thorough knowledge of realistic pursuits, based on all the information which civilization has provided."

JOHNNY MIZE
and
MORTON COOPER

St. Louis Cardinals' first baseman and pitcher. They play ball together, hunt together, and together enjoy Chesterfield—the cigarette that Satisfies.

*Sportsmen pass
the word along...*
It's Chesterfield

Smokers take to Chesterfield like a duck takes to water...

because they're definitely Milder
Cooler-Smoking... Better-Tasting

Chesterfield's can't-be-copied blend... the right combination of the best cigarette tobaccos that grow both here and abroad... gives a man what he wants... a cigarette that's definitely Milder and that completely SATISFIES.

Everywhere... IT'S CHESTERFIELD FOR A Milder COOLER SMOKE

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, November 28, 1941.

Number 10

FORECAST

This week we can think of nothing better to write a column about than the situation in the girls' dormitory with regard to the telephone (note that the word is singular). There is no doubt but that we speak for a large majority of the student body—chiefly, though, we admit, the men students, when we say that one telephone is not enough for the use of all the girls in the hall.

A familiar cry every evening about seven from the boys in the dorm and all fraternity houses is "Why doesn't that girl get off the phone?"

Theoretically there is a time limit to the conversations, but even if the girls were to limit themselves and their friends to this period, there would still be several persons unable to contact the dorm during the "rush hour."

On Saturday or Sunday evenings it is positively a 30- or 45-minute job of constant ringing in order to talk to one of the inmates. Many is the man that has given up in disgust after the twentieth attempt. It is also discouraging to have a date already and then not be able to even find an agreeable time for it, simply because there is no way to talk over the situation with the lady in question.

Not that we care at all about imitating other schools in any way, but there are several schools in the state which go so far as to have phones in each room of the dorms. The addition of but one phone to Colonial Hall would be a great improvement over the present arrangement. One additional phone would not cause a very large increase in the expense of the college and it would go a little way at least toward remedying a situation which is receiving much criticism.

STUDENT SHOW GETTING UNDER WAY FOR YEAR

Several Campus Personalities Aid in Production of New Kapers

Several Centenary personalities have been incorporated in the production of the new Kollege Kapers. June Rolfs has again received recognition for her costume designing, having designed the women's costume to be used in the Kapers Review, opening number of the show. Professor William Wallace, head of the Geology Department, is assisting in the sound effects, and Mr. and Mrs. John Wray Young have begun direction of the skit.

"Glamour in the Rough" is the title of the newly selected play. Entirely different from any previous skit presented by Kapers, it

First Kollege Kapers Show

Next Friday morning the Centenary variety show will present its first performance of the year in the chapel.

The orchestra will be on hand with some fine swing arrangements and several vocalists will blend their voices with the band in some torchy renditions of the latest tin pan alley classics.

A small admission fee will be charged, probably 11c, to help buy some needed equipment for the shows this year.

promises to be one of the highlights of the show. The cast will include two members of last season's play, Comedian Camp Flournoy and Roland Achée, and glamorous and beautiful co-eds such as Virginia Friddle, Gladys Tippet, Jean Evans, Cleo Christiansen, Martha Stevens, and Charlotte

(Continued on Page Four)

Centenary to Offer Defense Courses

Moore Is Named to Lead Freshmen

NEW, WEBB, LINDSAY ALSO ELECTED MON.

Class Election Held Monday During Regular Assembly Period

Lester Moore was named president of the Freshman Class for the 1941-1942 term in an election held Monday in the regular freshman assembly period. Moore received a majority of all votes cast in defeating Foster Hamner, Orville Crutchfield, and Pete Papa, the three other candidates for the position.

Mary Smith New was elected vice-president. Her opponents in the election were Carolyn Coburn, Nick Elina, Rosemary Hicks, and E. W. Harris.

Lucille Webb, the new secretary, polled more votes than did Phyllis Haigler, Roy Lyons, Betty Blaxton, or Virginia Telleaux.

Bobby Lindsay came out on top in the treasurer's race, defeating Dorothy Viosca, Jane Bartlett, Bill Patton, and Raymond Jolly.

The election was conducted by officers of the Student Senate during the regular assembly period. Nominations were received and ballots distributed to the students. Voting followed immediately in the same period after the candidates for the various offices had been called to the front and presented to the students.

Lester Moore, the new president, will, according to the constitution of the Senate, be representative of the Freshman Class to the Student Senate. He is also president of the Kappa Alpha pledges.

Mary Smith New and Lucille Webb, vice-president and secretary, respectively, are both pledges to Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. Bobby Lindsay is a pledge to Kappa Sigma.

Centenary Students Given 'Tb' Tests by Campus Health Unit

Most of the Centenary students took advantage of the large medical unit set up on the campus recently and had X-ray picture tests made to determine whether they were tubercular or not.

The medical unit is a part of a state-wide drive to prevent the spread of tuberculosis in the schools. There was no requirement as to whether the students take the test or not. Most of the students saw the wisdom of such an examination, however.

College age boys and girls are most susceptible to the disease, according to medical findings. The X-ray is the only method of discovering the germ in its earliest development.

Sand Baskets Placed In S.U.B. for Smokers

The Student Senate has recently placed in the Student Union Building several baskets filled with sand for the use of students in disposing of cigarette stubs. The object of these baskets is to prevent damage to the rug and floor of the building by burns. Therefore, all students are requested to make use of the receptacles at every opportunity.

COLLEGE STUDENTS COMPLETE TRAINING AT 'WEST POINT OF AIR'

Although with September most schools began their fall term which lasts until January, September at the "West Point of the Air," where new classes start every five weeks the year 'round, brought the graduation of class 41-I, the ninth class of the year and the last to receive its wings in 1941.

Two hundred and eighty-five aviation cadets completed their ten-week period of basic training at Randolph Field on September 27, and moved on to advanced fields as the final step toward their wings and commissions in the air corps.

Approximately 80 per cent of these potential pilots were former students or graduates of colleges or universities, 126 school being represented in Randolph's latest graduating class.

Two former Centenary students who left Randolph for advanced schools were William G. Paine of Shreveport and Leon C. Allen of Minden.

Reporting to Randolph in mid-July, these pilots-to-be had learned the fundamentals of flying rugged 200-horsepower airplanes at air corps elementary flying training schools. While there, they mastered aerial maneuvers from take-offs to snap rolls. Sixty-five hours aloft were logged.

Classes report to the flying line every five weeks and as they arrive, the graduating class transfers to an advanced school.

During the 30-week training period, aviation cadets are paid $75 monthly plus food, clothing and quarters. After receiving their wings and commissions at second lieutenants, pay jumps to $205 and quarters, or $245 per month if quarters are not provided. If the young officer returns to civil life after his tour of active duty with the air force, he is paid a bonus of $500 for each year he has served as a flying officer.

Fred Waring Plans To Write College Song for Centenary

Senate Receives Letter Inquiring About Student Enthusiasm For Song

Two years ago the Student Senate sponsored a petition signed by a great number of the student body asking Fred Waring to put Centenary on his list of schools for which he was writing songs at the time.

It was customary for him to present original songs on his radio program for various colleges throughout the country that had requested that he do so.

Recently the Senate received a letter from Mr. Pat Ballard, direc-

New Song for Centenary

A wire has just been received by the president of the student body from Fred Waring saying that Mr. Waring is planning to compose a song for Centenary and will present it on his radio program of February 20.

tor of college relations with Fred Waring, forwarded to it by Jimmy Patterson, to whom it was addressed, since he was president of the Senate when the original petition was made. The letter explained that since the recent radio song controversy was ended, Mr. Waring planned to renew his practice of composing songs for the schools of the nation, and asked if student enthusiasm for an original Centenary song was still high.

An answer was immediately sent stating that the student body would like very much to have a song written for Centenary and played on the Fred Waring radio show by the Pennsylvanians.

The letter was preceded by a wire from Mr. Ballard also inquiring as to whether Centenary wanted a song, which was also answered.

So, apparently they are serious this time about the song and probably within a few weeks, Centenary will be one of the colleges honored on the Fred Waring program by having a song written especially for it and played by the Fred Waring orchestra.

SENIORS VISIT ROTARY CLUB'S MEETS FRIDAYS

Centenary Student Invited Every Week To Attend Luncheon of Civic Group

This year, as last year, the Rotary Club has invited Centenary to send a representative every week to their luncheons. Each student selected attends once a week for six weeks.

Camp Flournoy, Centenary representative for the first six weeks, introduced the new representative, John Marshall, at the club's meeting last Friday.

The Rotary Club's policy is to have one student from each of the schools in the city at every meeting, to enable the student to meet men of the business world.

An excellent program is presented each week about some phase of the business world of current interest.

SELECTED AS A COLLEGE FOR FREE TRAINING

Instruction to Be Offered in Several Sciences

Centenary College has been selected as one of the schools in the federal program to turn out workers for defense industries requiring engineering, scientific and management training, Dr. Pierce Cline was notified recently by the U. S. Office of Education.

Dr. Cline said that the local college will offer special defense training courses for the trainees to be selected under the federal setup. Definite announcement of the courses and their starting date is expected in about 30 days.

The Centenary program is part of a federal appropriation of $17,500,000 for training of defense workers.

Specific courses already authorized for Centenary are inorganic and organic chemistry, industrial chemistry, petroleum chemistry and powder chemistry. Others in preparation include atomic physics and mathematics and mechanics for engineers.

Also authorized is a separate course in production management.

Named to represent Centenary on the regional advisory committee of the program, Dr. F. E. Lowance went to Baton Rouge to attend the regional meeting which debated additional courses to be added to the program.

Dr. Lowance is head of the Centenary department of physics and last summer was a member of the staff of the defense training program at Penn State College, then the largest defense school in the (Continued on Page Four)

Honorary Fraternity Initiates 8 Students On Tuesday Night

Alpha Chi, Honorary Scholastic Society, Conducts First Meeting of Year at Home of Dr. Ford

Alpha Chi, national upper-classmen honorary scholastic fraternity, conducted its first meeting of the year last Tuesday at the home of Dr. E. L. Ford, faculty sponsor, at which time eight new members were inducted into the Centenary chapter. Those initiated were Joe Stephens, Jack Elgin, Lanford DeGeneres, Malcolm Vickers, Jeanette Craber, Carolyn Lunny, LeRoy Scott, and Clint Teale.

After the initiation ceremony Mrs. Ford served the members refreshments which were enjoyed by all.

John Woods was also invited to attend the meeting but was unable to be present.

Membership in the society is based primarily upon scholarship, an average of at least 39 honor points for the entire college career of the applicant being the fundamental requirement. However, consideration is also given to character, leadership, service, and other such qualities as are customarily deemed necessary for initiation into honorary organizations. Extracurricular activities in the form of club work or some other branch of the school's activities were also used as a basis of selection.

The present officers of the Centenary chapter, which is known as Louisiana Alpha nationally, are Gilbert Hetherwick, president; Elise Montgomery, vice-president; John Marshall, recording secretary; Miss Frances Perkins, corresponding secretary, and Margie Giles, treasurer.

To be selected for membership a (Continued on Page Two)

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Member
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Betty Gordon Smith, Ellen Eastham, Hutch Phillips, Jack Keenan, Eleanor Brown, Dudley Beene, Gloria Brown, Jake Cullick, Mary Foster Peyton, Emily Prothro, J. L. Solomon, and Arthur Shuey

IN SYMPATHY

The Conglomerate joins the countless friends of Rose Orme in extending our heartfelt sympathy to her family. She was a wonderful friend and a fine fellow worker.

THE SCENES CHANGE: JOBS GO BEGGING

American colleges, technical schools and universities are unable to meet a third of the demands being made of them for trained workers, reports E. E. Crabb, president of Investors Syndicates. "Although American institutions of higher learning are meeting two-thirds of the demands on them for trained workers," explained Mr. Crabb, "they are not satisfying requests from some industries, and in some regions, by any such proportions."

Defense and allied industries are making the greatest increase in number of demands, according to the company's annual national survey of college graduates' job prospects. Comments made by 501 institutions answering the questionnaire stress willingness of prospective employers to train liberal arts and teachers' college graduates in mechanical arts and sciences, and retrain engineering graduates for new fields in which workers are scarce. Beginning salaries offered are the highest in years. Draft boards' policies of calling technical graduates and students have lessened available supplies of sought-for workers on campuses.

"One western Pennsylvania institution, asked about the percentage of technically trained graduates it was able to supply, answered that 'as early as last February corporations recruiting on our campus demanded 3,500 young engineering graduates, though our June graduating class could not exceed 235 graduates,'" said Mr. Crabb. "A Connecticut liberal arts college replied, 'employment demand is the largest in our 60-year history.' On an Iowa campus twice as many engineers were sought this year as in 1938. From a Texas university came the declaration, 'ten times as many firms recruited here this year as ever before.' Typical of California comment was the statement, 'our difficulty is to find enough candidates available to recommend when job openings are called to our attention.'

"While these specific instances do not measure total actual scarcities in individual fields, they do indicate trends. Inferentially more details emerge from replies to another question: 'How much, and in what fields, has demand for your technically trained graduates increased, or decreased, compared with a year ago?'

"Engineering, chemistry, teaching, aeronautics, industrial arts, business administration, general physical sciences, secretarial, and a combination of mathematics and science, in order named, most frequently are mentioned in increased demands for graduates. Ranking next are commerce and home economics, tenth; and accounting and sales, which are eleventh place."

"Many of our men graduates from the liberal arts college," said W. G. Leutner, president, Western Reserve University, after commenting that college men are placing emphasis on adequate training or apprentice programs, "seek employment in industrial centers where they go to work in a production department and take their chances on working their way up to a worthwhile administrative position, contradictory to the popular idea that college men are afraid to get their hands dirty."

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Just wandering around the campus we wonder how many students realize what they are missing when they do not return to the campus in the afternoon. Really, if you haven't been around in the afternoon lately, you should try to stay over some time and see what goes on. Nearly always you can find Dudley "the old Judge himself" Beene doing something or other. There is usually a Kapers rehearsal, which you might watch through the back door of the chapel if it happens to be a closed session. The other day we overheard Bill Patton trying to get advice as to how to gracefully decline his pressing invitations. Patton, you really must be getting to be a social lion these days. Anyway, we hear that you have quite a lion yourself (pun).

What's all the rumor going around about somebody whose initials are Bob Raley keeping some dog for Norman? We couldn't get all the facts about the case but perhaps you can.

We see that Jimmie (Aloma) Brown is still hanging around the Yoncopin office and William . . .

We hear that Rose Marie Hicks is just an infant . . . Where's your baby rattle? . . . Guess it was caught in the draft???

Why do these people call Margaret Haggard "Grade A"? I can't say why in public, but if you ask "Rabbit," he'll tell you in no uncertain terms.

Say, did you know that Rose Mary Neal is a fast worker? She met a tall, goodlooking fellow and five minutes later had a date with him. . . . Nice going, fellow!

What is this anyway? Al Richardson really has the charm. One time it's Ellen Eastham, the next Carolyn Williams, then sometimes Emily Prothro and again Ann Burnette. Nice work, boy—just how is it done? And by the way, which one do you love the best?

We all have our troubles—scholastic, or otherwise. For experienced advice we refer you to:

Charlotte Newsome, Lanford DeGeneres, and George Head.

Foster Philyaw and Grade A. For the "otherwise," we suggest: Solie and his latest crush—my how times change!

Lucille Sanford and Junior Davis Lil Turner and her admirers We heard that Vernon Seay is a pretty fast worker while visiting down LSU way. That was Don's pin, Vernon; or perhaps you don't remember all the details.

I hear that our local Casanova, namely Judson Kelly, really took in the Fair with Ruth Woodard, who by the way is the specialty singer in Tommy Tucker's band.

I wonder where Anne Gano got that cold while she was in Dallas? What happened to the Dallas club, Anne, or wouldn't you be talking?

Please patronize our advertisers.

CLUB NEWS

The Dramatic Club

The regular meeting of the Dramatic Club took place Friday, November 28, in the chapel at 10:15. Many students interested in the work attended.

French Club

The French Club's regular meeting was held Friday night at Clint Teacle's house. Many members enjoyed the excellent program.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club recently held its monthly meeting in the Student Union Building. The meeting was called to order by the new president, Mabel Boddie, who then introduced the guest of the evening, Mrs. Simian of Santiago, Chile. Mrs. Simian gave a most interesting talk concerning her country.

Following the talk Spanish songs were sung to the accompaniment of C. H. Vandegaer and his guitar.

All students interested in Spanish are urged to make it a point to attend the next club meeting which will be in December.

—Patronize Our Advertisers—

The time to take care of your hair is while you have it.

For intelligent and beneficial service on hair-grooming—

CAMERON BROS.
BARBER SHOP
307 Milam St.

RED CROSS

(Continued from Page One)

matching. Reduced to a dry, powdered form and vacuum-packed, it keeps indefinitely. Adding distilled water makes it ready for use. To speed the work the Red Cross is using mobile collecting units. One of these visited Princeton last May and had to stay over a day because of the many students who volunteered as donors. Among those donating blood to the cause has been Major E. E. "Swede" Larsen, football coach at the U. S. Naval Academy.

Most college students are familiar with the Red Cross water safety and life-saving service. In the related field of first aid is another activity affecting the campus.

Another Red Cross service is training of volunteer nurses' aides, open to women aged 18 to 50 years. At least 100,000 of these will be trained in 1942 in cooperation with the Office of Civilian Defense. Upon completing 80 hours of intensive preparation, nurses' aides will assist, without remuneration, graduate nurses at hospitals, clinics and other health agencies.

Still other fields are open to college students. The Red Cross is creating special reserve units of medical undergraduates, laboratory and X-ray technicians, dental hygienists, occupational therapy aides and dietitians. Open to both men and women, these reserves are available to the army and navy, and also to the Red Cross in time of disaster.

In the various Red Cross projects college students have an excellent opportunity of taking an active, humanitarian part in these stirring times. The Red Cross' annual Roll Call began November 11 and continues through November 30. Dues collected at this time will support all Red Cross activities. Millions of new members are needed because of the tremendous expansion in services. Among these, the Red Cross ardently hopes, will be students from every campus.

In these times of emphasis on national preparedness, we suppose it's only natural that more than usual attention should be given to the opinions of health experts. At any rate, we were interested—and relieved—the other day to read in the public prints this statement by Dr. Bernece Stone, head of the health education department at San Diego State college: "I think a certain amount of necking is perfectly normal."

Please patronize our advertisers.

Indifference to collective security of community and society has brought about the downfall of nations from time immemorial; let's not be indifferent to what goes on outside the window.

Please patronize our advertisers.

ANYONE WILL TELL YOU THAT

HE'S NOT SO "CHEESY" NOW !

Centenary Ministerial Club in Its 20th Year

The Centenary Ministerial Club was founded by Dr. George Sexton on October 6, 1921. Its present sponsors are Dean and Mrs. R. E. Smith. The meetings are held every other Friday at which time it is customary for a minister or layman to appear on the program.

Membership in the club is open to any ministerial student or student studying for some work in the field of the church or religion, the only requirement being that the member participate in the social and religious programs on the campus, in the city and elsewhere.

In past years the club has functioned as an organized group to promote religious activity on the campus and in the dormitory. However, since the Committee on Religious Activities of the Student Senate is serving in this capacity, the club has continued as a fraternal or professional group, emphasizing that its members cooperate with other clubs.

Among the honorary members of the Ministerial Club are President Cline, Dean Hardin, Bishop Hoyt M. Dobbs, Dr. A. M. Serex, and all Methodist pastors of the city.

One of the club's alumni, the Reverend George Pearce, has been chosen head of the Broadmoor Methodist church which is located on Centenary campus.

Honorary Fraternity

(Continued from Page One) student must have attained junior or senior standing scholastically. Although when once elected to membership a student remains a member for life, it is possible, by making the required grade average consistently, to be elected several times during his college career to membership in the fraternity on the basis of scholastic standing at the end of each term. Those students selected for the honor for the second time are John Marshall, Margie Giles, and Gilbert Hetherwick.

The faculty advisory committee of the organization is composed of Dr. E. L. Ford, Dr. J. B. Entriken, and Dr. S. A. Steger.

A convention is held by the fraternity each year. Last spring it met at Stephen F. Austin College at Nacogdoches, Texas. This year the convention is scheduled to be held in San Antonio.

Advertising revenue is the chief revenue of this paper; kindly patronize those who help us.

"Cheesy," who in reality is Mr. Alvin C. Voran, student councilor, received his odd nickname when a freshman at McPherson College.

"At that time," he admitted modestly, "I was fortunate enough to become a member of the varsity male quartet."

This organization traveled a great deal by train, and it was Cheesy's custom to sit by the window and comment on the scenery and towns along the way. His stamp of approval consisted of the phrase, "That's not so cheesy," and the instructor who accompanied the boys decided that "Cheesy" would be an appropriate nickname.

The popularity of the teacher, still a close friend of Cheesy's, enabled her to introduce the name to the students upon their return. Its use not only stuck, but spread from year to year.

When he went to Chicago after graduation, Mr. Voran expected and hoped to leave his acquired name behind. A friend, who accompanied him promised not to mention it, but in the heat of a basketball game he forgot and shouted, "Cheesy, you can't do that!" And the name Cheesy has followed him ever since.

By way of explaining how he entered the field of working with young people, Cheesy leaned back in his chair, ignored the noise in the SUB, and said, "Well, we'll have to go back to 1932, when I left Chicago." In the fall of that year he returned to his Alma Mater, McPherson College, to head the vocal department and direct the choral ensembles and church choir. Since then his summers have been spent directing music in young people's camps.

Cheesy remained at McPherson College four years, during which time Nobel Cain wrote "Thy Song" and dedicated it to Mr. Voran and the choir. This year the Centenary choir will sing this number.

After that, one year was spent in the vocal department of Oklahoma City University, after which he came to Shreveport at the suggestion of Dr. Charles M. Crowe, pastor of Noel Methodist Church, to become director of the choir and young people's activities, as well as student councilor at Centenary.

Now he's mighty glad he's "Cheesy."

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803 Ycuree

Mrs. Sara
Tully

You'll welcome ice-cold Coca-Cola just as often and as surely as thirst comes. You taste its quality, the quality of genuine goodness. Ice-cold Coca-Cola gives you the taste that charms and never cloy. You get the feel of complete refreshment, buoyant refreshment. Thirst asks nothing more.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

You trust its quality

Tech Bulldogs Defeat Gents by a 39 to 7 Score

BAND, STUDENTS MAKE TRIP TO RUSTON GAME

Johnson Injured and Forced to Withdraw From His Last College Game

A powerful Tech team defeated a stubborn, hard-driving Centenary aggregation Thursday by sheer weight of numbers. A fighting eleven with but a few substitutes found the parade of Tech recruits too much of a handicap to overcome.

This does not detract from the fact that the Gentlemen were outpointed by a classy ball club. The Bulldogs displayed a smooth offensive from the first, when they capitalized on a break after a long punt touched the Centenary safety man and was recovered by Tech to pave the way for the first touchdown of the day.

The entire Centenary line deserves praise for the defense they put up throughout the game. Most of the points rolled up by the Bulldogs were the result of their taking instant advantage of breaks of the game.

The highlight of the day was the goal-line stand of the Gentlemen when they held the attack of the Ruston team four times on their one-yard line.

The passing offensive of the Gents was at its best in the few opportunities they had to make use of it. Birtman and Raley completed a series of passes from every angle.

Truman "Chief" Johnson, who made the lone Gent tally, was injured and forced to withdraw from the game in the last half. Since the Centenary offensive has been built to a large extent around the big senior it naturally suffered a great deal by his loss. Griffith did a nice job of filling in but before the game was over Bob Raley was running in Johnson's position. Somehow, this is vaguely reminiscent of the Cotton Barnes incident of last year.

Many of the students made the trip to Ruston and it was a very peppy crowd that watched the game from the east side lines. They even got to watch the sun go down inch by inch all afternoon.

The Centenary band also journeyed to the game and paraded at the half.

Pictured above are four of the outstanding Gentlemen on the 1941 squad. The boy lugging the pigskin on the left is Bob Raley, back, who has carried much of the load this year with his running, passing, and kicking. In the middle is Raymond Daugerty, end, who has snagged quite a few of Raley's tosses this year. On the right is Claude Whitehurst, guard, who has done his part toward strengthening the middle of the line this year. Below is David White who has distinguished himself this year many times in the backfield, both on the offense and the defense.

Shakespeare's Mss. Are Photographed

Salt Lake City, Utah (ACP)—The original words of Shakespeare, endangered in their English resting-place by German bombers, are preserved through the long labors of a professor who started reading the Bard of Avon at the age of 9.

Dr. B. Roland Lewis of the University of Utah has reproduced in two volumes the 276 known documents written by the great English dramatist.

Behind this publication are some 500 photographic plates of genuine and questionable Shakespeare manuscripts. British scholars have asked Dr. Lewis to preserve his photographic plates—believed to be the only duplication of the English originals.

About half the original Shakespeare documents are in England. When war clouds gathered, British scholars secreted the manuscripts in underground vaults.

"I have received direct information from England," Dr. Lewis says, "that some of those vaults have been penetrated by bombs. My photographic plates some day may be the only available source for reproduction of the documents."

Among the documents preserved by Dr. Lewis is Shakespeare's deathbed letter, on which the handwriting grew less and less legible until the signature was a mere scribble.

Mrs. Sproull: "Melvin! Melvin!" Her pride and joy: "What, Ma?" Mrs. S.: "Are you spitting in the fishbowl?" Her P. and J.: "No, Ma, but I'm comin' pretty close."

GENTS BATTLE SW LINX TO 0-0 DEADLOCK SAT.

Johnson Makes Longest Gain of Day for Gentlemen

Rain, mud and football players looked the same last Saturday and when the last whistle sounded ending the game, the Gents were on an even basis with the Lynx. Although the Centenary eleven outplayed the Southwestern team, they failed to tally and the game ended in an 0-to-0 stalemate.

The Gentlemen appear to be mudders because they seemed to play a far better brand of football on soddy soil than when on solid terra firma. Heretofore continuous substitutions have defeated the Gents but the slush-covered Gentlemen just anchored deeper and shoved the alternating teams of the Cats back onto the bench.

The Lynx depended on the ability of the little 140-pounder, Kenny Holland, and the little fellow did the running, passing, and kicking. Despite this he was never able to get out into the open. His performance of broken-field action thrilled the drenched fans as he succeeded in sidestepping and outmaneuvering the Gents only to slip down or be trapped by others. Among Centenary's opponents he may be put on the same level as Bagley of T. C. U.

The Gents' pass defense aided by the wet ball held the opponents to one completed pass out of six tries. It was the first inkling this season that the Gents had a pass defense. They also succeeded in intercepting two passes to help discourage the Cats.

The early part of the tilt was featured by a series of quick kicks and after a couple of them flew over the safety man's head, the Gents waked up and played them right.

The Gents used the quick kick once and although it was a nice kick, Holland picked it up on the go and took it back to midfield.

According to statistics the Gents made 16 first downs to six for Southwestern. Truman "Chief" Johnson, sparkplug on the offense and playing his last home game for the Gents, made the longest gain of the swimming meet by running a flat pass from Raley 39 yards before he was pulled down.

Bob "Ace" Raley, playing his usual good game, carried the torch for the Gents and ended up with a better average for yards gained than Holland. In the second period he went off right tackle, cutting to the right and with the aid of a savage block by Griffith, succeeded in getting behind the Lynx' secondary, only to be caught and hauled down by a fresh substitute. His gain was for 52 yards and was the longest run of the game.

Also playing top-notch defensive football were Whitehurst, Schad and Heath.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

Gents' Basketball OUTLOOK

By Luther Hardin

Reporting to Coach Elmer Smith for this year's basketball varsity squad are three lettermen and several members of last year's freshman squad. The three lettermen who make up the nucleus of the team are: Melbourne "Moe" Crawford, senior guard from East Point, La.; Alex Penny, senior forward from Coushatta, La., and Ed Hoynoski, senior center from Amsterdam, Ohio.

Among the new varsity men who played freshman basketball are: Marvin "Bo" Whitten, sophomore center from Hamburg, Ark.; Judson "Cowboy" Thornton, sophomore guard from Hico, La.; Gordon "Yankee" Brown, sophomore forward from Taylorville, Ill.; Alvin "Tree-top" Martin, sophomore center from Castor, La.

In practice, Crawford has been looking classy at his old guard position. Although he is hindered by a knee injury Coach Smith thinks that by the time the season opens it will be all right.

Penny, a fast-breaking forward, has shown up exceptionally well at every practice and is expected to have his best year at Centenary this year.

Hoynoski has been coming through with some "two-point markers" from difficult positions. He will be ready to go by the time the season opens.

Whitten was an outstanding player on the freshman team last year and in practice is showing lots of hustle trying to earn a starting berth on the varsity team.

Thornton, one of the fastest men out for basketball this year, is really working to try to get on the starting lineup of the team.

Martin, tallest man on the team, probably will get lots of chances to utilize his height to an advantage for the team.

Coach Smith will be able to devote full time to the squad now that football is over and earnest practice will begin.

Taking into consideration the spirit of the men, the material, and the coach, I think the team has what it takes to win those games and I predict that Centenary will have reason to be proud of its basketball team this year.

Southwestern Band Visits Centenary at Last Home Game

Last Saturday Centenary fans witnessed the last home game, at which the college band was on hand despite weather conditions. The local band was host to the organization from Southwestern.

The visiting band entered the field from the south end and marched (or swam) to the center of the field where they did a column left and faced the west stadium playing their alma mater. They then made a counter march and marching to the east stadium played tribute to Centenary.

At this time our own band commenced their exhibition marching on (or swimming on) the field from the south side.

The band stopped in front of the west side and played a march while forming an S for Southwestern. After this it performed a series of intricate formations ending in front of the east side where a C was formed for Centenary and the Alma Mater was played.

Southwestern's Band was first organized in the fall of 1935 under the able leadership of Burnet C. Tuthill, director of music. After six weeks of training they made their first public appearance on the field with 35 men dressed in red Russian blouses and black berets. Saturday they appeared with the same number of men dressed in attractive red and black uniforms. The officers of this splendid organization are: President, Edward C. Hermann of Webster Groves, Mo.; vice president, William Turner of Dresden, Tenn.; secretary, Robert Goosetree of Clarksville, Tenn.; Thompson Shea of Darien, Conn., is drum major.

Their band sponsor, Patty Radford of Memphis, was unable to attend as was their director Mr. Tuthill who had to go to a committee meeting of the National Association of Schools of Music, of which he is secretary, in Chicago.

Jimmye Brown: "I want some real kissproof lipstick."

Clerk: "Try this. It's a cross between an onion and bichloride of mercury."

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

Claude "Jelly" Whitehurst is this week's nomination for Gent No. 1. The 163-lb. guard from Marshall, Texas, who doubles as line-backer on defense, has played first-rate football all season, and against the Lynx of Southwestern Saturday did just a bit better than that.

"Jelly" is the smallest man on the team and also one of the toughest. For references, consult aforementioned Lynx, Creighton, Louisiana Normal, and T.C.U.'s Horned Frogs.

Whitehurst has been one of the squad's defensive standouts all season, leaving the guard slot to back the Centenary forwards. From this position, he has smeared more than his share of plays. Despite the anonymity in which line-men dwell, he has attracted attention of experts and spectators alike with bang-up tackling and interference smashing.

Offensively, he has been one of the most dependable cogs in Jake Hanna's not-too-lucky squad. "Jelly" pulls out fast to lead the interference, or gets his man in the center of the line, depending on the assignment.

Thorough but unspectacular line play too often goes unacknowledged. We give belated recognition to a man who does his job consistently and well.

Katherine Moreneaux: "How do you find yourself these cold mornings?"

Jean Clark: "Oh, I throw back my covers and there I am."

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt, Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

Follow the Crowds

to NATHAN'S for the SMARTEST in

MEN'S WEARING APPAREL

Texas at Edwards Shreveport

FOR BETTER SCHOOL WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC

MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.

Call 2-4639

717 McNeil St.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

Well, the frosh have a new set of officers to lead them on through the coming year. It must be said, though, that for a group of supposedly green first-year students they showed remarkably good judgment in their selections. All four of the students elected to their positions are well worthy of their being so honored and there is no doubt that they will prove themselves quite capable of holding down their individual jobs.

Incidentally, Mary Smith New, one of the newly elected leaders of the freshmen, recently was the pinnee in one of those—shall we say—understandings? Well, Com-eggs, another good man gone to the penitentiary.

Cile Webb, the other good-looking officer, evidently has finally had a little good luck to make up for her share of the bad luck she's been having, what with a broken ankle and everything.

Jimmy Moore and Bobby Lindsay complete the list of frosh named Monday.

Not to change the subject but we heard that in the dormitory lining hall the other night Carolyn Coeburn complained about the pterified condition of her alleged steak. She couldn't possibly cut into it no matter how hard she jabbed. She said to the waitress at last, "You'll have to take this steak back and get me another piece. I can't even begin to cut it."

"Sorry, miss," replied the waitress, examining the steak closely, "I can't take this back now. You've bent it."

By the way, we also heard that they have a hearth of stone in the dormitory.

By our process of inductive reasoning we have decided that with Japan's self-styled name for herself of Nippon, a good name for her inhabitants would be Nips... both theoretically and literally.

We're afraid that the marks given some of the students on their report cards last week were under water... that is to say, below "C" level.

Mink Gibbs was astounded the other day when he tried to fix the glasses in the French doors of KA house and found that the windows were broken on both sides.

HEP KAT SEZ

RECOMMENDED RECORDS

TOMMY DORSEY—Two in Love and—A Sinner Kissed an Angel (Victor).

Dorsey, the miracle man of music, pairs two terrific tunes on this one disc, a gilt-edged contender for the best-seller lists and if they don't like it, then this department knows nothing about what is good music. TWO IN LOVE is Meredith Wilson's follow-up to his popular YOU AND I. It's another beautiful love song and certain to click. Frank Sinatra sings, of course, and Dorsey's slip horn is featured. The reverse is another fine tune and with the combination of Sinatra and Dorsey, it's also sure fire.

ART JARRETT—The Bells of San Raquel—Ma Ma Maria (Victor).

The former side carries on in the tradition of "Maria Elena" and "Red Sails in the Sunset" and is also very, very good. This is one of those melodies that seems to float along carrying the lyrics in effortless fashion. MA MA MARIA introduced by Jarrett, is a briskly tempoed tune that will find favor with the younger element.

EDDY DUCHIN—Brazil—Carinhoso (Columbia).

Eddy Duchin played plenty of samba music while in South Amer-

Defense Courses—

(Continued from Page One)
country. Lowance was named by Dr. Cline to represent Centenary.

No Tuition or Fees

The courses will be conducted at the college with the Centenary staff as instructors. No tuition or fees will be charged and additional equipment, if needed for the courses, will be furnished by the federal government. A deposit for laboratory materials may be required.

The federal appropriation was made to take care of training in engineering, chemistry, physics and production supervision. The trainees will be selected by Centenary on the basis of their qualifications and employability, Dr. Cline said.

The numbers taking the courses will be governed by the existent needs for defense workers. Applicants must be high school graduates and must become of employable age under Louisiana law by the time they complete the course.

McKnight Director

C. R. McKnight, director of the Centenary night school, was named by Dr. Cline to organize the classes. Enrollment applications will be accepted as soon as final plans have been made, probably in 30 days.

Other courses will probably be agreed upon and added by the Baton Rouge conference of the advisory committeemen, Dr. Cline thought.

Centenary was selected after inspection by Dean W. R. Woolrich of the school of engineering, University of Texas, head of the Region 18 advisory committee. He visited the school here, interviewed instructors and inspected the laboratory and then recommended Centenary for inclusion in the program.

Not Regular College Courses

The official notice of approval came from Dean R. A. Seaton, director of defense training for the U. S. Office of Education.

Other schools in Louisiana included are Loyola, Tulane, L.S.U., Louisiana Tech and Southwestern Louisiana Institute. Each school has one regional representative on the advisory committee and that man is held responsible for the work done in his school. Dr. Lowance holds that job for Centenary.

The Chamber of Commerce, the parish defense committee and Representative Overton Brooks were given much of the credit by Dr. Cline in the selection of Centenary. The college did not apply, but was selected.

The courses will be special classes on college level, but will not be regular Centenary courses.

ica and brought back a number of authentic sambas that promise to sweep the country. As Eddy figures it, the samba approximates closest the American two-step but has a few pertinent bounces of certain sections of the anatomy tossed in to give it that south-of-the-border flavor. His waxing of BRAZIL is delightfully warming in moderately fast tempo.

HARRY JAMES—Record Session—Nothin' (Columbia).

James' version of YES, INDEED is being snatched up by record addicts so he goes himself one better with his rendition of NOTHIN' which is a neat riff-raff jive piece and right in the groove. RECORD SESSION is also right out of the hot box, with no vocal presented.

It Is NOT Too Early To Shop!

Christmas is just around the proverbial corner, so be smart and shop now before the corner gets too far behind you. Shop for good and tastefully selected jewelry at our store NOW while stocks are full and complete.

LEONARD'S
320-322 Ward Bldg.
Phone 2-5088

FOOLED 'EM

When pretty Betty Winkler auditioned for her first radio job, she was suffering from laryngitis. This gave her voice a high, squeaky sound which was the type the director had in mind. She was hired for the part. Several days later her normal voice returned but by that time the director had been so impressed by her acting, that he decided to keep her in the role, anyway. Betty is currently heard on CBS in "The Man I Married."

—Patronize Our Advertisers—

CAMPUS CAMERA

We never see Al Curry and Ann Galloway together anymore. Wazza matter, kids?

Don't know whether you'll believe it or not but Judson "Sweat" Kelly was seen with a package of cigarettes the other day.

A certain little freshman, with the name of Rose Marie Hicks, kinda likes Raymond Daugherty.

Evel Hodges doesn't get around

Student Show—

(Continued from Page One)

Newsom. Newcomers to Kapers dramatics are Bill Patton, J. L. Solomon, and C. H. Vandegaer.

A few of the acts have been presented to the public. Last week, several members of the orchestra, C. H. Vandegaer, Sabena, and Dougald Stewart, the Trio, Charlotte Newsom, and Sam Swor were guest artists of Rodessa High School's Minstrels. One of the most popular singers was Cleo Christiansen, who literally wowed her audience, and was called before the mike for a third encore.

Outstanding numbers were Justine Holmes' "Stardust", and blues singer Jean Evans' "St. Louis Blues". Sammy Swor, accompanied by Charlotte Newsom, encored his trumpet solo with the ever-popular "Trees."

The Trio, composed of Cleo Christianson, Justine Holmes, and Jean Evans, appeared as guests at the joint meeting of the Kiwanis Clubs of Shreveport and Bossier City this week.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

like he used to—heard little about him, in fact—but then the less we hear, the better it will be.

Dudley, you're not quite as friendly with your old friends as you were before you were elected Cheer-leader. Better watch it, kid.

"Bubba" Carruth is pinned—wonder what Bette says about it?

Donn "Rabbit" Thompson just will not get wise about Lorraine. Don't let her play you for a chump, Donn—

We see Jean Stiles is around again this year.

For personality deluxe we cast our vote for Dorothy Rose Tucker.

We heard Virginia Friddle say, when Lucille Sanford was serenaded by the Kappa Sigmas, that she wished she had a pin. Keep trying, Friddle. Incidentally, what's this about you and the boy back home? Is it really love?

Jean Clark and Jean Gibson are two cute girls—and they're doing O.K., too.

Buddy "Brew" and Susie have been seen together lots lately. What does that mean, Susie?

Jean Maynard is about the cutest thing on this campus.

Haven't heard much about Gloria Jean Boyce.

Out our way...It's Chesterfield

Out on the range

it's "Howdy pardner, have a Chesterfield"
That's true Western hospitality.

For bringing smokers together, giving them exactly what they want, Chesterfield's RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos is right at the top.

There is more downright pleasure in Chesterfield's COOL MILDNESS and BETTER TASTE than in anything else you ever smoked.

Make your next pack Chesterfield

A World Champion
Rodeo Rider
EDDIE CURTIS

COOLER Milder

Copyright 1941,
LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

WE ALSO CUT HAIR...

but, then, that's a common thing among barbers of today. WE'RE DIFFERENT THOUGH. We specialize in many other things too—facials, shampoos, etc. Drop in and let us fix you all up.

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

Louis Appel, Owner
129 Kings Highway

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....8-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomies Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Fennell, President.....7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 2-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer.....7-2554
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections, or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

THE Centenary Conglomerate

7-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, December 5, 1941.

Number 11

FORECAST

From the very beginning of time it has been woman's prerogative to talk when, where, how, if, and how long she pleased. Hardly a man is now alive who e'er dared deny any of the fair sex the full use of this age-old conception in its most literal interpretation.

Surely no one in his right mind would in any way question the fact that the co-eds of Centenary live up to this age-old conception in its most literal interpretation.

A momentary pause at the SUB some morning would convince the most skeptical adherent of the "modern girl is different" school, that insofar as the ancient art of public, private, and any other type of speaking, the Centenary modern girl can hold her own with the best . . . or the worst, depending upon the way one looks at it.

All this is but leading up to the fact that no action has as yet been taken with respect to the dormitory telephone situation, because something should be done we feel sure nearly all will agree.

When a co-ed finds herself with a telephone in her hand, there is something inherent in her character, probably handed down through several generations of other telephone talkers, at least back to Mrs. A. G. Bell (Alice Fay to you), which causes her to talk—and talk. This is only natural, and with 55 girls living in the residence hall, think of the 54 that have to live all the day, with the exception of the three minutes allotted each, knowing that someone else is enjoying the exquisite pleasure of talking to boy friend, cousin, or aunt, as the case may be. A fate worse than death!

Statistics show that each girl can make but one telephone call every two hours and forty-two minutes, if they adhere to the legal schedule. During the "rush hour" in the evening that does not leave much opportunity for all to use the phone . . . must less for anyone on the outside to phone into the dorm. Such a situation is very discouraging, to say the least, to the young gentlemen of the campus who may desire words with the lights of their respective lives, relative to that alleged engagement they had that evening. Circumstances such as these are certainly not very conducive to romance . . .

(Continued on Page Two)

BAND STARTS CONCERTS

Ending football season with the football players is the band; but not concert season. Monday afternoon a new folio of music greeted the members, including numbers that will appeal to the whole student body. Hoagy Carmichael's Star Dust leads the list with Stars and Stripes Forever following. Ciribiribn, El Matador (Spanish march) His Honor and My Hero (from the Chocolate Soldier) are other familiar tunes found in the folio. Prima Donna, a piece similar to last year's Pavanne, is expected to receive the same ovation at the band's first concert in January.

This Collegiate World

(By Associated Collegiate Press)
Rio Grande (Ohio) College has found a new way to "award" scholarships. Odell Marchington out-scrambled 100 other high school seniors from six counties to recover a $50 scholarship dropped from an airplane at Rio Grande's high school festival.

Sophomore Walter Kane is working his way through Providence College—the easy way. Kane was elected two years ago to the Rhode Island general assembly and this year was re-elected for a second two-year term.

Senate Announces Flag Design Contest

CENTENARY GIRLS RECEIVE RECOGNITION FOR DRESS DESIGNING

Four College Girls Enter Commercial Design Field Within This Last Year

Four smart girls at Centenary College have crashed into the commercial design field, all in one short year! Not only have they received financial remuneration (money to you) for their designs, but they have received the articles and garments themselves, made by a leading manufacturer, bearing a tag with the designer's name.

What greater thrill is there than to see your own fashion design in reality and to feel that what you have created has a market value in manufacturing circles?

These Centenary students of costume design have gained recognition for their fine work. The Campus Original Guild, created a little more than a year ago and sponsored in New York City under the direction of Jack Goehring, has purchased designs from Miss Jimmie Brown, Miss Ethel Cady, Miss June Rolfs, and Miss Ann Burnette.

Honors to Red-Head

Mr. Goehring's "brain child" has established, on college campuses throughout the country, student representatives, who contact young designers, boys and girls with bright ideas and no market, and from them obtains sketches to submit to the Guild. These sketches are sold to manufacturers, the student receiving a check, recognition in the advertisement of the article, and a copy of his creation from the manufacturer who purchased the design. Representative on the Centenary campus is Ann Burnette, senior.

First student designer to be recognized by the Guild for her work was Jimmie. Jimmie, a red-head from Texas, received word last spring that her design for a "savage" necklace had been accepted. Now a junior in college, Jimmie recently sold a second design for costume jewelry, and it appears that Centenary might be the home of a second Martha Sleeper.

In the Big City Ads

June Rolfs and Ethel Cady had their accepted designs featured in the New York Times. These two students—June now a sophomore and Ethel a graduate of the spring 1941 class, were two of six student designers to have sketches of their work used in the college advertisement of the Guild in the New York Times ad.

Ethel's design, accepted last spring, was a short campus coat resembling a fencer's jacket. June's design, which was pictured in the college issue of "Mademoiselle," was a taffeta and jersey dance dress.

A Military Housecoat

The fourth student to have a design accepted was Ann Burnette. Her approved design was for a house coat following the military trend. One of Ann's dress designs received second place in a national contest featured by Mademoiselle magazine last year, and she is a member of its College Board. All these designs are now on the market, featured by outstanding clothing manufacturers.

Now the class in Costume Design, under the direction of Miss Betty Lawrence, is busy on spring and early summer designs.

W. A. Anderson Speaks to Journalism Class

class Monday, December 1. Mr. Anderson, for the Shreveport Journal, gave an address to the journalism class Monday, December 1. Mr. Anderson's talk covered the development of news through the ages and the beginnings of news in the colonies.

TUCKER WAS SCHOLAR

Tommy Tucker is amused when people point out to him that the titles of some of his original songs are ungrammatical. He likes 'em that way, he will tell you as he nervously fingers a Phi Beta Kappa key which he earned at college.

Centenary students taking a course in costume design display some of the work which has brought them recognition in national competition and which they have sold. UPPER LEFT: Miss Betty Lawrence, standing, instructor in art and design, discusses work with (left to right), June Rolfs of New Orleans; Joanna Glassell of Shreveport, and Delena Yancey of Shreveport. UPPER RIGHT: Jimmie Brown, a junior from Beaumont, Texas, works on an evening dress design. LOWER LEFT: Ethel Cady of Shreveport, a graduate of the class of 1941, compares an original design which won a prize in national competition with the finished evening dress as advertised by a New York department store. LOWER RIGHT: Miss Rolfs, left, inspects the advertisement of a Dallas department store offering an evening dress she designed which won a prize in national competition. Miss Ann Burnette, a senior from Shreveport and winner of design awards for two years, displays her entry which is in current competition.

KOLLEGE KAPERS SPEAKS

By Ethel Kramer

When asked about the prospects for the 1942 Kapers season, Doc Morehead, faculty director of the show, said, "It's easier to make bricks out of old straw than new, but new straw mixed with the proper spirit makes pretty good bricks. Speaking as of two months hence we should have a show equal to that of 1941 which was our best."

Beginning this week we will try to give you brief sketches of the principal performers in the cast by interviewing a few every week:

The first person in the cast of Kollege Kapers that we interviewed was Mabel "Biddie" Boddie. I guess you are wondering why we call her Biddie. Well, for the new folks who don't know, it is this way: When Mabel was in high school a teacher was talking to her sister and saw the younger Boddie coming up the hill. He remarked, "Here comes Biddie Boddie," and ever since then people have called Mabel, Biddie.

As far as Kollege Kapers is concerned this petite girl is a veteran. This is her fourth year as a member of the cast. In the music line Biddie prefers waltzes but specializes in those "wake up and live" numbers. She really goes over big with the audiences and is often called back for an encore.

A person who really knows how

(Continued on Page Two)

IT SAYS HERE!

Berkeley, Calif. (ACP).—Boys cause 75 per cent of strife in nursery schools; therefore, if the world wants more peace, it might try putting women in charge of international relations, says Dr. Catherine Landreth, University of California psychologist.

Women by training are slightly more proficient in use of language than men, while the males may be disposed to make up in direct action what they lack in eloquence, she asserts.

Thus, with women at the helm in foreign offices there might be a lot more talking back and forth between nations than there is now, but the chances are that there would be less military action, Dr. Landreth believes.

She bases her conclusions on a scientific test conducted in a nursery school. Boys were responsible in crying incidents three out of every four times.

CHI SIGMA NU LUNCHEON

Chi Sigma Nu, Centenary education fraternity, had a luncheon at the Zeta house Thursday. After the luncheon, they decided upon six new members to be initiated next Tuesday. Those present were Dorothy Durr, Lou Dell Liston, Elise Montgomery, Myrian Holloway, Edgar Burks, Margaret Gillespie, Frances Kizer, Lillian Gibson, Martha Hamner, Ethel Kramer, Miss Broadwell, Mr. Tatum, Dr. Middlebrooks, and Dr. Strauss.

OFFICIAL FLAG FOR SCHOOL IS OFTEN NEEDED

To Be Used on Special Occasions; Prize Offered for Winning Design

Centenary has no official flag. To remedy this situation the Student Senate has announced a contest, open to the entire student body, in which a prize will be awarded for the best design submitted of a flag to be used as the official standard for the students of Centenary.

Such a flag is needed very much. It would be hung in the chapel when guest speakers address the assembly, and many other occasions constantly arise at which time a Centenary flag would be quite appropriate.

The prize is a plaque with a circular disc on the front, around which are written the words, Centenary College. Across the center of the disc is the word Gents.

This plaque was given to the Conglomerate by Leonard's. The Conglomerate, in turn, seeing the desirability for a Centenary flag, offered it as a prize to be given to the student turning in the best design in the contest.

The cooperation of all the students is needed if we are to get the best possible flag. Previous experience in the designing field is by no means a necessity, because in all probability no student on the campus has ever had occasion to attempt a flag design before.

Judges for the contest will be Miss Betty Lawrence, Mr. Don Brown, Mr. Alvin Voran, Ann Burnette, and Ann Thibodeaux. Decision of these judges will be final.

All designs must be submitted to one of the judges by January 12, 1942.

The Student Senate will take the winning design and have it made into a flag, which will be used upon all possible occasions.

So, everybody try and turn in a design of some type. Who knows, you may be the winner!

I. S. S. Opens Bureau In Washington to Aid Study of Government

Establishment of a Washington Student Service Bureau to aid college students in studying the operations of the federal government, was announced by Joseph P. Lash, general secretary of the International Student Service. Molly Yard, formerly of National Youth Administration, is head of the bureau.

In outlining the purposes of the bureau, Lash said: "The need for first-hand observation as a means to implement and bring alive knowledge acquired in the classroom has been recognized by students and teachers. Teachers have encouraged their students to make trips to Washington. Thousands have come every year alone or in groups hoping to obtain a close view of government in action. For most of them, this hope has not been fulfilled, as they did not know what resources were available and no agency existed to help them discover and use all the possibilities for a deeper understanding of what the capital of this democracy symbolizes. Hence, the establishment of our Washington Bureau."

The bureau will assist with field trip, visits to departments and agencies; furnish information concerning national government, conduct conferences on topics of political, social and economic interest.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representatives
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO • BOSTON • SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES • PORTLAND • SEATTLE

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Betty Gordon Smith, Ellen Eastham, Hutch Phillips, Jack Keenan, Eleanor Brown, Dudley Beene, Gloria Brown, Jake Cullick, Mary Foster Peyton, Emily Prothro, J. L. Solomon, and Arthur Shuey

BAND CONCLUDES SUCCESSFUL MARCING SEASON

Hats are off to the Centenary band, its drum major, and its able director for a successful marching season. Throughout the year at every home game and one out of town engagement the band has come through every time with a novel marching arrangement for the half. Each exhibition showed precision which could only have been attained by many long hours of practice. With such excellent performances the band has proved itself this year a worthy representative of a school which has every reason to be proud of such an organization.

To Mr. Billy Causey, director, goes much of the credit for the fine showings made this year by the band in their many public appearances. In his first year as head of the organization he has proved his ability by building a musical group comparable to any former Centenary bands of recent years. He has also become one of the most popular personalities to join the faculty in the last few years.

The Maroon Jackets should also receive a word of commendation, because they did lend a bit of color to the band, and in fact marched quite creditably throughout the year.

Finally we compliment Robert Pugh, drum major, for a job well done in leading the marchers through their intricate formations.

So, congratulations to you all. By the cooperation of the many factors involved you have completed the year with a record of which you can be justly proud.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

The most outstanding biological attraction of the week is the switching of one CLEO CHRISTIANSEN from egging on members of the Kapers cast to various athletes. And that cute little MARY EARLE TEXADA has been turned down by her regulars because—alas, she's in love with a trumpet. We always maintained that love and strong lips go together like peaches and cream.

What's happened to the Little Rock spark that not so long ago with quite a flame? We don't believe she settled down on purpose but on account—on account of she COULDN'T BURN her candles at both ends and the middle too. (Subtle, don't you think?)

And, oh yes, lest we forget—only last week FRANK (Teddy) COOK—the gerat lover—put his pin on EMILY ANN CONNELL. Now this isn't bad because we were familiar with the situation: it had just been returned by PATSY COFFEE, who at the last minute changed her mind and decided she could perhaps get more out of WALKER. Not to vary from the story, the pin of our DON FRANK is now fastened to the dress (fooled you) of one MISS DOROTHY TUCKER who accepted the pin upon the condition that she wouldn't have to go steady. If that pin could talk!...

And LIL TURNER, our representative to the "girl sweats," made her regular journey to the Crescent City to see a football game. She played left guard and SPURLOCK played opposite her. If you think Tulane got penalized for holding, it was nothing to what went on there. Now is that the way a nice girl should try and satisfy a boy friend and lover by the name of JOE from the old home town?

Why can't a blonde like her find someone closer? We'll admit she's not beautiful—she's cute; well, anyway, she's sweet; pardon me—she's lots of fun—o.k., you win—she has got a car.

Boy, has BROWN changed! Us old-timers can remember when she went out of her way to be a little nice. Now all she does is go out of her way to be a little MICE—more commonly called rat. Where in previous years she had numerous friends and no doubtfuls at all, so far this year her attitude has caused numerous doubtfuls and few true friends. We know she has it because we've seen it before. Maybe it's the company she doesn't keep.

Who cares if BYMIE CARLETON GRAFF is a former dirt column writer? We think he is one nice guy. Too bad he won't give the freshmen girls a break, because we believe this is the first year he hasn't! Come on, Graff.

A vote, and ours isn't the only one, for BILL CAUSEY, band director, as one of the profs who can take it, is unanimous among the music students and all the rest of us who know him. Hear he proved how well he could take it in the band special coming back from the Tech game.

Hey, you fellas—don't be hanging around Colonial Hall so much during the cat session hour. Understand CAMP and some of his buddies were embarrassed last Monday night. Maybe LIL and LUCILLE could tell you more than we could.

FIFI GIBSON just said she had quit smoking. Oh, yeah? Good tale, S. L., but we don't believe it! You can relax and feel relieved,

Chemical Analysis of a Woman:

Symbol—W.O.E.
Atomic weight—120 lbs. (varies from meal to meal).

Occurrence:

1. Can be found wherever man exists.
2. Seldom occurs in free and natural state.
3. Boils at nothing and freezes at any point.
4. Melts when properly heated.
5. Very bitter if not used properly.

Chemical Properties:

1. Extremely active in presence of men.
2. Great affinity for gold, silver and other precious metals and stones.
3. Able to absorb expensive food at any time.
4. Not soluble in liquids, but activity is greatly increased when saturated with a spirit solution.
5. Sometimes yields to pressure.
6. Turns green when displaced by a better specimen.
7. Ages rapidly—the fresher variety has a greater attraction.
8. Highly dangerous and explosive in inexperienced hands.

—The Toreador.

Editor's Lament

Getting out this paper is no joke. If I print jokes people say I'm silly. If I don't they say I'm too serious. If I clip things from other papers I am too lazy to write myself; If I don't I am stuck with my own stuff. If I don't print all contributions, I don't appreciate true genius; If I do print them, the paper is filled with junk. If I make a change in the other fellow's write-up, I am critical. Now like as not some guy will say I swiped this from some other paper. I did!

—The State Press.

KOLLEGE KAPERS

(Continued from Page One)
to "trip the light fantastic" is our tap dancer, Rosemary Neal. She taught the specialty number which opened the show last year and is helping teach a waltz to bring up the curtain of this year's show.

When I asked Rosemary if that was all she added, "You might say, 'I am free on Monday's Wednesdays, and Fridays and my 'phone number is 2-2405.'" (I bet she didn't think I would print that.)

Gladys Tippet is back again with Kapers after an absence of a year. Probably many of you juniors and seniors remember Gladys in her freshman year for her haunting rendition of "Melancholy Moon," but Tip has turned sentimental on us with such soft ballads as "This Love of Mine," "Do You Care?," and "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire." I am sure she will bring the house down again with her slow, sweet music.

You Tippet fans might look for a great surprise when Gladys makes her entrance in the Kapers play—something different, she says.

"I am glad to be back with the Kapers gang again and I am looking forward to a big year," said Gladys as she bid us adios.

Our problem of power will be settled when we find a way to harness the energy that consumes the chewing gum output.

ROBERTSON, because we have not forgotten you. Last year you were such a cold-blooded animal. Undoubtedly you returned this year with a more or less warmer heart—mostly more. 'Tis true, yes; 'tis true. There are LINDSEY and RALEY. Now she enjoys parking with LINDSEY, but LINDSEY fluffs her off so consistently that she is afraid to let RALEY off the straight and narrow path lest she be left in the Colonial Hall Penal Colony on Saturday nights.

Be good, children. Us Owls have a thousand eyes and see all.

CLUB NEWS

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club held a short monthly meeting on Wednesday night at 7 o'clock in the Student Union Building. Vice-President Al Richardson presided at this meeting and new members were recognized. To complete the evening, Spanish songs were sung accompanied by C. H. Vandegaer and his guitar. 41 members attended.

French Club

The French Club met at Clint Teacle's home last Friday night in what was one of its most enjoyable sessions. President Claude Blackburn introduced one of the most interesting speakers Centenary has ever had, Mrs. Simian of Santiago, Chile. Last month this charming young lady discussed Pan-American affairs with the Spanish Club. After the meeting refreshment ere served to those present.

Psychology Club

The regular meeting of the Psychology Club took place last night at the Kappa Sigma Fraternity house with prexy Dudley Beene presiding. The forward movement of the club was discussed at length.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

"Most of us waste from one-third to one-half of all the time we spend reading. Reading clinics at aDrmtmouth and other institutions are proving that 99 out of 100 of us could streamline our reading ability by devoting 10 or 15 minutes daily for a month to simple, stimulating exercises. The average adult reads about 250 words a minute. After a brief period of self-training, he should be able to read between 400 and 600 words a minute. The fundamental rule for increasing reading speed is simply this: For five minutes every day for a month, force yourself to read a little faster than is comfortable. Don't worry if occasionally you miss the exact meaning of a phrase, sentence or even a paragraph. Just keep plowing ahead, grasping the main theme and letting the niceties of expression go hand. It's a good idea to keep a record of how many words you cover during five-minute sessions each day. To simplify the word count, just figure the average number of words to a line and multiply by the number of lines you have read."—Robert M. Bear, director of Dartmouth College Reading Clinic, urges abolition of wasted effort in reading.

FORECAST

(Continued from Page One)
and after all, what did the majority of young ladies come to college for? ... an education?

So we still must advocate the installation of at least one more telephone, or reasonable facsimile, in the girls' dormitory. It is not fair to expect 55 young ladies all to try to use one means of outside communication.

KOLONIAL
KITTY
AT OR DORM
AMES
ISH
IRT

Just walked down the hall and dropped in room 214 for our regular mid-night bull session. Ah-ha! You don't know what you have missed until you have been allowed to sit in on one of these Colonial Cat Sessions.

As I entered the door, Lil Turner, prissing before the mirror, her mouth an arsenal of bobby pins, was blushing over her new title "Dimples." And Betty Gordon Smith serenaded Lil with "Pennies from Heaven"—Say, here is "1. Unquote for that Santa Claus list for Betty Gordon: She wants a blue-eyed blonde curly-haired doll for Christmas. At least that is what she just finished telling us.

Enter Margaret Owens with 3 packs of Camels, a doz. cokes, and 3 boxes of cookies so that she won't have to leave and miss something. Uh-oh! Coburn is chattering along at 250 words per second, an all-time dorm record. Door opens—Fiddle and her dreams about that home-town man breeze in for a word or so. And J. Brown lugging "Bodurachas," her teddy bear, followed immediately by Cile Miller looking like a leper (only it is just calomine lotion). "Imo" Atkins, attracted by the noise, stumbles in with her kerosene lamp.

Strolled on down the hall and passed Annabelle Smith, visiting from the cottage with that dazzling Sigma Chi—pin. Noticed Georgia Ella Till and Pauline Lamb gossiping over Arkansas. Nan Banks missed our session, because she went to bed early. Wish her cute clothes fit us! And do we envy "Red" Sanford and her Swiss jacket. We must wear it to Mr. Schule's classes. Here's Margaret with another coke. Good gal!

Truthfully, you fellas who were lucky enough to be mentioned were: Sully (boy, that was good!), Solly, Junior Davis, Bobby Lindsay, Graham, Dudley "Honest (?) Judge" "Lovin'" Beene, Walter Heard, and Campaign Vollmer.

During the lull in conversation, Flournoy, Slink Mink, and Keenan were mentioned ... then we cussed and discussed Comegys, Phil Clifton, Harper, Albert Johnson, Patton, Chief, Angel, Donn, Bob Ra-ley, Leroy Kirby, Roy Lyons, and Johnny-Joe-Dan-Larry Willis-Sum-rall.

We see Patsy Coffey dazing around the hall worrying about all the men. Runs in the family—look at Norm Robertson! Gano, the girl with the beautiful legs, ambles in with a proctor's warning. During the lights out, Lu Cory proves invaluable with her new sparkler. And there are the Jeans—Stiles and that one at LSU, and the Hilliard-Arthur combination.

Familiar noises: Alarms jangling, bells ringing, Mrs. Cox's doll with its plaintive squeak, tinkling of keys at that dreaded hour, Betty Gordon stepping on her roommate's cigarettes, coke bottles roll-in, Lunny and her witty conversation.

Familiar Quotes (and Unquotes):

"Can I wear your blue skirt, Lil? I want a date with that handsome little Shuey. He's ordered a KA pin." ... "Who has change for a dime?" ... "Censored" ... "Telephone or date—I wish!" ... "Next!" ... "Look in Box 52" ... "Who's down at the Sub?—that is interesting?" ... "Turn off that light!" ... "Tell those people in the tents to move off the parking lot." ... "Who called me?" ... et cetera, ad infinitum, ad nauseum.

Of course, we aren't bragging, and we don't want to make you feel bad, but all of us smarties in the dorm made straight "A's"—shining example: Owens' long-suffering room-mate, Helen Bartlett. Shure nuff!

Wish we could tell more, but the rest is censored—but definitely! YOUR KOLONIAL KITTY-KAT!

Please patronize our advertisers.

"You can get it"

at

LEMAN'S

Ark-La-Tex's Largest,
Finest and Most Complete Line of

CHRISTMAS CARDS

408 Milam

Phone 6376

Centenary Basketball Season Opens Next Week

TEXAS A. & M. GAME TO HIGHLIGHT YEAR'S CAGE CARD

Gent Squad Opens Here Against Magnolia A&M Next Friday Night; Point for Crown

By Luther Hardin

Centenary has booked several pre-conference games. The one which will attract the most attention is the one with Texas A. & M. to be played here on the night of December 19.

The season will officially be opened by the Gents in a game with Magnolia A. & M. at Magnolia, Arkansas, Thursday, December 11. The following night the same two teams will play here in the first local season game.

The usual northern barnstorming trip was not scheduled this year, so that Coach Elmer Smith could work with his men in pointing for the conference crown.

The first conference game will be played with Louisiana College here.

Since the football season has ended, Maurice Odom, Jack Nash and Raymond Daugherty have joined the squad. These men are much-needed additions to the team.

Returning lettermen are Alex Penny, forward who scored 155 points last year; Melbourne "Moe" Crawford, guard, and Ed Hoynoski, center.

Three of the frosh players of last year are slated for action. These are: Gordon "Yankee" Brown, forward, who was high scorer last year; "Bo" Whitten, center, and "Jud" Thornton, guard.

Returning to the basketball team after a two-year layout is Alvin "Shorty" Martin. Martin's height of six feet, seven inches is expected to be of great advantage to the team.

FOOTBALL REVIEW

Football season has been here and gone and we can breathe easier now that we can relax after having been sent up because we might win a game. Perhaps we might consider ourselves lucky that we came out with two ties instead of losing all the games after playing a far superior schedule, with a small squad of mighty good boys but not particularly good football players.

However, after closing a grueling 10-game lineup the Gents are to be commended upon their sincere efforts. We are and shall be supporting them—win or lose. How can an undermanned football team represent successfully a school of 600 against such teams as Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons, Rice, and T.C.U.? Two of these teams were rated highly enough to be selected for Bowl competition on New Year's day. It just can't be done.

The attempt by the newly formed 1200 Club to re-establish major football at Centenary is a plan of Jake Hanna's and he is being backed by the most prominent business men in Shreveport. The membership has now attained the figure of 400; still we must remember that the first 300 are the easiest. So judging from the number of members and the time left to secure them the situation looks to be a little on the dark side. All social clubs could help by joining the organization which is a last desperate attempt to have the team, school, and the coaches.

The players did their best and although the season was far from successful, they should be commended because although always underdogs, each played his best for Centenary.

CAMPUS CAMERA

The annual pinning fever came early this year due to the wonderful spring weather we have been having in November. No doubt you know a young man's fancy turns—or his frat pin goes—

Thanksgiving was strictly a happy week-end for MARGARET GILLESPIE who is now wearing the frat pin of JERE HUDSON.

On the subject of romances, ZILLA LOU CORY left school Monday to spend her last single days with her family before becoming MRS. BEVERLY COVINGTON.

That VIOSCA gal is strictly got the beauty but I wonder if anybody has ever told her that personality as well as beauty makes up a girl.

No. 1 nominee for super campus sweat—BEVEL HODGES.

RAYMOND DAUGHERTY seemed to be the grandstand attention at the Tech game—JEAN STILES was there understand, everybody?

This year's heartbreaker is MARTHA STEVENS; just ask RAY LYONS, FOSTER HAMNER, etc.

Why haven't we heard anything of BETTY GORDON SMITH this year—she's a sweet gal, too!

Vivacious, pretty, sweet and strictly a campus cutie—LUCILLE WEBB.

A hint to the wise—ARTHUR HEROLD, if you weren't so sarcastic you'd be better liked.

BOB PUGH, be sure and use a phone directory next time you phone a gal.

Has anyone ever told CARLEY FOX and CARLTON GRAFTS how they look with those moustaches? Somebody please, for our sake.

What is this about COTTON ROBBINS and JEANETTE CRABER?

We keep wondering when, where, and with whom BRUCE

CBS Covers Garden Basketball Season

Mel Allen again covers the major college basketball games from Madison Square Garden this season for Columbia network listeners, WABC-CBS, 10:00 to 10:15 p.m., C.S.T.

Colleges whose games are covered in this series are N.Y.U., Syracuse, St. John's, Oklahoma, Notre Dame, Creighton, Colgate, Westminster, Toledo, Colorado and the University of Washington. Allen also covers the national invitation basketball tournament in the Garden after the regular season ends Monday, March 9.

That girls will talk has been proved time after time, and is set forth graphically in the classic reply, which has almost become legendary in campus annals, of the college youth when asked if he had ever kissed a girl in a quiet spot. "Yes," he replied, "but it was only quiet while I was kissing it."

WILLIAMS is going to settle down. First, ROB, then JOANNA, then JIMMYE; well, we're still waiting for him to quit sweating and settle down.

TOM GRIFFITH has a new nickname. Everybody calls him HANDSOME, and watch his coloring change to a brilliant red.

DICK NORTON doesn't seem to be as much of a Casanova as he was last year. What's the matter, DICK?—did she get married on you?

BETTE SMITH should be added to that list of "has-beens." We certainly haven't heard much of her this year.

Flash!!! Two of our campus de-liveries are leaving school at mid-term to join the ranks of married women. We lose these two to the air corps, naturally. They are JO GLASSELL and ROSEMARY EL-LIS.

Just want to mention before we close that GLENNY HARMON and TYLER PIRTLE are this week's nomination for the ideal couple.

Ted Husing Picks '41 Honor 'All-Radio, All-American' Grid Team

Ted Husing, CBS sports expert has just announced his 1941 "All-Radio, All-American" football team. Husing's team, which he selected with the assistance of Jimmy Dolan, is composed of players he has watched while broadcasting a major game each Saturday during the past season.

The lineup follows: LE, Kelly Simpson, SMU; LT, Al Wistert, Mich.; LG, Fritz Howard, Ohio State; C, Bob Ingalls, Mich.; RG, Bernie Crimmins, Notre Dame; RT, Bill Chewing, Navy; RE, John Kovatch, Notre Dame; QB, Bill Garnass, Minn.; LHB, Hank Mazur, Army; RHB, Bill Geyer, Colgate; FB, Bob Westfall, Mich.

In announcing his 1941 honor team, Husing pointed out that he did not offer the eleven as the best All-American that could be selected. Instead, he emphasized that he had seen in action every player he picked this season.

"I did not depend on newspaper clippings," the CBS reporter added, "nor did I rely on what someone else told me. I saw every one of the players in action myself. On the days I saw them, the eleven players I picked played their respective positions best of all the hundreds of gridmen I watched this fall."

Centenary's Schedule

December 11	Magnolia A&M at Magnolia
December 12	Magnolia A&M HERE
December 17	Loyola HERE
December 19	Texas A&M HERE
January 7	Louisiana College HERE
January 9	Louisiana Tech at Ruston
January 17	Louisiana Normal HERE
January 20	Louisiana Tech HERE
January 23	La. Normal at Natchitoches
January 28	Loyola at New Orleans
January 29	Southeastern at Hammond
January 30	Southwestern at Lafayette
February 3	Louisiana Normal HERE
February 6	Louisiana Tech HERE
February 10	Southeastern HERE
February 12	La. College at Pineville
February 17	La. Tech at Ruston
February 18	Southwestern HERE
February 20	La. Normal at Natchitoches

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

By Sullivan

We wish to pay a lasting tribute to the most gallant of Gentlemen.

From the time he set foot on the campus he displayed a modest capacity for leadership that was swiftly perceived by his fellows.

The time to take care of your hair is while you have it.

For intelligent and beneficial service on hair-grooming—

CAMERON BROS.
BARBER SHOP
307 Milam St.

His attitude resulted in the whole-hearted approval of the student body, and his earnest effort to carry out all assignments given him, on and off the athletic field, made him an example for others to copy. Not always the "sober" character his appearance might indicate, he is fun-loving and quick to appreciate a timely joke, even on himself.

We refer, as the reader has doubtless guessed, to Claud Teel. As vice-president of the student body, he was for the students 100 per cent, and the students knew. The difficult task always confronting an undergraduate official—that of pleasing his school mates and the faculty simultaneously—he managed well.

Add to that the responsibility of playing football and going through the arduous training grind week after week, coupled with performing against favored elevens Saturday after Saturday, and you have an idea of what double duty is. Evidence of how well he succeeded is the fact that his fellow athletes, who know him best, elevated him to the presidency of the "C" Club, time-honored organization for Centenary lettermen.

These paens of praise will doubtless embarrass "Ironhead." But his friends (and they are legion) will know they are well-deserved.

CHAIN CLARINET-USER

Clarinets are Benny Goodman's stock well balanced. Playing for many hours every night, he rotates his instruments to be assured of perfect working equipment at all times.

Advertising revenue is the chief revenue of this paper; kindly patronize those who help us.

For RECORDS

and Portable Phonographs

See

J & S MUSIC CO.
608 Milam

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

For more than just a Haircut we recommend

CENTENARY
BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.

L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

FOR BETTER SCHOOL WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC
MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

SHOP FOR THIS CHRISTMAS NOW!

FOR HIM

Elgins,
Hamiltons
Wallets,
Ronson Lighters
Leather Sets
Buckles
Stretchy Bands

Give jewelry from the finest lines in this country as shown in our stock this season. We specialize in Nationally Advertised brands. For gifts of value and quality, for him, for her and even for the little tots in jewelry see our stock.

LEONARD'S

320-322 Ward Bldg.

Phone 2-5088

FOR HER

Elgins,
Hamiltons
Compacts
Rings
Bracelets
Silverware
Nick-nacks

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

Before I heard the doctors tell
The dangers of a kiss,
I had considered kissing you
The nearest thing to bliss.
But now I know biology
And sit and sigh and moan;
Six million mad bacteria
And I thought we were alone.
—H-SU Brand.

We don't have a red-hot scoop for you today . . . as a matter of fact, we don't have much of anything. To begin with we'll quote the Hardin-Simmons Brand of about a month ago:

"An appeal for the lifting of the ban on courting within campus limits of Texas Tech in Lubbock was published in the Toreador, weekly newspaper, after a couple parked in an automobile on the outskirts of the city were attacked, though not seriously injured, by a negro assailant last week.

"The Toreador maintains that 'supervised' parking is needed, to be conducted under the protection and supervision of campus night-watchmen, because, says the writer, 'human nature cannot be legislated against. Students are going to park and talk, or smoke and court.'"

And here at Centenary we argue about a little thing like having our dances on the campus . . . much less having "supervised parking."

Two former Centenary students now attending Texas U., namely Helen Heath and George Hearne, beamed into town last week-end. The beaming of course was a result of the recent 23-0 episode with the Aggies.

By the way, all of you should enter the flag design contest. That is one thing that we have been needing for a long time here at Centenary. A Centenary banner would lend much to formal programs in the chapel. In order to get the finest flag possible everyone must submit a design of some type . . . and there's always the prize. Moreover, it would really be quite an honor to have designed the official Centenary banner which will probably be used for some time to come.

Marguerite Haggard tells about a certain cow that drank some purple ink and mood indigo.

We guess you heard about the student who smoked so many Camels his nerves got so steady he couldn't move.

Overheard: "Never mind the expense! Give the canary another seed."

The reason you don't hear any more Audrey jokes is because she went into the kitchen and the Kelvinator.

There was an old lady named Carr,

Who would take the 3.3 to Forfar;

"For," said she, "I believe

That the 3.3 will leave

Before the 4.4 for Forfar."

All money and no play makes jack.

Patronize Our Advertisers—

Tough Fight

Famous Drummer Gene Krupa, above, takes his ease after a terrific bout with the tympani. Doctors say Krupa uses up as much energy in a one-night appearance as the average baseball pitcher does in two games on the mound. He loses weight after each performance, sometimes as much as three pounds. He has to eat like a farm hand to maintain his weight of 142 pounds. He has ruined so many suits with perspiration that he has lost count. Now he has a wardrobe of 30 suits, all specially waterproofed.

The tempestuous, dark-haired drummer who broke away from the famous Benny Goodman quartet to start his own organization, is riding high these days with a raucous musical aggregation that has raised more roofs than a typhoon. The especial idol of the younger set, Gene dishes out just about the most exciting brand of 'jive' this side of Harlem.

Since Mr. Krupa's dearest ambition is to play the drums in a symphony orchestra, he drills two or three hours daily on a rubber pad. He wears out two pads a month, so intensive is his practice.

When Gene sits high above his orchestra, surrounded by a bass drum, a snare drum, two tom-toms, six cymbals and a cow bell, you'd think he was on top of the world. And this is literally true when he is playing.

In addition to his daily practice, Gene works an additional hour on the piano. The piano is important to Gene because it develops the suppleness of his left hand, which has always been a source of concern to him, since he's right-handed. He purposely opens doors with his left hand, holds a fork in his left hand, and has even learned to write left-handed.

FASHION

Christmas will soon be with us—that we know because Texas Street is being decorated with strings of lights and green firs, window-decorators are sprinkling the dummies with artificial snow and placing green and red ribbon-tied packages all about the store counters—so we thought this column should be no more individual than the 'gillionth and more' in various magazines and newspapers that are devoting their space to "Yuletide advertised pretties." This week we plan to help the Gentlemen!!!

And we proceed to tell the ladies of Centenary campus, the co-eds too (doesn't that sound like Little Shuey?), there are useful gifts other than handkerchiefs and bright gifts other than ties.

For instance, supposin' your man happens to be a big hunter (Wild Game, of course). Why not purchase a canvas maintenance kit rigged with all those interesting gadgets he'll use when stalking deer (if one stalks deer) or waits in the morning mist for a certain duck to wing by? Incidentally, such kits can be bought for fishermen, too.

Flier??? Supposin' you can not afford a steel-cased, shockproof, waterproof, non-magnetic wrist watch, there are plenty swell oversized mufflers, zippered jackets, and a swell pocket license case with room for his pilot's and driver's licenses. Then, when Christmas is over, you can borrow the muffler and forget to return it, or use the jacket when you go on a barbecue to keep from ruining your new one.

Maybe he was drafted??? Tsk! tsk! Well, even Joe Palooka and Snuffy Smith are in the Army now. This time you have a chance to be the light of his life by giving a plastic, unbreakable, waterproof flashlight! Not the most romantic of gifts, but it will keep him out of the dark! (Isn't that awful? Confidentially, we've been around the Editor too much.) Or maybe he doesn't write often enough, so you can purchase one of those tricky leather-bound writing kits of twill that contains everything but stamps. If you can't afford that, send him the stamps; the price of paper is supposedly mounting the shekel-ladder anyhow.

Smoker??? Then try one of those cigaret lighters with the little shield that keeps fired in the strongest of gales. (Now, the time has come to pun: "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire.")

Gosh, gals, the stores are full of all sorts of gifts. 'Sides, it is fun to root through a "man's world." Just take this bit of advice, which is not verbally from the mouth of the men, but was offered when we questioned the sort of Christmas gift they wished, DON'T buy gifts emblazoned with gaudy service colors and insignias! That gives the boys the red, white and blue blues. (This—courtesy Canon and Clay.)

DON'T buy impossible ties that would look best draped across your new hat. And DON'T get in a rut about your Christmas shopping! Be an individualist, and buy something different.

P. S.: When spending your Christmas pennies, please remember the Tuberculosis seals, and use them on all your Yuletide letters!

JOAKS and STUPH

Old Lady at Colonial Hall: "Young lady, what makes your hair so red?"

Lucile Sanford: "Oh, I just washed it one day and forgot to dry it and it rusted."

Pass the lump sugar, please.
We haven't got lump sugar. Here's the granulated, and if you don't like it you can lump it.

How did you like my singing this morning?

Your singing gets worse every day, and today you sang like the day after tomorrow.

Pa, what is a Board of Education?

When I went to school, son, it was a pine shingle?

Sergeant: Did you have this morning, Jones?

Plebe: Yes, Sergeant.

Sergeant: Well, next time stand a bit closer to the razor.

Why not let the army of unemployed fill the job of cutting prices?

Bryan says "wealth is a disease" but does not say how to get it.

Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

REX Phone 7-7631
Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included
FRIDAY and SATURDAY, Dec. 5-6
"NAVY BLUE AND GOLD"
James Stewart, Robert Young
Lionel Barrymore
Disney Cartoon—Serial
SUN., MON., and TUES., Dec. 7-8-9
"CHARLIE'S AUNT"
Jack Benny - Kay Francis
First-run News—Our Gang Comedy
WED. and THURS., Dec. 10-11
"SHINING VICTORY"
James Stephenson - G. Fitzgerald
News—Color Cartoon

Gifts distinctive and outstanding for every one you know will be found awaiting your inspection at Hearne's

The HEARNE
DRY GOODS CO. LTD.

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE
President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....	7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....	7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....	7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....	7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....	7-7210
HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS
Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....	2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....	7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....	7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....	7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....	7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....	7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....	7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....	7-9358
DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS
Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....	7-2217
Cenhomec Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....	7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....	2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Pinnell, President.....	7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....	7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalee Webb, President.....	7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....	7-3744
Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....	7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader	2-3888
SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS
Fraternalities:
Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....	7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....	7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....	7-4219
Carl Vollmer, President.....	7-2554
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....	7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....	7-6571
Sororities:
Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....	7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....	2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....	7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....	7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....	7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....	7-3407
Cenecoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....	7-7395
Non-Greek, Women:
Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....	7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

HEP KAT SEZ

Victor and Columbia offer interesting albums to the lover of Latin-American music. Tone poems to Aztec gods, dances, flowers, and love are particularly fascinating. Outstanding artists have recorded for posterity the sounds of copies or actual Aztec instruments, recovered by archaeologists in various Latin-American countries. Good buys for one's record library. And, should you doubt that music of Brazil, Mexico, and Cuba has swept our United States, just listen to the juke boxes, Doc's new Kapers trio warble "Perfida," or even the request program. See if you don't think that "Amapola," "Green Eyes," "Duerme," and others did not originate at points south of the border. Some of the best recordings are by Xavier Cugat and orchestra, and fiery Carmen Miranda.

DOROTHY MCGUIRE
... popular star of John Golden's hit play "Claudia," says Merry Christmas to her many friends with the cigarette that Satisfies.

for Tom, Dick & Harry
It's Chesterfield

... it's his cigarette and mine

This year they're saying Merry Christmas with Chesterfields.

For your friends in the Service
And for the folks at home
What better Christmas present
Than these beautiful gift cartons
Of 10 packs, 3 packs, or 4 tins of 50.

Nothing else you can buy
Will give more pleasure for the money.

Buy Chesterfields
For your family and friends
Beautifully packed for Christmas.

Milder Better-Tasting
... that's why
They Satisfy

Copyright 1941, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

7-251

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, December 12, 1941.

Number 12

FORECAST

SEVERAL WEEKS AGO in this city there was organized a group of Shreveport professional and business men, who call themselves the "1200 Club." Primarily and ostensibly, their purpose is to put Centenary athletics back on a respectable, solid financial basis. In doing this, they propose to enlist the aid of all interested North Louisiana and Ark-La-Tex citizens.

HOWEVER, a membership campaign for this club came to a jarring, damaging halt after the recent action taken by the Louisiana Methodist Conference, with which each reader is no doubt thoroughly familiar. In a meeting last Monday night, the board of governors of the 1200 Club voted to leave the question of the continuance of dancing, athletics, the college itself up to the college Board of Trustees, and their action in their meeting this week. They even went so far as to threaten to disband their club if the action of the Board proved negative.

PRIMARILY, as we said, the interest of these men is in the athletic program. But their interest in other sides of the school program is just as keen. They are interested in Centenary as a whole; they want to see the school grow and prosper, even in the face of war, or any other obstacle. The 1200 Club should not be allowed to die, no matter what takes place. The idea behind it is worthy of a long life—to enlist the citizenry of this area again in behalf of the college and its program—to get again the backing, which has been gradually sliding away for the last decade. The reasons for this loss of support, while fairly obvious, are relatively unimportant at this time. In our case, too, it is time for "action, not words."

THE 1200 CLUB, as such, deserves the prompt, enthusiastic, complete, and lasting support of each Centenary faculty member and student. These very men may be the ones who will turn the tide, and start things back toward the goal set for the college fifteen years ago, and further away now than then. Students of Centenary have been particularly apathetic about their college, according to outsiders. They have talked a lot, fumed a lot, made a lot of noise, but in reality done very little to help themselves and the college in this, its worst crisis. They can remedy this very effectively by pledging their support to such a group as the 1200 Club has started out to be—and by sticking to their pledge. Your interest in the college as a student therein certainly should be much greater than that of those business men whose support comes from a civic standpoint. Your money may not be available—but someone you know does have the necessary $12.00 to join—and you are failing in your obligation to your college if you fail to get that person to join. Don't wait for someone else to start it! Do it now!

FINALLY, the talk of disbanding the 1200 Club should be stopped at once, with forceful "persuasion" if necessary. The idea is too good to die such an early death. Again, you as students, and as faculty members, can and should exert your efforts in that direction. In all the confusion and uncertainty of national affairs, we must continue to be on the alert at home. We must not allow this citadel of liberty, learning, and light—our college—to be listed among the casualties of today.

3 Reasons for Buying U. S. Defense Bonds: Germany, Italy, Japan

CENTENARY MEN ENLIST IN COAST GUARD MONDAY

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal

Several Centenary students were to be found in the general rush to the recruiting offices following the Japanese attack. Pictured above are a few members of the 1941 football squad, who signed up with the Coast Guard for the duration last Monday. They are shown in the recruiting office immediately after their enlistment. Left to right they are: Chief Johnson, fullback; Chief Boatswain's Mate Anderson; Jelly Whitehurst, guard; Jim Heath, tackle; John Allums, guard, and E. V. Ball, Yeoman Second Class.

Joe Stephens' First Prize Peace Oration Selected For Honor

Church Council Chooses Eleven Orations To Be Used In Its Annual Peace Contests

Joe Stephens, first prize-winner in last year's oratory contest, was honored recently when his oration on "World Peace" was one of 11 first-prize orations selected by the Ohio Council of Churches to be used in the Council's annual Peace Declamation contests. A booklet containing all eleven of the speeches has been published by the Council.

The oratory contests conducted each year are part of the program of the Intercollegiate Peace Association. John Woods was the winner of the first prize in the contest year before last.

Due to the state of war which exists at present the Association has decided that no peace oration contests will be held this year.

Gum Chewing Comes Into Its Own Here as Dispensers Provided

That old bugaboo of the school teacher has at long last come into its own; at least on the Centenary campus. Everyone has undoubtedly noticed the many gum dispensers that have been installed at strategic spots throughout the buildings on the campus. Obviously, everyone has also taken instant advantage of the convenience.

As a matter of fact, the little glass dispensers have received semi-official recognition from no less a personage than Dean Campbell herself, who has done her part to "help the cause" of the underprivileged children. Several witnesses, including Dr. Cline, can vouch for the fact that Mrs. Campbell deposited her penny and chewed like the rest of her coeds; although she insists that Mr. Banks talked her into it.

The gum machines were installed in their places at request of the Kiwanis club, as a part of their annual drive to help the underprivileged children. Now, girls, your consciences can be a little easier about chewing, or "chawing," as you will, since you will be helping a worthwhile project along whenever you buy gum on the campus.

So, if you must use gum, make it a point to purchase from the campus dispensers, in order that your money will help somebody who really needs it.

Alpha Sigma Pi Initiates Eight

Alpha Sigma Pi, freshman-sophomore honorary scholastic fraternity, met recently at Miss Charlotte Newsom's home. The main purpose of the meeting was to initiate honored freshmen who obtained the highest grades as freshmen. The group was approximately the upper three percent of the freshman class. Questions were first asked of those to be initiated. The person who answered all his questions correctly was Robert Clark.

Initiation was then held. Those who were initiated were: Miss Ella Mae McKee, Miss Eleanor Brown, Miss Helen Bartlett, Miss Muriel Vickers, Miss Harriet Beiber, James Dixon, Billy Booth, and Robert Clark.

After initiation the meeting was held. It was decided to have a banquet sometime after Christmas to celebrate Alpha Sigma Pi's tenth anniversary at Centenary. The alumni of Alpha Sigma Pi who are still attending Centenary will also attend this banquet. Refreshments were served which were enjoyed by all.

Flag Design Contest Popular With Studes

Student reaction to the flag design contest recently inaugurated by the Student Senate has been encouraging. Everyone approached on the subject was enthusiastic about the prospect of an official flag for the school.

Several students have reported that they are planning to submit a design to the judges and a few have already begun work.

The contest began last week and all designs must be turned in by the second week in January. The prize is a plaque with the words Centenary College and Gents on it. The flag will be used from time to time in the chapel and on all occasions at which the use of an official flag would be desirable.

Chi Sigma Nu Initiation
Last Tuesday Chi Sigma Nu, Centenary Education fraternity, initiated three new members: Mary Alice Nash, Virginia Rose Kramer, and Taylor Wall. After the initiation luncheon was served to Myrion Holloway, Francis Kizer, Lillian Gibson, Martha Hamner, Dorothy Durr, Lou Dell Liston, Elise Montgomery, Margaret Gillespie, Virginia Rose Kramer, Mary Alice Nash, Ruth Waldron, Ethel Kramer, Miss Broadwell, Taylor Wall, Edgar Burkes, Dr. Middlebrook, Mr. Tatum, and Dr. Strauss.

Unusual Chapel Skit Program Delivered by Radio, Diction Classes

Members of the Radio and Diction Classes, under direction of Mrs. John Wray Young, presented the Wednesday chapel program. Written by members of the two classes and titled "The Peppo Hour," the program was a burlesque of various radio programs of the national networks.

The first half of the 45-minute program was a production of the Radio Class. Following the song-commercial of the Peppo Pill, Jack Elgin, announcer, introduced a short mystery play written by Everly Queen. Outstanding personalities were presented on this program of the Uncontrolled Network. Professor Peppo Quiz questioned three of the Quiz Kiddies; and two columnists, Heppa Hooper with her guest of the week, Cheepy Chirp, and B. A. Cattleborn, news analyst of the campus, conveyed latest in campus gossip and news events.

The remaining minutes were devoted to students of the Diction Class, introduced by a second announcer, Clint Teacle. A trio recited "The Night Before Christmas," followed by several poems and short stories in keeping with the holiday season. This section of the program was ended with a song commercial by the Peppo Trio.

The program was very entertaining and cleverly presented to an appreciative chapel audience. Members participating were Jean Evans, Jessica Harris, Gladys Tippet, Justine Holmes, Lucille Sanford, Rosemary Neal, Betty Blaxton, Carolyn Coburn, Jane Bartlett, Marie Wolf, Charles Davis, Jack Elgin, Clint Teacle, John Woods.

XMAS FOR JANITORS

Dr. Steger announced in chapel Wednesday that the annual student contribution for the Christmas presents for the school janitors would be taken up at the Christmas chapel next week. This is about the only thing we do for our janitors throughout the year, so let us all do our share toward giving them a fine present.

CHRISTMAS CHAPEL

The annual special Christmas chapel will be held at the regular chapel period Wednesday. All students, including seniors, are expected to attend this traditional Centenary ceremony.

Faculty Passes Resolution Favoring Student Military Unit on Centenary Campus

Request That College Be Made Part of Student Army Training Corps Program If Policy of Last War Begins

At a faculty meeting last Monday, the Centenary faculty adopted a resolution introduced by Dr. Shaw and seconded by Dr. Lowance, to the effect that a system of student army training similar to that established on college campuses during the first world war should be placed on the Centenary campus by the War Department.

DEBATE YEAR OPENS HERE AT 7:30 IN CHAPEL

Opening Debate Against Cumberland University Team of Lebanon, Tenn.

The 1941-42 debating year for the Centenary debating team begins tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the chapel when E. W. Harris and Joe Dixon represent the school against a team from Cumberland University of Lebanon, Tenn. The topic of debate will be "Resolved: That U. S. Should Pass Labor Legislation; Constitutionality Conceded."

Attendance at the debates last year was not as good as one would expect to find at a school the size of Centenary. When students from other schools visit the Centenary campus to debate our teams, it should be a matter of pride with us that an audience is present to hear the debates. Our debaters are accorded that courtesy when they travel to other localities throughout the year. So, as many of the students as possible should try to be present tonight when the Centenary team debates the one from Cumberland.

E. W. Harris and Joe Dixon, the two representatives of Centenary tonight, have both had a great deal of experience in the debating field. Harris was one of the star debaters on the strong Byrd high school team last year, where he won many honors with his ability. Dixon, from Fair Park high school, also was awarded many speaking honors during his high school career. He debated successfully many times on the Fair Park team. Centenary, therefore, has two debaters who are thoroughly capable of representing their school successfully in all scheduled debates.

CENTENARY REPRESENTED WHEN RANDOLPH GRADUATES 254 CADETS

Randolph Field, Texas, Dec. 12—Graduating its ninth and last class of Aviation Cadets for 1941 today, Randolph Field completes its second year as pace-setter for the greatest expansion in Air Corps history.

This class, 254 student pilots, represents 37 states and Canada; 135 colleges and universities. Among them are four Centenary College men.

They are: Cullus Z. Walker, '40-'41, Plain Dealing, La.; Marvin M. Waldroup, '41, B.S., Dixie, La.; Joe E. Slattery, Jr., '39, B.S., Shreveport, and Thomas L. Murphy, '38-'41, Shreveport, La.

FORMER STUDENTS ENROLL AT MAXWELL FIELD

Montgomery, Ala.—Fred Holmes Alexander of Midlothian, Texas, and William Peyton Shehee, Jr., of Shreveport, former students at Centenary, are now enrolled as aviation cadets in the replacement center at Maxwell Field, Ala., headquarters of the Southeast Air Corps Training Center.

These two men, along with hundreds of others from many parts of the nation, will soon be sent to primary schools in the southeast for the first phase of their flight training. Upon completion of a 30 weeks' pilot's course, they will be

* Such a program would require the erection of barracks on the campus by the government. This would enable students who were called to active duty to continue their college work while actually being members of the army.

Students who take advantage of this arrangement are a part of the army and subject to army discipline and call at any time.

This program, known as the Student Army Training Corps in the last war, was quite successful at that time. Many colleges which adopted this program found that their enrollments increased very much after the installation of the project.

It was also a great aid to the students, naturally, since it gave many an opportunity to secure their degrees at once, rather than after the war was over.

One interesting effect of the military supervision of the colleges was the absolute lack of "class cutting."

Copies of the resolutions were sent to the senators from Louisiana.

LESTER MOORE APPOINTED TO NAVAL SCHOOL

Lester Moore, recently elected president of the freshman class, received an appointment to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis last Monday. He expects to enter the school next June when their next school year begins.

Moore is a first-year student at Centenary, having graduated from Byrd High School last May. He is president of the Kappa Alpha pledge group as well as being a member of the Student Senate.

He will continue his studies at Centenary for the remainder of this school year, after which he will enroll in Annapolis.

* awarded commissions as second lieutenants in the Army Air Corps.

A FLYING 'GENTLEMAN'
Randolph Field, Texas—One of Centenary's finest all-around athletes, Lavelle Murphy of Shreveport (4126 Mangum street) is spending many hours in cockpits of sleek training planes at the "West Point of the Air" these days. Formerly a football end, a basketball guard, and first baseman on the baseball team of the Centenary Gentlemen, Murphy needs just 70 hours aloft before he can enter the final phase of aviation cadet training. Then come "Wings" and a commission in the U. S. Army Air Corps.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Member
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO BOSTON SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES PORTLAND SEATTLE
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan; Associate, Luther Hardin
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Betty Gordon Smith, Ellen Eastham, Hutch Phillips, Jack Keenan, Eleanor Brown, Dudley Beene, Gloria Brown, Jake Cullick, Mary Foster Peyton, Emily Prothro, J. L. Solomon, and Arthur Shuey

WAR

America is at war. Already thousands of American lives have been lost as a result of a cowardly attack made upon our Pacific outposts, at the very same time that envoys from the traitor nation were in the nation's capital asking for a little time to arrange for a peaceful settlement of the difficulties.

Centenary will do her share in the coming years. Already many of her former sons are in the fighting forces of the country, in the air, on the land, and on the sea. Even now many members of the present student body are eligible for immediate service; and they shall heed the call of the colors.

All down through her glorious history, Centenary has always responded at once, when the nation called. During the Civil War the entire school was dismissed to enable the students to go to war. And the graduating class of 1861 died to a man on the battle field fighting for a lost cause.

Today we have no lost cause. Ours is a cause that can never be lost. Man has not fought down through centuries for the freedom, liberty, and equality which in modern times has reached its highest peak of realization in the United States of America, only to lose it on a battlefield against a foe of the calibre of Japan. Neither Japan, nor any combination she can gather around her, in her drive toward her destruction as a power in the modern age, can hope to defeat the greatest industrial and potentially the greatest military nation in the history of man.

Never truer were the words, "Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad." A mad nation is raging in the Pacific; and she should be treated as we would a mad dog.

America is rising in all her might to deal with the treacherous foe in such a manner as never to permit her to find herself in a position to attack a nation with whom she is not at war.

Now is the time for all to adopt the motto of one of our great Americans of history... "My country, right or wrong."

THE INFLUENCE OF A CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

Following is an article appearing in the November-December, 1941, issue of the Christian Education Magazine. It was written by Margaret Brown, who graduated from Centenary in 1940:

Going to college was not a new idea to me. We had planned it for years. The question was, where?

After prayerful deliberation, it was decided that Centenary College of Louisiana, my native State, was the choice. But to go to college in a city which I had never seen and in which I had no friends and only a few relatives who were virtual strangers was a bewildering thought.

I went.

No period of my life can ever equal those four years. More thrilling experiences may be hidden by the veil of the future, but for sheer growth and development of all the worth-while faculties and experiences of life, they cannot be excelled.

During my years at Centenary many changes were made in the college. Enrollment increased greatly, new buildings were erected, alterations were made in the administration, the educational and cultural scope of the college increased—we even experienced a cyclone—yet the morale and character of faculty and students remained unwavering.

To know that my professors were active members of the Protestant churches throughout the city was an inspiration. Many continued their tutorial responsibilities on Sunday by teaching in their church schools.

In view of the much-discussed "conflict" between science and religion, I was especially grateful to my chemistry professor, a stalwart Christian. Often he would delve the more deeply into his subject in order to show how science and religion are reconciled in the minds of intelligent Christians.

Not only did the professors influence our scholastic lives, but also our personal experiences. Some of the most stimulating conversations in which I have engaged have been discussions with my French professor on the evolving of an effective philosophy of life.

Students attending Christian colleges are of the highest type. One has the opportunity to choose friends from that most select stratum of society, Christian youth.

There I gained a variety of friends of rare personalities who made my life more abundant in those years and whose friendship continues still.

Even among those with whom one was not acquainted, a friendly spirit reigned. Students or faculty members were rare who did not speak when met on the campus, or off, however casually. If they didn't they were considered "different," and soon mended their ways.

So from my own experience I would say to all contemplating entry into college:

"Go where you can find knowledge, stimulating friendship, and worth-while experiences. That place is a Christian college."

Thus does one of the graduates of Centenary give voice to the thoughts of so many others that have gone before her. For we of Centenary throughout our college days come more and more to the realization of all the sentiments expressed so graphically in Miss Brown's article. Even today we are experiencing those opportunities to "choose friends from that most select stratum of society, Christian youth."

It is too bad that a full understanding of all the benefits of one's college life can come only as a result of the perspective of time, when one looks back upon those glorious days.

It is true, however, that we at Centenary are completely aware of the advantages of our school. We are glad that one of our alumni has so opportunely given expression to the thoughts which so many others who have had any connection at all with our school have held; especially in view of the unjustified criticism to which the college has been subjected of late.

CONGLOMERATION

We of The Conglomerate feel that an apology is in order after some of the remarks made in the last Conglomeration column. Such expressions have no place in a college newspaper and obviously express the feelings of but one person. It is a rather small person who finds it necessary to resort to the subterfuge of anonymous writing to make belittling—to say the least—remarks about a fellow student as a means, apparently, for settling a personal grudge.

As we said before, The Conglomerate regrets that it was used in such a manner by one of its writers, and every effort will be made to prevent a recurrence of writing of such a nature.

Most of the students seem to demand gossip and more gossip for their paper. If such is their desire we will try to comply with their wishes; but not with harsh and vindictive writing. Good-natured "kidding" has a definite place in college life and should be encouraged as a step toward a better feeling of friendship among the students, because in "kidding" all meet on a common ground. But we refuse to allow the paper to be used as a means for deliberately hurting fellow students with caustic comments which obviously are untrue.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Scientific Nursery Rhyme
Insignificant Bo Peep
Has forfeited her mammals of the genus Cris,
And does not perceive at what position
to ascertain them.
She suffers them to be companionless,
And they will proceed to their domicile,
Agitating their tails subsequently.
—Independent Student.

One of our neighboring schools recently used our anti-dancing ban as a basis for an editorial to point out the presence of several regulations on its own campus which were of a dictatorial nature. Though naturally they had nothing to compare with our little arrangement at Centenary, The Current Sauce, Louisiana State Normal publication, did have some justifiable complaints.

One statement made by the Current Sauce was particularly interesting to us. After explaining that the reason they did not yield to their first impulse to come "blasting forth" was because they realized that it was none of their business, the editorial goes on to say that they "pondered the advisability of expressing gratitude to the anti-terpsichoreans, since it seems logical that their action in the long run will serve to drive many desirable students to other colleges—maybe even this one."

We of Centenary know that it will take more than the decision of such a group of men and women, however unjust it may be, to cause us to leave Centenary after we have once caught the friendly spirit of the atmosphere here at our school; but it is encouraging to know that other schools realize our predicament and have similar troubles of their own.

Filosofy
Now for some remarks in a lighter vein:

We just ran across a good motto for THE SHUEY: Backward, turn backward, O dime in thy flight.

FLOURNOY, by the way, claims that he wasn't born with those fangs—he just got them after he started going with girls.

Ode on a Copy of The Conglomerate

By I.M.N. KHAKI

(Note: These observations were made immediately after the writer, who is The Conglomerate's army correspondent at Camp Hulen, finished reading a copy of The Conglomerate for the first time in several months.)

Things have certainly changed since last year and I fear the change is for the worst!

For example poor little Lucy Samford is still trying for a position on the Kappa Sig team; they still want another telephone in Colonial Hall; the skit for Kapers is "entirely different from any previous skit"; the last one is the best yet; and oh, yes, Fred Waring is writing a song for us. Isn't that dandy? Now we'll have something to sing...

How many columns does this fellow Kelly write? I see his name in everyone of them, or does Kay Baby Cannon (that's Myrtle's older sister who's tried) try to pen for your humble editor?

Coeburn, Coeburn—where have I heard that name? It must be a sister because I was there when they came after Betty Mae. Ask Flournoy—he was there, waiting to ogle as the girls dashed by for chow, they hoped.

Don't you think Badminton is a thrilling game? We can always have May Day Fete at the stadium, can't we?

If I see L. Samford's name

JIMMY THIBODEAUX insists that some stagecoach robber named either Jesse James or Endymion coined the phrase: A thing of booty is a joy forever.

STEVE WARREN says that there are only two natural magnets: blonde and brunette.

And then there was the guy who took three grains of aspirin and a pinch of insect powder, because he had such a lousy headache.

It is alleged that DR. LOW-ANCE asked ELLEN EASTHAM in class the other day, "What happens when the human body is immersed in water?" Said she, "The telephone rings."

We contend that this VIOSCA gal is one of the best-looking we have noticed 'round and about lately... not that she ever speaks to us or anything like that.

BILL FOLDS

SHAVING SETS

FOR XMAS GIFTS SHOP

KIDD-RUSS TRUNK and BAG CO.

505 MILAM STREET

LADIES' PURSES

LEATHER GOODS

again I'll join the army (laff). My, my, aren't the jokes in this paper funny?

Incidentally, I, too, have heard that Rosemary Neal is a fast worker... I made a Kapers trip once.

Well, I'm back to the usual Chesterfield ad and by the look of Hep Katz, the writer must be love-sick by the tunes picked.

I hope this will be taken in the spirit that it is meant. Not too much coke, mind you!

—Finis—

MRS. CAMPBELL ENTERTAINS

Mrs. A. R. Campbell entertained the women residents of Centenary College with an open house at her home on December 4. Fall flowers added a bit of color throughout the house while the dining room was decorated with fall flowers and burning tapers. Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Marshall assisted Mrs. Campbell in the courtesies.

People who lie around and wait for their ship to come in usually find it a hardship.

HOW LONG HAVE YOU WANTED A HAMILTON?

LESTER $57.75
BROCK $85.25
MARTIN—$44.00
Above prices include Federal Tax

Why not make your fondest wish come true this Christmas? Get yourself the Hamilton watch you have put off getting—too long, now!

Flournoy & Harris, Inc.
EXCLUSIVE JEWELERS
519 Marshall St.

9c-22c Phone 7-2427

OPENS SUNDAY 1:00 P.M.
"APPOINTMENT FOR LOVE"
with
Charles Bayer, Margaret Sullivan
Reginald Denny, Rita Johnson
News and Shorts

COMING SOON
Abbot and Costello
in
"Keep 'Em Flying!"

You taste its quality

Experience proves that nothing takes the place of quality. You taste the quality of ice-cold Coca-Cola. Again and again you enjoy the charm of its delicious taste...and its cool, clean after-sense of complete refreshment. Thirst asks nothing more.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

Pause...
Go refreshed
Coca-Cola
TRADE-MARK
5¢
You trust its quality

Gentlemen Open Basketball Season With Win

GENT CAGERS DEFEAT STRONG TEAM FROM CAMP POLK, LA.

OPPOSING TEAM MADE UP OF FORMER COLLEGE STARS FROM NORTHERN SCHOOLS

The Centenary basketball team nosed out the 54th Division F. A. at Leesville, La., last Friday night, 30 to 24.

The Gents got off to a slow start, but after getting warmed up, hit their stride and put Centenary in the win column for the first time this year.

Four Gents fouled out during the game. Melbourne "Moe" Crawford, dependable guard, fouled out early in the third quarter. The game was rough all the way and two Camp Polk men also fouled out.

"Jud" Thornton, sophomore guard, from Hico, La., led the Gents in scoring with 13 points, trailed by Alex Penny, star forward, who made six points. Thornton and Penny played the entire game.

Gordon "Yankee" Brown, who tallied five points, fouled out in last 30 seconds of the game. "Bo" Whitten who replaced him also fouled out.

Ed Hoynoski played his usual stellar game at center.

Alvin "Shorty" Martin showed up good at the pivot position. Hines, Daugherty and Odom, having just lain aside their football uniforms, showed up exceptionally well on the court, proving that with a little more practice they will be outstanding men.

Coach Smith used every man on the squad, experimenting and trying to get a winning combination.

The strong Camp Polk team consisted of ex-college players from northern states, who are now doing service for Uncle Sam. They were in good shape and all played hard in trying to defeat our "never-give-up" Gent team, but to no avail.

The team left late Saturday afternoon and had to jump in their uniforms and begin playing soon after arriving, so I think they should be complimented on putting Centenary in the win column.

—Patronize Our Advertisers—

CAGE CLINIC WAS SUCCESS

Centenary was host last Saturday to college coaches, high school coaches, and officials of this section of the state to a basketball clinic.

Elmer Smith, Centenary Gents cage coach, welcomed the visitors and expressed gratitude for the splendid interest shown.

Marvin "Hoot" Gibson, Centenary college trainer, gave a valuable lecture on treatment of basketball injuries. He gave a "taping of a knee" demonstration and also told how to tape ankles and other parts of the body.

L. G. McDonald, "Y" physical director, presented a brief talk on tournament play.

L. C. Curry, Couthatta high school coach, delivered a talk and demonstration on new rules. He stressed the importance of a thorough knowledge of the rules.

The players on Centenary Gent team who assisted Coach Smith in demonstrating new plays are: Alex Penny, Melbourne "Moe" Crawford, Gordon "Yankee" Brown, "Bo" Whitten, Jud Thornton, Alvin "Shorty" Martin, Ed Hoynoski, Truman Crawford, Howard Rogers, Gerald Ferschoff, J. Cunningham, and "Stonewall" Jackson.

The money the other fellow has is capital; getting it away from him is labor.

At twenty he thinks he can save the world; at thirty he thinks to save part of his salary.

Some prose writers go from bad to verse.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

HOOT GIBSON, TRAINER FOR GENTS LAST SEVEN YEARS, RESIGNS

A Centenary College landmark is about to disappear from the campus.

Marvin (Hoot) Gibson, a fixture at the school for the last 13 years and for seven years head trainer in the athletic department, has resigned his post. The resignation becomes effective January 1.

The resignation of the Hooter, everybody's friend on and off the campus, was announced Tuesday by Jake Hanna, head football coach and athletic director at the school, after Centenary circles had buzzed for several days that Gibson had stepped out.

His plans for the future were not announced.

Gibson received his degree from Centenary in 1929 and has never left the school campus. He assumed head trainer's duties at the school seven years ago, taking over the job that had been held by "Unk" Marsalais.

"Hoot" worked with Coach Homer Norton, Texas A. & M. coach, while Norton was with Centenary, and is well known by sports followers throughout the Southwest.

Besides his duties, "Hoot" was the handy-andy man of the athletic department. He handled all football, baseball, basketball and track equipment, seeing to it that torn equipment was mended if he had to wield the needle himself. He even mowed the grass or saw that it was done.

He constantly pals with players, and held the respect of every Maroon and White athlete.

For the past several years Gibson has coached an independent basketball team in the Y.M.C.A. Commercial league, and last year carried his club to the Southern A.

MAKE THE BOY HAPPY AT CHRISTMAS WITH THESE FINE QUALITY

Boys' Suits

FINE WOOLENS

Expertly Tailored in Double or Single Breasted with Two Pair Pants

$12.75

PENNEY'S J. O. PENNEY CO., INC.

GENTS OPEN CAGE SEASON PROGRAM TONIGHT AT GYM AGAINST MAGGIES

Muleriders of Magnolia A. & M. Invade Shreveport for Contest

Coach Elmer Smith will send his winning combination on the basketball court tonight, hoping to give Centenary students and supporters another win.

Magnolia A. & M. Muleriders, from Magnolia, Arkansas, have a strong junior college cage team and are capable of winning against the strongest of competition.

Easley, star forward for the Muleriders, was a high school scorer last year in Arkansas basketball and probably will give us some trouble.

Alex Penny, star forward and regular in the Gent lineup last season, will lead the Gents and will be ably assisted by Melbourne "Moe" Crawford, capable guard and also a regular in the Centenary lineup last year.

Ed Hoynoski, reserve center last year, will probably start at the center position. Gordon "Yankee" Brown, leading frosh scorer last year, will be at the other forward position. Brown is a sharpshooter and usually hits the bucket when two points are needed.

"Jud" Thornton will be at the other guard position. Thornton, who is leading the Gents in scoring, is counted upon to show some of his scoring ability to further the Gents' chances.

"Bo" Whitten, versatile player, will see plenty of action at center or forward, both of which he is capable of handling.

Alvin Martin, 6 ft., 7 in. center, will be in there at the pivot position before the game is very old.

Maurice Odom, outstanding forward, will see plenty of action.

Raymond Daugherty, Dick Hines and Jack Nash, three reliable guards, are ready if Coach Smith needs them.

The Gents quintet have the spirit to give us a winning team, so let's give them the support of the student body.

Patronize Our Advertisers, Please!

"The Best Dressed Men"

See Tyler Pirtle, Our Campus Representative

NATHAN'S Texas at Edwards Shreveport

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

ARKANSAS
LOUISIANA
GAS
COMPANY

Ever since 1925, one of the most familiar figures on the campus has been Marvin "Hoot" Gibson. He remained at Centenary during the following four years and received his degree in 1929 and since then has never left the campus. During these years Hoot has made many friends because of his amiability and generosity.

He has been associated with the Athletic Department for 13 years, and trainer in complete charge of the athletes' physical condition on and off the field during the past seven years. This was a tremendous job which he fulfilled completely. Not only was he charged with keeping the gridsters fit and ready to go, but he was responsible for the team's equipment. He did all the mending and repair work himself. Hoot constantly ran around with the athletes on and off the campus and at the same time held their respect and was regarded very highly in their esteem.

We cannot say that Hoot is merely the Gentleman of the Week because Hoot has been behind Centenary for 16 years. He has been here longer than many professors and has served under three well-known coaches.

After giving Centenary his best for all these years, Hoot is leaving. So as a parting gesture we say to Hoot, there is no one to whom Centenary owes more, whether it be the students, the coaches or the faculty.

W.A.A. Sponsors
Ping Pong, Shuffle
Board Tournaments

— STUDENTS —

If you want your pictures before

CHRISTMAS

Come in before

DEC. 15

MILBURNE'S
STUDIO

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt, Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

For Distinctive
Christmas Gifts

Visit

Crescent
Jewelry Co.

325 Texas St.

Next door to new Commercial Bank Bldg.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and

DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

This happens every time I put on my new VARSITY-TOWN

On account of we don't have a valet, and don't know that salaaming is passe, we can be excused for creating this situation. Anyway, it gets over the idea that everyone pays homage to Varsity-Town's styling genius. This season Varsity-Town has simply floored us with fabric originality, with pattern and color individuality, with model aggressiveness, and with style details that pace the whole American fashion field. $25 up

Town House Tuxedos for Holiday Festivities
New Double-breasted Models
$22.50 and $25.00

M. LEVY CO.

SHREVEPORT SINCE 1857

SAY, FELLOWS, GET YOUR MINDS OFF THE WAR FOR A MOMENT!

Ina Ray Hutton

Don't Wake Up
Next Week and Find Yourself

"Bombed"

National Defense necessities are curtailing further shipment of all merchandise. If you have not shopped for Christmas yet, do so now! Help Defense by buying jewelry this season! Visit our store where fine jewelry may be found, and where quality is a fact! Every wish will be fulfilled if you purchase from

LEONARD'S

320-322 Ward Bldg.
Phone 2-5088

Ina Ray Hutton Changes Style To Win Fame and Fortune

Ina Ray Hutton says her life is too busy for romance, and that she would rather boss 14 men than obey one.

The blond orchestral bombshell who can also be 108 pounds of clinging femininity when she desires, says she isn't married because the right guy hasn't come along. Meanwhile she prefers to crack the whip over 14 stalwart male musicians.

After graduating from the Ziegfield and George White chorus lines, Ina Ray made her first bid for fame some years back with an all-girl orchestra.

Today, after switching to an all-male orchestra (among the best in the business) Ina Ray finds time to relax just a little bit.

"It just wore me out, working with those girls," she said when interviewed.

"The girl orchestra was a novelty, but the girls weren't top-flight musicians, and that's what I wanted most. I did all the works, arrangements and everything. I felt that all I needed was a broom."

"Then one day I just got tired of it all and gave notices to the girls."

Although Ina Ray does not play an instrument, she is interested in music. She says she keeps her figure by working and eating like "a horse."

Asked what factor contributes most to her continued position as foremost girl bandleader in the country, the blue-eyed lass answers: "My arrangements."

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

REX

Phone
7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

FRIDAY AND SAT., DEC. 12-13

"JUNGLE CAVALCADE"

Frank Buck

Cartoon—Beginning, New Serial

SUN., MON. and TUES., Dec. 14-15-16

"HOLD BACK THE DAWN"

Charles Boyer - Olivia de Havilland

First-run News—Cartoon

WED. AND THURS., DEC. 17-18

"KISSES FOR BREAKFAST"

Dennis Morgan - Jane Wyatt

Comedy and First-run News

FASHION

This column was all planned for the week ending December 12, but sudden events of December 7 have brought about its change. Last issue of The Conglomerate we wrote a silly-dilly on what to buy for your best Mister, which we coyly planned as a lead-up to a long column on what the ladies thought Santa wise in choosing. This issue of our paper sees a complete change in the course of human events, and, realizing that our Christmas in the United States is to be somewhat like that of other lands, though not one nth as bad, we changed our column plan, and submit another for your approval, disapproval, and controversy.

Now, Christmas is always Christmas, for many reasons . . . because of jingle bells, holly, snow, carols, and, above all, because of the Christ-Child . . . and we don't have the least desire to suggest that this be a holiday without holly-papered and ribbon-tied packages beneath your green, red, blue, gold, or silver tree. No, sir! Christmas is the time to give, and it has been celebrated that way far too long to change. So, we suggest, for many and good reasons, that you lighten your money burden and spend half the amount on the gift, twice the amount on the thought, and use that other bit to help regain the beautiful Christmases of the past for all this world.

How about buying Defense Stamps? Now, don't say that you have given to your government once, or that you pay enough taxes on amusements, cigarettes, clothes, and so forth. That is no excuse, 'cause, listen, people, you are being taxed on those very things in order to keep them. Don't you say that the family bought a bond, or that you have a brother serving his country, or that you know all the verses to the "Star Spangled Banner," and act as though that is enough. No, sir.

YOU GIVE. What you give is your own concern. How you give it is your own privilege. Remember, there are plenty things to be done, many ways to do them, and the head of the list is devoted to MONEY and TIME. No sacrifice is too great, no gift too small. So, we suggest, if you have a few more gifts that you feel should be placed under the tree, how about taking a jaunt to the Post Office and buying a defense stamp, or maybe two. Let that be your Christmas . . . for your friends and for your country.

And now, to the ridiculous . . .

We were asked why this column was headed FASHION when most of the time the writer hemmed and hawed and pecked out everything else 'ceptin the latest in ladies' do-dads? So, here is why . . . we think there are some pretty good magazines devoted, but almost entirely, to such a subject, and we hate to show our ignorance (that doth crop out occasionally), so we write about lots of things and leave the fashions to the authorities, only occasionally do we chime in with our two-cents worth. And, if you would but know, it so happens the column heading was the only one we could find (and, confidentially, it must have been the cheapest, if you know what we mean), so last year's Editor made the hasty decision that left us with such a heading. Now, does that answer the question?

CENTENARY

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE
Always 9c & 22c Phone 7-5971

FRIDAY—DEC. 12

"WHEN LADIES MEET"

Robert Taylor and Joan Crawford

Cartoon and News

SAT., DEC. 13—DOUBLE FEATURE

"23 1/2 HOURS LEAVE"

"SCATTERGOOD MEETS BROADWAY"

Serial

SUN. and MON., DEC. 14-15

"NAVY BLUE AND GOLD"

James Stewart and L. Barrymore

Our Gang Comedy and News

TUES. and WED., DEC. 16-17

"HARMON OF MICHIGAN"

Tom Harmon and Anita Louise

Cartoon and Sport Short

THURSDAY, Dec. 18

"ALOMA OF SOUTH SEAS"

Dorothy Lamour

Cartoon—Defense Short—News

KOLONIAL ITTY AT OR DORM AMES ISH IRT

Well, kids, we are in another session in the dear old Colonial Hall, but we have moved location, so that people cannot stand under the windows and listen (and beat us to the deadline). At least we guess that is what they are there for—or is it just the Wolf Patrol?

We are all around Room 215 (hangout of a certain comedy team for the past two and a half years) with girls everywhere. We only counted 19—crawl out from under the bed, Ellen!

Seems that we heard after the Lambda dance:

DOUGAL singing in FRIDDLE'S ear about "This Love of Mine"?

JEANNE MAYNARD on her knees at the Colonial before "CHILE" McDOWELL.

"LEGS" GANO and others being a little late—something about a show, I believe.

Enter BETTY GORDON. Did you know her first love got married? His picture was put away with ceremony; dare you to ask her all about it! And DUDLEY tells us that he is going to pin LIL TURNER and BETTY GORDON, and they can fight over the pin. Understand they admire CAMP FLOURNOY'S pin, too!

CHIEF, JELLY, and the rest of our favorite football heroes seem to be leaving us for the Coast Guard. We will miss you all, and think you should know it.

Familiar "hello's" on the dormitory phone (singular)—if you are lucky enough to get "it":

"This is the belfry—which bat do you want?"

"Heaven—which angel this time?"

"Rathole—take your choice in rats."

"Colonial Asylum—and we aren't kidding!"

And you may really hear some of these—milder quotations, of course.

BARRON JOHNS, please tell someone your new nickname acquired in New Orleans is—or, are we asking more than we know?

Enter COBURN—hide the "Battalions" from her, ELLEN. Don't let her get started!!! Here comes JANE BARTLETT, that glamorous brunette. We are looking forward to another round between BARTLETT and COBURN. My money is on COBURN to win! Hear she is going out for boxing.

PHILOSOPHY ON MEN: Keep them fooled half the time, then humor them the rest. Try it sometime!

Must be the real thing when BETTY TEMPLE'S beau came all the way from Florida to see her. And say, he is strictly OK, too.

We keep hearing about SULLY'S late dating, and something about midriffs in cold weather.

Hello, BUDDY JOHNSON! Glad you are back. Know others that are also glad.

ORCHIDS AND ONIONS:

Orchids to MARY MURRELL for being so generous with that luscious chocolate birthday cake December third.

Onions to some of the girls downstairs for not bothering to answer the telephone—our one and only telephone!

Orchids to NORMAN ROBERTSON just because she's who she is.

Onions to that certain censor who cut out some of our juiciest

STUDENT FORUM

To the author of last week's Conglomeration—

Your identity outside the paper's office is temporarily unknown; therefore I'm taking this means of addressing you.

Brown is still the same likeable girl that she has always been. The faculty recently selected her for Who's Who, and the Kappa Sigma Fraternity selected her as one of four sweethearts. This is concrete proof of her popularity both with the faculty and with her fellow students.

Your unjust printed criticism about one of the most congenial girls that has ever been on this campus can be answered in one word—envy!

Sincerely,
Carl Vollmer

morsels in last week's scolumn—hummm

Orchids to JIMMYE and BILL.

Onions—because the Kappa Sigs couldn't have their Woodchoppers' Ball, but we are really looking forward to their Black and White Formal.

BETTY GORDON dedicates a great big smelly onion to LUCILLE for buying henna rinses that won't wash off!

Orchids to PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT for making a speech during our toughest class.

Onions to those who buy all the pretty clothes we wish we had.

Orchids to the sweetest little girl in the dormitory—CILE MILLER.

And GARLIC to the Japs for changing Centenary to a Female Seminary for Women.

YOUR KOLONIAL KITTY KAT

Tune in the Christmas Spirit

It's Chesterfield Pleasure Time

Enjoy the music that everybody likes

N. B. C. Stations

Merry Christmas
everybody... this is your old friend Red Waring

This time I'm coming to you
With a timely shopping tip . . .

Drop in at your tobacco store
Take a look at the handsome way
Your Christmas Chesterfields are packed.

You never saw the like
Of these swell gifts . . .
Big ten package cartons
Cartons holding four tins of 50
And brand new this year
Special greeting cartons
Holding just three packs.

This year It's Chesterfield
For more pleasure than Anything else you can buy
For the money.

Milder
Better-Tasting
...that's why It's

Chesterfield

Copyright 1941, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

FLOWERS FOR DANCES?

CORSAGES OUR SPECIALTY

BROADMOOR FLORAL SHOP

"Flowers for All Occasions"

MRS. SARA TULLY,
Mgr.

3803 YOUREE

PHONE
7-2737

FORECAST

FORECAST
"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country."

You have probably written that on the typewriter many times. But, now is the time to do your share. Yes, and the best way you can help at the present moment is to buy a few United States defense savings stamps and bonds.

The stamps come in denominations as low as twenty-five cents; and there is not a student on the campus who cannot afford a few of these stamps at this cost. As a matter of fact, there are probably a good many of you who have hidden away somewhere enough of the long green to buy one of the baby bonds, or perhaps even one of a larger size.

There are a good many reasons that could be advanced as to why everyone should deny himself something in order to purchase a defense stamp or bond. We could go into the theory that this type of buying will go far toward preventing inflation since it will take some of the surplus money out of actual circulation, instead of away from the banks, as would be the case if the bonds were of such tremendous denominations as are most of them, that only banks could buy them. Then there are many other reasons to be given for their usefulness. But suppose we let it suffice and say that the United States needs a little spare cash right now to deal with a certain outfit in the Pacific, and that Uncle Sam would appreciate any help that any of you can give him RIGHT NOW.

Dr. Thayer To Present Paper To Association

Dr. L. A. Thayer, head of the biology department, will attend the meetings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science to be held in Dallas the week after Christmas and will read a paper before the physiological section of the American Botanical society on the morning of December 30. Dr. Thayer's paper will report the results of experiments on plant growth hormones carried out during summer vacation periods of the past few years. The experimental work was done in the biological laboratories of the California Institute of Technology where Dr. Thayer was a guest of the institute for the purpose of carrying on his research.

Defense Training Class Begins Tonight

Word has just been received from Dean R. A. Seaton, director of defense training for the United States office of education, that Centenary has been accepted as one of the schools to offer the special defense courses, according to Dr. Lowance of the Centenary science department. Dr. Lowance also stated that classes will begin in the chemistry course tonight, and that several other classes are expected to begin very shortly.

This training is part of a federal appropriation of $17,500,000 for the training of defense workers.

Specific courses already authorized for Centenary are organic and inorganic chemistry, industrial chemistry, petroleum chemistry, and powder chemistry. Others in preparation include atomic physics and mathematics and mechanics for engineers.

Dr. Lowance represents Centenary on the regional advisory committee.

AVIATION CADETS ENROUTE TO WINGS

"Revved up" and ready for takeoff at the "West Point of the Air," this long line of basic training planes is representative of the mass methods now in use by the air corps in its expanded pilot training program. Thirty thousand trained military pilots each year is the goal and Randolph Field will train 4,500 of them. On December 12, another class of 264 student pilots completed the second phase of the thirty-week course at this south Texas field and moved on to specialized schools for a final "prepping up" before receiving commissions as second lieutenants in the air corps reserve. Later, they will go to duty with units of the air force combat command or will be reassigned to training centers as flying instructors.

STUDENT SOCIAL ACTIVITIES NOW UNDER FACULTY

Board Decides to Leave All Regulations in Hands of Faculty

At a special meeting of the board of trustees of Centenary college last Friday night, all previous action by any organization on any phase of student social activity was rescinded, and all future regulation is to be left in the hands of the Centenary faculty.

This action was taken only after an acknowledgment of the board's realization of the financial and spiritual interests in the college by the Louisiana Methodist conference throughout the history of the school.

However, the resolution continued, since the charter clearly leaves the operation and governing of the school entirely to the board of trustees, the board deemed it advisable to leave all matters pertaining to the regulation of "student life" entirely to the discretion of the president and faculty.

This resolution, therefore, empowers the faculty to take whatever measures they consider appropriate for the welfare of the students in providing wholesome recreation.

Naturally, this places the subject of on or off the campus dancing in the hands of the president and faculty to do with as they see fit. No announcement has been made as yet as to the status of dancing on the campus.

KOLLEGE KAPERS SPEAKS

(In beginning I wish to express a note of thanks to "Little Shuey" for all the phone numbers and addresses he gave me on the cute coeds in this column.)

This week we interviewed the trio and several other soloists in Kollege Kapers.

The first one in the threesome we saw was a cute blonde named Justine Holmes. (They say she is one of the reason gentlemen prefer blondes.) This is her first year in the cast and she is looking forward to a big year. Justine specializes in the kind of songs that are everlastingly popular — such as Stardust and other standard melodies. It is a rumor that Justine is known as "the flirt." The reason for this is that in one of the dances she takes the part of a flirt. Somehow it leaked out and students have been calling her that ever since.

Next on the list comes a petite brunette, Cleo Christiansen. She is another freshman performer who sings in the girls' trio. Besides this, Cleo sings solos, is in the play, and is in both dance numbers. "I sing what Doc calls 'bouncy numbers'," she said, when I questioned her about her type of song. Cleo said her favorite kind of music was classical and sweet swing. Just about then Carley Fox pipes up and says, "Yeah, she sings 'Yes, Indeed'."

If you are looking for a good blues singer you might look up

(Continued on Page Four)

Choral Music Finally Recorded Successfully

To fill a need often expressed by music educators, the Wayne university a cappella choir will provide recorded choral music on a nation-wide basis, through a recording technique just announced by its director, Prof. Harold Tallman. His two years' investigation has solved perplexing technical problems that long have retarded the recording of choral music.

"Vocal-group music has proved far more difficult to record than instrumental-groups of music," Professor Tallman explains, "because a voice is directional while an instrument is not. Thus a microphone close to the group produces a recording distorted in favor of the nearest singers; while a microphone far enough away to give an over-all impression produces a recording without warmth, one that is 'tinny' and mechanical."

The solution was an arrangement of studio microphones which preserved proper balance. Professor Tallman solved the problem last summer while teaching at the University of Southern California. He sought the approval of Hollywood sound technicians before releasing the recordings for sale to Gamble Hinged Music company, Chicago, recorders of educational music. Royalties are to be returned to the university to further the choir's musical activities.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Traditional Candle Lighting Ceremony Observed This Week

Customary Christmas Chapel Held Again With Representatives of All Classes Taking Part

In line with the custom for years past the traditional Christmas chapel with all its accompanying ceremony took place Wednesday. The program had a unique aspect this year in that it was held at a time when all the world is embroiled in a holocaust of war. In that respect it was most timely, because it is at such hours as these that a fuller realization of the everlasting qualities of the Christian faith is most needed.

Centenary Helping In State Survey of Louisiana Education

Several Faculty Members and Economics Class Work on Project

Centenary college has been assigned the Caddo parish district to cover in the state-wide educational survey being conducted by the state department of education under the direction of Louisiana State university professors. This survey is to discover how the schools can be improved throughout the state.

There are ten different parts to the report to be turned in concerning school conditions in this parish. Several members of the faculty, including Professors Topper, Middlebrooks, Overdyke, Davidson, Schuhle, Wallace, Entriaken and Miss Smith, school librarian, are helping with the gathering of the necessary data for the final report.

A large number of the students are also co-operating in this work under the supervision of the instructors.

The statistics class has made thorough surveys of some 35 families in this region. The families were selected from the various schools of the parish on the basis of questionnaires given the children some while ago. The results of the survey of these families are now being compiled in convenient forms by the class.

The purpose of this work is to discover conditions in the schools that may need correction and to receive constructive criticism from the parents of the students attending the schools.

There are many different aspects of this state-wide survey. The particular part of it which is in the hands of Centenary representatives is known as the socio-economic portion.

Spanish and French Clubs Hold Joint Xmas Celebration

The French and Spanish clubs held a joint Christmas celebration at the Chi Omega house on Friday, December 12. Claude Blackburn and Biddie Boddie, presidents of the French and Spanish groups, respectively, led the celebration. Elise Montgomery discussed the Christmas season in Mexico, and Claude Blackburn described Christmas customs in France. After preliminary notes on the religious aspects of the scene, the group adjourned to an adjacent room where a crib had been arranged. Gladys Tippet sang "Silent Night" in French, and Biddie Boddie sang the Spanish version, after which the entire group sang it in English. The celebration ended with a Mexican "Pinata" filled with nuts and candy, and refreshments.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

The program opened with several members of the freshman and sophomore classes decorating the chapel with garlands of Christmas leaves and wreaths and lighting the candles on the stage.

After this the representatives of the junior and senior classes marched in to take their places on the sides of the chapel.

A short talk was then given by Gilbert Hetherwick, after which Roland Achee gave the scripture reading.

The lighting ceremony followed with each senior lighting his candle from the large candle at the front of the assembly and in turn lighting each junior's candle from his own.

Then followed several carols by the student body in addition to some chorus renditions by the Centenary choir.

Appearing on the program were Dr. Katherine French, Ralph Squires, Alvin C. Voran and Roland Achee.

Also a part of the Christmas celebration was the annual gift collection for the janitors of the school. This is a yearly event at Centenary and a most worthy one.

The program was closed by Dr. French, who pronounced the benediction.

Centenary Unit Of Red Cross Is Established

The women of the college assembled Friday, December 12, during the chapel hour, to discuss various means of assistance that could be given to the American Red Cross during the war. It was decided to establish a unit of the Caddo chapter of the American Red Cross on Centenary campus, and a committee of five was selected by the women students present to represent the college and to make possible arrangements for the planned unit. The committee, headed by Mrs. Bryant Davidson, faculty representative and sponsor, included Helen Dwire, Lou Dell Liston, Jimmy Thibodeaux, Elise Montgomery and Ann Burnette.

Permission for the Centenary unit was granted by Mrs. Douglas Lee, president of the local Red Cross chapter, and plans were made for immediate organization. Dr. Cline granted authority to the committee for the use of the sitting room in the Student Union building, and in the near future the unit will establish headquarters there.

First project is the knitting of fifty sweaters toward the required parish quota. The yarn was obtained for the knitted garments and assigned to women students on Sunday, December 13th, at a meeting in the Zeta house on the campus. Additional activity includes assistance of the drivers and aides in the auxiliary motor corps.

Many courses are offered by the Caddo chapter, and the Centenary

(Continued on Page Four)

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Member
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan; Associate, Luther Hardin
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Betty Gordon Smith, Ellen Eastham, Hutch Phillips, Jack Keenan, Eleanor Brown, Dudley Beene, Gloria Brown, Jake Cullick, Mary Foster Peyton, Emily Prothro, J. L. Solomon, and Arthur Shuey

Board of Trustees Resolution

Following is the complete text of the resolution adopted Friday night by the board of trustees of Centenary college:

"RESOLVED—FIRST, That this board acknowledges and appreciates both the financial and spiritual interest and support given by the Louisiana Methodist conference to Centenary college.

"SECOND, That the charter clearly empowers the Board of Trustees to operate and govern the college, and this board pledges itself to the conference and the public to conform to the organic provisions of the charter.

"THIRD, That, inasmuch as it is the proper function of the president and faculty to establish a curriculum, maintain discipline and regulate student life this board hereby repeals all former acts on these subjects and authorize the president and faculty to proceed with such a policy and program as they deem wise, sustained by the authority and support of the board."

Thus is a matter which so closely affects each of the Centenary students settled once and for all, by placing all power of regulation in the hands of a faculty which has many times in the past shown its capability and dependability in making decisions in which the welfare of the students is concerned.

No group of any type could realize the needs of a student body of a college better than the faculty of that college. It is hard to see why this very step has waited until 1941 to take place.

The resolution is to be commended not only for the change it brings about, but also for the courteous manner in which it puts forth its rule. First it expresses appreciation for all financial, and spiritual interest the conference has felt in the school for years past. This is as it should be, because certainly no one will maintain that a college founded on Christian principles should at any time fail to recognize the values of such associations.

Secondly, the resolution points out that it pledges itself to conform strictly to the "organic provisions of the charter."

Finally by repealing all former acts on the subjects of curriculum, discipline and student life, the Board authorizes the president and faculty to "proceed with such a policy and program as they deem wise."

This might well be termed the Magna Charter of students at Centenary, because, from this time on, they realize that all regulations on their activities will have been made by a group of men and women who have been associated with them for a long enough time to realize the needs of the students. Moreover, all regulations imposed will be as a result of first hand experience and will be drafted in a manner which will most completely cover the issue in question.

Certainly it will be much easier to understand rulings about various activities, now that it will be possible actually to talk with the authors of the restrictions and have the reasons for their passage carefully outlined and explained.

The Board of Trustees is to be commended on its wise solution to a hitherto embarrassing situation.

Candle Lighting

With the traditional candle lighting ceremony in Chapel another Christmas season was ushered in at Centenary. Representatives of the senior and junior classes kept alive the custom begun years ago of passing on the light of knowledge which the seniors of today have received from their Alma Mater, to the seniors of tomorrow. In the turmoil of today this bit of symbolism is particularly appropriate in that here in the colleges and universities of America are the last candles of knowledge remaining to the war-weary world. It is our duty to see that they never go out, but instead by their light they shall guide the down trodden peoples of the earth to their higher destinies above and beyond the fate planned for them by their dictator rulers.

In this ceremony is inculcated the spirit of Centenary in her desire to keep the light of knowledge burning come what may. For it is in this way that she can best serve her country. Now, more than ever before, have we a need for educated men.

Throughout her glorious history Centenary has answered the call of her country. In 1861 the entire school was closed because the student body had gone to war. The graduating class of that year died to a man on the battle-

HOW YOU CAN "KEEP 'EM FLYING!"

I WONDER HOW I COULD BECOME AN AVIATION CADET LIKE THAT GUY?

THOSE 3 SIGNS TELL ALL

1. YOU'RE ELIGIBLE IF YOU ARE:
UNMARRIED -
BETWEEN THE AGES OF 20 AND 26 -
U.S. CITIZEN FOR 10 YEARS -
PASS MENTAL EXAM, FROM WHICH CERTAIN COLLEGE WORK WILL EXEMPT YOU.

2. HOW TO GET STARTED!
SECURE 3 APPLICATION BLANKS AT ANY ARMY RECRUITING OFFICE OR WRITE THE SECRETARY, RANDOLPH FIELD, TEXAS
RETURN APPLICATION BLANKS WITH 3 LETTERS OF RECOMMENDATION - RECORD OF COLLEGE CREDITS AND BIRTH CERTIFICATE.
YOU'LL BE NOTIFIED WHEN TO REPORT FOR PHYSICAL EXAM - AND WHERE TO REPORT FOR TRAINING...

3. AFTER YOU'RE IN -
YOU RECEIVE 41 WKS. TRAINING - FLY 200 HRS. AND RECEIVE $25,000 COURSE IN MILITARY PILOT EDUCATION!
YOU GET A COMMISSION AS A 2ND LT. IN THE ARMY AIR CORPS WITH MONTHLY PAY FROM $205 TO $245!

THAT'S ALL THERE IS TO IT!

SOUNDS EASY TO ME-

WHAT ARE YOU WAITING ON?

NANK OFFMAN

CONGLOMERATION

Willy poisoned father's tea, Father died in agony, Mother looked extremely vexed, "Really, Will," said she, "what next?"

—Anonymous.

Well, comes the last edition of the paper before the holidays. We want first of all to wish all you guys and gals a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year . . . if you read this column regularly you deserve them.

Looks like two more of the ex-students are marching down the aisle . . . George Cummings and Sudy Baker will take the fatal step tonight. Last we saw of George he had just remembered that he hadn't reserved a preacher for the occasion . . . just a minor detail.

Noticed ye old sports writer, Luther Hardin, shakin' a wicked leg at the Chi O dance the other night. Also saw Scott tripping the light fantastic . . . as a matter of fact he not only tripped it but after it fell down he proceeded to stomp it to death.

We think those Centenary cagers deserve some praise. Do you realize that they haven't lost a game this season?

Incidentally, if any of you should run across a gray notebook full of economics notes we would certainly appreciate your turning it in to the office . . . a matter of life and death, as any eco major can tell you.

While we're on this subject, why don't some of you enterprising young ladies start a rumor circulating that you would just as soon have the equivalent in defense stamps instead of the corsages received. A few are O. K., naturally, but it must get monotonous sometimes. Incidentally, Susie Mulkey field fighting for the lost cause. But today we have no lost cause . . . ours is a cause that can never be lost. Man has not struggled down through the centuries for the freedom and liberty which has reached its culmination in the United States of America only to lose it over night to a treacherous enemy.

Yes, Centenary will do her share in the dark days to come. And her share in these days will be to keep the candles of knowledge burning as a beacon, lighting the way up from the darkness of war to the fulfillment of that everlasting promise:

"Peace on earth; good will to men!"

CENTENARY ABANDONS FOOTBALL

For the first time since Bo McMillan first began work creating a football team, whose renown was to spread all over the nation as being the "little giant killers" of the sport, 1942 will find Centenary with no representatives in intercollegiate competition. Thus does a long and glorious football career, which raised the school from the ranks of the unknown to a spot equalled by few in the sport, come to an end.

It is to be hoped that, for the welfare of the school in general, active competition will once more be resumed at the close of the war. It was shown in the short campaign for funds conducted by the 1200 club that the business men of Shreveport honestly realize that a good football team is favorable publicity for the city, and that they will aid the athletic department financially when such help is needed.

So, we say goodbye to the sport for a short while and anxiously look forward to its resumption in a year or so.

thanked the K A's for her flowers to the Chi O dance . . . they're going to audit the books tomorrow.

By the way, speaking of Susie, we saw Marshall dancing a no-break the other night for a change . . . if you know what we mean. However, Kinnebrew was also on hand. We had better keep our eye on that affair . . . for latest bulletins on the recent developments keep tuned in to the no-breaks and read your Friday morning newspaper.

Well, well, the space for this column is all filled up and we haven't said anything yet. That is what you call art . . . in polite circles.

This Collegiate World

Two Kent State (Ohio) university men were ejected from their rooming house by an irate house-mother one night recently. Unable to contact the dean of men or the dean of women, they phoned President K. C. Leebrick of the university as a last resort.

They spent the night as guests of the president.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

The Gentlemen Sit Up and Take Notice

Glamour! Glamour! Just who has it around these parts? In a survey taken this week on the Centenary campus we received the following answers from the gentlemen:

Hutch Phillips—Hair, Jane Barlette; eyes, Virginia Friddle; figure, Ann Burnette; mouth, Dorothy Graham; personality, Susie Mulkey; disposition, Carolyn Colburn.

Bill Patton—Hair, Dorothy Viosca; eyes, Mary Smith New; mouth, don't interest me! Figure, Virginia Friddle; personality, Ann Thibodeaux; disposition, Ann Burnette.

Dudley Beene—Hair, Jane Barlette; eyes, Virginia Friddle; mouth, Dorothy Graham; figure, Ann Burnette; personality, Carolyn Colburn; disposition, Susie Mulkey.

Baron Johns—Hair, Ellen Eastham; eyes, Dorothy Viosca; mouth, don't look at 'em! Figure, Virginia Friddle; personality, Ann Burnette; disposition, Ann Burnette.

Al Richardson—Hair, Mary Smith New; eyes, Mary Smith New; mouth, Mary Smith New; figure, Glenney Harmon; personality, Glenney Harmon; disposition, Lucille Webb.

Claude Whitehurst—Hair, Patsy Coffee; eyes, Carolyn Colburn; mouth, Jane Barlette; personality, Glenney Harmon; disposition, Susie Mulkey; figure, Carolyn Williams.

Dick Gibbs—Hair, Dorothy Tucker; eyes, Carolyn Colburn; mouth, Carolyn Boyet; figure, Feliz Hicks; personality, Susie Mulkey; disposition, Glenney Harmon.

So you see, everybody thinks something different. Combine some of these features and you would really have some gal!

This Collegiate World

In Monson, Mass., 19-year-old Robert S. Fay thoroughly disliked the job of tending the coal hopper on the family's stoker-fed steam boiler. He perfected an elevator to do it for him.

So what happened? He won the Yankee ingenuity scholarship of $500 at Worcester Polytechnic institute.

Fay made his machine from an abandoned ensilage feeder and parts of an old grist mill. For power he harnessed an idle gasoline lawn mower motor.

REX Phone 7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

Fri., Sat., Dec. 19, 20
"NAVY BLUES"
Ann Sheridan, Jack Oakie,
Martha Raye
Cartoon and Serial

Sun., Mon. and Tues., Dec. 21, 22, 23
"NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH"
Bob Hope, Paulette Goddard
Cartoon—First Run News

Wednesday Only, Dec. 24
"CITIZEN KANE"
Orson Welles
Cartoon and First Run News

Thursday Only, Dec. 25
"GREAT GUNS"
Laurel and Hardy
Cartoon—Community Sing
First Run News

Attention, Greek Letter Organizations!

All types of merchandise are, through necessity, rapidly becoming scarce! Our business is affected by National Defense measures as well as every other business. We have made arrangements with our manufacturers to take orders for Badges, Crests and other fraternity and sorority emblems until the 21st of this month, and guarantee delivery for Christmas. WE STILL SAY—SHOP NOW FOR YOUR XMAS JEWELRY AT—

LEONARD'S

320-322 Ward Bldg.

Phone 2-5088

Gentlemen Play Texas A. & M. Cagers at Centenary Gym Tonight

CENTENARY MEETS STRONG S.W. CONFERENCE FOE ON HOME COURT

Last Year's Runner-up in Conference Race Appears in Shreveport Tonight

A Southwest conference team, Texas A. & M. Cadets, will invade our campus tonight for a single basketball game. The Cadets will present probably the strongest cage team to play here throughout the Gents' schedule. Texas A. & M., runner-up to Arkansas in last year's Southwest conference race, has practically the same team this year as most all lettermen returned.

The Cadets also have exceptionally good reserve strength and substitute frequently.

However, the team has been handicapped by the absence of Captain Bill (Jitterbug) Henderson who will be busy with the football team until after Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl game. Likewise, Leonard (Slats) Holder and Marion (Pete) Slaughter, first year candidates and good prospects, also will be tied up on the gridiron.

Coach Karow also doubles as backfield coach and therefore is high behind on cage workouts. He does manage to lay his plans and then turns the work over to one of the senior players to carry out but at the best, Marty gets but about 15 minutes a day with the squad.

Henderson missed the opener on Dec. 8 against the Sam Houston Teachers as he will be en route back from Tacoma, Wash., but will take part in the games of Dec. 12, 16, 17, 18, 19 against North Texas Teachers at College Station, Phillips 66 at Houston and Texas Tech at Houston, Louisiana State at Baton Rouge and Centenary at Shreveport on those respective dates. His total time for mable floor work so far will not total one hour all practice season since Oct. 1 so he will need those games to sharpen his eye toward the opening of the Southwest conference season on Jan. 10. Holder and Slaughter have not worked at all.

Our Gents have a good record up to this game, having won three games.

"Bo" Whitten, sophomore forward, is counted on to lead the offensive. Of course Alex Penny, the veteran forward, will be in there leading the Gent attack.

Melbourne "Moe" Crawford and Jud Thornton will be at the guard positions and they present a strong defense. Ed Hoynoski, who has been starting at center, will hold down the pivot position.

Coach Smith has a second team almost as strong as the first quintet in Alvin Martin, center; Dick Hines, guard; Jack Nash, forward, and Maurice Odom, forward.

This is expected to be the game of the year.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

GENT QUINTET IN 43-35 WIN OVER LOYOLA

Rally in Second Half Gives Victory to Gentlemen

It was "Sophomore Night" again at Centenary last evening, but this time the guiding light of the Centenary college maroon and white color-bearers was Judson Thornton, who dropped in 15 points to pace the Gentlemen cagers to a 43-35 victory over the Loyola university Wolfpack of New Orleans.

Trailing 19-17 as they took the floor for the second half, the Gents struck back with a devastating offensive that spurred them on to triumph.

Though their teamwork in the first half was far from ragged, their splendid co-ordination in the second half completely swept the visitors off their feet. With Melbourne Crawford, veteran guard, directing play, the locals moved deep into the Wolfpack's territory and then picked their spots to execute perfectly-timed plays.

Thornton, who proved in the double triumph over Magnolia last week that he had the stuff, uncorked a superb performance in bagging seven baskets from the field and one from the charity lane. He was never lagging in his play, always on his toes, backing up shots, retrieving the ball off the blackboard and breaking through to smear enemy plays.

Ed Hoynoski, center, and Crawford, guard, were principle factors on both offense and defense.

Bernard M. Fitzgerald, professor of evidence at Loyola university law school, is serving as special counsel with the compliance division of price administration and civilian supply at Washington.

Four professors of physics at Cornell university have left the campus to take defense positions.

Jack Remelton, erstwhile gunner on H.M.S. Halaya, created a stir among coeds when he registered in the business school of New York university.

Please patronize our advertisers.

TEXAS A. & M.

Henderson

R. Jarrett

A Connotary Of Good Living

A simple definition of good manners: A consideration of the rights and feelings of others.

Don't push through life. Move slowly enough to feel the things that are happening to you, and to know and care what other people are experiencing.

Don't try to be like any other person. Your magnetism comes from you—because you're YOU.

"Clothes make the man" and clothes get the man.

Kindness, courtesy, tact, good everywhere among people of refinement. These qualities give an atmosphere to the home.

The most important thing about introductions is to be natural and at ease.

A high brow is one whose education exceeds his intelligence.

Good manners—the happy way of doing things.—Emerson.

The person who has a gay humor without malice is a joy to everyone.

It is an art to be able to speak intelligently and to listen sympathetically.

To be a good conversationalist you must have other people's interests at heart.

Tact—the art of letting people know what you mean without saying it.

Extend your conversation beyond the morning mail and last night's date.

A dropping hem can ruin even a Paris gown.

Smile frequently—that is one thing you can give everybody without it costing you a cent.

Dr. William A. Nielander, University of Texas marketing expert, has been summoned to Washington to assume an executive-research post in the office of price administration.

TEXAS A. & M.

F. Nabors

GENTS FROSH WIN OVER BYRD

Centenary's freshman cage team, not to be outdone by the varsity's continuous winning, won their opening game of the year over Byrd High in the preliminary game last Friday night.

Getting off to a good start the frosh led at the half, 24 to 4. In the second half the Byrd High Yellow Jackets got to clicking and scored eight points while our frosh team scored 11.

Truman Crawford, Everett Ward and Ivy Currington led the offense for the frosh, while Howard "Arky" Rogers and Gerald Ferschoff played good defensive games.

The frosh play Doyline high school here tonight as a preliminary to the varsity's entanglement with Texas A. & M.

3 Reasons for Buying U. S. Defense Bonds: Germany, Italy, Japan

GENTLEMEN SWEEP SERIES TO MAINTAIN UNDEFEATED RECORD

Centenary's cage team is still on rampage, winning their third consecutive game without a loss. The victim this time of a two-game series was the Magnolia A. & M. Muleriders of Magnolia, Arkansas. The Gents ran into tough going on the Arkansas boys' court, but had enough "never-give-up" spirit to rally and win, 58 to 50.

Ed Hoynoski, star center, hit his stride and led the team in scoring with 14 points. Alex Penny, senior forward, trailed with 12 points. The sophomore room mates, Whitten and Thornton, still showed class on the floor and each racked up 10 points.

The Gents found the Muleriders easy going on their home court and took them in handy by the score of 52 to 24.

Again the sophomore basketweavers "Jud" Thornton and "Bo" Whitten sparked the team to victory. Whitten was high individual scorer with 15 points, by virtue of seven field goals and one free toss. Thornton's floor work was outstanding throughout the game.

Although the yearlings on the club attracted plenty of attention, Alex Penny, offensive star of last year's team, tallied 11 points for the Gents.

Melbourne "Moe" Crawford, dependable guard, was the defensive star of the game and was instrumental in several scoring plays.

Daugherty, Martin, Nash, Odom, Hines clicked and showed Coach Smith that they could handle the Muleriders.

FROSH DEFEAT CAMP POLK

The Centenary freshman basketball team trounced the team from Camp Polk last Wednesday night to the tune of 49 to 7. The future Gentlemen displayed fine form in this contest.

Here is proof that Canada is military-minded:

Royal Canadian air force pilots, visiting Kent to participate in Defense day, inquired of Kent State university co-eds whether their tan raincoats were uniforms furnished them by the university.

FOR BETTER SCHOOL WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co. Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

pointers, using a tricky bounce pass to move the oval into his mates' hands in enemy territory. His work on the defense was beyond reproach and, before he left the game via the personal foul route, his foe dropped in only one basket from the field."

Which gives you an idea.

ARKANSAS
LOUISIANA
GAS
COMPANY

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt, Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

and buried. Which brings us to our gentlemen of the week, who are two. We speak of a pair of bright young men who can do everything with a basketball but eat it—and do not wave salt and pepper before them when they are performing their court pyrotechnics. They are "Bo" Whitten and Judson Thornton, and we will let a city sportswriter tell you all about them.

"A pair of sophomore basketweavers, "Bo" Whitten and Judson Thornton, turned in impressive performances in their initial bow before home fans Friday night, pacing the Centenary college maroon and white Gentlemen cagers to a 52-24 victory over the Magnolia A. & M. Muleriders in the local gymnasium.

"Thornton and Whitten gave excellent accounts of themselves in their home debut as members of the Gents quintet, bagging seven field goals and a charity toss and displayed phenomenal ball-handling wizardry. He executed many fine passes and his ability in snatching the ball off the blackboard gave the locals a decided advantage on the offensive. Though a fine long-range basketweaver, Whitten registered most of his points on a neat hook-shot.

"Extremely fast and an excellent floor man, Thornton made possible many of the Gents two-

Season's Greetings

We assure you of our appreciation of your patronage during the past year and ask you to accept our wishes for a happy and successful New Year.

Cameron's Barber Shop

BILL FOLDS

SHAVING SETS

FOR XMAS GIFTS SHOP

KIDD-RUSS TRUNK and BAG CO.

505 MILAM STREET

LADIES' PURSES

LEATHER GOODS

This Christmas

Watches
Vanities
Locketts
Bracelets
Billfolds
Tie Sets
Key Chains

GIVE Jewelry

THE PERFECT GIFT

CRESCENT JEWELRY CO.
325 Texas St.

Dolph Frantz Has Taught Journalism At Centenary College For Last Ten Years

Prof. Dolph Frantz, instructor in Journalism at Centenary College, tells in a recent interview, of all his experience in and out of the newspaper business.

He was graduated from Millsaps College where he was studying law. He planned to continue his studies at the university, but due to financial troubles, he went to work in a newspaper office in Jackson. Three months later, when he was told that the Shreveport Times was looking for a cub

English Required For College Seniors

Dr. Charles E. Friley, president of Iowa State college, has announced a plan under which seniors must show acceptable ability in English before they can be graduated.

The plan requires that the student must do more than merely submit grades obtained in English courses as evidence that his written and spoken use of the language measures up to a fair standard of clearness and accuracy. He must take an examination in English during the first quarter of his senior year.

Students who fail the examination will be given opportunity for remedial work in a writing clinic or in courses in English, and may take a later examination.

Dr. Guy S. Green, head of English and speech here, asserts that employers more and more are emphasizing the importance of good English.

RED CROSS

(Continued from Page One)

unit is co-operating in every way possible. There are plans being discussed for a sewing room at the college. At the present time the only sewing assistance that can be given must be in the Red Cross sewing rooms located in the El Karubah temple on Cotton street. Instructions in home nursing will begin in January for the students. Many have signed for this phase of activity, and it is believed this course will be popular with the women students. This particular course covers a period of six weeks and the Red Cross is anxious to have as many as possible enroll, as there is immediate need of practical nursing and nurses' aides in home and field activity. The college curriculum includes the first aid course established by the American Red Cross, but a second set of classes and instruction may be offered in this field after the first of the year as public classes on the campus.

Anyone desiring to assist in any field may contact Mrs. Davidson or a member of the committee. There is no time or limit to the amount of work that can be done through the American Red Cross, and workers are greatly needed in both the Centenary unit and the Caddo chapter. Enroll now!

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

reporter, he quit his job, came to Shreveport, and held that position until he resigned three years later.

Mr. Frantz then became City Auditor and private secretary to the Mayor. Due to his love for the newspaper business, he resigned a year later to have a partnership with the City Editor of the Journal in a newspaper they had bought. This lasted only a few months because Mr. Frantz was soon elected secretary of a campaign for mayor. He quit his job and devoted all of his time to the campaigning, but all was in vain for his candidate lost by one vote. He was jobless and downhearted.

Good luck turned with him then, when the Journal offered him the City Editor's post. Mr. Frantz held that position for several years, when, because the Editor changed an interview, he resigned and went to work for the Times as Special Reporter.

A few months later he was elected secretary of the State Fair, then City Auditor, and a year later, he began another job, which he has held for twenty-two years, as Managing Editor of the Shreveport Journal. For the last ten years he has been teaching journalism at Centenary.

During the interview Mr. Frantz said, "I never knew why they asked me to teach journalism, but I've really enjoyed it."

Mr. Frantz is President of the State Press Association, Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, on the National Boy Scout Council, and one of Louisiana's most well known men. He has always taken an active part in any enterprise of a civic nature.

Prop Me, Daddy, or He's Just a Hanger-on

"Here I was, hanging by my toes from the burning plane," revved Wally modestly.

"How brave! Stuka lot of courage," gurgled Liza.

"Oh, any obStuka pilot could have done the same," our hero idled, Boeing low.

"I'd much rudder stay on the ground and see you fly," Liza sighed. "I only B-19."

"Let's cruise back to basic operations," Wally goggled, "I'd like us to be dual-controlled together by a sky-pilot. Or were you Blenheim to do something else this evening? I have the ring."

"I never re-fuselage ring," she sputtered, "but I'm really Consolidated to another."

"Douglas you know my heart has taken a crash landing," he conked, "but since my banking on you has failed, I Piper cub flying this way whom I can overhaul."

"Don't be a fuel," Liza warned, "she's Junker than I am."

"I'm going to say something," Wally roared.

"Chute," Liza replied.

He fired six times.

Moral: It's cheaper to stabilizer than to shoot her.

—Boston University News.

FASHION

If any of you co-eds are not clicking size five or seven knitting needles back and forth in the knitting and purling of small, medium, and large sweaters, consider yourself an outsider! Patriotism and women! Since a certain sign was placed upon the sub bulletin-board last week inviting all gals "with hopes" to sign toward the W. A. A. F. (Women's Air for American Forces), the gals have been busy. Centenary college now is the home of a unit of the American Red Cross (see page 1), and enlistments for duty midst the clicking needles and chatting tongues are overflowing. And, we are asked to inform those who may question, there is still yarn and activity in several fields waiting those who can assist.

Our life at Centenary has been a pleasant one, and it will no doubt continue so. The new year and new term will see departure of familiar faces and the arrival of some new ones. Even, perhaps, the return of former schoolmates. A few of us celebrate our Christmas holidays as seniors, and others of us celebrate it for a final time for various and numerous reasons. After the holiday is over, we feel that time will be taken in comprehensive, civilian defense, and enlistments. Many of our Centenary Gentlemen have already departed for service in one of Uncle Sam's forces. Others are remaining at school to complete the term, or to obtain information and knowledge in the courses in which our government encourages its civilians to school themselves. Each feels that we can serve ourselves best by serving our country, and we are quickly falling into the line of duty in which we are most capable and efficient. But, Christmas time has come to the world once more, and for a few short minutes we must push back, but not aside, the thoughts of war, of future, and other things we can not conceive or determine. We must wish one another happiness. We must join the multitude and pray for peace. The world is made up of little people. We are but a minute section, but God has been good to us and our home, and we must help Him, the world, and ourselves, by making this Christmas ring with hope for a PEACE ON EARTH AND GOOD WILL TOWARD MEN.

We perhaps sound like a composition of the Dorothys Dix and Thompson, Elsie Robinson, Billy Sunday and Churchill, and admit we are none too versed in expression of such thoughts, simple tho' they may be. Nevertheless, we are sincere. Perhaps we will borrow, as do thousands of others of pen and type-ribbon, the words Dickens placed in the mouth of Tiny Tim, thus saying for all—GOD BLESS US EVERYONE.

Unidentified but thorough intruders in Seattle's college's 24,000-book library one night turned the volumes around on their shelves, their ends and titles to the wall.

A half dozen patient co-eds were busy for days re-arranging the books. Meantime library business was suspended.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

'PRETTIEST'?

Well started on the lucky road that took Ginny Simms, Dorothy Lamour, the Lane Sisters and other band vocalists to Hollywood, is pretty Helen O'Connell, above, singer with Jimmy Dorsey's band. Helen, often called "the prettiest band vocalist in the business" was recently featured in the Paramount movie, "The Fleet's In," which will be released early in 1942. The studio was reported so pleased with her work that they asked her for a long-time contract. She hasn't said "yes" yet, however.

KOLLEGE KAPERS

(Continued from Page One)

Jean Evans. After hearing her sing "Basin Street Blues" I am convinced she is tops. For Kapers Jean sings those slow, blue songs; but she personally likes slow, sweet music. This is her first year with the show and her first time to sing in public.

If you hear someone singing "You Betcha My Life" it is more than likely pretty Martha Stevens. This is her first year with Kapers and she is looking forward to a big year. Like Cleo, Martha sings the "bouncy" type of songs. She doesn't care for jitterbug music but prefers the sentimental kind. Martha is in one of the dances and is in the play. She told me to tell you (amusing but confusing) to ask Bill Patton what happened at Kapers practice a week ago last Monday. (Now, she has you on the spot, Bill!) While we are on the subject of Martha Stevens and this "asking business" you might also ask Camp Flournoy why he calls Martha a teapot.

For Refreshing Cold Drinks and Delicious "CUB-BURGERS," Visit... THE CUB East Kings Hwy. Phone 7-7301

Collegiate Briefs

More than 60 per cent of students work at the University of Texas.

In 1859 the University of North Carolina had the second largest student body in America.

Tulane university is 107 years old.

Iowa State college recently held a three-day school for electric meter testers and meter repairmen.

Harris Everett, tennis captain-elect at University of North Carolina, has volunteered for the royal Canadian air force, and expects orders to report soon.

Nine fellowship students are among 135 Latin Americans enrolled at Louisiana State university.

Enrollment figures at the University of Michigan show an increase of 150 women over last year, with 787 fewer men students.

Brockport (N. Y.) State Normal school is entering its seventy-fifth year.

Freshman curriculum at Brooklyn Polytechnic institute has been lightened considerably, as the result of a study of freshman loads undertaken by faculty committees.

The placement bureau of Bemiji (Minn.) State Teachers college has placed 96.4 per cent of all candidates for positions in the last five years.

For Distinctive Christmas Gifts

Visit

Crescent Jewelry Co.

325 Texas St.

Next door to new Commercial Bank Bldg.

ANNOUNCING: MRS. H. HAYES, lady barber

Very competent and able to render the scientific services besides regular barber work

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

LOUIS APPFEL, Owner

129 Kings Hwy.

This Year
More Than Ever
Buy Your Gifts From PEACOCK'S
and You
Buy The Finest

Peacock's
CREDIT JEWELERS

419 TEXAS STREET SHREVEPORT

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomee Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Finnell, President.....7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalee Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 2-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer.....7-2554
Lamba Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to CONGLOMERATE at once. When absent officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

STUDENT'S DRAFT

BANK OF GOOD FRIENDS

PAY TO THE
ORDER OF

ALL CENTENARY STUDENTS

$ 365 DAYS

THREE HUNDRED SIXTY FIVE (DAYS OF HAPPINESS)

DOLLARS

WITH EXCHANGE

THROUGHOUT THE
NEW YEAR AND OTHERS
TO COME

BROADMOOR FLORAL SHOP

MRS. SARA TULLY

3803 YOUREE DRIVE

HAPPY NEW YEAR

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, January 9, 1942.

Number 14

FORECAST

On the front page of this paper today are articles about the new opportunities awaiting college men in various naval officer training schools. The two lines for which most Centenary students would be eligible are the aviation schools and the class V-7, which provides training for deck officers.

In the aviation division the requirements have been reduced to include sophomores in college, while in the other the enlistments have been opened to juniors and seniors with the understanding that they are to complete their college training for degrees before they will be called to active duty and begin actual naval training.

Upon being commissioned an ensign after completing the V-7 course, the student will have the same rank as a graduate of the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

This appears to be an excellent opportunity for the college graduate to "cash in" on his four years spent in school, while at the same time doing his share to help the country win the war.

There are doubtless other opportunities awaiting college graduates who have specialized in certain fields, such as chemistry, for example; but for the average college student who has taken a "general" course, these officer training programs begun by the Navy do provide a way in which he can make use of his previous training and go to war as a commissioned officer rather than as a buck private.

Centenary Has Several Alumni in New York

In looking through the files of the Centenary Alumni, it was discovered recently that the school has several graduates now living in the New York City area.

The oldest from point of graduation is Walter Pearce Holcombe, who graduated in 1896 from Centenary. During his college career he was a member of Kappa Alpha Fraternity and at present he is vice-president of the Brooklyn Edison Company.

The class of 1924 found Eric J. Devine in its number. Mr. Devine is now employed by Doubleday-Doran Book Company in New York.

Robert Bozeman became an alumnus of the school in 1928, as did Mrs. Roy Siefert in 1931.

Rev. George S. Siudy, Jr., graduated in 1935 and is at present located at Drew University in New York.

It is always interesting to discover that former students of our school have traveled so widely after graduation.

DEAN OF TULANE MED SCHOOL NOW IN NAVY

New Orleans.—Dr. Maxwell Edward Lapham, dean of the School of Medicine of Tulane University, recently reported for active duty as a lieutenant commander in the United States Naval Reserve, to serve as assistant to the medical officer of the Eighth Naval District.

Prof. Davidson Speaks To Byrd P.-T. A. Thursday

Last night Mr. Bryant Davidson of the college faculty was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Byrd High School Parent-Teacher Association. Mr. Davidson addressed an interested crowd on the subject of "World Conditions."

NAVAL RESERVE AVIATION WILL INCLUDE SOPHS

Enlistments in Flying Classes Extended to Sophomores

New Orleans.—Launching a drive to procure 2,500 aviation pilots each month for combat fliers in the aviation wing of the U. S. Navy, the Navy Department extended enlistments in the Naval Reserve Aviation class to include sophomores in college and announced that all men enlisting as volunteers in Class V-5 will be eligible for active duty at the end of their current school year.

The enrollment of sophomores in college as potential candidates for commissions in the Naval Reserve Aviation is the result of an effort by the Navy Department to build up the pool of able-bodied young men to take the place of the thousands of young Naval pilots now passing through Naval Air Training Stations for duty with the fleet.

Qualifications

Candidates for appointment as Aviation Cadets must:

(a) Be a male citizen of the United States for a period of at least ten years.

(b) Be not less than twenty years of age, and have not reached his twenty-seventh birthday at the time of enlistment as seaman, second class.

(c) Agree to remain on active duty four years, including period undergoing training as aviation cadet, unless sooner released by the Navy Department.

(d) Be unmarried, must not previously have been married, and must agree to remain unmarried until the expiration of two years from the date of entering upon active duty.

(e) Be educationally, morally, physically and psychologically qualified.

College juniors and seniors, after enlistment in Class V-5, may be deferred from call to active duty until completion of their current year, if they so request. Thereafter they will be assigned to active training duty in the earliest class in which they can be accommodated.

December Meeting of Cenhomec Club Held

The members of Cenhomec held their December meeting at Colonial Hall on Thursday, December 11.

Miss Etta Kentz, interior decorator from Hemenway-Johnson, was guest speaker. Her discussion concerned the "Home in Defense," and she brought out forcibly the important part the home plays in defense. Miss Kentz displayed numerous textiles, which she combined to make appropriate color schemes for the home.

After the program, popcorn balls were served, and Christmas gifts were exchanged. The gifts were later taken to the Charity hospital.

Hostesses for the occasion were Phyllis Terry, Patsy Coffey, Jeanne Maynard, and Martha Lewis.

Those present were Aline Breithaupt, Virginia Breithaupt, Helen Conroy, Marilyn Dickson, Dorothy Durr, Lillian Gibson, Lucille Miller, Marcelle Totter, Meredith Lawless, Lucille Webb, Rethie Ward, Miss Ware, Miss Kentz, and Mrs. Cox.

Come On, Centenary, Let's Start the New Year Right

The time is now at hand for all those well-meant New Year's resolutions that everyone delights in breaking so soon. But this year, let us decide right here and now that this year of 1942 will be a great one if we personally can do anything to help make it so.

Suppose we all unite in making some resolutions that we will adhere to for the remainder of the year, and make it a point to remember them. As a starting point the Conglomerate suggests something like the following:

1. Now that we have a nice looking Student Union Building (and there are many who can remember when we did not), to say nothing of a first-rate Science Building, let everyone do his share in seeing that they are kept in the finest possible condition. This naturally leads to the fact that the grounds around the buildings have a great deal to do with their general appearance. Along this line we must remember that there are suitable receptacles for waste paper, old coke bottles, and such minor things that, if thrown all over the grounds before the buildings, give such a run-down appearance to the whole campus.

2. Let us learn to live up to our name and conduct ourselves as ladies and gentlemen when in the presence of same. Believe it or not, a lady can go a long way toward making a gentleman do what he should by her own actions while with him.

3. Let us try to find some means of breaking up the accusations that we have no school life and spirit on Centenary campus. We do not believe this to be the case, but we will admit that many opportunities are missed by which the school spirit could be encouraged.

For example, the annual picnic which all the students and faculty have together in May, is always such a success that it should offer the best reason in the world for other activities in which the entire school could take part. Let us try to make suggestions which would encourage a greater understanding between all the students, because we have an excellent opportunity in a school the size of Centenary.

4. Let us drive a little more carefully through the school grounds. After it happens, what can you say except that you are sorry? And cars are few and far between right now.

5. Let us help Centenary grow in quality as well as in quantity. A word to a high school friend will often help him to make up his mind. If you believe in Centenary do your part in selling Centenary to your friends who may in the future enroll as students.

6. Let us make every effort to improve our physical equipment—buildings, book supplies, floor space, (Continued on Page Two)

New Texas 'University Of the Air' Graduates Hundreds Monthly

Louisiana Has 57 Representatives At World's Largest Naval Air Station

Corpus Christi, Texas.—Louisiana, with 57 college graduates from 11 educational institutions, has one of the largest state representations at the Navy's gigantic new "University of the Air" here, it has been announced.

Louisiana State University leads with 24 alumni and Southwestern is second with seven. In addition to the four each from Tulane and Loyola Universities, there are graduates from Centenary, Louisiana College, Louisiana Normal, Northeast Junior College of LSU, and Pearl River College.

Attending this largest Naval air station in the world as cadets are former students of 551 colleges and universities. All states are represented except Maine, Vermont and Delaware.

The Corpus Christi air station is the only one offering a complete course of flying—primary, intermediate and advanced—under one single command. It takes seven months for one of the several thousand cadets, now moving through at the rate of several hundred a month, to receive a degree from one of the branches of the school.

William Causey, Band Director, Considers Position 'Great'

Mr. William Causey, who joined the school faculty last September, is head of the college band. He took over this job after Mr. Igou left to direct the national guard band at Camp Hulen.

Mr. Causey graduated from Louisiana State Normal College at Natchitoches and later attended Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois, where he worked on his master's degree.

He held the position of music supervisor in Washington parish schools in Franklinton. He considers his position at Centenary "great" and likes the band work very much.

Besides his work with the Centenary band, Mr. Causey plays trumpet in the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra of which Mr. Kilinski, also of the college faculty, is director.

The band, under Mr. Causey's direction, will give a concert in the chapel sometime this month. The program will consist of light music and several popular pieces will be featured. The band is preparing a group of selections which a majority of the students are sure to like.

Three very good reasons for buying Defense Bonds and Stamps—Germany, Italy, Japan.

Kollege Kapers Will Open '42 Season With Show Tuesday Night

After several weeks of preparation and practice, the 1942 edition of Kollege Kapers, student variety show, will be ushered in next Tuesday night with a performance at Mooringsport high school under sponsorship of the Junior Homemakers of Mooringsport.

The next scheduled show following is set for January 20 when the cast will journey to Vivian, where they will be sponsored by the Band Mothers' Club.

The Kaperites will then appear in Rodessa under auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association there on February 3. A preview has already been given the Rodessa audience when several of the members of the cast took part in a program there last month. They were well received and an article in the Rodessa paper said that the town was eagerly anticipating their return in February with their full cast for the regular show.

The annual home performances have been scheduled for the early part of April.

The show was a tremendous success everywhere it played last year and from all indications this one is as good if not better than the 1941 edition which topped all previous ones from the standpoint of drawing crowds wherever it played. Dr. S. D. Morehead, director, forecasts a successful season.

Kapers is already booked for some 20 programs in the Ark-La-Tex area. The organization has given a total of 227 shows since its formation in 1933.

FLAG DESIGN CONTEST NEARING COMPLETION

The contest begun by the Student Senate, in which a prize is offered for the best design of a flag to be used as official flag of the students of Centenary, is still in progress with several of the students preparing entries. However, student reaction has not been as wholehearted as the Senate would like to have it, because, naturally, the more drawings submitted the better chance for a really picturesque banner to be created for Centenary.

There is still plenty of time for you to make a drawing and submit it to one of the judges, who are Miss Betty Lawrence, Mr. Down Brown, Mr. Alvin Voran, Miss Ann Burnette, and Miss Jimmie Thibodeaux. So, take a little time off from your daily activities and turn in a flag design for the contest. You probably will win the prize offered.

Buy Defense Bonds and Stamps!

DR. SHAW SPEAKS TO GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL

Dr. A. M. Shaw, executive secretary of the college, was the principal speaker at the annual Girl Scout Council luncheon honoring new and retiring council members, held recently at the Caddo Hotel.

Dr. Shaw spoke of the privileges and obligations of being an American in times of crisis, emphasizing the necessity of maintaining "a calmness in times when hysteria is easy."

Slap a Jap off the map—or take the rap. Dimes for bullets!

NEW TRAINING PROGRAM FOR OFFICERS OPEN

Juniors and Seniors May Enlist and Still Graduate

Lieutenant W. L. Travis, U. S. Navy, officer in charge of Navy recruiting in the states of Louisiana and Mississippi, announces a new officers' training program, not only for college graduates, but for regularly enrolled college juniors and seniors as well.

Under this new plan, juniors and seniors may be enlisted prior to graduation, and will be continued on inactive duty until they have completed the work required for their college degree.

Accepted applicants will be enlisted as apprentice seamen, Class V-7, United States Naval Reserve, and when ordered to active training duty will receive the pay of their rating and will be furnished with all transportation and necessary expenses en route. All candidates will receive approximately 30 days elementary training at some Navy activity prior to assignment to a reserve midshipman school, with their initial outfit of uniform, clothing and equipment furnished at no expense to them.

These men will be given an insight into life aboard ship, and instructed in military discipline and in Naval customs and usage, while under observation for the basic mental and moral qualities considered necessary in candidates for commission.

At the successful completion of this preliminary period, candidates are assigned to a Reserve Midshipman School, where they will undergo approximately three months' training prior to being commissioned as Ensign, United States Naval Reserve. While at school, they have the rank of midshipmen, which carries with it a base pay of $65 per month, plus subsistence and lodging allowances.

Requirements

Each applicant must fulfill the following requirements:

1. Be native-born male citizens of the United States, not less than 19 and under 28 years of age, as of date of enlistment.

2. Meet physical requirements for Ensign, D-V (G), U.S.N.R.

3. Be of good repute in his community and furnish three letters of recommendation on letterhead stationery from responsible citizens in his community.

4. Be unmarried on date of enlistment, and agree not to marry prior to completion of reserve midshipman training.

5. Furnish a properly authenticated birth certificate or other evidence of date of birth.

6. Have taken, in college, at least two one-semester courses, or their equivalent, in mathematics of college grade; submit credit for a course in plane trigonometry taken in any accredited school or college.

For further information, apply to U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, Post Office Building, Shreveport, Louisiana.

CLUB NEWS

Cencoe

The Cencoe Club will entertain Saturday night with a dance at the Broadmoor Club from 9 until 12.

Buy Defense Bonds and Stamps!

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

Member

Associated Collegiate Press

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan; Associate, Luther Hardin
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Mary Foster Peyton, Jake Cullick, Ellen Eastham, J. L. Soloman, Arthur Shuey.

TO WIN THE WAR

Right now the thing on everyone's mind and tongue is the vital question, "What can I do to help win the war?" For most of us that question will be answered in the very near future when we put on a uniform and shoulder a gun; but lest we tend to forget that America needs everybody doing something to help win the war right now, let us stop and remember that the main weapon against the Axis is money.

Now, that is one weapon with which every one of us can take a shot at our yellow neighbors. Whether we anticipate a quick departure for the ranks of the army or the deck of a ship, or whether we plan to remain behind the lines as nurses, knitters, or what have you, we all must realize that all the knitted sweaters in the world cannot possibly kill a Jap, unless you hold him down and smother him to death.

It takes bullets and plenty of them for the front line troops to show the Axis brethren that we mean business. And to provide those bullets, the government needs money, which they plan to receive from the public by the sale of many Defense Bonds and Stamps. Our job is to buy and sell these bonds and stamps to the utmost of our ability.

Of course this is not to be interpreted as meaning that we in any way fail to recognize the merit of the Red Cross work on the campus in making the sweaters and mittens. Such work is to be commended highly and encouraged, because undoubtedly these are needed by the soldiers, in some cases—as the plight of the Germans in Russia shows—almost as much as the bullets themselves. This is certainly an essential part of our war effort, and shows that the fairer sex are anxious to do their part. Moreover, all girls should be made to realize that this type of work provides them with yet another way they can have a part in winning the war. The value of such cooperation was proved in the last war, and it is to be hoped that the women of today answer the call of their country as well as did those of yesterday.

So, students, try to do everything in your power to help in the national effort; and whatever you may be called upon to do, also find time and money to buy and sell Defense Bonds and Stamps that will win this war in the long run.

Come On, Centenary, Let's BEGIN THE YEAR RIGHT and the like. Any improvement, or even suggestion for improvement, will be welcomed.

(Continued from Page One)

7. Let us put aside trivial matters, and come to a true understanding between faculty and students. Besides keeping up the studies required by the faculty a student would do well to realize that the faculty stands for the principles for which you are striving; their's is the weight of experience.

8. Let us try to abolish altogether the silly imaginary lines between social groups, and do more fraternizing on the campus. There is no reason for anyone not to have made new friends for several years simply because he tags around with the same few day after day. Such attitudes are not good for a small college. Everyone on the campus should know almost everyone else. Let's try to get around with each other a lot more.

9. Finally, if you can not see your way clear to support all the activities of the school, athletic or otherwise, then something is drastically wrong with your personality. Of course, those who do not enter into the spirit of the school's activities will scoff at a statement like this with the assertion, "Certainly there's nothing wrong with me. The idea's preposterous." But in spite of this attitude, anyone who does refuse such participation is lacking somewhere, because in so maintaining an "it doesn't matter to me" air, he is truly missing one of the greatest things one can hope to gain from a college life . . . the privilege to realize that a school is something more than just a place to learn to quote Keats and Shelley. It is a place for forming friendships, and learning the true idea of give-and-take that is such an essential part of later life. So, let us bring about our own united front here, for each other, for Centenary, for all that we love and cherish in these fifty acres, material or spiritual.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

What a holiday!—and now that it is over, we of the oldest school west of the Mississippi must settle down to studies and reviews, because mid-term quizzes begin in a few weeks, or days. After that, who knows?

During the holidays, quite a few of the Centenary ladies, now graduated but familiar to many of us, marched down various church aisles to receive the title of Mrs.

"SHEP" SHEPHERD, DOROTHY KELLY, and SUDIE BAKER added VAUGHN, RICHARDSON, and CUMMINGS to their names, and very soon JO-SILLY NELSON, who pianoed for DOC and the Kapers, will become MRS. CAT-TON. DOROTHY PORTER and LOU CORY journeyed to California in time to be Christmas brides. First Centenary bride of the new year is GLENNY HARMON, who added a MRS. and PIRTLE to her name.

Maybe it's the weather, the year, or something . . . 'cause MARY ALICE SHORES wears a ring on her third finger left hand to signify her engagement to HUNTER. And, the ring bears a sentiment that is just as lovely as its appearance. ROSEMARY ELLIS flaunts her left hand in everyone's face all because "BABY-DOLL" MORWOOD, whom we must soon address as Lieutenant, Christmas-gifted her with a pretty. GLORIA BROWN'S marriage to "PITTY-PAT" PITTMAN is not long off, and, at Cen-Coe luncheon the other day, BETTE SMITH'S engagement to HOOPER was whispered back and forth from one diner to the other.

Yes, sir! 'Tis no doubt that love is in the air, and one will never know where it next will bite. Jew-elry was evidently a very popular gift, and rings with fraternity and sorority crests, lockets, and bracelets were packaged, tied, and sent with loving thoughts to many of the co-educated femmes of the ole school. Far too numerous to mention, we just had to mention such 'cause that seems to be more in fashion than green and brown cotton hose, red rubber rain-coats, and mop-mittens.

Incidentally, in case you've been blind and deaf for the past few weeks, "DUGAL'S DARLING" and "BEARDSY'S BABY," namely TEXADA and WILLIAMS, wear the sweetheart pins of their gentlemen.

Ahhhhh, Fashion! . . . ahhh, Love! . . . and, quoting Shuey, Awwww, Nuts!

CAMPUS CAMERA

Well, fellow students, you might think that the activities at our college are rather slow now but have you noticed how many gals are receiving rings every day that goes by? Noticeably MARGARET GRAY, DOROTHY DURR, BETTE SMITH, and PAULINE LAMB . . .

Such swell fellows are being taken away from us each day . . . such as WALTER JACOBS, GAINES NORTON, "CHIEF" JOHNSON, "JELLY" WHITEHURST, JAMES HEATH, and JOHN R. ALLUMS . . . of course, we are just mentioning several who have recently left for service with our Uncle . . . WALTER is leaving for Petersburg, Va., on Sunday and we all will miss him greatly, especially one certain co-ed by the name of HELEN.

And, too, Uncle Sam just could not wait for the services to be rendered by good ole NORTON until after mid-term. We were mighty glad to see WHITEHURST, JOHNSON, and ALLUMS make a visit here on Xmas Day and still more glad that the four coast guards have been placed on permanent detail at Algiers, La.

Courage should be the main motto of Centenary students with all the boys having to leave and all of the girls having to stay at home . . . Exams are nigh on us and all should strive to work harder than ever before on their studies for war reasons and, too, the senior comprehensives are just around the corner . . . and that's not very far.

THIS ARMY LIFE

In line with The Conglomerate's policy of printing all letters received by it from former students now in the armed forces, we present in this issue an epistle written to us by George Estes, former football player who was known during his stay at Centenary as the "Angel."

The letter had at its top a picture of an airplane with the words "Air Corps Technical School, Keesler Field, Mississippi." After a little introduction, the Angel went on to say:

"I'm in the air corps playing football. We play the eastern all-stars Sunday or Monday. They are the ones who made All-America. I'll play against such stars as DeCorrevant, Bruce Smith, Bill Dudley, Alf Bauman, Endicott Peabody, and many others. If you don't mind, put my address in your paper and tell all the football boys, or the ones that remember me, to write a card or letter letting me know how they are making out.

"Well, so long.

Yours truly,
Pvt. George C. Estes."

The Angel's address is
Pvt. George C. Estes
398th S. S. Fl. 57,
Keesler Field, Miss.

DAINTY DIESEL-WISE COED GEARS FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE EFFORT

When information was forthcoming that the fair coeds of Centenary were learning to drive ambulances and trucks and nurse crank-shafts and pistons for National Defense, our reporter immediately seized upon the opportunity to interview one of these belles of the campus to see what her reaction to the new situation was.

"Is it true, then," he asked shyly, "that you babes are learning to drive trucks?"

"Sure t'ing, bub," the girl responded sweetly, "but da foist t'ing dey teaches us is how tuh savvy da lingo of da road. Otherwise, how is dose java-joints along da highway gonna understand us, see?"

"Wonderful," responded our hero, "but are they also teaching you the fine art of mechanics and the womanly craft of changing a tire in the middle of the night?"

She carefully wrapped three cylinders in sky-blue woolen doilies, and replied dreamily, while a languorous breeze played softly through her tumbled locks of raven hue, "You mean that mess of iron under the hood? Oh, dear me, no—but," she whispered softly, "we have the names and addresses of strategic garages and their phone numbers in case of breakdowns. Can't show it to you now . . . you know, national defense secret and all that."

"Oh," echoed our reporter, "but what sort of runs are you making? Long runs of 100 miles to Monroe, or short ones to Minden?"

"Long runs," she answered. "About twelve inches. Knee to ankle, I'll say." She glanced moodily at her ruined nylons, and breathed "national defense," in a grim tone. Our young reporter glanced moodily at her ruined nylons, and didn't breathe at all.

"One last question, now," begged the rep. "Have you had any mishaps, perhaps?"

"I've had four trucks smashed under me," answered the heroine of four main-street intersection engagements haughtily. "Those naughty one-way alleys are so-o-o tempting," she added merrily, spraying "Toujours Moi" in every corner of the truck cab.

"I," declaimed the local newsman, "will write to my congressman about you. I will make you famous. Why, you rank with Florence Nightingale, Clara Barton, and . . ."

A sharp, grinding noise drowned him out. The smoke cleared away. "Tee-hee," quoth she of the raven hair, powdering her nose as she slid from the driver's seat. "I've stripped those nasty little gears again. Call a garage-man when you have time, please. Keep 'em rolling!"

She tripped pertly down the walk to the Student Union Building, while several freshmen came down from the tree, when they realized that she really wasn't going to drive the job after all.

"Gulp," gulped the newsman, for he was a new man now, "Yeah, keep 'em r-rolling!"

And so we leave this little group with our hero walking slowly in the direction of a garage, tossing a spark-plug, encased in a tiny blue coverlet, from hand to hand, while the crimson sun sinks slowly in the distant western sky behind a bank of towering pillars of anvil-like clouds, as a cold front moves in.

Buying Defense Bonds
Is One Way to PAY
for those "Inalienable
Rights" so often taken for granted. Selah!

ATHLETICS

TEXAS A & M CAGE CREW DEFEATS GENTLEMEN

The Centenary cage team, victorious in its first four games this season, suffered its first setback when the strong Southwest Conference contender, Texas A. & M. Cadets defeated them 52 to 28.

The Gents fought hard and led most of the first half only to have Henderson of A. & M. toss in a field goal just before half time. Texas A. & M. led at the half time, 19-17.

At the start of the second half Centenary's star center, Ed Hoynoski, fouled out and our team appeared to slow up considerably. Hoynoski had scored nine points before he fouled out and probably would have been high scorer of the night provided he had not fouled out. He was high-point man for the Gents.

The old dependable guard, "Moe" Crawford, played his usual stellar and consistent game.

Alex Penny, calm veteran of the team, scored five points and played an exceptionally good floor game.

Of course, the sophomore stars, "Bo" Whitten and "Jud" Thornton, came through with flying colors. Whitten and Thornton played good floor games and erally hustled.

"Beater" Brown, playing his first game after being injured the first part of the season, played a rough, outstanding game. He racked up five points and played a good defensive game.

"Jitterbug" Henderson led the offensive attack of the Cadets.

It was a good game and was definitely the best team that will perform here this year.

A Scholarship in Paradise for 'Lefty'

The Athletic Department of Centenary College issued its first baseball scholarship in the history of the college to a left-handed pitcher, Luther "Lefty" Hardin, of Tupelo, Arkansas.

Hardin, a transfer from Arkansas Tech, has been anxiously awaiting baseball season, so he can perform at the game at which he is so capable.

At the board meeting it was decided that Centenary College would drop athletics for the duration of the war, and Luther Hardin will not get to toe the slab for the Gent nine.

"Lefty" will be the first to receive college hours on an athletic scholarship from Centenary and never appear in a Gent uniform.

Hardin could have gone to Oklahoma or Alabama Universities, but came here because Coach Elmer Smith was a baseball coach and he could take advanced flying.

Hardin will complete his flying course next week and expects to join the Army Air Corps.

COLLEGIATE BRIEFS

Nearly 2,500 students took correspondence courses offered last year by the University of Texas.

The University of Michigan arts college established the first chair of the science and art of teaching in the United States.

Frederick Hard, dean of Newcomb college at Tulane University, was at one time golf coach and leader of the band at Tulane.

Two fellowship grants of $200 each, for research work in the department of business administration, have been announced at Wayne University.

Eighty-seven per cent of coeds in a recent survey replied that sweaters and skirts are the backbone of college wardrobes.

Charles A. Duffy, 37-year-old New York City policeman, is enrolled as the oldest freshman at City College.

The Horned Frogs of Texas Chritsian University traveled nearly 8,000 miles in playing six of their ten games away from home.

A rourse in fundamentals of meteorolgy has been added to the department of physiis at the College of Mount St. Vincent.

BUY DEFENSE BONDS AND STAMPS!!!

Basketball Schedule Not to Be Completed

The Centenary Athletic Department announced last Tuesday that the Gent cage schedule would not be completed.

The team will disband at the end of the first semester because of shortage of athletic funds and the rationing of automobile tires, which leaves no transportation facilities available.

Most of the players have offers from other colleges and will probably transfer at the semester.

The following basketball players will be affected by this action: Alex Penny, Melbourne Crawford, Ed Hoynoski, "Bo" Whitten, Judson Thornton, Gordon Brown, Alvin Martin, all varsity athletes; Truman Crawford, Everett Ward, frehsmen.

The last game will be with Louisiana Normal at Natchitoches on January 23.

Cornell Launches Program to Quell War Restlessness

Ithaca, N. Y. (ACP).—Cornell University has launched a program to quell war restlessness among its students.

The plan proposes student guidance and counselling, with emphasis on health and recreation.

"College authorities have been concerned," a statement said, "with the disrupting effects of the world situation, not only on enrollments but also on the morale of students pursuing their normal courses.

"The signs of restiveness and uncertainty, as well as the loss of interest of some students in maintaining high academic performance, made their appearance last year."

A counselor of men has been appointed to direct a clearing house for their problems. He is expected to give advice on financial aid, personal and vocational problems, social adjustment and student employment.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

LISTEN—The Ladies!

Now that the citizens of our great country are beginning to cooperate with the Government in civilian defense work, conservation of the supplies and materials needed in production of vital defense machinery, and in other good American ways, cooperation hits close to home. This week a reporter from one of the local newspapers contacted several of the dormitory women and other campus students to ask the question, "Are you willing to have your dates on the trolley and not use the family car, thereby saving rubber?"

The majority of answers were in the affirmative, so it seems that if Centenary's women, and those in Dodd and the local high schools, are willing to have their escorts stand them on the corner to await the ultra-long seven-minute interval between trolleys, the men will have to cooperate.

Incident to note: the traction company might join in the cooperative movement by arranging to have extra trolleys during rush hours, faster service, and better car advertisements. Some bright young thing suggested it be called the R.T.D. movement.

Noted in many magazines, especially those concerning the ladies, are the statements of numerous club-women and civic workers throughout the country with regard to walking for defense.

Seems that too many of the girls have walked on stilts too long, while others haven't walked at all. That means the public health instructors and teachers in women's gymnasiums are busy teaching the fair sex how to pick up their tootsies and put them down properly. Furthermore, the ladies love it.

Bicycles and skates have come back into the limelight, and fashion authorities are busy at drawing boards developing new styles for such energy-grabbing cooperation. No doubt the Bloomer Girl will regain her prominence. Ah! Shades of the 1900's.

In a recent column of Donna Ford, who writes Other Women's Lives, a former Centenary student, Dorothea Erickson, was spotlighted. Dorothea, member of the local chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha, now the wife of Lieut. Charles D. Jones, hangs her hat alongside that of her flier husband at Mitchel Field, on Long Island, where the blackouts and air-raid warnings are becoming a ritual.

LEVY'S
January Clearance
SALE
STARTS TODAY
Friday, January 9th
M. LEVY CO.

FOR BETTER SCHOOL WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC
MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

You taste
its quality

Pause...
Go refreshed

Coca-Cola
TRADE-MARK

5¢

You trust its quality

Experience proves that nothing takes the place of quality. You taste the quality of ice-cold Coca-Cola. Again and again you enjoy the charm of its delicious taste...and its cool, clean after-sense of complete refreshment. Thirst asks nothing more.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Please patronize our advertisers.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

Alex Penny is this week's nomination for Gent No. 1 of the Basketball Team because of his outstanding play against Texas A. & M. The 6-foot forward from Coshatta, La., has played first-rate basketball for three years on Centenary's cage team. This being his fourth year, Penny has reached his peak in performance and has led the team to four straight victories.

Offensively, he has been one of Coach Smith's most dependable cogs in winning. He has averaged 11 points for the four games he has played in this year. When Penny is not looping a field goal, he is involved in another set-up play, so another teammate can rack up two points.

Alex works for the team as a whole and has never slackened in his duties on the court. Being a veteran, he is calm and works smoothly which helps the less experienced men from becoming rattled.

L. C. Curry, Coshatta high school coach, said Penny was the best high school player he had ever coached and Penny has certainly lived up to his record while at Centenary College.

—Luther Hardin.

ARKANSAS
LOUISIANA
GAS
COMPANY

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

Season's
Greetings

We assure you of our appreciation of your patronage during the past year and ask you to accept our wishes for a happy and a successful New Year.

Cameron's Barber Shop

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

A new year begins at Centenary this week. At least two of the outstanding campus personalities saw fit to make it a very happy New Year and got themselves married . . . namely, GLENNY HARMON and TYLER PIRTLE. We're sure that all of the students join us in wishing these two a very happy married life together.

With all this war censorship looming, there will probably be many changes in our daily radio broadcasts. As a matter of fact, who knows but what a radio serial of the future, with all revealing information censored, will sound something like this:

Announcer: This is the Whoops Soap Company, from the NOPE radio chain in . . . (CENSORED.) "We present One Gal's Family, The O'Goldbergs. As the scene opens we find Father O'G. talking over the . . ." (CENSORED: military instrument.)

Father: " . . ." (Conversation CENSORED due to alien accent.)

Friend: "Let me speak to . . ." (son's name CENSORED, since he is in the Boy Scout Reserves.) (CENSORED): "Hello, Moe. How is our Gal Saturday? I met her in" (CENSORED: soldiers' recreation area) . . . "feeding the monkeys. And row are you?"

Friend: "I'm . . ." CENSORED: ill-health bad for public morale.) Our Gal (entering): " . . . ?" Father: " . . . !" Our Gal: "Oh, I see." Announcer: "What will happen? Does Our Gal really see? Will the censor allow her to speak six words next time? Tune in and find out. But now to mention our sponsor, the Whoops . . ." (uh, uh, it's CENSORED because of secret naval floating experiments defense purposes.) —Boston University News.

This Collegiate World

(By Associated Collegiate Press) Even the best have to play second fiddle sometime. This is the story of a drum-major who lost a decision to a baton.

Kenneth LeBar, freshman drum major at Kent State university who recently won the Penn-Ohio championship for outstanding work as a drum major, knocked himself out recently with a baton while practicing. LeBar tossed the baton into the air, but instead of catching it in his hand he stopped it with his head.

Students passing by found LeBar in a semi-conscious state and took him to the university hospital, where he quickly recovered.

One of Columbia university's best known and best loved characters, who watched Columbia change from a "country college" into a metropolitan university, has resigned at the age of 79. After 30 years of service as grounds keeper, Joe Mozkeo retired "to take in the sights and try to keep track of this crazy world."

At a farewell party given by fellow employees, "Old Joe" reminisced: "I saw them tear down the old Bloomingdale lunatic asylum to make way for the college buildings. At first you could hardly tell the difference between the lunatics and some of the students."

Most popular date hours at Newcomb college, Tulane university, is from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

And why? According to Miss Anna Many, counselor of women, the short date hour gives the girls an opportunity to test their "dates" without the fear of being "loaded" with a "drip."

FASHION

COLLEGE SWEATER-SKIRT ENSEMBLE IS AMERICAN TRADITION

The college girl and her sweater-skirt ensemble is fast becoming as traditionally American as the cowboy, his boots and saddles, Design for Living's C.B.I. (campus bureau of investigation) agents reported.

College women spend 75 percent of their waking hours in a sweater-skirt outfit, they further elaborated. Cardigan or slipover, long or short sleeves, "V" or crew necklines, one rule is steadfast—sweaters must be plain.

Querying coeds at Cornell, Temple, U. of Syracuse, Bry Mawr, Texas U., Smith, U. of Vermont, Oregon State, Michigan State, Iowa State, U. of Colorado, Kansas State, Iowa U., and Barnard, CBI agents discovered that Miss Average College Girl spends $240.33 a year on clothes.

Texas beauties, however, have the fattest pocketbooks—they spend $768.

Campus feet are the same as ever in saddle shoes. But moccasins are owned by 40 percent of the girls. Saddles, pumps and the cinderella "evening" slipper complete a collegian's shoe shelf.

The stocking shortage or the troublesome "nick" in nylons, is no concern of DFL's Young Moderns. They cut stocking bills in half by baring legs in nake socks despite wintry blasts. A good number of the girls call time out from patriotic "bundling" to knit their socks. The average college girl, however, vetoed the knee length type now on the market. Only six percent wore them. Twenty-six percent rate the rubber boot functional and sensible for rainy campuses.

Dickeys are definitely "in," but big hats collect dust on closet shelves. Bandanas, beanies, hoods, baseball skullies, calots, stocking caps, pill boxes, baby bonnets, berets and ear muffs are "in the know," CBI agents reported.

They noted, in addition, that southern lassies are all for the effeminate formal, while eastern and northwestern college gals rate the dinner gown and evening skirt-sweater combine, "super duper."

Medical Students Are To Be Commissioned

Third and fourth-year students in acceptable medical schools and first-year internes may obtain reserve commissions in the Army or Navy and then will be permitted to complete their medical training, including one year of internship, before being ordered to active duty, Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, has advised all local boards through their state headquarters.

Colgate Adds War Psychology Course

Hamilton, N. Y. (ACP).—Colgate University has added a course in "abnormal psychology, organic," to encourage greater understanding of and tolerance toward peoples and nations suffering in the world conflict.

The new course, and the revised second semester study of "abnormal psychology, non-organic," will be devoted largely to the study of abnormal reactions resulting from war situations, according to Dr. George H. Estabrooks, head of the psychology department.

Dr. Estabrooks believes that students should understand the mental disorders growing out of the war, which will become major problems of the rehabilitation period.

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803 Youree

Mrs. Sara Tully

TOMMY DORSEY AIDS DEFENSE BOND DRIVE; HANDS CREW BONUSES ALSO

Also Gives Royalties On 'Free For All' To U. S. O.

Tommy Dorsey's charity begins at home, but it doesn't stop there by a long shot.

Gifts of $5,000 in defense bonds to all the members of his orchestra, is the manner chosen by Tommy Dorsey to celebrate the sixth anniversary of his band.

Tommy distributed bonds worth from $150 up to the 26 members of his organization. Amounts varied according to the length of time each person had been with the band.

Lot of Fun

Reminded that it is customary for a birthday celebrant to receive gifts rather than give them, the "sentimental gentleman of swing" shook his head vigorously.

"This is a lot more fun—and it is more than fun. Every one of the kids in this band will use this Defense Bond to start a collection of his own. We all know that defense bonds are more than an investment of funds. They are the insurance premiums on democracy and a guarantee of victory."

Pretty Connie Haines, featured vocalist with Tommy's band, was one of the receivers of defense bonds. Connie is enthused about the idea.

"I'm going to give defense bonds to all my friends on their birthdays and anniversaries until the war is won," she said.

Aids U.S.O.

In addition, more than $5,000 has been donated to the U.S.O. by Dorsey and his men as royalties from the new patriotic song, "Free for All." And that, says Tommy, is only the beginning.

REX

Phone 7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

FRIDAY and SATURDAY, JAN. 9-10
"THE MALTESE FALCON"
Cartoon and Serial

SUN.-MON.-TUES., JAN. 11-12-13

"BELLE STARR"
Randolph Scott—Gene Tierney
First-run News—Cartoon

WED. and THURS., JAN. 14-15
"LAW OF THE TROPICS"
Cartoon—First-run News

COLLEGE MEN WANTED

(GRADUATES, SENIORS, JUNIORS, SOPHOMORES)

to be Naval Officers

You want to serve your country. Why not serve where your college training will do the most good? Read every word of this announcement, whether you are now at college or have already graduated.

Deck and Engineering Officers

The Navy needs 7000 Seniors now in college, or College Graduates, as prospective officers. Seniors who enlist today will not be called to active duty before next June. They will thus have time to graduate.

In addition, the Navy needs 5000 men now in their Junior year in college as prospective officers. If you enlist today, you may complete your education and graduate in 1943. Meanwhile you will be called to active duty only during the period your college is closed next summer.

After graduation, you will receive a 30-day preliminary training course. If found qualified, you will then be given further training as Midshipman, U.S.N.R., at $65 per month plus allowance. Upon successful completion of this training you will be commissioned as Ensign, U.S.N.R., at $125 a month and allowances.

All applicants must be native born citizens of the United States, unmarried, and between the ages of 19 and 27 inclusive.

Naval Aviators

The Navy needs 15,000 men now in their Senior, Junior or Sophomore years in college as prospective Naval aviators. Students who enlist today will not be required to commence training until the completion of their current college year. Graduates or other qualified candidates will be called for the first training class in which they can be accommodated.

After 3 months preliminary training as seamen, second class, they will, if qualified, be ordered to flight training as Aviation Cadets in a course requiring approximately 7 additional months to complete. Aviation Cadets' pay is $75 per month. Upon successful completion of the course they will be commissioned as Ensigns, U.S.N.R., and win their Navy "Wings of Gold." As full-fledged Naval Aviators their pay will be $205 per month plus allowances.

All applicant smust have been United States citizens for at least 10 years. They must be unmarried and between ages of 20 and 26 inclusive.

FOR FURTHER DETAILS GO TO THE NEAREST NAVY RECRUITING STATION TODAY

GLENWOOD
9c-22c Phone 7-2427

Last Day—Double Feature

"Pot o' Gold"

Paulette Goddard
James Stewart

"Road Agent"

Dick Foran—Andy Devine
Disney Cartoon

Saturday—10:00 A.M.

Walt Disney's

"DUMBO"

in Technicolor

Prices 15 and 44c

ANNOUNCING: MRS. H. HAYES, lady barber

Very competent and able to render the scientific services besides regular barber work

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

LOUIS APPFEL, Owner

129 Kings Hwy.

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomoe Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Finnell, President.....7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 2-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer.....7-2554
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cencoe (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, January 16, 1942.

Number 15

FORECAST

We were interested to note the other morning in a local paper that "representatives of all the fraternities and sororities" on the campus had said they were all for the idea of riding the trolleys on dates. In spite of the fact that we question the authenticity of the "all fraternities and sororities" clause, we feel sure that all would have been in favor of such an arrangement anyway. Moreover, we have no doubt but that the non-fraternity and sorority students also would like to go on record as favoring any scheme which would in any way conserve the vital rubber which will have to last a long time apparently, since all the rubber producing regions are being destroyed.

However, there are a few things which might hinder such a system from getting into full swing immediately. In the first place the price of such a means of transportation would be prohibitive to some extent. Of course, it is hard to realize that riding a trolley could be very expensive, but when you stop to think about the details, it would cost at least 42c to get to your destination and back for one evening.

In detail this boils down to the fact that 7c would be the cost to the girl's house for the boy. Then would come 14c for their ride to town and 14c for the return trip, assuming that she lives beyond the round-trip ticket limits, and Centenary College is beyond those limits. Then finally comes the final 7c ride home for the boy, all adding up to 42c. Perhaps, to the girls, this may sound a trifle mercenary, but if 42c is to be added on to the cost of every date a boy has, the result, nine times out of ten, is a lot fewer dates for all concerned.

Now, what we are getting at with all these figures is this: Why should not the trolley company realize the situation and make some kind of special rates to help along the social life of the community? As a suggestion we might recommend that tickets good for two for the entire night be sold on all trolleys. This would enable a boy to board a trolley, buy one of these tickets, pick up his girl, and ride wherever they want to go and back without any more expenditure. In the long run such a situation would be more profitable for the transportation company, because far more people would take advantage of the trolley service immediately, rather than waiting until their tires are almost worn out, and then using the trolleys only when absolutely necessary. It would appear that a boom year is in store for the trolley company, anyway, and so we suggest that they also make some sacrifice for the common cause, and at the same time help along the courtships of the community.

DR. SHAW NOW MEMBER OF ALIEN REGISTRATION BOARD

Dr. A. M. Shaw, executive secretary of the college, was recently appointed to the Alien Registration Board of this district by the United States attorney general. This board has supervision over 42 parishes in Louisiana. The board's duty is to conduct hearings for any aliens who are arrested, and to return recommendations to the attorney general as to whether the alien should be interned for the duration, paroled, or released.

HOBBY CHAPEL HELD

A very interesting chapel was held Wednesday. Lanford De Genes presided and several students presented their hobbies.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

Student Body Dance Tonite At Broadmoor

FULL YEAR COURSES TO BE ADOPTED

Many Schools of Nation Planning To Begin New System to Graduate Sooner

Many universities and colleges throughout the country are making preparations to adopt the new system of offering courses in which the student is enabled to go to school the year round in order to graduate in less time than the accepted four years, according to Dr. F. E. Lowance, who has recently returned from a meeting in Dallas of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

There are two different methods by which the schools of the nation are contemplating arranging for shorter courses. Some are planning to inaugurate three 16-week semesters, while another group prefers the division of four terms of 12 weeks each.

As representative of the ESMDT (Engineering, Science, Mathematics, Defense Training) program at Centenary, Dr. Lowance presented his report of the progress of this department of Centenary.

In one of the sessions of the Dallas meeting Dean Homer L. Dodge, member of the National Advisory Committee to the Office of Education in Washington, led a discussion on "War Training in Physics," during the course of which Dean Dodge made the statement that the committee of which he was a part had made a recommendation that legislation be enacted enabling the Federal government to finance the extra expense involved in continuing the schools of the nation the entire year. This would give aid to students in the fields of engineering, physical sciences, mathematics, and production supervision. Naturally all colleges would not be eligible for this federal aid, but since Centenary has been accepted as a school in which the ESMDT program is offered, there is a strong probability that it would be one of the eligible schools.

Chemistry and production supervision are two of the defense subjects already taught at Centenary under the new defense training program.

Dean Dodge also said that it was to be hoped that some arrangement could be worked out by which liberal arts students could borrow from the government in order to enable them to finish their courses in a shorter time.

CENTENARY WILL GO ON THREE-YEAR BASIS

Plans are almost completed to have Centenary begin a system in which students will be able to graduate in three years instead of the customary four, according to Dr. Pierce Cline.

The new plan will consist of the addition of two weeks to the summer school courses, making the length of the summer term twelve weeks. In this manner, good students will be able to receive credit for 15 hours work in summer courses.

With the new arrangement, graduation in three years will be much easier than in the past, although many students have completed the necessary work in three years under the present system.

DANCE TONIGHT

Time: 8:00

Place: Broadmoor

Who: All Students

Dress: Informal

SYMBOLS OF PREPAREDNESS

Silhouetted between the nose and wing tip of another airplane, a training formation swoops low over the landing field at Randolph Field, Texas. The "West Point of the Air" graduated its first wartime class in the famed school's 11-year history on January 9, a new class of future pilots for defense. Student pilots have completed the first two phases of the Air Corps training course and are now ready for the final "prepping up" at specialized schools that will make them the best of any nation's first line military pilots.

COME ON, STUDENTS, LET'S DANCE!

Tonight the student government of the students of Centenary has arranged for a dance for the entire student body. This is not a Senate dance, or any kind of organization dance. This is a dance for ALL THE STUDENTS of the college.

In a school the size of Centenary it is deplorable that more functions have not been given by all the students for themselves as is this one; for any affair given by the Senate is in reality given by the students themselves, since the senate is but representing the rest of the school. Certainly this is a long step in the right direction, following the path begun with the dance given by the students last spring.

Every May the annual Founders' Day Picnic is a great success from every viewpoint. The dance last spring was quite successful, though it was a pay proposition.

This year there is no reason why we cannot continue the get-togethers which have been getting better and better with every new attempt. Therefore, to start the new year off right, we of Centenary will have a large informal dance at Broadmoor Country Club tonight.

Everyone should make it a point to attend this affair because upon its success or failure depends the chances of having another in the near future. If the students show that they enjoy these functions in which they all can get together as one big group and enjoy themselves and will cooperate, then there is nothing to prevent several other different types of student-wide functions. However, if no one turns out tonight, then there is no need to even attempt any more. So, let's all turn out tonight, date or no date, and make this as fine an affair as ever hit the campus.

Many of the boys will be going into the service very shortly now, so everybody come on out tonight and have a gala time. There is no charge of any kind.

DEFENSE STAMPS TO BE SOLD ON CAMPUS

Dr. Cline has just announced that Defense Stamps will be available for purchase on the Centenary campus in the very near future. The exact place at which they will be put on sale is as yet undecided, but it will probably be the business office in the Arts Building.

NEW ESMDT COURSE TO BE TAUGHT AT CENTENARY

Dean Crothers of the Office of Education in Washington has just approved an outline for a ESMDT course in Office Management to be taught at Centenary. The first class will probably convene Wednesday of next week. Mr. Philip Stagg will be instructor in the course.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Fall Semester, 1941-42
Monday, Jan. 23, Through Tuesday, Jan. 27

Friday morning, 9 to 12—8:00
Monday, Wednesday, Friday.
Friday afternoon, 2 to 5—8:00
Tues., Thurs., Sat.
Saturday morning, 9 to 12—9:00
Mon., Wed., Fri.
Saturday afternoon, 2 to 5—9:00
Tues., Thurs., Sat.
Monday morning, 9 to 12—10:45
Mon., Wed., Fri.
Monday afternoon, 2 to 5—10:00
Tues., Thurs., Sat.
Tuesday morning, 9 to 12—11:45
Mon., Wed., Fri.
Tuesday afternoon, 2 to 5—11:00
Tues., Thurs., Sat.
Afternoon and special classes—hours to be arranged.

CENTENARY RED CROSS ACTIVE NOW

The Centenary Unit of the Caddo Chapter of the American Red Cross has now opened its room in the Student Union Building. The room has been placed in charge of Helen Dwire, committee member of the unit, and will be open for use of all students assisting in Red Cross work.

The chairman of the Centenary Unit, established on the campus in December, is Ann Burnette, assisted by four committee members. Ann Thibodeaux is in charge of all knitting, Lou Dell Liston is in charge of registering and secretarial work, Elise Montgomery is in charge of the Auxiliary Motor Corps aides, and Helen Dwire is in charge of the Room. Faculty advisors and sponsors are Mrs. Bryant Davidson, Mrs. A. R. Campbell, and Mrs. Frances Morwood. Miss Ware, home economics instructor of the college, is supervising all sewing done by the unit.

First project was the knitting of fifty sweaters for children and adults. The yarn was obtained for the knitted garments in December, and the majority of the finished sweaters have been turned over to the Caddo chapter. At the present time no yarn is available, but any Centenary student desiring to co-operate with the unit in this phase of activity may turn his name over to Jimmie Thibodeaux, or one of the committee members, and the instructions and sweater material will be issued immediately after the Caddo chapter is allotted more yarn.

Auxiliary Motor Corps work is being done each week-day afternoon by Centenary women students. The work consists of delivering and picking up Red Cross work throughout the city. Additional workers are needed in this field, and any student desiring to assist should contact Elise Montgomery.

The sewing room will be opened in the immediate future. A sewing (Continued on Page Four)

FIRST KOLLEGE KAPERS SHOW PRESENTED TUESDAY

Tuesday night the Kollege Kapers group presented their first public show of the 1942 series. The show was opened by the audience and the KK group singing the national anthem which was followed by a waltz.

Several of the numbers which were best received were: Sam Swor playing "The Carnival of Venice" on his trumpet, "Cheesy" Voran singing "Ole Man River," Mildred Landrum singing "Alice Blue Gown," and Martha Stevens singing "Elmer's Tune."

The hit of the show was C. H. Vandegaer singing and playing his guitar. It brought back memories of the applause that Dugal used to get with his "Sugar Blues."

The next shows are as follows: Vivian—January 20
Barksdale Field—Date not set
Rodessa—February 3.

DR. LOWANCE ON TIRE RATIONING BOARD

Dr. Lowance is the man to see about that old tire you want a new one instead of. He is a member of the city tire rationing board that allots tires to eligible tire users of this vicinity. However, do not count too much on his seeing that you are slipped a new tire, because 21 years at Alcatraz is a mighty long time.

ALL STUDENTS EXPECTED TO PARTICIPATE

Senate Completes Arrangements For Another Dance For Entire School

Tonight at eight will find all the students of Centenary out at the Broadmoor Country Club to take part in another school-wide dance such as the one which was so successful last spring. There will be a difference this year, however, in that no admission charge will be collected at the door.

This function is not being given by any one organization of the college. The Student Senate is sponsoring it, and in so doing is merely acting as a representative for all the students themselves, because this is a dance given by the students, for the students.

Festivities will begin at eight o'clock and will last until eleven or a little later. It is to be an informal occasion with no evening dresses. Music will be furnished by a nickelodeon rented for the special occasion by the Senate.

The dance is to be financed by the student fund which has been turned over to the Senate by the college authorities for use on such occasions.

This is the second all-student dance to be held this school year. The first was conducted last September and was sponsored jointly by the Centenary Women's Club and the Senate.

It is the third of its type ever to be given at Centenary, since the first was held last May at Broadmoor in conjunction with the Founder's Day celebration.

Birthday of Robt. E. Lee To Be Celebrated January 19 By KAs

January 19, birthday of Robert E. Lee, will be observed on the campus Monday by the members of the local chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order. As is the custom in this organization, this particular day has been set aside by it in order to honor the memory of the most beloved character ever to come out of the south, General Lee, who was president of Washington College in Virginia in 1865 when the first chapter of the Kappa Alpha fraternity was formed. It was with his help and guidance that the new organization spread to all the colleges in the surrounding states in the next few years, and since that time his life and ideals have been the inspiration of succeeding generations of boys belonging to the fraternal order.

A full day has been planned by Alpha Iota chapter here at Centenary. In cooperation with the Kappa Alpha Alumni Association of Shreveport, which has well over 300 members, many of whom are also alumni of Centenary, the local KAs will have a banquet Monday night, as is the custom all over the United States on this date, wherever members of the Order are gathered.

The day will begin with several prominent Kappa Alpha alumni placing the customary wreath on the monument in front of the court house. Monday afternoon the United Daughters of the Confederacy are entertaining at the Woman's Department Club and have invited the local active members. Then, of course, follows the Lee Banquet that night.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO • BOSTON • SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES • PORTLAND • SEATTLE

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan; Associate, Luther Hardin
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Mary Foster Peyton, Jake Cullick, Ellen Eastham, J. L. Soloman, Arthur Shuey.

ROTARY CLUB LUNCHEONS

For the past few years the Rotary Club of Shreveport has made a practice of inviting several seniors of the college to visit their weekly luncheon meetings. One senior is selected at a time and he attends the Friday noon meetings for six consecutive weeks, during which time he is the guest of the club and is introduced to many of the business men, who are members of the organization.

This courtesy that the Rotary Club shows to college seniors is one for which we of Centenary are very grateful. To a young graduate just entering the business world an acquaintance with several men of local prominence can prove invaluable in his first attempts to "earn a living." No other opportunity is available for the majority of college graduates through which they can have such an excellent chance to make such valuable connections with professional men.

So, we of Centenary thank the members of the Shreveport Rotary Club for their welcome invitations to attend their luncheons.

Y.M.C.A. OPEN HOUSES

For the past few months the Y.M.C.A. has been directing a series of open houses for the young people of the city. The "Y" has been quite interested in getting Centenary students to attend some of these functions, and to do this has asked several times that publicity be given the affairs in the school paper. Although there have been some of the students who have stopped in at these weekly affairs, the representation from this school has not been what it should be.

Programs are planned each week by different organizations of the community and refreshments are also served to all who attend.

So, students, why not make it a point to go to the "Y" next Sunday afternoon? You have received several invitations already, so have no fear about your reception not being a welcome one.

DESIGN FOR LIVING

The new year finds us busily engaged in many tasks. Our nation is entangled in the greatest war in its history. The chief aims in all our minds for 1942 are to destroy the enemies which are confronting our government and to establish a world of freedom. But, besides these aspirations, which we have for our government and our community—what have we resolved for our personal betterment? Have we made any resolutions that will develop our mental and physical powers? Have we resolved to become more pleasant and sociable? Have we resolved to always keep a smile and lend a helping hand to those who are in need? Have we again determined for ourselves to continue our education and to learn to do things better? It is imperative for us to map out a plan by which we must guide our life and create a Design For Living.—J. C.

'We Want Books'

The newest opportunity for and light reading are equal. Gifts of defense contributions is the Victory Book Campaign begun this January. The sponsoring organizations are the American Red Cross, American Library Association, and the United Service Organizations.

The slogan of the Victory Book Campaign is "We Want Books." The men in all the services are echoing this phrase and their call for a greater supply of reading matter must now be relayed to a public which will be only too willing to give. There are books in the camps now, and trained librarians, too, but with actual war conditions and enrollments mounting by the millions, the supply of books must be made to mount with equal rapidity. The men want books for both diversion and information.

As has been discovered by the British, the demands for serious

Member
Associated Collegiate Press

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Greetings!

Today we would like to take up a matter which has bothered us for some time now. It is this matter of greetings, which we of the present generation always pass back and forth.

For instance, the pet peeve of many of us, whether we admit it or not, is the habit of so many of our well-meaning fellow humans, of saying upon approaching an acquaintance, "Hello, so and so, what do you know?" . . . just as if they cared even a little bit about what he knew in the first place, or even thought he knew anything at all in the second place.

Just what kind of an answer such a question is supposed to elicit is open for debate. A smart recipient of such a query might respond with, "Just about anything, ask me something," or "I ain't talking today," or some such gem of witticism, of which there are a dozen or so, generally accepted to be the essence of retorts witty and original, any one of which is supposed to mark the user as being henceforth and forevermore a master at repartee, capable of holding his own against the best the world has to offer.

Then, of course, we have the followers of the "What do you say?" school, than which there is none more tiresome. Nothing is so discouraging, is one way to put it, as to have some exponent of this trend of thought, approach with this salutation and then stand breathlessly awaiting a clever reply. Why it is always considered a social necessity to be ready at any moment to "say" something is one of the mysteries of modern society.

Lest we forget, we must delve into the mysteries of the "How are you feeling tonight?"ers. This type of greeting is the work of a rank amateur because the staid wordage of its phraseology never appeals to the more accomplished and experienced of the greeters. And then, too, after a couple of greetings of this type, one is sure to get some reply like, "With my hands, as usual," which will stop even the most rabid disciple of this school of thought from ever venturing another salute of this specie.

An older hand will use the time-honored "How are you coming?" in addressing his friends. We say "old hand," because only a survivor of many such queries and their inevitable answers, could have the iron nerve required to deliberately lay himself open to the great selection of witty retorts available in reply to this particular question. All proponents of this type of question will agree that the answer, "In a stretcher," is but one of many which are on the tip of many tongues when greeted thusly.

True, all such answers are vaguely reminiscent of Iowa and its proverbial "tall corn" growing, but in spite of the element of grain prevalent in these retorts extraordinary, greeters today still will insist on asking some of these questions. Though naturally nothing is to be done about it, it would seem that eventually the people of today would stop "sticking their necks out" by deliberately inviting replies of the types listed above, and actually say something worthwhile for a change when they needs must greet an acquaintance.

For example, we suggest, "Hello, there, I'm fine and I know you are, too. How about joining me in a glass of milk or something?"

Dancing Ban At Oklahoma Removed After 50 Years

Dr. Joseph A. Brandt, former newspaper city editor and new president of University of Oklahoma, recently approved dancing in the student union from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. This marks the first time in 50 years that dancing is to be permitted on the university campus during afternoons and throughout the week.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

phases of the peace of books in war or in any emergency.

Types In A Theater

Breathes there a man with soul so dead

Who never to himself has said,
"Why did that guy have to pick this time to stand up in the show?"

In fact, hardly a man is now alive who hasn't at some time or other felt that old urge to commit mayhem in the picture show.

There are many different forms which these mayhem inspirers can take, during the course of an evening in a motion picture play house.

Everyone has a casual tripping acquaintance with the family of seven which invariably will attempt a mass attack on the six seats in the middle of the house. Usually some eight or ten with the same idea will attempt a flanking movement from the other end of the aisle and get there at just about the same time the aforementioned family of seven is collectively trying to seat itself; whereupon arises the customary heated discussion as to the legal claim the discoverer has to the site as compared to the squatters' rights; all of which leads to nothing but aspersions cast sometimes quite audibly from the four or five rows immediately behind the one on which the skirmish is occurring, as to the questionable ancestry of the participants. Finally after disrupting the entire performance one group will yield the field and with severe dignity stalk majestically to the rear.

And then there are the two little girls, directly behind you, one of whom has already seen the show 16 times, and insists upon keeping tortense and the dozen or so spectators in the immediate vicinity constantly informed as to the particular method of escape to be employed by the hero in getting himself and the heroine from the clutches of "that mean old man" in this scene. Nothing will give you that old let-down feeling so completely as "Don't worry, he didn't shoot the blonde, it was that fellow with the little mustache."

One objection to afternoon performances in which a serial of some description is shown is the fact that no matter where you may hide yourself, some fond mother and her equally fond child will find you and seat themselves in the row immediately behind. Thereafter, all through the show the mother will do her motherly duty and explain, at length, all the doings of the main characters and two-thirds of the minor ones, to the accompaniment of 137 different questions on 128 different subjects by the little tyke.

Then the person down the aisle behind you will have to leave. There is no escape in such circumstances. You can lean forward and look over the shoulder of the spectator in front but the guy behind will still reach over and hit you on the back of the head with his coat or hat. (In this case, the word "his" is just used in a rhetorical sense, because by no means have we the intention to leave out the ladies.)

Perhaps for a month or so before the show hits town you have read about it in the paper as being a masterpiece. For several weeks you have been anticipating its arrival and finally you find yourself in a fine seat watching a superb performance. You are living the show and tears have begun to form. The climax is approaching and the great scene of a great actor is at its peak. Has it ever failed that someone in the next row lean across and shove a rattling bag down four or five seats with, "Want some pop corn, huh, do you?"

Of course we should mention the family that enters, marches down the aisle, stops half way down, and proceeds to discuss in belligerently loud voices, the advisability of going around to get "those better seats on the other side."

Then there are some fellows, who, when standing to let people through, start a pincer movement of their own. However, after a

What To Do in Case Of An Air Raid

1. As soon as the bombs start dropping, run like—you might say anything. (It doesn't matter where, as long as you run like—we're still saying anything.)
2. Wear track shoes if possible—if people in front of you are slow you won't have any trouble stepping over them.
3. Take advantage of opportunities afforded you when air-raid sirens sound the warning of attack, for example:
 - a. If in a bakery, grab some pie, cake, etc.
 - b. If in a tavern, grab a few beers.
 - c. If in a movie or taxi, grab a blond.
4. If you find an unexploded bomb, pick it up and shake it. (Maybe the firing pin is stuck.)
5. If an incendiary bomb is found burning in a building, throw gasoline on it—you can't put it out anyhow, you might just as well have a little fun.)
 - a. If no gasoline is handy, throw a bucket of water on it and lie down—you're dead!
6. Always get excited and holler bloody murder. (It will add to the confusion and scare the life out of the kids.)
7. Drink heavily, eat onions, limberger cheese, garlic, etc., before entering an air-raid shelter which is crowded. (It will make you very unpopular with the people within your immediate vicinity, eliminating any unnecessary discomfort that would be prevalent if people crowded you closely.)
8. If you should be the victim of a direct bomb hit, don't go to pieces. (Lie still and you won't be noticed.)
9. Knock the air-raid wardens down if they start to tell you what to do—they always save the best seats for themselves and their friends.

University of Texas geologists predict a peat industry for Texas from recent extensive finds of the substance throughout the state.

University of Minnesota extension division is offering a course in cartooning under Len Kreis, Chicago Tribune cartoonist.

couple of resounding slaps, this type of approach is usually abandoned.

Kappa Alpha Open House Continued

Continuing the practice begun several years ago of having an open house for all students every few weeks on Friday morning at the chapel period, the local chapter of Kappa Alpha entertained last Friday morning in their chapter house across from the Arts Building. Many students visited the "boys across the street" during the 45-minute period and enjoyed the doughnuts and coffee served. Several members of the Kappa Alpha Mothers Club assisted in the courtesies of the morning.

New Song for Centenary Still To Be Written

A letter has just been received by the Student Senate from Pat Ballard, director of college relations for Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians, in which Mr. Ballard requested samples of the official seal of the college, as well as samples of the school's colors. These will be used, according to Mr. Ballard, in the actual publishing of the new song.

According to last report the new song, now in preparation, will be heard over Fred Waring's program on February 20.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

CENTENARY

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE
Always 9c & 22c Phone 7-5971

Friday, Jan. 16

Fred MacMurray, Mary Martin
"NEW YORK TOWN"
Three Stooges Comedy—News

Saturday, Jan. 17

"PARSON OF PANAMINT"
"BULLETS FOR O'HARA"

Sunday and Mon., Jan. 18-19
Don Ameche—Betty Grable
"A YANK IN THE R. A. F."
Cartoon and News

Tues. and Wed., Jan. 20-21
John Payne—Sonja Henie
"SUN VALLEY SERENADE"
March of Time
("China Fights Back")
Cartoon—Popular Science

Thursday & Friday, Jan. 22-23
Randolph Scott—Gene Tierney
"BELLE STARR"
Cartoon—Serial

FOR BETTER SCHOOL
WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC
MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

Stop It Girls!

There's no need to tear each other's hair out!

Not when Louis Appfel
and his able assistant,
Mrs. H. Hayes, can do it the scientific way.

Centenary Barber Shop

Louis Appfel, Owner
129 Kings Hwy.

Gentlemen May Complete Basketball Season

FULL PROGRAM IS POSSIBILITY FOR CENTENARY

Game With Normal Saturday Night May Not Be Final Home Stand

The possibility that Centenary will play its Louisiana intercollegiate basketball schedule in its entirety is being discussed despite an earlier decision to terminate the season at the end of the present semester.

If the Gents get the green light they will play 13 more games instead of the three that will bring the program up to the end of the semester.

The college athletic committee is known to be considering a suggestion to encourage completion of the full program and a definite decision is expected in a few days, in any event, well in advance of January 23, when the Gentlemen meet Louisiana Normal in what under the limitation approved some days ago will be the last game of the Maroon and White cagers unless an extension is sanctioned.

Normal is scheduled here Saturday night and unless the extension is approved, Centenary will complete its abbreviated season on the road with one game against Tech at Ruston and another against the Demons at Natchitoches.

Provided the extension plan is fully developed, ten games will be added to the three definitely docked and the arrangement will make possible four-game series each with Normal and Tech, major rivals of the Gentlemen in the conference race, and two-game sets with each of the other teams.

The purpose of the projected completion of the program on Jan.

MUCH MORE THAN A GESTURE . . .

Defense Bonds—A real investment for Buddy Rich and Connie Haines—are handed out by Tommy Dorsey.

23 was to complete the Centenary intercollegiate athletic blackout for the duration of the war. Intercollegiate football had previously been abandoned for the period of the emergency.

Meanwhile, Coach Elmer Smith and his cagers are down to the sweaty labor of preparing for the Demon invasion and hope to notch their second victory over a conference foe in Saturday night's game here. They hold a decision over Tech, and in the preconference feuding they won three and lost one.

Smith and his athletes hope that sufficient encouragement will develop to the end that the season will be seen through in its entirety and that what is regarded as an exceptionally strong Centenary team will get a genuine crack at the LIC championship now held jointly by Normal and Southwestern.

"The Louisiana College and other games that have been cancelled could be very easily reinstated with a telephone call," Coach Smith said.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Please patronize our advertisers.

REX

Phone 7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

Friday and Saturday, Jan. 16-17

First Shreveport Showing
"Confessions of Boston Blackie"
Chester Morris, Harriett Hilliard
Three Stooges Comedy—Serial

Sun., Mon., Tues., Jan. 18-19-20

"BIRTH OF THE BLUES"
Bing Crosby—Mary Martin
First-run News—Cartoon

Wed and Thursday, Jan. 21-22

"MEN IN HER LIFE"
Loretta Young, Conrad Veidt
Dean Jagger
Information, Please
First-run News

Compare Style . . . Quality Selection!

PENNEY'S
CAMPUS-CLAD
SUITS

Make your selection from our immense stock of young men's suits. Popular tweeds, herringbones, with double or single breasted coat styles.

• Stouts
• Shorts
• Regulars
• Stubs
$16⁵⁰

Alterations Free!

PENNEY'S
J. C. PENNEY COMPANY, INC.

She: Are you a college man?
He: No, I've been sick.

Cop: Your honor, this man stole a quart of whiskey.
Judge: The prisoner is dismissed.
Cop: But, your honor—
Judge: You can't make a case out of a quart.

Marshall: Say, Irl, I thought you were a woman-hater, and I saw you out with one last night.
Harper: Sure, I hate them so much I always hang around them to keep myself mad.

Graham: There is a woman peddler at the door.
Reene: Well, tell him to come in and bring his samples.

The dark ages were so dark that men had to go to school in knight school.

There was a fellow named R.N.T. Who juggled a keg of T.N.T. But he let the keg fall From the top of a hall, And now he is A.I.N.T.

Dr. Steger: In class tomorrow we are going to take the life of Chaucer. Come prepared.

"Up and atom," shouted the molecule as the electrolysis started.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

Pope Oden: When I was sightseeing in Italy I came across a girl who went to college. It was a quaint city.
Second Stude: Genoa?
P. O.: No, but it didn't take long to get acquainted.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Va. Lil Turner: Why are your fraternity brothers so thin?
C. Flournoy: Every time they hear the dinner bell they think it's the patrol wagon.

Her teeth are beautiful—both of them.

—Patronize Our Advertisers—

Elmer Smith's Cagers Are Still Winning

The Centenary Gents cage team opened conference play with a victory over its old rival, Louisiana Tech last Friday night, 44 to 39. Playing their first game since the Centenary athletic department officially announced they would not complete their schedule, the spirit of the team instead of dying, reached a higher peak and showed determination to leave a winning athletic team in the minds of Centenary students and Gent supporters.

Opening the game with the fastest start this season, Centenary led after the first five minutes of play, 9 to 0. The Tech men were amazed at the spectacular playing demonstrated by the Gents' starting five.

With Alex Penny, six-foot forward of Coughatta, La., racking up 11 points on four field goals and three foul shots to pace the Centenary offensive, the Gents were never behind.

They had a comfortable margin of 30-14 at half-time.

The opening of the second half found both teams playing "rough-house" basketball. Tech rallied late in the second period, but was unable to close the wide margin the Gents had already chalked up. Constant fouling cost the Techmen heavily in the closing minutes.

Each team committed 19 personal fouls, and two players from each team fouled out in the final game.

"Jud" Thornton, star sophomore guard, continued his scoring spree by looping eight points for the Gents.

"Beater" Brown, last year's freshman high scorer, contributed his share to the victory by tossing in eight points.

"Bo" Whitten and Ed Hoynoski were outstanding defensive stars of the game. —Hardin.

"What would I get," inquired the man who had just insured his property against fire, "if this building should burn down tonight?" "I would say," replied the insurance agent, "about ten years."

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

CENTENARY
	FG	FT	TP	PF
Penny, F.	4	3	11	2
Whitten, F.	3	0	6	4
Hoynoski, C.	0	6	6	3
Crawford, G.	1	3	5	4
Thornton, G.	4	0	8	2
Brown, F.	3	2	8	1
Daugherty, G.	0	0	0	0
Martin, C.	0	0	0	2
Odum, F.	0	0	0	1
Totals	15	14	44	19

LOUISIANA TECH
	FG	FT	TP	PF
Laughlin, F.	1	0	2	4
Zoller, F.	1	0	2	2
Parker, C.	1	6	8	4
Booth, G.	0	2	2	1
Baker, G.	4	1	9	3
Fisher, C.	5	3	13	2
Coff, G.	1	0	2	1
Clinton, F.	0	1	1	1
Smith, C.	0	0	0	1
Totals	13	13	39	19

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

GENTS PLAY NORMAL SAT. NIGHT IN FINAL HOME TILT

The basketball game Saturday night between the Centenary Gentlemen and the Normal Demons may be the final home appearance for the Centenary team, unless the proposed extension of the season is allowed by the athletic committee. Game time is 8:00, so let us all be on hand to cheer the Gents on to victory in what may be their last home game.

When a fellow breaks a date He usually has to. When a girl breaks a date She usually has two.

If verse comes to verse we can store up this corn and live on it for years.

He: Ah, dearest, could we but fly together, you and I, to the ends of the earth—rediscover the Garden of Eden!

She: But, dearie, I haven't a thing to wear!

A Student Body
Dance
Tonight at Broadmoor

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

We wish to pay a lasting tribute to the most gallant of Gentlemen, Melbourne "Moe" Crawford, 21-year-old senior from East Point, La.

Crawford, after starting on East Point high school basketball teams for 4 years, enrolled at Centenary in the fall of 1938. Melbourne might be called "Old Faithful" when speaking of this year's basketball team. Handicapped by a knee injury, "Moe" never flinches or shirks his duties upon the court. He is the defensive star of the Gent quintet and has been called the best guard in this conference. Teammates think of Moe as that congenial man that fed the ball at the right time, so two points could be made.

Not only is he a defensive star, he makes his share of the points and plays a good floor game.

Crawford is starting his fourth year of basketball on a Gent cage team, and regrets to see this year's winning combination break up at

ARKANSAS
LOUISIANA
GAS
COMPANY

the end of this semester, due to Centenary's quitting intercollegiate athletics.

Other than being a basketball star, he has made a good record on the Gents baseball nine.

All in all, Melbourne "Moe" Crawford is an all-round Centenary Gentleman and here's wishing him "good luck" wherever he goes the second semester, whether it be to another college or to Uncle's armed forces.

—"Lefty" Hardin.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

FASHION

Last week-end we chatted with an attractive journalist, Lorraine Holmes who columnizes Fashion Flair for the Dallas Journal, discussing and questioning the many things concerning spring, fashion, wome, and war.

Of immediate interest was Miss Holmes' letter from Helena Rubenstein. The world-famed authority on beauty told of sending lipsticks to the ladies of England, and wrote it would be practical and wise for the women of the United States to save all lipstick cases, from the ten-cent ones up, and buy refills in place of complete new tubes of the pretty paste.

This because the same machines used for production of metal tubes for lipsticks can, and will, be used to make cartridge cases. Any metal object should be saved, and cosmetics are often packed in metal or have metal used in their cases. Rouges, compacts, tops to bottles, caps to eyebrow pencils, and numerous other face pretties that are kept in the upper right-hand drawer to the dressing table are valuable to the ladies and to the government!

We wouldn't be critical, 'cause we don't vote, but seeing as how we are still a nation of free opinion and have plenty room to voice it, we think there is something sadly lacking in Shreveport's Civilian Defense efforts. (This, dear reader, is the opinion of one, your columnist, and not the editor, the faculty, or members of our noble institution.) There are, however, many fine organizations busy at work preparing our city for all-out defense effort. Before any work can be started in this direction, those in charge must have listed all aides possible, and if you have any time to spare please give it to your community and your country. Save paper for the Boy Scouts, for your church. Enlist in first aid courses and other activities of the American Red Cross. Cooperate with the American Legion and the Chamber of Commerce in Civilian Defense. You are a vital part in the American machine being constructed to clean up the unmentionable races!

Incidentally, have you noticed January 15 issue of Vogue? The short introduction to the fashion section is very clever—Eyeview of a Woman's Weapons. Vogue, Harper's Bazaar, Mademoiselle, and other imprinted and pictured fads of the fair sex, are devoting pages to spring these days. Double-duty dresses, and, of all things, the 1942 uniform—a Tailored Suit. Yep, shades of all wars. The ladies will invariably roll up their sleeves, don hose that are either cocked or woven of 12-dozen threads, and declare themselves ready for right and country. Hats are just as impractically pretty as ever before, and color hasn't yet yielded its firm stand to "capable-covert," "unflinching-flannel," "Busy Black Wool," "Twelve-months Tweed," and other suit materials. Brightness in time of dark war clouds, with the fashions taken from the peoples to the south of our United States, and color are as much in the limelight as the ever-popular and useful suit. And, if you care to see a preview of what is to be worn this Spring (or should we say as soon as the winter-wardrobe bill is paid?) just attend the style review Saturday, being sponsored by the Alpha Xi Deltas. The clothes are from the west coast, and you can see that practically nothing daunts those Californians. (That is, with the exception of Florida's Chamber of Commerce.) Nuff sed for now, and we are off to burrow deep into the library, lab, and textbooks, all because next week is Exam time in this college of practical knowledge. How about you? Confidentially, we'll voice our opinion in early February.

New Book Published On Louisiana's Civil War Part

Baton Rouge (ACP).—Aspects of Louisiana's role in the War Between the States are featured in Jefferson Davis Bragg's "Louisiana in the Confederacy," just published by the Louisiana State University Press.

The state's tradition of heroism and endurance is recorded completely for the first time in Mr. Bragg's new work. Those who shudder at rising prices today might consult Louisiana veterans who remember 1863, when butter cost $5 a pound, beans $2.50, apples 50 cents each, and a subscription to the Shreveport Semi-Weekly News $30 a year.

In the spring a young man's fancy is likely to run into debt for the rest of the summer.

BUY DEFENSE BONDS AND STAMPS!!!

Musicians' Choice

Beauteous Helen Forrest, above, is the featured singer with Harry James orchestra—but, more than that, she's the choice of swing musicians everywhere as the best young song-plugger in the business.

RED CROSS

(Continued from Page One) machine, badly needed by the unit, was donated by Marjorie Giles. The sewing includes women's and children's dresses, baby layettes, men's shirts, hospital gowns, and other garments. Headquarters for this division of the unit will be in the Red Cross room in the SUB.

Courses in first aid will begin immediately after mid-term exams. An emergency call was issued by Mrs. Davidson for all interested in this activity, and the men and women students, twenty years of age or more, interested in completing the standard and advanced first aid courses in preparation for the instructors' course that is to be offered in Shreveport on February 15, were urged to attend Friday's chapel. The Red Cross, in cooperation with National Defense, has been asked to prepare civilians for first aid courses, and Caddo parish must have many instructors. A special course must be taken by any person desiring to become an instructor in first aid, and this course will be given in February by the national instructor. Additional courses in first aid will be given after mid-term, but all who have time and interest are urged to prepare for this course that is to be offered immediately.

Any student interested in Red Cross work should register with Lou Dell Liston in the Red Cross room. Centenary unit is anxious to have all students cooperate, and the activities in which one may participate are numerous. Fill out a card now and enlist your services in National Defense.

Teacher: Name three articles containing starch.
Jimmy: Two cuffs and a collar.

A traveler once topped at a hotel and asked for a room. When he started to sign the register, a little bug came crawling across the page. So the traveler just laid down the pen and said, "I don't care if you got bugs in this hotel, but when they come to see what room you take, that's too much."

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803 Youree

Mrs. Sara Tully

THIS ARMY LIFE

Many former Centenary students have answered the call of Uncle Sam. Some left their education; some, who had received diplomas, left jobs and what they believed to be their future life's work to join others in the call to arms. In this column we can mention only a few of our boys in uniform who are doing their bit for National Defense.

With the 204th Coast Artillery Anti-Aircraft somewhere in the west are Hugh White, Robert Ray, Wallace Brown, Jimmy Patterson, Tommy Crittenden, Haywood Griffith, James Kolemey, Will McKinney, and Hugh McCall. Stationed at the naval training base out there where the sun always shines are Frank and Donald Cook.

"Flash" Harmon may be found in navigation school of the Army Air Corps near Palo Alto, Calif. Louisiana camps are the present home of many former Centenary gentlemen. Gwin Morrison is stationed at Camp Livingston, while his brother, Charles, Ralph Peyton and A. G. Riddick respond to the calls of the bugle at Camp Beauregard.

Just across Red River a second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps, Rollo Florsheim, and two aviation cadets, Johnny Morwood and Mal McIlwain, may be saluted. Joe Elston is now stationed at Camp Shelby, Miss.; and Bachman Nabors is at the U. S. Naval Aviation Training Base. Army air posts in Texas claim many of our gentlemen. Four may be found at Victoria Field—M. M. Waldroup, Cul-lus Walker, Joe Slattery and Lavelle Murphy.

Lloyd DeMoss and Calvin Bains are aviation cadets at Corsicana, and Fizz Wilkins is in the university of the air, Corpus Christi. With the Coast Guard in Algiers, La., are Chief Johnson, Jelly White-hurst, Jim Heath, and John Allums. Stationed at Camp Lee, Va., is Walter Jacobs, reserve officer. Two former Centenary students are in the government academies schooling themselves as future officers of the army and navy—William Steger, a cadet at West Point, and Arthur Battson, a midshipman at Annapolis. Frank Word is now on active duty as an ensign on a U. S. S. aircraft carrier.

America has called, and the students of Centenary have responded. As the days of the war increase so does the list of our men in service. We have mentioned but a few, but to all our gentlemen, wherever they may be, we bid happy landings, smooth sailing, and good luck. God bless and speed you safely home again!

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

The Museum of Middle American Research of Tulane university has the world's finest collection of Mayan artifacts.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Y.M.C.A. Sunday Open Houses Are Continuing

The weekly open houses held every Sunday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. building throughout the winter months are still taking place. Each afternoon's program is under the sponsorship of one of the churches of the city.

All young people of the city are invited to attend and students of Centenary are especially urged to go to some of these Sunday afternoon get-togethers. Refreshments are served to all visitors. The ping pong tables are open throughout the afternoon and an excellent program is always prepared to entertain the group.

In addition to these affairs many other types of parties for special occasions are planned by the recreational committee of the "Y." Already Hallowe'en and Christmas parties have been held under the "Y's" auspices. All students are invited to take part in these functions also.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

for Spring lovely new pastel
COATS AND SUITS
and dainty Batiste Blouses are our special features in smart apparel

The
HEARNE
DRY GOODS CO. LTD.

Buying Defense Bonds
Is One Way to PAY
for those "Inalienable Rights" so often taken
for granted. Selah!

Dance to the Music of HAL HOWARD
and His
West Coast Orchestra
at the Beautiful New
Club Coronado
Saturday, January 17th, 9:30 'til
Admission 75c incl. Tax
FORK OF MINDEN AND COUSHATTA ROADS

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Fr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomec Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Finnell, President.....7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Tri Harper, President.....7-1145

Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 2-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
386 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer.....7-2554
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cencoeos (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

THE Centenary Conglomerate

7-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, February 6, 1942

Number 16

FORECAST

For the first time any of us can remember Centenary is going to have a well regulated and carefully planned intramural program which will be open to all the students. Heretofore, we all struggled through our two years of gym by the hardest, largely because there was not so very much organization about the whole thing. We played a little touch football and basketball whenever a class was held and we all received our two hours credit for the courses so we could graduate. That was just about all the gym course amounted to.

But now a new set-up is being introduced in which actual competition will be possible with real teams that will be allowed to practice as much as they desire and stay together as a unit without breaking up at the next gym class as they used to do. Moreover, the entire plan will not be on the same basis as the old gym classes, because time for participation will be left up to the convenience of the team members, who can practice as little or as much as they want to.

A system such as this one has long been needed and wanted by the students. Nearly all have at some time or other felt a desire to get up a team and use the fine gym we have available on the campus. Now all it takes is the five other men necessary to make up the volley ball team and the floor is yours for as long as you want it with opponents available whenever you think you are good enough to take them on.

This intramural program is undoubtedly one of the best steps Centenary has taken in a long time. Closer feeling among the students is sure to be created by the competition of the teams. The general health of the students themselves is bound to be affected for the better.

So, now that the opportunity is ours for the taking, it is entirely up to us as to whether we will avail ourselves of this opportunity or not. For a mighty fine time we suggest you start right now to getting your team together, because you will have plenty of competition when you get started.

DR. CLINE GOES TO SPECIAL MEETING AT ATLANTA, GA.

Dr. Pierce Cline has gone to a special meeting of the Commission on Higher Education of the Southern Association of Colleges which is being held at Atlanta, Georgia, Friday and Saturday.

The meeting was called by Rufus Harris, president of the association, to discuss the accelerated educational program begun in southern colleges as a result of the national emergency. This will primarily involve the summer school sessions here at Centenary.

Dean Hardin is a member of the Commission but was unable to attend the meeting.

We understand that Dr. Cline made a brief stop at Monroe to fill a luncheon engagement, after which he took an airplane on to Atlanta in order to make the meeting on time.

DR. CLINE GUEST SPEAKER AT CARTHAGE, TEX., FRIDAY

Dr. Pierce Cline was the featured speaker Friday evening, January 30, when the 1942 president's birthday celebration campaign came to a close with a patriotic rally in the high school auditorium.

Palomar Observatory Closed
San Diego, Calif. (ACP).—Palomar, famous 200-inch telescope of the California Institute of Technology atop Mt. Palomar in San Diego county, is barred to the public for the duration of the war.

Intramural Sports Program Launched Today

Flag Design Contest Winner Named

ANN BURNETTE'S ENTRY AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS

Conglomerate Plaque To Be Presented in Near Future

The Student Senate has announced that Ann Burnette, senior, has been awarded first prize in the recent flag design contest. Some twenty drawings were submitted by students to the judges.

A presentation will be made in the very near future of the plaque offered by The Conglomerate to the winner of the contest. The plaque was donated by Leonard's.

Second place in the competition went to Lanford DeGeneres, who turned in a very original idea, while third place was won by Jimmie Brown for her entry.

Judges were Miss Betty Lawrence, Miss Ware, Mr. Don Brown, and Mr. Alvin Voran.

A Senate committee consisting of LouDell Liston and Jimmy Thibodeaux has been appointed to look into the matter of having an actual banner made from the winning design.

The winning drawing is on display on the bulletin board in the Arts building.

A large number of very good drawings was entered and the judging job was quite difficult to determine which was the best entry. The Senate would like to thank all students who made entries for their cooperation in making the contest a success.

Dr. Phelps Initiated In Lambda Chi Alpha

On Sunday afternoon, January 17, Theta Rho Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity initiated as an honorary member, Dr. W. G. Phelps, head of the department of Latin, Greek and classical literature.

Dr. Phelps obtained his A.B. degree from Oberlin College, his A.M. at Princeton University, and has done graduate study at Chicago University, University of Michigan, Cornell, and the American Academy at Rome.

Other societies with which Dr. Phelps is affiliated include the Masonic Order, Alpha Chi, Classical Association of Middle West and South, American Association of German Teachers, South Central Association of Modern Language Teachers, Eugene Field Society of Authors and Journalists, and the American Association of University Professors.

Dr. Phelps has been with Centenary College since 1923, and has published during this period four booklets: Three Roman Poets and Their Messages, The Glory That Was Greece and Other Sketches, Two Roman Papers, and Lessing, the Champion of Universal Brotherhood, all of which have gained widespread recognition.

His initiation brings about a father-son fraternal association in that William Beeman Phelps, his son, is an alumni of the local chapter.

Other faculty members included in the roster of the local group are the late Dr. George Sexton, president emeritus of Centenary and the first charter member of Theta Rho Zeta, Jake Hanna, head coach, Ralph Squires, head of the department of music, and John A. Hardin, Jr., night school instructor.

Other recent initiates include William Wellborn, Gaines Norton, Bill Swyers, Lee Owens, James Bullock, and Russell Coleman.

Centenary Geology Society Announces Recent Initiates

Organization For Geology Majors Active in That Field

The Centenary Geology Society takes pleasure in announcing the initiation of the following students: Weldon Babin, Lloyd Burns, Joe Cullato, Frank McAneny, Tyler Pirtle, Burl Sullivan and James Trickett.

The Geology Society was founded here at Centenary about two years ago and has been most active in the geology department ever since. It was founded for the benefit of Geology majors who could meet its requirements. It is customary for the society to have several functions each school year and to provide movie films to record each field trip the department takes during the year.

The society also sponsors some of these trips. Last year an expedition to Alabama was undertaken and the year before a similar journey to Oklahoma was made. This year's trip has not been definitely decided upon as yet.

The only two original members of the society left are Irl Harper, president, and Mr. W. E. Wallace, faculty advisor. Other members who came back for this year are Norman Hunter, Kem Merren, Gene Baldwin, and Phil Clifton. Graduation and the Army Air Corps got all the rest.

To become a full-fledged "rockhound," one has to be majoring in geology with a "B" average in all geology courses and a "C plus" average in other subjects. It might be well to add here that a "rockhound" is a nickname given to all geologists. Perhaps that will also explain why some members are addressed as "Hey, Dog!"

For the first time in the history of the department we have a girl geology major. We are all proud of her record so far and hope that she will keep up the good work. So good luck to you, Rob Williamson.

Cenhomec Holds Regular Meeting At Dinner Party

Dr. John B. Entriakin gave an interesting and informative talk to Cenhomec, home economics club, at its January meeting.

Dr. Entriakin's discussion on "Textiles in Defense" was a contribution to "All-Out Defense," the theme selected for the year's program.

The meeting was a supper party held in the private dining room of Brocato's restaurant. The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Meredith Lawless. Miss Lillian Gibson, vice-president and program chairman was in charge of program details.

Places were marked for members as follows: Miss Aline Breithaupt, Miss Virginia Briethaupt, Miss Patsey Coffey, Miss Helen Conroy, Miss Adelaide Dickson, Miss Marilyn Dickson, Miss Dorothy Durr, Miss Lillian Gibson, Miss Martha Hart, Miss Jeanne Maynard, Miss Lucille Miller, Mrs. Meredith Lawless, Miss Elizabeth Sandford, Miss Phyllis Terry, Miss Marcella Totten and Miss Rethie Ward.

The next regular meeting will be held on Thursday, February 12, at the home of Mrs. Meredith Lawless, 295 1-2 King's Highway.

Three Social Groups On Campus Elect New Officers for Year

Kappa Sigmas, Zetas and Alpha Xis Name Leaders

Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Xi Delta and Kappa Sigma, social organizations of Centenary College, held their annual elections of officers recently.

Miss Gerry Baird was chosen president of Zeta Tau Alpha. Other officers were as follows: Vice president, Miss Camille Hendrick; secretary, Miss Mary Foster Peyton; treasurer, Miss Azalie Webb; historian, Miss Gene Hearn; rush captain, Miss Emily Prothro; guard, Miss Norma Stewart; conductor, Miss Jessica Harris; assistant secretary, Miss Ellen Eastham; assistant treasurer, Miss Virginia Graham; assistant rush captain, Miss Lucille Webb.

The Alpha Xi Deltas elected Miss Martha Hart as president. Other officers were: Vice president, Miss Bette Smith; secretary, Miss Katherine Moreneaux; treasurer, Miss Jean Flowers; rush captain, Miss Sidney Skinner; chaplain, Miss Jean Gibson; marshal, Miss Helen Jennings; corresponding secretary, Miss Virginia Lewis; historian, Miss Katherine Weems; secret office, Miss June Rolfs; and reporter, Miss Nan Dobson.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity named Jimmy Harris as their president for the next year. Sam Gibson will be vice-president, Don Thompson, Grand Master of Ceremonies, John Lowe, secretary, and Aubrey McClelland, treasurer.

Marines Are Coming To Centenary Soon

Jackson, Miss.—Seniors, juniors and sophomores of Centenary College will be given the opportunity to make application for enlistment in the candidates' class for commission in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve early this month, Major Edwyn O. Schultz, officer in charge here, announces.

Second Lieutenant Lewis H. Wilson, special liaison officer, will visit Centenary College at an early date, to be announced, for the purpose of interviewing and receiving applications. He, along with a medical officer and clerk, will return during the early part of March to complete enlistments. Centenary is allowed seven seniors, four juniors and one sophomore under the quotas given the southern district.

Seniors found qualified will enter the candidates' class at Quantico, Va., beginning in May. Juniors and sophomore found qualified will be deferred until after they graduate, unless the exigencies of the service necessitate their being called earlier. In such a case, they will be given six months notice.

NOTICE TO ALL ORGANIZATIONS

All contracts for space in the 1942 Yoncopin and copy for writeups must be in the hands of the editor by Friday, February 20, 1942, or it will be necessary to forfeit your space in the yearbook.

Due to a shortage of materials used in making a college yearbook, it has been necessary to take this step in order to insure the final issuance of this year's annual.

Bill Graham, Editor

HANNA PRESENTS PLAN FOR STUDENT BODY PARTICIPATION IN ATHLETICS

SEVERAL TEAMS TO REPRESENT EACH CLASS IN SERIES OF COMPETITIVE EVENTS THROUGHOUT YEAR

In a meeting Monday afternoon at the college gymnasium Jake Hanna, head of the Centenary college athletic department, presented his plan for an all-out intramural program at Centenary to the officers of all the classes and

Pi Mu Sigma Active On Centenary Campus For Fifteen Years

Three New Members Initiated Into Pre-Med Fraternity Recently

One of the foremost honorary organizations on the Centenary campus is that of Pi Mu Sigma, a pre-med fraternity, which has for its purpose the advancement of knowledge and understanding of medical problems and closer association between its members and its sponsors. For almost fifteen years, this organization has been carrying on its work on the campus. During this time members of the fraternity have become outstanding doctors and have been a credit to the organization.

Through the years Pi Mu Sigma has maintained a rigid membership qualification, and thereby only the very best pre-med students are admitted.

Last year under the leadership of Miss Wartens, sponsor, Charles Knight, president, and Val Borum, vice-president, the fraternity had a very successful year, taking part in many campus activities, notably sponsoring the Annual Medical Reunion. In addition to this, some six new members were initiated, all of whom have made valuable contributions to the success of this society.

Initiations are held twice a year, once each semester. In order for a student to be invited to join, he must have a general C-plus average, a B average in biology and the unanimous vote of the society. Three new members were initiated this year—Saul Freeman, Buddy Kinnebrew, and Frank Dienst. The officers of this year are: President, Ray Winston Goens; vice-president, Jarvis Waller; secretary-treasurer, Leonard Hattaway.

Co-sponsors for this year are Miss M. Kleet and Dr. L. A. Thayer. Meetings are held on alternate Thursdays and this society continues as it has in the past to follow its purpose and live up to the ideals and traditions established during fifteen years of service.

Class Meetings Today Begin New Centenary Intramural Program

Seniors, Juniors, Sophs and Frosh Select Managers

In general class meetings in the Arts Building this morning, the four classes at Centenary will select students to represent the class as managers, and to direct the new intramural program being launched by the school.

Two boys and two girls will be named in each class to organize the group under the new sport set-up.

The managers will be responsible for selecting captains in the different groups who in turn will organize the teams to compete in the tournaments.

The sports program will be organized on a basis of classes and competition between classes.

the student senate, as well as to several members of the faculty. Those present at the meeting included Mrs. Bryant Davidson, Coach Hanna, Dr. A. M. Shaw, Dr. E. L. Ford, Mr. Bryant Davidson, Azalie Webb, Susie Mulkey, Claud Teel, Buddie Kinnebrew, Tom Griffith, Mary Smith New, Burl Sullivan, Joe Stephens, Bill Graham, Gilbert Hetherwick, Camp Flournoy and Gene Hilliard.

The proposed program will be open to all the students of the school, both men and women, in an effort to give everyone an opportunity to take advantage of the excellent recreational facilities offered by the college gymnasium.

Serving as the head of the organization will be the two intramural directors, Coach J. L. Hanna and Mrs. Bryant Davidson. They will be aided by two assistant directors, who will be students appointed by the directors. The directors will also appoint students to issue and check equipment and keep records, who will be known as equipment and record managers.

Class managers will be elected by the students in general class elections today. Two boys and two girls from each class (Continued on Page Three)

Recent Tea Honors Centenary Faculty Wives and Members

The Student Union Building on the campus was the scene recently of a seated tea at which the faculty wives and women of the faculty were entertained.

Miss Mary Lou Ware, Mrs. L. A. Morwood, Mrs. Bryant Davidson, Mrs. A. R. Campbell and Mrs. Bob See acted as hostesses for the occasion. The object of the affair was to coordinate the Red Cross work of this group with that of the students.

Mrs. Bryant Davidson announced that the campus Red Cross room, located in the Student Union Building, will be open to all residents of the vicinity on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and that sewing materials and yarn may be obtained from this headquarters. Miss Mary Lou Ware, Mrs. R. C. course in nutrition and physical fitness will be offered in the evenings at the college and that regular college credits will be given. This course will certify for nutrition Red Cross work. Mrs. Bob See, supervisor of sewing, explained the details of this work and provisions were made for representatives of this group to help the students with their work on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

Those attending the affair were: Miss Mayr Lou Ware, Mrs. R. C. Topper, Miss Martha Hamner, Mrs. Bob See, Mrs. W. E. Wallace, Mrs. Jake Hanna, Mrs. A. M. Shaw, Mrs. Bryant Davidson, Mrs. R. E. Smith, Mrs. L. A. Morwood, Miss Amanda Wilson, Mrs. E. L. Ford, Mrs. Pierce Cline, Mrs. George Sexton, Jr., Miss Margaret Gray, Mrs. John B. Entriakin, Mrs. C. R. McKnight, Miss Irma Broadwell, Mrs. A. O. Alben, Mrs. L. A. Thayer, Mrs. F. E. Lowance, Mrs. R. F. Gates, Mrs. A. R. Campbell and Miss Estelle Marshall.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Member
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan; Associate, Luther Hardin
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Mary Foster Peyton, Jake Cullick, Ellen Eastham, J. L. Soloman, Arthur Shuey.

MAINTAINING MORALE

Seven rules for maintaining wartime civilian morale have been outlined by Dr. Irving J. Lee of Northwestern university, an expert on the psychology of anxiety. For a number of years Dr. Lee has applied the principles back of these rules to many cases of stage fright with amazing success.

"The position of many Americans today," he points out, "is analogous to that experienced in stage fright. This situation, if permitted to continue, might lead to a deterioration of civilian morale."

Points to be remembered by all civilians during the crisis are:

1. Center your attention on your task-at-hand and seek new ways of helping.
2. Don't feel that the whole burden rests on you. Just do something, however small, and the net result will be great.
3. Worrying about a situation dissipates your energy, leads to more worry, and saps your efficiency for necessary work.
4. Don't expect too much. Prepare for bad news. It isn't the pain, but the surprise coming of the pain that hurts. Remember that the anticipation of danger has a protective effect.
5. Question all rumors. Don't let them affect you emotionally.
6. Trust those in authority. They are the only ones in a position to know the facts.
7. Don't worry near children. They are easily excitable and spread anxiety quickly.

Just as an inexperienced public speaker allows his worry about the audience or his own failings to distract his thoughts from the talk he is to make, so many civilians dissipate their energies worrying about conditions they cannot control and lose their effectiveness for necessary duties.

Civilians often worry so much about war conditions that they lose efficiency in their work and their personal lives. This increases their anxiety. Any prolongation of worry leads first to inefficiency, then to personal breakdown. At a time when America needs the full efficiency of everyone, it is essential that we realize what our immediate task is and do not allow worry to distract us."

Quotable Quotes

(By Associated College Press)

"The function of the faculty is not to poke knowledge down the gullet of the student and to examine him on the undigested mass. It is for the faculty to show the student how to evaluate the knowledge he must acquire for himself and to stimulate him to develop his critical and appreciate capacity. The educated man is the one who has learned how to educate himself. Nothing has surprised our visitors from overseas more than our traditional American system of formal classes in which the student's work is carefully doled out three times a week, and an appreciable portion of the teacher's time and effort is given to the mere checking up of the student's work and the recital facts which the student might have learned for himself. I am not suggesting the abolition of the formal lecture or the formal recitation. But the former should generally be restricted to really great lectures and the latter to unskilled students in elementary work. Nor should the university undertake to cover the entire realm of human knowledge through a multiplicity of courses. From the administrative point of view the formal courses which are offered will be the stronger the more carefully their number is restricted; from the student's point of view the quality of his work will be improved the more it results from his own efforts."—President Seymour of Yale stresses the desirability of self-education.

* * *

"What the schools do may prove in the long run to be more decisive than any other factor in preserving the form of government we cherish." President Roosevelt indicates in a few words the importance he attaches to American education.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

The Conglomerate is without columnists at the present time. If you would like to work on the paper either by writing gossip columns or by doing respectable writing ing please volunteer your services. If you do not care to write a column or so, please refrain from criticizing when none appears in the paper.

LOCAL CHAPTER OF SIGMA PI SIGMA FOURTH ESTABLISHED BY FATHERNITY

History

For a number of years, a need was sensed in the physics department of Davidson college, at Davidson, N. C., for an organization which would serve as a means of recognition for superior scholarship in physics, that would bring those particularly interested in this science into closer association, would encourage and stimulate them in their scientific work, and would thereby bring about a greater co-operation between instructor and student to the benefit of both.

The hope of this group was realized when, at Davidson college, on the eleventh day of December in the year 1921, five students and four faculty members banded together to form a group which they designated Sigma Pi Sigma. Their first meeting was held at the home of Dr. J. M. Douglas, head of the Davidson college physics department. A constitution was drawn up and adopted, and the design for a key chosen. This organization, standing high among similar groups at Davidson, continued successful operation as a local honor fraternity until the year 1925. Then a small group of student members, under the leadership of Martin Whitford Trawick and Robert William Graves, conceived the idea that the benefits which Davidson was deriving from the organization might be shared by others; that by having many chapters operating as a unit, an efficient organization in its service to physics, and one of enhanced value to its members, might be developed. Hence a movement for nationalization was launched, originally in a rather modest manner. The local constitution was declared void, a new national constitution adopted and national officers and an executive council elected. Forms for the seal, charter, and insignia were suggested by the executive council, designed by C. M. Brown, and adopted on April 14, 1925.

At first, success in the program of expansion came very slowly, and the period 1925-27 was one of many discouraging moments. However, the ideal of a national organization was kept alive by several enthusiastic responses. A second chapter was in stalled at Duke University on May 14, 1925, and the third chapter was established at the Pennsylvania State College the following year. The fourth chapter was chartered at Centenary College in 1927.

Chartering of these three chapters gave added impetus to the expansion program and they quickly assumed an active role in the life of the organization. Under the guidance of the first national president R. W. Graves, and the national secretary, Professor H. E.

Fulcher, additional chapters were soon installed and the first convention held.

This convention met at Davidson College in April, 1928, and marks an important date in the history of the organization, for from it came the first real consciousness of a national unity and an aggressive group of national officers to carry on the able work of their predecessors. An active program of expansion and internal development was instituted and a steadily increasing interest in the idea of a national physics honor society resulted. A continuous expansion into institutions in all parts of the country has now made Sigma Pi Sigma truly national in scope, with 36 active chapters at present. The total membership of the society now numbers about 2600, of whom 780 are active members of chapters, and the remainder classified as alumni members.

Qualifications of Membership

Candidates for membership are selected from advanced-course, graduate, and upper-class students, faculty members and qualified alumni. Primary qualifications include high scholarship, manifested interest in physics, and promise of achievement in extending the boundaries of human knowledge.

Certain high numerical scholastic standards for admittance are established by chapter by-laws and national regulations. Students who are not physics majors may be elected to membership, provided they meet the other requirements and have demonstrated a sincere interest in, and aptitude for, the science of physics.

Placement Program

The society has a well developed placement program for assisting members to attain positions. Notices of vacancies are sent to each chapter adviser, who is expected to forward the information to properly qualified members. This service has been enthusiastically received and has been instrumental in placing a number of members in desirable positions. The service is free to the membership of the society. The service has been particularly successful in assisting members in obtaining positions in the industrial field. As a result of its activities many industrial laboratories are awakening into a realization of a need for physicists on their staffs, when this need has not been previously felt.

Local Officers

The local officers include David Barton, president; Quitman Williams, vice president; Leroy Scott, secretary; J. K. Smith, treasurer, and Dr. F. E. Lowance as chapter advisor. In addition Dean John A. Hardin is an honorary member of the chapter.

Gulf Coast Ready To Train a Navy

New Year Finds Coastal Region Better Prepared Than Ever In Its History

New Orleans, La.—The dawning new year of 1942 finds the great coastal area bordering the Eighth Naval District from the Florida Apalachicola to the Mexican line better protected from hostile attack than at any time in its history, records at headquarters show today.

The Naval Air Station at Corpus Christi, acknowledged to be the world's largest, was commissioned last March, and is now graduating hundreds of finished naval fliers every month. The sister naval aviation training station at Pensacola has been more than doubled in size during the past twelve months and also is turning out finished fliers in large numbers.

As receiving depots for Corpus Christi and Pensacola, there are two naval reserve aviation bases—one on Lake Pontchartrain in New Orleans and another near Dallas, Texas. Here young college men enlisting for commissions in the air wing of the navy's forces are indoctrinated and receive preliminary training up to ten hours of solo flight.

Of importance to the entire Mississippi Valley area is the rehabilitation of the New Orleans Naval Station at Algiers, which in recent months has become the training station for the coast guard and apprentice seamen enlisting in the naval service.

The eighth naval district topped all other districts in the United States in enlistments of college graduates in Class V-7 of the United States Naval Reserve which leads to a commission as ensign with duties as deck or engineering officers in the fleet. Since last May, 1051 college graduates within the district have enlisted in Class V-7 of which 772 were for deck duties and 229 for commissions as engineers.

With the dawn of the new year, recruiting activities in the district are primarily aimed towards the procurement of thousands of men for the fleet and air, as well as hundreds of college men and college graduates for enlistment in V-5 and V-7 classes which lead to commissions. In an effort to obtain youths for these all-important deck and engineering duties, the limitations recently were lowered to permit the enlistment of men in their sophomore, junior or senior

Husband Conserve A Recipe for Brides

Select the best man you can find and brush him carefully to rid him of any indifference.

Then, lift him gently into the home-preserving kettle and tie him with strong cords of affection which are not easily broken. Do not sear him with sarcasm, for that causes spitting and sputtering which may ultimately result in spontaneous combustion. Scramble when difficulties arise.

Do not soak him in liquor, either, for excessive draughts will make him mushy and spongy with your friends, and in the South, stewed husbands have never been very popular.

Let him simmer tenderly at will, and stuff him one hour before taking him out or before asking a favor of him. A little caress or a glass of cool water will often add to his tenderness.

Flavor him with oil of happiness, an ounce of understanding, and a bushel of laughter and fun.

Should he seem weak or troubled with feminine infatuations, smother him in onions and garlic, and treble your charms.

Do not spoil him by over-indulgence, but serve him daily on a platter of strength and courage, garnished with clean shirts and rousers.

Need him; need his dough, and be sure to save some of the dough for the little dumplings.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Though it survived the Civil war, the University of North Carolina was closed for five years during the Reconstruction period.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

years of college. All men enlisted while yet in college will not be called to active duty until the completion of their regular courses of study.

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803 Youree

Mrs. Sara Tully

FOR BETTER SCHOOL WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC

MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

Stop It Girls!

There's no need to tear each other's hair out!

Not when Louis Appfel and his able assistant, Mrs. H. Hayes, can do it the scientific way.

Centenary Barber Shop

Louis Appfel, Owner
129 Kings Hwy.

ATHLETICS

GENTS CLOSE INTERCOLLEGIATE BASKETBALL FOR DURATION WITH REST OF SPORT PROGRAM

ALL COMPETITION WITH OTHER SCHOOLS STOPPED FOR CENTENARY

All intercollegiate athletic competition for the Centenary Gentlemen teams has been stopped in all sports for the duration of the national emergency. This action naturally required the cancellation of the remainder of the basketball schedule for this year.

Sixth Victory Chalked Up

The sixth victory of the season was chalked up by the maroon and white cagers against their old jinx team, Louisiana Normal, when the Gentlemen outpointed the Demons 36-30 in one of the final games of the year. The result of this game was important to the Centenary team because it marked the first time in two years that the Gents had been able to handle a Normal five. They met four times in 1941 and each time the maroon and white wound up on the short end of the score.

It looked like all Normal at the outset as the Demons pulled away to a 5-0 edge, but the Gents suddenly found themselves and tied the count at 12-12, where the score remained as the teams left the floor for the half.

The second half began as did the first half with the Normal five jumping into a 22-16 lead. A few minutes later Ed Hoynoski, center, and Bo Whitten, forward, began to find the hoop and pulled the Gents up to a 26-26 tie.

From here on out the game was a see-saw affair until about three minutes before the game was over, when the Gents found the basket again and went ahead 36-30. Then the Centenary team used Coach Elmer Smith's tactics of keeping possession of the ball until the final whistle sounded.

Truman Crawford, Centenary freshman and brother of all-conference guard Melbourne "Moe" Crawford, saw action and was the first Centenary freshman to play varsity basketball under the new conference ruling.

Tech Noses Out Gents

Centenary lost its first conference game when the Louisiana Tech aggregation journeyed over and nosed out the Gents in a see-saw affair, 36-33.

The score was changing hands all during the game, and the Gentlemen led at half time by the score of 19-17.

However, the Bulldogs came back strong to drop in three quick field goals to take a lead that was never lost.

The game was extremely rough and saw two of Centenary's mainstays foul out in the last half, when the score was 31-30. It looked like "old man luck" was smiling on Tech, because they were fortunate enough to keep their best players in there. Ed Hoynoski and Alex Penny were the two players who went out by the foul route.

Melbourne "Moe" Crawford, though handicapped by his old knee injury, played an outstanding game for the Gents.

The sophomore threats, Thornton, Whitten, and Brown showed Coach Smith that the last home game was one to be remembered by playing fine basketball and keeping Centenary in the game by racking up much-needed points several times. As a team, the Gentlemen, although they lost, played a mighty good brand of basketball.

Normal Defeats Gents

In the last intercollegiate ball game for several years to come for the Gentlemen, the Louisiana Normal Demons triumphed over the Centenary team on the Demons' home court.

Please patronize our advertisers.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

NOTICE TO BOYS INTERESTED IN GOLF

At 1:30 P. M., February 16, there will be a meeting at the gymnasium of all boys interested in golf.

INTRAMURAL

(Continued From Page One) are to be selected to serve in this capacity and will be responsible for the selection of team captains, who in turn will be responsible for the promotion and participation in their respective groups.

There may be several captains to each class depending upon the number of teams entered by the class. Their duties will include actual team organization, notification of games and general team direction.

All students who are interested in participating in the games are urged to contact their respective class managers as soon as possible so the manager may appoint captains who can immediately begin team organization.

At the head of the program will be the Intramural Council, which will consist of the directors, their assistants, class managers, equipment manager, and one faculty member. This group will serve as an executive body to discuss and adopt rules and regulations, to handle protests and to set up general policies. Two council meetings will proceed each new sport set-up in order to completely discuss the coming sport event as to rules and team quotas per class. The second meeting will be to turn in the names of the teams and contestants and to discuss schedule conflicts.

Students with a thorough knowledge of the sports played will be called upon to handle the various games of the season as officials.

Awards for winning teams will be presented at the end of the spring semester. They will consist of individual awards for group championships as well as for individual championships. There will also be a group award for the highest points in all sports.

All students in regular attendance are eligible for competition. Disputes over classification will be referred to the Registrar for proper standing.

Copies of rules for all the various games to be played will be available on demand from the athletic office.

The playing fields and courts are available to all, providing, of course, that regulations are adhered to with regard to their use. All students will be required to wear gym uniform when using the gym floor. The uniform will be supplied on demand by the athletic department. Rubber soled shoes are naturally required.

A booklet giving a complete explanation of the entire program will be given any student requesting it at the athletic office.

COLLEGIAN APPOINTED TO OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE

To insure understanding of current, college situations arising from the war program, James Ward of Plano, Ill., a collegian fresh from the campus, has been appointed co-ordinator of college activities for the Division of Youth Activities of the Office of Civilian Defense, Gilbert Harrison and Jane Seaver, co-directors, announced. Mr. Ward, now working out of the Washington headquarters of the OCD, is former editor of "Northwestern Daily" at Northwestern.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

OH, MR. A-L-L-E-N

Captivating screen star Dorothy Lamour seems to have the mighty Fred Allen dazzled and slightly non-plussed. He'll soon find out that this is Dorothy's bond-selling technique—she's just signed up with Uncle Sam to tour the country in behalf of defense bond sales. The fast-thinking Mr. Allen, recognized master of ad lib, seems very much in need of a good snappy comeback or the price of a defense bond. Miss Lamour started her radio bond selling on Allen's program.

INTRAMURAL CALENDAR OF SPORTS

Feb. 2nd-Feb. 25th—Volley Ball.
Feb. 26th-March 18th—Table Tennis and Badminton.
March 19th-May 2nd — Playground Ball, Horseshoes, Track and Shuffleboard.

Deadline for Entries

1. Volley BallFriday, February 6th
2. Table Tennis.....Monday, March 2nd
3. Badminton.....Wednesday, March 2nd
4. Playground Ball.....Wednesday, March 25th
5. Horseshoe.....Wednesday, March 25th
6. Shuffleboard.....Wednesday, March 25th
7. Track.....Friday, April 10th

NAVAL RELIEF DRIVE LAUNCHED RECENTLY.

New Orleans, La.—The Louisiana Auxiliary of the Naval Relief Society today launched throughout the Eighth Naval District a drive for funds to provide relief for dependent mothers, widows and minor children of deceased officers and men of the navy and the Marine corps, and for use in special cases of distress among naval personnel and members of their families.

It is requested that all donations be sent to Navy Relief Society, Room 942, Federal Building, New Orleans.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt, Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN Gas and Electric Co.

By LEFTY HARDIN

The dear old South has dominated this column for quite a while, but this week it will take its hat off to a Gentleman from Steubenville, Ohio, Ed "J. E." Hoynoski.

Hoynoski, a senior, played center on the Gent cage teams long enough to be classified a loyal veteran. The center position, which he holds down so capably, was undoubtedly the key spot in all of Coach Elmer Smith's plays.

When Ed was "hot" on the basketball court, Coach Smith was sitting on the bench, singing "You are my sunshine," because he knew that another win would be added to his team's string of victories.

No matter how tough the assignment, Hoynoski could always be depended upon to fulfill the task. "J. E." seemed to have picked up this year where he left off last season, when he was on a big scoring spree.

Ed is a very congenial fellow and worked with his teammates in pointing toward another victory.

Outside of being an outstanding basketballer, Hoynoski proved himself a star on the Centenary baseball team. A very versatile player, Ed pitched, played in the outfield, or almost any place the coach needed a good man.

We give belated recognition to a man who does his job consistently and well.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

ARKANSAS

LOUISIANA

GAS

COMPANY

Rushing Rules Agreed Upon by Fraternities

At an interfraternity council meeting Monday plans were made for the mid-term rush season. Representatives of the three fraternities on the campus agreed upon February 11, 12, and 13 as the three official rush days. The Kappa Alpha fraternity will have as their day Wednesday, February 11, while the following day will be devoted to the rushing of Lambda Chi Alphas, and Friday, February 13, will be Kappa Sigma day.

Pledging will be conducted Monday, February 16, which will be "silence day" until noon. Rushes will go to the registrar's office on that day and sign their preference card. Bids by the various fraternities will be turned in prior to nine o'clock of Monday morning to the registrar.

Coast Guard Officer To Visit Here Soon

In a recent letter to Dr. Cline, Lieutenant Commander T. Y. Awalt of the United States Coast Guard stated that he will be on the campus Tuesday, February 10 at 3:00 o'clock to explain the Coast Guard system to the students.

In his letter Lt. Com. Awalt said:

"I wish to thank you for your reply to my letter, confirming the date of Tuesday, February 10, 1942, and the hour of 3:00 p.m., for presenting the program in behalf of the U. S. Coast Guard Academy.

"I plan to arrive sufficiently beforehand to enable me to set up my equipment, and will appreciate any assistance you may be able to give me which will insure a prompt start and a good attendance."

SORORITIES FINISH RUSH WEEK WITH NEW PLEDGES

Ending a week of rush activities the three sororities of the campus announce their new pledges.

Zeta Tau Alpha sorority pledged six girls: Elaine Barksdale, Martha Braswell, Beverly LeBlanc, Jean Evans, Mary Catherine Castenado, and Caroline Fullilove.

Alpha Xi Delta pledged Marcella Toten, Betty Bryant, Helen Conroy, and Sylvia Hubbard.

The Chi Omegas pledged Adelaide Dickson.

FILOSOFY

You know publicity is a great thing, a considerable convenience. Almost everybody who wants it, expects it. Almost everybody who gets it thinks it wasn't sufficient. If a name gets in the paper, the name's owner doesn't like it; and if a name doesn't get in the paper then the name's owner still doesn't like it. Such is life—or is it?

An old-fashioned girl blushes when she's embarrassed, while a modern girl is embarrassed when she blushes . . . allegedly.

And then there is the reformer who made the speech in which he made an impassioned plea to his audience, and went on to say that he "was here to save your girls." Whereupon the voice from the audience roared out, "Fine, save me a blond."

Around this campus the man with his shoulder to the wheel is usually a pedestrian.

They laughed when I put iodine on my pay-check—how were they to know I had a cut in my salary?

They also laughed when I sat down at the piano—I didn't know the piano stool wasn't there.

Very often a woman has a magnetic personality because everything she has on is charged.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

To The Shuey

One of the landmarks of the school has left us. The last of the Shueys has passed to other fields. The awesome quiet greeting everyone is not the lull before the storm; it is merely the absence of the Shuey. No more can we say, "into every life a little Shuey must fall," because now we have all had our Shuey. And so to get poetical: Somewhere the skies may be cloudy,

Somewhere no children shout,
But the sun is shining at Centenary,

For Shuey we are without;
He has checked out.

We're only kidding, Arthur . . . it says here.

Social Activities

Zeta Play Day

Tuesday afternoon the Zeta house was the scene of another of their well-known "play days." The greatest part of the afternoon was spent by members and pledges bicycling over the campus. At six supper was served to the following: Beverly LeBlanc, Mary Katherine Castenado, Martha Braswell, Elaine Barksdale, Jean Evans, Carolyn Fullilove, Peg Hawkins, Elise Montgomery, Ann Burnette, Myriam Holloway, Gerry Baird, Camille Hendrick, Mary Foster Peyton, Gene Hearn, Norma Stewart, Emily Prothro, Virginia Graham, Doris Lee Ryland, Frances Spengler, Dorothy Graham, Jessica Harris, Carolyn Canon, Margaret Gillespie, Suzanne Peyton, Lucy Eanes, Carolyn Williams, Shirley Peyton, Myrtle Canon, Jean Arthur, Mary Smith New, Virginia Kilpatrick, Mary Murrell, Justine Holmes, Martha Stevens and Martha Lewis.

Initiation Announced

Beta Iota chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha announces the initiation of Gloria Jean Boyce.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

HEP KAT SEZ

RAYMOND SCOTT DISLIKES POSITION AS BANDELEADER

A bandleader who dislikes his job is Raymond Scott. In fact, the short, swarthy orchestra leader finds the mechanics of "fronting" for his band until "show-time" so objectionable that he prefers lounging in a hotel room chair as he shouts commands at his band through a radio "mike."

"There was a reedy quality about that last chorus," he will say. The men listen with respectful attention, and go through the chorus again. They may go through the same chorus 20 times before Scott is satisfied.

He is quite eccentric and has been known to lace his shoes before he puts them on, and to refuse to sign a lease because a landlord wouldn't let him park his automobile on the front lawn, etc.

During his "remote control" rehearsals Raymond employs an unusual method of teaching: he makes his musicians play much more difficult things than those to which they are accustomed.

In training his pretty brunette vocalist, Roberta, Scott recommends an accompaniment consisting of all the wrong chords. If a singer can keep on the key with that kind of accompaniment, nothing will throw her off, Scott reasons.

His dislike for bandleading springs from the fact that he considers himself primarily a composer, arranger and acoustical engineer. His band is merely an instrument through which he expresses his theories. He says he doesn't compose notes, but only sounds, tone variations. He works with the band. He gives them his ideas, and they make endless stacks of acetates (playback records). When the proper combination of sounds is reached, the melody is transcribed to paper.

Then a title is chosen. This is perhaps Scott's chief claim to fame. His titles are magnificent; "Bumpy Weather Over Newark," "Reckless Night Aboard an Ocean Liner," "Twilight in Turkey," "Duet for Pistol and Piano," and "Dinner Music for a Pack of Hungry Cannibals."

His latest composition is a real stopper. It's called "A Happy Frenzy at a Quackanack." When asked who, or what, a "Quackanack" is, Scott merely smiles inscrutably.

Maybe there's a method in his madness.

This Collegiate World

(By Associated College Press)

Glenville, W. Va. (ACP). — State Teachers college males, especially those from Louise Bennett hall, dormitory for men, are chanting a lot of once-familiar hit tunes these days and in addition a new number titled "Kanawha Hall Girls, Aren't You Coming Out Tonight?"

On more than one occasion, just after the shades of evening dropped over the green campus, the male chorus, neither hand-picked nor formally trained, went like Romeos to the lawn in front of Kanawha hall, dormitory for women, and there offered the new vocal number, plus such old favorites as "Especially for You," and "Playmates, Come Out and Play With Me."

Not to be outdone, girls responded with a new version that sounded like "I'm Sorry, Playmates, I Cannot Play With You; I's Campused, BOO, HOO; HOO!"

To which the boys replied with Barbara Field's arrangement of "Good Night, Ladies, We're Going to Leave You Now."

And what's behind all this singing?

All but three girls in the hall recently violated bed-time rules and were "Sentenced" to demerits, which forbid their leaving the hall after 8 p. m.

Home Economists Needed for Service With Government

The U. S. civil service commission anticipates many requests during the next year from government agencies for home economists. Accordingly, an examination has been announced for establishing employment lists of home economists trained in every field to fill positions paying from $2,600 to $5,600 a year. No written test will be given, but applicants will be rated on their education and experience. Because of the demand for qualified eligibles, applications will be accepted until further notice.

The examination announcement giving all the requirements to be met and instructions for filing application forms may be obtained from commission representatives at first and second-class post offices or from the central office in Washington, D. C. All applications must be filed with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

This Collegiate World

(By Associated College Press)

"Sleep late, and, let the Mercury Book service return your overnight reserve books to any campus library before 9 a. m."

That is the appeal being made by two enterprising Brown university students who are setting up a book-returning service — for a price, of course.

The entrepreneurs, Vincent J. Luca and William P. Saunders, figure that many students would rather pay a nickel to be sure their books are returned on time than pay the library's fine of 10 cents for every 15 minutes that a reserve book is overdue.

With an average of 450 reserve books on overnight loan during the week, at the Providence, R. I., school, Luca and Saunders can make a maximum of $22.50 a week.

* * *

When Jessica Dragonette appeared at Kent State university (Ohio) to present a voice concert, she received a new addition to her collection of hats with meanings. The addition was a Kent State 1945 freshman dink. Robert Byrne, president of the freshman class, presented the dink to Miss Dragonette at a press conference.

Miss Cecilia Sien-Ling Zung, a Chinese lawyer, lived in Graduate house on the Mills college campus during two months of lecturing in the San Francisco bay area.

GLENWOOD

Starts SUNDAY at 1 P.M.
Ph. 7-2427 for Prigram Time
Prices 9c and 28c

DARING DAYS!
EXOTIC NIGHTS!

in a forbidden Pagan Paradise!

Also News and Musical
Coming Soon:
"HELLZAPOPPIN"

Listen . . . The Ladies!

The urgent need for more young women to enter schools of nursing has been brought to the attention of administrators and faculty Nursing Council on National Defense, which is engaged in the recruiting of at least 50,000 new students for 1942.

Midyear classes admitting new students in February are being opened by many of the 1,300 schools of nursing throughout the United States. Although some schools promise to be filled to capacity, a canvass now in progress indicates there are still vacancies in all parts of the country.

"Mounting needs of the Army and Navy Nurse Corps, the United States Public Health Service, and other government services, as well as civilian health, demand a rapid increase in the number of graduate nurses," declares Kartarine Faville, chairman of the Council's Committee on Recruitment of Student Nurses, in a letter to college and university leaders asking that the situation be brought to the attention of well-qualified college women who are willing to serve their country as nurses.

"Young women with one or more years of college," she points out, "are likely to be given preference over high school graduates in entering good schools of nursing and to advance more quickly to positions of responsibility." Special considerations set forth are the following:

"Nursing is a career, not just for the emergency, but for a life time. It has more 'top positions' as administrators, supervisors, and teachers than it has women qualified to fill them. It provides the college graduate with a better median income, both in her first year and later, than does any other occupation. Expenses for the usual 3-year nursing course are low, and may be supplemented by scholarships. Opportunities for usefulness are almost unlimited, especially in post-war reconstruction all over the world."

Information, speakers, and consultation are available to colleges from the State Nursing Councils on Defense, recently organized to carry state-wide responsibility for all phases of nursing. Literature on the subject is offered by the Nursing Information Bureau, 1790 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

New Senate Members Appointed Recently

Several students have been appointed to the Student Senate within the last few weeks replacing former members who have left by way of the army, marriage, or other cause.

Joe Stephens is now parliamentarian of the Senate. Guy Feducia is also a member, replacing Chief Johnson, who left for the army. Ouida Harris has taken the place left by Gloria Brown. John Woods and Rob Williamson were named to membership at the meeting last Wednesday night.

More than 91 per cent of the 873 new full-time students who entered Wayne university in September were given "Class A" ratings in physical examinations recently completed.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

REX Phone 7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

Friday, Feb. 6
Leo Garcy-Huntz Hall-Bobby Jordan
"SPOOKS RUN WILD"
Serial—Comedy

Sun., Mon. and Tues., Feb. 7-8-9
Claudette Colbert-Ray Milland
Brian Aherne
"SKYLARK"
Information Please, Cartoon, News

Wed. and Thurs., Feb. 10-11
Robert Young-Ruth Hussey
"MARRIED BACHELOR"
March of Time—Cartoon—News

CENTENARY

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE
Always 9c & 22c Phone 7-5971

Friday, Feb. 6
Gene Tierney-Randolph Scott
"BELLE STARR"
Comedy—News
Sat., Feb. 7—Double Feature
"TOP-SERGEANT MULLIGAN"
"THREE GIRLS ABOUT TOWN"

Sun. and Mon., Feb. 8-9
Robert Preston-Nancy Kelly
"PARACHUTE BATTALION"
Mickey Mouse, Popular Science, News

Tues. and Wed., Feb. 19-11
"NIGHT OF JAN. 16"
Ellen Drew-Robert Preston
Comedy—Screen Snapshots

Thurs., Feb. 12
Charlie McCarthy-Edgar Bergen
"LOOK WHO'S LAUGHING"
Defense Short—"Meet the Fleet"
News

FOR VICTORY

BUY
UNITED STATES
DEFENSE
BONDS
STAMPS

WAR NEEDS MONEY!

It will cost money to defeat our enemy aggressors.
Your government calls on you to help now.

Buy Defense Bonds or Stamps today. Make every pay day Bond Day by participating in the Pay-roll Savings Plan.

Bonds cost $18.75 and up. Stamps are 10¢, 25¢ and up.

The help of every individual is needed.

Do your part by buying your share every pay day.

COMING—to the

New Club Coronado

SATURDAY—FEB. 7th

Johnny Randolph
and His Orchestra

Direct from CLUB PLANTATION, Dallas

Admission .55 per Person, incl. Tax 9:00 'til

A Fine Dance Band—Be There!

At Fork Minden and Coughatta Roads

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....7-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2879
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomee Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Finnell, President.....7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalea Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 2-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer.....7-2554
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, February 13, 1942.

Number 17

FORECAST

Last Friday at chapel period the student body at Centenary gave a demonstration of one of the poorest exhibitions of school spirit encountered on the campus for several years. At the different class meetings called for the purpose of launching the new intramural program, the representation of the classes was the smallest in many a day.

The obligation of a student to attend a meeting called by the officers of his class should take precedence over any other activity he might have in mind for any given hour. It does not require much time and less effort to stop by a certain room for a few minutes to attend a class meeting. Such meetings are the very foundation of a good school spirit; and as a general rule you will find that the loudest criers for "more school spirit around here," and the most outspoken in their denunciations of the fact that "the spirit here isn't what it was at Boywasthatafine School," are invariably the ones who see "no sense in going to that meeting, because I don't care anything about it and anyway I can find out what happened."

Any organization depends upon the people behind it; and how can the student body be expected to increase in school spirit if the students do not get behind the few meetings that may be called throughout the year.

In this new intramural program we have one of the finest opportunities ever offered any school to advance our spirit between the classes and within the classes to a point it has never attained here at Centenary. Competition in the athletic events is not between any organizations but between the classes. Nothing could be more conducive to an air of friendship between students.

In spite of the rather inauspicious beginning afforded the new program, in the matter of attendance at the various meetings, the whole sports schedule is getting under way in fine style. Several teams in each class have been entered already.

If you have not been placed on a team yet, then you are missing out on a fine thing, because everybody else is getting lined up for some fine games.

This program is a great thing for the school and students, but without the full cooperation of the individual student it can fail and again the cry will rise, "Why don't we have something to create school spirit?" If you are not active in the program then you are deliberately sabotaging one of the best deals the students have had in a long time.

So, get in the swing of things, and let's keep the class spirit and cooperation on the upgrade from now on out.

Two Alumni Receive Honors in Graduate School Work at LSU

Two recent graduates of Centenary college have maintained the high standards set by other alumni who have gone on to higher fields of study. They are Beatrice Carlton and Charles Peters, both in school at Louisiana State University.

Miss Carlton has accepted a position in the library at L.S.U., while she is engaged in writing a thesis for her Ph.D. degree in history. Her treatise is on the history of the telegraph.

Charles Peters, in the law school, was ranked third in his law class when the recent grades were released.

Annual Yoncopin Popularity Contest Nominations Must Be In By Tuesday

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS FETED BY COMMERCE CLUB

The Commerce Club of Centenary College entertained the North Louisiana chapter of the Society of Louisiana Certified Public Accountants at dinner in the college dining hall Monday evening. The address of the evening was by H. L. Viser, C.P.A., on "The Student and War Accounting." Thirteen members of La. C.P.A. attended. Seated at the speaker's table (above) were: Professor Robert S. See of Commerce Dept.; Miss Margaret Haggard; Foster Philyaw, president of the Commerce Club; Mr. Viser, and Fred R. Hettler, president of Louisiana Certified Public Accountants. Photo by Grabill; courtesy Shreveport Journal.)

WRITES NEW SONG

Fred Waring, above, will present the new Centenary song he has written and honor the school on his program Friday, Feb. 20.

EIGHT STUDENTS TO BE HONORED WHEN SELECTED

To Be Decided by Popular Vote Next Friday; Winners Get Yearbook Publicity

Today, the Yoncopin released announcement of the annual popularity contest which it sponsors. Nominations are to be made on the blank which is printed elsewhere in the paper, and are to be signed by ten students. This must be done and the nominating blank in the hands of the Yoncopin editor, Bill Graham, before noon of next Tuesday, February 17.

The actual voting to decide the winners of the different contests will take place next Friday in the Student Union Building.

Winners will be used in developing a section of the 1942 yearbook.

No student can be nominated for more than one position. In the event that conflicting nominations are turned in, the nominee will be asked to pick the classification in which he would rather run.

Voting, as usual, will be restricted to those properly registered students, carrying 12 semester hours or more.

The eight places to be filled by election are: Centenary Lady, Centenary Gentleman, Most Versatile Girl, Most Versatile Boy, Most Popular Girl, Most Popular Boy, Best Girl Athlete, Best Boy Athlete.

To make any kind of election on the campus a success, it is necessary for all students to cooperate by going to the polls and casting their ballots.

Edward R. Murrow To Speak at Byrd

Edward R. Murrow, former chief of CBS's European staff of war correspondents, author and lecturer, will speak at Byrd high school auditorium, Feb. 13, under auspices of the Women's Department Club. Murrow, one of the foremost war correspondents and known everywhere by his familiar, "This is London," is currently engaged in extensive lecturing.

A 1930 graduate of Washington State where he was active in the Kappa Sigma fraternity, Murrow was recently named 1941 "Kappa Sigma of the Year" as a result of the fifth nation-wide balloting among active and alumni chapters of the fraternity.

A native of North Carolina, he is a reserve first lieutenant, a trustee of the Institute of International Education, director of the National Institute of Public Affairs and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations. He received the Overseas Press Club award for the best radio reporting of the war's first year.

BROADMOOR METHODIST CONDUCTS NIGHT SERVICES

The Broadmoor Methodist Church, meeting in the Centenary chapel, has begun holding night services every Sunday.

DRAMATIC CLUB MEETS

The regular meeting of the Centenary Dramatics Club takes place today at 10:00 a.m. All students interested in dramatics are invited to attend. The program will be a talk by Miss Ellen Glagon of the Little Theater on "The White Cliffs of Dover."

Centenary Men Over 20 Sign With U.S. Feb. 16

Only Nine Simple Questions To Be Asked Registrants When They Sign; No Questionnaires To Be Given, Nor Physicals

Emphasizing that the Selective Service Registration on February 16 will complete the registration of America's potential military manpower, Brig. Gen. Raymond H. Fleming, State Director of Selective Service, pointed out that it affects every male resident in Louisiana between the military ages of 20 and 45, with a few exceptions made by Congress.

The requirement, General Fleming explained, is that all male persons not previously registered, who attained their twentieth birthday on or before December 31, 1941, and who have not attained their forty-fifth birthday on or before February 16, 1942, must register as of their home address between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m. on February 16. In other words, all unregistered men who were born between February 17, 1897, and December 21, 1921, must register.

General Fleming also pointed out, that to avoid interference with war production, arrangements have been made for registration on February 14 and 15 also.

While anyone who is unavoidably away from his home on February 16 may register at the registration place most convenient on that day, General Fleming said, he urged all Louisiana registrants to make every effort to register with their own local boards.

Registration of the individual should require only a short time, since questionnaires will not be filled out, nor will registrants be required to undergo physical examinations at time of registration.

Each registrant must answer these nine questions: (1) Name of registrant; (2) Place of residence; (3) Mailing address; (4) Telephone; (5) Age in years and date of birth; (6) Place of birth; (7) Name and address of person who will always know your address; (8) Employer's name and address, and (9) Place of employment or business.

After a registrant has answered all questions and signed his name to the card, he will be given a registration certificate, which must be in his possession at all times. Failure to possess the certificate constitutes a violation of regulations and is prima facie evidence of failure to register.

Alpha Sigma Pi Celebrates Its Tenth Anniversary Here

Many Alumni of Organization and Faculty Attend Birthday Dinner

Alpha Sigma Pi, freshman-sophomore honorary scholastic fraternity, held a banquet in the Student Union Building recently celebrating its tenth anniversary on the Centenary campus. All active members as well as alumni who are still in school were invited to attend.

Roland Achee, president of the fraternity, presided as toastmaster, and introduced the members of the faculty who were present, including Mrs. Campbell, Dr. Ford, and Dr. Steger, each of whom made a brief talk to the group.

Mrs. Campbell, faculty advisor of the society, gave the history of Alpha Sigma Pi during its ten years' existence on the campus.

John Woods then gave a very amusing talk on education and schools in general; Miss Marie Isabel Wolf gave a reading as to the best procedure to follow in the event of an air raid, and Joe Stephens, last year's president, amused the group with a talk.

G. L. Blaxton and Jimmie Brown, alumni, gave renditions on the piano and accordion respectively.

Gilbert Hetherwick, past president, then said a word on behalf of the alumni present.

Actives and alumni attending the banquet were:

Miss Ella Mae McKee, Miss Syd-

(Continued on Page Four)

*Nutrition Course Offered Here Now

The Caddo Parish Nutrition Council is offering a course in nutrition which it will sponsor at Centenary College beginning with the new semester. The classes will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. every Friday at the college. Those who complete the course will be given two hours college credit as well as the Red Cross nutrition certificate. The only fee will be $5 and the Caddo Parish Nutrition Council will pay the rest.

This two-hour course has been planned as part of the council's present education drive to promote better health through correct nutrition practices. It is part of the plan for a vital measure in home defense. The Centenary course will be supervised by Miss Mary Lou Ware, head of the Centenary Home Economics Department.

Those who want to take the course may register at the office or see Miss Ware. For further information concerning the course call Mrs. Eugene Gillespie, chairman of the nutrition council committee which is directing the nutrition drive.

Class Managers For New Sports Program Named in Elections Monday Morning

The four classes at Centenary met last Monday morning to select their representatives in the new intramural sports program begun by the school.

These managers will be responsible for the appointment of the various captains who will in turn be responsible for the organization of the teams in the different classes. The managers also will be members of the governing body of the entire program to determine rules of procedure, schedule arrangements and such details.

In the senior class, LouDell Liston and Virginia Breithaupt were named the girl representatives, and Burl Sullivan and Camp Flournoy were the boys named.

The juniors selected Joe Stephens and Leroy Scott to represent the boys and Azalie Webb and Betty Gordon Smith to speak for the girls.

In the sophomore class, Albert G. Johnson and Billy McCook head the boys, with Susie Mulkey and Martha Hart selected from the girls.

The freshmen named Cile Webb and Mary Smith New as girl representatives, and Bobby Lindsay and Charles Carleton as the boys selected.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO BOSTON SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES PORTLAND SEATTLE

Official student news paper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Sports Editor Burl Sullivan; Associate, Luther Hardin
Social Editor Mabel Boddie
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Mary Foster Peyton, Jake Cullick, Ellen Eastham, J. L. Soloman, Arthur Shuey.

A College Education

To many of us these few years in college are just an opportunity to have a final fling at having a good time before we must settle down to the tiresome grind of earning a living for the rest of our lives. The classes we attend, or avoid, are just incidental to the more pleasant job of "loafing just a few more years."

What so many of us fail to realize until too late, if ever, is the fact that these few years in college is the last chance the great majority of students will ever have to have nothing on their minds but learning new things. Always expecting, of course, the broader knowledge and understanding which can only come to a person after a long and full life has been lived, college days offer the last real opportunity to devote oneself wholeheartedly to this process of learning.

Of course, some may claim that they can always "read books or something" in later life, but exactly how many of you can seriously and truthfully say that you have any idea that you will actually continue your studying in after years?

This is one of the things that makes it so hard to understand how any student, who stops and thinks about the matter at all, could see any advantage about getting through school the easiest way possible; that is, by copying exams and loafing through a course. No matter how much a student should dislike a course, if he would only stop and consider the fact that regardless of how long he lives, he will never have a better opportunity than right now to amass knowledge, whether it be poetry, chemistry, or similar subjects.

All of us certainly will add to our knowledge and experience in later years, but never will we find such ideal conditions in which to supply ourselves with a foundation for that greater knowledge which can only be accumulated by a life full of observation and attention.

So, regardless of how disagreeable the course, remember that we are not gaining anything when we rely upon that side glance to pull us through an examination; in years to come we may long for the information which we should have gotten from a class and didn't.

Let's Get Behind the School!

Students, for the first time in a great many years, Centenary is without athletic representation in intercollegiate competition. We no longer have teams to cheer for in any sport. This athletic program was the foundation of all the school enthusiasm which was created throughout the year; the pep rallies were called to back a big football game.

Without these activities to give us an incentive toward school loyalty, there is some danger of that loyalty declining as the years pass without any cause for cheering, unless some other activities can take the place of those we have lost.

We believe that it is necessary for the good of the school for the students to find other departments of the school to interest themselves in and cheer for. It is natural for a person to want to have something in which they can have pride. Heretofore it was our athletic teams; win or lose, we were proud of them.

Now that these teams are a thing of the past, we should turn our attention to other fields; the band—ours is of the best, as their recent concert proved; the new intramural program provides many with an opportunity to root for something they can call their own; in fact, there are many activities of the school that have been waiting for students to interest themselves in them.

Whatever line of extracurricular activity you may choose to support, and you certainly should make your choice as all-inclusive as is compatible with your likes and dislikes, put everything you have into your interest and let it be shown by outspoken support of as many of the other school departments as you possibly can. It is our job to show the incoming classes at Centenary that we still have a lot of things of which we can be and are proud.

Lincoln

On February 12, the American people celebrate the birthday of the greatest president and pioneer of democratic government the world has ever seen. Throughout the annals of American history there is no one who will compare with the feats and triumphs of Abraham Lincoln. His indefatigable source of energy and his master mind have made his name unforgotten in the hearts and minds of every American. His achievements are an inspiration for all. Never did he relax his efforts in his quest for racial equality for the slave. The life of Lincoln should be a model for us all; a man who gave his life and energies for the tasks that he thought would better humanity. Lincoln's memory lies deep in our hearts as a light that will guide our lives. The words and the figure of Lincoln are universal to us all and will never be forgotten. His legacy is one that will ever mark the pages of American history.

—J. C.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Oh, unhappy Saturday, especially when KAY BABY CANON, GERRY BAIRD, and JEAN EVANS start that weekly serenade in the Sub on Saturday morning—maybe that is the reason why it is vacant every Saturday.

We just got wind that ELLEN EASTHAM is coming back to school this week, after recuperating from an appendectomy. That means we will soon see that smiling (?) face of AL RICHARDSON. You know, there is something "sweet" about that romance. AL has a mania for nicknaming people—just ask our Editor. Well, "h, love," he calls ELLEN his little "pig" and he is her "horsey." "Oh, sweet barnyard romances"—If you don't believe this is, just look inside the locker she usually wears. AL gave it to her—and it was complete with a picture of a horse—which is AL—and a pig which is ELLEN—oh, for a barnyard romance!

We saw ARNOLD HARDY getting information about the Naval Reserve—oh, happy day!

There is something about that CILE WEBB that infatuated the men around here. BOB HENDRICKS is the latest victim but from the looks of things CHARLIE STAMPER seems to have everything under control.

BETTY BLAXTON seems to have lost that friendly air she so charmingly possessed at the first of the year.

If anyone wishes to contribute a small sum of money to a fraternity pin drive, see MARY EARLE TEXADO who recently lost DOUGAL'S.

That Colonial Hall knitting trio, BETTY GORDON, LIL TURNER and LUCY SAMFORD—all knit.

Beautiful Belles Become Beat-up Bunch By Boisterous Bouncing on Bikes Brought Back

Several of the fairer members of the Centenary student body set forth merrily last Saturday afternoon, a bicycle brigade, allegedly at 1:30, but if we know said fair sex it was probably nearer 2:00 before they decided that they were ready to go.

However, in spite of any delays which may have arisen, these daredevil damsels from the W.A.A. mounted their steeds and with a flourish, a squeal, a giggle, and a glance to see who was looking, they sallied forth to see a bit of the world as would an hombre from deep in the heart of Texas have seen it.

Shore, and old Azalie Webb from out Arizony way led the lighthearted lassies in their descent upon the poor unsuspecting Saturday afternoon motorists if such there be with the tire shortage.

So with a motley collection of red, yellow, green, and chartreuse shorts and slacks, not to mention the galaxy of bare nether extremities apparent, the nifty nine wended their way across the windswept Broadmoor plains down to the banks of the mighty Old River.

Along this broad expanse of surging torrents, they pressed on down the trail, braving the many perils of the journey, Minervas that they were.

With Mary Foster Peyton and Mary Smith New in the vanguard, with the ever-faithful Dorothy Viosca at their side, the main body ted their men sweaters—but the funny part, only one fit. The other two are being made over—that's a laugh.

CYRIL WILDE and CAROLYN CANON have been going together for nearly a year. Tell us, is this love or just a charming friendship?

ELAINE BARKSDALE is the latest addition of charm and personality to the campus.

One of the sweetest couples on the campus are ANN BURNETTE and BARRON JOHNS—some say it is love, some say it ain't—we think it is.

It is about time for SUSIE MULKEY to give JOHN MARSHALL some more competition. Who'll it be this time?

You never hear of NORMAN ROBERTSON any more and just don't understand it—she is undoubtedly one of the most versatile girls on the campus.

PEG HAWKINS seems to be a dead name around here—we never see, hear, or talk to her any more. Where does she hide?—we never see her in the Sub.

CLAIRE TINNIN strictly possesses that quality of friendliness. The better you know her the more you like—Gee, why aren't more girls like that?

Here's hoping that sweet little DOTTIE GRAHAM is up and back at school as quickly as possible. She is now in the Schumpert Sanitarium, recovering from an appendectomy.

Romance is so sweet for those in love—for instance, DOROTHY VIOSCA and FRANK HALL. That's gone on for years now—more power to them.

What is COBURN going to do when her love DUDLEY leaves?

of the armada in the persons of Jean Flowers, Susie Mulkey, and Norman Robertson, kept an ever watchful eye open for those ever present wolves. Emily Prothro and Pat Harper made up the rear guard of the cautious crew.

As they wobbled along the pathway under the blazing western sun, the pickaninnies cleared out before them like the proverbial water slides away from a duck's back. As a matter of fact, Captain Prothro missed one little sepia sasser on the way down and made a special trip back to chase him down a cotton row and run over him.

Every bump along the dusty trail was hit and rehit by each individual member of the caravan as any one of the bunch will tell you. S. Mulkey missed one bump and had to make a slight detour to be sure and hit two bumps to make up for the one she missed . . . the others claimed she was being unfair to organized bump hitters if she failed to keep up with the average approved by Bicyclers, Inc., a local group organized for the protection of those who consistently hit every rock and brick in the road and who resent the fact that other people are sometimes able to dodge a rock or two. Miss Mulkey contemplated turning in her membership in this organization after the second detour but after an unexpected jar when some little gamin threw an old branding iron in front of her wheel, she became

☆ POETRY CORNY! ☆

LYRICS TO JUST ABOUT ANYTHING

By JOHN WOODS
Come Sit By My Side, Little Morpheus

Paul Revere Was a Minute Man,
But Roosevelt Is the Man of the Hour
Gold and silver I've never had,
And now they're taking time from this desperate lad.

At 5 a.m. he crawls from bed,
And he already feels like he's three-fourths dead.

This is, of course, by the New Daylight Saving;
A system which definitely isn't to his craving.

He's lost an hour somewhere in the night,

one of the most avid members of the club and has already instigated the organization of 14 subsidiaries all over the Red River valley area.

After a long and arduous journey the little band of wanderers pitched camp (we knew a wolf would find his way into this somehow; but how did Flournoy get in this?). Anyway, they pitched camp (at least it's a change to be pitching camp). So, as we said, they pitched camp, and indulged in their trail rations, which consisted of a salad or so, olives, and anything they might borrow from each other. You know, the type of grub that would appeal to those hardened and tough knightesses of the road.

After the "delightful little snack" shared with the birds, bees, ants, and revenue officer, the long trek back to civilization must begin for the nine weary wanderers of the wastelands.

The long shadows deepened across the endless stretch of prairie with the high sierras, Pierre Mont on the horizon, shining blue through the mists of early evening. Across the distance the howling call of a coyote shattered the stillness of the heavy atmosphere. The evening's calm was suddenly punctuated by the shrill wailing of a slightly nostalgic feminine voice, beweeeping the fact that "I don't wanna ride all the way back to town, because I'm tired and besides my—" Here, the heart-rending cry of the maid was cut off by a chorus of frantic voices in agreement.

"Girls," girlsed General Azalie, "Where is your W.A.A. spirit of adventure? Are we women or are we micen? You know our motto, don't you? It goes, 'After I have ridden out five miles on my bicycle, and am very tired, I will always ride back in again . . . if I can't get a ride!'"

"True, how true!" soothed Lt. Peyton. "Girls, have cheer."

"I only wish I had a cheer, so I could sit on something besides this bicycle," bemoaned Pvt. Pro.

Nevertheless, the hardy crew again mounted their bikes and began another ruthless onslaught upon the hapless motorists, pedestrians, and buxom blacks.

Finally, as the dying rays of the golden sun sank slowly behind the massive columns of the K A house, the little group pedaled into the old campus grounds. A happy nine-some, they, though if we may be privileged to use the vernacular, a beat-up bunch.

And he won't get it back 'till the end of the fight.

It's a little thing, he knows, just to lose an hour,
But somehow he just doesn't seem to have the power

To drag from his bed his sad anatomy,
And he thinks of that phrase, "To be or not to be."

It certainly does help to make you feel like a fool
To have to get up in the morning and to go to night school.

To Dr. W. Darrell Overdyke
I used to know but little,
And that was hardly queer,
For I remembered naught I'd read,
And nothing that I'd hear.

But Overdyke's been teaching me,
And now I'm glad to say,
I'm a very happy fellow
In an ignorant sort of way.

To a Certain Miss Williamson
There was a young lady named Rob,
Who would make anybody's heart throb;
Said a guy we call Bob,
"I know I'm a gob,
But I sure do wish Rob would hobbob."

Thee, I Don't Lithp
Mrs. Young has a class in good diction,
With results that would read like pure fiction,
Whn I entered I stuttered,
Not a clear word I uttered,
But I'm cured, that's my c-c-con-viction.

Curious fly,
Vinegar jug,
Slippery edge,
Pickled bug.

Early to bed,
Early to rise,
Makes a man sorry,
In a lot of ways.

She has a form like a dream,
As about the town she gadded,
Then one day she went to the beach
And everyone knew she was padded.

Practice teachers
Are all right
In their place.

Their place,
However,
Has not yet
Been dug.

He made a run around the end,
Was tackled from the rear;
The right guard sat upon his neck,
The fullback on his rear,
The center sat upon his back,
Two ends upon his chest,
The quarter and the halfback then
Sat down on him to rest.
The left guard sat upon his head,
Two tackles on his face;
The coroner was then called in
To sit upon the case.

If you don't feel just right,
If you can't sleep at night,
If you moan and you sigh,
And your throat feels dry,
If you don't care to smoke,
If your food makes you choke,
If your heart doesn't beat,
If you're getting cold feet,
If your heart's in a whirl;
My gosh, why not marry the girl?

FOR BETTER SCHOOL
WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC
MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

SCHEDULE FOR VOLLEY BALL ROUND-ROBIN

GIRLS

Feb. 18, 4 P.M.—Sophomore B vs. Freshmen; 5 p.m., Juniors vs. Sophomore A.

Feb. 19, 4 p.m.—Seniors vs. Sophomore B; 5 p.m., Juniors vs. Freshmen.

Feb. 20, 4 p.m.—Sophomore A vs. Sophomore B; 5 p.m., Juniors vs. Seniors.

Feb. 23, 4 p.m.—Seniors vs. Sophomore A; 5 p.m., Juniors vs. Sophomore B.

Feb. 24, 4 p.m.—Freshmen vs. Sophomore A; 5 p.m., Seniors vs. Freshmen.

BOYS SCHEDULE

Feb. 18, 4 p.m.—Freshmen vs. Sophomore A; 4:45 p.m., Sophomore B vs. Junior A; 5:30 p.m., Senior B vs. Junior B.

Feb. 19, 4 p.m.—Senior A vs. Junior A; 4:45 p.m., Sophomore A vs. Senior B; 5:30 p.m., Sophomore B vs. Senior A.

Feb. 20, 4 p.m.—Freshmen vs. Junior B; 4:45 p.m., Senior B vs. Junior A; 5:30 p.m., Freshmen vs. Sophomore B.

Feb. 23, 4 p.m.—Sophomore A vs. Sophomore B; 4:45 p.m., Senior A vs. Senior B; 5:30 p.m., Junior B vs. Junior A.

Feb. 24, 4 p.m.—Freshmen vs. Senior B; 4:45 p.m., Sophomore A vs. Junior B; 5:30 p.m., Freshmen vs. Senior A.

Feb. 25, 4 p.m.—Junior B vs. Senior A; 4:45 p.m., Sophomore B vs. Junior B; 5:30 p.m., Sophomore A vs. Senior A.

Feb. 26, 4 p.m.—Freshmen vs. Junior A; 4:45 p.m., Sophomore B vs. Senior B; 5:30 p.m., Sophomore A vs. Junior A.

HEP KAT SEZ

The remarks made in this column are personal and do not necessarily express the opinions of the editor. It is the policy of this feature to help the reader enjoy the popular music of the day by telling you some of the things that aren't generally known to the rank and file (that's still you). We also try to make it a habit not to "knock" certain entertainers that do not appeal to us, since this column is only one man's opinion.

One of the bands that is definitely in the limelight today is that man with the drum, Gene Krupa. Gene, once a main attraction with Benny Goodman, now has a group that ranks with the best of the veterans. Topnotch vocals by Anita O'Day and Johnny Desmond. This crew is best appreciated when you see them in the flesh. They are a very flashy outfit and decidedly a show band. The real feature of the band is Roy Eldridge who is one of the best—some say the best—trumpet man in the business. For proof catch their Okeh disc of "After You've Gone." It is truly a masterpiece in tempo besides the terrific passages that Roy produces. Not enough can be said about Miss O'Day's technique on her numbers. "Let Me Off Uptown" and "Drum-boogie" are two very fine examples. Naturally most of the numbers are centered around the sensational ability of Gene, who is to our mind the best that has appeared yet. Krupa plays as though each number is his last. His marvelous ideas and the ability to carry them out are a revelation. His recent engagement at the new Hollywood Palladium is only one example of the group's popularity. You can't go wrong by stocking up with this crew's recordings or playing their numbers on the juke box.

What To Play on the Juke Boxes

Harry James' Columbia disc of "You Made Me Love You." An old favorite all dressed up with that fine James touch.

Woody Herman's Decca release of "Blues In the Night." A very catchy tune that should make a hit with blues addicts. That's Woody doing the vocal.

Alvino Rey's Bluebird platter of "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town." The announcement is a bit late for now but the record is still very good and rates a nickel in the machine.

Glenn Miller's Bluebird release on "A String of Pearls." Don't let the name deceive you—it's plenty solid. Incidentally, Jerry Gray, who helped put Artie Shaw up there with his arrangements did the night work on this one.

Eighth Notes

Jimmy Dorsey, aside from the fact that he will make $100,000 for a movie soon, is adding to his brass section. This will make four trumpets and four trombones. Speaking of brass, Claude Thornhill uses two French horns all the time in his fine new work. Prof. Kay Kyser made more money than any of them last year with Miller and both Dorseys close behind. Benny Goodman once said that Bobby Hackett, feature cornet with Miller, was shallow and weak as an artist. That just goes to prove what we said. That fine trumpet work that you are liable to hear

Professor Bryant Davidson To Speak At Student Council Fellowship Meeting Soon

Finding a genuine need for a clearer understanding of the world we live in now—and may have to live in in the days to come—the Centenary Student Fellowship has begun a series of four discussions on a subject of vital current interest.

"The Nature of the Post-War Peace" is being studied, in the light of the causes of the present conflict, in the application of Christian principles to any arrangement for a just and durable peace, and the obstacles hindering the progress toward that goal.

Next Tuesday night Mr. Bryant Davidson, head of the history department, will meet with the group and exchange his ideas on this subject which commands the genuine concern of all of us, even in the midst of war.

The Student Fellowship, whose maiden name was the Student Council for Creative Living, meets every Tuesday night in the Student Union Building, from 6:15 with Woody Herman belongs to Billy Rogers, a GIRL. We must admit that we didn't believe it but now we have heard and there's no retort. Charlie Barnet has crossed the Atlantic twenty-two times. He used to play on an ocean liner. Enough for now. Next week, Claude Thornhill.

to 8:00 o'clock. Its members are both dormitory and day students, who are interested in making religion a part of everyday life.

The programs include a service of worship, discussion of business items and possibilities for Christian service, and a varied diet of constructive recreation.

All students are cordially invited to affiliate with the Fellowship.

Make your plans to come next Tuesday—and if you are afraid to come by yourself, bring someone with you.

Band Gives Concert In Wednesday Chapel

The Centenary concert band gave a concert in the college chapel during the student assembly period last Wednesday morning to an enthusiastic as well as appreciative audience.

Soloists of the morning were Sammy Swor and Cleo Christeian-son.

STUDENT FACULTY TEA

The Centenary Baptist Student Union tea took place yesterday afternoon from 4:00 to 6:00. During the appointed hours many guests called at the open house.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

ON VALENTINE'S DAY...

CENTENARY

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE
Always 9c & 22c Phone 7-5971

SAT., FEB. 14—DOUBLE FEATURE
"CHARLIE CHAN IN RIO"
"KISSES FOR BREAKFAST"
Last Chapter of CAPTAIN MARVEL
First Chapter of JUNGLE GIRL

SUN. and MON., FEB. 15-16
Charlie McCarthy—Edgar Bergen
Fibber McGee and Molly
"LOOK WHO'S LAUGHIN'"
Color Cartoon—News

TUES. and WED., FEB. 17-18
Cary Grant—Joan Fontaine
"SUSPICION"
"CRISIS IN THE ATLANTIC"
Color Cartoon—Travelogue

THURS. and FRIDAY, FEB. 19-20
Claudette Colbert—Ray Milland
"SKYLARK"
Cartoon—News—Historical Chart
"More About Nostradamus"

POPULARITY CONTEST NOMINATING BLANK

To be turned into Yoncopin, Postoffice Box 6, before noon of next Tuesday, February 17. It may be filled in entirely or in part.

Centenary Lady _____

Centenary Gentleman _____

Most Versatile Girl _____

Most Versatile Boy _____

Most Poular Girl _____

Most Popular Boy _____

Best Girl Athlete _____

Best Boy Athlete _____

Nominations will be published in next week's issue of The Conglomerate. Voting will take place Friday, February 20, at the Student Union Building.

No student may be nominated for more than one post. In the event that conflicting nominations are turned in, the nominee will be asked to pick the classification in which he wishes to run.

Signed:—

- | | |
|----------|-----------|
| 1. _____ | 6. _____ |
| 2. _____ | 7. _____ |
| 3. _____ | 8. _____ |
| 4. _____ | 9. _____ |
| 5. _____ | 10. _____ |

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

Centenary College Choir Makes First Public Appearance Last Monday Night in Concert

The Centenary College Choir made its first public appearance last Monday night when it gave a concert at the Woman's Department Club.

The concert was given for the benefit of the choir's music fund. Alvin C. Voran is director of the chorus of 38 undergraduates of the college.

Pictured above are the four members of the quartet which is a feature part of the choir. From left to right in the picture are Carley Fox, Misses Cleo Christiansen and Margie Mae Stephenson, and George Brown.

The program consisted of sacred chorales and light, humorous songs. It was as follows:

Andante Cantabile.....	Tschaikowsky
Tenebrae Factae Sunt.....	Palestrina
Lo, God Is Here.....	Mueller
God So Loved the World.....	Stainer
Lord God of Hosts.....	Tschaikowsky
Three Bach Chorales:
(a) Gladly I Clasp Thy Hand
(b) Jesus Mine, I Cling to Thee
(c) My God Wherever Thou Dost Chance

In Still of Night.....	Buck
Hymn to Music.....	Buck
Winter and Spring.....	Borowski
Echo Song.....	Di Lasso
When Icicles Hang by the Wall.....	Brooks
Maiden Fair Oh Deign to Tell.....	Haydn
By the Sea.....	Schubert-Aschenbrenner
Thy Song.....	Noble Cain

The entire program was enthusiastically received by the audience and the choir was called back for four curtain calls upon the conclusion of the concert.

Although Clemson college offers no course in journalism, the student newspaper, The Tiger, and student yearbook, The Taps, both are rated as "All-American."

Every Saturday during the fall, New Haven's open street cars, otherwise unused, are wheeled out of the barns to handle Yale football crowds.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS
LOUISIANA
GAS
COMPANY

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

THE KISS

I love the girls who will;
I like the girls who won't;
The heck with girls who say they do
And then you find they don't.

But here's to girls I like the best;
I'm sure you'll say I'm right;
So here's to the girls who say I never have,
But just for you I might.
—Battalion

Too bad DOROTHY GRAHAM is sick. Seems like an epidemic.
We notice HUTCH isn't looking well either.

We wonder why BETTY B.
blushes whenever she hears the song "Genevieve."

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
B.G.S. likes gingerbread,
Some others should, too.

Looks like FOSTER HAMNER has found out what the deal is.
Shart boy, eh, MARTHA STEPH-ENS?

The little man (SULLY) has his troubles, too. Which one is it now?

ROSIE and DONN, blissful couple. Congrats!
What's the matter, SMITTY—can't you get him to make up his mind? Or, is it you?

Wonder why JIMMIE THIBO-
DEAUX has learned to knit . . .
Eh, PROFESSOR HEARNE? . . .
Maybe those ever-lovin' physiocrats had something to do with it
. . . they have been taking up a good deal of your time lately.

"DEACON" ALVORD sure has a fine line. How about that,
JANE, BETTY, CLAIRE, etc., ad infinitum?

Congrats to JIMMY HARRIS
. . . now he'll have even more trouble with his women.

We hear there's a lipstick club, which elected FLOURNOY president, unanimously.

Say, there sure are lots of cute girls running around loose these days. Namely, JUSTINE HOLMES

(what happened to Vandy?),
MARY KATHERINE CASTE-
NADO (what happened to BU-BA?), CAROLYN BOYETT (what happened to JIMMIE, DYKES, etc.), and the paper cuts us off
here.

Well, until next week the two super-snoopers, namely Glamour Boy and Superman, remain snoop-ingly yours.

Get "BEAK" ODOM and BILL
REAGAN to tell you about the hospitality of the Florida police force, and the rest of their lovely trip. It was a bleak week for the "BEAK."

Have you noticed TIPPETT'S
new sweater?—BILL KEENAN.
CURTIS "SLUGGER" JONES
tried to get in the navy as an ensign, but failed. It has been suggested that he might be accepted as a recommissioned, overage battleship.

How many of you are aware of WALTER HEARD'S mathematical prowess? 'Tis a fact.

Have y'all met the "Freedmen from Sweden"? We-all think this classy lassie from up yonder in Minnesota is on the OK side.

Keep your eye on ROLAND
ACHEE, a swell lad who's really going places.

Has "DUC" DRAKE gone dignified on us? Anyway, we like it,
"DUC."

Why did MRS. MARSHALL think PEG HAWKINS and a few other Senate members were engaged in a friendly game of "Birmingham Bingo" last Tuesday afternoon?

RADIO COURSES

(Continued from Page One)
eligible for more rapid promotion if he chooses to enter the armed forces. If he should have the proper qualifications to join the signal corps he will be eligible for a commission.

Some of the present seniors in school may be eligible for the instruction, and those who are interested should see Dr. Lowance as soon as possible. Juniors also may be eligible, but if accepted are required to agree to enter the U. S. service immediately upon completion of the work.

The instruction will be given in the Physics laboratories in Jackson Hall.

The entire program was begun by the National Association of Broadcasters.

Louisiana Tech and Centenary are cooperating in plans for the courses in the northern part of the state.

Besides Dr. Lowance the other committee member from this part of the state is Dean Roy Sessums of Louisiana Tech.

FRED WARING ADDS ALMA MATER, PEP SONGS TO SCHOOLS' REPERTORIES

NEW SONG AIRED FEB. 20

Centenary's new song being written by Fred Waring will be broadcast over the Pennsylvanians' radio program next Friday night.

Fred Waring's written-to-order pep and alma mater songs for colleges and universities interested in adding to their traditional reper-tories have undergraduate groups all over the country jockeying for a spot on his Friday smoker edition of Pleasure Time (6:00 PM, NBC Red Network) devoted to college listeners.

The plan was precipitated two years ago when Waring received a letter from an old friend, football coach at Colby College,
Maine, asking the bandleader's advice on how to obtain a good pep song. Fred enthusiastically took over the job himself and presented the song to Colby over the air.

He was immediately besieged with other requests.

Waring explains his interest in the project this way: "There's nothing more heartwarming than a good college tune. They are sung and sentimentally remembered

when other songs are forgotten.
But, though hundreds of popular tunes are brought out each year, little effort has been made to add to the list of traditional college pep and alma mater songs. I am happy to make some contribution to this grand type of music, for my interest primarily is in singing, and these songs are written to be sung."

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS OF INTEREST TO STUDENTS

The United States civil service commission has just announced two examinations of particular interest to college students. They are the annual "Junior Professional Assistant" and "Student Aid" examinations designed to recruit young college graduates and junior and senior students for positions in the government service. Applications for both these examinations must be on file with the commission's Washington office not later than February 3, 1942.

Copies of the examination announcements and application forms may be obtained at first from the Civil Service Commission,
Washington, D. C.

A college student is a person who is most happy when he can miss something he is paying to get —a class.

ALPHA SIGMA PI

(Continued from Page One)
ney Skinner, Miss Eleanor Brown,
Miss Harriet Lieber, Mrs. A. R.
Campbell, Miss Pat Harper, Roland
Achee, Jack Elgin, John Woods,
Cotton Robbins, Lanford DeGeneres, Dr. S. A. Steger, Miss Helen Bartlett, Dr. E. L. Ford, Miss Charlotte Newsome, Billy Booth, Mrs.
Tyler Pirtle, Gene Hilliard, Robert
Webster, James Dixon, G. L. Blax-ton, Edwin Whited, Miss Betty Jean Autrey, Miss Gene Hearn,
Miss Frances Oden, John Lowe,
Bobby Clark, Miss Jimmie Brown,
Aubrey McClellan, George Brown,
Marshall Kesling, John Marshall,
Miss Marie Isabel Wolf, Clint
Teacle, Joe Stephens, Brian Harwell, Miss Susie Mulkey, Gilbert
Hetherwick, Miss Elise Montgomery, Miss Lucretia Wilson, Miss Muriel Vickers and Malcolm Vickers.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

REX Phone 7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

FRIDAY and SAT., FEB. 13-14
"ALL THAT MONEY CAN BUY"
Walter Huston, Edw. Arnold ETDON
Walter Huston - Edward ARNOIN
Simone Simon
Disney Cartoon—Serial

SUN., MON. & TUES., FEB. 15-16-17
"DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE"
Spencer Tracy, Ingrid Bergman
Lana Turner
Cartoon—News

WED. and THURS., FEB. 18-19
"ONE FOOT IN HEAVEN"
Frederic March—Martha Scott
News—"Seeing is Believing"

Letters to the Editor

Note: This column is open to any student for the expression of individual opinion; and as such should not be construed necessarily as representing the opinion of the paper or staff.

Dear Editor:

It seems to be the consensus of opinion on the campus that the registrar's office could be more pleasant in answering the sensible questions of students. We are not trying to be rebellious or cause trouble but we would merely like to ask the staff to treat us with respect due students paying tuition.

We hope this will not be taken offensively but will bring about better relations between the office and the students.

An Offended Student.

You used to say that I was all the world to you.
Yes, but I've learned a lot of geography since then.

Please patronize our advertisers.

Now He'll Have to Study

Philadelphia (ACP). — Father doesn't owe sonny a college education, according to a ruling of Pennsylvania's state superior court. Setting a legal precedent for Pennsylvania, the tribunal, upon appeal of Morgan T. Binney, reversed a lower court order that he pay his son
$1,500 a year for "campus" support.

PITT U. CLASS WRITES OWN TEXT BOOK

Pittsburgh, Pa. (ACP).—A University of Pittsburgh class has written its own textbook. The 131-page book, "Youth Education in Practical Living," is a product of the Pitt summer workshop laboratory in teaching. It is a study guide and source book in functional high school education.

"Name two pronouns."
"Who? Me?"

Exploration Results

Bub: Am I mad? My mother went through my pockets last night.

"IT'S FLOWERS FOR VALENTINE"

AND THIS MEANS YOU."

BROADMOOR FLORAL SHOP

3803 Youree—Phone 7-2737 Mrs. Sara Tully, Mgr.

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 8 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENT ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomee Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Fennell, President.....7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalee Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 2-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
234 Columbia Avenue.....7-4216
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891
(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

Dub: Well, did she find anything?

Bub: Well, just like all other explorers, she found material for lectures.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

The time to take care of your hair is while you
have it.

For intelligent and beneficial
service on hair-grooming—

CAMERON BROS.
BARBER SHOP
307 Milam St.

for Teas—for Dates
HEARNE'S
Apparel is smart and appropriate.
for Campus—for Classroom
HEARNE'S
Sports Togs
are new and chic.

The HEARNE
DRY GOODS CO. LTD.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, February 27, 1942.

Number 18

FORECAST

Students, this is for you. As all of you realize, no school in the world is perfect. But also as all of you realize, a school can only be as good or bad as its students make it.

The college itself is not human; it has no personality. The only qualities which it has are those which you, as students, have given to it by virtue of your presence and, what is more important, your activities. It is these activities, good or bad, which impart to the college the reputation which it enjoys; and that reputation is in turn favorable to the same extent that your personal activities are favorable as an individual.

For this reason, when you see fit to criticize the school in any of its many pursuits, you are in reality criticizing yourself and all the other students who go to make up Centenary College.

Now, by no means should this be interpreted as an appeal for the cessation of all criticism. On the contrary, constructive criticism is the very life blood of progress; and progress is an essential part of every modern college.

What we do mean to bring out, however, is that any criticism directed at the college, whether it be for lack of school spirit, or any other reason, should claim the attention of each one of us, because we are primarily the ones who will have to remedy the faulty situation. So, when we have a tendency toward criticism, we must look into ourselves for the correction, for only by the complete cooperation of all the students of the college can the college itself hope to remove anything which causes that criticism.

For this reason, then, we should, each of us, immediately ally ourselves with any project which has for its goal an improvement of the college. The school is but a reflection of the students in it, and for this reason we should make our school, which to the world at large is but the embodiment of each individual which comprises it, as fine as any in the country, with a record as clean and as honest as we would like for our own to be.

Honorary Scholarship Fraternity Initiates 10 New Members

Alpha Sigma Pi, honorary freshman-sophomore scholastic fraternity, met Thursday night, February 18, at the home of Harriet Lieber to initiate ten new members. The new initiates are:

Betty Bryant, Gertrude Conqueror, Subino Corrone, Robert Eatman, Phyllis Haigler, George Jacobson, Lester Moore, Carolyn Rigby, Gloria Freedman, and Eugene Clark.

The new members had been pledged at a meeting February 17 in Mrs. Campbell's room.

Membership in Alpha Sigma Pi is limited to the upper ten percent of the freshman class; that is, only those freshmen who have an average of 39 honor points are eligible.

DR. STEGER ADDRESSES HOLLINS ALUMNI

Dr. S. A. Steger, head of the English department, spoke to a group of Hollins alumni last Tuesday at a luncheon celebrating the 100th anniversary of the foundation of the college.

Popularity Contest Winners Named

Contest Winners

Pictured above are the winners of the annual popularity contest conducted by the Yoncopin. Reading from left to right they are: Gilbert Hetherwick, Centenary Gentleman; Felice Hicks, Centenary Lady; Bill Graham, most versatile; Jimmye Brown, most versatile; Camp Flournoy, most popular; Jimmie Thibodeaux, most popular; Tom Griffith, most athletic; and Azalie Webb, most athletic. (Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal.)

TO BE FEATURED IN A SECTION OF COLLEGE ANNUAL

Annual Yoncopin Competition Held Last Friday; 22 Students Nominated

As a result of the annual Yoncopin popularity contest, the following students were named last Friday:

Centenary Gentleman

Gilbert Hetherwick

Centenary Lady

Felice Hicks

Most Versatile Boy

Bill Graham

Most Versatile Girl

Jimmye Brown

Most Popular Boy

Camp Flournoy

Most Popular Girl

Jimmie Thibodeaux

Most Athletic Boy

Tom Griffith

Most Athletic Girl

Azalie Webb

The winners will be featured in the 1942 edition of the Centenary Yoncopin.

In the contest for Centenary Gentleman, Gilbert Hetherwick defeated Jimmy Harris, while Felice Hicks was winner over Peg Hawkins, LaRue Powell and Ann Robertson in the Centenary Lady election.

Bill Graham was elected Most Versatile Boy over Buddy Kinnebrew in a close contest for that honor. Jimmye Brown was named Most Versatile Girl on the girls' ballot, with Ann Burnette, Helen Dwire, and Carolyn Lunny not far behind.

Camp Flournoy received the necessary margin of votes over Gene Hilliard in the most popular boy poll, with Jimmie Thibodeaux leading the field in the girls' division ahead of Lucille Webb and Kathryn Moreneaux.

Tom Griffith was named by acclamation to be the most athletic boy of the campus, and Azalie Webb defeated Norman Robertson, Martha Hart, and LouDell Liston in the girls' race.

Art Club Organized By College Artists Interested in Work

Several members of the student body, who are interested in the study and appreciation of art, have begun the organization of a club, in which all other students similarly interested may find companions for their study.

Mr. Don Brown of the Centenary art department will be the faculty sponsor for the new organization, which will have its meetings on Wednesday nights.

The Wednesday night programs will feature speakers who will discuss a great variety of subjects, including art history, costume designing, commercial art, dioramas, architecture, and sculpture.

On the nights when no special program has been scheduled, the club plans to meet with the night school Life class, which is a sketching class.

All students who are interested in designing or any type of art work are invited to join the club, since its membership is not restricted to art students alone.

Nominations For Miss Centenary Saturday

1942 Beauty Contest Entries Submitted to Yoncopin by 9 A. M.

Nominations for the honor of being named Miss Centenary must be in the Yoncopin postoffice box by 9:00 o'clock tomorrow morning, Saturday, February 28, according to Bill Graham, yearbook editor.

Each nomination must bear the signature of twenty students who wish to nominate the candidate, and there is the further requirement that no person shall sign more than one nomination blank.

The method of selection has not as yet been decided upon, but will be announced at an early date in The Conglomerate.

The selection of Miss Centenary is based on the beauty of the entrants. Last year the judge was the noted French artist Jean Despujols.

A ballot will be found in this issue of The Conglomerate for the nominations.

Miss Centenary and a few others of the nominees will be featured in the beauty section of the yearbook.

Yearly since 1922 the Yoncopin has sponsored a contest to find the most beautiful girl on the campus, and has bestowed upon her the title of "Miss Centenary."

Centenary Choir Entertains Club

The Centenary Women's Club was honored at its recent meeting by the Centenary choir, under the direction of A. C. Voran.

Their selections were exceptionally well executed and the club praised Mr. Voran and the students, not only for their entertainment but for their splendid contribution to the Centenary program.

Lambda Chi Alpha Elects Officers For Coming Year

Last Sunday evening the members of the Centenary chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha elected officers for the coming year. The new president is Bill Wellborn; vice president, Lee Owens; secretary, Bill Swyers; treasurer, Russell Coleman. Charlton Graff is pledge chairman, F. W. Kneipp social chairman, and Eugene Clark custodian.

During the week the Lambda Chi Alphas initiated two new members, F. W. Kneipp and Eugene Clark.

Based on the January grades recently released, the local chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha had the second highest grade average of all the Lambda Chi Alpha chapters all over the country.

☆ POETRY CORNY! ☆

[illegible]

ALL CLASSES ENTER TEAMS IN NEW INTRAMURAL VOLLEY BALL PROGRAM

Competition Began Friday for Girls' and Boys' Teams in Centenary Gymnasium

Culminating two weeks of practice in the gymnasium for the several teams of the two classes, the intramural program at Centenary started off with a bang on Friday, February 20, when the actual competition in the Round-Robin playoff in volley ball got under way with the first games of the schedule.

From freshman to senior, the students gathered Friday to begin their contests.

In the girls' league, the Sophomore "A's" won from the Juniors, 15-3 and 15-5. In the first game the serving of Hart was very fine, as well as the defensive play of Norman Robertson, Mulkey, and Haggard. In the second game, the play of the entire Sophomore class was much superior to that of the Juniors. Robertson, Harper, Prothro and Babin were standouts for the Sophomore girls.

The second match game brought together the Freshman and Sophomore "B" team. Claire Tinnin was the frosh standout all the way. Her serving was very good, which enabled her to score 9 points for the freshmen in the second game. The Sophs started off by winning the first game 15-11, but the Frosh came back strong and took the last two games straight to the tune of 15-5 and 15-13.

In the boys' league, the Sophomore "A" defeated the Freshmen in two straight games; score 15-8, 15-13. The serving of Corrone and Patton in the first game seemed to baffle the Frosh. Robins and Griffith were standouts on the defense. The second game was very close with Marvin Lindsay, Glover, Day, and Cureton playing a bang-up game. It should be hard to beat the Frosh after they get a little more team work.

A total of seven teams have been entered by the boys as compared to the five girl teams in the playoff.

In the boys division, two teams have been entered from each class with the exception of the freshmen, while the girls have only two teams in the sophomore class.

With an average of eight players available on each of the teams, a total of 96 students are thus participating in the intramural setup. While this is quite a few students, it still is far short of the number which should be taking part in the program. This is an excellent opportunity to secure valuable exercise, and at the same time have a fine time playing on a team with classmates.

So, if you missed out on the volley ball schedule start making your plans now to take part in the next program begun by the Intramural Council.

ALPHA CHI

There will be an Alpha Chi meeting next Tuesday evening at 5:00 at the home of Lanford DeGeneres on the Mansfield road. All members are urged to attend.

Outstanding Speaker To Address Students At Chapel Wednesday

Chapel speaker March 4 will be Miss Mary Craig McGeachy, born in Canada, educated at the University of Toronto, the Sorbonne, Paris, the University of Geneva, Switzerland.

In connection with the European Student Relief, she visited European universities in France, Spain, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Germany. She was a member of the League of Nations secretariat in Geneva for ten years, being liaison officer for the British Dominions.

She was liaison officer between the League of Nations and private international organizations of women, thus having a wide acquaintance with women in many circles the world over. At present she is the representative in Canada and the United States of the British Ministry of Economic Warfare, the first woman ever to receive a British embassy appointment.

She will speak to the students of Centenary Wednesday, March 4, on "Youth and the Crisis." While in the city she will be the guest of Dr. French, state president of the American Association of University Women."

Chi Sigma Nu Names New Officers; Selects Time for Initiation

Chi Sigma Nu, honorary education fraternity, held a luncheon at the Plaza Cafe last Tuesday. At this time Myrian Holloway was elected to fill the office of president which was vacated by the resignation of Margaret Gillespie. Lillian Gibson was also elected to the vice-presidency and LouDell Liston is secretary.

The fraternity elected nine new members, who will be initiated Saturday, February 21, at the Zeta house.

Those present were: Elise Montgomery, Lillian Gibson, Myrian Holloway, Dr. Middlebrooks, Virginia Kramer, Carl Tatum, Edgar Burkes, LouDell Liston, and Ethel Kramer.

NEW CENTENARY SONG AIRED LAST FRIDAY NIGHT BY FRED WARING

The new Centenary song, written by Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, was presented by the group last Friday evening over his regular Friday evening radio program dedicated to the colleges of the country.

After Waring's salute to Centenary as "presenting the ideal of the Southern Gentleman in a modern setting," the Pennsylvanians' glee club began the new song. After the glee club rendition of the opening verse, the full orchestra joined in and all "half a hundred" Pennsylvanians presented the new song as only they can present a song. It was all any of the students could have hoped for from any standpoint; it was swingy, with a "certain lilt"; it was peppy, with plenty of the old "up and at 'em" quality; and it was very singable.

A letter is in the mail to Fred Waring thanking him for the song, with a request for recordings and copies of the music for the students. For further information about the availability of the music, watch The Conglomerate.

A large portion of the student body gathered at the Student Union Building to hear the broadcast Friday evening, and all were enthusiastic in their reception of the song.

A petition was circulated two years ago by the Student Senate and sent to Mr. Waring, requesting that he write a new song for Centenary, as he was doing for many other colleges of the country at that time. He agreed and was preparing a song when the ASCAP controversy arose causing him to discontinue the practice for some time.

This November, however, a letter was received from Pat Ballard, head of the college relations department of the Pennsylvanians, asking if the students still were anxious for the publication of a new song.

The reply was promptly sent in that the students definitely were still interested and work was immediately begun on the song by the group.

Psychology Fraternity Reorganizes; Reelects Officers for This Year

Psi Delta Chi, the psychology club, met last Thursday, February 12, at Dr. Topper's home for a reelection of officers. John Woods was elected president by acclamation and presided over the remaining elections.

Felice Hicks was named vice-president; Kathryn Blackwell, secretary; and Teency Burton, treasurer.

In the meeting it was decided to elect a program chairman for the rest of this term, and Ernest Carter became program chairman.

Fred Waring's Band Is Now 22 Years Old

Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians, who presented the new Centenary song, which they recently wrote, last Friday at 6:00 over their radio program (KTBS), started playing for "peace parties" around Tyrone, Pennsylvania, after the armistice. In those days the outfit was called "Waring's Banjazztra," the two featured instruments being hot banjos, one manned by Fred Waring, the other by Fred Buck, now dead.

They differed mainly from other ragtime musicians of that period in that they sang every number they played. As Fred says, "We only played rhythm instruments and something had to carry the melody." That was the reason for the birth of the Glee Club style which has been their distinctive contribution.

The present outfit of 55 is a producing family and writes its own skits, lyrics, and original music, preferring this method to hiring professional gag-writers and composers. As with the original outfit, no star is so big that he can't sing in the ensemble for somebody else's solo; Waring thinks of it as a stock company and is able to form 30 solo combinations and units out of the group. Everybody sings in the Glee Club.

For the Push Button Comedy skits Fred draws recruits from the gang rather than hire professional actors. Waring himself writes the lyrics to the new pep and alma mater songs which are presented as a feature on College Smoker editions of their current series each Friday night. As with all their other features, he prefers to keep it in the family rather than turn to Tin Pan Alley composers.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK By Sullivan

55 Students Named to Fall Semester Honor Roll at Centenary

Fifty-five students attained the Centenary honor roll for the fall semester, it was announced Wednesday by the registrar, Miss Margaret Gray.

To be eligible for the honor roll a student must have a high "B" average (39 honor points) in no less than four courses representing 12 or more hours.

Those attaining this average were Helen Bartlett, William Booth, Eleanor Brown, Lanford DeGeneres, Jack Elgin, Carlton Graff, Patricia Harper, Elizabeth Ives, Frances Oden, Leroy Scott, Clinton Teacle, Marie Wolf, Joe Stephens, Harriet Lieber.

Billy Payne Alston, James Dixon, Margie Giles, George Jacobson, Lester Moore, Susie Mulkey, Jane Nicholson, Ray Goens, Ethel Skeeters, Sol Freedman, Lillian Gibson, Felice Hicks, Hattie Cooke Kramer, Carolyn Lunny.

Ella Mae McKee, Charlotte Newsum, James Knox Smith, Robert Clark, Aubrey McClelland, Carolyn Rigby, Betty Jean Autrey, Claudia Blackburn, Sabino Carone, Gene Hilliard, Ann Dean Jameson, Dorothy Ann Morehead, Ann Robinson, Charles Keenan, David Barton, Betty Bryant.

Eugene Clark, Virginia Cook, Mildred Davenport, Robert Eatman, Gloria Ann Freedman, Phyllis Haigler, Marshall Kesling, Elise Montgomery, Katherine Ross.

Several students were held up pending the arrival of economics grades from Dr. Morehead, who is recuperating from an appendectomy.

DR. SHAW ADDRESSES CLUB GROUP

Dr. A. M. Shaw, executive secretary of the college, addressed the Department Club yesterday afternoon on the subject, "Some Non-Military Agencies in Wartime." Dr. Shaw's talk was part of the civilian defense educational program begun by the club.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

You know how permanently Varsity-Towns have carved a name for themselves as America's most alert and original young men's stylings. For Spring '42, loads of romance in the new lounge and drape models... in the fabric and color blends.

$32.50 up

Other Young Men's Suits from $25.00

M. LEVY CO.
Shreveport Since 1857

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt, Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS

LOUISIANA

GAS

COMPANY

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

Why has "WOLF" WILLCOX shifted his patronage from Silver's to Kress'? Maybe the temperature had something to do with it.

It's too bad LUCRETIA WILSON sticks so close to the Music Hall. She's really cute and would be quite an addition to the Sub.

SIDNEY CONGER claims to be the only one in Centenary who can form a one-man Conger line.

Name three good reasons for coming to Centenary. ROB WILLIAMSON, JANE BARTLETT, and NORMAN ROBERTSON.

KEM "Nigger Slugger" MERRIN was heard griping because he had insomnia in chapel the other day.

Among independent beauty experts, among men who know good-lookingers best—it's JANE BARTLETT 2 to 1.

Attention Girls: If you haven't met JOEL KIZER, a former Techster now pirouetting around on our campus, you're missing something.

It's good to see those two old-timers, SAM "Deep in the Heart of Texas" GIPSON, and KAY CAMPBELL back again. Pull up a blonde and sit down, boys.

Does CAROLYN know that CYRIL WILDE is teaching a Red Cross first-aid class to about 25 very attractive young ladies? And that they all think that he is "simply dee-vine"?

EMMY LOU MITTENTHAL is another very charming addition to the campus. With her looks and personality she'll certainly be stepping out with the Johnnies instead of staying home with the willies.

Don't know what we'd do without WALTER FULTON'S engaging smile always around to brighten up the scene.

Everyone agrees that LARUE

POWELL is one of the sweetest girls at Cent., so why don't we see her more often?

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Zeta Tau Alpha

Beta Iota chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha announces the initiation of Mary Murrell, Myrtle Canon, Eleanor Jenkins, Jackie Rogers, Virginia Kilpatrick, Mary Smith New, and Dorothy Viosca.

Alpha Xi Delta

Alpha Xi Delta announces the initiation of Patricia Harper and Helen Allen.

Fraternities Pledge 9 Students Monday

The Centenary fraternities concluded midterm rushing Monday, February 16, with the pledging of nine students.

The Lambda Chi Alphas pledged Paul Cope, Albert Copeland, John Hardin, and Carroll Osborn; the Kappa Sigmas pledged Ray Treadwell and James Johnson, and the Kappa Alphas added Billy Booth, Bennie Ray Oliphant, and Warren Fulton to their rolls.

The pledgings followed a week of rush functions by the three organizations.

Alpha Xi Deltas Honor National Officer Recently

The actives and pledges of the local chapter of Alpha Xi Delta sorority entertained Mrs. Alicia Coffey with a Mexican supper at the sorority house Saturday, February 14.

Mrs. Coffey was also honored by the Alpha Xis with a luncheon at the Zephyr room Saturday, February 14. The members and pledges attending were:

LaRue Powell, Helen Dwire, Margaret Williams, Dorothy Freeze, Virginia Lewis, Kathryn Moreneaux, Bette Smith, Marjorie Boyett, Mary Catherine Apple, Nan Dobson, Sydney Skinner, Martha Hart, Jean Gibson, Mrs. Robert See, Billie Loveladdy, Patricia Harper, Sylvia Hubbard, Helen Conroy, Marcelle Toten, Betty Bryant, Jean Flowers, Kathryn Blackwell, Ladelle Frazier, Helen Allen.

HEP KAT SEZ

We decided to go ahead and write this column and let the devil take the rest. Claude Thornhill was the band that we were going to feature but after the next few lines (if you are still with us) you will discover our woes. In the first place Irving Fazola (ex-Bob Crosbyite) left the band to play with Miggys Spanier. Danny Polo has replaced him. Then military service caught Tasso Harris, Bob Jenny, Dale Brown and Marty Blitz. They were the trombone section, alto sax, and bass in that order. After we found all of that out Nick Fatool (Benny Goodman fame) up and went with Jan Savitt.

Poor Mr. Thornhill must be the saddest man in town. He had spent many hard hours rehearsing the outfit and had made a big hit (with air spots) at Glen Island Casino and now he has to start, practically, all over. Claude's band uses seven saxes, three trumpets, two trombones, two french horns, and the usual four rhythm. His experience in arranging for the name bands for the past ten years has been used to the strangest advantages. With a solid rhythm section Claude plays catchy passages with the full reed and smooth brass creating a new ear-easy music that is fine for either dancing or listening. Dick Harding, an ex-oil engineer, and Lillian Lane, a preacher's daughter, handle the vocals in terrific fashion.

With all of the headaches that go with leading a band Claude has hired Gil Evans and Andy Phillips to help with the arranging. They are due for a few months of one-nighters soon so watch the papers and if you get a chance be sure and make it a date and see a fine new band that will be better known as the year goes on.

Late flash—Dusty Dedrick, hot trumpeter for the badn, has received his papers. Maybe the whole band ought to join the army and be done with it. If he has any fingers left to play the piano it's a miracle.

Juke-Box Jive

Artie Shaw's Victor disc of "Make Love to Me." With Paula Kelly doing the vocalizing you can get the idea.

Gene Krupa's Okeh platter of "Thanks for the Boogie Ride." A killer-diller for the boogie fans. Arita O'Day scores again. Her popularity is truly deserved.

Les Brown's Okeh styling of "Tis Autumn." It's the wrong season but the tune is good any time.

Claude Thornhill's Columbia release of "Rose O'Day." A fair tune with some fine vocal and clarinet

SPANISH CLUB

Thursday evening, February 19, at 7:30, the Spanish Club held its monthly meeting at the Student Union Building. After a short business meeting, a talk was given by the guest speaker, Mrs. John Irving, on Mexico. Mrs. Irving was for many years a resident of Mexico and her talk was every enjoyable to all the members.

REX

Phone 7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

FRIDAY and SATURDAY, Feb. 27-28
"BEDTIME STORY"

Fredric March—Loretta Young
Cartoon—Community Sing—Serial

SUN., MON. TUES.—March 1-2-3
"HONKY TONK"

Clark Gable—Lana Turner
Cartoon—News

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, Mar. 4-5
"INTERNATIONAL LADY"
Ilona Massey—George Brent
Donald Duck Cartoon—News

KOLONIAL
ITTY
AT OR DORM
AMES
ISH
IRT

As we furry, femme felines gather 'neath one of the inmates' beds of said cat kennels, sly glances are being passed around and well-manicured claws are cautiously hid beneath soft paws.

Latest addition to our Cute Kitten Club is MARGUERITE HARGARD. We are glad to have you, Marguerite.

As we softly tread the window ledge on padded paws we see MARTHA LEWIS (Hut Sut to you) making eyes or having 'em made at her by HAPPY TREADWELL. It's a good idea, both of you!

MILDRED DAVENPORT, that smart gal, has moved upstairs. Maybe, we hope, her presence will influence some of the other girls. (Some of 'em need it.)

Looks like COBURN'S one and only is back in town. Wonder when she'll start that "just one more night till he leaves" stuff again? Defense work!

Time out for Cupid's gift to the dormitory. A slight repast of sweetheart's candy and a sip of the pease that refreshes and we'll then relate some tasty tidbits.

work.

You won't find this one on the machines yet but try to hear Benny Goodman's new sextet doing "Where or When." The celeste is by Mel Powell, the new sensation on the ivories.

Eighth Notes

Jess Stacy, veteran pianist now with Bob Crosby, won the "Down Beat" poll this year as the best in the business. Helen Forest is now wowing the public with Harry James. The pretzel munchers say that Paula Kelly won't be with Shaw much longer. While on the vocalist subject, after months of denial Bonnie Baker is definitely leaving Orrin Tucker. Over two hundred bands are donating their services to the U.S.O. Sammy Kaye is donating all his royalties from "Remember Pearl Harbor" to the Navy Relief Society. Woody Herman is making another picture. It's for Universal and co-stars the Andrews Sisters.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

MARGO OWENS lost a letter, we hear, and it is tacked on the Sub bulletin board. For your own information the letter was not to CAMP or JACKIE but to another male. Are you slipping, boys?

Congratulations, MARY MURRELL and ELEANOR JENKINS on being new Zeta Tau Alpha initiates. We might also congratulate the Zetas for getting two such swell gals.

Two of the cutest dormitory darlings we think are room-mates PATSY COFFEY and NAN BANKS.

Quiet reigns on the top story of the Hall—LIL TURNER and LUCILE SANFORD have moved to the lower floor. Gee! ain't calm and quiet wonderful?

HELEN BARTLETT has a new picture of SAMMY SWOR, Centenary's trumpet find, and is afraid that her average won't quite be "A" like it was last semester.

Well, your curious campus cuties, that's all till next week and in the meantime we'll be sharpening up our claws.

P. S.: Note to the Gentlemen!!! Uncle Sam has not as yet begun rationing the Dorm Girls' sugar! Need I say more?

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803 Youree

Mrs. Sara Tully

"ALL OUT"
For COMFORT
Men's

SPORT SETS
$4.98

Smart-looking shirt and trouser ensembles of fine quality rayon in the popular sharkskin weave! Cool and airy!

Long sleeve shirts—with the new convertible two-in-one collar and button flap pockets.

The trousers are the smart drape model, expertly tailored with full pleats, self belt and slide fastener closure!

In tan, cocoa, dark or medium blue!

PENNEY'S
F. C. PENNEY COMPANY, Inc.

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....7-3210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomec Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Finnell, President.....7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 2-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer.....7-2554
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, March 6, 1942.

Number 19

FORECAST

The Yoncopin is to be commended about the beauties that will be featured this season in the yearbook. If we had handpicked the group ourselves, we doubt if we could have selected a better and prettier group of Centenary Ladies to represent the fair sex in the yearbook. This is an important section of the book and should always be given careful consideration, because there is no doubt that an outsider, upon seeing a Centenary yearbook for the first time, will automatically turn to the beauty section first of all and examine it minutely; that is, at least fifty percent of the outsiders will, and we guess that even some of the girls will look there first. So, once more we are fortunate in having a good representative group there.

However, we cannot agree with the method used in selecting the beauties the last few years, although, of course, there is no doubt in anybody's mind about the fact that artists are much more familiar with beauty and capable of judging it than the average layman, such as men students.

But, speaking for the men, we consider ourselves pretty good at the old art of the turn and whistle, and most of us are dyed-in-the-wool connoisseurs of the work of such notables as Petty, Varga, Raymond, Hurrell, ad infinitum, and frankly we resent a little the implication that we don't know anything about feminine pulchritude. After all, the school belongs to us (that is to say, as students it is our school); the yearbook belongs to us; the girls belong . . . well, anyway, we think we should have a part in selecting the girls who will stand as the best examples of Centenary femininity, and also we would like to have a share in naming Miss Centenary, who will be featured in the yearbook which we will keep through the years, to get a little sentimental here.

This certainly is not to be interpreted to mean that we are dissatisfied with the present selection or even the selections of the past few years. However, just for the principle of the thing, it seems a trifle unfair to import judges to select a beauty to be featured in a yearbook that is not the private property of anyone but belongs to the entire student body, who should have something to say about the Miss Centenary to be featured there.

It is still within the memory of many of us when selections were made by the men of the campus and a glance at some old yearbooks will show how accurate these were.

So, with all due respect to the judges, for we certainly appreciate their taking the time to come and select a group of lovely young larsies, we insist that the boys would like to have a little to do with selecting the beauties for the Yoncopin.

Two Faculty Speakers

On February 23 at the Washington Day dinner for the Fourth Congressional district, two of the four speakers were members of the Centenary College faculty.

Mr. Dolph Frantz, professor of journalism at Centenary, presided and spoke as chairman of the district. Dr. A. M. Shaw, professor of English and the fourth district commander of the American Legion also spoke at the dinner.

Campus Beauties Named in Contest

KOLLEGE KAPERS VOCALISTS

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Times

KOLLEGE KAPERS SPRING TOUR SLATED FOR 4 SHOWS NEXT WEEK

The annual Kollege Kapers spring tour of north Louisiana begins next Monday when the group leaves the campus at 1:00 p.m. for Sterlington, Louisiana, where they will give a show under the sponsorship of Tom Wafer, Centenary alumnus, and his Boy Scout troop.

The next day the variety show moves over to Monroe, where the Methodist Missionary societies annually sponsor them. Last year Kapers played to 2700 people there, with spectators standing around the walls, and many were turned away at the box office. It was, according to local authorities, the largest crowd in the auditorium since one of the late Senator Long's memorable campaign appearances there.

March 11 finds the organization in Bastrop for a matinee and night show there. Dutch Binion, alumnus of Centenary; W. B. Stall, Jr., and the high school band sponsor these performances.

At Jonesboro-Hodge, Harper Cox, another alumnus, together with the Methodist Missionary society, sponsors the show.

After the show at Jonesboro-Hodge Thursday, the Kapers cast will drive into Shreveport about midnight of that night.

On this trip, the cast will include 18 boys and 10 girls. Mrs. Voran will accompany the group and serve as chaperone.

The date for the Ruston show at Louisiana Tech, sponsored by the Tech Lyre club, has been set as March 20, while the Natchitoches and Longview dates have not been named yet.

The date of the annual home performance at Byrd high school auditorium has not been definitely decided upon.

Psychology Club Meets Last Week

Psi Delta Chi, Psychology club, met Thursday, February 26, at South Hall. The order of business was followed, and the constitution was referred to the executive committee for necessary revision. As Madam Bebe, scheduled speaker for the occasion, could not be present, Earnest Carter gave a preview of programs in the future. The program consisted of an address on Research as a Business by Mr. Topper after an elaborate introduction by Mr. Carter.

On February 12, the club held a reorganization meeting in Mr. and Mrs. Topper's home. Officers then elected were: John Woods, president; Felice Hicks, vice-president; Kathryn Blackwell, secretary; Tency Burton, treasurer; Earnest Carter was appointed by the new president as program chairman for the rest of the term, and Jimmie Brown was appointed publicity chairman.

Le Cercle Francais Meets Last Friday

Le Cercle Francais held its monthly meeting Friday evening at the home of Joe Stephens. Four new members, Marion Cahn, Bertha Omega Bodenheimer, Jackie Lieber, and Bob Eatman, were initiated into the club.

The program consisted of a dissertation by Clint Teacle on the French-speaking people of Louisiana and their language. The president, Claude Blackburn, discussed "Pour la Victoire," French newspaper published in America, and plans for sponsoring a French film. The group afterwards enjoyed games and refreshments.

ALPHA XI CONVENTION

The Alpha Xi Delta chapter here at Centenary will be host at their annual Provincial Convention due to occur some time this spring. Other members of this province are Texas University, Louisiana State University, and the University of Oklahoma.

Kappa Alpha Elects Officers for Year

In an election last Monday night, Alpha Iota chapter of Kappa Alpha named Joe Stephens to be president of the group for the coming 1942-43 school year. Burl Sullivan was elected vice-president and Leroy Scott secretary.

President-elect Stephens is very active on the campus, holding many positions of responsibility, including the offices of treasurer of the junior class and parliamentarian of the Student Senate. He has been president of Alpha Sigma Pi, freshman-sophomore scholastic fraternity, and is quite active in debating circles, having won one of the oratory contests sponsored by the Intercollegiate Peace Association.

Burl Sullivan is also active on the campus and is a member of the Student Senate, being head of the men's intramural program in this group. He is a student assistant in the geology department.

Leroy Scott is secretary of Sigma Pi Sigma, physics fraternity, and vice-president of Alpha Sigma Chi, chemistry fraternity.

Alpha Xi Deltas Reelect Officers

The local chapter of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority named their new officers for the coming year last Monday night. A new election was called when one of the officers elected a short time ago found it necessary to resign. Next year's Alpha Xi officers are:

President, Martha Hart; vice-president, Kathryn Moreneaux; secretary, Jean Gibson; treasurer, Jean Flowers; corresponding secretary, Virginia Lewis; chaplain, Harriet Crawford; marshal, Helen Jennings; rush captain, Sidney Skinner; historian, Kathryn Weems, and reporter, Nan Dobson.

The new Alpha Xi representatives in Pan-Hellenic are Martha Hart, Jean Gibson, Sidney Skinner, and Helen Jennings is an alternate.

Well-Known Artist Selects Six Girls In Review Monday

One of the Group to Be Given Title of Miss Centenary At Later Date

The yearbook office has released the results of the review held at the Centenary chapel last Monday, at which time six Centenary coeds were selected as the most beautiful on the campus by Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Bracker, who judged the group of girls entered.

Mr. Bracker is a magazine illustrator, recently commissioned to make illustrations in newspapers for Coca-Cola Company, as well as the United Gas Company, whose ads are featured in Time and other magazines. Mrs. Bracker is a well-known portrait painter and recently completed a painting of a former Centenary beauty, Mrs. John Drafts, the former Bette Heath.

The six girls named for the honor of appearing in the beauty section of the Yoncopin were the Misses Harriet Crawford, Helen Dwire, Martha Hart, Justine Holmes, Mary Smith New, and Martha Stevens.

These girls will be joined by three more, Jimmie Brown, Miss Centenary last year; Jane Bartlett and Dorothy Viosca, when they are featured in the Lee Dry Goods annual spring style review March 17 in the Zephyr room at the Washington-Youree hotel.

The name of the girl selected from the six above for the title of Miss Centenary will be announced at a later date.

Five Are Initiated Into Centenary's Alpha Chi Group

Upperclassman Honorary Frat Inducts New Members at Recent Meeting

Five outstanding students were initiated last Tuesday night into the Centenary chapter, Louisiana Alpha, of Alpha Chi, national honorary scholastic fraternity. The ceremony was conducted at the home of Lanford DeGeneres on the Mansfield road. Those taken into the fraternity at this time included Miss Claude Blackburn, Ray Goens, Gene Hilliard, Miss Ethyl Kramer, and Knox Smith.

After the initiation refreshments were served to the members present.

The beginning of the school year found the Alpha Chi ranks rather depleted by graduation, but with a nucleus of five with which to start, the mid-term grades brought an additional nine into the group, and now with five more, the organization has a membership of nineteen.

Dr. E. L. Ford is faculty sponsor of the fraternity, and the officers include Gilbert Hetherwick as president; Elise Montgomery, vice-president; Jack Marshall, secretary; Margie Giles, treasurer, and Francis Perkins, corresponding secretary.

Alpha Chi annually has charge of a chapel program, and makes a presentation of a notebook to the outstanding freshman of the year.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

GILBERT HETHERWICK, Editor

Associate Editor Ann Burnette
Feature Editor Barbara Harris
Circulation Manager Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Mary Foster Peyton, Jake Cullick, Ellen Eastham, Margaret Owens, Patricia Harper, Nan Dobson, Ethel Kramer.

COMPREHENSIVE TIME

Once more that period of the year in which seniors drop one by one from circulation has rolled around; for the time for comprehensive examinations has come again. Now, do the seniors realize how they might have used those long nights last summer, when they searched the town for something to do, for the time has passed forever, when they could casually sit and review. Now, a night of review assumes such importance that it is fairly difficult to completely relax and study over subjects that would have been much fresher last summer.

However, it is not to the seniors that this editorial is directed; it is too late for them to review ahead of time. But to the juniors and sophomores, whose day will come, we who have learned by experience say, "remember the spring of '42"; and do your foundation building well and in plenty of time.

AMERICA

It is worthwhile at this time to look back over the pages of history and review in our minds how our country and our democracy came to pass. At a time when hundreds of American lives are being sacrificed to maintain our glorious heritage, our people should be animated by this Spirit of America, which is found in the historical aspect.

America was brought to this country by many shiploads of people, coming to the new world. They brought with them their dreams, their ideals, and their hopes which they planted in the fertile soil of a new land. It was watered by the sweat and tears of these pioneers.

Because their nation was a hardy and vigorous one, with strong vitality, and because it was cherished by those who had faith in its future, it took root and grew and developed into the America of Today, a living thing existing in the hearts and minds of every American. America has a role to play in world affairs and that role is Democracy. In the hearts of every American is the prayer that Democracy be restored to all oppressed peoples. We, as Americans, go forward in our ideals, not in vengeance, not to destroy, but to build a free world for all mankind. J. C.

UNCLE BOYKIN'S PHILOSOPHY

This here thing you all calls luck is jest as enreliable as the hind-leg of a mule. Goes along pretty and calm like and the road seems smooth and peaceable, and first thing you know, the blame thing busts loose and near 'bout kicks yo wisdom teeth out, let alone depressin' yo pocketbook.

Dependin' on luck is 'bout as sensible as lookin' fer horse-shoes on a mule's foot, an' accordin' to Br'er Job, while yo friends is proud to ride with you while the goin's luxurious, they is the first ones to rub in sarcasm for liniment when yo hits the ground. M. B. McKellar.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Guess all of you heard about the coed who quit going with the English major because all she ever got was pronouns and propositions.

Wonder why CAROLYN CLAY wanted to ride around a few nights ago before she went home . . . come on, Carolyn, tell us about it.

We also noticed BURLDOG SULLIVAN "STEELEing" around the other day. (That's our policy, always first with the latest news.)

What's all this we hear about BOBBY LINDSAY and his camp in the woods? Fine deal, Bobby—in-vite us out some time.

How about this rumor that

BUDDY KINNEBREW has ordered a jeweled pin . . . ?

Everywhere we go we see "HAPPY" TREADWELL and MARTHA LEWIS together. Is it really that serious?

Ask SUBINO what he was so downhearted about the other day.

Incidentally, how about one of the dorm delovelies going steady with MURFF O'NEAL; congratulations, BETTY GORDON, you're both mighty swell people and make a fine couple.

Doesn't look like the tire shortage has stopped CHARLIE STAMPER any; he makes those Lucas

☆ POETRY CORNY! ☆

CENTENARY'S LATEST ELECTION

By Joe Stephens

On many muddy battlefields
The bubbling blood of men congeals.

Mechanized might at mortals tear.
Mere flesh must mauling shrapnel dare.

A few look up toward God in hope—

And there must with dire devils cope.

The cruel clamor of constant strife
Doth knell the passing of each life.

But not alone in foreign land
Are waged the bitter bouts of men,
For even here midst joy and cheer
The sounds of strife may strike the ear.

O list ye not in recent past
The flood of lamentations cast
For candidates that runneth last?
O marked ye not the ecstasy,
The heavenly hilarity
Of those who tasted victory?

LYRICS BY JOHN WOODS

The Reason Why Miss Powell Is Going to Texas U. Aside From the Fact That She Graduates Anyway.

A charming young girl was LaRue,
Who received quite a few billets doux.

Not content with a million,
She wanted a billion,
So she's leaving us for Texas U.

OBSERVATIONS BY

JIMMY HARRIS

Said Harris to Heard, "It's deploring
The things that all schools keep ignoring.

I don't mind at night,
Everything is all right,
But those daytime classes are boring."

NORMAN ROBERTSON

A platinum blonde worth her full weight in gold,
On this lovely lass the boys are all sold,

If each girl was just like Norman
I would want to be a Mormon—pilgrimages mighty regularly. How about it, CILE?

Notice the cheery gleam in IRL HARPER'S eye now again; perhaps because a certain "LOOIE" left town, no doubt.

Familiar sights around the campus:
JEAN BELDEN and PHYLLIS HAIGLER with DAVID WHITE and RESE CARAWAY.

PAT LEABO patiently waiting for JUNE and LEE SPINX.

K. J. BLANPIED wandering around in a daze.

Orchids to:

JEAN MAYNARD for having so much personality.

BETTY BRYANT and BILLYE LOVELADDY for being such nice people.

DOROTHY FRIEZE for having such a wonderful ability to write poetry.

Headlines:

Have you seen VIRGINIA BREITHAUP'T'S new Kappa Sigma? It's a beaut.

ROSE MARIE HICKS' heart belongs to Tech again.

So does VIRGINIA COOK'S; he's a Lambda Chi there.

GRAFF tells us that he and DICK NORTON are of the same mind. If he means that they are both morons . . . they are spending so much time out at Dodd College nowadays . . . fine school spirit.

We are going to miss KATHRYN BLACKWELL'S cheerful smile when she leaves the bursar's office to work elsewhere.

It's good to have LAWRENCE MAY back in school again.

CHARLOTTE NEWSOME has a Lieut. named DICK, which is the reason why we haven't heard from her locally.

So sorry, BETTY SMITH. We are saving that rice.

And that's why this belle is extolled.

POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY CLASS

or

Schuhle's Sanctorum Sanctorum
You Bring 'Em, We Bore 'Em

"Prof" Schuhle's in his heyday,
"Prof" Schuhle's in high closer,
For he's giving Mister Plato
A real good going-over.

So attentive is Miss Harris
(Notwithstanding that she snored)
That Cecil Bland-ly asks of her,
"I say there, Ouida, bored?"

He kissed her in the garden,
The moon was shining bright,
She was a marble statue,
And he was like a kite.

There was an artist named Kildaire
Who was painting a scene on a stair
When the bannister broke,
He just quickened his stroke,
And finished it off in midair.

LETTERS To the Editor

WILLIAM JEWELL COLLEGE
Liberty, Missouri

February 25, 1942

President Student Body
Centenary College
Shreveport, Louisiana
Dear Sir:

Fred Waring featured an extremely clever song dedicated to your college on February 20, 1942. The words and music so impressed me, that I would like to obtain them.

The song was entitled Gentlemen, and I believe it was written especially for your school. If it is not possible to obtain the music, I would appreciate just having the words.

I will appreciate any effort you make to help me find this song. It made quite a "hit" on our campus, and many of the students are anxious to hear it again.

Very truly yours,
R. J. Giesse
Supr. College Work

Spinach Comes Into Its Own

Austin, Texas (ACP).—Spinach debunkers of recent years may soon learn that the time for their own debunking is at hand.

University of Texas scientists have developed from fresh spinach a new and important vitamin, which may prove to be one of the essentials of normal development of the human body.

The vitamin is known as "folie acid," and the scientists believe that when it is purified it will prove valuable in medicine. It is known to play a fundamental life processes of plants, animals and human beings.

The name "folie," derived from the Latin "folium," meaning green leaf, was chosen after the acid was developed from four tons of spinach. It is said to rank in importance with pantothenic acid, so-called "acid of life."

CAMPUS CAMERA

(Since it is generally agreed that to get the most out of life and study one should arrange one's time in an orderly manner, the writer has decided that in the interests of science and progress, one day of our life will be bared to the cruel stare of the critical public.)

7:32 a.m. to 7:35 a.m.—Woke up. Censured several times because of the new war time and 8:00 o'clock classes and things in general (you know that's what was wrong with the General's digestive system; i. e., things in General.)

7:35 a.m. to 7:37 a.m.—Censured because the floor was cold and the window left open; also because that roach stomped across the floor.

7:37 a.m. to 7:47—Washed, brushed teeth, and censured cold water shower because it was cold water.

7:47 a.m. to 7:57 a.m.—Ate breakfast slowly. After catching the eggs, censured them because they were too raw. Condemned weather for the same reason.

7:58 a.m. to 8:14 a.m.—Traveled to classes. Frowned at front page headlines. Worried about how could Lil Abner keep from marrying Daisy Mae.

8:14 a.m. to 8:15 a.m.—Studied assignments assigned for last night.

8:15 a.m. to 9:00 a.m.—Slept through Spanish.

9:00 to 10 a.m.—Dozen through Psych.

10 to 12 a.m.—Etc.

Noon to 3:00 p.m.—Ate and cut lab. Went to theatre. Show was named "The Balloon Vendor" and starred Justa Snood, the Ping Pong Girl of 1942. Picture was odious. Better picture was "Coming Attraction" with Errol Cooper, Gary Flynn, Hedy Grable and Betty Lamarr. Plot was subtle . . . didn't quite get it . . . neither did Cooper or Flynn.

3 p.m. to 5 p.m.—Radio at home.

5 to 7 p.m.—Ate supper.

7 p.m. to 7:04 p.m.—Studied yesterday's assignments.

7:04 to 10:12 p.m.—Danced with best girl. Had to spend 55c on best girl. Have another best girl. Made date for tomorrow night.

10:12 to 10:30 p.m.—.22 cal. talk.

10:30 to 10:45 p.m.—Went home.

10:45 p.m. to 6:00 a.m.—Slept.

6:00 to 7:30 a.m.—Couldn't sleep.

SCIENTIFIC FRAT URGES SCIENCE FOR MASSES

New Orleans (ACP).—Science for the masses and plenty of it is urged by Dr. Edward Ellery, national head of Sigma Xi scientific fraternity.

In an address before a Tulane University group Dr. Ellery declared that until the ditch digger and waitress, along with their white-collared cousins, begin thinking, the scientific age will not be realized.

Carl Sandburg is the most popular of living American poets, according to a survey of University of Kentucky English students.

FOR BETTER SCHOOL
WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC

MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

AUDIENCE OF CHINESE CORPSES FIRST TO HEAR "ELMER'S TUNE"

MEET ELMER!

The composer of "Elmer's Tune" really is a guy named Elmer and, what's more, looks like a guy named Elmer.

Elmer

Elmer, whose last name is Albrecht, is a 39-year-old Chicago embalmer, and he told some of the bizarre story of his song when he appeared on the "Spotlight Bands" show.

"Elmer's Tune" was received very coldly on its first presentation, he says. There were two good reasons for this: (1) the audience was Chinese; (2) the audience was dead.

It is only typical of the history of this song that it was first played to a group of dead Chinese who had been riddled with bullets in one of Chicago's tong wars during the hectic 1920's. It was played on a piano in the back room of Louie Cohen's Embalming Parlor in Clark street, Chicago, by Albrecht.

But let Elmer tell the story:

"You see, I was working at Louie's while attending the Worsham College of Embalming. I did all my home work at Louie's, and I can tell you I had plenty of material to work with because of the tong wars. Louie, who was a great guy, didn't pay me for my embalming work, but he used to slip me a sawbuck once in a while for my lunches.

"Well, tunes kept running through my head, and I used to write them down on slips of pare. This tune kept running through my head so much I decided to try it out on a piano that Louie kept in the back room of the funeral parlor for convivial occasions. As there were about 12 dead Chinamen in the place at the time, you can see that it didn't make much of a hit."

For years Elmer played his tune in honky-tonks and small night clubs in Chicago (he prizes his musician's union card almost as much as the little yellow card which testifies that he is still a licensed embalmer) but no one paid much attention.

The first orchestra leader to see the song was Ted Weems. Ted turned it down, and Elmer began to lose hope. Then one day last February Elmer took the tune to Dick Jurgens. Finally Dick agreed to arrange the music. Jurgens, who has on offhand manner, suggested that it be christened simply, "Elmer's Tune." The name stuck.

CO-EDS OF TODAY FEATURE THE 'COLLEGIATE DROOP'

Palo Alto, Calif. (ACP).—The posture of the present-day co-ed is the "collegiate droop," as contrasted with the "stylish swagger" affected by her campus sister of ten years ago, Evelyn Anderson of Stanford University and Mrs. Velda C. Row of San Francisco State College reported to the American Physiotherapy Association.

The "stylish swagger" they described as giving the effect that the user thereof has a bustle, with chin up, chest out, and hips trailing far behind.

On the other hand, they said, the "collegiate droop" demands a weary slump forward of the shoulders, back curved and hips well forward. It is particularly advantageous for tall girls, who thereby give the impression of being shorter.

Examinations of 200 freshmen women each year gave the researchers their information.

Thirty-eight percent in recent tests had switched to the collegiate droop, and seemed thereby continually hurrying home to get out of the rain.

A bare 17 per cent clung to the "stylish swagger," and an encouraging 41 per cent had good posture.

John Kopopolous Is Campus Mystery

Some weeks ago, a number of coeds began receiving strange phone calls from a male student on the campus now known as John Kopopolous. Which student he is we do not know, because he will give no other information concerning his whereabouts except that his office is on the eighth floor of the Arts Building (because he likes fresh air). The girls at first were enchanted by his soothing voice, and then by his wit, and then by his mystery.

Many of the ladies reacted violently in one extreme or another. Some were known to scream and throw down the phone, some begged to be given a chance to hear his voice, and, upon hearing it, melted away.

The latter have set themselves a goal in life: to find out the truth about John Kopopolous. And Friday morning these were delighted to find notes written and signed by John Kopopolous on the bulletin board in the SUB.

The trouble with Europe is that it has learned to define patriotism as a perennial desire to kill a neighbor.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

ALPHA SIGMA PI INITIATES

Pictured above are the recent initiates of Alpha Sigma Pi, freshmen-sophomore honorary scholastic fraternity.

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal

ROBERT SEE JUDGES ARK.-LA. GAS COMPANY AD CONTEST

Mr. Robert See, head of the Commerce department at Centenary and advertising instructor, was one of three local advertising men to judge the first of a series of advertising contests conducted by the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company.

And then there was the literal-minded motorist who ran around his car until he was all tired.

A law requiring that all shoes be made of leather might help relieve the paper shortage.

FOOT-CANDLE

Austin, Texas (ACP).—At mid-day when the sun is shining Texas is lighted to the same extent as if it had 13,000 candles to every foot of surface. Foot-candle measurements are taken by a light-measuring device atop the 27-story tower of the University of Texas library.

Coach: "Calf?"

Fish: "Fourteen inches."

Coach: "Thigh?"

Fish: "Twenty-six inches."

Coach: "Neck?"

Fish: "You betcha!"

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

CITY LIFE BAD FOR PEOPLE

Chicago (ACP).—The anti-social effect of city living is beginning to drive people farther and farther away from the big centers of population. Dr. Ernest W. Burgess of the University of Chicago declares the effect of living too close together is a "subversive" influence on society because people act like turtles, draw their heads within their shells, become anti-social and adopt a cynical attitude.

Twenty-six states and the District of Columbia are represented in the student body of Texas Christian university.

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

This week The Conglomerate has seen fit to honor one of the outstanding members of the senior class. He hails from a place called various and sundry names, but the nearest we can approach to it is to say Coshocton, though that may be a pretty long way from right.

However, notwithstanding the name of the town he chose to come from, this Gentleman has been very popular throughout his college career, and at the beginning of this year was honored by his classmates, who named him president of the senior class. In this capacity he is even now working on a plan, which when it materializes will be the first senior dance at the school in many years.

There is no need to attempt to conceal his name any longer because you all know that we refer to Bill Graham, recently named most versatile boy on the campus. Bill has for the past two years been editor of the Yoncopin, Centenary yearbook, and has done a very good job of putting out a first-class book, too.

In addition to these other activities, Bill is also a two-year Student Senate member man, and has been outstanding in his work in this organization.

So, to Bill Graham we take off our hats this week and say, nice going, Bill; we could use a lot more like you at Centenary.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

"Japan is at war with the United States and Great Britain because her aggression policy had cost her some 75 per cent of her normal imports and because her economic life was bound up with the nations blockading her. Thus Japan is in a state of economic as well as military siege, and she is extremely vulnerable in both respects."—Dr. William O. Scroggs, dean of graduate school at LSU, says Japan, of all nations, was the one that needed most to live under peaceful trade terms with the rest of the world.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Success depends on backbone and not wishbone.

THE GUMPS

BY GUS EDSON

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS
LOUISIANA
GAS
COMPANY

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

JOHN LOWE and AUBREY McCLELLAN are two swell, serious-minded lads who ought to get a lot out of college—if they quit being serious.

DR. STEGER looked ten years younger (Hmm, let's see . . . he wouldn't even have to register) in that picture with 15 women.

We think JESSICA HARRIS is just DARLING, don't you?

DON THOMPSON says that everything is still ROSIE with him. And GENE HILLIARD and JEAN ARTHUR still seem to be taking everything in stride. Congratulations, Kiddies!

JOE SASSIERE, you lucky boy, you sure have 2 cute chins.

I don't care what you say about SCOTTY, I like him. I like every kind but poodles.

MRS. MORWOOD says it's amazing with what rapidity FOSTER HAMNER learns Spanish . . . Anyway, he's just three seats away from the right answer.

Incidentally, fellas, have you noticed this good-looking FRANCES ARDREY around? It's OK from where we sit.

VA. KILPATRICK was seen in a ducky riding habit the other day. Lucky horse!

HEP KAT SEZ

After listening to a juke box until we were all out of nickels and still without a sober idea, the theme for the main feature (if any) came to us when we heard "The Flight of the Bumble Bee." Now don't get the idea that we have gone classical on you, because it was the master of the trumpet, Harry James.

Gang, this guy isn't terrific—he's sensational.

To start at the beginning, Harry comes from a circus family and once was a feature in the center ring but his only love was marching with the band blowing a trumpet. When his father retired and settled down in Beaumont, Texas, Harry used to play "one nite" stands with the Salvation Army band.

After he had finished school he went to Dallas where he played with Legon Smith, Herman Waldman, and then with Ben Pollack, where he met Benny Goodman. Later when Goodman formed his own outfit he promptly sent for James and soon the two were making music history.

Soon, after Goodman insisted for his own good, Harry stepped out and formed his own band. Today Harry has passed the usual hardships of new bands and has a very fine crew, including several violins for the sweeter tunes.

Helen Forrest, ex-Artie Shaw and Goodman, does the vocals along with Dick Haymes. James has no peer as a soloist. There are several others who play plenty of trumpet but when it comes to technique, tone, and all-round ability the decision goes to Harry. For proof catch his "Carnival of Venice," "Back Beat Boogie," or "Melancholy Baby." He records for Columbia and most juke boxes have at least one of his discs on the machine. We aren't the narrow-minded type but we think that this is one of the best outfits yet.

JUKE BOX JIVE

Alvino Rey's Bluebird plate of "I Said No." Don't miss this novelty and don't jump at conclusions until you have heard all of it. Also have a fine tune in "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

If you must listen to "Rose O'Day" catch Woody Herman's Decca disc of it. Really it is different.

Benny Goodman's Victor release of "The Earl." A fine number dedicated to Earl Hines with terrific Mel Powell on piano.

EIGHTH NOTES

Del Courtney has a new tune called "Everybody's Making Money But Tschaiowsky," which is more truth than poetry. Charlie Teagarden has joined Jimmy Dorsey's great band. Victor won't renew their contract with Art Kassel—that's a relief. A few years ago Elsa Harris auditioned with Woody Herman and was lousy. Now she is doing better, not much, with an accent as Yvette. Stan Kenton, the terrific band from the coast, is finally coming east. The wolves are saying that Ginny Simms will be back chirping with Kay Kayser by winter. These music critics sit around and make nasty remarks about name bands sure bring us down bad. They are the type who were told by the medical examiners to come back when we are invaded.

After five years, rifle work for women has been revived at the University of Vermont.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

KOLONIAL ITTY AT OR DORM AMES ISH IRT

Hiya, mugs! So here we are again, and in another session. And by the way, they have been good of late. MILBURNE tells this one on us—when he was in the dorm making pictures last week, someone yelled "Man in the Hall"—and then he was almost mobbed! HE says!

So, with that famously feline grin we all gaze at each other, and begin a distinctively dangerous discussion of delovely dames and disillusioned dudes.

Each week more chumps visit deah ol' Colonial Hall Pen. But since Uncle Sam is rather demanding, we cats welcome them in. We worry as to the chief attraction—JANE BARTLETT, or the medication-date room? According to the Centenary Gentlemen, Janie is, with the exception of JR. DAVIC, FLOURNOY, PHILYAW, G. BROWN and C. FOX, and GRAHAM. They seem to like that med. room!

We miss Sister KITTEN ROBERTSON for this session. She is at home in Houston for the week-end. Her roommate, EMILIE ANNE "PIG QUEEN" CONNELL is still here, though. What's that, Emilie? So VERNON SEAY is following your advice about raising all his little pigs? Maybe you had better make it a business.

SHIRLEY EAGAN tells fortunes for us kittens now and then. All about men, surprises, etc. Wonder what kind she would tell herself—she can fairly handle those hearts, if we MAY say so!

And we heard some cats wondering aloud why some campus cuties keep calling JARVIS WALLER "rack-rack." Or is he just in for a little racking? 'Bout time you got some, "RED"! You have racked enuf in your young life!

BETTY "Shower Singer" TEMPLE has an admirable voice. She serenades the dorm sleeping beauties(?) every night with it! See what you miss if you don't reside in the Residence Hall for women?

Gloom—gloom—and junk. Comprehensives and studying. ANNE ROBINSON and MILDRED DAVENPORT had to miss this meeting on accounta because of 'em! Down with 'em! And if you think we are kidding, guess again!

BILLYE LOVELADDY is pinned to Kemper. (It is an academy, you dopes!)

How about those glasses, LUNNY? Say, they are kittenish! Have you ever been accused of being a Jap!

Meow, meow! Personally, we all feel insulted! We weren't even put up for beauties. Down with all artists, editors and such people!

Welcome to the cat session, Ellen! Tie that mop up—as is, you look like a Fiji Islander! That's OK, we love ya.

Speaking of bull sessions, which we weren't, what would we do without CAMP? I mean his knowledge—well, what?

So men are calling up the girls' dormitory asking for "FOSTER"? Say-y-y, what's the deal, GRADE A?

Do the Centenary Gents think MARGO OWENS is starving or something? First it is fish-bait—mean shrimp—then Saturday night, cake! We are positively green-eyed. Take the hint, you dopes! We are hungry, too. Incidentally, we hear MARGO and CAMP like their coffee with salt instead of sugar. Hm—must be love when they can't tell the difference. On second thought it might be National Defense.

Here come COBURN and BARTLETT, trying to borrow stamps for those daily letters. Wish we had a man to write to—especially one in the Marines or Naval Air Corps.

In our opinion FRANCES SPENGLER, better known as SPANKY, is one of the cutest and sweetest girls on the campus. We know a young man who will agree with us, eh, BILLY JACK???

Congrats to our three dorm "lovelies," HELEN BARTLETT, MARTHA STEVENS, and JANE BARTLETT. Proud of you chillun!

Here comes the proctor! There go half of our future journalists into the closet. Radios off, and stuff. Oh, well—she'll be gone in a minute, and we can continue.

What's this we hear about NAN BANKS making cakes and candy for someone? We wonder who it could be?

And are we ever jealous of BETTY GORDON? She has the sniffles for one day and gets a dozen roses—we could be in an oxygen tent a month without getting a daisy!

Now we have a few more subjects for dissection (pardon us—we mean discussion). AL RICHARDSON, SAMMY SWOR, HORACE ALVORD, CALHOUN ALLEN (ah! censored!) but we still cuss and discuss our old standbys, such as GRAHAM, DAVIS, SPURLOCK, KEENAN, PHILYAW, N. WALKER, FLOURNOY, BENNETT, and SULLIVAN (still! uh-huh!)

Just received a late flash from the KA mansion—to STEPHENS, SULLIVAN, and SCOTT, 1, 2 and 3 respectively, our congratulations! We have been trying for an hour to think up a punch line to end this column. We aer all punch-drunk from the effort, yet still no thoughts that we can print! So g'nite—but watch out. We all have sharp claws in our velvet gloves—which makes us think that some others could use velvet gloves! Bye, now!

KOLONIAL KITTY KAT.

Former Centenary Athlete Is Missing

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal

Willard Dean, former Centenary college athlete, who was working on a defense project in the West Indies, is reported to be lost after he and a friend sailed out of Fort Viex harbor, February 8. Dean is remembered at Centenary for his boxing ability, having won the national heavyweight AAA boxing title at one time. He also played on the Gentlemen's football team, while at Centenary in 1935-36.

Dean is credited with the quickest knockout in all ring history when his opponent was counted out just ten seconds after the fight started.

Phone 7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

FRIDAY and SATURDAY, March 6-7
"I WAKE UP SCREAMING"
Betty Grable—Victor Mature
National Defense Short—Serial

SUN., MON. & TUES., March 8-9-10
"THEY DIED WITH THEIR BOOTS ON"
Errol Flynn—Olivia de Havilland
Disney Cartoon—News

WED. & THURS., March 11-12
"CHOCOLATE SOLDIER"
Nelson Eddy—Rise Stevens
Cartoon—News

For more than just a Haircut we recommend

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.
L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....7-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomee Club (Home Economics)
Meredithe Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Finnell, President.....7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, Preside it.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 2-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer.....7-2554
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Ceneoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803 Youree

Mrs. Sara Tully

Dance to the Music of
HENRY BUSSE
AND HIS ORCHESTRA

at the

CLUB CORONADO

Thursday, March 12, 1942

Admission $1.25 per Person, incl. Tax

9:00 'til

No Reservations—
So Come Early!

At the Fork of the Minden and Coushatta Roads

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, March 13, 1942.

Number 20

FORECAST

The marvelous opportunity of making friends is always open at Centenary College. To pass this opportunity by is to spurn life itself. We live in a world of people, to ignore those people is to shun the world. The purpose in studying is that we may better take our place in the community, that we might more wisely carry on relations with our fellows. Yet human relations can not be learned from books alone—but must be learned from actual experience. From books we learn theory, from our friendships we learn the application of those theories.

A true friend is of inestimable value — a life-long pillar of strength on which to lean—a sealed reservoir in which to confide—a foundation amidst turmoil—an edification in prosperity. Of such worth is friendship that all should give it serious, daily attention.

Therefore, get acquainted with your fellow students. Above all, one should know the names of one's classmates. Test yourself—can you give the full name of everyone in each of your classes? After you have learned their names, discover their likes and dislikes, pick out the ones you desire as friends and gain their friendship.

In this way Centenary would become a better place to go to school—a stronger bond of unity would be knit, a singleness of purpose in the advancement of our school would be created and the life of each individual would become more pleasant.

Political Cartoon Exhibit at South Hall

Don Brown, head of the Centenary art department, has arranged an exhibition of fifty original drawings by Dr. R. Fitzpatrick, the clever cartoonist whose drawings appear daily on the editorial page of The Shreveport Times.

Among the fifty cartoons will be exhibited the recent one entitled "He Laughs Last"—a horse heehawing with a blown-out tire around his neck and "Society Item" with the British lion and the Russian bear arm-in-arm.

The exhibition began Wednesday at South Hall and will continue there throughout the week. It will then be transferred to the art museum of the State Exhibit Building.

While the drawings are at Centenary Don Brown will analyze them from the standpoint of art.

New Officers of Chi Omega Listed

Newly elected officers of Chi Omega for the coming year are:

President, Jimmy Thibodeaux; Vice President, Gladys Tippet; Secretary, Betty Gordon Smith; Treasurer, Frances Oden; Pledge Mistress, Lucille Sanford; Chapter Correspondent, Jeanne Maynard; Personnel Chairman, Jimmie Brown; Rush Captain, Susie Mulkey; Herald, Eleanor Brown.

The new pledge officers are: President, Jane Bartlett; Vice President, Claire Tinnin; Secretary-Treasurer, Adelaide Dickson.

College Kapers Makes Tour

Pictured above are Kollege Kapers' two masters of ceremony, Roland Achee and Camp Flournoy. These two kept the show running during Kapers' recently completed tour.

Photo Courtesy Shreveport Journal.

STUDENT CODE

The Student Code, as planned by the Senate, is something which the students at Centenary have been wanting in that form for a long time. It is by no means an elaborate system attempting to regulate all student activities both in and out of the class room. On the contrary, its only aim is to enable the students to regulate their own conduct, and at a time when no student has objection to his conduct being regulated; that is, in the classroom during tests.

The Code is planned, organized, written, and will be enforced by the student government, and as such, is without doubt the greatest advance in government the students have taken in several years; in fact, since its installation.

There is nothing compulsory about the plan. No student is obligated to sign the individual pledge and promise to adhere to the one provision of the Code. However, the Senate, in enforcing it, will work on the supposition that all have agreed to it, and all will be held responsible for refraining from doing the one thing asked by the pledge.

There is in reality very little need for such a system as this at Centenary. There are very few students, if any, who deliberately violate the Code's provision right now, when it is not even in existence, so there should not really be any objection to the one thing required, since it will inconvenience so very few of the students.

The form the plan will take is individual pledges signed by as many of the student body as will.

Since there is not an obvious need for such a Code, the primary reason for its installation is to provide the students themselves with more of a part in the management of the student portions of school activities, and to give more responsibility to the students and their representatives in the Student Senate.

It is true that several great advances toward a more complete regulation of student affairs by students have been consummated this year, and this proposed step now is the climax of a year devoted to this advancement of student responsibility. Representatives have been appointed from the students to serve on nearly all of the faculty committees dealing primarily with subjects of student interest and concern; and now the students are to be granted the right to have control of examinations, that hitherto stronghold of the faculty.

So, for the good of the school and the generations of Centenary students to follow us, let us decide now to cooperate wholeheartedly in putting across this newest addition to student government here at Centenary. It is something that we all realize must be for the good of everyone concerned.

New Conglomerate Editor Named By Faculty Committee

New Policy Begun by Publication; Will Hold Position Until March, 1943

Beginning a new policy here at Centenary, the faculty publications committee has appointed Joe Stephens to be editor of the Centenary Conglomerate for the remainder of this year and until this same time next year. Stephens succeeds Gilbert Hetherwick as editor.

The purpose of the new plan is to enable the new editor and staff to receive the help and advice of the outgoing staff and to profit by the experiences of the latter. Heretofore the practice has been for the new editor to be named during the summer months, which has left him at somewhat of a disadvantage when he took over the job of publishing a paper once a week in the fall, when he was a bit inexperienced.

Dr. Cline Honored By Nomination for Rotary President

Dr. Pierce Cline was nominated for the presidency of the Shreveport Rotary Club last Friday at the regular noon meeting of the club. Such a nomination is tantamount to election, which will be held next month.

The Rotary Club is one of Shreveport's outstanding civic organizations, and has a practice of inviting several members of the senior class at Centenary to visit their weekly luncheons throughout the year and meet many of their members, who include some of the foremost citizens of Shreveport.

Speech Team Goes To Natchitoches

Centenary will be well represented at the Ninth Annual Louisiana Speech Tournament held March 13 and 14 in Natchitoches. Those taking the trip Friday and the divisions that they will enter are as follows:

In debate John Woods, Joe Stephens, E. W. Harris and James Dixon will debate both sides of the Pi Kappa Delta debate question which is, Resolved: That the democracies should form a federation to establish and maintain the nine Churchill-Roosevelt principles.

In oratory James Dixon will be the sole representative. In poetry reading the participants are Gladys Tippet, Betty Blaxton, Carolyn Coburn, John Woods and Joe Stephens. In radio speaking Jack Elgin, Clint Teacle and Marie Wolf are participating. Those entering in after-dinner speaking are John Woods and Billy Willcox.

The team has been coached by Mrs. John Wray Young and Dr. Overdyke.

ALPHA XI DELTA PLEDGES HAVE WAFFLE SUPPER

The waffle supper the pledges of Alpha Xi Delta held last Saturday night was really something swell. Why doesn't Centenary have more parties like it?

EACH PERFORMANCE A CROWNING SUCCESS

One of the most hilarious tours in the history of Kollege Kapers has just been completed. A completely different show was presented each night. "Cheesy" left the crowds wanting more as usual. Camp, Roland, and Fulton were as witty as ever. Charlotte and Harriet scurried around for souvenirs for certain admirers while Aubrey McClellan and Sammy Swor yearned for something back home. Gladys Tippet with her song "Jealous" left the audience in awe. C. W. Williams left them still more dumfounded when he "swung out" on one of Biddie Boddie's numbers. C. H. Vandegaer was detained to give autographs and Foster beat the drums so hard that the girls were almost afraid of him. Cleo had a tremendous following from Sterlington to Monroe.

Billy Booth had his say about everything on the Kapers bus and Sabino put in his line. Martha Stevens was as peppy as usual and she kept her roommate Justine up to par so that she would come through.

Rosie and Gene accompanied Sully and Hearne in the car so the trailer would follow up the equipment.

Mrs. Voran made a perfect chaperone for the group and nothing could be said that is too good for her. Jimmie Brown was as usual the fun of the party with her racking and laughing. "Bert" Hetherwick with his camera made some slick "un-posed" shots and did a swell job at the spotlights.

"Doc" was the same keen guy as ever and handled the show better than any one could.

13 NOMINEES

'Miss Blackout' To Be Chosen At Centenary

In anticipation of Shreveport's first blackout, Centenary men Wednesday nominated 13 girls to compete for the title of "The Girl With Whom the Centenary Gentlemen Would Most Prefer to Spend Shreveport's First Blackout."

Those nominated were:

Jane Bartlett, Roberta Williamson, Jimmie Brown, Anne Gallo-way, Jane Nusser, Emily Anne Connell, Azalie Webb, Patsey Coffee, Norman Robertson, Jimmie Thibodeaux, Susie Mulkey, Marguerite Haggard and Horriet Crawford.

Beauty, personality and other similar qualifications were taken into consideration. The election will be held Friday, and the winner is to be featured in the Collegiate Digest and the Shreveport Journal.

APRIL FOOL STUNT NIGHT

Annually on April 1 the Woman's Athletic Association sponsors a benefit stunt night. Each fraternity, sorority and non-Greek group is asked to prepare and present a skit. Faculty members act as judges and the winning group is presented with a tin cup filled with Hershey kisses. The admission is a dime per person.

We wish to express our deepest sympathy to Bill Stephens on the death of his mother, Mrs. Margaret D. Stephens.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Member
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO • BOSTON • SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES • PORTLAND • SEATTLE

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

JOE STEPHENS, Editor

Managing Editor.....Roland Achee
Associate Editor.....Mary Foster Peyton
Poetry Editor.....John Woods
Sports Editor.....Arthur Herold
News Editor.....Patricia Harper
Campus Editor.....Ellen Eastham
Feature Editor.....Barbara Harris
Social Editor.....Mabel Boddie
Circulation Manager.....Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Jake Cullick, Margaret Owens, Nan Dobson, Ethel Kramer, Buddy Stroud, Margaret Eubank, Bill Keenan, Marie Wolf, Carolyn Lunny, Katy Castaneda, Lester Moore, Dottie Graham, Peggy O'Neill, Clint Teale, Claude Blackburn, Betty Blaxton, Horace Alvord, Mary Smith New, Billy Booth, Bob Eatman, Charlotte Newsom, E. W. Harris, Mickey McCutchen, Leroy Scott, Jessica Harris.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student government at Centenary has made several long strides forward this year, with the appointment of student representatives to many of the more important faculty and administration committees. The greatest advance of any thus far, however, is that offered by the new Student Code, the inauguration and enforcement of which is in the power of the Student Senate.

The new plan is not a complicated one by any manner of means, and simplicity is one of its primary factors. It makes no attempt to control or investigate the actions of students outside the class room, and applies to no activity other than actual tests and examinations.

Stated in its entirety the Code consists of a pledge, signed by the students, individually, to the effect that they agree to neither give nor receive aid on tests. It goes no further than that, and does not strive to apply to any other portion of school life.

This plan was originated in the Student Senate and has the wholehearted backing of its entire personnel. Nearly all the Senate members have already placed their signatures on the pledges, and those whose names have not yet been added were unavoidably absent the night the others agreed to the Code.

Included in the list of those who have signed and are giving the plan their enthusiastic support are Gilbert Hetherwick, Claude Teel, Peg Hawkins, Camp Fournoy, Jimmie Thibodeaux, Gene Hilliard, Lou Dell Liston, Rob Williamson, Norma Stewart, Sara Menefee, Ellen Eastham, Burl Sullivan, Irl Harper, John Woods, Joe Stephens, Bill Graham, Lester Moore, Guy Feducia, Arthur Crawford, Bill Wellborn, Ann Burnette, John Marshall, and Jimmie Harris.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Why has Fluff "Ernestine" take a joke as well as being a regular Kelly been cutting up in the Sub lately? And just why was he looking so affectionately at He-Man Lindsay?

Don't you think that David Iles is one of the nicest boys on the campus? But definitely!

Seen in the Sub: Sydney Conger, surrounded by a whole flock of beauties. Don't know whether it's his looks or his personality, but if you have but noticed, he really rates.

Overheard: Heard solemnly warning: BEWARE THE WOLF!

Billy Hamner, you're one of the nicest boys we know, so why don't you quit being so conscientious and let us see a little more of you? Congratulations—

To Nan Dobson for having such lovely Irish eyes.

To Norma Stewart and Carolyn Lunny for being so efficient.

To Margie Giles and Mary Foster Peyton for being sweet, lovable, and just all-around swell gals.

To Jarvis Waller and Frances Oden for their mutual good taste.

To Sister Wolfe for being such a swell sport. She's smart, too!

To Leroy Scott for being able to

To Delena Yancey and Jack Elgin for making a handsome couple.

To Biddie Boddie, Lou Dell Liston and Bobbye Wilson for being such swell kids at all times to everyone. Considerate, too.

To David Barton for being such a hard worker. But let up a little, David Boy, and get a little fun out of life.

To John Marshall for being a gentleman.

To Lee "Casanova" Owens for his sparkling wit and good humor.

To Bill Wellborn and Carlton Graff for their frankness and sincerity.

To Quitman Williams for being a math. shark and not the other kind.

Mrs. U. S. Collins, a graduate nurse and instructor at the Tri-State Sanitarium, and Mrs. Rosabel Shavin, wife of a local physician, are both receiving their degrees in June, having studied in their spare time. Congrats to you both for your perseverance.

To the inmates of Jackson Hall, James Knox Smith is known as the wizard of the test tubes. Keep up

Fight to Win That Fight

FRED WARING CENTENARY FIGHT SONG

Ladies and Gentlemen—
Unaccustomed as I am to making speeches—
I hesitate to make a statement, though I'll say—
We've learned a lot that Centenary teaches,
Let's sing it out and shout it, let's tell the world about it
How we do things in the Centenary way.

Oh—Win like a gentleman, lose like a gentleman,
Say dese and dose, dem and youse like a gentleman,
But when there's a chance they'll be stealing your pants—
Then fight to win that fight.

Oh, drink like a gentleman, smoke like a gentleman,
Sneeze, thumb your nose, tell a joke like a gentleman—
But when it's a case of defending your face,
Then fight to win that fight!

Oh, never lose your head before the ladies—
Before the ladies lose their heads over you.
A gentleman fights, but he always fights clean—
You know what I mean—he always fights clean.

So now Centenary men, fight, Centenary men,
Defend the Maroon and the White, Centenary men—
Beat 'em today, but beat 'em our way—
So fight, like a gentleman—
But fight to win that fight!

Fight, fight to win that fight—
Fight, fight, Maroon and White—
Fight, fight, to win that game—
Centenary Gentlemen, fight for your fame!
(Repeat last stanza)

the good work, boy; the OPM is looking for fellows like you.

Walter Heard had the unexpected pleasure of meeting the judge of the city court last Friday and afterwards announced that if Judge Hendrick runs for governor he can count on his vote.

"Honkey" Kizer receives our nomination for the best swimmer on a dance floor.

RUM GUM

By Joe Stephens

(Author's note: I was talking with someone and they noticed how people like to chew gum, and I noticed how some people like to drink rum; so the idea occurred of putting rum in gum, and calling it Rum Gum. I don't necessarily approve of chewing gum or drinking rum; but the idea was so unique I wrote the poem about it.)

Do you bumble, stumble,
Tumble, grumble, mumble?
Are you forever humble?
Do you never rumble?
Then from your stupor tumble,
Chum, chew Rum Gum.

E'en a crummie mummy
Or a scrummy dummy
Would chew gummy rummy
To yummy the tummy—
Chum, chew Rum Gum.

Are you unbecoming
And feel like succumbing,
Have dreams yet forthcoming
Cause of some shortcoming
You're not overcoming?
You may now start humming,
This news should be numbing,
Its' coming—in summing—
Chum, chew Rum Gum!

Iave you a hummock-like stomach?
Your stature stumpy and dumpy,
Your figure lumpy and posture slumpy,

Your complexion bumpy,
Your nerves jumpy,
And your disposition grumpy?
If so, don't be dumb-hum
Chum—chew Rum Gum.

Nothing could be glummer
Than a plumber in midsummer.
Nothing could be mummer
Than a hummer sans a number.
Nothing could be dumber
Than a drummer sans his rummer.

Assume this assumption,
Presume this presumption,
Chum, use your gumption,
Ward off consumption—
Chum, chew Rum Gum!

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Northland college, Ashland, Wisconsin, boasts more than 40 men in the various branches of the service.

What Boys Dislike In Girls

Here, girls, are the replies of the Centenary boys to the above question (Remember, you had your chance!):

Joel Kizer—"I think girls could get along very well without the use of outlandish fingernail polish."

Leroy Scott—"I dislike double-dealing; I hate that more than anything, also sarcastic women."

Irl Harper—"I don't like slacks and riding pants at school."

Al Hughes—"I don't like sweaters that button down the back."

Carl Vollmer—"There isn't a thing I don't like most in girls. It has been so long since I've been with one. I don't like rival fraternities, however."

Cyril Wilde—"I can't think of anything I don't like in girls."

Jimmie Youngblood—"I don't like sloppiness. I don't like them going around in slacks, hair stringy and stuff like that."

Hutch Phillips—"I don't like them in general. I hate to be kept waiting."

Duck Drake—"I love them all." Gene Hilliard—"I don't like teasers or those that keep you waiting."

Brownie Johnson—"It can't be printed."

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

New! Different! Lovely!

Campus Make-up

50c

The smart make-up for young skins; gives even tone and never shines, is smooth, non-drying and light as dew, needs no powder and lasts all day!

The HEARNE
DRY GOODS CO. LTD.

FOR BETTER SCHOOL WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC
MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

Shown above are the recently elected Kappa Sigma officers. In the center is Jimmy Harris, Grand Master for the coming year. At the top reading from left to right are Aubrey McClellan, Treasurer, and Sam Gipson, Vice President. Below are pictured John Lowe, Scribe, and Don Thompson, Master of Ceremony.
—Photo Courtesy Shreveport Journal.

STUDENT CODE

Here is a copy of the Student Pledge as written by the Student Senate:

On my honor, I, _____, promise that as long as I am a student, regularly enrolled in Centenary College, I will neither give nor receive aid of any sort on any type of test.

Badminton and Table Tennis Begin March 18

At the meeting of the Intramural Council last Monday it was announced that competition in badminton and table tennis will begin March 18. Each class will stage a tournament and the semi-finalists in each class will be entered in the all-college tourney. There will be competition in both sports in the following divisions: Men's singles and doubles, ladies' singles and doubles and mixed doubles.

On March 16 at 2 p.m. there will be another meeting of the Intramural in the Gymnasium. All class managers must be present. The class managers are: Seniors—Lou Dell Liston, Virginia Breithaut, Burl Sullivan and Guy Feducia; Juniors—Azalie Webb, Betty Gordon Smith, Joe Stephens, and Leroy Scott; Sophomores—Susie Mulkey, Martha Hart, Billy McCook and Albert Johnson; and Freshmen—Mary Smith New, Lucile Webb, David Carlton and Bobby Lindsay.

Since points are given for participation the class that has the largest number of participants has in reality a head start on the other classes.

Woman's Athletic Association Has Swimming Party

Tuesday night, March 10, the members of the W.A.A. enjoyed a swimming party at the Y.M.C.A. from 6-7 p.m.

DO YOU KNOW YOUR CAMPUS NICKNAMES?

1. Swedie—Elaine Fredin
2. Slink—Dick Gibbs
3. Abigail—Elise Montgomery
4. Fifi—Jean Gibson
5. Bootie—Marian Holloway

"Shoe shine, mister?"
"No."

"I can shine 'em so you can see your face in 'em."
"I said 'No.'"
"Coward!"

SOPHOMORE GIRLS WIN VOLLEY BALL TITLE; MEN'S CHAMP GAME TUESDAY

Led by Captains Norman Robertson and Marguerite Haggard the brilliant Sophomore girls' team downed the Senior girls in a hard-fought, thrilling game to capture the championship. The star of the tournament was "bashum" Emily Prothro who because of her ability to consistently serve the ball in the court and because of the opponents' inability to return said serve thereby wins the acclaim of the multitude as Centenary's greatest girl volley-ball—Allah be praised.

Susie Mulkey, another Sophomore mainstay, was seen to run out of her position and hit the ball back where she formerly was—but she was not where she was because she was where she was—or do you follow me? Some more excitement was added when Marguerite

Haggard ran full blast through a closed door much to her own dismay and at the expense of her chin and nose.

The Seniors won the first game and were leading in the second when the Sophomores put on their championship spurt.

The winning team consisted of Norman Robertson, Emily Prothro, Marguerite Haggard, Dorothy Tucker, Matilda Abraham, Montez Babin, Martha Hart, Patsey Coffey, Susie Mulkey and Patricia Harper.

The men's championship will be decided when the Sophomores play the Freshmen next Tuesday at noon at the Gym. Each team has won six games and both have displayed remarkable ability. The game should be a good one so everyone come down and see it.

Seniors Win Mixed Volley Ball Tourney

The Seniors copped the mixed volley ball title last week, defeating the valiant Sophomores. Their success was due largely to the splendid playing of Ed Hoynoski, one of Centenary's outstanding basketball players. Guy Feducia was warned from the sidelines to be careful and not get hurt but he ignored the warning and boldly "went ahead on." Mrs. Hattie Hill also played exceptionally well. Vincent D'Asto bounded lightly over the court like the charming young sprite he is—and the gallery gobbled.

The members of the team are Pauline Lamb, Georgella Till, Mrs. Hattie Hill, Ed Hoynoski, Jack Carlton and Vincent D'Asto.

A good time was had by all.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

Student Fellowship Has Program on Beauties of Life

Tuesday at the weekly meeting of the Student Fellowship a program was held on Beauty, how it may be defined and how beauty and happiness may be achieved in life.

An air of reverence and peace was prevalent throughout the program due to the candlelight and the beauty expressed in Felix Brillas' poem, "On Beauty," Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata," the Thirteenth Chapter of Corinthians, and several beautiful hymns. Finally beauty in life was defined as love and selfless sacrifice for others.

The original brick walls of Bentley hall, Allegheny college administration building erected in the 1820's, are 18 inches thick.

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhome Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
Dudley Beene, President.....2-3888
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Lewis Fennell, President.....7-6043
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Dudley Beene, Head Cheerleader 2-3888

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Carl Vollmer.....7-2554
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Richard Norton, President.....7-6571

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
La Rue Powell, President.....2-7765
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Peg Hawkins, President.....7-4610
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Mary Alice Shores, President.....7-3407
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
Lou Dell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

More on Honor Roll

The following students made the Honor Roll the last semester but were late in getting their grades: Malcolm Vickers, Mrs. Frances Tull O'Neal, Cecil Ramey, John Woods, John Marshall, Bill Swyers, Roland Achee, Alexander May, Jeannette Craber, Jack Gold, Quitman Williams, Jarvis Waller, Allen C. Durham, Gilbert Hetherwick.

To be eligible for the Honor Roll a student must have a high "B" average (39 honor points) in no less than four courses representing 12 or more hours.

This Collegiate World

(By Associated Collegiate Press)
What happens to a collegiate guest star after a trip to New York and a $200 cash award for appearing on Fred Allen's radio hour?

Well, at latest reports all of the 17 or 18 who have already appeared have returned to their respective colleges or universities, and a good time was had by all.

But the story isn't over at this point.

Nearly every one of the students has won the attention of either radio officials or movie talent scouts, and one of them had the remarkable experience of being called to the White House for a "command performance."

Alonzo Squires, mimic from North Carolina, caused a flood of wires when he brought to the "mike" a fourfold imitation of the Joe Lewis-Tommy Farr fight as described by Clem McCarthy and Edwin C. Hill, with interviews of the two pugilists at the end of the battle.

Word reached Washington of Alonzo's ability to mimic the President and the Big Man invited him to the White House where he did a "take-off" of a Roosevelt political speech to the great amusement of F.D.R.

It is characteristic of Fred Allen that no mention was made on the air of the fact that Alonzo Squires is blind.

How to Get It

The question in the physical examination read: How may one obtain a good posture?

The country boy wrote: Keep the cows off of it and let it grow a while.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

For more than
just a Haircut
we recommend

CENTENARY
BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.

L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

Saturday, March 14, 1942

DANCE WITH

CARVEL CRAIG
AND HIS ORCHESTRA

Direct from the Baker Hotel where he has been held over four weeks.

at the

CLUB CORONADO

Adm. 55c per Person, incl. tax

9:00 'til

At the Fork of the Minden and Coushatta Roads

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS

LOUISIANA

GAS

COMPANY

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

To all yo chullin who are atotin' 'em books, Josephine Kopopolous is here again. If any of youse guys or gals need advice come to my office. The door is always open.

Observed together quite frequently is JOHN LOWE and cute little JESSICA HARRIS. They sure do make a swell couple.

The eternal twosome—FRANCIS ODEN and "RED" WALLER.

DOROTHY TUCKER has a new car also a lot of new friends.

POEM?

To the temple of knowledge one day did appear

This dashing young man, one Cavalier.

He spoke with a draw true to the South

So slow did it seem he hardly opened his mouth.

His face was handsome and his loves many,

But alas, came the day he took a smart girl for a ninny.

He loved her and wooed her but she played him for a sap,

She warn't so dumb—this BEAR TRAP.

But the draft is coming and there will be a day,

When the fair sex will remember 'twas a fine fellow

OUR KAY.

EMILIE ANN (Pig) CONNELL is back after an illness. Missed you, gal.

He Was a Rat After All

Berkeley, Calif. (ACP).—Rats have emotional and personality traits paralleling those of human beings, believes Dr. Robert C. Tryon, University of California psychologist. His findings are based on years of observations, during which he has determined that rats are better subjects for emotional and nervous reaction study than human beings. Dr. Tryon has established that the female rat is more "high-strung," and is capable of more complex and varied emotional responses than the male. Twenty per cent of the females, he found, are more emotional than the most emotional male. Likewise, 20 per cent of the males are less emotional than the least excitable female. He has found the emotional behavior of rats and other rodents varies from the "neurotic," or nervous, animal to phlegmatic rats, almost incapable of very great emotional reactions.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

For that added dash of College Color wear crested jewelry! Of course, you will want to purchase this item from because we have better goods with wider selections and a really economical price. It pays to buy from those who remain in business from year to year.

LEONARD'S

"Fine Jewelry"

320-322 Ward Bldg. Ph. 2-5088

KOLONIAL ITTY AT OR DORM AMES ISH IRT

Well, here we are again—it's another Kolonial Kitty Katt session, but this one is rather quiet—we miss our absent Kaperites.

Our usual placid calm has been disturbed again—another Dorm delovely has quit our midst. Heartiest congratulations to MR. AND MRS. NORMAN WALKER! Room 204, former abode of Mrs. Tyler Pirtle and Mrs. Norman Walker, is the basis of a romantic legend now circulating on our campus. There is a long waiting list just for the privilege of entering the sacred portals of 204, and bidding is high for the honor of being the next inmate of that lucky room. It's a sure ticket to the altar! Better watch out, NAN BANKS!

Just to be different, we are leaving out Richardson, O'Neill, Graham and Flournoy this week.

Kappa Alpha roses to our sweet Cile Miller who is now wearing the pin of Lawrence May. How on earth did she manage to keep it a secret for two and a half weeks? That's practically a dormitory impossibility!!!

Orchids to Ellen Eastham (not for any particular reason, but because she paid a coke for this blurb) — Onions to Betty Temple for unceasing noise and superfluous vocalizing at all hours, unceasingly, forever, ad infinitum, ad nauesum — Orchids to Margaret Friend for being so generous with her hair-dryer—Onions to Ladell Frazier for (censored) — Orchids to Gibson and Atkins for answering the telephone—and a certain person on the second floor says garlic to that accursed bell that rings right over the bed!

We saw Eastham, Coburn and Owens bidding fond farewells to the departing Kaperiest—what? no Betty Gordon?

The dormitory is convulsed with laughter—we just heard that Martha Stevens named her little dog "Flea-Flea-Chump-Hamner"! Freshmen have no respect for their elders—ask Lil about her feelings for Jane Bartlett (Harold Sumrell and Dr. Son Carroll should know!)

In the spring, Centenary traditionally blossoms out in twosomes—and have you noticed? Spring is sprung!

Till next week then we remain your feline "femmes fatales,"

Affectionately yours,
KITTY and KATT.

The Kolonial Kittens.

Worth His Weight in Diamonds

Bill: Speaking about baseball, I've even got me a baseball dog.

Jim: What makes you call him a baseball dog?

Bill: Because he wears a muzzle, catches flies, chases fowls, and beats it for home when he sees the catcher coming.

Patronize Our Advertisers, Please!

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803
Youree

Mrs. Sara
Tully

More Pleasure for You

There's satisfaction in knowing that the 6½¢ revenue tax you pay on every pack of twenty cigarettes is doing its bit for Uncle Sam

Every time you buy Chesterfields you get the satisfaction of a smoke that's definitely Milder, far COOLER and BETTER-TASTING.

Chesterfield's superior blend of the world's best cigarette tobaccos will give you more smoking pleasure than you ever had before. Try a pack of Chesterfields today.

CHESTERFIELDS are mighty important in this man's army. New recruit or old-timer... they all like the cigarette that satisfies.

WILLIAM TRACY and ELYSE KNOX (a Chesterfield girl), starring in Hal Roach's comedy hit HAY FOOT.

Our movie stars are doing a grand job selling defense bonds and entertaining our soldiers. Many of them choose Chesterfield to send to men in uniform.

Col. VIVIAN J. OLSEN, Cadet MARIE HOFFMAN of the Women's Defense Cadets of America. This and similar organizations send millions of Milder, Better-Tasting Chesterfields to the men in uniform.

MORE ARMS for AMERICA

We Pay More Than $2,000,000 A WEEK into the U. S. Treasury for the Tax Stamps necessary for one week's output of Chesterfields

Here's what this would buy for defense in one year:

1,300 TWO-MOTORED BOMBERS or 1,485 MEDIUM HEAVY TANKS

or 346,666 PARACHUTES

BUY U. S. DEFENSE BONDS AND STAMPS TODAY

ON THE NATION'S FRONT

It's Chesterfield

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, March 20, 1942.

Number 21

FORECAST

This forecast is the opinion of the girls who are participating in the intramural sports program. We see no reason why the girls aren't allowed to wear shorts. They are permitted to wear slacks and their gym shorts. Not all of the girls have the gym shorts and don't feel that they should have to buy them to play in the program.

We are very anxious to get a large number of the students out to play in the program; but now that the weather is becoming warmer and the slacks are very hot I imagine that the girls will begin to drop out. I have heard lots of girls express the opinion that it was too hot to play in slacks and if they couldn't play in shorts they just wouldn't play.

The boys have their uniforms, shorts and shirts in which they are allowed to play. I can truthfully say that the girls couldn't look any worse than the boys do in their uniforms.

I can see no reason why the girls couldn't wear shorts. If some of the girls don't prefer to wear them it is perfectly all right for them to wear slacks but why should some girls suffer and be uncomfortable to please a very few people?

The shorts could be of a certain type and ones that would be accepted by society as a whole.

This is the only school that I know where the girls aren't allowed to wear shorts in the gym for play. Why should we be old-fashioned now? We are living in a new age. It is an accepted fact that girls should be allowed to dress for play as they choose. When it is colder there is no reason why slacks should not be worn, but when the spring and summer get here it is time to wear shorts if one prefers.

Men and women play in shorts in the city tournaments and also for play in their own groups.

Therefore I join in with the rest of the girls in saying, "Let the girls wear shorts if they choose."

Speech Contestants Place at Natchitoches

Although no first places were taken at the Ninth Annual Louisiana Speech Tournament held on March 13 and 14 at Natchitoches, several second and third places were won. In extemporaneous speaking John Woods placed second and Billy Wilcox took fourth place. In poetry reading Betty Blaxton won third place and in radio speaking Jack Elgin captured the second prize. The competition was particularly strong as teams were represented from several states including Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Mississippi, and Louisiana.

Those contestants that didn't win nevertheless did their best for school and coaches. One dejected entrant was heard to murmur sadly "nevermore." Another mentioned giving up radio announcing as a career and still another gloomily remarked that debating was a waste of the national defense effort.

The team was coached by Mrs. John Wray Young and Dr. W. Darrell Overdyke.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Kollege Kapers Home Show Mar. 23-24

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal.

"MISS BLACKOUT"

Miss Marguerite Haggard was chosen in an election last Friday as "the girl with whom the Centenary Gentlemen would most prefer to spend Shreveport's first blackout." The election was based on beauty, personality and other similar and evident qualities. Miss Haggard's picture will appear in the Collegiate Digest, which is distributed to colleges throughout the nation. Also the Associated Press has asked for the picture to be released to the newspapers it serves all over the country.

CENTENARY COLLEGE CHOIR GIVES PROGRAM IN MINDEN

The Centenary College Choir, under the direction of Alvin C. Voran, presented a program last Friday evening for the Women's Department Club of Minden at the Minden Community House. After the program the members of the choir were entertained at the home of Nan Banks.

PAN-HELLENIC ELECTS

Centenary Pan-Hellenic recently elected officers for the coming year. Officers are Jean Gibson, president; Emily Prothro, vice-president, and Gladys Tippet, secretary-treasurer.

Pan-Hellenic is composed of a certain number of members from each sorority on the campus.

NOTICE, PROSPECTIVE TEACHERS

Senior men and women who expect to receive a teacher-training certificate at the close of this year are required to fill out an application for this certificate at once. Blanks may be obtained from the registrar's office, and prospective teachers should take care of this matter immediately.

KOLLEGE KAPERS ANNOUNCES TICKET CONTEST

Dr. S. D. Morehead, director of Kollege Kapers, has announced that prizes will be given to the groups and individuals selling the most tickets for the home show.

The first prize, a $25 defense bond (or the cash), will be presented to the group that sells more tickets than any other. A group must sell more than $50 worth to be eligible.

The second prize, which will be 15 percent of all tickets sold (not to include tax) will be given to the organization that comes in second.

The third prize of $5 will be awarded to the individual that sells the most tickets.

The fourth prize, 15 percent of all tickets sold, will go to any individual selling more than ten tickets.

All returns on the tickets must be made by four o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

K. A. PLEDGE GROUP ELECTS

Billy Booth has been elected president of the Kappa Alpha pledges and Jimmy Youngblood, secretary-treasurer.

'Miss Centenary Kollege Kapers of 1942' To Be Chosen By Audience

The annual home performances of Kollege Kapers, sponsored this year by the Navy Relief Committee, will take place at Byrd High School this coming Monday and Tuesday nights.

These shows will close the season for Kollege Kapers of 1942, which, during the past few months has appeared successfully in many North Louisiana towns.

The 90-minute variety program includes selections by the 12-piece Kollege Kapers orchestra, flute, trumpet, and piano solos, comedy skits, songs by the Centenary College choir, popular vocalists, and many other offerings.

Kollege Kapers will feature again this year the selection by the audience of "Miss Centenary Kollege Kapers." The 12 girls who have been nominated for this honor are:

Jean Evans, Biddie Boddie, Mar-Stevens, Jane Bartlett, Jimmie Brown, Ann Thibodeaux, Azalie Webb, Mary Smith New, Rosemary Neal, Gladys Tippet, Susie Mulkey, and Roberta Williamson.

Monday night's audience will be (Continued on Page Two)

Harriett Crawford Named Miss Centenary

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Times.

Miss Harriett Crawford was selected as "Miss Centenary College for 1942" at the Lee Dry Goods Company's spring style revue held Tuesday at Washington-Youree hotel.

Miss Crawford will be featured from among six Centenary student contestants by Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Bracker, well-known artists.

Miss Crawford will be featured in the beauty section of the Yon-copin. Other contestants were: Misses Helen Dwire, Justine Holmes, Martha Hart, Martha Stevens and Mary Smith New.

In addition to the six contestants, three other Centenary girls appeared as models. They were Misses Jane Bartlett, Dorothy Vosca and Jimmie Brown.

The master of ceremonies was George Sexton, Jr.

Be sure not to miss Kollege Kapers home performance—

Time: 8:00.

Dates: Monday, March 23, and Tuesday, March 24.

Place: Byrd High School auditorium.

Centenary Mothers' Club Entertained By Dramatics Club

Members of the Centenary voice and diction and radio classes, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. John Wray Young, entertained the Centenary Mothers' Club Tuesday in Colonial Hall.

George Edwards served as master of ceremonies, with the following students taking part: Gladys Tippet rendered "The Great Lover;" Clint Teacle, "Danger Ahead;" Betty Blaxton, "Sonnets;" Marie Wolf, "America, Think!;" Carolyn Coburn, "Delilah;" Dorothy Luce, "Biography of St. Patrick;" Jack Elgin, "Keep Our Radio Free;" John Woods, "America's Will to Work."

Roland Achee was introduced as president of the Dramatics Club, of which all those participating on the program were members. The club plans to give a program in chapel and over a local radio station in the near future.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY

National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press

College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

Member

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

JOE STEPHENS, Editor

Managing Editor.....Roland Achée
Associate Editor.....Mary Foster Peyton
Poetry Editor.....John Woods
Sports Editor.....Arthur Herold
News Editor.....Patricia Harper
Campus Editor.....Ellen Eastham
Feature Editor.....Barbara Harris
Social Editor.....Mabel Boddie
Circulation Manager.....Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Jake Cullick, Margaret Owens, Nan Dobson, Ethel Kramer, Buddy Stroud, Margaret Eubank, Bill Keenan, Marie Wolf, Carolyn Lunny, Katy Castaneda, Lester Moore, Dottie Graham, Peggy O'Neill, Clint Teale, Claude Blackburn, Betty Blaxton, Horace Alvord, Mary Smith New, Billy Booth, Bob Eatman, Charlotte Newsom, E. W. Harris, Mickey McCutchen, Leroy Scott, Jessica Harris, Lucille Webb, Carolyn Canon.

THE SUB

The students of Centenary College worked hard and waited long for a Student Union Building. This is our building and it is our individual job to keep it in good condition. To maintain a "good condition" or atmosphere we must watch our conduct at all times.

The actions of a certain few people lately have not been as they should be. You must remember you are not the only person who enjoys being in the SUB, but if such conduct continues people will come less and less just because of you and your inability to act like a gentleman. So please be careful and watch what you say and do at all times—especially in our Student Union Building.

BUY BONDS AND STAMPS NOW!

If American armies decided to "put off" fighting for a week; if our naval forces determined to halt the hunt for enemy submarines until next month — how long would America remain free?

If the producers of armament "just forgot" to turn out guns and tanks and planes; if American generals "didn't have time" to map our campaigns—how long would America remain an independent democracy?

This is a war of minutes; procrastination has become synonymous with perfidy. And yet...

While we can't think of one person who hasn't commented favorably on United States Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps, and who hasn't said "I'm going to start buying Defense Stamps without fail!"—we can think of several people who have "delayed their purchasing," who "won't start buying for a few days," or who had "just forgotten" to buy a Stamp.

We're not writing this because we feel that the students of Centenary believe that V stands for Vacillation. Rather, we want to make plain our assurance that it is vitally important for students to invest their dimes and quarters in the United States as wholeheartedly, as regularly, and as systematically as their parents invest their pay-day dollars.

Wholeheartedly, regularly, and systematically... just as our war is more than one isolated infantry attack; just as it requires much more than one concerted naval drive; and just as it necessitates infinitely more than a single bombing flight—everything we do must be continuous, unflinching, and constant.

There is more to this war than victory; America is fighting not only for today, but for tomorrow... for future peace and for the future good of all peoples. The Bonds and Stamps we buy are not only fighting the war, but fighting for the peace.

Students of American colleges are thinking about this world to come; many of them are fighting for it. We who remain here are talking about it, reading about it, planning for it. We must also help pay for it, just as all Americans must help.

The dimes and quarters we set aside are important to the war effort, yes; but only if they are put aside regularly and systematically. Only if they reflect both the urgency of paying for this war, and the continuous, dynamic philosophy behind it.

Start buying Defense Stamps today. Start buying them regularly. And do not waver from your course.

* CONGLOMERATION *

We wonder if MARY SMITH NEW is going to wake up and realize that JACK COMEGYS is no longer interested.

Just what has become of the HEARNE - THIBODEAUX affair? It seems that OVERDYKE is coming in. HEARNE, are you losing out, or do you care?

ANNE BURNETTE, tell us, are you or aren't you pinned? One day we see it and the next day we don't. If it's true the best of luck to you both.

BETTY GORDON SMITH says that she and MURPH are going steady but from the looks of things we would say that he isn't.

LIL, where does New Orleans fit in your life now that CALHOUN has part of your time occupied?

What is it about this OWENS-FLOURNOY affair? Is it true? They seemed to have been quarreling Saturday night.

We sure are asking lots of questions, but that is the only way you can find out anything—don't you think so?

A hint to DOTTIE and KATIE. Remember, you're in college now, so act like it; cut out this silly stuff!

We hear JANE BARTLETT'S in love with the Marine Corps but you couldn't tell it by the looks she gives other boys.

So JEAN STILES had another new love! This time it's HYLAND NELSON. Why doesn't somebody fall in love with her?

We just can't understand why girls aren't allowed to wear shorts in the gym when the boys are allowed to wear those horrible gym suits. Come on you girls, rebel!

Just who has TOM GRIFFITH picked for his badminton partner? Rumor has it that he has asked three girls—nice going, TOM, but remember it takes only one girl to make a mixed-double team. What's gonna happen to the other two?

ROB WILLIAMSON seems to be slipping. Maybe too many people have heard rubors about New Orleans, could he?

"FIFI GIPSON" went to Baton Rouge last week-end. Just what is there in Baton Rouge, FIFI? Something that Centenary doesn't have?

ROSEMARY NEAL, we hear you met a nice Doctor in Bastrop. What will DON think of this?

STEVIE and JUSTINE, so we hear, stayed by themselves a great deal on the Kollege Kapers tour. What was the trouble, girls?

We often wonder why BILLY MCCOOK doesn't get himself a girl. He is awfully nice.

CILE MILLER, AZALIE WEBB and ELLEN EASTHAM were serenaded by the KA's Monday night. Congratulations to all three of you.

This is all for now, so be careful 'cause we're watching you!

☆ POETRY CORNY! ☆

LYRICS BY JOHN WOODS

CLAUDE BLACKBURN

From France Centenary got Claude,
A girl that I'm sure you'll applaud.
How the boys all pursue 'er,
Rendezvous 'er, and woo 'er,
But they might just as well parlez-vous 'er.

EXPLOSION IN THE CHEM LAB

or

Doggone, Flunked Again!

The Chem. Lab instructions by Ray were misread,
"Doc" Entriokin ducked as a desk missed his head,
He turned to his student, and calmly he said,
"I'm sure you're aware, for it's very well known
That I am not one who is prone to condone Such careless behavior, such queer Goens-on."

LUCRETIA WILSON

I think that's the source of her charms—
The fact that she can smile so,
And look just like De Milo—
A Venus De Milo with arms.

V FOR VOLLMER

From Pennsylvania came Carl, and he knew
That in S'port friends and honors accrue.
So he said, "I'll not shirk,
But I'll work and I'll work."
So he did, and he's now in Who's Who.

MARTHA HART

In every sort of thing you name
She always takes a part,
To one and all she's just the same,
We hope you stay sweet, Hart.

Super-HAM Achée

As Achée's jokes took such a toll,
"Doc" Morehead thought he'd take a poll.
Some said they were pun-ny,
And MIGHT be called funny,
But ALL of them said they were droll.

JIMMIE THIBODEAUX

"Most Popular," a Beauty,
And a member of Cen-Coe,
Getting honors is a hobby,

Practiced by this cute Chi O.

Many titles, many honors,
Such as these, Ann has in tow,
To top that, she's not high hat—
You can go, Ann Thibodeaux!

NOTICE

All members of the Conglomerate Staff will meet in the Commerce Building Monday at Chapel period and every Monday thereafter.

KOLLEGE KAPERS

(Continued from Page One)
asked to select four of the above-mentioned girls for the runoff Tuesday night, and the girl who receives the most votes Tuesday will be named "Miss Centenary Kollege Kapers of 1942."

The winners of the recent popularity contest at Centenary will be presented, as well as beauties from several local schools.

Phone

7-7631

Prices, 9c & 22c—Tax included

FRIDAY and SATURDAY, Mar. 20-21

"SWAMP WATER"
Walter Brennan, Walter Huston,
Dana Andrews, Anne Baxter
Cartoon—Last Chapter "Jungle Girl"
First Chap. "Dick Tracy vs. Crime"

SUN., MON., TUE., March 22-23-24
"SHADOW OF THE THIN MAN"
William Powell-Myrna Loy
Cartoon—News

WED., THURS., MARCH 25-26
"SMILIN' THROUGH"
Jeanette MacDonald-Gene Raymond
Cartoon—Robert Benchley—News

ARE YOU GRADUATING?

If you are it is not too early to shop. Give yourself a treat and look at Jewelry for your graduation? Shop at our store this season for variety, prices in reason, quality and utmost in style

LEONARD'S

320-322 Ward Bldg.

Phone 2-5088

TO THE JUNIORS, NOTICE!

All students who expect to graduate next year (1942-43) either in May or August should come by the Registrar's Office immediately and fill out a card, thereby officially registering as a candidate for degree.

ZETAS TAKE FIRST-AID

All members of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority are attending a first-aid course each Tuesday night at the sorority house. The instructor is Mrs. C. B. Prothro, mother of one of the sorority's prominent members. The Zetas are the first organization on the campus to cooperate in this way with the national defense effort. The course was begun in the hope that other organizations would take similar action.

A newspaper asks this question, "Does advertising pay?" Well, a man we know of placed a 30-cent want ad in the paper for a wife and got married in three days. But the initial cost isn't what counts; it's the upkeep.

FOR VICTORY

BUY
UNITED STATES
DEFENSE
BONDS
STAMPS

WAR NEEDS MONEY!

It will cost money to defeat our enemy aggressors. Your government calls on you to help now.

Buy Defense Bonds or Stamps today. Make every pay day Bond Day by participating in the Pay-roll Savings Plan.

Bonds cost $18.75 and up. Stamps are 10¢, 25¢ and up.

The help of every individual is needed.

Do your part by buying your share every pay day.

CENTENARY

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE
Always 9c & 22c Phone 7-5971

SAT., MARCH 21—Double Feature
"DOWN MEXICO WAY" - Gene Autrey
"SMALL TOWN DEB" - Jane Withers
SERIAL

SUN. and MON., MARCH 22-23
"BLUES IN THE NIGHT"
Richard Wharf-Priscilla Lane
Selected Short—Cartoon—News

TUESDAY, MARCH 24
"THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER"
Nelson Eddy—Rise Stevens
Sportscope—Passing Parade

WED., THUR., FRI., March 25-26-27
"LOUISIANA PURCHASE"
Bob Hope
Popeye Cartoon

For more than
just a Haircut
we recommend

CENTENARY
BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.

L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

BIDDIE BODDIE, KOLLEGE KAPERS KANARY

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal.

Badminton and Table Tennis Competition Begins Mar. 19

With the conclusion of volley ball this past week, which found the Freshman boys and the Sophomore girls victorious, Centenary's intramural athletes turned to other fields. Various class representatives met Monday afternoon in the gym and it was decided that play in ping-pong and badminton would begin March 19.

There has been a great deal of interest in these sports throughout the school year, and competition is certain to be keen.

Several good celluloid pellet-pounders have been seen in action at the Sub. Billy McCook, a member of the student body last year, has returned to the fold since mid-term, and is a favorite to give the Sophomores the singles championship. He and Tom Griffith will very likely take the doubles title unless someone of unexpected ability turns up. Competition in the doubles should be furnished by the Junior team of "Hutch" Phillips and "Bob" Raley, and good singles entrants include Phillips, J. L. Soloman, and Raley, all Juniors, and Bobby Clark, a steady Freshman who seems sure to make lots of trouble for someone.

The girls promise to produce some splendid exhibitions also, with Ruth Woodard, a mid-semester entrant, and K. J. Blanpied, another Freshman, showing the way.

Badminton seems sure to be as hotly contested as ping-pong. Tom Griffith, Joe Stephens, J. L. Soloman and Billy McCook can be seen almost daily at the gym, and Griffith looks like a good bet to carry off singles honors.

Azalie Webb appears outstanding among the girl badminton entrants, but spirited competition should come from Sister Peyton, Lucille Webb, and a host of others.

Freshman Boys Win Volley Ball Tourney

A surprise was furnished when the Freshman boys downed the Sophomores in the final round of the volley ball tournament last Monday afternoon. Although the Sophomores were highly favored to win, the Freshman team won handily in two straight games. The reason for the Sophomore defeat may be found in the fact that they did not employ the offensive that had stood them in such good stead and were content to remain on the defensive.

David Carlton starred for the winners, making many placements by taking advantage of his long reach. Bobby Lindsay and Roy Lyons also played a consistently good game. Many of the spectators including Coach Hanna agreed that it was one of the best volley ball games that they had ever witnessed.

The winning team consisted of Bobby Lindsay, Roy Lyons, Warren Tison, David Carlton, Edward Glover, Hyland Nelson, Jerald Cureton, and James Dixon.

Madam Ray, Palmist, Talks to Psi Delta Chi

Madam Ray, local palmist, addressed Psi Delta Chi last Thursday, giving the group many intimate facts concerning her profession. Much of the information was confidential and intensely interesting. Her services were secured through the kindness of Ashley Sibley, Jr., graduate student. Mrs. Topper's palm was read, and it was rumored that Dr. Topper was very interested in the findings.

Several others had their palms read. Looking at John Woods' palm, she declared, "You will have many romances, and, Oh Lord, the wives!" His face took on the appearance of the setting sun, and he was visibly embarrassed.

It was decided that the executive committee, composed of officers of the club, would meet at an early date to revise the constitution.

Centenary Band Plans For the Spring Season

The Centenary Band is gradually working toward a fine concert to be given in the very near future. Three rehearsals are held each week—two with the complete band and one a sectional rehearsal.

The numbers being worked on are mostly familiar ones, some of them being "Memories of Stephen Foster," Finale to the "New World Symphony" by Anton Dvorak, "Finlandia" by Sibelius, as well as some snappy marches and popular numbers.

The members of the band would like to take a spring tour similar to that of Kapers and if at all possible such a trip will be made.

One hundred four of the first 119 colleges established in the United States had a Christian church origin.

Maroon Jackets for Coming Year Announced

The Maroon Jackets announced last Thursday the election of the 12 new members to serve as official hostesses of the college in the coming year.

Election of the Maroon Jackets takes place annually and is one of the major interests on the campus. The three outstanding girls from each sorority and the non-sorority group are nominated for membership. Mrs. A. R. Campbell serves as sponsor of the organization.

The new members are: Zeta Tau Alpha, Gerry Baird, Mary Foster Peyton, and Azalie Webb; Alpha Xi Delta, Jean Gibson, Martha Hart and Kathryn Moreneaux; Chi Omega, Rob Williamson, Jimmye Thibodeaux and Betty Gordon Smith; Aufait, Kathryn Hooper and Jeanette Craber. The third member from Aufait will be announced later. The new alternates for the Maroon Jackets are Camille Hendrick, Sidney Skinner, Jeanne Maynard and Aline Breithaupt.

Graduating members are: Helen Dwire, LaRue Powell, Margaret Williams, Ann Burnette, Peg Hawkins, Elise Montgomery, Lou Dell Liston, Dorothy Durr, Biddie Boddie and Mary Alice Shores.

PAN-HELLENIC ENTERTAINS

Thursday at the Zephyr Room the active Pan-Hellenic members entertained the graduate members with a luncheon.

In the center of the luncheon table was a bowl of artistically arranged blossoms. The spring motif was further carried out in the place cards marking each member's place.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomec Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
John Woods, President.....2-8296
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Foster Philyaw, President.....7-2554
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)

Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Buddy Kinnebrew, Head
Cheerleader.....7-2554

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Jimmy Harris, President.....2-4208
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chptr.
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Bill Wellborn, President.....2-1667

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
Martha Hart, President.....7-7430
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Gerry Baird, President.....7-9605
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
Lou Dell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

GILBERT HETHERWICK

We believe Gilbert Hetherwick's life at Centenary has been ideal in many ways. First, we say it has been a model scholastically. Throughout his entire high school and college careers Gilbert has been second to none in scholarship. Many of you remember that he was valedictorian at Byrd in a class of five hundred, and that at Centenary he has been president of both the freshman and junior scholastic fraternities.

Gilbert has an ideal character. His personality, his winning smile, his good sportsmanship have made him exceedingly popular at Centenary. As proof of his personality we need only remind you that he is president of the student body, Kappa Alpha, Alpha Chi, former president of the freshman and junior classes, and so forth.

Gilbert is very versatile. He is one of the best pianists in the school, he has been editor of the Conglomerate, he is an excellent ping-pong player, dancer, and amateur photographer.

We cannot help but think that a person of Gilbert's ability will go far in the game of life—farther perhaps than most people. So, good luck, Bert! And we should like to thank you for the excellent job you did in editing The Conglomerate.

Fire Insurance

A colored lady walked into an insurance office and asked: "Does you-all sell fire insurance?" and the clerk said: "Yes, what do you want to insure?" "Mah husband," she said. "Then it's life insurance you want," said the clerk. The colored lady said, "No, sah, my husband has been fired six times in the last month and Ah sho' don't want it to happen again."

A 12,000 volume library including many classics in German, history, philosophy and literature has been bequeathed to the University of Wisconsin by the late George Wild.

Colorado university's enrollment last semester was 4,053, of whom 2,564 were men.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

After seeing Varsity-Town's DRAPERTOWN he can't think of anything else

It's easy to see that the artist has style on his easel as well as on his mind . . . so, how can he concentrate on an undraped model when he is thinking about America's No. 1 drape model — "DRAPER-TOWN"? About all our brush stroke report can do here is tell you it has casualness and ease . . . that it's a "drape" masterpiece by Varsity-Town.

Varsity Town $27⁵⁰
Suits 27^{up}

M. LEVY CO.
Shreveport Since 1857

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS

LOUISIANA

GAS

COMPANY

Please do not say "Remember Pearl Harbor" to MARTHA LEWIS.

HUTCH, we think you can have most any girl on the campus, so give the lucky girl a break.

It looks like that adorable MARTHA BRASWELL is free again, so—now is your chance, boys.

BROWNIE JOHNSON, we see you aren't dating—aren't the girls good enough for you?

DO YOU KNOW YOUR COLLEGE NICKNAMES?

Smithy—Mary Smith New.
Happy—Ray Tredwell.
Susie—Felice Hicks.
Tootie Fruitie—Jessica Harris.
Pete—Wade Peters.
Duck—Marlin Drake.
Spanky—Francis Spangler.

SONGS AND PEOPLE

"Hot Lips"—Mary Earl Texada.
"Careless"—Susie Mulkey.
"Deep in the Heart of Texas"—Mary Smith New.
"Dancing in the Dark"—Margaret Haggard.
"I've Got It Bad"—Azalie Webb.
"Everything I Love"—Dottie Graham.
"Happy in Love"—Martha Lewis.

CHI OMEGA PICNIC

The Chi Omegas honored their new members and their dates with a picnic at the Texaco Club last Tuesday night, March 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Jeter were co-host and co-hostess. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace.

The Collegiate Review

Six hundred clerical employees of FBI are studying at Washington colleges and universities in their off hours.

Three rare volumes published in 1700 have been donated recently to the Washington State college library.

Three University of Texas art professors are painting postoffice murals for the federal government.

Five of Louisiana State university's correspondence students are getting their questions and grades by foreign mail.

Dr. Bertha E. Stokes, Tulane university graduate, is the first woman county health officer in the history of Alabama.

A. J. Olson, University of Minnesota regent, has been elected president of the National Association of Governing Boards of State Universities.

Evidence that dreams in children may occur before development of speech is reported by Dr. Milton H. Erickson, assistant professor of psychiatry at Wayne university.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803
Youree

Mrs. Sara
Tully

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

Love on the Parking Lot—Frances Oden and Jarvis Waller! Wish we had a little green Ford.

All has been too quiet on the SCOTT front—wonder what he has up his sleeve?

JESSICA "Little Theatre" HARRIS can fairly go! JOHN LOWE seems to think so, too.

We wonder where that sweet BEVERLY LEBLANC has been keeping herself?

Could it be that CAROLYN CLAY is still carrying the "torch" for a certain Shreveport boy who goes to Tulane?

JACK COMEGYS and BILL PATTON must have been trying to impress someone with that shoe-shine they got in front of the Strand Theatre the other night—who was it, boys?

Another triangle affair—STEVENS, CASTANEDO and HAMNER. Could it be that the third party is falling out—who? STEVENS.

KOLONIAL ITTY AT OR DORM AMES ISH IRT

Another Blue Monday has blown around—and we do mean blown! Gaunt branches scrape against the window, the wind howls and the disgruntled kitty katts are sharpening their claws. Everybody is in a BAD mood—except Margo. She's happy! Somebody kick her teeth in—

Betty Gordon and Carolyn are raging—they just had a date night counted because they played bridge in the date room!! Grrr—

Dormitory pet peeves: the dirty, lukewarm water in the fountain—the federal and state law-breakers who serve us oleomargarine in the dining hall!—no light bulb in the second meditation parlor upstairs!—getting gyped out of ten minutes of our date when the porch lights go off early and we break our necks to get in on time—town girls who come in and drink up our meager weekly supply of cocolas!—dates who are late—dates who squawk when we are late!—people who leave their lights on when they drive into the parking lot!—people who borrow things and can't remember where they got them (it says here)—Do you want to hear about some dirt now?

Just look under any bed in the dormitory!

Why does Coburn keep telling us those jokes and then saying she doesn't get them?

Certainly was a wet night Saturday during the Revelers' Dance—it rained too.

Wonder how Betty Mae Coburn felt when she came back this weekend to find all her old "buddy-buds" taken? Never mind, Betty Mae—it wouldn't be that way if you were here.

Familiar sights: Eastham and Stevens racing around with "Reddy Kilowatt"—Junior Davis waiting—that little red "Empty" sign on the coke machine—

Familiar noises: Lil Turner slap-slapping around the hall—she should change her gait! Horsy, aren't we?—the maid banging on the door at the crack of dawn with "Oh, I didn't know you were still asleep!"—Emilie Anne with her Belcher drawl: "Do you-all wanta play bridge?"—

We are all mighty proud of our Fifi Gibson—the new Pan-Hellenic president.

And have you heard about our coal-black kitty? She's Miss Marguerite Haggard, Centenary's Blackout Queen!

Norman Walker and Tyler Pirtle were up on the second floor Sunday afternoon helping Patsy move out—some of the dorm lasses were rather startled, to say the least!

Poor Sabine Corrone! He has to endure three serenades daily—"through the dark of night I gotta—ETC."

Well—at last! It's not Blue Monday any more but Indigo Tuesday—Ho-hum—guess we'll say goodnight—

Koloniol Kitty Katt.

The gent tottered along the curb and several times stumbled off into the gutter. Each time he clambered on the sidewalk. He did this for several minutes, finally stopping and exclaiming, "Thish is a pretty long stairway."

Blank Verse

She couldn't dance, but gosh! how she could intermission!

More Pleasure for You

There's satisfaction in knowing that the 6½¢ revenue tax you pay on every pack of twenty cigarettes is doing its bit for Uncle Sam

And, when you buy Chesterfields, you have the satisfaction of knowing you are getting a superior blend of the world's best cigarette tobaccos. This famous blend gives you a smoke that is definitely MILDER, far COOLER and lots BETTER-TASTING. Make your next pack Chesterfields.

You can't buy a better cigarette.

FIRST TO FIGHT is the motto of the U. S. Marines. FIRST for a Milder, Better-Tasting smoke is Chesterfield.

PATRIOTIC WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS are doing a real job on the home front in our fight for the American way of life.

MORE ARMS for AMERICA

We Pay More Than
$2,000,000 A WEEK
into the U. S. Treasury for the Tax Stamps
necessary for one week's output of Chesterfields

Here's what this would buy
for defense in one year:
2,080 SMALL TORPEDO BOATS
or
5,200 37-mm. ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS
or
1,300,000 GARAND RIFLES

BUY U. S. DEFENSE BONDS AND STAMPS TODAY

SAFELY BACK from a raid or dog-fight, it's happy landing for our air fighters when they light up and enjoy the cigarette that Satisfies.

ON THE NATION'S FRONT

It's Chesterfield

Copyright 1942, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, March 27, 1942.

Number 22

FORECAST

The Kollege Kapers year is over now, except for a post-season show at Barksdale for the soldiers. This was a successful year for the group in spite of the troubles encountered because of the tire shortage.

We sometimes wonder if many of the students realize what the varieties show does for Centenary. More, probably, than any other organization on the campus, this group advertises Centenary College to people who might not be reached in any other way.

In all the towns in which the show gives its annual performance the occasion is looked forward to by all the townspeople as something they should not miss; and very few of them do miss it, judging by the overflow crowds attending each show. These people associate the fine shows presented every year with the school itself, and many, when contemplating sending the family heir to receive a college education, think of Centenary. This type of association never hurt any school.

So, more power to these Centenary ambassadors of good-will and their able director. They have a very definite part in the Centenary program, and because of the friendships for Centenary that the shows encourage and form every year, full cooperation should be given by the school authorities whenever it is needed. With the curtailment of the intercollegiate athletic program, Kollege Kapers is another activity to which the students can give their support formerly accorded the athletic teams.

Recent Graduate Honored

Charles Knight, graduate of last year, was recently elected treasurer of Phi Chi, medical fraternity at Tulane, for next year. It is the custom of the fraternity to elect a member who will be a sophomore during his year in office and Knight was the student so honored.

YONCOPIN SPONSOR CONTEST RULES

The following rules apply to the 1942 Yoncopin Sponsor Contest

1. The contestants must be the representatives appointed by each women's organization on the campus, each organization to have one nominee.
2. To be eligible, each representative or her proxy, must be present at an IMPORTANT meeting to be held in the Commerce Building at 10:00 a.m., Friday, March 27, 1942. There will be no exceptions to this rule.
3. The exact date of the beginning of the contest will be announced at this meeting by Donn Thompson, business manager of the Yoncopin.
4. The length of the contest will be determined by the progress of the candidates, and all money, receipts, and advertising contracts must be turned over to the business manager of the Yoncopin at the publications office not later than 3:00 p.m., of the day the contest closes. A representative of each candidate may be present when the contest committee counts the votes. Each candidate's receipts, money, and contracts will be checked, and any receipts or contracts not made out according to instructions will be thrown out. All other necessary information will be furnished the candidates on Friday, March 27.
5. Votes will be given for the following:
 - a. Sale of the Yoncopin—450 votes.
 - b. Padded cover—75 votes.
 - c. Orders for name engraved on Yoncopin—50 votes.
 - d. Name and fraternity engraved—65 votes.
 - e. Sale of advertising in the yearbook—100 votes for each dollar of advertising paid.
 - f. For names to appear in special recognition page—100 votes.
6. If the votes turned in are to be counted, the following instructions in making sales must be pursued:
 - a. Collect $2.50 cash on each Yoncopin sold. Write out receipt and stub and return with the money when contest closes. Write in the amount due on the back of the receipt and have the buyer sign his name.
 - b. No deposit is required on padded covers, if buyer is on approved list.
 - c. Collect cash on each order for engraving of name.
 - d. Turn in signed contracts for advertising sold, together with copy to appear in advertisement.
 - e. The management reserves the right to issue supplementary rules and regulations at any time before the contest opens.

Yoncopin Sponsor Contest Announced

Kollege Kapers Closes 1942 Season

MAY QUEEN

LOU DELL LISTON

LOU DELL LISTON TO BE MAY QUEEN OF ANNUAL FETE

In a special student assembly held Friday Lou Dell Liston was elected May Queen by the students. She will preside at the annual May Fete held by the Women's Athletic Association of Centenary.

Included in the Queen's court will be the other candidates for the title of Queen. Anne Robinson will be Maid of Honor, and Elise Montgomery and Ouida Harris will be the maids in court.

The May celebration of the WAA is always an outstanding event of the school year, and this year's edition is expected to be as colorful as any of previous years.

W.A.A. STUNT NIGHT

Time: April 1

Place: Music Hall

AUDIENCE NAMES

BIDDIE BODDIE AS 1942 MISS KAPERS

Final Home Performance Given Tuesday Night at Byrd High Auditorium

With two excellent performances Monday and Tuesday nights at the Byrd High School auditorium before capacity crowds, the 1942 edition of the Centenary varieties show, Kollege Kapers brought one of its most successful years to a close. Climaxing the home shows was the election of a Miss Centenary Kollege Kapers by the audience.

The Misses Mabel Boddie, Jean Evans, Mary Smith New, and Rosemary Neal were the four girls selected by the audience the first night, and Miss Boddie was named Miss Kollege Kapers Tuesday night.

In addition to the presentation of Miss Kollege Kapers, Harriet Crawford, chosen Miss Centenary by Mr. J. H. Bracker, was introduced, as well as Marguerite Haggard, Miss Blackout.

The Centenary popularity contest winners, Gilbert Hetherwick, Felice Hicks, Camp Flournoy, Jimmie Thibodeaux, Bill Graham, Jimmie Brown, Azalie Webb, and Tom Griffith were also presented.

Then all the beauties from Byrd and Fair Park High Schools were introduced to the audience.

The Kapers show this year was more of the Hellzapoppin type with the many gags pulled from the audience by George Hearne and associates.

All of the numbers were well received by the home crowd.

Among the soloists were Cleo Christiansen and her flute, Sam Swor and his trumpet, G. L. Blaxton and his piano, C. H. Vandegaer and his guitar, and Subino Corrone and his bull fiddle.

The vocalists included the college choir, Cheesy Voran, Jean Evans, Biddie Boddie, C. W. Williams, Martha Stephens, Justine Holmes, Cleo Christiansen, and Gladys Tippet.

A highlight of the show was a skit written by Mr. Wallace of the geology department.

As is the custom, the seniors of the cast were presented gifts from the company as the final thing on the program. Mr. Voran and Dr. Morehead were also given gifts from the cast.

A final post-season performance will be given next Tuesday at Barksdale Field for the soldiers.

Alpha Xi's To Have Province Convention Here on April 24-26

Centenary's chapter of Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma, is to be host to the biennial convention of Province Nine. Other college chapters in this province are Alpha Zeta at University of Oklahoma, Beta Iota at Louisiana State University, and Beta Alpha at the University of Texas.

Attending will be members of these chapters and of the various alumnae clubs and chapters.

MAID OF HONOR

ANN ROBINSON

Alpha Chi Names Officers For Year

The Centenary chapter of Alpha Chi, Junior-Senior scholastic society held its annual election last Tuesday at noon in Dr. Ford's room. The officers elected were president, Joe Stephens; vice-president, Carolyn Lunney; recording secretary, John Woods; correspond secretary, Jack Elgin, and treasurer, Leroy Scott.

During the meeting the Alpha Chi "Outstanding Freshman" award was discussed. The award is given to the freshman who is outstanding primarily in the scholastic field. The secondary consideration is the candidate's participation in extra-curricular activities.

STUNT NIGHT APRIL 1

Annually on April 1 the Woman's Athletic Association sponsors a benefit stunt night. Each fraternity, sorority and non-Greek group is asked to prepare and present a skit. Faculty members act as judges and the winning group is presented with a tin cup filled with Hershey kisses. The admission is a dime per person.

STUDENT CODE OVERWHELMINGLY ACCEPTED BY ¾ OF STUDENT BODY

In the regular student assembly meeting Wednesday at 10 o'clock, the students of Centenary overwhelmingly cooperated with the new Student Senate project, sometimes called the Student Code.

The purposes and various facts about the Senate proposal were explained by Gilbert Hetherwick, Senate president, who stated that there was to be no attempt to force anyone to agree to something with which they were not in sympathy, and that the signatures to the pledge cards were not compulsory; however, he added that the Senate, in enforcing the code, would work on the assumption that all had agreed to the one provision stated on the cards, which is that the student agrees to refrain from receiving or giving aid on tests. That would mean that all students, whether they have promised to adhere to that one provision or not would be held responsible should they violate it.

The plan as presented by the

VICTORY BOND AWARDED 1st PRIZE WINNER

Victory Stamps To Be Presented To Second and Third Place Winners

The annual Yoncopin sponsor contest will begin soon, according to an announcement by Donn Thompson, business manager. All entrants will meet today to get instructions.

The prizes this year are somewhat different, keeping in step with the times. To the winner and sponsor of the 1942 Yoncopin will go a $75 U. S. Victory Bond. The second-placer will receive $15 in Victory Stamps. An added attraction this year is the ward of $7.50 in Victory Stamps to the individual girl selling the most dollars worth of ads and signatures. Also $7.50 in Victory Stamps will be given to the individual girl selling the most dollars worth of padded covers and engraved names.

As usual, the young lady at Centenary who aids the Yoncopin staff most in securing advertising will be named the sponsor of the 1942 Yoncopin and will receive special recognition in this year's annual, now being prepared for the presses. To the sorority whom the sponsor represents will go a handsome silver ornamental plaque. Last year the Zeta Tau Alphas took permanent possession of the sponsor cup by virtue of winning it for three consecutive years. Hence the new plaque.

The contest, conducted annually since 1931 by the Yoncopin, is judged on the basis of votes received by the sale of yearbooks, advertising in the yearbook, and engraving of names, and fraternities on the book.

The entire race will be under the direction of Donn Thompson, business manager of the Yoncopin; Bill Graham, editor, and Prof. Robert S. See, faculty publications director. The rules for the contest will be found in this issue of the Conglomerate.

Senate is nothing new, because the same ruling regarding dishonesty on tests has been in effect here since the founding of the school. The only thing that the code will do is get the cooperation of the students behind an attempt to prevent such activity, and place more of the responsibility for enforcement in the hands of the students themselves.

The response of the students was encouraging from every standpoint, and nearly 350 names have already been signed to the cards, which would mean that three-fourths of the students have agreed to cooperate. It is expected that the remaining students, most of whom are seniors and would not be affected by the plan anyway, will join the rest of the school in the project very soon.

If you have not joined the student movement, ask a Student Senate member for a card that you can sign.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

Member

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

JOE STEPHENS, Editor

Managing Editor.....Roland Achee
Associate Editor.....Mary Foster Peyton
Poetry Editor.....John Woods
Sports Editor.....Arthur Herold
News Editor.....Patricia Harper
Campus Editor.....Ellen Eastham
Feature Editor.....Barbara Harris
Social Editor.....Mabel Boddie
Circulation Manager.....Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Jake Cullick, Margaret Owens, Nan Dobson, Ethel Kramer, Buddy Stroud, Margaret Eubank, Bill Keenan, Marie Wolf, Carolyn Lunny, Katy Castaneda, Lester Moore, Dottie Graham, Peggy O'Neill, Clint Teacle, Claude Blackburn, Betty Blaxton, Horace Alvord, Mary Smith New, Billy Booth, Bob Eatman, Charlotte Newsom, E. W. Harris, Mickey McCutchen, Leroy Scott, Jessica Harris, Lucille Webb, Carolyn Canon.

Student Government

As we have said many times the government by the students at Centenary has had many advances this year, largely by reason of the many appointments of students to faculty committees. Now with the Student Code safely installed with such a huge majority (well over three fourths) the position of this government takes on a new aspect. It is really taking on the form of a true government now, rather than the old system in which it just existed.

Now that this new responsibility has been added to the Senate, the individual members of that Senate must each assume his share of this responsibility. The Senate is an important part of the system here at Centenary, and membership in that body should be looked upon by the member as something more than just another honorary position which will get his or her name in the Yearbook.

All the students here at Centenary look to the Student Senate for leadership in student matters; and that leadership cannot be forthcoming if those students delegated by their fellows do not work together as a unit for the welfare of the entire school and not with eyes solely for the benefit which some single organization may derive because of some suggested project.

Another requisite to a real government by the Senate, is the actual interest of every member in the Senate program. However, mere interest is not enough; it requires full cooperation for anything to be a success; and the primary quality of cooperation is prompt attendance at every meeting. Of course, there are some things that might interfere with attendance, but there should be very few matters which should take precedence over active membership in the Senate.

In our opinion, absence on the part of students named to represent their fellow students, and upon whom those fellow students are depending for that representation is inexcusable, and should be followed by expulsion from the organization.

G. H.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Nothing seems right except to commence this column by telling GEORGIA ELLA TILL how happy we are for her sporting that sparkler . . . Congratulations to JIMMY DEAN.

And this word congratulations should also be sent to that killer-diller JOHNS for pinning cute ANN.

Cases Nobody Can Understand: The AZALIE-SOLLY setup . . . W. C. YANCEY alone . . . Why we have to take up a collection for ERNEST CARTER to get a haircut . . . STEVIE wanting HARNER as long as she can't have him . . . JESSICA and JUSTINE never get in a hurry . . . why WALTER FULTON doesn't give the gals a chance . . . But guess it's their own business.

Frequent sights in the Sub . . . CAROLYN CLAY trying to attract attention . . . BILL and JIMMYE looking just as well as ever together . . . MARGO cussing or discussing . . . DAVID WHITE and her . . . SMITTY leaning on a different boy . . . ROSIE and DONN . . . Cute KATHRYN MORENEAUX still thinking only of GWIN . . . PATTON being called "Miss" . . . Well, yes, you are right, she has a name.

PETE looks just as sleepy this year and we don't see why the yearbook doesn't sweat him again this year.

CILE SANFORD is the cute red-head like she always has been . . . sure, she'll always have some smart . . . and we mean smart.

PATSY HARPER is a mighty young and sweet girl and she seemed to have been doing okay at the Lambda Chi dance . . . cleverest of decorations, boys . . . nice going.

With exams and comprehensives on everybody is kinda hibernating but soon there'll be some good snooping going on.

Domph-atic Secretary

Radio fans of Columbia network's "Amos 'n Andy" series have long suspected that the great lover was not too smart. Well, here's the proof. This is Miss Blue—and Andy passed her up after indulging a brief passing fancy. When Miss Blue isn't buzzing Andy she is lovely Madaline Lee, one of radio's most talented actresses.

Letters to The Editor

Communique No. 1

Dear Centenary Coeds:

It pains me deeply to see all the sweet little things at Centenary missing so much.

Time and time again I have noticed the erstwhile Centenary swain trying to break through the icy screen set up by you charming young ladies, only to find the brakes were set against him. The majority of you have seemingly isolated yourselves with a minority group of Centenary males, that represent neither the underlying life nor the true feeling of the real Centenary Gentleman.

As a natural observer with a biased and prejudiced opinion, I pass you this advice. Thaw out, look around, and be democratic. As a parting reminder let me quote my illustrious father, Nick Confucious Kopopoulos; quote, "when the weather gets cold, the birds fly south, and when the crows get too thick, it's time to kill two birds with one stone," unquote. In other words, you can lead a horse to water but you can't make him wash his feet.

Yours for a nominal fee,
John Kopopoulos.

Uncle Boykin's Philosophy

Now all these here politicians an' sech is tryin' to fathom the pinnacle of woman in this worl'.

Read yo' Bible, brethren. Gawd done made woman out of the rib of man. He didn't take a bone from his head, for her to boss him; nor from his foot, so as she could tromp on him; but one of them floatin' bones near 'bout his stomach, so's she could feed him.

An' brethren, if more men courted their wives in the kitchen, 'stead of the parlor, this here divorce epidemic could of been squelched long ago.

E. M. McKellar.

Zetas Keep Order Patriotically

The Beta Iota Zetas have a new method of keeping order. The girls recently bought a Defense Stamp book and have begun collecting defense stamps fines for absence, tardiness, and talking. In this way the girls' naturally talkative nature is turned against the arch-enemy, Hitler. We ask—what chance has Adolf now?

About These SHORTS . . .

or,

The saddest words of tongue or pen
Are these, "disillusioned men."

And she said unto us in the last Forecast column, quoth she:

"I can truthfully say that the girls couldn't look any worse than the boys do in their uniforms."

Now, girls, that hurts. Take our money, lead us on till something better comes along, don't laugh at our jokes, or anything, but don't make light of these manly physiques!

And all this time we have been living in a fool's paradise. Ah, the pain of brutal truth which breaks the full light of realization before our tear-swept eyes. True, true, too true, are the immortal lines, "Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise."

Gone are the happy, carefree days of yesteryear, when each unto himself had held the secret joy that in the palpitating hearts of all the maidens arose lingering thoughts of Adonis, Atlas, and the other lads, upon the sight of those unclad though slightly bewhiskered gams. Oh, alas! for the joyous childhood innocence, when to each man was given the comforting knowledge that he and he alone was the epitome of all that was masculine.

No, let not this rude awakening be!

But, too late, alas, too late. Out of our sheltered, happy lives we have been mercilessly thrust, for a pitiless maid has ruthlessly thrown to an enlightened world the truth, bitter truth, cruel truth, cold, calculating truth!

So, now, in all the splendor of their unrivalled underpins, the weaker ones will charge upon the courts to dazzle us poor mortals with the glory of the feminine knee. Incomparable is the word for them. Glorious in their alabaster whiteness, they, each of them putting Atlanta to shame, will show to the world that they "couldn't look any worse than the boys do in their uniforms."

Well, men, our fondest hopes are shattered, cruel truth must have its way. But, let us not adopt a vindictive attitude, and destroy the idle dreams and illusions of the ladies. Perhaps if we don't tell them, they will go through life actually believing that most of them don't look just as sorry as we do in shorts.

Chi Sigma Nu Fraternity Has Luncheon This Week

The members of Chi Sigma Nu, educational fraternity of Centenary, entertained with a luncheon in the Zeta lodge on the campus.

Those enjoying the occasion were Miss Myrian Holloway, Miss Bobbye Wilson, Miss Frances Kizer, Edgar Burks, Dr. A. J. Middlebrooks, Carl Tatum, Miss Lou Dell Liston, Miss Lillian Gibson, Mrs. W. G. Lawless, Miss Mary Alice Nash, Miss Virginia Rose Kramer, Miss Ethel Kramer, Jerry Renov, and Miss Margaret Owens.

ARE YOU GRADUATING?

If you are it is not too early to shop. Give yourself a treat and look at Jewelry for your graduation? Shop at our store this season for variety, prices in reason, quality and utmost in style

LEONARD'S
320-322 Ward Bldg.
Phone 2-5088

Centenary Students 'Keep 'Em Flying'

Centenary College, working in coordination with Badgett Flying School, has proved to be the third ranking C.A.A. flying school in the U. S. A.

Since the outbreak of the war Centenary's students have taken a new determination to fly day in and day out and have readily adopted the U. S. Army Air Corps slogan, "Keep 'em flying." Several Centenary athletes are flying in the C.A.A. and each love it more every day.

A few expressions from Centenary athletes:

Harry Varner: "Flying is the greatest and most thrilling thing that I have ever undertaken and I love it."

"Lefty" Hardin: "Anyone that gets a spin in a Ryan gets a spin more than a girl can give you. Flying is tops and sorta gets in your blood."

Tom Griffith: "Flying upside down is something to talk about; just try it and flying will be simplified. Flying is my ambition."

Bob "Ace" Raley: "This world isn't so bad when you are not in the draft and are flying here at Centenary. I'll take a P-40 instead of a rifle-foot-drill."

Nick Elina: "I eat flying, sleep flying, dream flying and talk flying when 'Lefty' will talk to me. It is the mots thrilling thing in the world."

Four instructors are former Centenary College students. They are Robert "Mortimer" Majors, Malcolm Robinson, Jere Overdyke, and Gracen Scott.

Miss Margaret Chamberlain, a former Centenary student and Zeta Tau Alpha, is secretary of the Badgett flying school and deserves credit for the success of the school.

Bill Bailey is carrying on the family tradition by being a great flyer, as Bill's father was a lieutenant in World War I and proved to be an "ace."

Al Richardson, Dykes Leabo, Floyd Earnest, and Tyler Pirtle are trying the skies for the first time. Francis "Wrong-way Corrigan" Eltife just missed the draft by one-half inch but is doing snap rolls and lazy eights in flying now.

Students who have just completed the advanced flying are: Al Hughes, Barron Johns, Pope Oden, Toby Adair and Luther "Lefty" Hardin.

Mrs. Campbell Hostess

Mrs. A. R. Campbell was hostess to the Maroon Jackets of Centenary at a dinner party Wednesday evening in her home.

Tiny maroon umbrellas marked the places of the following guests: Miss Lou Dell Liston, Miss Biddie Boddie, Miss Ann Burnette, Miss Helen Dwire, Miss Ann Robinson, Miss Peg Hawkins, Miss Jimmie Thibodeaux, Miss Rob Williamson, Miss LaRue Powell, Miss Peg Williams, Miss Dorothy Durr, Miss Ethel Cady, Miss Elise Montgomery, and the hostess, Mrs. Campbell.

For more than
just a Haircut
we recommend

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.

L. H. Appfel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

INTERMURAL SPORTS

Play began in earnest last week in the intermural badminton and ping-pong as the weeding out process began in the separate classes. Under the present intermural system, the four students from each class who reach the semi-finals in each sport qualify for the championship event, and those groups that had not reached the semi-finals by Wednesday were forfeited.

Coach Hanna and Mrs. Davidson are quite serious about making a success of these events, and of the whole program, and are to be commended for such a successful start. Let's all stay behind them, and take advantage of our only chance of competitive sport on this campus, at least for the present.

In closing, a word of warning to intermural managers, to wit: Coach Hanna has announced that intermural playground ball (soft-ball to you) will start April 2, so before this sheet appears again, the first of the round-robin series will have been completed, and boys stiff from a winter of loafing do not play good ball.

Results of the badminton and ping-pong so far completed include:

BADMINTON

FRESHMAN BOYS: Ellis and James beat Mims and Dixon 15-3; 15-10. Day and Langford beat Kincannon and Hardin 15-9; 11-15; 15-9.

SOPHOMORE BOYS: Cotton Robins beat Scuddy Roussel 16-18; 15-9; 15-11.

JUNIOR BOYS: J. L. Solomon beat Leroy Scott 15-12; 10-15; 15-5. Ben Long beat Jack Elgin 17-15; 9-15; 15-11. "Hutch" Phillips beat Arthur Herold 15-6; 15-0.

SENIOR BOYS: Guy Feducia beat Phil Clifton 15-12; 10-15; 15-4.

FRESHMAN GIRLS: New beat Fullilove 11-7; 7-11; 14-12. Woodard beat Blaxton 16-13; 11-5.

MISS CENTENARY KOLLEGE KAPERS

MABEL BODDIE

Lieber beat Freedman 15-12; 11-5.

Oxford and Humphrey beat New and Tinnin 12-15; 15-13; 15-3.

McKee and Blaxton beat Leiber and Freedman 12-14; 15-8; 15-8.

SOPHOMORE GIRLS: M. & A. Trosclair beat Flowers and Babin 15-13; 15-12.

JUNIOR GIRLS: Webb beat Thibodeaux 11-1; 11-2.

Peyton beat Tippet 11-2; 11-1.

Dickson beat Styles 15-6; 11-6.

PING PONG

SOPHOMORE BOYS: McClellan beat Kesilman. McCook beat Brown 21-14; 16-21; 21-17.

Vandegaer beat Griffith 21-15; 12-21; 21-15.

Raley beat Elgin 21-10; 19-21; 21-12.

Keenan beat Dienst 16-21! 21-14; 21-15; and Herold 15-21; 35-33; 21-12.

Phillips beat Hamner 21-15; 21-12.

Solomon beat Scott 21-15; 21-17.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Wedding Bells Ring For Former Studes

Last week saw the marriage of five former Centenary students—four of whom were girls, and one boy. Peggy Fendly, popular vocalist of last year's Kapers, became Mrs. Glenn Valentine Wilson; Duane Webster was wed to Mr. Sedric (Shack) Wilson; Marion Covington became the bride of Lt. A. Morrell of Kaye Field, Columbus, Miss.

Joanna Glassell was the only one who married a former student from Centenary—Mal McIlwain. It is interesting to remember that both Joanna and Mal were cheerleaders, though at different times. Mal was master of ceremonies of Kapers last year and is now a lieutenant of Kaye Field.

Unfortunately, these four couples will make their homes in other cities, but we would like to take this opportunity to wish them all much happiness, luck and success.

Flournoy: Say, I think I have been kidnapped.

Margo: How come?

Flournoy: Well, when I went into the house a while ago, I looked in my bed and I was gone.

Coburn: Of course, I wouldn't say anything about her unless I could say something good. But, oh boy! is this good!

Man is just an irrational creature who expects home atmosphere around a hotel, and hotel service around home.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

"Are you a college man?"

"No, a horse stepped on my hat."

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomec Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
John Woods, President.....2-8296
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Foster Philyaw, President.....7-2554
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)

Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Buddy Kinnebrew, Head
Cheerleader.....7-2554

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Jimmy Harris, President.....2-4208
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chptr.
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Bill Wellborn, President.....2-1667

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
Martha Hart, President.....7-7430
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Gerry Baird, President.....7-9605
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Jimmy Thibodeaux, President.....7-1207
Ceneoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

THE GUMPS

BY GUS EDSON

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

Our Gentleman of the Week for today is a student who was before most of you last Monday and Tuesday nights when he served as master of ceremonies at the annual Kollege Kapers show. Yes, it is the ampus of the campus, Camp Flournoy, master of retorts witty and humorous (paid adv.).

Seriously, however, Camp has made himself known on the campus ever since he entered the old school back in 1938. One of the most popular boys in the school throughout his college career, that popularity was proved recently when he was named Most Popular Boy in the Yoncopin contest. He is tops as far as personality is concerned, and a mighty good man to count on as a friend.

He has taken an active part in all school activities these four years and served as cheerleader last year. He has consistently been a leader on the campus and last May was elected by the students to be treasurer of the student body.

He also was named an officer of the senior class last fall.

Although we do not know what he would do if there were no Hope (pun) for him, Camp is regarded as an accepted connoisseur on all things comical. The lad must have a way with the ladies, too, because Colonial Hall is graced with his presence (or presents) every night or so. Of course, this doesn't prove anything, but the last time somebody shouted "Flournoy" in the vicinity of the Hall three screens were knocked out in the rush to the windows . . . they'd rather jump out than have that date. Seriously, again, though, his theme song is "This little piggy went to Margo . . ."

MEN (written by an old maid):
Men are what women marry. They are divided into three classes: Husbands, bachelors, widowers.

A bachelor is a man whose mind is filled with obstinacy and whose soul is filled with suspicion.

Husbands are of three varieties: Prizes, surprises, and consolation prizes. (Widowers are men who have regained "life, liberty, or property by due process of law").

Making a husband out of a man requires science, persistence, faith, hope and charity.

FOR BETTER SCHOOL WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC
MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS

LOUISIANA

GAS

COMPANY

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

At the Kapers show the other night we noticed that among the beautiful girls present was Burl Sullivan. We know Sullivan's no girl but that's where he was... among the beautiful girls present.

We noticed Susy Mulkey in a pink hat the other day... allegedly it was a hat, that is. You know whenever Susy puts on one of her hats she looks first to see if it's her hat... if it has money in it it's one of her purses.

We know why Dorothy Graham likes the west. We think it's mostly New Orleans, car, and green-backs.

What happened to the Carolyn Clay-Bill Patton affair? Are you slipping, Clay?

We wonder why several people around the campus are calling Ray "Happy" Treadwell Half and Half. Martha Stevens finally got what was coming to her. Building up for an awful let-down. Nice going, Foster.

Martha Braswell and Carolyn Coburn both seem interested in Jim Whitten. The thing is, who is he interested in?

Betty Blaxton, you lucky girl, why does our blackout king keep sweating you? Are you giving him encouragement?

Bobby Lindsay and Norman Robertson go well together. Where do L.S.W. and Katy come in?

Betty Gordon Smith really got hot last week over Murff and his dates. That's all right, B. G.—we think he loves you. They tell us now that Sully never did care.

Soph: Were you bothered with athlete's foot?

Frosh: Yes, once when the captain of the football team caught me dating his girl.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

FOR VICTORY

BUY UNITED STATES DEFENSE BONDS STAMPS

WAR NEEDS MONEY!

It will cost money to defeat our enemy aggressors. Your government calls on you to help now.

Buy Defense Bonds or Stamps today. Make every pay day Bond Day by participating in the Pay-roll Savings Plan.

Bonds cost $18.75 and up. Stamps are 10¢, 25¢ and up.

The help of every individual is needed.

Do your part by buying your share every pay day.

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803
Youree

Mrs. Sara
Tully

KOLONIAL ITTY AT OR DORM AMES ISH IRT

Nine weeks' tests are with us again and we kittens are really burning the mid-night oil. There are so many bad cases of spring fever in the dorm that it is practically impossible to study in the daytime anyway.

Flash—One of the Kitties just got word that the OWENS-FLOURNOY, Inc., is actually happy for one time—could it be spring? JUDSON KELLY said that CAROLYN COBURN is a modern Paul Revere—she goes from room to room with the latest gossip.

Congratulations to CAROLYN LUNNY for being elected as vice-president of Alpha Chi. It is about time that CAROLYN'S ability received some recognition. Incidentally, "CISTINE" took our Kitty Kat organization seriously and bought a pair of kittenish glasses.

MARTHA LEWIS is blistered. This spring sun is pretty hot and Mrs. Treadwell's son isn't so bad either—eh, "HAPPY"? But MARTHA doesn't think so.

CLINT TEACLE has threatened to display his other self as soon as his English comprehensive is completed—we are all waiting with anxious curiosity.

This school sure is dead in the afternoon. It seems that as soon as the classes let out every one just vanishes. The college would seem more like a college if more people would come back in the afternoon. The campus, the SUB, the library, the gymnasium are all furnished for the students' convenience, so let's use them.

Sonny: Say, dad, do you remember telling me about the time you were expelled from school?

Pappy: Do I? Ha! Ha! Those were great old days.

Reflected Glory: Well, now I'll tell you.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Alpha Xi Delta to Have Birthday Banquet

The Alpha Xi's of Centenary are celebrating the founding of the college chapter with a Birthday Banquet March 27 at the Washington-Youree Hotel. Members and alumnae of the chapter will be present.

Lambda Chi's Have Dance

The Lambda Chi Alpha dance in the SUB Saturday night had as its theme an Hawaiian setting. Over the entrance hung a sign welcoming guests to "Paradise Isle." On the inside the rafters were covered with vines. On either side of the orchestra platform were large palm trees topped by coconuts bearing the letters of the fraternity in gold. Lambda Chis and their dates were presented with these at intermission. On the platform near one of the trees was a straw thatched hut. This atmosphere added much to the enjoyment of the guests. A telegram from John Kopopolus was sung during the dance. It seemed that Kopopolus, fighting with MacArthur, was heartbroken that he couldn't attend the dance.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

More Pleasure for You

There's satisfaction in knowing that the 6½¢ revenue tax you pay on every pack of twenty cigarettes is doing its bit for Uncle Sam

And you'll get complete smoking satisfaction in Chesterfield's famous blend of the world's best cigarette tobaccos. This superior blend is tops in everything you like best in a cigarette. It is definitely Milder, far cooler and lots better-tasting. Try Chesterfields today. See why millions say: "You can't buy a better cigarette."

CAROLYN CASSIDY, Miss American Aviation. From coast to coast our country's air lines are playing a major part in National Defense. From coast to coast Chesterfield gives smokers more pleasure.

WHEREVER YOU FIND A BLUEJACKET YOU'LL FIND CHESTERFIELD. On PT-boat, sub or battle-wagon, they give smokers a lot more pleasure.

MORE ARMS for AMERICA

We Pay More Than
$2,000,000 A WEEK
into the U. S. Treasury for the Tax Stamps
necessary for one week's output of Chesterfields

Here's what this would buy for defense in one year:

13 DESTROYERS
or
416 4-MOTORED FLYING GUN BOATS
or
5,200 ANTI-AIRCRAFT HEIGHT FINDERS

BUY U. S. DEFENSE BONDS AND STAMPS TODAY

WE WILL WIN. We did it before and we'll do it again. Once a smoker has enjoyed Chesterfield's cooler, better taste he smokes them again and again.

ON THE NATION'S FRONT

It's Chesterfield

THE Centenary Conglomerate

7-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, April 10, 1942.

Number 23

FORECAST

The Library today begins a campaign for all the books which have been borrowed from it during the last few years which students have inadvertently forgotten to return or have misplaced around the house. We can understand how possibly a book could have been lost and then found some time later. Of course, there is no doubt but that it should have been immediately brought back when found; but perhaps the dread of that heavy fine overcame the moral scruples of some of us and the book was relegated to the back closet, rather than face the librarian with a month overdue library book.

However, now is your opportunity to bring back that long-lost book back to its rightful place. A box will be in the hall in the Arts Building for the next week, and you can deposit your book there without the ordeal of going to the library itself and paying a stiff fine. No questions will be asked about why the books are so late coming back, because the main thing right now is to restore all the books to the library, for it really needs them more now than the various fines.

An inventory taken by the library staff recently showed that the number of books missing from its shelves is far too great. The decrease in the number of books available to the students because of the many which have not been returned is becoming quite noticeable.

So, let us all look about our homes and in the closets and try to help the library replenish its depleted shelves.

Former Student Sees 18 Axis Planes KO'd

The Conglomerate has been given a letter written by one of Centenary's former students now in the Navy on one of the United States aircraft carriers somewhere on one of the oceans. The letter is very graphic in its descriptions and we quote a part of it:

"Only thing of interest that has happened to me of late is a little struggle with the Axis. I was just finishing my book, Berlin Diary, reading of the bombing of ships and cities, when all of a sudden it was announced that Axis bombers were coming. I took my book back to my room and went up on deck where I could have a grandstand seat to watch our side perform.

"And what a performance it was. Way off in the distance I saw them, tiny specks in the beautiful blue sky. Almost motionless they seemed. Slowly they came, on and on for what seemed like a long time, but which was in reality only a few minutes.

"Our fighters engaged them and one Axis bomber fell to earth in a cloud of smoke. Later another, then a third, and still a fourth. It was hardly real—just like a dramatic moving picture. Having disposed of the first flight, the men were celebrating, laughing, and bragging. While the Axis planes were falling out of the sky like ducks, the men were cheering and rooting for the home team. Each one that fell received a loud burst of applause from the cheering section, like a football game with a large bet on the home team.

"Well, things had hardly quieted down when the second half began. Here they came again. All our men

(Continued on Page Four)

Band Gives Annual Concert

From left to right, top, Ann Burnette, Elodie Boddie, and Susie Mulkey sing a serenade to the highly-touted Blackout King, Leroy Scott. Jane Bartlette, Knockout Queen, and Frances Long add atmosphere to the proceedings. The occasion was a defense stamp rally during Chapel period last Monday. Judge Hendrick made a fiery speech and Jimmy Davis and his band added to the entertainment. John Woods was master of ceremonies.

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal.

Jimmy Davis and Band Give Out With 'Corn-fed' Music

Jimmy Davis and his band treated the students of Centenary to something really novel in the way of entertainment in chapel last Monday, giving out with some of his self-styled "corn-fed singing" that has made him a best-seller on all the juke-boxes throughout the nation, as well as a potential threat to Messrs. Gable, Power, and Taylor in his new picture "Strictly in the Groove."

Aided and abetted by a fine group of musicians, his performance was greeted with thunderous applause by an enthusiastic audience. Everyone joined in singing the chorus of "You Are My Sunshine"—the song that made him famous.

His performance was in conjunction with a defense stamp rally; City Judge Ruvian D. Hendrick stressed the individual buying of defense stamps.

Leroy Scott's absence was greeted by a bevy of beauties, including Marguerite Haggard, "Miss Blackout"; Frances Long of Byrd, and luscious Jane Bartlett, recently acclaimed Miss Knockout.

That well-known trio of songsters, Ann Burnette, Susie Mulkey, and Biddie Boddie, sang the brand-new hit song by John Woods, "The Blackout King," which was written especially for Scott. Scott's deplorable absence was due to the law of gravity, which he was busily repelling.

The whole program was ably managed by John Woods, who acted as master of ceremonies.

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal
Ellen Eastham, above, will be the Centenary representative at the annual Cotton Pageant to be held at Texas A. and M.

College Represented At Alpha Chi National

At the national convention of Alpha Chi, national scholarship society, Centenary was represented by the newly elected president of the local chapter, Joe Stephens, who presented an original thesis on the comic strips.

Alpha Chi is an organization founded for smaller colleges such as Phi Beta Kappa serves the large college and universities. Most of the chapters happen to be located in Texas. However, there are two in Louisiana, Centenary and Louisiana College, and several in Oklahoma and Arkansas. The organization is constantly enlarging because it is an ideal scholastic fraternity for a small school. Its function is to honor students who have been outstanding in the scholastic field and to inculcate in its members a desire for greater and greater knowledge.

The convention was held at Our Lady of the Lake College in San Antonio March 27-28. The central theme of the convention was "Out of Knowledge Victory." The first meeting of the convention, which was divided into four main sessions, was held in Providence Hall at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, March 27. Mother Angelique, dean of Our Lady of the Lake College, and Peggy Fogarty, a pretty lass and president of Texas Nu Chapter, extended welcome to the delegates.

Dr. John L. McMahon, president of Our Lady of the Lake College, addressed the group and the student body at the second session, at 4 p.m. in the auditorium. His address was on "Post-War World Reconstruction." At this session the College Chorus Club presented the cantata, "Fantasy on a Russian Folk-Song."

Dinner was served in the college dining hall. Dr. Autrey Nell Wiley, regional president of Alpha Chi, addressed the convention. Her subject was "A Fortress in Infinite Space." After dinner the members were guests at a "Noche de Fiesta" at the Governor's Palace.

The closing session, which was in charge of student members, convened at 8 Saturday morning. Discussion was led by the various faculty members. Highlighting this session was a student art exhibit and several musical numbers.

The Centenary Band presented its Spring Concert last Tuesday night at the Creswell school auditorium, under the direction of Billy Causey of the Centenary music department. Mr. Causey came to Centenary last fall and under his leadership and direction, the band has won the loyalty and backing of the student body and faculty. Mr. Causey has made the Centenary band one of the outstanding bands of the city.

The concert which was presented Tuesday night was given in an attempt to send the Centenary band on a tour through the southern part of the state. The pieces which were played for the concert were:

My Hero; Finlandia; Willow Echoes; In a Persian Market; Serenade From the Student Prince; Semper Fidelis; Vanished Army; Echo Waltz; In a Monastery Garden; Memories of Stephen Foster; Stormy Weather; The Stars and Stripes Forever.

Sammy Swor, in his first year at Centenary, is unquestionably one of the finest young cornetists in the South. He has won many honors at state and regional contests and plays an active part in other musical organizations and events. Sammy played a solo entitled "Willow Echoes."

The concert was a success as far as the Band was concerned, but due to the bad weather the crowd that was expected didn't show up at the concert, but we hope that the next concert will find the student body, the faculty and parents there to give Mr. Causey and his band a cheering welcome.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Causey for the splendid work he has done for our college in building a bigger and better band, and to wish him lots of luck and success for the future.

Kollege Kapers Gives Post-Season Show at Barksdale on Mar. 31

On Tuesday, March 31, Kollege Kapers gave a post-season performance free of charge for the soldiers at Barksdale. The reception given the cast by the soldiers was very heartening and before leaving Barksdale most of the Kaperites felt that they had had more fun giving this show than any other.

As the audience was on three sides of the stage, J. Warren Fulton was forced to change some of his magic tricks.

"Dougald" — Parry Stewart — appeared on the program as guest artist and brought down the house with his rendition of "The Sugar Blues" and "Hot Lips." All jokes were dressed up in military parlance, and at times George Hearne was a sergeant instead of an ordinary heckler.

After the performance someone overheard one of the officers tell Doctor Morehead that Kollege Kapers was by far the best show that had been to Barksdale.

Return all over-due library books with no fine, this week.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

JOE STEPHENS, Editor

Managing Editor.....Roland Achée
Associate Editor.....Mary Foster Peyton
Poetry Editor.....John Woods
Sports Editor.....Arthur Herold
News Editor.....Patricia Harper
Campus Editor.....Ellen Eastham
Feature Editor.....Barbara Harris
Social Editor.....Mabel Boddie
Circulation Manager.....Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Jake Cullick, Margaret Owens, Nan Dobson, Ethel Kramer, Buddy Stroud, Margaret Eubank, Bill Keenan, Marie Wolf, Carolyn Lunny, Katy Castanedo, Lester Moore, Dottie Graham, Peggy O'Neill, Clint Teacle, Claude Blackburn, Betty Blaxton, Horace Alvord, Mary Smith New, Billy Booth, Bob Eatman, Charlotte Newsom, E. W. Harris, Mickey McCutchen, Leroy Scott, Jessica Harris, Lucille Webb, Carolyn Canon.

FADS

Of all the ridiculous demonstrations of "war nerves" that have come out recently, we on the Centenary campus this week were treated with the outstanding example of morale undermining. Perhaps some of the women are merely trying to "do their bit" and provoke the men into joining the army — if so, they've hit on a pretty good method of accomplishing their ends; we know of nothing that might provoke us more.

Why, just why, we ask will a girl with a (sound(?) mind and a pretty head of hair deliberately antagonize the male of the species with a maliciously premeditated action that has become such a fad recently? The matter to which we refer is, of course, the action of quite a few girls recently of dyeing a pretty blonde head to that of a drab brunette. WHY? WHY? WHY?

A SERIOUS PROBLEM

Unfortunately there is a certain amount of dishonesty in school work here at Centenary. This could hardly be said to be either general or widespread, but its presence in the slightest degree constitutes a serious problem. Cheating hampers seriously any attempt on the part of the instructor to grade accurately. In classes where the curve system of grading is used it places the honest student at a definite disadvantage by forcing the comparison of his actual knowledge with the "padded" papers of his classmates.

Very few, if any of us are criminally inclined. We would certainly hesitate to commit robbery, but in the matter of cheating we do not feel as keen an obligation. In an effort to prevent cheating we do not feel as keen an obligation. In an effort to prevent cheating the rules of the school make it punishable by dishonorable dismissal. The students should be able to meet the cheating problem themselves. This may be done by each student personally refusing to cheat on any test. That it can be done has been demonstrated by the large number of students who signed voluntary pledges to cooperate. By each of us keeping his own conduct above reproach, the problem will be solved.

USE YOUR TIME

Each second, each hour, each day, each week, each year that is wasted can never, never be retrieved, can never, never be salvaged. Each empty day that passes adds one more to the constantly enlarging days of the past and subtracts another from the equally diminishing days of the future. Every unemployed day brings each person closer to that hour when circumstances will force one to grope in vain for the tools of previous preparatiton. Therefore USE YOUR TIME.

One cannot say that one does not have enough time. The lowest Chinese coolie has as much time as the King of England. All races and all classes, everyone has the same amount of time—it is just that some make use of their time and others do not. Be one of those that use their time. Many do three times as much as others in the same amount of time. Those that do nothing are cheating themselves out of life itself. Time which is wasted might as well never have been.

Once more one is reminded that though time is limitless our time has a definite limit. There is no hope of indefinitely extending it or of bringing it back. Each hour that passes has forever passed. Each opportunity that is lost is forever lost. USE YOUR TIME.

CONGLOMERATION

What is this we hear about HUTCH PHILLIPS and BIDDIE BODDIE? What happened to NEW? While we are on the subject of NEW, why were you, CUPID LINDSAY, and NORMAN ROBERTSON stalled Saturday night?

Say, MARTHA BRASWELL, what is this we hear about you and T. DORSEY on the third floor of "Stanton Hall" on the Antebellum tour? How about letting us read that note he gave you?

We hear that FLOURNOY is still president of the Lip Stick Club. He doesn't always stick to his date. How about that, MARGO and CLAY?

We are still happy about BETTY BLAXTON and our "BLAKOUT KING," LEROY SCOTT. Is this "it," BETTY?

No fire works from JIMMIE HARRIS and JEANNE MAYNARD. They must be moving along nicely.

Does HAROLD SUMRALL appeal to JANE BARTLETT? We don't know, but we hear they are going on the party together sometime in April.

What is this we hear about LIL TURNER and SINBAD SULLIVAN? Are they embarking on the happy seas?

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Why not run a column or ad in the paper in which students can advertise for lost articles and such things without charge? Such a column would be a great convenience to the students and would be another service the Conglomerate could render to its readers. For after all the Conglomerate is printed for the students who should be given full use of it.

Yours truly,
A Worried Mind.

March 28, 1942

Dear Sir:

I'll admit that Shakespeare said that there is nothing in a name. However, he didn't say anything about the spelling of a name.

The name is not Subino Carrone (sub for short), but it is SABINO CARONE. I'll have to admit that the name causes me to have nightmares, but the way you all spell it, I can't even sleep.

Please spell the name right. Thank you.

Truly yours,
Sabino Carone.

Library Drive Begins For Over - due Books

A drive has been begun by the Centenary College library to have returned the many books which students have borrowed and failed to bring back, according to Miss Smith, librarian. Miss Smith states that the number of books missing is deplorable and she hopes that everyone will cooperate in rebuilding our supply of fine books in the library by returning the over-due ones during the one-week campaign.

A box will be available in the hall of the Administration Building in which books may be placed with no questions asked and no fines imposed. The whole idea of the drive is to secure those many books which have been out for several months and even years.

"Now, ladies and gentlemen," screeched the political orator, "I want to tax your memory!" "Great grief!" groaned Fournoy, "Has it come to that?"

Bring Back Books!

Pertinent Questions ? ? ? ?

GILBERT HETHERWICK and EMILY PROTHRO?

GEORGE HEARNE and JIMMIE THIBODEAUX?

DON THOMPSON and ROSEMARY NEAL?

BOBBY LINDSAY and NORMAN ROBERTSON?

"DUCK" DRAKE and MERRIE FOWLER?

JUDSON KELLEY and MERRIE FOWLER?

JACK COMEGYS and MERRIE FOWLER?

(This could go on all night)

ROLAND ACHEE told a joke in a group of four or five people the other day and you should have heard the loud guffaws. Gosh, but that ACHEE can laugh!

Has everybody noticed that SISTER WOLF has been "winged"? It looks like another good girl has lost her footing. Our Conglomerate reporter inquired if she believed in holding hands and she replied, "How do you think I got these 'wings'?" Woo, woo!

MR. SCHUHLE is playing in the Centenary City Badminton Tournament—he is pretty good at it, too. VIRGINIA KILPATRICK may be seen watching the matches.

There is an urgent call out for any pretty looking girl who isn't yet a Conglomerate reporter. Oh, if they could only write!

Le Cercle Francais Meets

Le Cercle Francais held its monthly meeting March 26 at the home of Lanford DeGeneres. Speakers for the occasion were Miss Mary Frances Smith, Centenary librarian, who discussed the fate of European books and printing houses; and Miss Shirley Elizabeth Eagan, a member, who related interesting information about her home, New Orleans. Guest organization was the French Club of Fair Park High School, whose sponsor is Miss Ruth Tilly, and president Leonard Wells, which presented a skit and French musical numbers as their contribution to the program. The meeting ended with "La Marseillaise," after which refreshments were served.

Easter Sunrise Service Held in Amphitheatre

Last Sunday the Centenary open-air theatre was the scene of the annual Easter morning sunrise service, which has been held there the last few years.

The service was held under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The call to worship was sounded by Sammy Swor on his trumpet, after which Roy Mouser led the group in prayer. Hymns for the occasion were sung by the Byrd High School a capella choir under the direction of James Monroe. The responsive reading was led by Gilbert Hetherwick and the scripture lesson given by Mrs. Emma Alexander. The Rev. Tom B. Anderson, associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, preached the sermon. Benediction was pronounced by Stanley Kirkland.

ARE YOU GRADUATING?

If you are it is not too early to shop. Give yourself a treat and look at Jewelry for your graduation? Shop at our store this season for variety, prices in reason, quality and utmost in style

LEONARD'S
320-322 Ward Bldg.
Phone 2-5088

Freshman Theme

(Printed below is a Freshman English theme written by E. W. Harris. Since it the policy of The Conglomerate to print as much of the various literary works of the students as possible, The Conglomerate would welcome similar themes, poems, or other literary efforts.)

The Twilight of Man

On the continent of Europe last night, no lights burned, for over these lands lay a wartime blackout. This blackout also included culture, education, freedom, and the decency in the hearts of men.

The Pole, the Jew, the Frenchman, and the Slav saw their homes looted, their wives attacked, and their lives enslaved. They watched the blood of their fellowmen run in the streets, that Hitler might rule in glory; saw their children become apathetic and die from starvation, that the Nazi might eat. Yes, all over the continent the lights were out.

On the Island of Britain there yet burned the light that is someday to illuminate the world. That light was planted there when, on that day of screaming, shrieking death, the British evacuated the fields of Dunkirk. That light burned in the hearts of the tall young men who go up into the skies to battle the enemy. Its glow spread over this tight little island whose people still asked that God bless their King, and boasted that there would always be an England.

In the cold, dark waters of the North Atlantic convoys sailed, transporting the sinews of war for the democracies, while death stalked their paths from the skies and from below the waters.

The lights blazed in America. They showed Americans dining at the Ritz and dancing at the Country Club. True, they bought Defense Bonds because there was a good chance to make a three per cent investment when the bankers were paying but one per cent. Yet the Eagle had screamed, and all who heard knew he would soon take wing.

Last night the Rising Sun shone more brightly than it ever had before. Small, yellow men with cruel hands swarmed off of their island and toppled the white man's rule in much of Eastern Asia.

In Asia the lights flickered deviously. The stout Chinese held, and the brave Russians gained. Yet the Yellow Dragon was loosed. The Indian sunlight splashed on the copper dome of the viceroy's palace where there was many a reminder of past victories. Here there was nothing to suggest desperation in the plucky Union Jack before which the long linge of troops stood rigid, a starched khaki parade.

This was the glory of the British Empire summarized. And yet this was the scene—more than Singapore, more than the wrangling House of Commons, more than the smoke-choked, German - defiled Strait of Dover—that said to the world: the British Empire, as an idea, is on its last gallant march, from which it may not come home. Reviewing those troops was Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. He had come to rouse Indian's leader, Pandit Nehru, to call her millions to arms. But as Nehru replied, "India will never grovel before the Japanese, but will use passive resistance . . . a powerful weapon."

Still . . . there was a place—in the Philippine Islands—where could be found fuel to kindle the hearts of all. It was in the legend of MacArthur and his men. These grim, weary men in the foxholes of Bataan had, for a while, halted the march of the yellow men, and the world praised them. Theirs was the temper of steel which must be forged to halt aggression and re-light the beacons of liberty.

Griffith, McCook, Stephens, Webb Badminton Tyros

Intramural table tennis and badminton neared completion last week, leaving only lawn tennis and playground ball to be run off to complete the spring intramural sports program.

In table tennis Hutch Phillips moved into the semi-finals, ahead of the rest of the field, by beating Peters and Keenan. Hynoski beat Roussel and Comegys defeated French. In the girls' tournament Coburn bested Peyton to make the semi-finals, where she plays Robertson.

Finals in boys' badminton singles were completed Tuesday afternoon when Tom Griffith was crowned champion after defeating Joe Stephens in the final round. To reach the finals Griffith beat Long, Phillips and Glover, and Stephens beat Robins in the second round and McCook in the semi-finals. In earlier rounds Glover beat Ellis and Soloman, McCook beat Hetherwick and Moore, Moore beat Feducia, Soloman beat May, and Phillips beat Renov.

In the doubles Herold and Stephens beat Feducia and Peters, then Ellis and James to reach the finals. Ellis and James beat Soloman and Scott in the first round.

In mixed doubles Stephens and Azalie Webb won the title by defeating Billy McCook and Emily Prothro in the finals, after beating Griffith and Hart and then Carlton and Woodard. Earlier McCook and Prothro beat Soloman and Peyton, then Tinnin and Moore, and Tinnin and Moore beat Robins and Haggard.

In the girls singles Peyton beat Dickson and Webb beat Leiber.

Recipe for Kisses

A portion of dark piazza, add a dash of moonlight. Take for granted two people. Press in two strong ones, one small, soft hand. Sift lightly two ounces of attraction, one of romance, add a large measure of folly, stir in a floating ruffle and one or two whispers. Dissolve half a dozen glances, dust in a little hesitation, one ounce of resistance, two of yielding. Place the kisses on flushed cheek or on two lips. Flavor with a slight scream and set aside to cool.

For more than just a Haircut we recommend

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.

L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

FOR BETTER SCHOOL WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.
Call 2-4639 717 McNeil St.

A GLANCE AT HIS FUTURE

Taking a quick glance at one of the huge twin-engined planes he soon may be flying is this Aviation Cadet, a member of Class 42-D, which recently completed its basic training at Randolph Field, Texas. These cadets, who have just flown and studied their way through ten weeks of arduous work, have graduated to more powerful single-engine planes or multi-motored ships which will constitute the last leg in their training. After ten weeks of this advanced flying, they will receive their "wings" and be commissioned as Second Lieutenants in the United States Army Air Corps.

W.A.A. Stunt Night Held on April First

The W.A.A. stunt night held Wednesday night, April 1, was one of the best ever held. The stunts presented by different organizations were very good. First place was awarded to the Kappa Sigmas and honorable mention went to the Zeta Tau Alphas.

The Zeta Tau Alphas were first on the program. Their stunt was a review of Kollege Kapers, featuring Miss Emily Prothro as Mal Mellwain, Ann Burnette as Betty Sue Brewer, Mary Smith New as Biddie Boddie, Camille Hendricks and Jimmie Brown, Ellen Eastham as Burl Sullivan, Carolyn Canon as Martha Stevens, and many others.

Next the Alpha Xi Deltas had the story of "Please pay the rent," featuring Patsy Harper as the Hero, Nan Dobson as the Villain, and Martha Hart as the heroine.

The Kappa Alpha stunt was very good. Gilbert Hetherwick, Jackie Keenan, Roland Achee and Camp Flournoy gave their ideas as to what was said and done when four girls got together for a game of bridge.

The Kappa Sigmas' stunt was very clever. Marlin Drake impersonated President Roosevelt and President Cline. Both were very good. He was announced by John Woods and David Freeman played the piano.

The Aufaits had a style review presenting what the well-dressed college girl should wear to all social functions. Biddie Boddie was the announcer, Models were Aline Breithaupt, Carolyn Lunny, Katy Oxford and others.

The Chi Omega stunt was very clever. Carolyn Clay and Margaret Moffett were looking at the latest Conglomerate about 20 years from now. Carolyn presented her six daughters who in turn said a little poem. The daughters, Jimmy Thibodeaux, Jimmy Brown, Tincy Burton, Lil Turner and Susie Mulkey. All in all the stunts were very good and everybody had a wonderful time.

Marriage is an institution.
Marriage is love.
Love is blind.
Therefore, marriage is an institution for the blind.

Advertising revenue is the chief revenue of this paper; kindly patronize those who help us.

DRAMATICS CLUB GIVES RADIO PROGRAM

The Centenary Dramatics Club presented a very interesting radio program last Wednesday night over radio station KRMD. "Epoch of Courage"—a splendidly written narrative by John Woods, tracing the rise of American democracy—was featured on the program.

The members of the club taking part in this story were: Gladys Tippet, John Woods, Marie Wolf, Jack Elgin, Leroy Scott, and Roland Achee. Other selections included: "America's Will to Work" as told by John Woods; "Radio and the Government," narrated by Jack Elgin, and "What Is a University?", a speech delivered by Roland Achee.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

EASTER PROGRAM HELD IN CHAPEL APR. 1

The Student Fellowship, campus interdenominational religious group, sponsored the Easter chapel program April 1. Out of the darkness that filled the auditorium a gleam of light spread across the stage casting the shadow of a cross on the wall facing the audience.

Music of the "Hallelujah Chorus" filled the air and voices of unseen speakers told of the Crucifixion of Christ as seen by Pontius Pilate and others. The leading characters were portrayed by Jean Arthur, John Woods and Carlos Davis. The program was instructive, entertaining and edifying.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Bring Back Books!

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomec Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
John Woods, President.....2-8296
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Foster Philyaw, President.....7-2554
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)

Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Buddy Kinnebrew, Head
Cheerleader.....7-2554

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Jimmy Harris, President.....2-4208
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Bill Wellborn, President.....2-1667

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
Martha Hart, President.....7-7430
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Gerry Baird, President.....7-9605
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Jimmy Thibodeaux, President.....7-1207
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

CARL VOLLMER

Did you know that this boy's full name is Carl Lincoln Vollmer? Those who have known him intimately have suspected it all along, in view of his fairness and impartiality. This was demonstrated when as a pledge of one fraternity he openly supported another fraternity's candidate for a highly important position on the campus.

Another little-known fact about this well-known figure is that during his first year at Centenary he traveled 72 miles round trip to Myrtis, Louisiana, every other day where he was working full time, keeping up his scholastic work at the same time.

Aside from working full time all during his college career, he has accumulated a tidy list of honors. He is now president of the Interfraternity Council, past president of Kappa Sigma, is in Who's Who, president of the sophomore class, in the Student Senate for two years, president of Psi Delta Chi, last year's most popular boy, and he is serving on the Student-Faculty Discipline Committee... just to mention a few!

He is going to enter the LSU medical school in June. After his graduation he will enter active service in the Navy, as he now holds a commission as a reserve ensign.

Carl has worked exceptionally hard and deserves everything he has accomplished. Nevertheless, we believe this is but the beginning of a distinguished career. Good luck, Carl!

Alpha Xi Delta Begins Red Cross Movement

All of the 56 chapters of Alpha Xi Delta in the nation have embarked on a national Red Cross movement. On April 17, Founders' Day, all wearers of the quill—that is, over fifteen thousand women—will contribute a specified amount of money to the Red Cross to be used for blankets, bandages and medicine.

Bring Back Books!

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

LYLES LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS

LOUISIANA

GAS

COMPANY

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

We saw JIMMY THIBODEAUX wearing her K.A. pin again. We wish they would make up their mind.

It seems to be the real thing with BETTY WOFFARD and ROY LRONS.

MYRTLE CANON went out of town over the holidays. Does she have some interest there?

MYRIAN HOLLOWAY is pretty lonesome now for N.O. Anyone going down, please let her know.

ROB WILLIAMSON seemed to be pretty happy this week-end. Could be that the owner of her pin came home.

LAWRENCE MAY, we thought you were pinned but we see you with another girl. Just what is this all about?

We are glad to see BARRON JOHNS back around school. We hope you are feeling much better. We know BURNETTE is happy.

CYRIL WILDE seems to be going from one girl to the other. We see him quite often with ADELAIDE DICKSON.

Congratulations are in order to the newly acclaimed KNOCKOUT QUEEN, JANE BARTLETT.

Mr. John Wray Young Speaks in Chapel Wed.

Mr. John Wray Young, director of the Shreveport Little Theatre, and one of America's most outstanding community theatre directors, appeared on the chapel program last Wednesday conducted by the Centenary Dramatics Club. Also appearing on the program were: John Woods, who gave his interpretation of "America's Will to Work"; Gladys Tippet, who read several humorous poems, and Roland Achée, president of the group, who acted as chairman.

CAMPUS CAMERA

tell us just where does PHIL CLIFTON fit into this picture?

LARUE POWELL has something mighty pretty on her fourth finger left hand. Congratulations!

What happened to the pin SCOTT ordered for BETTY BLAXTON? All we know is what was said by the Chi O's in their stunt last Wednesday night. Well, girls, that's one way.

Hello! FOSTER HAMNER—chump, chump. That's enough said!

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Alpha Xi Delta Has New Program of Buffet Suppers

The Alpha Xi Deltas have inaugurated a new program of delightful buffet suppers. These are held every other Monday night at the sorority house just before the meeting.

This week the decorations for the supper marked the advent of spring. Bowls of ivy, woodbine, bamboo blossoms, daisies and roses graced the dining table, radio and mantle.

Look for library books at home and return them to school.

18 Axis Planes—

(Continued from Page One)

were veterans this time, so naturally there was lacking the youthful enthusiasm of first attack. They came over the ship, at least a few of them did. They dropped their bombs, naturally, and away they went with our fighters in hot pursuit. The attack was over and the score stood—20 bombers came—18 down, 2 possibly safe."

Enclosed was a copy of the newspaper printed twice daily aboard the ship, which the former student had a large part in publishing. Included in the paper were the latest Associated and United Press news, as well as the full text of one of President Roosevelt's addresses.

Spanish Club Meets

The Spanish Club met Wednesday night, March 25, in the SUB. A business discussion was held in which plans for the annual Spanish Club Banquet at the Plaza Cafe were discussed. A series of games were conducted in Spanish by Mr. White and several Spanish songs were sung with guitar accompaniment after which the meeting was adjourned.

Bring Back Books!

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

Student Tour Made to Homes About Natchez

A trip to Natchez was enjoyed by many Centenary students recently. The purpose of the trip was to visit the houses of the original Natchez pilgrimage.

Natchez is called the city "where the Old South still lives."

In and around Natchez are the typical southern homes which are outstanding for their beauty and historical background. Each home has a garden that is especially beautiful at this time of year.

The members of the party saw such famous houses as Aubura, Rosalie, headquarters of General Grant and now the Mississippi State Shrine of the D.A.R.; Airlie, The Burn, Stanton Hall, Linden, Monmouth, and many others, all of which have famous collections of paintings, furniture, china, and silverware, and have made the Natchez country famed throughout the world.

ANNUAL YONCOPIN CONTEST UNDER WAY

The annual Yoncopin sponsor contest got under way Monday, April 6. Mr. See and Don Thompson instructed Azalie Webb, Zeta Tau Alpha; Pat Harper, Alpha Xi Delta, and Carolyn Clay, Chi Omega, concerning ads, receipts, points for contest and other necessary information.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

The time to take care of your hair is while you have it.

For intelligent and beneficial service on hair-grooming—

CAMERON BROS.
BARBER SHOP
307 Milam St.

FLOWERS FOR YOUR DANCES?

Broadmoor Floral
Shop

3803
Youree

Mrs. Sara
Tully

More Pleasure for You

There's satisfaction in knowing that the 6½¢ revenue tax you pay on every pack of twenty cigarettes is doing its bit for Uncle Sam

And you'll get complete smoking satisfaction in Chesterfield's famous blend of the world's best cigarette tobaccos. This superior blend is tops in everything you like best in a cigarette. It is definitely Milder, far Cooler and lots Better-Tasting. Try Chesterfields today. See why millions say: "You can't buy a better cigarette."

CAROLYN CASSIDY, Miss American Aviation. From coast to coast our country's air lines are playing a major part in National Defense. From coast to coast Chesterfield gives smokers more pleasure.

ON THE NATION'S FRONT

It's Chesterfield

WHEREVER YOU FIND A BLUEJACKET YOU'LL FIND CHESTERFIELD. On PT-boat, sub or battle-wagon, they give smokers a lot more pleasure.

MORE ARMS for AMERICA

We Pay More Than
$2,000,000 A WEEK
into the U. S. Treasury for the Tax Stamps
necessary for one week's output of Chesterfields

Here's what this would buy
for defense in one year:

13 DESTROYERS
or 416 4-MOTORED
FLYING GUN BOATS
or
5,200 ANTI-AIRCRAFT
HEIGHT FINDERS

BUY U. S. DEFENSE BONDS
AND STAMPS TODAY

WE WILL WIN. We did it before and we'll do it again. Once a smoker has enjoyed Chesterfield's cooler, better taste he smokes them again and again.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

7 261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, April 17, 1942.

Number 24

Centenary College Choir to Give East Texas Concert

The Centenary College Choir, pictured above, will present a sacred concert under the direction of Alvin C. Voran as a feature of the "Prayer for Victory" service, which opens the annual convention of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in Longview Sunday, April 19, at 8 p.m. The principal address of the service, "Spiritual Values We fight For," will be delivered by Dr. A. W. Birdwell, president of Stephen F. Austin State Teachers' College in Nacogdoches. The service will be held in the auditorium of the First Methodist Church, Longview.

Music Students' Recitals Slated

Ralph Squires of the Music School has announced the dates of the student music recitals to be held in the auditorium of the Music School. The recitals will be given by senior students in the Music Department who possess unusual talent. These students are Billy Austin, Margie Giles, and Sarah Menefee. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The schedule is as follows:

Margie Giles

Friday, April 17,
8:15 p.m.

Billy Austin

Monday, April 20,
8:15 p.m.

Miscellaneous student recital

Thursday, April 23,
8:00 p.m.

Sarah Menefee

Friday, April 24,
8:15 p.m.

Centenary Competes In City Badminton Open Tournament

Centenary was well represented in the second Centenary open badminton tournament completed Tuesday of this week.

Tom Griffith won "A" flight men singles defeating Billy McCook.

Billy McCook and Herbert Baker won the flight "B" men's doubles title.

Joe Stephens and Azalie Webb were well on their way to the top when Joe hurt his foot and had to forfeit. However, Mr. Webb took Joe's place and it took the city champs to put these two Webbs out of the running.

Azalie Webb and Mary Foster Peyton got to the finals in ladies' doubles flight "B." They were defeated by a former Centenary student, Mary Agnes Railsback, and her partner, Sue Thiel.

Martha Hart and Tom Griffith reached the quarter-finals in the championship flight. They were defeated only by the couple holding the city title.

Three Initiated By Alpha Sigma Pi

At a meeting held Saturday, April 11, at noon in Room 22 in the Arts Building, Alpha Sigma Pi, honorary freshman - sophomore scholastic fraternity, pledged those freshman made eligible at mid-semester. The three who were eligible were Carolyn Coburn, Helen Riggs, and George Edwards.

The initiation took place Thursday night, April 16. Patricia Harper acted as hostess. Roland Achee was in charge of the ceremony. Mrs. Campbell, the organization's sponsor, saw that the initiates were properly tested in the various fields of their individual courses.

In order to become a member of Alpha Sigma Pi one must make in general as many A's as B's or better. As a rule about ten per cent of the freshman class make the grade average. Carolyn, Helen and George are to be congratulated on being so successful in their scholastic work.

Centenary Dramatics Club Meets Tuesday

The Centenary Dramatics Club, which is under the sponsorship of Mr. and Mrs. John Wray Young, met last Tuesday evening at the home of Roland Achee.

The program consisted of several original poems by Joe Stephens and the playing of recordings of the radio program given last week by the Dramatics Club.

The members who attended this meeting are: Donn Thompson, Rosemary Neal, Jack Elgin, Joe Stephens, Leroy Scott, Justine Holmes, Mary Murrell, Marie Wolf, Gladys Tippet, Betty Blaxton, Dorothy Luse, and Roland Achee.

Colby College, Waterville, Me., is completing a new campus on a 600-acre tract two miles from its present location.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Summer Session Bulletins are out. All who are interested in summer school should obtain one.

Alpha Chi Gives Program in Chapel

The chapel program last Wednesday was in charge of Alpha Chi, junior-senior scholastic fraternity.

The new officers of Alpha Chi were presented: Joe Stephens, president; Carolyn Lunny, vice-president; John Woods, secretary; Leroy Scott, treasurer; Jack Elgin, corresponding secretary. The retiring officers were also introduced: Gilbert Hetherwick, president; Elise Montgomery, vice-president; John Marshall, secretary; Margie Giles, treasurer; Frances Perkins, corresponding secretary.

Dr. E. L. Ford presented certificates of membership to the new members, and announced that William M. Booth had been selected as the outstanding freshman of 1942.

Ray Goens was chairman of the program. The program was designed to stress the importance of music in this time of crisis.

Spanish Club Holds Its Annual Banquet

As an annual event of the Spanish Club, it held its banquet at the Plaza Cafe Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. There is always fun to be had at this occasion with the enjoyment of enchiladas, tortillas, and the tamales. A Spanish atmosphere was acquired by the dining in the patio and through the singing of Spanish lyrics after the banquet. This year C. H. Vandegaer and Gilbert Hetherwick entertained the guests with their guitar and mandolin respectively. Many of the Spanish students and those interested in Spanish attended.

Boys' Ping Pong Play Nears End This Week

Play in the boys' ping pong division rapidly approached a conclusion this week. Fulton plays Clark. The winner plays Comegys in the semi-finals. The winner of this match will play "Hutch" Phillips for the championship. In a semi-final match that went three long games Phillips qualified for the finals by defeating Billy McCook.

Chi Omegas Give Spring Eleusinian Banquet Saturday

The Washington-Youree Hotel was the scene of the Chi Omega spring Eleusinian Banquet last Saturday evening.

Following the invocation by Miss Ann Thibodeaux the Misses Jeanne Maynard, Susie Mulkey and Betty Blaxton presided at the candle light ceremony. After the guests, Mrs. A. R. Campbell and Miss Frances Cash, had been welcomed, a short talk was given by Miss Edna Earle Richardson on the early days of Chi Omega at Centenary. Miss Gladys Tippet then led in singing the Chi Omega sweetheart song.

The banquet table was artistically decorated with white carnations, the sorority flower, white tapers and ivy. Clever favors of cork dolls tied with cardinal and straw yarn carried out the sorority colors.

Those present included Misses Emilie Ann Connell, Ann Robinson, Mildred Davenport, Carolyn Clay, Susie Mulkey, Gladys Tippet, Frances Cash of Rho chapter, Elizabeth Matthews, Alhea Mix, Dorothy Ann Moorhead, Betty Blaxton, Margaret Eubank, Marie Wolf, Norman Robertson, Mrs. Tyler Portle, Misses Frances Oden, Nan Elizabeth Banks, Jane Bartlett, Carolyn Coburn, Lucy Bettis, Carolyn Boyett, Betty Lou Sumrall, Betty Wafford, Claire Tinnin, Margaret Moffett, Adelaide Dickson, Peggy O'Neill, Jean Pearce, Ella Mae McKee, Mary Earle Texada, Jimmie Brown, Edna Earle Richardson, Elizabeth Burton, Mrs. A. R. Campbell, Misses Rob Williamson, Betty Gordon Smith and Ann Thibodeaux.

NOTICE

The Pictorial Review of life and advantages at Centenary has just come off the press. These should be sent to all persons interested in attending Centenary College. If you know any prospective students please notify Dr. Shaw.

PATRICIA HARPER WINS YONCOPIN SPONSOR AWARD

Patricia Harper, sophomore, was recently announced winner of the Yoncopin Sponsor Contest. Pat, as she is called by fellow students is active in many organizations on the campus.

She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta, of the Spanish Club, of the Woman's Athletic Association, secretary of Alpha Sigma Pi, and news editor of The Conglomerate.

"I was really excited," is all the little blonde could say when she was first asked how she felt when she learned that she had won. When asked if she enjoyed getting the ads Pat answered, "Well, not exactly, but I learned how to meet the public and now I know more about Shreveport."

The other contestants were Azalie Webb of the Zeta Tau Alphas, and Carolyn Clay who represented Chi Omega. Azalie Webb won second place.

For winning first place Patricia Harper was awarded a $75 U. S. Victory Bond. Azalie Webb won $15 in Victory Stamps.

As usual the winner will receive special recognition in this year's Yoncopin as this year's annual's sponsor. Also to the Alpha Xi Delta sorority goes a handsome silver ornamental plaque.

The entire race was under the direction of Donn Thompson, business manager of the Yoncopin; Bill Graham, editor, and Prof. Robert S. See, faculty publications director.

Knight Elected President of Tulane's Sophs

Charles Knight, who completed his course at Centenary in three years and was graduated Summa Cum Laude with the highest average in the class, has been elected president of the sophomore class of the Tulane Medical School (there are over 150 students in the class).

Knight made a remarkable record at Centenary, and at one time was president of the sophomore class here. In his freshman class he was chosen by Alpha Chi as the most outstanding freshman. Last year he was elected "the most versatile boy," treasurer of the student body, secretary of Kappa Alpha, and president of various clubs on the campus.

Kapers to Perform At Longview Today

Tonight the Kollege Kapers cast will journey to Longview, Texas, to present its second post-season show. The performance will be sponsored by the P.-T. A. Pleasant memories were left in those Kaperites who gave a show there last year—one of the most appreciative audiences to be found. After featuring a few outstanders in last year's cast at a benefit show there, hardly any time elapsed before the Longview people wanted more.

Thus the Kaperites and the choir are looking forward to giving their supposedly last show tonight.

Prof. H. Vance White, head of the metallurgy department of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, has discovered an alloy that softens as it grows old. It is a combination of lead with a small quantity of tin.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

Member

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

JOE STEPHENS, Editor

Managing Editor.....Roland Achee
Associate Editor.....Mary Foster Peyton
Poetry Editor.....John Woods
Sports Editor.....Arthur Herold
News Editor.....Patricia Harper
Campus Editor.....Ellen Eastham
Feature Editor.....Barbara Harris
Social Editor.....Mabel Boddie
Circulation Manager.....Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Jake Cullick, Margaret Owens, Nan Dobson, Ethel Kramer, Buddy Stroud, Margaret Eubank, Bill Keenan, Marie Wolf, Carolyn Lunny, Katy Castaneda, Lester Moore, Dottie Graham, Peggy O'Neill, Clint Teale, Claude Blackburn, Betty Blaxton, Horace Alvord, Mary Smith New, Billy Booth, Bob Eatman, Charlotte Newsom, E. W. Harris, Mickey McCutchen, Leroy Scott, Jessica Harris, Lucille Webb, Carolyn Canon.

School Spirit

It has long been apparent that the vast majority of the students of Centenary College have an indifferent attitude toward nearly all forms of school activities. Even when Centenary was riding the wave of football triumph it was the people of Shreveport and not the student body who displayed the most enthusiasm. In the last two years when the football team suffered more defeats than victories the student backing was almost nil—and what is worse, no one except the city supporters seemed to care much whether the team won or lost.

In other athletic fields the student support was even less than nil. It seems amazing that an announcement could be made in a chapel assembly of more than five hundred people that their school baseball team was going to play a bitter rival that afternoon and then not more than five or six people attend the game. This demonstrates a deplorable lack of school spirit.

Not only in athletics do the students demonstrate a lack of interest but also in all other activities as well. The last stunt night drew very few people, other than those in the stunts and a few of their friends. In the last three years there has never been more than a handful of students at an intercollegiate debate—frequently no one attends at all. Imagine the impression of students who have come all the way from Florida to debate Centenary College when they discover that the only sign of Centenary's students they can find are the two boys whom they have to debate. The last band concert was attended by a pitifully small audience. Example after example can be given that demonstrates that the Centenary student body will support nothing unless compelled or superficially enticed.

No stimulation from without can arouse and advance that which hibernates from within. As long as this situation exists Centenary's progress is doubtful.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

What is this we hear about HUTCH late-dating with CAROLYN CLAY? We thought you were pinned, Hutch; and also we thought Carolyn was supposed to be in love with BILL PATTON. Also, we would like to know how it feels to be caught?

Saw KAY BABY CANON and CYRIL WILDE together. We thought this romance was over for good.

At the gym the other night the famed Lt. Murphy said, "Hum-m!" as EMILY PROTHRO walked by. BERT, you had better wake up and realize what you have.

HAMNER says he and BIDDIE BODDIE are just "buddies." BIDDIE doesn't say. We wonder.

VANDEGAER was going to see CLEO nearly every night; now he doesn't go over there any more. Rumor has it that she is to be married soon.

Congratulations to RUTH WOODARD. Wedding bells will be ringing in the very near future.

Also congratulations to DICK

NORTON. It seems he took the step about a month ago.

Just what is it between "LITTLE WEBB" and "LITTLE TOM"? They are seen together quite often or are we only seeing things?

MARTHA HART threw her LT. overboard for AL CURRY. What is it that he has that gets the girls—his car, maybe?

NORMAN ROBERTSON and BOBBY LINDSAY had a word battle Saturday night. They just can't get along together, so maybe they had better call it quits for a while. Don't know who thought it up but the idea of the "jam session" on the KA front porch Sunday was pretty nifty.

GERRY BAIRD had a date with GUS HOYER for the dance Saturday night. This was quite a surprise for us. What will the outcome be?

MYRIAN HOLLOWAY is going to N. O. this week-end to see "CHUCK." We see her "old flame" is back from the army this week.

Why isn't more attention paid to KATHRYN HOOPER? We think she is an awfully nice person.

New Defense Classes Initiated

Last Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the science building two new classes on the engineering defense training program held their first regular meetings. The newly formed classes are industrial; organic chemistry and office management. This was an addition to the courses now in progress—elementary and advanced technical radio.

The Centenary defense training program consists of college level courses designed to provide training for men and women to meet shortages in defense industry, military services and civilian occupations. Inaugurated at the local college in October, 1941, Centenary is one of but six colleges in Louisiana approved to carry out this program, and the only liberal arts college in the group.

Present courses are part-time, meeting from four to nine hours each week. An intensive ten-weeks course in surveying is expected to start in early summer, and a similar course in engineering drawing is planned for the same time.

The staff of instructors includes: Dr. J. B. Entrikin, Dr. L. A. Thayer, chemistry; C. R. McKnight, R. S. See, T. P. Staggs, office management; Dr. F. E. Lowance, W. G. Banks, C. H. Maddox, W. E. Antony, O. S. Droke, T. A. Tinsley, E. W. Cook, M. C. Crew, Quitman Williams, radio.

Dr. F. E. Lowance is director of defense training and C. R. McKnight is night school director.

Apparatus has been loaned to the program by local broadcasting companies, trade school and a number of radio amateurs.

The fellow who discovered hay fever was both affirmative and negative. Sometimes the "eyes" have it, and sometimes the "nose."

Overheard in Colonial Hall

"At first it was love. He fascinated me—and I kissed him."

"Yeah, I know, and then he began to unfascinate you—and you slapped him."

Draftees, Notice!

(Scratching): How do you get rid of these awful cooties?

That's easy. Take a bath in and rub down with alcohol. The cooties get drunk and kill each other throwing rocks.

Buy U. S. War Savings Bonds!!

NAVY ANNOUNCEMENT TO COLLEGE FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES 17^{THRU} 19

You want to serve your country!
Why not serve where your college training will do the most good?

Under the Navy's newest plan, you can enlist now and continue in college. If you make a good record, you may qualify within two years to become a Naval Officer—on the sea or in the air.

Who may qualify

80,000 men per year will be accepted under this new plan. If you are between the ages of 17 and 19 inclusive and can meet Navy physical standards, you can enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You will be in the Navy. But until you have finished two calendar years, you will remain in college, taking regular college courses under your own professors. Your studies will emphasize mathematics, physics and physical training.

After you have successfully completed 1½ calendar years of work, you will be given a written examination prepared by the Navy. This examination is competitive. It is designed to select the best men for training as Naval Officers.

How to become an Officer

If you rank sufficiently high in the examination and can meet the physical standards, you will have your choice of two courses—each leading to an officer's commission:

1. You may volunteer for training as an Aviation Officer. In this case you will be permitted to finish at least the second calendar year of your college work, after which you will be ordered to active duty for training to become an officer-pilot. Approximately 20,000 men a year will be accepted for Naval Aviation.

2. Or you will be selected for training as a Deck or Engineering Officer. In this case you will be allowed to continue your college work until you have received your degree.

After graduation you will be ordered to active duty for training to become a Deck or Engineering Officer. Approximately 15,000 men a year will be accepted.

If you do not qualify for special officer's training, you will be allowed to finish the second calendar year of college, after which you will be ordered to active duty at a Naval Training Station as Apprentice Seaman.

Those who fail to pass their college work at any time may be ordered to active duty at once as Apprentice Seamen.

Your pay starts with active duty.

Here's a real opportunity. A chance to enlist in your country's service now without giving up your college training... a chance to prove by that same training that you are qualified to be an officer in the Navy.

DON'T WAIT... ACT TODAY

1. Take this announcement to the Dean of your college.
2. Or go to the nearest Navy Recruiting Station.
3. Or mail coupon below for FREE BOOK giving full details.

U. S. Navy Recruiting Bureau, Div. V-1.
30th Street and 3rd Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Please send me your free book on the Navy Officer Training plan for college freshmen and sophomores. I am a student ☐, a parent of a student ☐ who is _____ years old attending _____ College at _____.

Name _____

Street _____

City & State _____

A. Webb to Play H. Crawford for Girls' 'Minton Title

Azalie Webb beat Leiber, McKee and Peyton, and will play Harriette Crawford for the girls' badminton championship. Crawford reached the finals by defeating Ward, Breithaupt, and Hill. In earlier rounds, McKee beat Babin, Peyton beat Dickson and Houston, Houston beat Woodard, and Hill beat Arthur and New.

In the doubles Webb and Peyton beat Oxford and Humphrey, and Prothro and Hendirks, and will play Hill and Ward in the finals. Hill and Ward beat McKee and Blaxton, Mulkey and Phillips, and M. & A. Trosclair. Porthro and Hendricks had previously beaten Dickson and Stiles, and Smith and Thibodeaux, and M. & A. Trosclair beat Fullilove and Matthews, Crawford and Tippet.

University of Wisconsin's new farm short course dormitory will be known as W. A. Henry hall, in honor of the first dean of the university's college of agriculture.

Dr. Hezleton E. Simmons, president of the University of Akron, is the new president of the Association of Urban Universities.

Lehigh's (Bethlehem, Pa.) registration for 1942 is 1,942.

Centenary's Successful Socialites

"How may I become a Centenary Socialite?"—many muse with consuming desire—at last an answer, a formula, a rule for social triumph. No one can doubt the authenticity of the code to be laid down for any one may observe it working successfully each school day. A great many pages may be written about the general peculiarities of the elite. For instance, one might note the extreme care taken to gently snub the wrong people and cultivate the right people.

By right people is not necessarily meant intelligent people or accomplished people—but just the right people.

Also might be mentioned the rare ability to oscillate with amazing and inexplicable rapidity from studied aloofness to shocking familiarity—shocking more from its unexpectedness than from its extent.

For the sake of clarity generalities will be avoided and the rule of conduct will be confined to a particular place—referred to as the SUB. The formula then will at this time be limited to include actions only at that haven of the upper crust—the aforementioned SUB.

The first rule is by all means to ignore the muscle-bound ping-pong rabble. To lower oneself to fraternize with a bouncing cellulose sphere is definitely taboo. Furthermore, to play bridge is to place oneself irretrievably into the background and into that shunned class of semi-intellectuals.

So much concerning what not to do—now, what should be done.

The best policy is to take a chair in a group of already established socialites and—sit—just sit. To look more than half awake is bad taste, to study is fatal, to speak seriously of the war is to trample down with utter selfish disregard the more aesthetic senses of the select group, to offer someone an informative suggestion is to be blandly disregarded, to tell a mild joke is to bring down an avalanche of sneers and scornful glances. In summation—to be animate is to be a bore, to be bored and inanimate is to be successful.

Those few who have feelings fortified with reinforced steel and concrete may, upon attracting somebody's attention, make a few vague statements, being careful either to make some observations about another's private affairs (true or untrue) or to speak on some subject of no possible importance, carefully emphasizing the most insignificant portion. If this bold sortee has been accomplished without one having been either frozen to death or fatally pierced by pupil-propelled knives, one may then lapse into a sort of hibernation.

This is all there is to it. It requires no brains, only enough brawn to remain firmly planted in one's seat and enough self control to smother all troublesome desires to do something.

Since some have had such good luck employing the formula for success that has been prescribed, one may trust that any who wish to follow in their footsteps, may with rigorous application to the afore-set rules meet with the same good fortune. And having broken into the social set, who knows but what extreme satisfaction may be found in the daily list of commoners snooted, hours sat out, nothing said, and admiration received.

It is the hope of the author that so many take up the struggle for social supremacy that the demand for chairs in the SUB be increased ten-fold, that the ping-pong tables collapse from neglect, that bridge become a lost art and that time be measured only by the discomfort of constant sitting.

CENTENARY WITHOUT THE SHUEY

A tepid tear my eye doth blur,
Misty memories 'bout me stir.
A clammy calm pervades the place,
The shadows knit a mourning lace.
A weighty curtain of despair
Doth any brighter motion snare.
In every melancholy face
Affliction runs a winning race.
The sobbing breeze doth sadly
moan,
And each in sorrow stands alone.
It even seems the stately trees
Would crumble to their knotty knees.
Sunlight rendered unto twilight—
For from our midst has taken flight
The nucleus of our delight.
A cheerless chill in consequence
Is mixed with milky gloom so dense
And moist one might soiled vestments rinse.

JOAKS and STUPH

"I had rather a bad fall last night; remained unconscious for nearly eight hours."

"Good gracious, and walking around as usual today?"

"Yes, it didn't injure me in the least; the fact is that I enjoyed it."

"Wonderful. How did you fall?"

"Asleep."

"Are you sure," asked the old woman, "that this century plant will bloom in a hundred years?"

"Positive, ma'am," answered the florist. "If it doesn't, bring it right back."

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
John Woods, President.....2-8296
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomee Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Foster Philpaw, President.....7-2554
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, Preside it.....7-3744

Teacher: Children, there will be only a half-day of school this morning.

Johnny (in back seat): Whoop-pee! Hurray!

Teacher: Silence! We'll have the other half this afternoon.

The sailor was recounting his experiences to a dear old lady.

Old Lady: What rank did you hold?

Sailor: Ship's optician, lady.

Old Lady: I didn't know there was such a rank. What did you do?

Sailor: I scooped the eyes out of the potatoes.

Back from your vacation, eh? Feel any change?

Not a penny.

I draw the line at kissing,
She said with accent fine,
But he was a football player
And so he crossed the line.

Geology Club (Geology)

Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Buddy Kinnebrew, Head
Cheerleader.....7-2554

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Jimmy Harris, President.....2-4208
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chptr.
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Bill Wellborn, President.....2-1667

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
Martha Hart, President.....7-7430
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Gerry Baird, President.....7-9605
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9391

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

"Now I can't forget
the name of Spring's
No. 1 Model!"

We're feeling pretty chesty, because we've got "Dartmouth" Varsity-Town's new ticket pocket jacket, in Striped Cheviots, and American Tweeds. Come in . . . slip off your coat . . . slip into "Dartmouth" . . . and you'll be marked for life as a man who knows his style.

27.50 to 35.00

Other smart suits,
$22.50 up

M. LEVY CO.
Shreveport Since 1857

The time to take care of
your hair is while you
have it.

For intelligent and beneficial
service on hair-grooming—

CAMERON BROS.
BARBER SHOP
307 Milam St.

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

BILLY BOOTH

We have selected as Gentleman of the Week the student chosen by members of Alpha Chi as the most outstanding freshman—William M. Booth (Billy says his middle name is "a military secret").

Although Billy has only been at Centenary for seven months, he has, in this short time, gained the respect and admiration of all his fellow students. He made the highest scholastic average of any boy in the freshman class; he is a member of the freshman-sophomore honorary fraternity, Alpha Sigma Pi, a member of Kollege Kapers, a trumpeter in the band (not to mention Vernon McKnight's "wildcats"), a reporter for The Conglomerate, and president of the Kappa Alpha pledge group. He is, we have been told, quite a "math shark" and was given an "A-plus" on his report card by Mr. Banks.

In addition to being in extra-curricular activities and making top grades, Billy goes to all the school dances and is popular with the girls.

One day at a Kollege Kapers rehearsal Billy amazed Messrs. Aubrey McClellan and C. W. Williams by showing them what an ear he had for music. He turned his head away and could tell them any note sounded on the piano.

We regret that Billy will not return to Centenary next year. He plans to become a mechanical engineer and is going to study at Rice Institute.

Nevertheless, the single year he will have spent at Centenary has been very eventful—for the college and for him. Billy has three more years of college life ahead of him, and we feel that the last three will even surpass the first in honor, popularity, and achievement.

Boy: Say, pop, how do you say "people" in Latin?

Father: I don't know, son.

Boy: "Populi."

Father: How dare you tell your father he's lying!

We've heard that college-bred means a four-year loaf made with dad's dough. Some crust, eh?

Buy U. S. War Savings Stamps!

For diamond rings, gifts for graduation, and all other occasions. For the BEST in jewelry and watch repairs

SEE

LEONARD'S
320 WARD BLDG.

"Eyesight Is Priceless,
Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

We've been seeing JUSTINE HOLMES and BILLY BOOTH around together quite a bit here lately.

G. L. BLAXTON has been seen courting the TROSCLAIR TWINS—they must be slipping!

BILL KEENAN has a rather novel tie . . . we mean the one with

HOW TO FLUNK

Ten Commandments For Alienating Teachers

(These rules were compiled by a sadder, wiser Conglomerate staff after the honor roll was posted. You may make use of the advice as freely as you will.)

1. Thou shalt always be late for class.
2. Thou shalt always misplace thy book, and create a disturbance looking for it.
3. Thou shalt sprawl in thy chair as if thou hadst no spine.
4. Thou shalt look constantly bored.
5. Thou shalt always study the wrong assignment.
6. Thou shalt be continually looking at thy watch as if thou didst not believe it to be right.
7. Thou shalt shake thy head in the negative when called on for a recitation as if the question were too infantile to answer.
8. Thou shalt carry on thy own conversation; the professor never says anything important.
9. Thou shalt stare into space or count the blocks in the ceiling during a lecture.
10. Thou shalt gather up thy books five minutes before the bell rings and prepare to make a mad dash for the door.

For more than just a Haircut we recommend

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.
L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

We're the Ones to See About the Flowers for Your Dances

BROADMOOR FLORAL SHOP

3902 Youree

Phone 7-2727 - Mrs. Sara Tully

"Flowers for All Occasions"

CAMPUS CAMERA

all the names on it—JOHN WOODS, JOE STEPHENS, etc.

Saw JANE BARTLETT and JOHN WOODS sitting out on a bridge the other afternoon. Wonder if it's love! You know he wrote a poem about her called "CALAMITY JANE BARTLETT."

The boys of Centenary really have an appreciation of correct tennis form! A veritable mob gathered at the HAGGARD-LEWIS tennis match (they wore shorts, too!).

"SLINK MINK" GIBBS is still the same moon shark he always has been.

JESSICA HARRIS and ——— sure do make a swell couple.

Glenn Wessels, noted artist and teacher, has been appointed assistant professor of fine arts at Washington State College.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Belated nominations for the popularity contest: Best looking boy, "DUCK" DRAKE. Best dressed boy, "DUCK" DRAKE. Best liked boy, "DUCK" DRAKE. Best boy athlete, "DUCK" DRAKE. Signed, "DUCK" DRAKE.

K. J. looks quite human these days, now that you can see her face.

LETTI LEE PHILLIPS is strictly boy crazy. We wonder how long poor HOY will last?

Speaking of prize chumps, did you know that DICK NORTON has been married six weeks?

Seen at the Cavalier Brawl

"PIG" CONNELL, for our money, this village's smoothest hooper. Glad she's well again.

"SOLLIE" chumping off with LUCILLE WEBB. The poor guy doesn't know when he's licked.

"SMOOTHIE" SCOTT, the blackout bum, squiring that sophisticated ten-year-old, FRANCES LONG. Poor BLAXTON, she was a good woman while she lasted.

"WOLF" TEACLE on the loose. CLAIRE, following BUDDIE with her eyes, when she wasn't dancing with him. Poor kid, she's got it bad, and That Ain't Good!

MR. OVERDYKE passed his physical for the navy. Maybe he thinks he is going to be drafted.

PHIL CLIFTON, where is ANNA MARIE BARLOW? Or is ROB first these days?

Uncle Boykin's Philosophy

Sistren, don't try to fathom too much of man's past. A man's heart is like a frog pond. If a woman gits to stirrin' round too deep she's liable to stir up mud.

Accordin' to Br'er Job, a woman kin make or break a man, and brethren, that am the truth. Some women acts like one of these here water works plants and kind of clarifies the mud, but there's others what don't do nothin' but dredge up history from the bottom of a man's nature, and then sit on the bank and cry because they can't admire theyselves in the waters.

FOR VICTORY

BUY UNITED STATES DEFENSE BONDS STAMPS

WAR NEEDS MONEY!

It will cost money to defeat our enemy aggressors. Your government calls on you to help now.

Buy Defense Bonds or Stamps today. Make every pay day Bond Day by participating in the Pay-roll Savings Plan.

Bonds cost $18.75 and up. Stamps are 10¢, 25¢ and up.

The help of every individual is needed.

Do your part by buying your share every pay day.

Clemson College's physical plant has risen in value from $250,000 to $6,000,000.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

More Pleasure for You

MORE ARMS for AMERICA

We Pay More Than
$2,000,000 A WEEK
into the U. S. Treasury for the Tax Stamps
necessary for one week's output of Chesterfields

Here's what this would buy
for defense in one year:

4,160 105-mm. HOWITZERS
or
52,000 COMPLETE
FIELD KITCHENS
or 115,555 3-PASSENGER
COMBAT CARS

BUY U.S. DEFENSE BONDS
AND STAMPS TODAY

WITH MEN OF STEEL, building our ships and tanks and planes, it's Chesterfield. Everybody who smokes them likes them.

There's satisfaction in knowing that the 6½¢ revenue tax you pay on every pack of twenty cigarettes is doing its bit for Uncle Sam

And Chesterfield's superior blend of the world's best cigarette tobaccos has everything it takes to satisfy a smoker. It gives you a smoke that is definitely Milder, far COOLER and lots BETTER-TASTING. Get yourself a pack of Chesterfields today.

Smoke the cigarette that SATISFIES.

CHESTERFIELDS follow the flag. On every front you'll find them giving our fighting men more pleasure with their milder, better taste.

RUTH HAVILAND and SUSAN CLARKE, of the Women Flyers of America. With the alert young women flyers of America who are doing their part in the National Defense picture...it's Chesterfield. They Satisfy.

ON THE NATION'S FRONT

It's Chesterfield

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, April 24, 1942.

Number 25

Named Sponsor

Above is Miss Patricia Harper, announced by the yearbook staff as winner of the annual Yoncopin sponsor contest at Centenary College. Miss Harper is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and Alpha Sigma Pi, honorary scholastic group.

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal.

FORECAST

Have you ever lost anything somewhere on the campus?

Yes, we know that that is a foolish question because all of us have at some time or other lost something on the campus or in a class room. What we would like to suggest, however, is that whenever you happen to see anything that looks like it has somebody looking for it, why not pick it up and return it to the business office, where the loser can find it in time to turn in that English theme which probably is in it, assuming, of course, it is a notebook or reasonable facsimile.

Nothing is more discouraging that to misplace a book and look all over the place for it, when it would be a simple matter for someone, upon finding it, to hand it in at the office.

This would be an excellent habit for all of us to develop, since it is a lot easier to ask at the office for a book than to look in every desk in South and Jackson Halls.

So, with a little cooperation, think of all the trouble, worry and bother we can save each other.

ALPHA XI DELTAS NOTE FOUNDERS' DAY WITH PARTY

The Alpha Xi Delta's celebrated their forty-ninth birthday as a national sorority Friday night at the sorority house on Centenary campus when the alumnae chapter entertained with the yearly Founder's day party.

A unique broadcast was staged—broadcasting to the 33 states which claim Alpha Xi Delta chapters.

I nominated _____ for _____ of the student body. (Signed): _____

Bartlett Named "Miss Knockout"

A Plea for Unity

"I don't like him."

"Why?"

"Because he is a K.A." (or a Kappa Sigma or a Lambda Chi Alpha.)

"I don't like her."

"Why?"

"Because she is a Zeta" (or a Chi Omega or an Alpha Xi Delta).

Although the above conversation might not be often audible around school—yet it governs the actions and thoughts of many of the students as gravity governs the fall of an apple. It is a very unobservant person at Centenary College who does not daily note the deep, festering wedges that have been driven between him and his fellow students. It is not unusual for rivalry to exist between certain groups in a school—but the bitter and hostile attitude that fraternities and sororities hold toward one another should never exist. Organizations have been formed on the campus to bring the students closer together—yet the members of each fraternity and sorority have developed an altogether unreasonably prejudiced attitude toward the members of other fraternities and sororities.

It is next to impossible for a student entering Centenary to be on the same friendly terms with all of his fellow classmates. Each freshman must choose a limited group with which to fraternize and in so doing makes enemies of others he has never met and may never know.

The existence of sororities and fraternities is justifiable in that a closer bond of friendship is knit between the members in each group. In other words, fraternities and sororities were created principally to develop friendships. It is an inconsistent and backward step, therefore, to become, because of one's membership in a sorority or fraternity, an enemy to the members of the others and with whom under ordinary circumstances one might be the best of friends.

There is a distinct difference between friendly rivalry and antagonistic competition. The first should exist here—the second does. The fraternities and sororities, instead of all pulling together toward some noteworthy goal, are all pulling in different directions, each one nullifying the efforts of the others—the result being agitated stagnation.

In the few remaining weeks of school all should endeavor to remember that we are after all the members of a common institution and that our country is engaged in a conflict that makes our controversies here at school seem infinitesimal. In that conflict we are pledged and resolved to give all that each possesses to defend the rights and lives of our fellow students—regardless of sorority or fraternity membership. There is no reason why we should live apart when we are willing to die together.

Centenary Graduates Get Master's Degrees at Louisiana State U.

According to a bulletin which has just been released by the Louisiana State University, ten graduates of Centenary College took their Master's degrees from the university graduate school during the past year.

The range of study represented by these graduates is wide but does not include graduates in medicine, law, engineering, library science, or other professional schools.

The Centenary graduates who

(Continued on Page Four)

OUTSTANDING FRESHMEN

1942—Billy Booth
1941—Charlotte Newsom
1940—Lanford DeGeneres
1939—Charles Knight
1938—George Hearne

TO THE JUNIORS, NOTICE!

All students who expect to graduate next year (1942-43) either in May or August should come by the Registrar's Office immediately and fill out a card, thereby officially registering as a candidate for degree.

Aufait Elects Officers

On Monday night at 7:30 in the Student Union Building, Aufait elected its officers for the coming year. Kathryn Hooper was elected president; Carolyn Lunny, vice-president; Shirley Eagan, secretary; Aline Breithaupt, treasurer; Mary Friend, historian; Jeannette Craber, chaplain; Betty Jane Autrey, sergeant-at-arms, and Harriet Lieber, reporter.

This is a very promising lead for this organization and many plans are already underway for its future activities.

'Miss Knockout'

Beautiful Jane Bartlett (above) has been named "Miss Knockout" by the editorial staff of The Conglomerate in a spirited election. Selection was on the basis of beauty, personality, and other qualifications of being an ideal co-ed.

—Photo courtesy S'port Journal.

Pictured above is Billy Booth who received the Alpha Chi award for the outstanding freshman. Booth is a member of Alpha Sigma Pi, freshman-sophomore scholastic fraternity, a member of the band, a trumpeter in Kollege Kapers, a reporter for The Conglomerate, and president of the Kappa Alpha pledges. He made the highest scholastic average of any boy in the freshman class.

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Times.

Seniors Are Feted With Dinner Party

Friday evening, April 17, members of the Centenary College graduating class were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Pierce Cline at a banquet in the Student Union Building on the campus.

Artistic arrangements of purple iris were placed at intervals along the banquet table and place cards marked the covers for the guests who sat together according to their major subject.

NOTICE, PROSPECTIVE TEACHERS

Senior men and women who expect to receive a teacher-training certificate at the close of this year are required to fill out an application for this certificate at once. Blanks may be obtained from the registrar's office, and prospective teachers should take care of this matter immediately.

CHOICE MADE BY CONGLOMERATE STAFF EXPERTS

Cuddlesome Cutie Contains Complete Co-ed Characteristics.

The editorial staff of The Conglomerate, not to be outdone by the Yoncopin, and various and sundry other beauty polls, has chosen Jane Bartlett to take her rightful place among the lovelies on the campus, giving her the official title of "Miss Knockout," a title which, needless to say, was not awarded because of any pugilistic tendencies. Henceforth this luscious-looking cuddle cutie will be known to sighing swains with amorous aspirations as "Miss Knockout."

Since migrating to Shreveport from wherever Mansfield is, Jane has gained much attention and popularity as one of Louisiana's most delightful resources. The selection was made on the basis of beauty, personality, vivacity, friendliness and similar considerations which go to make up the ideal co-ed. In addition to making above average grades, Jane is active in the Chi Omega sorority, being president of the pledge group.

In selecting Miss Bartlett the so-called studious members of the editorial staff who have been accused of being automatons offer compelling refutation to such sly sabotage.

Dixon and Harris Invade Arkansas

From Shreveport to the north, week before last on the sixth of April, two Centenary freshmen traveled to represent the school in debate upon the rostrums of the colleges of Arkansas.

While in "the Land of Opportunity" (as travel folders term the state) these debaters met the team of Henderson State Teachers' College in Arkadelphia, that of the College of the Ozarks in Clarksville, and the Arkansas University debaters in Fayetteville. There was a decision in only one of these debates, and it was awarded to the Centenary debaters.

James Dixon and E. W. Harris (bless their hearts!) supported the affirmative side of the proposition, "Resolved: That the Democracies Should Form a Federation to Establish and Maintain the Eight Churchill-Roosevelt Peace Points," in all of the debates.

There was one very interesting sidelight to the trip. In Van Buren, Arkansas, home of Bob Burns, an elderly gentleman boarded the bus and sat down beside the young travelers, asking where they were from.

James Dixon replied, "Why, we're from Shreveport." The old man came back with, "That's in Louisiana, ain't it?" When he had been assured that it was, he settled smugly back in his seat and nodded knowingly.

"Yep, I knowed a feller in Van Buren that went to Shreveport once."

IMPORTANT

Nominations for student body officers must be in by Tuesday.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

Member

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

JOE STEPHENS, Editor

Managing Editor.....Roland Achee
Associate Editor.....Mary Foster Peyton
Poetry Editor.....John Woods
Sports Editor.....Arthur Herold
News Editor.....Patricia Harper
Campus Editor.....Ellen Eastham
Feature Editor.....Barbara Harris
Social Editor.....Mabel Boddie
Circulation Manager.....Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Jake Cullick, Margaret Owens, Nan Dobson, Ethel Kramer, Buddy Stroud, Margaret Eubank, Bill Keenan, Marie Wolf, Carolyn Lunny, Katy Castaneda, Lester Moore, Dottie Graham, Peggy O'Neill, Clint Teacle, Claude Blackburn, Betty Blaxton, Horace Alvord, Mary Smith New, Billy Booth, Bob Eatman, Charlotte Newsom, E. W. Harris, Mickey McCutchen, Leroy Scott, Jessica Harris, Lucille Webb, Carolyn Canon.

Solution Needed

"The world needs friendships, not battleships." That statement was made before the Nazi doctrine of racial hatred and blind allegiance to the state circled the earth, before the government of Tokyo instituted new policies of aggression. Today we live in a world of hate and strife. In fact, there has probably been no other period in the history of the world when hatred between nations was so universal.

There must be some solution for the world's ills. Surely a feeling of friendship and respect for the rights of other men would help restore world order. We feel certain that the majority of people in the countries at war did not want to fight. This war was forced on the world by a few men.

Differences in language may be one of the fundamental causes of war. If all men spoke the same language, they would be in a better position to understand the actions and beliefs of their fellow men. For two centuries there was a universal peace within the Roman Empire. This peace was, in no small part, due to the spread of the Latin language. Therefore, we believe that the study of languages should be given more attention in all the countries of the world.

Perhaps some day there will be a Utopia, or the kind of settlement that Coleridge and Southey dreamed of having on the banks of the Susquehanna, but until that day there will be international war and hatred. When one looks at history the future of man may seem hopeless, but man's history shows the gradual change of society from the family to the tribe, the tribe to the city, and the city to the nation, and with the rise of man's intelligence, he may some day realize Tennyson's glorious dream:

"For I dipt into the Future, far as human eye could see, Saw the Vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be;

* * *

Till the war-drums throbbed no longer, and the battle-flags were furled
In the Parliament of Man, the Federation of the World."

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

THINGS I DON'T UNDERSTAND—or do I?

Cile Miller and Lawrence May
Betty Blaxton and Jimmy Harris
Felice Hicks and Mink Gibbs
Ann Burnette and Barron Johns
Jimmie Thibodeaux and George Hearne
Jimmie Thibodeaux and Jere Overdyke
Bruce Williams and Bruce Williams
Frances Long and "Dog" Sullivan
Carolyn Coburn and Jim Whitten and Martha Braswell
Margo Owens and Campus Flournoy
Lil Turner and Harold Sumrall
Betty Huckaby and Jack (I don't get it, do you?) Keenan
Carolyn Williams and Charles Beaird
Betty Gordon Smith and Murf O'Neal
Foster Hamner
Foster Hamner and Biddie Boddie
Merrie Fowler
Delenna Yancy and Jack Elgin

Claire Tinnin and Buddie "Brew" Kinnebrew
Ellen Eastham and Al Richardson
Alice O'Kelley and Irl "Ice-man" Harper
And last but not least—Albert "Bone Jower" Trickett

Merely as a suggestion with no hard feelings—why don't some of the students of the Music School change their attitude? Just between us girls, they are getting just like the "Cultured Class" that attend L.S.U. . . . for example, Billy "Pain" Alston.

Philip Day and Philip Day's technique—come on, kid, and get wise to yourself.

Another suggestion—Have you noticed the marked change in several of the Exalted Big Dippers and their Right Hand Men since election day in the fraternities? This goes for some of the "Sisters" as well.

I wonder if Jackie Keenan and Cyril Wilde have had that "Peace Conference" yet? Also along the same line, what was that remark about the "Bush" last Saturday night?

Why doesn't Coburn hang around the SUB any more? Surely you can find someone to take his place.

Ask Jean Maynard if she has gotten her ring yet. Everybody else has one, it seems.

Incidentally, Mildred Davenport got a mighty nice one not so very long ago—nice goin'.

You might ask Edwin Whited why he spends so much time around the Geology Lab., especially on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Could it be that he is beating the instructor's time and I don't mean with fossils.

Why don't some of youse guys investigate Nan Dobson? From here it looks like something should be done. The same goes for Sydney Skinner. Look again, fellows—a blonde and a brunette—take your pick, but don't stam pede.

And while we are on the subject—some of youse gals might take a second glance at John Lowe, or does Jessica have this all sewed up?

Mental note—Place: Colonial Hall; Person: Billie Lovelady.

Why don't Warrick Casanova Dickson and Peggy O'Neill associate with someone besides Warrick and Peggy? They might be nice people for all we know. And confidentially, have you noticed that everywhere that Peggy goes, Warrick is sure to follow—about three feet behind?

Among those home from the army were Lt. and Mrs. McIlwain (Mal and Jo), Mac Krentel and Charles Morrison. And of course, there was Nip Shuey—gad!!

It is being rumored that there will be a big Open House at the Chi Upsilon Beta house Saturday night. Everyone is invited. If you don't have a date, come anyway. You can probably get one after you get there, from what I hear. The hosts are to be those well-known Southern Gentlemen of Wine, Women and Song—Hearne, Sullivan and Flournoy.

And speaking of the Cub—oops! We forgot. That's censored!

Flash! Another has gone and done it—almost—Bootie Babie went down to New Orleans and came back with a ring! Congratulations!

Who was Dorothy Ann Morehead waiting on after Cencoe meeting last Sunday afternoon? "And he was pinned, too!" Tsk!!!

DON'T QUIT COLLEGE

if you are 17^{THRU} 19 and want to become a Naval Officer!

You can serve your country best by acting on this new Navy Plan now!

YOU WANT to fight for your country! Are you willing to work for it? To toughen yourself physically? To train yourself mentally for a real job in the United States Navy? If you are, the Navy wants you to enlist now. You don't have to quit college. You can stay in college, continue your studies to prepare for active duty in the air or on the sea.

And your college will help you do it! In cooperation with the Navy, it offers all freshmen and sophomores who are seventeen and not yet twenty, special training that may win for you the coveted Wings of Gold of a Naval Aviation Officer or a commission as a Deck or Engineering Officer.

How to Become an Officer

To get this special Navy training, you enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman. Then you may continue in college, but you will include special courses stressing physical development, mathematics and physics. After you successfully complete 1½ calendar years in college, you will be given a classification test.

Aviation Officers

If you qualify by this test, you may volunteer to become a Naval Aviation Officer. In this case, you will be permitted to finish the second calendar year of college work before you start your training to become a Flying Officer.

However, at any time during this two-year period, you may have the option to take immediately the prescribed examination for Aviation Officer...and, if successful, be assigned for Aviation training. Students who fail in their college courses or who withdraw from college will also have the privilege of taking the Aviation examination. Applicants who fail to qualify in this test will be ordered to active duty as Apprentice Seamen.

Deck or Engineering Officers

Those who qualify in the classification test and do not volunteer for Aviation will be selected for training to be Deck or Engineering Officers. In that case, you will continue your college program until you receive your bachelor's degree, provided you maintain the established university standards.

Those whose grades are not high enough to qualify them for Deck or Engineering Officer training will be permitted to finish their second calendar year of college. After this, they will be ordered to duty as Apprentice Seamen, but because of their college training, they will have a better chance for rapid advancement. At any time, if a student should fail in his college courses, he may be ordered to active duty as an Apprentice Seaman.

Pay starts with active duty.

It's a real challenge! It's a real opportunity! Make every minute count by doing something about this new Navy plan today.

DON'T WAIT...ACT TODAY

1. Take this announcement to the Dean of your college.
2. Or go to the nearest Navy Recruiting Station.
3. Or mail coupon below for FREE BOOK giving full details.

U. S. Navy Recruiting Bureau, Div. V-1
30th Street and 3rd Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Please send me your free book on the Navy Officer training plan for college freshmen and sophomores. I am a student ☐, a parent of a student ☐ who is _____ years old attending _____ College at _____

Name _____

Address _____

City & State _____

Robertson Defeats Blaxton

Norman Robertson was crowned queen of Centenary's ping-pong players for 1941-42, following her defeat of Betty Blaxton in the finals. The match was bitterly contested all the way, and the play would have done credit to any ping-pong players in the school. It was Norman's amazing variety of shots and particularly her angle shots which finally brought victory by scores of 21-19, 18-21, and 21-19.

FOR VICTORY

BUY UNITED STATES DEFENSE BONDS AND STAMPS

WAR NEEDS MONEY!

It will cost money to defeat our enemy aggressors. Your government calls on you to help now.

Buy Defense Bonds or Stamps today. Make every pay day Bond Day by participating in the Pay-roll Savings Plan.

Bonds cost $18.75 and up. Stamps are 10¢, 25¢ and up.

The help of every individual is needed.

Do your part by buying your share every pay day.

The time to take care of your hair is while you have it.

For intelligent and beneficial service on hair-grooming—

CAMERON BROS.
BARBER SHOP
307 Milam St.

CENTENARY'S WAR EFFORTS TOLD ON AIR

"Centenary at War," a new weekly series designed to acquaint the public with the part being played by Centenary College in the war effort, made its debut over KWKH Wednesday, April 22, at 8:45 p.m., with 10 members of the faculty appearing on the initial broadcast.

Included on the first program were Dean Hardin, Dr. F. E. Lowance, Dr. John B. Entriakin, Robert See, Claude Hamel, W. G. Banks, Don Brown, Dr. D. Overdyke, Ralph Squires and Coach Jake Hanna.

The series detailed exactly what the school is doing in the war effort as regards both manpower and training. Centenary students of the current year are now fighting on all front with various branches of the armed forces and the college itself is utilizing its facilities to the maximum to train specialists for military and defense industry work.

Over 200 adults are taking courses designed and financed by the war department to produce specialists needed in the war effort and new courses are being started every week. Volunteer instructors are working under the direction of the school's war personnel. Physics and chemistry are literally working day and night.

Dr. F. E. Lowance, professor of physics and engineering, who himself holds a reserve commission in the United States Navy, is institutional representative in charge of engineering, science, and management war training under the United States office of education.

Many of the courses offered are available to the average citizen who will become acquainted with the entire setup through KWKH's new series.

Slogan of the propagandist: After all is said and done, there is always more to be said.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

CAMPUS CAMERA

WE WONDER—

How it feels to be thrown off a school bus, eh, "TOOKIE"?

How many carats that ring that BEAIRD gave "FAT CAROLYN" weighed?

Where AZALIE will be a week from today?

How JUSTINE got so friendly in seventeen years?

Why "DUCK" and "HAPPY" can't ever get a date?

What liar told JUDSON he was a big-shot?

Who just missed getting in trouble with dorm authorities Saturday night?

How "GOONIE" got so much "LOWE-down" rhythm?

How the KA's got the SUB to look as good as it did Saturday night?

What "SISTER" WOLF will say to her aviator when she arrives at his post after going 1400 miles to see him?

Why "HAT" and "YANK" never give the girls a break; could it be someone back home?

Where the girls on the campus got the idea that TOM GRIFFITH is "slow"?

Why BILL KEENAN is such a "Bird-dog"?

Why women spend almost half the dance in the powder room?

Why McCOOK "wolves," but never dates?

Why "HUTCH" is such a dead-beat?

How marriage will agree with

A good beginning oftentimes means a great deal. To emphasize he point we remind you of the case of the young man who, desiring to marry, secured a favorable hearing from his intended's father by opening the interview with these words: "Sir, I know a way whereby you can save a lot of money!"

RUTH WOODARD and vice-versa? Copious applause?

Who, beside "BERT," has been paying serious attention to EMILY?

Who was "courtin'" lack of Colonial very early Sunday morning?

If SCHUHLE is human???

Why ODEN is such a goodie-goodie?

Who writes this column?

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Gilbert Hetherwick.....7-2406
Vice-President, Claude Teel.....7-6571
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Peg Hawkins.....7-4610
Secretary, Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Treasurer, Camp Flournoy.....3-7210

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
John Woods, President.....2-8296
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Alpha Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9358

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomec Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Foster Philyaw, President.....7-2554
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Alpha Xi Deltas to Have Their Provincial Convention Here Sat.

Beta Gamma is playing hostess here this week-end to their biennial province convention. Four of the 56 chapters of Alpha Xi Delta will be represented: Beta Alpha chapter of the University of Texas; Alpha Zeta of the University of Oklahoma; Beta Iota of L.S.U.; Beta Gamma of Centenary. Arrangements are made to house the thirty visitors in Alpha Xi Delta homes here.

The girls will arrive Friday night and will register immediately.

Delegates may be identified by pins marked "delegate" bearing the name of the wearer.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Buddy Kinnebrew, Head
Cheerleader.....7-2554

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Jimmy Harris, President.....2-4208
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chptr.
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Bill Wellborn, President.....2-1667

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
Martha Hart, President.....7-7430
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Gerry Baird, President.....7-9605
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Jimmy Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891

(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

ROLAND ACHEE

This week's Gentleman is only a Sophomore, yet in the space of two short years he has made a name for himself as one of the most outstanding boys on the campus. His winning smile and pleasing personality have made him popular with both the faculty and students. While not exactly a Casanova, he manages to entertain the lassies.

His scholastic record is excellent, as evidenced by the fact that he was elected president of Alpha Sigma Pi, the freshman-sophomore scholastic honor fraternity. As president of the Dramatics Club, Roland has developed a club that was close to rock bottom to one of the most active organizations on the campus. Another large job that he ably filled was joint master of ceremonies of Kollege Kapers. Add to that the fact that he is managing editor of The Conglomerate and corresponding secretary of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity, and you become aware of the fact that he is a very busy boy. Just to round out his program he works in the afternoon.

Roland has already accomplished enough to make any senior feel proud, and we predict that he has only started. Yes, next year and the year after should hold great things in store for Roland Achee. His integrity is beyond reproach, he's a good sport, a clean-cut fellow, the sort of guy you and I admire. Old man, you deserve everything you've got, and here's wishing you lots of luck in the future!

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

LOST AND FOUND

Miss Peggy O'Neill is missing a white rain coat which she last had in Dr. Steger's English class last Saturday morning. The raincoat is particularly dear to Miss O'Neill and she would appreciate greatly any knowledge as to its whereabouts.

Advertising revenue is the chief revenue of this paper; kindly patronize those who help us.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

Gifts for Mother's Day—

Candies, Colognes, Perfumes,
Accessories, Underwear,
China, Linen and Glassware, are Featured at Hearne's.

The HEARNE
DRY GOODS CO. LTD.

P-L-E-N-T-Y PARKING SPACE

2 CHAIRS NOW OPERATING

—No More Waiting—

MISS DOROTHY McINTYRE—

Splendid Lady Barber

Centenary Barber Shop

129 Kings Hwy.
L. H. APFFEL, Prop.

P-L-E-N-T-Y PARKING SPACE

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

Do KEENAN and WILDE always put on a show for their dates?

Why does "HAPPY" TREADWELL object to being called by such a positively cute name as BENNY RAY? Ha! Ha!

Doesn't seem as if FOSTER HAMNER can get settled down. He just goes from flower to flower.

BIDDIE BODDIE makes a dog-gone good teacher, but we're awfully glad that MRS. MORWOOD has recuperated from her illness and is now able to return to her torture chamber.

How many of you know that versatile CAROLYN LUNNY is a whiz at poker?

VIRGINIA KILPATRICK must have plenty on the ball to have such fellows as LEE OWENS, BILL SWYERS, and some of the faculty so interested.

Congratulations to KEMBROUGH MERRIN for being such a "right guy" and good Joe.

WHIRLING JOE STEPHENS and MICKEY McCUTCHEN seem to be hitting it off O.K. Nice going, people.

Here's to the guy known as SCOTT—

What does he have that we haven't got?

Could it be his cute hair, or his satisfied air,

As he tells his friends, "Scott? He's a shot."

BILLY BOOTH seems well on his way towards being another CHARLES KNIGHT.

Guess you read that DAVID BARTON'S brother, BILL, was elected president of the University of Texas student body. That's real-

Masters at L.S.U.—

(Continued from Page One) took their Master's degrees from L.S.U. in 1941 are as follows: Helen Ziehm Quimby, Fine Arts; Joseph H. Guillory, Health and Physical Education; Leo D. Simmons, Mathematics; Charles A. Ravenna, Botany; Helen Ruth Bryson, Education; Peyton B. Mangum, Education; Sadie V. Yarbrough, English; G. H. Crawford, Health and Physical Education; R. B. Shaal, Health and Physical Education; Helen Carney Huffman, Public Welfare and Administration.

A. M. Shaw, Jr., of the English Department at Centenary College received the Ph.D. in English during the past year, also.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

For more than just a Haircut we recommend

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP

129 Kings Hwy.

L. H. Apffel

"SCIENTIFIC FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT"

ly an achievement for someone from "Deep in the Heart of Louisiana."

BUDDY STROUD and MARGARET EUBANK sure make a swell couple.

LADY of the WEEK

The Conglomerate wishes this week to pay tribute and give a few words of thanks to Elise Montgomery, for all she has done and is doing for Centenary College.

Elise is a senior this year, majoring in Spanish. The record of her four years at Centenary is ideal. In her freshman year Elise was elected to Alpha Sigma Pi and received the award for being the best pledge of Zeta Tau Alpha. The vice-presidency of the Spanish club in Elise's second year prepared her for the presidency in her junior year. As a president Elise served Chi Sigma Nu, and Pan Hellenic, became a member of Cen-Coes, alternate Maroon Jacket, Alpha Chi and vice-president of Zeta Tau Alpha.

This, her senior year, Elise became a Maroon Jacket, vice-president of Alpha Chi, continued her service to her sorority and continued her memberships in all outside activities.

If you know Elise, sometimes called "Abbergail," you can easily understand how she achieved all these honors. To you, Elise, we say: "Good luck, and the very best that the future holds to a person who deserves nothing but the very best."

Kappa Alphas Entertain With Spring Formal

Members of Kappa Alpha fraternity entertained Saturday evening with their annual spring formal in the student union building.

The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion with garlands of red and yellow paper leading to the center while the Greek letters "KA" were suspended from the ceiling.

Buy U. S. War Savings Bonds!!

Centenary Models Give Revue for Ad Club

Seven attractive models from Centenary College were presented in a style revue at the meeting of Shreveport Advertising Club Tuesday, displaying fashions showing the trend of modern fashion. The program was introduced by Miss Betty Lawrence, instructor of costume designing at Centenary. Left to right are Miss Carolyn Clay, Miss Norman Robertson, Miss Virginia Lil Turner, Mrs. Robert See, Miss June Rolfs, Miss Jimmie Brown, Miss Lawrence and Miss Ann Burnette, announcer.

FASHION TRENDS FEATURED IN AD CLUB'S 'REVUE'

"The trend of fashion is influenced by the average American woman, Miss Betty Lawrence, instructor of art and costume designing at Centenary College, told members of the Shreveport Advertising Club at their luncheon meeting held at the Washington-Youree hotel Tuesday. Styles are also greatly influenced by the curtailing of expensive materials and trimmings, due to war conditions.

As a colorful explanation to her remarks on trends of advertising in women's fashions, Miss Lawrence presented a group of her costume designing pupils who modeled distinctive clothes of the day. The models, students at Centenary College, were Misses Carolyn Clay, Norman Robertson, Virginia Lil Turner, June Rolfs, Jimmie Brown and Mrs. Robert See, wife of Prof. See, director of the program. Miss Ann Burnette was the attractive student announcer.

Cottons in colorful design featured the revue and the patriotic motif and conservation of materials were two noted features in the present fashions.

Miss Lawrence told of national recognition of three of Centenary's design students, June Rolfs and Ethel Cady, costume designers, and Jimmie Brown, designer of jewelry. The designers are members of the Campus Original Guild, an organization through which college girls design clothes appropriate to their age, and present these designs to manufacturers who purchase them for reproduction. Sketches of clothes designed by Miss Rolfs and Miss Cady have appeared in newspapers throughout the country and two jewelry designs, the work of Miss Brown, are now on the market.

Mr. Paul Clay, president of the club, presided.

LOST AND FOUND

Will the person who took Strep-telasma Rusticum from the Geology Dept. please bring him back? We miss him. No questions asked. No reward.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

For Collectors of Unusual Jewelry

This is jewelry to make your eyes shine with delight. Every piece unusual. Every piece designed with imagination. Every piece not just a smart contribution to your costume but an object of art in its own right. We've a whole wide wonderful collection of these Andrée necklaces, bracelets, pins, clips and earrings. By all means, see them.

$1.00
to $4.98

PENNEY'S
J. C. PENNEY CO., INC.

HERE'S A TIP YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS:

Remember
MOTHER'S DAY

with

FLOWERS

Let us be your messenger

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803 Youree

Phone 7-2737 Mrs. Sara Tully, Mgr.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, May 1, 1942.

Number 26

Founder's Day Picnic to Be Held Saturday May Day Festival 5:15 This Afternoon

LOU DELL LISTON IS QUEEN OF MAY; AUSPICES W.A.A.

Anne Robinson Maid of Honor,
Elise Montgomery and Ouida
Harris Are Maids in Court.

The annual May Fete will be held in the Greek Amphitheater at 5:15 today. The theme of this year's fete is: "Spring Comes to the Allies." The program will be as follows:

1. Overture by the Centenary Band
2. May Court (Maids, Maid of Honor, May Queen)
3. English Dancers
4. Dutch Dancers
5. Selections by Centenary A Cappella Choir
6. Chinese Jugglers
7. Russian Dancers
8. Selection by Centenary Band
9. Square Dancers
10. Byrd A Cappella Choir
11. Military Drill by Fair Park High School
12. "America the Beautiful"—everybody.

The May Fete is sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association of Centenary. Anne Robinson will be Maid of Honor, and Elise Montgomery and Ouida Harris will be maids in court.

Psychology Club Hears Mrs. Strauss

The Psychology Club met Thursday, April 23, at Jackson Hall as had been scheduled. In the absence of the president, John Woods, Ernest Carter introduced the prominent Mr. Hodge, a member of Byrd High School faculty, and Dr. Bruno Strauss of the Centenary faculty. This being accomplished, the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Bruno Strauss, was introduced. Mrs. Strauss spoke on psychology in her native Germany.

She began by saying that her matriculation in the university coincided with the entrance of psychology as a practical course to the curriculum. She also told of the psychology of William Stern, father of the I. Q. tests. Through a personal acquaintance with his family she was able to give the group interesting facts on his findings concerning child psychology.

After a survey of the various famous psychologists, she concluded with a statement that the era of this subject has begun in the United States.

LADY of the WEEK

To an outstanding Chi Omega senior, majoring in English (and the only one to make 90 on the comprehensive), known to the campus as Ann Robinson, we make our choice for Lady of the Week.

Ann hails from Homer, La., and has spent four years at Centenary as a resident of Colonial Hall. For all four years she has served on the Dormitory Council.

Ann is active in the French Club, W.A.A., Psi Delta Chi and Chi Sigma Nu. She is a Maroon

Centenary Selected By Army Air Corps For Reserve Plan

3 Enlistment Groups for College
Men Have Been Arranged.

The announcement was made recently that Centenary College is one of the institutions of higher learning elected by the Army Air Corps for participation in the new enlisted reserve plan of the U. S. Aviation Cadet Program. Under the new setup, there are three enlistment plans for college men. The most significant of these for Centenary students will be the one whereby undergraduates from freshman to senior standing, over 18 years of age, can join the air force enlisted reserve and continue their schooling until they receive their degree, providing they maintain a satisfactory scholastic standing.

Centenary is one of over a hundred colleges to which the air corps is sending officers to discuss the program with the students and to make arrangement for their enlistment. Lt. Col. Gabriel P. Disoway and Lt. John P. Hacker will visit the campus Monday and Tuesday, May 4 and 5, during which time there will be a conference with air force advisors of Centenary and other colleges in this area, and preliminary discussions with the students will be arranged.

President Cline has announced that Dr. F. E. Lowance is air force advisor for Centenary.

The enlistment of college students on this deferred basis is going to be limited to 54,000 for the entire U. S., which is less than 10% of the men students in colleges. It is understood, however, that the percentage of students in a given college will not be limited, which means that any Centenary man who is physically qualified and who has a satisfactory record can enlist in this reserve program with a good probability of completing his college work before being inducted.

Lt. Col. Disoway will make a second trip to the college campus on May 15 and 16. Air force advisors from colleges of Marshall, Kilgore, Texarkana, and Ark. A. & M. are to be present at the meetings held at Centenary.

VOTE MONDAY!

DUO DELIVER DAFFY DEBATE

Joe Stephens and John Woods, representing Centenary College, engaged the debating team from Louisiana Tech in a hilarious contest in chapel Wednesday before last. The question for debate was: Resolved, That the Democracies Should Form a Federation to Establish and Maintain the Eight Churchill-Roosevelt Peace Points.

Each team presented persuasive arguments to uphold their side of the case, and to add to the entertainment the Centenary debaters kept making allusions to eggs, the exact connection of which no one completely understood. One of the speakers somehow got an egg in his shoe and had to beat it before he delivered his clincher argument.

These two debaters, John and Joe, having been bored stiff by innumerable dry debates, have changed the usual procedure of too serious argument by inserting bits of their self-styled humor. At a recent debate tournament in Natchitoches they caused quite a stir by doing the unheard-of thing of poking fun at their opponents.

CANDIDATES FOR STUDENT BODY OFFICES

For President

Lee Owens
Gene Hilliard
Joe Stephens

For Vice-President

Russell Coleman
Lawrence May
John Woods

For Co-ed Vice-President

Carolyn Lunny
Kathryn Moreneaux
Jimmie Thibodeaux
Azalie Webb

For Secretary

Gerry Baird
Jimmie Brown
Kathryn Hooper

For Treasurer

Martha Hart
Eillen Breithaupt
Raymond Jolly
Roland Achee

Event—Junior-Senior Dance

Date—Friday

Time—9 to 12

Place—The SUB

Who's invited—All Students

Mrs. Shaeffer Elected Province President at Alpha Xi Delta Meet

Mrs. Shaeffer of Shreveport was elected president of Province Nine of Alpha Xi Delta at the convention held at Shreveport this past week-end. She is the first Louisiana to receive the honor. Presiding officer was Mrs. Irene Barbour of Oklahoma City, past-president. Mrs. Hazel Huntress, also of Oklahoma City, was re-elected vice-president.

Delegates hailed from many cities in Louisiana, Texas, and Oklahoma, representing college and alumnae chapters. College chapters. College chapters represented were U. of Texas, U. of Oklahoma, L. S. U. and Centenary.

Delegates arrived Friday and stayed through Sunday. Those who arrived earlier Friday were taken on a tour of the college and were introduced to some of the students.

Business and discussion sessions were held Saturday. At noon of that day the convention enjoyed luncheon in the SUB. That night a banquet was held at the Washington-Youree. Mrs. A. R. Campbell, guest speaker, talked on "Alpha Xi Delta and National Defense." Favors were tiny gold airplanes bearing the Greek letters Alpha Xi Delta. In the center stood a larger plane covered with pink Killarney roses, the official flower of the sorority.

To climax the convention a breakfast was held Sunday morning at the home of Miss Vere Mae Snow, former Centenary student.

RACE RELATIONS MEETING HELD

Prof. Wm. Schuhle, Mrs. Dana Dawson, and Virginia Kilpatrick were hosts at a delightful tea held at the Zeta House last week in honor of Mrs. Lizzie Henderson, Mr. Napoleon Russ, and others.

Dr. Eleazer of Alabama spoke on race relations after which the mixed company partook of refreshments with Mrs. Dawson and Miss Kilpatrick serving. The guests of honor were a trifle dusty, having come a long way to be present—all the way from Africa, in fact.

Dr. Eleazer's lecture purported to show the equality of the two races. A delightful time was had by all.

VOTE MONDAY!

JUNIOR-SENIOR DANCE TONIGHT

All Students Are Urged to Attend

Everyone is invited and urged to attend the Junior-Senior Dance which will be held at the SUB from 9 until 12 midnight. The admission is 50c per couple and 35c stag. Music will be furnished by a real band and not just a nickelodeon. The dance is sponsored by the Junior and Senior classes but in order for it to be a success members from all classes must come.

The plans for the dance have been made by the officers of the Junior and Senior classes with the advice of the Student Senate. A meeting was held of the two upper classes last Monday at chapel period and the final plans presented and approved.

The dance should receive the cooperation of the entire student body. Both girls and boys may ask for dates, so everyone grab your favorite girl or boy friend and come on out.

VOTING TO TAKE PLACE MONDAY

Saturday morning at 8:30 the student body will gather at the Arts Building to begin another annual Founder's Day picnic. The group will proceed on foot in a body to Betty Virginia park where the campaign speeches of the candidates and their respective campaign managers will begin immediately.

After the political speeches the student body will be treated to a softball game between the faculty and the seniors. The faculty won last year and the seniors are out for revenge. Then lunch will be had. Everyone is to bring their own, but cold drinks will be on sale.

At one o'clock there will be a community sing led by Cheesy Voran.

Next the feminine athletes will take the field to treat the crowd to a ball game.

At 2:30 there will be games for everyone and at 3:30 the K. A.s and the Kappa Sigmas will clash in their annual softball classic.

The annual election will take place Monday and everyone is urged to vote.

The Schedule

- 8:30—Meet at Arts Building
- 9:00—Walk to Betty Virginia Park
- 9:30—Campaign Speeches
- 10:30—Faculty-Senior Game
- 12:00—Lunch. Bring your own
- 1:00—Community Sing
- 1:30—Girls Softball
- 2:30—Games for Everybody
- 3:00—K. A.-Kappa Sig Game

List of Alumni in Service to Be Made

Dr. S. A. Steger, head of the Department of English, has announced plans recently for the compiling of a list of all former Centenary students now serving in the armed forces of the country. According to Dr. Steger it is the intention to obtain such information as may be possible concerning the men and make up a file to be placed in the college office.

Beginning next fall The Conglomerate will print brief sketches of these soldiers, sailors and airmen.

All students having information concerning any former student of Centenary now serving in any branch of the service are requested to aid in this plan by giving such as they possess either to Dr. Steger, Edwin Whited, or Joe Stephens, editor of The Conglomerate.

Newspaper clippings will be especially helpful in this work and those turning in such clippings should also state from what newspaper it was taken, as well as the date of printing.

THE Centenary Conglomerate
Member
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.
Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

JOE STEPHENS, Editor

Managing Editor.....Roland Achee
Associate Editor.....Mary Foster Peyton
Poetry Editor.....John Woods
Sports Editor.....Arthur Herold
News Editor.....Patricia Harper
Campus Editor.....Ellen Eastham
Feature Editor.....Barbara Harris
Social Editor.....Mabel Boddie
Circulation Manager.....Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Jake Cullick, Margaret Owens, Nan Dobson, Ethel Kramer, Buddy Stroud, Margaret Eubank, Bill Keenan, Marie Wolf, Carolyn Lunny, Katy Castaneda, Lester Moore, Dottie Graham, Peggy O'Neill, Clint Teacle, Claude Blackburn, Betty Blaxton, Horace Alvord, Mary Smith New, Billy Booth, Bob Eatman, Charlotte Newsom, E. W. Harris, Mickey McCutchen, Leroy Scott, Jessica Harris, Lucille Webb, Carolyn Canon.

PUBLIC OPINION

This week a certain Conglomerate reporter decided to take a survey that would delve deep into the whys and wherefores of human relations and possibly bring closer to man's understanding the mystery of human conduct. Therefore, the question, "Why do you like boys?", was asked of the following, with their listed responses:

Emily Prothro—"I don't have the vaguest idea. I just do."

Mary Earl Texada—"Dougald."

Susie Mulkey—"I have been wondering the same thing all these years myself."

Martha Stevens—"Because they are like cellophane—easy to see through, but hard to remove once you get wrapped up in them."

Ellen Eastham—"Ditto."

Jimmie Thibodeaux—"Because they are so wonderful—just like Harper here." (She patted him on the cheek.)

Betty Gordon Smith—"Because there is nothing else to like."

Lil Turner—"I hate them all."

Mickey McCutchen—"Because you can't dance with girls."

Margaret Owens—"Because they are more individualistic than girls and make better companions."

Carolyn Coburn—"Because they are so much like you." (She really said it, too. Flutter, flutter!) (To be continued)

Vote for
GERRY BAIRD

for
SECRETARY

Cute,
Active,
Responsible,
O. K.,
Likable;
You
No (know)!

LUNNY
for
CO-ED
VICE-PRESIDENT

Vote for
AZALIE WEBB

for
CO-ED
VICE-PRESIDENT

JOHN WOODS

for

VICE-PRESIDENT

"VOTE FOR WOODS; HE'S GOT THE GOODS."

VOTE MONDAY

GENE HILLIARD

for

PRESIDENT

"IT'S PLAIN TO BE SEEN
YOU SHOULD VOTE FOR GENE."

YOUR COLLEGE CAN NOW HELP YOU BECOME A NAVAL OFFICER

Freshmen, Sophomores, 17 THRU 19. Enlist now!
Stay in college! You may qualify for a Naval Commission on the sea or in the air.

Freshmen. Sophomores. Here's a challenge—and an opportunity! Your Navy needs trained men. Trained men to become Naval Officers! And your college is ready to give you that training now.

Here's New Navy Plan

If you're 17 and not yet 20, you enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You then continue in college, including in your studies courses stressing physical training, mathematics and physics. After you successfully complete 1½ calendar years of college work, you will be given a classification test.

Aviation Officers

If you qualify by this test, you may volunteer to become a Naval Aviation Officer. In this case, you will be permitted to finish the second calendar year of college work before you start your training to become a Flying Officer.

However, at any time during this two-year period after you have reached your 18th birthday, you may, if you so desire, take the prescribed examination for Aviation Officer . . . and, if successful, be assigned for Aviation training. Students who fail in their college courses, or who withdraw from college, will also have the privilege of taking the Aviation examination.

Deck or Engineering Officers

If you qualify in the classification test and do not volunteer for Aviation, you will be selected for training as a Deck or Engineering Officer. In that case, you will continue your college program until you receive your bachelor's degree, provided you maintain the established university standards.

Other Opportunities

If you do not qualify as either potential Aviation Officer or as potential Deck or Engineering Officer you will be permitted to finish your second calendar year of college and will then be ordered to active duty as Apprentice Seamen. But, even in this event, because of your college training, you will have a better chance for advancement.

Pay starts with active duty.

It's a real challenge! It's a real opportunity! Make every minute count by doing something about this new Navy plan today.

DON'T WAIT...ACT TODAY

1. Take this announcement to the Dean of your college.
2. Or go to the nearest Navy Recruiting Station.
3. Or mail coupon below for FREE BOOK giving full details.

U. S. Navy Recruiting Bureau, Div. V-1
30th Street and 3rd Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Please send me your free book on the Navy Officer Training plan for college freshmen and sophomores. I am a student ☐, a parent of a student ☐ who is _____ years old attending _____ College at _____

Name _____

Street _____

City & State _____

★ Vote for JIMMIE THIBODEAUX ★
for
CO-ED VICE-PRESIDENT

★ Vote for JIMMYE BROWN ★
for
SECRETARY

The Greatest Air Army in the World
Needs Flight and Ground Crew Officers

NOW FOR COLLEGE MEN A NEW OFFICERS' TRAINING PLAN

★ New Deferred Service Plan Allows You to Continue Your Education ★

In the skies over America the mightiest air fleet in the history of the world is mobilizing for victory!

So fast is it growing that there is a place here — an urgent need here — for every college man in America who can qualify for Officer's Training.

The U. S. Army Air Forces need Flying Officers and Ground Crew Officers. And many of them must come from the ranks of today's college students — men who make their plans now for the necessary Aviation Cadet training.

Thanks to a newly created Air Force Reserve plan, men of all classes — aged 18 to 26, inclusive — can enlist for immediate service or continue the scholastic work required for graduation before being called to active duty.

You must meet the requirements for physical fitness, of course. In addition, you take a new simplified test to determine your ability to grasp the training. A college man should pass it easily.

$75 A MONTH DURING TRAINING

Those accepted who wish immediate duty will go into training as rapidly as facilities permit. As an Aviation Cadet, you are paid $75 a month, with subsistence, quarters, medical care, uniforms, equipment, traveling expenses.

In 8 months you can win an officer's commission as a bombardier, navigator or pilot — and be well started on your way to serve America and advance yourself in aviation.

MANY BRANCHES OF SERVICE

There are also commissions awarded in ground crew service. College men particularly

THREE ENLISTMENT PLANS FOR COLLEGE MEN

Juniors—Sophomores—Freshmen
May Continue Their Education

1. A new plan allows Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, aged 18 to 26, inclusive, to enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and continue their schooling, provided they maintain satisfactory scholastic standings.

All College Men May Enlist for Immediate Service

2. All college students may enlist as privates in the Army Air Forces (unassigned) and serve there until their turns come for Aviation Cadet training.

3. All college students may enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and wait until they are ordered to report for Aviation Cadet training.

Upon graduation or withdrawal from college, men will be assigned to active duty at a training center as facilities become available.

If the necessity of war demands, the deferred status in the Army Reserve may be terminated at any time by the Secretary of War.

The new Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve Plan is part of an over-all Army Enlisted Reserve Corps program shortly to be announced. This program will provide opportunities for college men to enlist in other branches of the Army on a deferred basis and to continue their education through graduation if a satisfactory standard of work is maintained. In case of necessity the Secretary of War shall determine when they may be called to active duty.

It is understood that men so enlisted will have the opportunity of competing for vacancies in officer's candidate schools.

This plan has been approved in the belief that continuance of education will develop capacities for leadership. (Reserve enlistment will not alter regulations regarding established R.O.T.C. plans.)

will be interested in the requirements for Armaments, Communications, Engineering, Meteorology, Photography. If you have engineering experience your chances of getting a commission are excellent.

This past year about 80% of all Aviation Cadets were commissioned as Second Lieutenants — about 67% as flying officers. Those who do not qualify remain in the Air Forces on an enlisted status and have further opportunities.

As a Second Lieutenant on active duty with the Army Air Forces, your pay ranges from $183 to $245 a month.

ACT AT ONCE

If you want to fight for America, this is where your blows will count.

If you want the best training in the world, and years of solid achievement in aviation — the great career field of the future — this is where you belong. Your place is here — in the Army Air Forces.

If you plan to enlist immediately, start getting your necessary papers ready for the Aviation Cadet Examining Board when it meets in your locality. For complete information, see your Faculty Air Force Advisor. You can take your mental and physical examinations the same day you apply. Get further information now.

★ ★ ★

NOTE: If you wish to enlist and are under 21, you will need your parents' or guardian's consent. Birth certificates and three letters of recommendation will be required of all applicants. Obtain the forms and send them home today — you can then complete your enlistment before any Aviation Cadet Examining Board.

SEE YOUR FACULTY AIR FORCE ADVISOR FOR FULL INFORMATION

(Or Apply to Your Local Recruiting and Induction Station)

U. S. ARMY RECRUITING AND INDUCTION STATION: Post Office Bldg., Shreveport, La.
OTHER ARMY RECRUITING AND INDUCTION STATIONS ARE IN THE FOLLOWING CITIES:
Alexandria Baton Rouge Lafayette Monroe New Orleans
AVIATION CADET EXAMINING BOARD: Barksdale Field, Shreveport, La.
OTHER AVIATION CADET EXAMINING BOARDS ARE LOCATED IN THE FOLLOWING CITIES:
Baton Rouge New Orleans
THE SPECIAL EXAMINING BOARD WILL VISIT CENTENARY COLLEGE SOON

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

Congratulations to "DUCK" DRAKE on rating the title of Centenary's "Glamour Boy." That takes in a mighty lot of territory, mah fran!

KATHRYN HOOPER received what she really deserved when elected president of Aufait for the coming year. More power to you, gal!

OTIS McCRERY is running around loose and we hear this shouldn't be happening . . . Rah!! Rah!! Marine Corps . . . JANE BARTLETT is just as sweet as ever.

JOHN WOODS is awfully friendly this year and we like him for it.

It seems as though PHILYAW is just too young to be told jokes. Eh, what, "GRADE A"?

After Saturday night, the question is up: who rates the FRANCES LONG. SULLY, the BLACKOUT BUM, or C. H.? And speaking of this particular night reminds us to ask JUDSON KELLY why he played the "good boy part" at the Green Lantern?

Do you wish to see someone blush? If so, call BETTY GORDON "Gingerbread."

What a mix-up sweet little JEANNE MAYNARD got herself into at the Plaza the other night. That's okay, though, Jeanne—you can go for our money.

From all stories we hear, JIMMY BROWNLEE isn't living up to that name "Romeo." Do they still let you drive through Bossier City?

CILE SANFORD is just as content as ever being pinned and we boys are sorry for it.

Little KATIE OXFORD, so we thought, didn't flirt, but the other day HORACE ALVORD was flirting right back.

To ROLAND ACHEE: If you are at all interested, we understand that you have a secret love right here on this campus. You better start inquiring—if at all interested.

BOBBY LINDSAY goes around saying, "Can I have some?" Yes, NORMAN, they might rack, but you are tops in our opinion.

What we have been wondering is, who is that little kid that cute MERRIE FOWLER has been running around with?

JUMPING JOE jeopardizes jingoistic journalism, able ACHEE aiding and abetting.

Enough is enough, or something. (Column crowded out last week)

I say
Vote for ACHEE

What do you say?

Vote for MARTHA
HART
for
TREASURER

JOE STEPHENS

FOR

PRESIDENT

"VOTE FOR JOE—
HE SURE CAN GO"

Answering Annie Advises

By Annie Gadabout

Is she cold to you? Is there someone else? Does your kissing lack that extra "oomph"? Are you bashful? Worried? Do you know how to woo? Is your beau impossible? If so, send your problems to Annie Gadabout, care The Conglomerate, Centenary College.

Dear Annie:

I am quite crazy over one of your Centenary Gentlemen who is in love with another girl. This young lady is a very good friend of mine who trusts me implicitly. My problem is this: What shall I do about my friend? How can I make him pay some attention to me outside of talking about other women? (Curse 'em!) Is there a chance for me? Can I make him care?

Eagerly awaiting your advice,

I remain,
Betty B.

(In order to keep the identity of the sender secret the full name will not be printed.)

My dear B. B.:

It is not the policy of this column to act as match-makers. However, if you really think you could care something for him—more power to you. I'd simply explain to my girl friend that you rather like him—but don't "chump off" and give him up. Look your most attractive at all times and put your best foot forward.

Good luck!

Annie.

THEY SAY—

THAT—It is dangerous to drive in a fog, especially if it is mental.

THAT—It would be better for the times, if some of the "Yes" men were bank cashiers.

THAT—Love at first sight is possible, but it is always well to wipe off our spectacles and take a second look.

THAT—Golf is about the only thing that depreciates above par.

THAT—Screening a motion picture doesn't take the trash out.

THAT—A diplomat is a man who can convince his wife that a woman looks stout in a fur coat.

"EVERY DAY
IS MAY DAY."

Vote for
LAWRENCE
MAY
for
Vice-President

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

JIMMY HARRIS

"Tooke" Harris, as he is affectionately known to his friends, is one of the best liked boys on the campus. Yessir, when it comes to making friends, "Tooke" is no rookie. He takes an active part in all student affairs, being a member of the Student Senate, president of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, after serving as vice-president last year, and a member of the Interfraternity Council. "Tooke" also works after school. Flying is his hobby, and any day you can see young Harris soaring into the blue. He is in the Civil Air Patrol.

Jimmy plans to be a meteorologist in the army this time next year, but hopes to eventually attend the Tulane law school after the present national crisis is over.

Jimmy has a wide circle of friends, as he is a home town lad, having received his early education at the Gladstone Country Club. Here he developed a fondness for dancing that has zoomed his popularity. Despite the fact that he gets a kick out of living, "Tooke" has managed to keep his grades above average. And when it comes to extra-curricular affairs in which he is interested, he is really industrious.

So, "Tooke" Harris, we predict that a sincere lad like you will make a name for himself.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

VOTE
MONDAY!

Vote for
KATHRYN MORENEAUX
for
CO-ED
VICE-PRESIDENT

Once more while we speak of blushing, ask CAMP FLOURNOY why he is keeping his fingers crossed? If this doesn't get him, just plain call him "Turtle." "CHEESY" got away with this the other night—let's see if you can.

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING
1921 Market St.
QUALITY and SERVICE
Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS
LOUISIANA
GAS
COMPANY

REMEMBER—
Sunday, May 10, 1942

FLOWERS

The Most Beautiful
Gift of All

3803 Youree
7-2737

BROADMOOR FLORAL SHOP

Mrs. Sara Tully,
Mgr.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Z-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, May 8, 1942.

Number 27

Stephens, Woods, Thibodeaux, Brown and Achee to Head Student Body

FORECAST

Once more the students of Centenary have expressed themselves at the polls and named five fellow students to lead them throughout the next school year. Upon these five rests the responsibility of continuing the representative system of student government which has been in effect here at Centenary since long before any of us entered school. This responsibility is a great one because it includes complete management and leadership in all student activities. These things the new officers are capable of doing.

But no officer is capable enough or qualified enough or by any manner of means able enough, to lead and direct if the students do not lend their wholehearted cooperation to all enterprises begun by the student government. No organization is stronger than its weakest unit, and the Centenary Student Senate in the coming year can do things for the school and students of the school only if those students will do their share in bringing about the successful accomplishments of the Senate.

Good leaders were elected; other excellent leaders who were also candidates failed to be elected. For a successful school year for the advancement of Centenary, all the leaders, both victors and vanquished, must unite themselves together to work as a unit for the welfare and best interests of the college and its student body.

So, students of Centenary, a new year is in the process of beginning; let us all together now, resolve to do our shares individually and collectively to make this year the best in the long line of years of student government at Centenary.

MAY DAY FETE A BIG SUCCESS; NICE PROGRAM

The annual May Fete was held in the Greek Theater at 5:15 last Friday afternoon. The theme of the May Festival was "Spring Comes to the Allies." First on the program was the Centenary band which played an overture. Then the Maids, the Maid of Honor and the May Queen marched down the aisle and took their place on the stage. The English dancers then took the stage and were followed by the Dutch dancers. The dance by the Dutch was enlivened by the loss of one of the dancer's shoes which was later retrieved. In order came the A Cappella Choir, the Chinese Jugglers (Margarite Haggard and Claire Tinin really looked like Chinese too), the Russian dancers, a selection by the Centenary Band, the Square dancers, the Byrd A Cappella Choir, a military drill by Fair Park High School, and "America the Beautiful" sung by everyone.

The May Fete was sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association of Centenary. Anne Robinson was Maid of Honor, and Elise Montgomery and Ouida Harris were maids in the court.

"Passing the buck" is okay only if it be passed to the U. S. Treasury for investment in those delectable, war-winning, crispy, soothing War Savings Bonds and Stamps.

NEW OFFICERS

Joe Stephens

John Woods

Jimmie Thibodeaux

Jimmie Brown

Here are the newly elected officers of the Student Body, and ex-officio officers of the Student Senate: Joe Stephens, president; John Woods, vice president; Jimmie Thibodeaux, co-ed vice president; Jimmie Brown, secretary, and Roland Achee, treasurer.

—Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal

Band Sweetheart

AZALIE WEBB

Miss Azalie Webb, above, is Sweetheart of the Centenary college band, which gave a concert for the soldiers at the U. S. O. center last Sunday at 5 p.m.

Sammy Swor, the band's cornet soloist played "Carnival of Venice." Also on the program was a cornet trio composed of Swor, Billy Booth and J. L. Soloman.

Roland Achee

What Members of '41 Class Are Doing Now

We are indebted to Russell E. Stewart, editor of the Conglomerate last year and permanent class secretary for the Centenary class of '41, for the information published below. We have attempted to give you a concise picture of what the class of '41 is doing now. Perhaps many of you have wondered just how many of the class are in the army, navy, business world, etc., so we have listed the names under these general headings.

Out of the 99 members of the class (the largest in the history of the college):

28 are teachers — Mrs. Ruby Alderson, Werner Park school, Shreveport; Thomasine Armstrong, piano teacher, Arcadia high school, Arcadia, La.; Lucy Bettis, Spanish teacher, Line Ave., Shreveport; Marjorie Boyett, Heflin, La.; Mrs. Martha Cole, Bossier high school, Bossier, La.; Dorothy Dixon, Talulah, La.; Mrs. Iva Ellard, Louisiana Ave. school, Shreveport; Audrie Fuller, third grade, Rodesa, La.; Mrs. Lois Mae Galloway, Blanchard, La.; Hattie Marie Gaston, sixth grade, Sarepta, La.; Mrs. Ruth Gibbs, Line Ave., Shreveport; Paulyn Gill, Lisbon, La.; Frances Goodson, second grade, Creswell school, Shreveport; Martha Hamner, Centenary elementary school, Shreveport; Dorothy Hinkle, Springhill, La.; Margaret Hugon, NYA homemaking instructor, Dumas, Ark.; Grace Ingersoll, fifth grade, Fairfield school, Shreveport; Frances Kizer, Centenary elementary school, Shreveport; Catherine Lodestro, Dewey-

(Continued on Page Three)

Centenary People Take in Chemical Meet at Memphis

Centenary was well represented at the semi-annual national meeting of the American Chemical Society held at Memphis, Tennessee April 20-23. Those attending were Dr. John B. Entikin, Knox Smith, Sol Freeman, Kenneth Burgess, and Carolyn Lunny.

Registration for the meeting was held on Monday April 20 at the Municipal Auditorium. The rest of the time was devoted to two main features of the convention — the Employment Clearing House, which serves as an employment agency for members of the A. C. S. who are interested in securing positions in the various phases of chemistry; and the presentation of papers by students, men in industry, and world famous chemists on research that they are doing.

Students from colleges and universities throughout the United States considered it a distinct privilege to attend this meeting of the A. C. S.

Cen-Coes Elect; H. Jennings, Pres.

Not too long ago the Cen-Coes, the girls' intersorority organization, held an election. Helen Jennings was elected president, Jeanne Maynard was acclaimed vice-president and Mary Foster Peyton was named secretary-treasurer. Also, elected to the board were Virginia Graham, Kathryn Moreneaux, and Susie Mulkey.

OLDEST COLLEGE W. OF MISS. R. HAS POLITICAL RASH

Last Monday morning the Student Union building was filled, as never before, with signs, placards, and banners extolling the merits of various nominees; campaign managers were moving about, trying to win votes for their respective candidates.

It was in this scene of excitement and confusion that the annual student body election was held. The results were announced about 3:30 Monday afternoon.

Joe Stephens led his opponents in the presidential race with 162 votes; Gene Hilliard polled 121 votes, and Lee Owens, 39.

In the race for vice-president, John Woods received 173 votes, Lawrence May, 108, and Russell Coleman, 41.

In the contest for co-ed vice-president Jimmie Thibodeaux was given 122 votes; Azalie Webb, 81; Kathryn Moreneaux, 61; Carolyn Lunny, 58.

Jimmie Brown was elected secretary with 189 votes. Her opponent, Gerry Baird, polled 133 votes.

Roland Achee received 179 votes in the contest for treasurer; Martha Hart polled 143 votes.

Stephens is president of Kappa Alpha, president of Alpha Chi, former president of Alpha Sigma Pi, treasurer of the junior class, city tennis champion, tennis champion of Arkansas, winner of last year's state oratorical contest, an outstanding debater, and was chosen by the faculty for Who's Who in the American Colleges and Universities.

Woods is president of Psi Delta Chi, psychology club, secretary of Alpha Chi, president of the Debating Club last year, winner of the state oratorical contest year before last, a member of the editorial staff of the Conglomerate, and a member of the Student Senate.

Jimmie Thibodeaux has been elected the most popular girl on the campus for the past two years, and was secretary of the student body this year. She is president of Chi Omega and Pan-Hellenic, was formerly treasurer of the freshman class, secretary of the sophomore class, and vice-president of the junior class. She is in Who's Who.

Jimmie Brown was selected as the most versatile girl this year. She has been vice-president of the psychology club, a member of Kollege Kapers cast, an alumnae of Alpha Sigma Pi, "Miss Centenary of 1941," and was chosen for Who's Who.

Achee is president of Alpha Sigma Pi, president of the Dramatics Club, managing editor of the Conglomerate, and one of the masters of ceremonies of Kollege Kapers.

The retiring officers are: Gilbert Hetherwick, president; Claude Teel, vice-president; Peg Hawkins, co-ed vice-president; Jimmie Thibodeaux, secretary, and Camp Flournoy, treasurer.

HONOR CHAPEL WEDNESDAY

Next Wednesday the final awards will be made at the regular chapel hour. In the past these awards have been made at the final Senior Chapel, but this year the awards will be presented this coming Wednesday and the graduate chapel will take place the following Wednesday.

Notice to May Seniors

Senior grades are due on Friday, May 15 at 5 o'clock. Be sure that all your work is completed so that your grades are in by that time.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

Member
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

JOE STEPHENS, Editor

Managing Editor.....Roland Achee
Associate Editor.....Mary Foster Peyton
Poetry Editor.....John Woods
Sports Editor.....Arthur Herold
News Editor.....Patricia Harper
Campus Editor.....Ellen Eastham
Feature Editor.....Barbara Harris
Social Editor.....Mabel Boddie
Circulation Manager.....Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Jake Cullick, Margaret Owens, Nan Dobson, Ethel Kramer, Buddy Stroud, Margaret Eubank, Bill Keenan, Marie Wolf, Carolyn Lunny, Katy Castanedo, Lester Moore, Dottie Graham, Peggy O'Neill, Clint Teacle, Claude Blackburn, Betty Blaxton, Horace Alvord, Mary Smith New, Billy Booth, Bob Eatman, Charlotte Newsom, E. W. Harris, Mickey McCutchen, Leroy Scott, Jessica Harris, Lucille Webb, Carolyn Canon.

The Home Stretch

The Seniors are finishing their college careers in the next few weeks. All are ending another school year. How one ends this school year one may long remember with pride or look back upon with regret. If the little time that remains is used wisely one can change vastly one's scholastic outcome.

The finish counts. One is prone to forget if another started poorly if that person finished strong. To score one has to come down the home stretch with all one has—at top speed.

The value of cramming has been often discussed pro and con. But this much is certain—that if one hasn't done much studying up until a few weeks before exams (the fate of the majority) it is far better to cram than not to study at all. Although an entire course can not be learned the night before the examinations—a great deal can. Those who employ this time will find themselves in a much more fortunate position.

Therefore, for the remainder of the term make use of what time is left and if necessary—cram with a vengeance.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Well, here 'tis, people: Conglomeration's annual Rate Column, published for four years now, on Founder's Day.

Key to Co-ed Rating System

Face (first letter)—

- A Breath-taking
- B Attractive
- C Pretty
- D Baby
- E Clock-retarding

Petting (second letter)—

- A Hot
- B Tepid
- C Find out for yourself
- D Plain cold
- E Freezing (.004° A.)

S. A. (third letter)—

- A None
- B Better than none
- C Men whistle at her
- D Men's eyes follow her
- E Men follow her

Form (fourth letter)—

- A Devoid
- B Slender
- C Soft and cuddlesome
- D Would make Lana Turner jealous
- E Wow!

Common Sense (fifth letter)—

- A None
- B Too much
- C Almost too much
- D Average
- E She's a Zeta

Availability (sixth letter)—

- A Pinned
- B Wishes she were pinned
- C Pinnable
- D Heart interest away from home
- E Available

Ann Burnette.....BCDCEA
Jimmy Brown.....DADCCA
Bobo Dwire.....CCBADA
Emily Prothro.....BDBBEB

Ann Thibodeaux.....BBCCDB
Rob Williamson.....DACBAA
Martha Stevens.....DAEBEE
Jean Maynard.....DCABD?
Susie Mulkey.....BCCBDE
Lucille Webb.....DCBCEE
Katherine Moreneaux.....BCDCDA
Norman Robertson.....BABBD
Betty G. Smith.....BABBAB
Ellen Eastham.....BABCEA
Ann Robinson.....CCBBCE
LaRue Powell.....CCBACD
Elise Montgomery.....BCBBEE
Jane Bartlett.....AADDCC
Carolyn Coburn.....BACEDD

Key to Gents Rating System

Passtime (first letter)—

- A Bird-dogging
- B Bulling
- C Guzzling
- D Studying
- E Loafing

Availability (second letter)—

- A One interest only
- B Prefers blondes
- C Prefers brunettes
- D Prefers anything that will date him
- E Disinterested

Financial Capacity (third letter)

- A Scotch
- B Average
- C Depends on the returns
- D Variable
- E The limit; too much

Returns expected (fourth letter)

- A Plenty necking
- B Nothing
- C Goodnight kiss
- D Full cooperation
- E The limit

Line (fifth letter)—

- A Terrible
- B Intellectual
- C Caveman
- D 100% efficient
- E Remarkable

POETRY CORNY!

Lyrics by John Woods
BERT'S PRESS CONFERENCE
There he stood, all spic and spanny,
With his hair all neat and slick,
Tyrone Power? You're mistaken,
Can't you see that's Hetherwick?

A reporter spies our hero,
And his heart goes loop the loop,
His face brightens and he cries out,
'Glory Be! A Scoop! A Scoop!'

'Got a statement for the press, sir?
What's the dope on Singapore?
What did you tell F.D.R., sir?
We'll print this from shore to shore.'

'Tell the Post and Times and Herald,' Hetherwick was heard to say,
'After seeing Pic and Pell Mell,
I think Sex is here to stay.'

JESSICA HARRIS
The Belle of the Drawl
When Jessica was very small,
And first was learning how to crawl
Even then, so we learn,
She was very Southern,
And would always bawl with a drawl.

PORTRAIT OF A SUB SOCIALITE
Sharpen up your dagger,
And bring your axe to grind,
Leer in people's faces—
You'll be a social find.

There's a pretty maiden,
Make a nasty crack,
There's a real nice fellow,
Talk behind his back.

Stick your big schnozzola
In other people's biz,
Drink a Coca-Cola—
You'll be a social whiz.

THE BLACKOUT KING
(Sung to the tune of "Birth of the Blues")

Dedicated to Leroy Scott
He's sure a fright in the light,
But when day turns to night,
Then he's known as "The Blackout King."

How he can spark in the park
When it's very, very dark,
And he's known as "The Blackout King."

When he'd converse, Good Night,
Nurse!
And how he can rehearse

Ethics (sixth letter)—
A Don't forget your "won't money"
B He may not talk to you, but he'll take you home
C Wouldn't harm a fly, but watch out if you don't have wings
D Nice boy, knows the score—you're safe
E Don't shock him

Camp Flournoy.....BACDAA
Bill Graham.....BAABAD
Gilbert Hetherwick.....ECBDEE
Jack Marshall.....BCCCBE
Burl Sullivan.....CDAECA
Leroy Scott.....ADAAEA
Carl Vollmer.....BDEEEC
Joe Stephens.....BDBBCE
Bill Patton.....EBBADC
Foster Hamner.....EDEAEB
Jack Comegys.....EAEABA
Tom Griffith.....DCBCDD
Gene Hilliard.....DCDCBD
John Woods.....BEBBBE
Phil Clifton.....ADBDAD
Lawrence May.....BAEBDD
Dick Gibbs.....BABDEC
Buddy Kinnebrew.....BABDDC
Ray Goens.....DEBBBD
Cecil Bland.....DEBBBD
Donn Thompson.....EADCCD
Horace Alvord.....EBCADC

For the title of "The Blackout King."

The lights are out, there's no doubt
That the girls all will shout,
"Second helping of that 'Blackout King'!"

Professor Wallace of the geology department finally got over a point . . . he sat on a tack placed on his stool by one James Thibodeaux.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Notices to the Editor

THEATERS AND AMPHITHEATERS

In a theater the seats face the stage in a half-circle.

In an amphitheater the seats surround the stage or arena.

We have on Centenary campus an open-air theater, not an amphitheater.

For the sake of scholarly accuracy this error should be eliminated from all programs and news items.—W.G.P.

Buy U. S. War Savings Stamps!

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Joe Stephens.....2-6370
Vice-President, John Woods.....2-8296
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Jimmie Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Secretary, Jimmie Brown.....7-1751
Treasurer, Roland Achee.....7-2379

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Gilbert Hetherwick, President.....7-2406
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
John Woods, President.....2-8296
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Margaret Gillespie, President.....7-9354

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomec Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Foster Philyaw, President.....7-2554
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936
French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, President.....7-3744

Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Buddy Kinnebrew, Head
Cheerleader.....7-2554

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Joe Stephens, President.....2-6370
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Jimmy Harris, President.....2-4203
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chptr.
Centenary Campus.....7-1424
Bill Wellborn, President.....2-1667

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9387
Martha Hart, President.....7-7430
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-2584
Gerry Baird, President.....7-9605
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus.....7-9465
Jimmie Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Caucus (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891
(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

DON'T FORGET!

ORDER FLOWERS FROM US

FOR MOTHER'S DAY

Sunday, May 10, 1942

Broadmoor Floral Shop

3803 Youree
Phone 7-2737

Mrs. Sara Tully,
Mgr.

LAST YEAR'S GRADS

(Continued from Page One)

ville, Texas; Eileen Maynard, fifth and sixth grades, Belcher, La.;

Florence Neel, 6th and seventh grades, librarian, Dubberly, La.; Martha O'Neal, DeQuincy, La. Joyce Reed, Belcher, La.; Beverly Robertson, Shongaloo, La.; Shirley Safford, Church Point, La.; Mrs. Maggie Ruth Stewart, Alexander school, Shreveport; Mrs. Claude Teel (Mary Nell Reed), Hosston, La.; Eloise Thompson, Pelican, La..

12 are in the army—James W. Campbell, aviation; Sidney E. Conley, aviation; Lloyd K. DeMoss, aviation; Joe W. Elston, aviation, clerical staff; Lurlin Harmon, bombardier; Fred C. McClanahan, aviation; A. Mahlon McIlwain, aviation; William E. Steger, West Point; M. M. Waldrup, aviation; John D. Wilkinson, aviation; S. O. Williams, Jr., aviation.

Four are in the navy—Milton R. Ellis, aviation; George M. Hearne, deck officer; F. M. May, aviation; J. Bachman Nabors, aviation.

Eleven are taking advanced work in schools—William M. Allums, medicine, Tulane University; Chas. W. Armistead, medicine, L.S.U.; Val F. Borum, medicine, Vanderbilt University; A. B. Cox, geology, L.S.U.; James F. Dean, chemistry, L.S.U.; Albert Khoury, medicine, Oglethorpe University; Charles D. Knight, medicine, Tulane University; Charles M. Peters, law, L.S.U.; Juanita Ryland, library science, L.S.U.; Helen Shaw, library science, L.S.U.; Henry M. Shuey, chemistry, University of Wisconsin.

Thirteen are in various businesses—Virginia Adair, laboratory technician, The Browning Clinic, Shreveport; Lee Alice Clay, secretary to claim adjuster, Aetna Casualty and Surety Co., Shreveport; Lewis R. Fennell, clerk, Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co., Shreveport; Cliff E. Howard, plant manager, Howard's Laundry, Waco, Texas; Murph H. Kyle, clerk, Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company, Shreveport; James T. McDowell, clerk, First National Bank, Shreveport; J. Gwin Morrison, clerk, Commercial National Bank, Shreveport; Jeanette Sentell, society editor, The Shreveport Times, Shreveport. Ethel Shropshire, accountant, U. S. Engineers, Barksdale Field, La.; Russell E. Stewart, office manager Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, Shreveport; Carl I. Strother, riveter, North American Aviation Co., Dallas, Texas; Robert W. Webster, accountant, U. S. Engineers, Barksdale Field, La.; Miss R. Elaine Willett, pastor, Methodist church, Morgan City, La.

The remaining 31 in the class are for the most part housewives. Others are not employed.

PUBLIC OPINION
The Masculine Slant

To see how the wind blew on the other side of the human race the same curious reporter as last week posed the question—"Why do you like girls?" to various Centenary Gentlemen:

Jack Comegys—"Because variety is the spice of life and they are all different."

Burl Sullivan—"I am not an authority, but if a fellow gets his feet wet he might as well go in swimming."

Billy Wellborn—"Well, I don't particularly, but you can't do with 'em and you can't do without 'em."

Dick Norton—"Just because I married a mighty fine one." (Tactful, isn't he?)

Zip Hardy:

I	this
like	like
the	at kind	look
of	you
	girl

Sabino Carone—"Because there is a Joan Fontaine."

J. L. Soloman—"Because they are feminine." (Brilliant observation, isn't it?)

Bill Keenan—"I love their gentle sweetness, admire their fairness and constancy, adore their charm, their beauty, their brilliant and delightful company. Of course, I don't know any girls very well." (Are you telling we?)

Bigge Deelee—"Because of Susie Mulkey and 'Miss Knockout'."

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Scholarship and fellowship holders in the 1940-41 school year at the University of Michigan numbered 607, something under 5 per cent of the resident student body.

"We Shall Pay
Them Back With Compound
Interest"—F.D.R.

We Need Every College Man In Officers' Training

★ To Man the Mightiest Air Army in the World ★

Make Your Choice This Week For Present or Future Officers' Training

IF your blood boils at the very thought of an enslaved world...

If Jap treachery and Nazi savagery make you see red and itch for a gun—calm yourself with the promise that we shall pay them back with compound interest!

We shall—and you as a college man now have the opportunity of serving as a Flying Officer—a Bombardier, Navigator or Pilot—with that branch of service which will do that paying back in person—the U. S. Army Air Forces!

Under the new Army Air Force Reserve Plan—if you are a Senior or wish to leave school—apply now for your Aviation Cadet training.

You and your friends can share together the work and fun of flight training, and after approximately 8 months—earn the right to be flying officers in the U. S. Army Air Forces!

On the other hand, if you are a Freshman, Sophomore or Junior—you can, if you like, continue your studies under the Deferred Service Plan of the Army Air Forces—and become better prepared for Officers' Training later.

New Simplified Requirements

To qualify you must be 18 to 26 (inclusive), physically fit—and pass a new, simplified mental test which college men find easy.

When you are ready—and facilities are ready—you begin as an

THREE ENLISTMENT PLANS FOR COLLEGE MEN

Juniors—Sophomores—Freshmen May Continue Their Education

1. A new plan allows Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, aged 18 to 26, inclusive, to enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and continue their schooling, provided they maintain satisfactory scholastic standing.

All College Men May Enlist for Immediate Service

2. All college students may enlist as privates in the Army Air Forces (unassigned) and serve there until their turns come for Aviation Cadet training.

3. All college students may enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and wait until ordered to report for Aviation Cadet training.

Upon graduation or withdrawal from college, men will be assigned to active duty at a training center as facilities become available.

If the necessity of war demands, the deferred status in the Army Reserve may be terminated at any time by the Secretary of War.

The new Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve Plan is part of an over-all Army Enlisted Reserve Corps program shortly to be announced. This program will provide opportunities for college men to enlist in other branches of the Army on a deferred basis and to continue their education through graduation if a satisfactory standard of work is maintained. In case of necessity the Secretary of War shall determine when they may be called to active duty.

It is understood that men so enlisted will have the opportunity of competing for vacancies in officer's candidate schools.

This plan has been approved in the belief that continuance of education will develop capacities for leadership. (Reserve enlistment will not alter regulations regarding established R. O. T. C. plans.)

Aviation Cadet at $75 a month, with expenses paid.

If you have majored in science or engineering you can try for a commission in the ground crew—in Armament, Communications, Engineering, Meteorology, Photography.

As a Second Lieutenant on active duty, your pay ranges from $183 to $245 a month.

80% Have Won Commissions

Due to thorough training—about four out of every five Aviation Cadets this past year received Second Lieutenants' commissions—of which 67% are now flying officers.

The tremendous expansion of the Air Forces should assure rapid advancement in all branches. And after the war—you'll be ready for the ever-growing opportunities in aviation.

Settle Your Service Now

The years ahead are war years—and every college man should make his plans accordingly.

To make America supreme in the air we need every college man who can qualify for active or deferred service.

So take advantage now of this option. You may never again have such opportunities.

See your Faculty Air Force Advisor for information and help with details. Join the thousands of America's college men who are enlisting this week!

NOTE: If you are under 21, you will need your parents' or guardian's consent. Birth certificates and three letters of recommendation will be required of all applicants. Obtain the forms and send them home today.

SEE YOUR FACULTY AIR FORCE ADVISOR FOR FULL INFORMATION

(Or Apply to Your Local Recruiting and Induction Station)

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

WE WONDER:

How BRASWELL got her slick figure?

Why DIENST is girl shy?

How LOVELADY keeps in such a good humor all the time?

Why some fellow doesn't grab MATHILDE LEVY?

Why EARNEST CARTER?

Why ALEX hangs around SHIRLEY so regularly?

Where the elder CARLTON thinks he's getting by hanging around "Miss Centenary."

Who told "FRENCHY" he was tough?

Why WALLER walks around in a daze?

If MERREN, HARRIS, STAMPER, and all the rest of the males in the freshman Chem. Lab. would not accomplish more if "ROB" of the "beautiful legs" wasn't in there to distract them?

On two different occasions now we have seen Gene Hilliard down at the Zephyr Room with another girl besides the one he is supposed to go with. What is the big idea, Gene? That isn't the best policy, you know. Someday somebody is going to see you.

MRS. SARA TULLY, manager of the Broadmoor Floral Shop, ractically makes the Conglomerate possible through her loyal advertising. She deserves the appreciation of all the students. How about everyone buying some flowers from Mrs. Tully for Mother's Day, which is Sunday. Notice the advertisement in this paper.

GOSSYPE . . .

Did you ever notice what a way KEM MERREN has with the fairer sex (according to Kem)? Don't worry, Killer, I won't tell them that you were out in a convertible with Nancy LaRue the other day. Was it a bug collection that you were after?

ELLEN EASTHAM and AL RICHARDSON have further cemented their friendship with a ring.

Carl Volmer, what's all the attraction — Anne Rauch or the Buick?

I see there is another triangle on the campus—Cile Webb, Charles Stamper, and Tom Griffith.

Did you know that Cile Miller and Lawrence May have gotten "on the beam" again? Nice work.

I wonder if G. L. Blaxton knew that one of his old girl friends was in town last week-end? The one from L.S.U., I mean.

To Helen Bartlett—an orchid—for being such a swell girl.

It has been called to my attention that despite the fact that we all signed the pledge to neither give nor receive aid on any kind of examination, this rule has been violated. Especially in one specific case. This is not playing the game right, fellows, for it not only hurts the ones you help but in the end it's going to hurt you. Let's be more careful in the future.

Burl Sullivan, what were you doing squirring James "Vice" Thibodeaux around all last week? Don't you know you are stepping on dangerous ground, Bud? What's the deal, men? Incidentally, that goes for you too, James.

Lil Turner was all beat-up Mon-

KING KONG ★ KOMMENTS!

Things are beginning to happen As we draw the many dangling ends

Together for summer storage. Intellectual feasts and cram sessions

Mingled with the fellowship banquets

Mark the approach of the end. If we have enthusiasm

During the last minutes of the game

(Pardon the archaic expression)

Victory will be ours.

Without enthusiasm work becomes labor,

But with its light Math is a game

Played with otherwise senseless signs and symbols;

History transforms into a beautiful story of life;

Languages turn into charming ways of conversing;

And English affords an opportunity to perfect day. Spurlock must have been in town over the week-end.

Now that Cross Lake has opened the fishing season, it is only natural that a great number of our fellow students will spend every available moment on the lake. I wonder if that is the reason Hearne and Sullivan built a camp up on the lake. It wouldn't be a refuge, would it?

What does Cyril Wilde mean when he says he is "moroser?" It sounds evil, if you know what I mean.

OFFICERS OF KAPPA ALPHA

Above are the new officers of Alpha Iota chapter of Kappa Alpha fraternity at Centenary College. Left to right, they are Burl Sullivan, vice president; Joe Stephens, president, and Leroy Scott, secretary.

The language of the greater part of the world. Yes, Friends, enthusiasm lowers The hills of life and Makes its valley higher.

FOUNDERS' DAY PHENOMENA:

Loud-speakers in spite of no sound equipment.

Dr. Cline and his boys picnicing from a mutual basket.

The "theologues" presiding at the "punch bowl."

PLUGS: The drive for Chinese Student Relief is still on. Thirty (30c) cents per student attending Centenary will attain the goal of $100 set by the Ministerial Club. Your Senate has pledged this amount. Thrifty Chinese can wring more life from 30c than we. Support the drive! Deposit nickels, dimes, and quarters in the world banks in the SUB and Arts Building at once!

OBVIOUS: John Woods' faint resemblance of Bob Hope (physically and pun-ily).

QUOTE DOPE: Girls, remember, purl harder! . . . The car approached the coroner at 90 mph

. . . As he broke the tape: "Fancy beating you here."

DEADLINE—Adios.

FLASH! Congratulations Stephens, Woods, Thibodeaux, Brown and Achee. It seems you've gained the ground lost by the mudslingers.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

This Collegiate World

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Can anyone equal the record of Ernest Speck, University of Texas student? Speck has never failed a course, yet he is enrolled as a freshman for the fourth straight time.

Speck enrolled first for only part of the freshman course. He passed his work, and enrolled again as a freshman. This time, he dropped out of school. Speckman registered last for a third time as freshman and passed all his courses.

When he enrolled again this fall, it was learned that Speck lacked six hours of having enough credits to be a sophomore. So it is Freshman Speck once more.

Most persons dance to the music of Glen Miller and his band, but at Moulton Hall, Kent State university women's dormitory, the girls do reducing exercises.

Each night from 10:30 to 11 o'clock, the girls take off pounds in time to Miller's dance music. The "musical reducing half hour" is a popular feature of the dormitory's activities.

STUDENTS!

Don't forget Mother this "Mother's Day." At least remember her with some small item for the house, or for personal adornment! You will find almost every sort of appropriate gift in our stock—so "SHOP FOR MOTHER" at

LEONARD'S

320-322 Ward Bldg.

Phone 2-5088

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

JOHN WOODS

John Woods has made an amazing record at Centenary. In his freshman year he won the state oratorical contest, and was an outstanding debater. Last year he was elected president of the Debating Club and several other organizations. This year he was chosen president of Psi Delta Chi, secretary of Alpha Chi, and last Monday was chosen vice president of the student body.

He is the most outstanding radio performer in the school and has been responsible for most of the programs sponsored by the college for the past three years.

Although John works all night several nights of the week (and sometimes goes 48 hours without sleeping), he has managed to maintain an almost perfect scholastic average.

John probably knows more people in Shreveport than other boy at Centenary. In part, this is due to the fact that he has worked ever since he was a freshman in high school, and in part it has been due to his radio speaking and extra-curricular activities.

Even in high school he was as active in student affairs as he is now. At Byrd he played football, lettered three years in track, and journeyed even to Hollywood, California, for debate contests.

We've heard many students say: "John Woods is really going to be somebody one of these days." They say this, John, because they admire your ability, like your personality, and believe you "can get things done."

University of Va.
Has Centennial of Its Honor System

Dr. S. A. Steger has received an invitation to attend on May 14 a meeting of the honor committee of the University of Virginia. This meeting is for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the inauguration of the honor system at the university.

Buy U. S. War Savings Stamps!

LYLES
LAUNDRY
and
DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS
LOUISIANA

GAS

COMPANY

P-LENT-Y PARKING SPACE

2 CHAIRS NOW OPERATING

—No More Waiting—

MISS DOROTHY McINTYRE
Splendid Lady Barber

Centenary Barber Shop

129 Kings Hwy.
L. H. APFFEL, Prop.

P-LENT-Y PARKING SPACE

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt,
Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN
Gas and Electric Co.

Centenary Conglomerate

7-261

Official Publication of Oldest College West of the Mississippi

Volume 36.

Shreveport, Louisiana, Friday, May 15, 1942.

Number 28

FORECAST

Well, another in the long line of Centenary years is on the verge of becoming history. It has been a successful one for nearly all of us, and certainly a happy one.

Those of us for whom this year is destined to be the last, will have pleasant memories of the days in the classrooms, nights on the campus, and all the friendships which are an inherent part of the year at Centenary. The seniors will miss these next year, but they are grateful for having had the opportunity to enjoy them during their college days.

There are many, though, who have but begun their stay at Centenary and who will be back again next year to carry on the traditions of the school. Upon them, therefore, will rest the responsibility of continuing the attempts to build ever toward a bigger and better Centenary. It is to you, then, that we say do your share next year in everything you are called upon to do; because it is only through the students themselves that a college can become a better school through the years to come.

—G. H.

Aviation Branch of U. S. Navy Offers Training Courses

The aviation branch of the U. S. Navy is now offering to young men between the ages of 18 and 27 unlimited opportunities, Lieut. (j. g.) Guss Orr, member of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board in New Orleans, who is in Shreveport this week, has announced.

Candidates coming within the age brackets who have a high school education, who are unmarried and who are in excellent physical condition are now eligible to apply for naval flight training.

"Applicants for flight training now take a 'fine screen' test to determine their adaptability for flying," Mr. Orr stated. "Last week, through special arrangements with high school and college officials in one of our larger towns, we gave the test to more than 200 volunteers. Out of the 200, a total of 186 passed the test. As a result, many of this group are planning to carry through and 'win their wings' with the navy."

Young men attending Centenary college are invited to take the adaptability test here on Tuesday, May 19, in the Arts building. The examination will begin at 1 p.m. and will be conducted by Lieut. Harry Gilbert, who will join Mr. Orr in Shreveport on that day.

The pay of aviation cadets while on active duty is $75.00 per month in addition to a subsistence allowance of $1.00 per day. While on active duty as officer pilots, after the completion of flight training, they receive the full pay and allowances of their rank as commissioned officers. Upon completion of the flight training and being designated as a Naval Aviator, the Aviation Cadet is commissioned an Ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve at $245.00 per month.

DOLPH FRANTZ RE-ELECTED

Dolph Frantz, journalism instructor, was re-elected a member of the board of directors at the Louisiana Press Association at the recent convention in New Orleans.

HODGES TO GIVE COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS MAY 27

Honors Announced in Chapel Wednesday

A special honor chapel was held last Wednesday, May 13, with Dean Hardin presiding.

The program was opened by the singing of "Holy, Holy, Holy!" by the entire student body led by Mr. Boran and the college choir. This was followed by a prayer by Dean Smith.

Mrs. Davidson announced the awards granted by the W. A. A. Those winning the W. A. A. letter for the first time this year are Azalie Webb, Virginia Breighaupt, Norman Robertson, Ellen Eastham, Claire Tinnin, Mary Foster Peyton. Those who have received their letters all four years are Ethel Kramer and Lou Dell Liston. The winner of the W. A. A. Blanket, the highest award that is given by the organization is Lou Dell Liston.

Next Coach Hanna gave the names of all those that had received letters in football and basketball. He further announced that the Freshmen won the boys' volley ball and the Sophomore the girls' volley ball. The table tennis tournament was won by Jack Comegys with Hutch Phillips second and Robert Clark third. In badminton Tom Griffith won first place, Joe Stephens second, Billy McCook third and Edward Glover fourth. In boys' badminton doubles first place was won by McCook and Griffith, second place by Herold and Stephens and third place by Ellis and James. In mixed doubles Azalie Webb and Joe Stephens won the championship. Second place was won by Emily Prothro and Billy McCook, third place by Claire Tinnin and Lester Moore, and fourth place by Ruth Woodward and David Carlton. The girls' table tennis was won by Norman Robertson who defeated Betty (Continued on Page 8)

Senior Play To Be Presented May 26

The Senior Class of 1942 will present the annual senior play Tuesday, May 26 at 8:30 p.m. in the amphitheatre. This year's production is a delightful comedy in three acts, entitled "The Importance of Being Earnest." The author is Oscar Wilde. As in previous years the play is under the capable direction of Mr. and Mrs. John Wray Young.

The cast has been well selected and from all appearances the play should be a great success. The leading roles are taken by Jessica Harris, Mabel Body, George Edwards, and Ernest Carter. An excellent supporting cast includes Gladys Tippet, Bobby Wilson, Carl Tatum, and Clint Teacle.

FLASH

Young men between the ages of 18 and 27 who are interested in Naval Aviation are invited to contact Mr. Robert S. See for information on how to become a commissioned officer in the U. S. Naval Aviation at a salary of $245.00 per month. Men with C. P. T. training are admitted to advanced training.

THE

Conglomerate

Dr. Cline's Farewell to The Seniors

"As the swift seasons roll," we are called upon to say adieu senior classes. This can but bring a tinge of melancholy. All genuine teachers learn to love the learners and every class carries away something of the affection of the faculty. But in the larger sense we rejoice with you in your growth and progress. Your gathered strength is sorely needed by a stormy world. We are sustained by a staunch belief that you shall with true hearts and able hands bear your responsibilities. May the ideals of your Alma Mater abide with you eternally and the unflagging faith that right gathers might inspire, support and direct you.

Gilbert Hetherwick and Lou Dell Liston, above, were chosen Wednesday by the student body as the boy and girl "most likely to succeed." Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal.

LIKELY TO SUCCEED

John Woods, left, and Kem Merrin, right, were elected president and vice-president respectively of Kappa Sigma last Monday night. The other officers are Aubrey McClellan, treasurer; Billy Wilcox, master of ceremonies; and Sidney Conger, secretary. Photo courtesy Shreveport Journal.

KAPPA SIGMA OFFICERS

CALENDAR

May 20 (Wednesday) — Final Chapel exercises.
May 24 (Sunday) — Baccalaureate sermon. Annual art exhibit.
May 26 (Tuesday) — Senior play.
May 27 (Wednesday) — Senior rehearsal. Senior-Alumni lunch. Commencement exercises.
June 1 (Monday) — Summer school registration.

BILLY BOOTH WINNER OF PHYSICS AWARD

David Barton, president of Sigma Pi Sigma, announced in chapel last Wednesday that the fraternity had voted to give Billy Booth the annual award for the outstanding freshman physics student.

AUFAT HAS MEETING

The installation of officers for the 1942-43 term was the highlight of Aufait's meeting, Monday, May 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the SUB.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

All those students having library books checken out must have them in the library by May 21st. Also all fines must be paid in full or students owing them will not be able to get their grades or seniors will not be able to receive their degrees.

The library will be open for use through exams but books can not be taken out of the library.

Miss Smith, Librarian

Dr. Parker to Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon, May 24

The commencement exercises of the 117th year will take place in the Greek theater at 8:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 27. All May and August graduates will assemble in cap and gown at 8:00 to form the academic procession at the chapel entrance.

Doctor Cline has announced that Maj. Gen. Campbell B. Hodges, president of Louisiana State University, will address the graduates this year. Maj. Gen. Hodges has had a very interesting career. He served in the Philippines from 1903 to 1905, and with the A.E.F. in France in 1918. For a time he was professor of military science at L.S.U. From 1922 to 1926 he was military attache to Spain and Portugal. In 1926 he was appointed Commandant of the West Point cadets, and from 1929 to 1933 served as military aide to the President of the United States. On July 1, 1941 he became president of Louisiana State University. He has received the D. S. M.

Dr. Franklin N. Parker, well known theologian and educator, will preach the baccalaureate sermon at 10:50 a.m. Sunday, May 24, at the First Methodist Church. Doctor Parker attended Centenary at Jackson, Louisiana in 1883-84. He received his D. D. at Centenary in 1901. He was elected bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church (S.) at Atlanta, Ga., May, 1918, but declined. At present he is the dean of the school of theology, Emory University.

After the graduation, punch will be served on the porch of Colonial Hall.

1942 Yoncopin Issued Friday and Saturday

Bill Graham, editor of the YONCOPIN, and his assistants are to be congratulated for another splendid annual.

The books with padded covers were given out Friday, May 15, and the rest were distributed Saturday, May 16.

LA RUE POWELL HONORED

At a buffet supper last Monday at 6:30 p.m. La Rue Powell was awarded the senior cup for being the most outstanding Alpha Xi Delta senior. The buffet supper was served to members of the local chapter of Alpha Xi Delta and Mrs. Ann See, Patroness.

A bowl of pink roses, the official flower of the sorority, decorated the table. Billfolds bearing the sorority crest were presented to the seniors.

RUPERT PEYTON ADDRESSES JOURNALISM STUDENTS

Last week the students of the journalism class heard a lecture on civilian defense by Rupert Peyton, an instructor in civilian defense. He is a member of the staff of the Shreveport Journal. Mr. Peyton was invited by the instructor, Dolph Frantz, to make he talk, demonstrating the use of gas masks and how to control war bombs and detect war gases.

THE Centenary Conglomerate

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc. Associated Collegiate Press
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - SAN FRANCISCO
LOS ANGELES - PORTLAND - SEATTLE

Member

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Official student newspaper published by the students of Centenary College, every Friday in the school year at Shreveport, La.

Subscription price, $1.50 the Collegiate Year.

JOE STEPHENS, Editor

Managing Editor.....Roland Achee
Associate Editor.....Mary Foster Peyton
Poetry Editor.....John Woods
Sports Editor.....Arthur Herold
News Editor.....Patricia Harper
Campus Editor.....Ellen Eastham
Feature Editor.....Barbara Harris
Social Editor.....Mabel Boddie
Circulation Manager.....Azalie Webb

FOSTER PHILYAW, Business Manager

Reporters: Jake Cullick, Margaret Owens, Nan Dobson, Ethel Kramer, Buddy Stroud, Margaret Eubank, Bill Keenan, Marie Wolf, Carolyn Lunny, Katy Castaneda, Lester Moore, Dottie Graham, Peggy O'Neill, Clint Teacle, Claude Blackburn, Betty Blaxton, Horace Alvord, Mary Smith New, Billy Booth, Bob Eatman, Charlotte Newsom, E. W. Harris, Mickey McCutchen, Leroy Scott, Jessica Harris, Lucille Webb, Carolyn Canon.

THANK YOU

The final edition of Volume 36 is off the presses. We put away our copy paper and typewriter, perhaps for the last time.

In closing this year, we wish to express our sincere thanks to all those without whose help the paper this year would have been impossible—to The Shreveport Times and Shreveport Journal for the use of engravings; to the faithful staff members who carried out their assignments so willingly; to the advertisers, who showed their confidence in our student body and its buying power; to the faculty and student body for their support; and last, but by no means least, to the linotype operators, make-up men, and pressmen who have cooperated to the fullest with your editor in putting out this year's Volume 36.

GOOD LUCK, MEN

This year the seniors of Centenary College are graduating with a clear cut task before them—to win the war. It will be a hard task; it will be a trying task, possibly for some a fatal task—but it must, it shall be accomplished. It shall be accomplished by all the means of warfare possible on land, on and under the sea, and in the air. Centenary seniors will scatter to the far corners of the globe—to Africa, to India, to Australia, to Europe—everywhere the enemy can be contacted. But no matter where one goes, or what one does, the lessons learned in college will follow and keep ever clear what one is fighting for—the right to exist as an individual.

Yet the greater task—the true test of one's college training—will come after the war when the nation cries out for leadership—for men of honesty, foresight, and courage to restore a world geared for war to a world geared for peace. The change will be drastic and sudden with untold difficulties involved. The new world of peace will not be as the old world of peace. No past solutions can be applied but new ones will be necessary under the direction of fresh leadership. Here Centenary seniors must play their part to make a freer, stronger, wiser, and more vigilant nation.

❖ CONGLOMERATION ❖

Well, here we are writing a . . . there's just one way to express it—corny.

SISTER WOLF has returned to our campus with a happy smile. What, Sister, he's a lieutenant and you have no ring. ANN BURNETT was awfully happy yesterday. We hear she's going to New Orleans. Tell BARRON hello for all of us. BERT is getting more interested now that EMILY is giving him some competition.

We heard "Handsome" Griffith is leaving for the Naval Air Corps in three weeks. What will LITTLE WEBB say about it?

MARTHA HART we all thought AL CURREY was the one for you but lately we have seen you with CYRIL WILDE.

Invest in War Savings Bonds!!!

CLINT TEACLE can really act

FRESHMAN THEME

(Printed below is a freshman English theme written by Dorothy Luse which displays Dorothy's rare imaginative power.)

The First Episode in My Life

My earliest recollection of my life was in a very large forest somewhere in the United States where I was surrounded by many relatives, and friends. It was in this forest that I lived until I reached some ten years. Not many days after my tenth birthday the forest was invaded by a large number of lumber-jacks and many trucks. From that day on I was destined for a life of adventure.

It all started when I found myself on one of the lumber trucks which was leaving the woods. The truck was jogging along in such a way that it made me sleepy, and I must have fallen asleep for when I awoke I was in territory I had never seen before. I got off the truck and went down a chute into a large pond. That was the first time I had ever been in swimming and I must admit it was fun. I stayed there until I was quite cool then got into a sort of elevator which was lowered into the pond, and from there I entered a huge room in which were many machines with men working all around them. As I stood there wondering how I was to get through these, I suddenly saw an opening between two machines, and I made a dive for it. I don't understand exactly why, but I felt just a little bit thinner when I came out. There before me was a section of the floor which moved forward. I saw no other way out so I crawled on, and the next thing I knew I was passing through another opening between two machines. When I got to the other side of these I felt even thinner than before. I looked about me to see where I was this time, and found I was again on a truck.

This time when the truck stopped, it was before a large white building. I slid off, thinking I would avoid anyone who might be around, but to my sorrow I found myself on another of those moving floors. As for what happened after that I am afraid I cannot tell for it went so fast, and I was whirled around and about so much I was not able to see what was happening to me. I found I was lying on something which was soft, and on closer inspection I discovered it was sawdust. I began to feel me to see if I was all there. To my horror some of me was missing. I fell back from sheer exhaustion and fright. As I lay there with my eyes closed, I heard someone walking across the floor, and they stopped beside where I was. There must have been two people for they began to talk. One of them touched me, and said something about a yellow pencil with an extra large rubber eraser. The other answered and they turned and walked away. Only when I could no longer hear them did I dare to open my eyes. I sat up and surveyed myself. I was yellow! I was a pencil!

Former Student in California

Robert Wilsno, who enlisted in the United States Navy as a hospital apprentice last February, is now stationed at the U. S. Navy Hospital in San Diego, California. In a letter he wrote home recently he tells of a visit to U.C.L.A. (University of California, Los Angeles). After touring the campus and seeing the beautiful grounds and buildings, Robert writes home: "It's beautiful, but it doesn't look half as good as Dear Ole Centenary to me."

P.S.—He said to tell everyone hello.

College students today are two inches taller on the average than students 10 years ago.

Buy War Savings Bonds!!!

To Our Mother

By Jerry Renov

You pure and stainless woman,
mother mine,
From whose soul emanates a spirit of such force
That through the distances from her to us
It travels unweakened by such great space,
And lifts us, guides us, shows us
the right,
That we may live, enjoy our life untouched
By sorrows that beleaguer youthful days,
Know this: that in our minds are thoughts of you
As constant, surely as the Northern Star,
And brighter still; that we, your children, turn
To you, as fawn to doe, for help in life;
We need your love, your confidence in us,
Your wisdom and your loving,
guiding hand.
Think not that age has taken us
from you,
That we, as grown, need not your care, your love,
And that we need no more your inspiration.
We are your children and shall always be,
Though change and circumstance
may send us far,
Though time may alter us, these by God's will,
And we shall love you always with a love
That, lasting life and e'en
eternity,
Shall burn as does the everlasting light,
To glorify your children's love for you.

This Is Living

By Buddy Kinnebrew

To go afishing in the old mill stream
To trod upon the earth so clean and cool
To sit and plan and hope and watch and dream
With not a thought of work, of books, or school;
Or just to lie out in the cool of
night
And count the stars that fill the sky above
To watch with awe a distant city's lights
Or see a farmer till the soil he loves.
All of these things and more—yes, quite a few
Are what it takes to make life worthwhile.
We want a life so full of different hues
That not a person would e'er beguile.
Don't worry, poet, or be o'ercome
with strife,
Just laugh and shout, "Hoorah, this is the life."

Caesar In Flatbush

(Let us see what would happen if the setting of Mark Antony's speech in "Julius Caesar" was proven erroneous. The situation would be similar but the dialogue.)

Time: 1942.

Place: Brooklyn.

Enter Tony DePiastr; he speaks to the crowd.

Tony: See here, youse guys, I'm putting this guy Caesar six feet under, see; not throwing the bull about him.

The jobs these boids pull gets their names plastered all over de front page; the jobs they don't pull ain't never hoid about.

It's that way with this boid. The big shot Brutus is spreading the line that Caesar was working the squeeze play on some mobs; if so, well, he can't take it with him.

Now this guy Brutus is a swell guy, see; youse has got him all wrong. They is letting me gab here now.

Old "Stinky" Caesar was a pal, but Brutus says he worked a squeeze play. And this guy Brutus is a swell guy, see. He's rubbed out torpedoes and molls alike, and saved the state's electricity bill.

Does that look like a squeeze play?

When these molls was shot, he cried like a kid. (Sure he shot 'em, but he cried like a kid). A boid working a squeeze play is tougher than that, yet Brutus says he was working a squeeze play. And this guy Brutus is a swell guy, see.

Youse guys all seen me here in Flatbush. I said I'd liquidate a boid for him; t'ree times I said it, and t'ree times he said "naw." Yet Brutus says he was working a squeeze play, and this guy Brutus is a swell guy, see.

I ain't trying to say Brutus is off the beam; I'm just spreading a line of fact. Youse all has been in Caesar's mob at one time or another. Why don't youse admit it? Oh (censored), there ain't no justice. Youse guys ain't got no smart. I'm all choked up, sore-throat, see.

My heart—I got a heart—is in that crate six feet under, and I've got to get on a drunk to get it back.

This Collegiate World

To help furnish translators for possible service in Iceland, the Scandinavian department at the University of Wisconsin this term is offering a new course in modern Icelandic.

Of 3,200 students enrolled for the second semester at Washington State College, the men outnumber the women almost two to one, with 1,933 men registered and 1,167 women.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

ACTIVITY DIRECTORY

STUDENT SENATE

President, Joe Stephens.....2-6370
Vice-President, John Woods.....2-8296
Co-ed Vice-Pres., Jimmie Thibodeaux.....7-1207
Secretary, Jimmie Brown.....7-1751
Treasurer, Roland Achee.....7-2379

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

Maroon Jackets (Junior-Senior Women)
Ann Burnette, President.....2-4953
"C" Club (Lettermen, 3 Sports)
Claude Teel, President.....7-6571
Alpha Chi (Jr.-Sr. Scholastic)
Joe Stephens, President.....2-6370
Alpha Sigma Chi (Chemistry)
James Knox Smith, President.....7-6571
Alpha Sigma Pi (Fresh.-Soph. Scholastic)
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Psi Delta Chi (Psychology)
John Woods, President.....2-8296
Pi Mu Sigma (Pre-Medical)
Ray Goens, President.....7-6571
Sigma Pi Sigma (Physics)
David Barton, President.....7-7570
Chi Sigma Nu (Education)
Bootie Holloway, President.....7-8855
The Ministerial Club,
John E. Hearn, President.....7-6571

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

Spanish Club (Language)
Mabel Boddie, President.....7-2217
Cenhomec Club (Home Economics)
Meredith Lawless, President.....7-1929
Commerce Club (Commerce)
Foster Philyaw, President.....7-2554
Dramatic Club
Roland Achee, President.....7-2379
Women's Athletic Association
Azalie Webb, President.....7-2936

French Club (Language)
Claude Blackburn, Preside it7-3744
Geology Club (Geology)
Irl Harper, President.....7-1145
Cheerleaders
Buddy Kinnebrew, Head
Cheerleader7-2554

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternities:

Kappa Alpha, Alpha Iota Chapter
2910 Centenary Boulevard.....7-1145
Joe Stephens, President.....2-6370
Kappa Sigma, Epsilon Chapter
336 Columbia Avenue.....7-4219
Jimmy Harris, President.....2-4208
Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Rho Zeta Chptr.
Centenary Campus7-1424
Bill Wellborn, President.....2-1667

Sororities:

Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus7-9387
Martha Hart, President.....7-7430
Zeta Tau Alpha, Beta Iota Chapter
Centenary Campus7-2584
Gerry Baird, President.....7-9605
Chi Omega, Iota Gamma Chapter
Centenary Campus7-9465
Jimmy Thibodeaux7-1207
Cencoes (Intersorority)
Gladys Tippet, President.....7-7395

Non-Greek, Women:

Aufait
LouDell Liston, President.....7-9891
(Note: Any corrections or additions to this activity list should be reported to the CONGLOMERATE at once. When student officers are elected, we should like to have their names for this department.)

A Day at Rotary Hall

As the sun slowly peeps from over the horizon, the last of the Rotary men finally come home. Before they fall exhausted on their beds, they bang on a few doors, sing the last lines of "Old Mill Stream," and cuss the world in general. After they have decided not to wear pajamas, because it is too much trouble looking for them, they fall on the bed and wonder why the bed spins so. Through a mist comes the realization that they neglected to tell someone to wake them in time for class. They struggle to their feet, and go out into the hall shouting, "Somebody wake me at 8:45." Then they bang a few doors, and yell it again. With a feeling of security, they go back to their roving bed.

A half-hour later, the studious soul gets up. No sooner has he opened his eyes, than he has the radio blasting so that he'll be sure he'll stay awake.

Another half-hour and his buddy-buds are up and the men are still in bed. Someone suggests something and they all run down to the lobby and bang the piano. They think it's funny, but we MEN will get revenge some day.

By 9 o'clock, all the students have gone to class and the sweats are sleeping gloriously. From 9 to 12 Cheesy is happy, but then classes are over at 12.

At 12:30 the activity begins for the afternoon program. It consists of sleeping, a quartet in the lobby, going to movies, and, oh yes, studying in room 104. From down the hall a sweet refrain "Carone is the best looking boy in the town." Two boys (Mutt and Jeff) come out of room 110 and the singing stops. Then is heard, "Gosh, Pete, but you're good-looking." And then, "You're good-looking, too, Carone." (After all, both Mrs. Carone and Mrs. Peters aren't here to encourage the boys.)

A familiar footstep is heard in the hall, and all doors are locked. The banging begins, starting on

KOLLEGE KAPERS TRIO

Justine Holmes, Jean Evans, and Cleo Christensen bring down the house with their rendition of "Deep in the Heart of Texas." C. H. Vandegar furnishes the musical background. The girls were enthusiastically received on all of Kollege Kapers' tours.

one door and then another. No one says a word, and then, someone comes into the dormitory. The owner of the footstep says, "Gimme a cigarette, will you?" Everyone is happy because the sweat has gotten a cigarette from someone else.

At 2:00 quiet prevails until 6:00. At 6:30 everyone runs to the dining hall, and there some very interesting discussions take place. Each boy picks out a girl and commences to pick her apart. By the time he has finished his dessert, and the waiter begins to glare at him, he has finished tearing the girl apart and takes the waiter's hint and leaves.

On their way into the dormitory the "mob" stops at 106 and listens to a few records. This session breaks up at 7:00 and everyone goes to his own room. At 7:30, after arguments by roommates, everyone decides to clean out his room. Room 110 goes through this formality only once a week, and they probably wouldn't do it then, but the sink is becoming difficult to find.

By 8:00 the rooms are clean and the hall is a mess. Then everyone settles down to study. At 8:10 someone suggests a show, and the whole dormitory agrees. Two boys have the money, but after fifteen minutes of promising and "Remember the time," everyone leaves for a cinema. (I wonder what picture show is south on King's Highway just over the bridge.)

Of course, someone stays at the dorm to study. (Pathological personalities). By 9:30, there persons are in bed, and at 9:45 they are sleeping. At 10:00 they are awake again because the "boys" have returned from the movies.

A bull session, usually in 102 so the Civil War can be fought, begins. After an hour, with the South the victor, everyone goes to his room. Radios are turned on, so that they can study. At 12:00, occupants of room 110 decide they want to take a shower. After they bang a few doors and secure some soap and a towel, they get in the shower and begin singing. At 1:00 they come out and go to their room forgetting to return the soap and towel. (Not unusual).

At 1:30, peace reigns in Rotary. Cheesy gives a sigh and a broad grin crosses his face as he falls asleep.

Lady of The Week

Helen "Bobo" Dwire is a member of Alpha Xi Delta. She served Beta Gamma as vice-president this past year. A senior majoring in history, Helen begins to make plans for her future, which we hear will include a wedding very soon.

Helen started her freshman year by being elected Kappa Sigma sponsor, and "Miss Centenary." Both her freshman and sophomore years Helen was featured in "Kollege Kapers," singing and acting. She also served as secretary of her sophomore class.

Last year "Bobo" was assistant business manager of the Yoncopin and treasurer of the Spanish Club.

This year Helen is a Cencoe, vice-president of Pan Hellenic, treasurer of Maroon Jackets, serves as the student representative on the faculty-student committee on fraternities and sororities and is one of six beauties.

"Bobo" is well known on the campus. Not enough can be said in praise of the work she has done for Centenary College.

We hate to think of losing you, Helen. You can be sure we'll miss you—but don't forget us and remember there is a welcome for you always at Centenary.

CHOIR CUT UPS

Tantalizing odor of juicy steaks a-barbecuing, cool breezes blowing across the water, and cavorting choirites everywhere. This sets the scene for the choir picnic Tuesday afternoon at the Treadwell camp near Greenwood.

The crew, some thirty strong, set out from the campus at 4 p.m. via a spacious, easy-riding (?) truck, and reached the camp in plenty of time for any swimming fiend, fisherman, boat-lover, or loafer to get his fill of his favorite care-chaser.

Sundown found every singer with his full attention, including incisors and bicusps, centered in a luscious steak, man-sized, and complete with trimmings. The result of partaking too freely of such delicacies was discovered during the sing session which followed, when two voices were conspicuous by their absence. Their owners were sleeping peacefully. Can't blame you a bit JUSTINE and GEORGE ROBERTS.

NOTES FROM THE LITTLE BLACK BOOK OF YOUR ROVING REPORTER:

MARGUERITE MYERS, the barefoot girl. Must be wonderful to be young and shapely of foot.

CAUSEY and SOLOMON, returning to shore fishless. Rumor has it that the fish are there, boys. You just don't have the technique.

ELEANOR JENKINS, a second E. Holm? Noticed her practicing some smooth life-saving on Conger, too.

Nomination for Miss Bathing Beauty: HELEN BARTLETT. Ummmmmm. Quite an eye-ful.

Will bear watching: One little girl and three little boys, coming into the song session a bit late with the oldie, "But we got stuck." Come, come, children, in a boat?

Old news: GEORGE BROWN and NAN BANKS.

HARRIETT and CHARLOTTE, back to nature advocates. Knives and forks haven't been rationed yet, girls, and barbecue sauce from here to ear isn't the latest method for glamorizing oneself.

Please remember: To ask BETTY ANN HUCKABY about CHARLIE and LULU. Seem to be a coupla horses mixed up in it some way.

Watch for further developments: HENRIETTA GREENE and B. PAIN ALSTON.

Motion No. 1, made and seconded: Let's give a rousing cheer to Mrs. Treadwell as the most gracious hostess in these parts.

Motion No. 2, ditto to Mr. and Mrs. CHEESY and Mr. and Mrs. CASEY of VORAN fame for being one quartet of swellegant folks.

Nomination for our theme song: WHY DON'T WE DO THIS MORE OFTEN?

Buy War Savings Bonds!!!

The faculty of Kent State university recently voted almost unanimously to adopt the quarter system beginning this fall.

Invest in War Savings Bonds!!!

Congratulations
from
MILBURNE'S
STUDIO
Giddens-Lane Building

For Graduation!

Nothing is so appropriate or as lasting as GOOD JEWELRY for the graduate. Be sure and shop with us this year and get the very latest, up-to-date and modern styles. We also specialize in crested jewelry, that distinctive gift, for the Fraternity man and Sorority woman. You will be pleased with our very REASONABLE PRICES.

LEONARD'S

320-322 Ward Bldg.

Phone 2-5088

THEY ARE MANY AND GREAT

IT IS OUR HOPE
THAT THEY ALL
MAY BE FULFILLED

PENNEY'S
J. O. PENNEY CO., INC.

Graduation

Mrs. Campbell puts the finishing touches of gratuation.
Scrapbooks

These girls happily revue the events of the year.

Louisiana's
Oldest Bank

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Correct Time Day or Night
Dial 3-8531

PLAZA CAFE
Genuine Mexican Food

Coca-Cola
TRADE-MARK REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

For the BEST FOOD
throughout the year

EAT AT
"MA" WOMACK'S
WITH THE GANG
"One-Half" Block from the Campus
"MA" WOMACK'S
217 Rutherford

CENTENARY IN PICTURES

Archery

Some girls find Centenary a Happy Hunting Ground.

The Kollege Kapers Band Swings Out

Alpha Sigma Pi
Has Picnic

The freshman-sophomore scholastic fraternity, Alpha Sigma Pi, recently had a picnic at Betty Virginia Park. This picnic is given annually in the latter part of May, and is generally the last meeting of the fraternity.

Members present included: Ella

Mae McKee, Harriet Lieber, Carolyn Coburn, Eleanor Brown, Marie Wolf, Frances Oden, Robert Clark, Leroy Scott, Joe Stephens, Billy Booth, Robert Eatman, Roland Achee, Glyn Ford, Marshall Kesling, and Mrs. A. R. Campbell, faculty sponsor and ex-officio secretary of the fraternity.

The picnic was ably managed by Robert Eatman, chairman of the committee.

COMPLIMENTS
of
STOPMOOR

COMPLIMENTS
of
COMMUNITY STORES

CENTENARY IN PICTURES

Intramural Sports

Intramural sports under Coach Hanna and Mrs. Davidson goes into full swing after football goes out.

Homecoming

The Alpha Xi Homecoming float goes by.
Candle Lighting Ceremony

Hetherwick presides at the Candle Lighting Ceremony.

BIG CHAIN STORES

"The Grocery Folks of Shreevport"

HOME OWNED — HOME OPERATED

COMPLIMENTS

of

KAPPA
ALPHA

Dr. Henry Gilman, professor of chemistry at Iowa State college, has been re-elected councilor-at-large of the American Chemical society.

Fourteen gifts and grants totaling $10,227 were accepted by the University of Wisconsin board of regents at a recent meeting.

An information center to which students and citizens may turn for information about the war has been established on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

URY'S SANDWICH AND ICE CREAM
SHOPPE

Highland and Kings Highway

Football

Azalie Webb and the school band entertain at the half.

ELISE MONTGOMERY
RECEIVES CEN-COE AWARD

Elise Montgomery, it has been recently announced, has received the Cen Coe award granted for conspicuous service in bringing about a close feeling of cooperation and friendship. Miss Montgomery is a Zeta and graduates this year.

PLEASE PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS; THEY PATRONIZE US—AND THANKS!

Comedian Bob Burns studied civil engineering at the University of Arkansas, and today rates as something of a technical expert in aviation.

Invest in War Savings Stamps!!

According to a Johns Hopkins university survey, persons born in the spring are taller and heavier than those who make the summer, fall or winter trip with the stork.

Buy U. S. War Savings Bonds!!

HEALTHY COWS

Cows have to be healthy and fed a balanced ration to produce the maximum amount of milk and butterfat, and have to be fed a properly balanced ration containing all essential minerals for her milk to have the highest food value. That's why our cows lead in milk and butterfat.

8,482 LBS. OF MILK — PER COW
945 LBS. OF BUTTER — PER YEAR

Don't let your local draft board put you in a deferred class by being physically unfit.

DRINK MORE MILK

HAGGARD'S FARMS
GREENWOOD, LA.

For good meals well served, and nice rooms

SEE

MRS. HENRY

3004 Centenary Blvd.—Across from the campus

KIDD-RUSS TRUNK
& BAG CO.

"THE HOUSE OF LUGGAGE"

505 MILAM ST.

Everything in luggage and small
Leather Goods.

Featuring the nationally advertised
Wheary Line

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

CAN YOU FEATURE?:

Judson Kelly keeping his pin for a few days . . . Hi there, Ruth!

Hall and Viosca in 20 more years . . . 'Reckon they will still be fussing so they can make up . . .

Ann Galloway not sleeping in the SUB every day . . .

Carolyn Coburn not being able to talk . . .

"Cile" Webb sitting still for two seconds . . .

Billy Booth or Roland Achee falling in love . . .

Mickey McCutchen being any cuter . . .

Cyril Wilde buying his own cigarettes . . .

Young Hamner trying to be independent with "Stevie" . . . a chump again. He had to lay off the other flower at his command.

Kay and Jean without their wing men . . .

Jessica Harris without malaria.

Albert Johnson with a sober look . . .

Solomon dating away from Lucas . . .

Katy Moreneaux giving the boys a break . . .

The outcome of the Brownlee-Boddie setup . . .

Joe Stephens being a better leaved . . . We can't . . .

Haggard thinking of any opposite sex but Foster . . .

Lou Dell Liston getting mad at a boy . . .

Mary Earle Texada with long hair . . . But it's okey gal 'cause we think it's cute . . .

"Bobo" Dwire not marrying at graduation time . . .

The Kappa Alpha order not playing moon . . .

Bobby Lindsay without Norman's advice . . .

A cuter couple anywhere than "Hutch" and "Smitty" . . .

This school next year . . .

Well, what do you know? School is just about out like FLOURNOY . . . out (that is to say "out" in the sense of the word meaning "to graduate"). Looks as if many of the fairer sex will go out into the cruel, cruel world to earn that ever-lovin' livelihood. Most of them won't know how it feels to be working girls for a change . . . most of them have been working men for so long.

Looks as if former vice-prexy HAWKINS will soon be wed. PEG went to look over apartments the other day. She came back and told one of her friends (rumor has it, JESSICA HARRIS) that she found one without a flaw. JESSICA wanted to know what in the world she walked on if it didn't have a flaw.

Glad to see one Flathead CRAIN in the offing once more, squiring the middlesized WEBB around here and there . . . mostly there. We are also glad to see AL RICHARDSON and ELLEN EASTHAM so happy.

It has also been brought to our attention that young PATTON is now, quoth, "A-1 in the army," and again rumor has it, June 2 is the fateful day. That same day will probably get a lot of the rest of us, what with the swarms of questionnaires that seem to have hit the mails (and males) at the same time.

KING KONG ☆ ★ KOMMENTS!

All of your school days may be over, for Reckoning time has come; Though you have finished a course of study, Here you begin a life—a life of Usefulness or neglect; A goal has been reached— A tool put into your hand.

Centenary has given you distinction Reached only by those attending its halls. Always remember its lessons— Words of life and learning. Facts alone do not make a sage; Only when put to task do they Rank wisdom's dignity. Daily may we love and live it!

OBVIOUS:

That a rolling stone gathers no moss (but it sometimes becomes very bright).

The story propagating of VIRGINIA KILPATRICK'S favorite quote: "A thing of beauty is a BOY forever."

That KING KONG has run outa soap, er I mean DOPE. (Taint punny, McGee!)

LAST MINUTE WONDER: Why Bill Swyers is sometimes called by phone at the Zeta house! (And found?)—Adios.

Liberal Arts Students Still Needed Today

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (ACP) While the present trend for college students is to place emphasis on technical courses, Dr. Charles C. Wagner, assistant dean of the school of liberal arts here, urges those interested in the liberal arts field not to be influenced by today's emergency conditions.

"Before the present emergency technological jobs were few, and this will be the situation when the present crisis is over," Dr. Wagner said.

"Too many students have the idea that technical subjects are the only important ones now, and are overlooking the part played by the liberal artist in defense," he added.

Many positions are open both in the army and civilian life, where the liberal artist is much in demand, he pointed out. Particular attention was called to the quartermaster corps, public relations and finances, and the publicity department of the army. Numerous jobs are now available in the fields of economics, sociology and mathematics.

"Students should look forward to long-aim objectives rather than short-aim objectives," Wagner asserted.

Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

MOST POPULAR GIRL

Few people can hold a candle to Jimmie Thibodeaux but Jimmie Thibodeaux is one of them. Miss Thibodeaux is Centenary's most popular girl and co-ed vice-president of the student body for next year.

MAY FETE

The May Fete, above, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bryant Davidson and Miss Estes, was a marked success. Lou Dell Liston was queen, and Ame Robinson was maid of honor of the court.

GENTLEMAN of the WEEK

What's Good About This College?

Why do people come to Centenary college? What can be found at Centenary that is lacking at some other schools? In order to determine what attracts students to this college the following question was asked to the following people:

"Eyesight Is Priceless, Good Light Is Cheap"

Says Reddy Kilowatt, Your Electric Servant

SOUTHWESTERN Gas and Electric Co.

Why do you like Centenary college?

GILBERT HETHERWICK: I like Centenary College because of the friendliness of the faculty and the students.

SUSIE MULKEY: Because it is a small school and everybody is so clubby.

C. H. VANDEGAR: Frankly, I don't know.

ARTHUR HEROLD: Because I like a small school.

MARGARET EUBANK: Because the professors take a personal interest in the students.

JOHN WOODS: I'll tell you later on. (There were ladies present).

SISTER WOLF: It affords a good education and a good time.

BILLY BOOTH: I like the snap courses, easy teachers and friendly students.

MICKEY MCCUTCHEN: Because of Zeta.

JACKIE KEENAN: Because it's a small school and you get to know everybody. Furthermore you get some personal attention from the faculty.

JESSICA HARRIS: I think Centenary is a llllll rightttttt.

LEROY SCOTT: I like Centenary because of the pretty trees and because it is so close to the K. A. house.

CAROLYN COBURN: Because the faculty and the students are both friendly.

BOOTIE HOLLOWAY: Because it's such a happy hunting ground—or rather it was.

JEAN STILES: Because it's small and everybody's so friendly.

ERNEST CARTER: Because of the exceptional college spirits and traditions.

FRANCES ODEN: Because it's just a lot of fun.

Malcolm Vickers in National Advertising Contest Finals

It has been learned here recently that Malcolm Vicker's entry in the national Collegiate Advertising Contest has reached the final round of 100 best. Over 4,000 entries were made in the contest and Vickers, senior major in economics, stands a chance of winning a $500 scholarship.

The contest is sponsored by the Gruen Watch Company. The prizes to be given include one $500 scholarship, one $250 scholarship, two $100 scholarships, two $50 scholarships and ten Gruen Veri-Thin wrist watches. The scholarships are given in cash.

The winners will be selected by a jury composed of nationally prominent business men interested in advertising and merchandising.

The final awards will be announced soon.

Buy U. S. War Savings Stamps!

Gifts reported to the University of Michigan regents in the 1940-41 school year totaled $1,613,562 of which $1,589,455 was in money and $34,107 in other forms.

Invest in War Savings Stamps!!

Congratulations To the Seniors

Thanks for Your Patronage

GOOD LUCK

CENTENARY BARBER SHOP LOUIS APPFEL

LYLES LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANING

1921 Market St.

QUALITY and SERVICE

Phone 2-0788

ARKANSAS

LOUISIANA

GAS

COMPANY

Kappa Alphas Defeat Kappa Sigma Team in Founder's Day Classic

The Kappa Alphas defeated the Kappa Sigmas for the third consecutive year in the annual softball game played between the two fraternities at the Founder's Day picnic.

In the first inning the Kappa Sigmas scored two runs, and following that Donn Thompson pitched three no-hit, no-run innings. Then, about the fourth inning, with Bob Raley pitching, the KA's rallied, and by the end of the game had run the score up to 12-2.

BADMINTON TOURNAMENT COMPLETED

The Centenary badminton tournament has been finally completed. Azalie Webb defeated Harriett Crawford 11-8, 11-1 to become winner of women's singles. Mary Foster Peyton and Azalie Webb had a tough battle but after a three game match defeated Rethie Ward and Hattie Hill 5-2, 12-15, 15-8.

Tom Griffith and Joe Stephens battled it out with Tom victorious. Some time ago Joe Stephens and Azalie Webb defeated Martha Hart and Tom Griffith and then Emily Prothro and Billy McCook to capture the title of mixed doubles champions.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor of the Conglomerate, Publications Office.

Dear Sir:

I was very interested in your article in last week's issue of the Conglomerate regarding the return of mislaid articles to the college business office. We provide in this office suitable storage for such articles as may be handed in to us and make every effort to locate the owner. The cooperation of the student body would greatly facilitate this service and, I am sure, would be sincerely appreciated by anyone losing anything of value.

I am wondering if we could work some plan whereby the students would be encouraged to follow your suggestion and turn in all things of value which may be found on the campus to the switchboard in the business office, and at the same time leave his or her name with the switchboard operator so that should the article not be claimed by the owner it could be returned to the finder. We are more than willing, in fact we are anxious, to cooperate in this, as we have received any number of complaints regarding articles that were lost on the campus and never found. Your assistance will be sincerely appreciated.

Yours truly,
Sam E. Randolph, Bursar

A sales tax is bad at all times and never would be worse than now, in the opinion of Dr. Clarence E. Ayres, University of Texas professor of economics.

Scenes at Founder's Day Picnic

Pictured above at top are Naval Cadets George Head (left) and Dudley Beene (right), former Centenary students, and Lucile Sanford, supporter of John Woods and Gene Hilliard. Beene and Head were at the picnic for the double purpose of recruiting men for the Naval Air Corps and campaigning for Gene and Carl—we mean John. Below Sabino Carone is making a campaign speech for Kathryn Moreneaux and Martha Hart.

Something TO THINK ABOUT

Who Am I

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world.

I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the world.

I am more deadly than bullets and have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege-guns.

I steal, in the United States alone, more than three hundred millions of dollars each year.

I spare no one, and I find my victims among rich and poor alike, the young and old, the weak and strong; widows and orphans know me.

I cast my shadow over every field of labor, from the tilling of the soil to the making of every necessity.

I murder, maim and cripple thousands upon thousands of wage-earners every year.

I lurk in unseen places and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me, but you heed not.

I am relentless. I am everywhere, in the home, at the mill, on the streets or wherever man will venture.

I am imitated and glorified by some in false bravado, I make men risk their lives to appear brave before others.

I bring sickness, pain and misery, degradation and death, and yet few seek to avoid me.

I destroy, crush or kill. I give nothing, but take all.

I am known by all, yet none betray me.

I am your worst enemy. I am CARELESSNESS.

ANSWERING ANNIE ADVISES

Amours on the Agenda of Anxiety

Dear Annie:

I have been going with a Centenary lady for several months. Now I do not know whether I really love her. She still treats me wonderfully (except for those late dates), yet I feel as if I am not being fair to her or myself when my mind isn't thoroughly made up. How can I be sure if this is true love?

Since you understand everything, I hope you can be of some assistance to me.

Wonderingly,
Gilbert H.

Dear G. H.:

I read with interest your letter and can readily understand how you feel. Your situation is typical of our Gentlemen. Just remember that true love never runs smooth—but also remember that there's more than one pebble on the beach and maybe you tripped on the wrong rock—look around and find

Centenary Student Enters Air Corps

Barron Johns, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Barron Johns of Shreveport, has been appointed as a Naval Reserve student aviator and is now receiving flying instructions to win his Navy wings, it was announced by the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board at New Orleans.

Candidates for flight training are chosen from applicants who have been graduated from high school, who are over 18 but less than 27 years old, unmarried, and in excellent physical condition. The Selection Board at New Orleans is accepting applications from a territory embracing Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

After primary flight training, the flying cadet is assigned to one of the principal flight training centers at Pensacola and Jacksonville, Fla., and Corpus Christi, Tex. This training leads to a commission as ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve and assignment to active flying duty with the fleet.

Mr. Johns attended Duke University and Centenary College before enlisting in the Naval Reserve. He is a boxing enthusiast and a member of Kappa Alpha at both schools.

Quotable Quotes

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

"War, the supreme crisis in the life of a nation, inevitably highlights the expression of patriotism which otherwise is often taken more or less for granted in the easier days of peace. Thus from the present emergency, Francis Scott Key's words of the national anthem derive a new poignancy for Americans. Under such circumstances it is far easier to appreciate the emotion under which Key composed his verses during the siege of Fort McHenry, Baltimore, in 1814. It was upon the success of its defense that the fate of Baltimore depended. When 'by the dawn's early light' Key found confirmation for his hopes, he was inspired to write the verses that have come down to us as the highest expression of American patriotism. Most significant today, how-out for yourself. A little worry won't hurt her, either.

Love is a sensitive, living, palpitating thing. Experience is the thing that counts, and as my fifth husband used to say—"Practice makes perfect!"

Annie.

What is that exotic smell that floats to my nostrils? Some "Que for Passion" perfume on that lovely blue stationery next to me—and another problem, at that. But no time for another, suckers; more next time.

Seniors Lead in Intermural Softball

Handicapped from the start by inclement weather, the intermural softball program really got going in a big way last week and this week was roaring toward a climax, with the seniors in the lead and the juniors on their heels. Play in the early games was uniformly excellent, and most of the games were close and interesting. Many of the boys have turned out regularly, and have contributed to what was undoubtedly the feature of this year's program.

Because of the proximity of finals, Coach Hanna decided to shorten the schedule, and as a result each team engages each other team three times instead of the four times originally planned.

Choosing outstanding players from such a fine group is quite difficult, but Cureton for the frosh, Williams and Griffith for the sophs, Long for the juniors, and Hynoski and Jack Carlton for the seniors have been consistently good. Wallace Long of the juniors, because of his versatility in the field and his power hitting, deserves perhaps more than any other player the title of Centenary's outstanding intermural softball. To Ed Hynoski, senior pitcher, goes the honor of pitching the season's only shutout, a 4-0 victory over the juniors. Other scores include: Freshmen 1, juniors 14; freshmen 3, juniors 4; freshmen 12, sophs 2; freshmen 18, sophs 8; freshmen 11, juniors 12; freshmen 3, seniors 18; freshmen 15, sophs 11; sophs 5, juniors 7; juniors 6, seniors 2; juniors 4, seniors 5.

Standings to date show the following:

Team—	W.	L.	Pct.
Seniors	3	1	.750
Juniors	5	2	.714
Freshmen	3	4	.428
Sophs	0	4	.000

ever, is the final stanza with its words which Key set down, in his feeling of relief after his night of tension, for the inspiration of future generations of his countrymen. 'Praise the power that hath made and preserved us a nation!' he wrote, and Americans under stress now echo that praise with more fervor, perhaps, than they have for some decades. In the final couplet, moreover, they find themselves at one with the author in his conviction of 100 years ago that, fighting for a just cause and trusting in Divine Providence, 'the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.' Dr. C. William Vogel, University of Cincinnati historian, urged restudy of "The Star Spangled Banner" in the light of America's current conflict with the Axis.

NORTON BUSINESS COLLEGE

"The School of Individual Teaching"

LEVY BUILDING

— GIFTS FOR GRADUATES —

Accessories, Costume Jewelry, Dainty Lingerie and Stationery for Girls. Smart Furnishings for Boys are featured at Hearne's.

The HEARNE
DRY GOODS CO. LTD.

FOR BETTER SCHOOL WORK WE RECOMMEND

the New MAGIC

MARGIN ROYAL Portable

The Features on this sensational portable give you speed and accuracy never found before.

McMahan Typewriter Co.

Call 2-4639

717 McNeil St.

Students Plan For Various Professions

Some students who will not return to Centenary next year, and what they plan to do:

GILBERT HETHERWICK: "Got my questionnaire the other day."

CARL VOLLMER: "I'm going to L.S.U. medical school, June 25."

CAMP FLOURNOY: "I'm going to summer school and take trig so I'll be eligible for the navy, (that is, if Admiral King can wait that long for me)."

ERNEST CARTER: "I'm hoping to go to grad school at the University of Indiana."

IRL HARPER: "I just received my questionnaire the other day."

JOHN MARSHALL: "I've been working in a local (Hamiter) insurance agency for the past five years and planned to go in the insurance business, but now I'll probably go in the Navy."

C. W. WILLIAMS: "I'll probably be in the Communications Department of the army."

JOHN LOWE: "I'm going to the Loyola Dental School—three years straight—a few days after the end of school."

ARTHUR HEROLD: "I hope to go to Tulane or L.S.U. Medical school—grades permitting."

BILLY BOOTH: "I plan to go to Rice to study engineering."

BOBBY CLARK: "I'm going to L.S.U. to study law."

LESTER MOORE: "I hope to go to Annapolis, sometime in June."

CLINT TEACLE: "Don't exactly know."

SOL FREEMAN: "I'm going to medical school at Huntsville, Alabama."

MINISTERIAL CLUB HOLDS ITS ANNUAL BANQUET

Friday the Ministerial Club held its annual barbeque at the 40 and 8 Club. After dinner talks were given by Stanley Kirkland and Carlus Davis. Mrs. Gordon was presented with a bouquet for her outstanding work for the Ministerial Club. Dean Smith was presented with a dictionary.

To add to the entertainment Doris Robinson rendered a vocal solo and Billy Payne Alston two piano solos.

The guest speaker was Rev. Tom Anderson.

Zeta Tau Alphas Entertain With Banquet and Dance

In celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of the local chapter's founding, the members and pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha entertained Friday evening with their annual white formal banquet and dance.

The banquet was held at the Washington-Youree hotel, and Miss Gerry Baird gave the welcoming address for the occasion. Following the "best pledge" award, which was presented to Miss Beverly LeBlanc, the chapter presented Miss Peg Hawkins with a gift in recognition of her work as past president. Miss Dorothy Robinson reported on the alumni work for this year, and Miss Dorothy Graham gave a resume of the pledge activities.

Artistic arrangements of magnolia blossoms ornamented the banquet table and slender white tapers burned in star-shaped holders.

Dainty place cards marked the covers for Misses Gerry Baird, Peg Hawkins, Ann Burnette, Virginia Walker, Myrian Holloway, Mary Foster Peyton, Mickey McCutchen, Azalie Webb, Emily Prothro, Norma Stewart, Shirley Peyton, Ellen Eastham, Beverly LeBlanc, Martha Braswell, Mary Louise Gustine, Frances Spengler, Frances Kizer, Myrtle Canon, Carolyn Canon, Margie Giles, Lucretia Wilson, Eleanor Jenkins, Jeanne Arthur, Jane Colley, Lucille Webb, Mary Catherine Castanado, Sudie Cummings, Gene Hearne, Dorothy Graham, Virginia Graham, Elaine Barksdale, Justine Holmes, Mary Smith New, Martha Stevens, Camille Hendrick, Jackie Rogers, Martha Lewis, Elise Montgomery, Jean Evans and Cile Miller.

Following the banquet, the members and their guests attended the dance which was held in the Student Union building on Centenary campus.

Blue and silver streamers leading to a large replica of the Zeta pin carried out the sorority colors in the decorations.

"Madame can't see you. She's in her bath."

"That's quite all right, I'm selling toilet soap!"

New Maroon Jackets Are Installed

The newly elected Maroon Jackets were initiated last Monday afternoon at the home of its sponsor, Mrs. A. R. Campbell.

Leading the hostesses of the college for the coming year will be Betty Gordon Smith who was elected by acclamation. Her assistants are vice-president, Kathryn Hooper, secretary, Kathryn Moreneaux, and treasurer, Mary Foster Peyton.

Uniforms and activities were discussed and it is most likely that the girls will have plenty of marching to do. Many of their activities will be involved with the intramural sports of the college.

From all standpoints the Maroon Jackets of 1942-43 are looking forward to a most successful year.

Ice cream and white cakes with Maroon Jackets written on them were served to top off the enjoyable afternoon.

The new Maroon Jackets are Azalie Webb, Mary Foster Peyton, Gerry Baird, Martha Hart, Kathryn Moreneaux, Jean Gibson, Betty Gordon Smith, Rob Williamson, Jimmy Thibodeaux, Kathryn Hooper, Carolyn Lunney and Jeanette Craber.

Its old members are Mabel Boddie, Lou Dell Liston, Dorothy Durr, Ann Burnette, Peg Hawkins, Elise Montgomery, Anne Robinson, Helen Dwire, La Rue Powell, and Peg Williams.

Washington.—The creation of an army enlisted reserve corps for college students has been announced by the war department.

Similar to reserves already established by the navy and the army air forces, the corps will accept qualified students at universities and colleges, who will be encouraged to complete their education and then will be eligible for officers' candidates schools.

She: Oh, Jack, that candy makes my mouth water.

He: Here's a blotter.

Her father used to be a diamond merchant. He sold peanuts at a ball park.

He was only a garage man, but he had the jack.

Zeta Tau Alpha Alumnae Enjoy Supper Meeting

Zeta Tau Alpha alumnae met at the sorority house last weekend for their regular monthly supper meet.

The attractive buffet table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of spring flowers in red, white and blue.

After supper a short business session was held with Miss Mary Agnes Railsback, president, presiding.

Those present were: Mrs. Harry Flagler, Miss Harriet Smith, Miss Johnette Haley, Mrs. William L. Murdock, Mrs. Lilbourne G. Morgan, Mrs. J. B. Harris, Miss Lea Alice Clay, Miss Ethel Shropshire, Miss Jean Miles, Miss Martha Hamner, Mrs. Gray McCraw, Mrs. Fred Babb, Miss Murrell Miller, Miss Mary Agnes Railsback, Mrs. D. D. Dillingham, Mrs. Randall T. Moore, Jr., Mrs. William McCaa, Mrs. Francis Felton, Mrs. Doyle George, Miss Elizabeth Davis, Mrs. Douglas Yauger and Mrs. Thomas W. Vaughan.

Freshman ENGLISH THEME

(Printed below is a freshman theme which should be both interesting and instructive to the student body.)

By James G. Hiemanz
Atmosphere in Radio

Every day millions of people enjoy radio programs that are made realistic by the creation of atmosphere by sound.

A busy housewife listens to a morning program and takes down the recipe of a delicious milk omelet amid the crackling frying of the omelet that is supposedly cooking in the "radio kitchen." Actually what is happening—a soundman is artistically pulling and squeezing a piece of cellophane in front of one microphone while a studio employee reads the recipe and utters the sounds of work over another microphone. By skilled control of the amplification and mixing of the sound picked up by each microphone, the technician produces the effect of unity and the illusion of the real thing to the radio listener.

The sound of marching men is produced by a rhythmic banging of a number of round end pegs, strung on a square rack—either on gravel, cement, or on whatever the men are to march.

Thunder is produced by shaking in front of a microphone, an inflated heavy rubber balloon that has been filled with a few shot.

The rain that usually follows thunder is produced by a very ingenious machine. It consists of a cabinet containing a microphone and a series of objects over which rice falls. The rice starts from a slit in the top of the cabinet and first hits a ping-pong ball suspended by a thread from the top of the cabinet. This gives the impression of rain hitting twigs and other objects and spreads the rice out. From here the rice falls to a piece of glass set at an angle and bounces to a piece of stretched cellophane set at an angle. This gives the effect of rain splashing in little puddles and through the leaves. From here the rice falls to the funnel shaped bottom of the cabinet and drops through a hole into a small drawer where it is collected and returned to the top of the cabinet to be used again. The slit at the top of the cabinet has a valve by which the rice may be stopped or started on cue. The artistic combination of the thunder balloon and rain machine gives to the listener the illusion of the real thing.

There is an imitation for every real sound. If a machine does not exist to produce the sound need-

Student Court System At U. of Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (ACP).—A practical laboratory of democracy, created and operated by University of Wisconsin students, began work recently on the university campus when the new student court heard its first 18 cases.

Established as the "third arm" of the university's student government, the judicial, the student court was approved by the faculty last fall and set up after a general student referendum vote favored the court plan by more than 2,500 votes. It was recommended as a procedure in democratic self-government, and as a means of increasing student-faculty co-operation in enforcement of campus rules and regulations.

The court rounds out the truly American type of government for students at the university. In former years a student board has carried out the legislative functions, while the president of the student association has performed the executive duties. The court now assumes the judicial duties.

The new court has jurisdiction over all cases of student infractions of established regulations or standards of student conduct, with certain exceptions, such as cases now handled by the student life and interests committee of the faculty, or by the Women's Self-Government association.

Honors Awarded

(Continued from Page 1)
Blaxton in the finals. In girls' badminton the order was Webb, Crawford, Peyton, and Hill. Webb and Peyton won the doubles, defeating Prothro and Hendricks in the finals. The Trosclair girls won third place.

Mr. See presented the publications awards. Hetherwick, Philway, and Stephens were honored in connection with their work on the Conglomerate. Bill Graham, Jimmie Brown, Don Thompson, and David Freeman were cited for their excellent work on the Yoncopin. Mr. See also presented Patricia Harper and Alpha Xi Delta with the Yoncopin Sponsor Contest Award.

Mrs. A. R. Campbell next presented the new Maroon Jackets and the members of Alpha Sigma Pi.

David Barton awarded to Billy Booth the award for being the most outstanding freshman physics student.

The debate awards were made by the debate coach, Mr. Overdyke. Those mentioned were: John Woods, Clint Teacle, James Dixon, E. W. Harris, Carolyn Coburn, Betty Blaxton, Jack Elgin, and Billy Wilcox.

Gilbert Hetherwick and Lou Dell Liston were announced as the winners of the recent student body election as the students in Who's Who most likely to succeed. Announcement was made by John Woods.

ed, it is invented by the soundmen before the program. The soundman is never heard by voice, but constantly is on duty making your radio entertainment more enjoyable by the creation of atmosphere by sound.

Buy U. S. Defense Bonds!

The time to take care of your hair is while you have it.

For intelligent and beneficial service on hair-grooming—

CAMERON BROS.
BARBER SHOP
307 Milam St.

C
O
N
G
R
A
T
U
L
A
T
I
O
N
S

T
O
T
H
E
S
E
N
I
O
R
S

BROADMOOR
FLORAL SHOP

MRS. SARA TULLY, Mgr.

3803 Youree

Phone 7-2737

"Flowers for Every Occasion"